26-1-101. Definitions.

As used in this act, unless the context otherwise requires:

(1) "Real property and lands" means not only the land itself, whether laid out in town lots or otherwise, with all things therein contained, but also all buildings, structures, improvements, and other fixtures of whatever kind thereon and all rights and privileges belonging or in anywise appertaining thereto;

(2) "Investment in bonds" means all moneys invested in bonds of whatever kind or certificates of indebtedness commonly called scrip, whether issued by incorporated or unincorporated companies, towns, cities, townships, counties, states, or other corporations, held by persons residing in this state, either by themselves or by others for them, whether for themselves or as guardians, trustees, or agents;

(3) “Investment in stocks” means all moneys invested in public stocks of this or any other state or in any association, corporation, joint-stock company, or otherwise, the stock or capital of which is or may be divided into shares, which are transferable by each owner without the consent of the other partners or stockholders, for the taxation of which no special provision is made by this title, held by persons residing in this state, either for themselves or as guardians, trustees, or agents, or by others for them;

(4) “Oath” means oath or affirmation;

(5) “Person” means firm, company, or corporation;

(6) “Personal property” means:

(A) Every tangible thing being the subject of ownership, whether animate or inanimate, other than money and not forming a part of any parcel of real property as defined; and

(B) The capital stock, undivided profits, and all other means not forming part of the capital stock of every company, whether incorporated or unincorporated, and every share, portion, or interest in the stock, profits, or means, by whatsoever name it may be designated, inclusive of every share or portion, right, or interest, either legal or equitable, in and to every ship, vessel, or boat of whatsoever name and description used or designed to be used exclusively or partially in navigating any of the waters within or bordering on this state, whether the ship, vessel, or boat shall be within the jurisdiction of this state or elsewhere and whether it shall have been enrolled, registered, or licensed at any collector's office or within any collector's district of this state, or not;

(7) (A) “Money” means gold and silver coin, bank notes of solvent banks in actual possession, and every deposit which the person owning, holding in trust, or having the beneficial interest therein is entitled to withdraw in money on demand, within this state or elsewhere, provided it is subject to order.

(B) All citizens of this state shall, when they give to the assessor a list of their personal property, moneys, and credits, state under oath whether they have any deposits or balances on accounts, or otherwise, and the amount of the deposits, balance, or otherwise on account;

(8) “Credits” means the excess of the sum of all legal claims and demands, whether for money or other valuable things, or for labor or service due or to become due, to the person liable to pay taxes thereon, including deposits in banks or with persons in or out of this state, when added together, estimating every claim or demand at its true value in money, over and above the sum of legal bona fide debts owing by the person. In making up the sum of the debts owing, there shall be taken into account no obligation to any mutual insurance company; nor any unpaid subscription to the capital stock of any joint-stock company; nor any subscription for any religious, scientific, literary, or charitable purpose; nor any acknowledgment of any indebtedness, unless founded on some consideration actually received and believed at the time of making, the acknowledgment to be a full consideration therefor; nor any acknowledgment of debt made for the purpose of diminishing the amount of credits to be listed for taxation; nor any greater amount or portion of any liability as surety than the person required to make the statement of the credits believes that the surety is in equity bound and will be compelled to pay or contribute;

(9) "Pensions" receivable from the United States or from any state, salaries or payments excepted, shall not mean annuities;

(10) "Town" or "city" means all cities or towns, incorporated or not incorporated, and all blocks or lots or parts thereof, assessed for taxation as such, whether they are situated in an incorporated city or town, or not.

History. Acts 1883, No. 114, §§ 1, 75, p. 199; C. & M. Dig., §§ 9792, 9939; Pope's Dig., §§ 13358, 13723; A.S.A. 1947, §§ 84-101, 84-102.

Case Notes

Person.

Real Property.

Town or City.

Person.

A domestic insurance company is a "person" required to assess its stock for taxation. Dallas County v. Banks, 87 Ark. 484, 113 S.W. 37 (1908); Dallas County v. Home Fire Ins. Co., 97 Ark. 254, 133 S.W. 1113 (1911).

Real Property.

Buildings, machinery, and fixtures situated on leased lands and belonging to the lessee are taxable as real property. Union Compress Co. v. State, 64 Ark. 136, 41 S.W. 52 (1897).

Interest in oil and gas leases in another state must be deemed an interest in real property, and not taxable in this state. Greene County v. Smith, 148 Ark. 33, 228 S.W. 738 (1921).

Arkansas courts have adopted a three-part test to determine whether an item is a fixture: (1) whether the item is annexed to the realty; (2) whether the item is appropriate and adapted to the use or purpose of that part of the realty to which the item is connected; and (3) whether the party making annexation intended to make it permanent. Rice v. Fas Fax Corp. (In re Hot Shots Burgers & Fries, Inc.), 169 B.R. 920 (Bankr. E.D. Ark. 1994).

Town or City.

Whether a community is incorporated or not is not the test as to whether it is town or city under this section. Southeast Ark. Levee Dist. v. Turner, 184 Ark. 1147, 45 S.W.2d 512 (1932).

Cited: Ritchie Grocer Co. v. Texarkana, 182 Ark. 137, 30 S.W.2d 213 (1930); Baldwin v. Rushing, 254 Ark. 1042, 497 S.W.2d 668 (1973).

26-2-102. Violation of law or order of Public Service Commission.

(a) Whoever shall violate any provisions of a law which the Arkansas Public Service Commission is required to administer, neglects or refuses to perform any duty therein required for which a penalty has not otherwise been provided, or neglects or refuses to obey any lawful requirement or order made by the commission shall forfeit to the state as a penalty for each offense not less than ten dollars ($10.00) nor more than one hundred dollars ($100). The penalty shall be recovered by proper action in the name of the state, and on collection, it shall be paid into the State Treasury to the credit of the General Revenue Fund.

(b) In construing and enforcing the provisions of this section, the act, omission, or failure of any officer, agent, or other person acting for or employed by any person, firm, company, copartnership, association, or corporation acting within the scope of his employment shall, in every case, be the act, omission, or failure of the person, firm, company, copartnership, association, or corporation.

26-2-103. Loaning or using public money by officials.

If any county treasurer, collector, or sheriff loans any money belonging to the state or county, with or without interest, or uses it for his own purposes, he shall forfeit and pay for every such offense a sum not to exceed one thousand dollars ($1,000) nor less than five hundred dollars ($500), to be recovered in a civil action at the suit of the state, for the use of the state, county, city, town, or body politic.

History. Acts 1883, No. 114, § 205, p. 199; C. & M. Dig., § 10167; Pope's Dig., § 13949; A.S.A. 1947, § 84-1615.

26-2-104. Violations in assessment or equalization generally.

Whoever shall violate any provision of law intended to secure the assessment or equalization of property for which a penalty has not otherwise been provided or neglects or refuses to obey any lawful requirement or order made by the county equalization board shall be guilty of a violation and upon conviction shall be fined not less than ten dollars ($10.00) nor more than one hundred dollars ($100).

History. Acts 1929, No. 172, § 34; Pope's Dig., § 13675; A.S.A. 1947, § 84-1603; Acts 2005, No. 1994, § 161.

Amendments. The 2005 amendment substituted "violation" for "misdemeanor."

26-2-105. Assessor failing or neglecting to make appraisals.

(a) Any assessor who shall knowingly or willfully fail or neglect to appraise all moneys, credits, investments in bonds or stocks, and all personal property of whatever description or kind and to appraise all the real estate and improvements thereon in the county for which he is assessor, according to the provisions of the revenue law for this state, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor. Upon conviction, he shall:

(1) Forfeit all his pay as assessor;

- (2) Be forever disqualified from holding any office of profit or trust in this state;
 - (3) Be fined not exceeding one thousand dollars ($1,000); and
 - (4) Be imprisoned in the penitentiary not to exceed one (1) year.
- (b) A conviction for a failure or neglect to do his duty as assessor shall in no way relieve him from the pains and penalties of perjury if he makes oath that he has made the assessment according to law.

History. Acts 1869 (Adj. Sess.), No. 47, §§ 1, 2, p. 101; C. & M. Dig., §§ 2817, 2818; Pope's Dig., §§ 3535, 3536; A.S.A. 1947, §§ 84-1604, 84-1605.

26-2-106. Failure to list and value property.

(a) (1) Any county assessor or any member of a board of equalization who shall knowingly and willfully fail or refuse to list and value any item of property subject to taxation, knowing that the item of property is subject to taxation and is not listed and valued for that year, or who shall fail or refuse to value any property at the percent of its market value as certified by the Arkansas Public Service Commission shall be subject to a penalty of five hundred dollars ($500) for each offense, to be recovered by a civil action in the name of the state.

(2) Not exceeding twenty percent (20%) of these recoveries may be retained by the commission to pay the fee of the attorney for them and the other expenses of the litigation, with the remainder of the recovery to be deposited in the State Treasury to the credit of the General Revenue Fund.

(b) (1) Any suits under subsection (a) of this section shall be brought within one (1) year after the cause of action shall accrue and not thereafter.

(2) All actions may be brought in the county where the defendant resides, or in any adjoining county, and service of summons had on the defendant in the county of his residence.

(c) The powers granted in this section to the commission shall be cumulative to the powers heretofore granted to the commission.

History. Acts 1917, No. 263, §§ 2, 3, 4, p. 1359; C. & M. Dig., §§ 9922, 9923; Pope's Dig., §§ 13690, 13691; A.S.A. 1947, §§ 84-1606, 84-1607, 84-1607n.

26-2-107. Disposition of property to avoid assessment.

If any person, for the purpose of avoiding listing for the payment of taxes on any property subject to taxation, shall sell, give away, or otherwise dispose of the property, under or subject to any agreement expressed or implied or any understanding with the purchaser, donee, or recipient of the property that the property is to be reconveyed, restored, or redelivered to the person so disposing of the property, he or she shall be guilty of a violation and upon conviction be fined not less than five hundred dollars ($500) nor more than one thousand dollars ($1,000).

History. Acts 1873, No. 124, § 137, p. 294; C. & M. Dig., § 10172; Pope's Dig., § 13954; A.S.A. 1947, § 84-1617; Acts 2005, No. 1994, § 162.

Amendments. The 2005 amendment inserted "or she" and "be guilty of a violation and."

26-2-108. Nonperformance of duty by county clerk, assessor, or collector.

Every clerk of the county court, assessor, or collector who in any case refuses or knowingly neglects to perform any duty enjoined on him by this title or who consents to or connives at any evasion of its provisions whereby any proceedings required in this act shall be prevented or hindered or where any property required to be listed for taxation or for the collection of taxes thereon or the valuation thereof is entered on the tax books or lists at less than the true value shall forfeit and pay to the state, for every neglect, refusal, connivance, or consent, not less than one hundred dollars ($100) nor more than five thousand dollars ($5,000), at the discretion of the court, to be recovered by an action in the name of the state before the circuit court of the proper county.

Meaning of “this act”. See note to § 26-2-101.

26-2-109. Collector purchasing tax land.

(a) No collector or his or her deputy, either directly or indirectly, shall be concerned in the purchase of any tract of land or town lot sold for the payment of taxes.

(b) A person violating this section shall be guilty of a violation and subject to a fine of five hundred dollars ($500).

History. Rev. Stat., ch. 128, § 94; C. & M. Dig., § 10170; Pope's Dig., § 13952; A.S.A. 1947, § 84-1609; Acts 2005, No. 1994, § 163.

Amendments. The 2005 amendment, in the first sentence, inserted “or her” and deleted “under the penalty of five hundred dollars ($500), to be recovered by indictment” from the end, and inserted the second sentence.

26-2-110. Improper tax collecting.

If any collector shall collect taxes not stated on the tax book or shall collect a greater amount than is therein stated, except as authorized by this act, he shall be guilty of a Class C felony.

History. Acts 1873, No. 124, § 83, p. 294; C. & M. Dig., § 10171; Pope's Dig., § 13953; Acts 1975, No. 928, § 26; A.S.A. 1947, § 84-1610.

Publisher's Notes. Acts 1975, No. 928, § 2, provided that, notwithstanding that all or part of a statute defining a criminal offense is amended or repealed by the act, the provisions so amended or repealed shall remain in force for the purpose of authorizing the prosecution, conviction, and punishment of a person committing an offense under the provisions prior to the effective date of the act.

Meaning of “this act”. Acts 1873, No. 124, codified as §§ 14-15-808, 26-2-110, and 26-2-107.

Case Notes

Cited: Tucker v. Holt, 343 Ark. 216, 33 S.W.3d 110 (2000).

26-2-111. Fraudulent statement of accounts by collecting officer.

Any sheriff, collector of revenues, constable, or other officer collecting moneys belonging to the State of Arkansas, or to any county therein, who fraudulently states his account for settlement and thereby deprives the State of Arkansas, or any county therein, of its just revenues; or any county clerk who keeps fraudulent accounts against the collector or against the county treasurer or makes fraudulent and false additions of the tax books thereby concealing the true value of the same; or any county treasurer who keeps fraudulent accounts of the county revenues coming to his hands and, by any of these fraudulent acts, the State of Arkansas or any county therein is deprived of its just revenues, the officer so offending shall, upon conviction, be removed from office.

26-2-112. Removal of county judge.

Any county judge who willfully approves any false and fraudulent account made by the sheriff, collector, county clerk, treasurer, or other officer collecting or holding revenues belonging to the State of Arkansas, or to any county therein, or receives a bribe for doing an unlawful act shall, upon conviction, be removed from office.

26-2-113. Prosecution by state.

Nothing contained in this section and §§ 26-2-111, 26-2-112, and 26-2-114 shall preclude the State of Arkansas from prosecuting county officers or others for the acts complained of under any of the criminal laws of this state.

History. Acts 1879, No. 76, § 4, p. 107; C. & M. Dig., § 10203; Pope's Dig., § 13986; A.S.A. 1947, § 84-1614.

26-2-114. Taxpayer suit to recover taxes lost by corruption in office.

(a) If any taxpayer in any county in this state has knowledge of corruption in office whereby the State of Arkansas, or any county therein, has been deprived of its just revenues, he shall have the right, in his own name as a taxpayer, to institute legal proceedings against the officer, by a petition to the circuit judge sitting in equity, setting forth the facts and nature of the corrupt acts, together with exhibits and proofs, and the petition shall be verified by affidavit of the petitioner.

(b) Upon ten (10) days' notice to the defendant, the cause shall proceed as other causes. It shall be heard, tried, and determined at the first court after the petition has been filed if the required notice has been given.

(c) (1) The proceedings authorized by this section shall be summary. However, if it shall appear to the court that the ends of justice require it, a continuance may be granted to either party to the next term of the court, but not thereafter.

(2) The party to whom the continuance is granted shall be required to enter into additional bond, the amount to be fixed and the security to be approved by the court.

(d) (1) Upon the trial, if it shall appear that the official acts of the officer are corrupt and fraudulent and by those acts and doings he shall have defrauded the State of Arkansas, or any county therein, of its just revenues, then a decree shall be entered against him ousting him from his office and declaring it to be vacant, and for all moneys which he may have unlawfully detained.

(2) If, upon the hearing of the cause, it shall appear that the defendant is not guilty and has not committed the fraudulent acts complained of, and that the state and the county have not been deprived of their revenues as complained of by the petitioner, then a decree shall be entered according to the facts and, also, a decree shall be entered against the petitioner and his securities for any sums of money which the defendant may have actually lost by reason of the proceeding.

(e) Before any such cause shall be heard, the petitioner shall enter into bond to the defendant with security, to be approved by the circuit judge, in a sufficient sum to pay any damage that the defendant might sustain by the proceedings.

Case Notes

Constitutionality.

Bond.

Equity Jurisdiction.

Constitutionality.

This section is unconstitutional as applied to chancery courts. Gladish v. Lovewell, 95 Ark. 618, 130 S.W. 579 (1910).

Bond.

Action of taxpayer to recover fees wrongfully paid to officer was brought under the provisions of Ark. Const., Art. 16, § 13, and not under this section, and therefore no bond was required. Baker v. Allen, 204 Ark. 818, 164 S.W.2d 1004 (1942).

Equity Jurisdiction.

Primary object of suit under this section being to oust collector from office, equity could not be given jurisdiction of such an action. Gladish v. Lovewell, 95 Ark. 618, 130 S.W. 579 (1910).

Suit against tax collector to account for taxes would not lie in equity in absence of allegation of proper officers to sue. Gladish v. Lovewell, 95 Ark. 618, 130 S.W. 579 (1910).

Although equity does not have jurisdiction of cases under this section, action of taxpayer to recover funds improperly withdrawn from county treasury was within the jurisdiction of a court of equity and should have been brought in the chancery court. Grooms v. Bartlett, 123 Ark. 255, 185 S.W. 282 (1916).

— Taxable Property

26-3-201. Property subject to taxes generally.

26-3-202. Money.

26-3-203. Mobile homes and manufactured homes.

26-3-204. Federal lands sold by state.

26-3-205. Timber rights.

26-3-206. Property used for other than church purposes — Exemption.

Preambles. Acts 1895, No. 10 contained a preamble which read:

"Whereas, By an act of Congress, approved August 13, 1894, all circulating notes of national banking associations and United States legal tender notes, and all other notes and certificates of the United States payable on demand and circulating, or intended to circulate, as currency, and gold and silver or other coin, shall be subject to taxation as money on hand or on deposit under the laws of any State or Territory; therefore...."

Effective Dates. Acts 1883, No. 114, § 226: effective on passage.

Acts 1895, No. 10, § 2: effective on passage.

Acts 1905, No. 146, § 2: effective on passage.

Acts 1981 (Ex. Sess.), No. 29, § 3: Dec. 1, 1981. Emergency clause provided: "It is hereby found and determined by the General Assembly that some confusion has arisen regarding the present law relating to the assessment and taxation of mobile homes; that such law should be clarified as soon as possible to assure the efficient administration of the law and that this Act is designed to accomplish this purpose and should be given effect immediately. Therefore, an emergency is hereby declared to exist and this Act being necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health and safety shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage and approval."

Acts 1987, No. 1040, § 7: Apr. 14, 1987. Emergency clause provided: "It is hereby found and determined by the General Assembly that many churches have engaged in the practice of investing in real and personal property, or have received donations of commercial or rental property which is not now assessed for ad valorem tax purposes and are not paying tax thereon as required by law, thereby depriving the local taxing units of thousand of dollars of much needed revenues; that under the Arkansas Constitution of 1874, Article 16, Sections 5 and 6, such property is not exempt from the provisions of the ad valorem property tax; that in many instances such churches do not report for Arkansas Income Tax purposes income derived from investments or profits derived from rental income or other commercial or business activities and do not pay taxes thereon; that this reduces the amount of revenues available for funding of State services; and that only by the immediate passage of this Act can this situation be remedied. Therefore, an emergency is hereby declared to exist, and this Act being necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, and safety, shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage and approval."

Acts 1989, No. 869, § 5: Mar. 22, 1989. Emergency clause provided: "It is hereby found and determined that the present procedures pertaining to delinquent property taxes on mobile homes and manufactured homes are inadequate; that this act provides procedures to attach delinquent real property tax to the personal property tax of the owner of the mobile home or manufactured home; and that this act is immediately necessary to implement appropriate procedures applicable to delinquent property taxes on mobile homes and manufactured homes. Therefore, an emergency is hereby declared to exist and this act being necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage and approval."

Acts 2001, No. 410, § 2: Feb. 23, 2001. Emergency clause provided: "It is found and determined by the General Assembly that Amendment 79 to the Arkansas Constitution was adopted by the voters of this state at the November General Election, 2000; that the amendment requires the General Assembly to provide a tax credit against the property taxes levied against homesteads in this state; that under present law, some mobile homes and manufactured homes are taxed as real property and some are not; that all mobile homes and manufactured homes should be taxed as real property and thereby allow the owners to receive the tax credit required by Amendment 79; that this act so provides; and that this act must go into effect immediately in order to coincide with Amendment 79. Therefore, an emergency is declared to exist and this act being immediately necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health and safety shall become effective on the date of its approval by the Governor. If the bill is neither approved nor vetoed by the Governor, it shall become effective on the expiration of the period of time during which the Governor may veto the bill. If the bill is vetoed by the Governor and the veto is overridden, it shall become effective on the date the last house overrides the veto."

U.S. Code. The Securities Exchange Act of 1934, referred to in this section, is codified as 15 U.S.C. § 78(a) et seq.

Case Notes

In General.

Insolvent Banks.

Intangibles.

Personal Property.

Real Property.

Trust Arrangements.

In General.

It is the rule and not the exception that property shall be taxed. Vandergrift v. Lowery, 195 Ark. 257, 111 S.W.2d 510 (1937).

The right to impose taxes upon citizens and property for the support of the state government may be restricted by the Arkansas Constitution, but needs no clause to confer it. Ouachita County v. Rumph, 43 Ark. 525 (1884).

Insolvent Banks.

Property of insolvent bank continues subject to taxation notwithstanding bank's insolvency. Brooks v. Randolph State Bank, 188 Ark. 571, 66 S.W.2d 1071 (1934).

Intangibles.

Notes, bills of exchange, stocks, and securities of all kinds are property and subject to taxation. Ouachita County v. Rumph, 43 Ark. 525 (1884).

Corporate stock is subject to tax. Dallas County v. Banks, 87 Ark. 484, 113 S.W. 37 (1908).

Personal Property.

Personal property being used in this state, though owned by a foreign company, is subject to taxation. Eoff v. Kennefick-Hammond Co., 80 Ark. 138, 96 S.W. 986 (1906).

Real Property.

A note given for land and the land itself are both subject to taxation, the note as property of the holder and the land as property of the purchaser. Ouachita County v. Rumph, 43 Ark. 525 (1884). Land held as private property is subject to taxation, though it does not appear upon the public surveys. Buckner v. Sugg, 79 Ark. 442, 96 S.W. 184 (1906).

Where owner of 60 feet of a certain lot sold part of it to a city, retaining ownership of only 51 feet thereof, subsequent assessment on the entire 60 feet and sale for nonpayment of taxes were void. Kaplan v. Scherer, 205 Ark. 554, 169 S.W.2d 660 (1943).

Trust Arrangements.

Where, under an instrument designated as a "declaration of trust," a trust estate was created for the purpose of acquiring oil and gas leases in a foreign state, the interest of the beneficiaries in leases so acquired was not subject to taxation in this state. Greene County v. Smith, 148 Ark. 33, 228 S.W. 738 (1921).

26-3-202. Money.

(a) All circulation notes of national banking associations, United States legal tender notes, all other notes and certificates of the United States payable on demand and circulating or intended to circulate, as currency, and gold, silver, or other coin held or owned by any citizen or resident of the State of Arkansas are made taxable for all state, county, school, and municipal purposes.

(b) Each person in the state required by law to list property shall make out and deliver to the assessor, verified by the property owner's oath or affirmation, a list of all moneys, certificates, and circulating notes described in this section in his possession or under his control on January 1 of each year, which he is required to list for taxation, either as holder or owner thereof, or as guardian, parent, husband, executor, administrator, receiver, accounting officer, partner, agent, or factor.

26-3-203. Mobile homes and manufactured homes.

(a) Mobile homes and manufactured homes shall be deemed real property for the purpose of ad valorem property taxation.

(b) Real property taxes and any interest, penalties, or other charges on a mobile home on a leased site in a mobile home park or any other leased site, and any assessment or user fee chargeable to the owner of the mobile home and constituting a lien, shall be assessed and levied against the owner of the mobile home whose name appears on the certificate or other acceptable evidence of ownership, and shall be a lien on the mobile home or manufactured home only.

(c) When the property tax on mobile homes and manufactured homes which are now assessed as real property become delinquent, the delinquent real property tax shall be attached to the personal property tax of the owner of the mobile home or manufactured home and the collector shall not accept payment of the personal property taxes without collecting payment of the delinquent real property taxes at that time.

A.C.R.C. Notes. Acts 1989, No. 869, § 2, provided:

"All mobile homes and manufactured homes on the books of the Commissioner of State Lands on March 22, 1989 shall be certified back to the county which certified them to the Commissioner and shall not be sold by him."

Amendments. The 2001 amendment, in (a), redesignated the former (a)(1) as present (a), deleted "permanently affixed to a foundation on property which is owned or leased by the owner of the mobile home or manufactured home" preceding "shall be deemed" and deleted (a)(2).

26-3-204. Federal lands sold by state.

(a) All tracts of land set apart for school or other purposes and donated to the state by the Congress of the United States for a specific purpose and sold under the authority of the laws of this state to any person shall be subject to taxation as other land in this state immediately after sale. These lands shall not be sold for taxes until the purchase money shall be fully paid, but shall be returned delinquent as other lands, and the personal property of the purchaser shall be subject to sale to pay the taxes thereon.

(b) Until the payment of taxes or the collection thereof from the personal property, these lands shall be continued on the tax books and the taxes of each year charged thereon and added to the tax and penalty due when they became delinquent until payment is made or the lands are resold by the proper officer or authority pursuant to the laws in force for the sale of these lands.

Lands Purchased from United States.

Lands Purchased from United States.

Land purchased from the federal government is subject to taxes as soon as entry is made and the purchase price paid, although no patent is issued. Diver v. Friedheim, 43 Ark. 203 (1884); Smith v. Hollis, 46 Ark. 17 (1885); Burcham v. Terry, 55 Ark. 398, 18 S.W. 458 (1892).

26-3-205. Timber rights.

(a) All timber in this state which has been sold separately and apart from the land on which it stands shall be classed as personal property and shall be subject to taxation as such.

(b) Timber interests shall be assessed and the taxes collected thereon in the county where the timber is located.

History. Acts 1905, No. 146, § 1, p. 361; C. & M. Dig., § 9855; Pope's Dig., § 13599; A.S.A. 1947, § 84-204.

Case Notes

Assessment.

Conveyance.

Assessment.

Standing timber, although the ownership thereof is severed from the ownership of the soil, is part of the land and, as such, subject to assessment. Lewis v. Delinquent Lands, 182 Ark. 838, 33 S.W.2d 379 (1930).

Conveyance.

A contract to convey standing timber is a contract to convey "an interest in land" notwithstanding this section. Anderson-Tully Co. v. Gillett Lumber Co., 143 Ark. 97, 222 S.W. 362 (1920).

Where growing trees are conveyed, separating timber from the land so that the landowner and timber owner have separate estates, the growing trees become property subject to taxation apart from the land. Southern Lumber Co. v. Arkansas Lumber Co., 176 Ark. 906, 4 S.W.2d 928 (1928).

Purchaser of timber from improvement districts must pay taxes when timber is assessed. Little Red River Levee Dist. v. Moore, 197 Ark. 945, 126 S.W.2d 605 (1939).

26-3-206. Property used for other than church purposes — Exemption.

(a) All real or personal property owned by any church and held for, or used for, commercial, business, rental, or investment purposes, or purposes other than church purposes, shall be listed for assessment. The ad valorem tax shall be paid thereon at the same rate and at the time and in the same manner provided by law for any other property owner.

(b) However, in the event any property is used partially for church purposes and partially for investments or other commercial or business purposes, the property shall be exempt from the ad valorem tax.

History. Acts 1987, No. 1040, § 1.

Subchapter 3 — Exemptions from Taxation

26-3-301. Property exempt from taxes generally.

26-3-302. Intangible personalty.

26-3-303. Parsonages.

Effective Dates. Acts 1883, No. 114, § 226: effective on passage.

Acts 1929, No. 74, § 4: approved Mar. 2, 1929. Emergency clause provided: "This act being necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety, an emergency is declared to exist, and this act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage."

Acts 1953, No. 363, § 5: approved Mar. 28, 1953. Emergency clause provided: "This Act, being necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health, and safety, an emergency is hereby declared to exist, and this Act shall be in full force and effect, from and after its passage."

Acts 1975, No. 319, § 4: Mar. 5, 1975. Emergency clause provided: "It is hereby found and determined by the General Assembly that the present law exempts certain disabled veterans from the payment of all State taxes on the homestead and personal property owned by such disabled veteran but fails to provide a like exemption for the surviving spouse and surviving minor dependent children of such disabled veteran; that in many cases the surviving spouse and minor dependent children of a deceased disabled veteran are in even greater need of tax exemption for the homestead and personal property owned by the disabled veteran and left to such dependents than was the disabled veteran during his lifetime; that this Act is designed to extend the exemption to the surviving spouse and surviving minor dependent children of disabled veterans and should be given effect immediately. Therefore, an emergency is hereby declared to exist and this Act being necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage and approval.”

Acts 1975 (Extended Sess., 1976), No. 1220, § 4: Feb. 12, 1976. Emergency clause provided: “It is hereby found and determined by the General Assembly that Act 196 and Act 319 of 1975 amend the same section of law and relate to the exemption of certain disabled veterans and their surviving spouses and minor dependent children from the payment of all State taxes on the homestead and personal property owned by such disabled veteran and by the surviving spouse and surviving minor dependent children of such disabled veteran; that since the two acts amended the same existing section of law and purported to restate the section in its entirety there has been considerable confusion regarding the effectiveness of the exemptions provided in said acts; and that this Act is immediately necessary to clarify the laws regarding such disabled veterans tax exemptions to avoid misunderstanding and hardship on such veterans and their surviving spouses and minor dependent children. Therefore, an emergency is hereby declared to exist and this Act being necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage and approval.”

Acts 1977, No. 106, § 5: Feb. 8, 1977. Emergency clause provided: “It is hereby found and determined by the General Assembly that Amendment No. 57 to the Arkansas Constitution, adopted by the people at the 1976 General Election authorizes the General Assembly to classify intangible personal property, to provide for the taxation of intangibles at a different level than tangible personal property, to provide for the taxation of intangibles on a basis other than ad valorem, or to exempt intangibles from ad valorem taxes; that it is in the best interests of the citizens and the political subdivisions of the State that intangibles be exempted from ad valorem taxes at least until a study can be made of the extent to which, if any, such intangibles should be taxed and the most appropriate manner for levying any such taxes; and that the assessment of real and personal property for ad valorem tax purposes commences very early in the calendar year and it is necessary that this Act be given effect immediately in order to avoid confusion in the assessment of personal property for ad valorem taxes during the calendar year 1977. Therefore, an emergency is hereby declared to exist and this Act being necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage and approval.”

Acts 1983, No. 332, § 3: Mar. 3, 1983. Emergency clause provided: “It is hereby found and determined by the General Assembly that in some instances waterworks systems owned by nonprofit property owners associations are being subjected to ad valorem taxation in contravention of Article 16, Section 5 of the Arkansas Constitution of 1874, and that this legislation is necessary in order to clarify the exemption granted thereby. Therefore, an emergency is hereby declared to exist and this Act being immediately necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health and safety shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage and approval.”

Acts 1987, No. 627, § 5: Apr. 4, 1987. Emergency clause provided: “It is hereby found and determined by the General Assembly that County Assessors in various counties in Arkansas have assessed property belonging to public institutions of higher learning, state agencies, institutions, boards and commissions, and that county assessors are required by law to assess all real and personal property of their counties annually between the first Monday in January and the first day in August, and that an immediate need exists to clarify the status of property owned by public institutions of higher learning, State agencies, institutions, boards and commissions in order to prevent such property from being placed on the tax rolls by county assessors. Therefore, an emergency is declared to exist, and this Act being necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health and safety, shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage and approval.”

Acts 1987, No. 1010, § 5: Apr. 14, 1987. Emergency clause provided: “It is hereby found and determined by the General Assembly that because of the case Ricarte v. State, CR 86-31, a question has arisen over the validity of Act 1220 of the Extended Session of 1976; that this Act is a reenactment of the former law; and that the immediate passage of this Act is necessary to clarify the state of the law on this issue. Therefore, an emergency is hereby declared to exist, and this Act being necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety, shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage and approval.”

Acts 1987, No. 1040, § 7: Apr. 14, 1987. Emergency clause provided: “It is hereby found and determined by the General Assembly that many churches have engaged in the practice of investing in real and personal property, or have received donations of commercial or rental property which is not now assessed for ad valorem tax purposes and are not paying tax thereon as required by law, thereby depriving the local taxing units of thousand of dollars of much needed revenues; that under the Arkansas Constitution of 1874, Article 16, Sections 5 and 6, such property is not exempt from the provisions of the ad valorem property tax; that in many instances such churches do not report for Arkansas Income Tax purposes income derived from investments or profits derived from rental income or other commercial or business activities and do not pay taxes thereon; that this reduces the amount of revenues available for funding of State services; and that only by the immediate passage of this Act can this situation be remedied. Therefore, an emergency is hereby declared to exist, and this Act being necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, and safety, shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage and approval.”

Acts 1991, No. 414, § 2: July 1, 1991. Emergency clause provided: “It is hereby found and determined by the General Assembly of the State of Arkansas that the Arkansas sales and use tax applies to the sale of adaptive medical equipment and disposable medical supplies; that this tax creates a financial hardship on those who must rely on these items to carry out the normal activities of their lives; and that this act is designed to remove this hardship. Therefore, an emergency is declared to exist and this act being necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health and welfare, shall be in full force and effect from and after July 1, 1991.”

Acts 1991, No. 961, § 6: Mar. 29, 1991. Emergency clause provided: “It is hereby found and determined by the General Assembly that in certain instances real estate taxes and other assessments have either not been collected or have been difficult to collect; that the provisions of this act are designed to alleviate such problems and that only by the immediate effectiveness of this act may such problems be solved and certain tax revenues and assessments be rightfully provided local taxing authorities. Therefore, an emergency is hereby declared to exist and this act being necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health and safety shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage and approval.”

Acts 1995, No. 669, § 6: Mar. 17, 1995. Emergency clause provided: “It is found and determined by the General Assembly of the State of Arkansas that county assessors in various counties in Arkansas have assessed public property which is available for use by persons or organizations for events which are not open to the general public; and that county assessors are required by law to assess all real and personal property in their counties annually between the first Monday in January and the first day in August, and that an immediate need exists to clarify the status of public property used by persons or organizations for events which are not open to the general public in order to prevent such property from being placed on the tax rolls by county assessors. Therefore, an emergency is declared to exist and this act being necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health and safety, shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage and approval.”

Acts 2001, No. 1544, § 6: Apr. 12, 2001. Emergency clause provided: “It is found and determined by the General Assembly that in order to efficiently reimburse the counties for the homestead property tax credit, county assessors are required to recertify to the Chief Fiscal Officer the amount of real property reduction on or before June 30 of the year 2001 and every year thereafter. Therefore, an emergency is declared to exist and this act being immediately necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health and safety shall become effective on the date of its approval by the Governor. If the bill is neither approved nor vetoed by the Governor, it shall become effective on the expiration of the period of time during which the Governor may veto the bill. If the bill is vetoed by the Governor and the veto is overridden, it shall become effective on the date the last house overrides the veto.”

Acts 2003, No. 1473, § 74: July 1, 2003. Emergency clause provided: “It is found and determined by the General Assembly of the State of Arkansas that this act includes technical corrects to Act 923 of 2003 which establishes the classification and compensation levels of state employees covered by the provisions of the Uniform Classification and Compensation Act; that Act 923 of 2003 will become effective on July 1, 2003; and that to avoid confusion this act must also [sic] effective on July 1, 2003. Therefore, an emergency is declared to exist and this act being necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health, and safety shall become effective on

26-3-301. Property exempt from taxes generally.

All property described in this section, to the extent limited, shall be exempt from taxation:

(1) Public school buildings and buildings used exclusively for public worship and the grounds attached to these buildings necessary for the proper occupancy, use, and enjoyment of the buildings, not leased or otherwise used with a view to profit;

(2) All public institutions of higher learning and all buildings and grounds belonging to those institutions;

(3) All lands used exclusively as graveyards or grounds for burying the dead, except those held by any person, company, or corporation with a view to profit or for the purpose of speculation in the sale of the lands;

(4) All property, whether real or personal, belonging exclusively to this state, including property of state agencies, institutions, boards, or commissions, or the United States;

(5) All property, whether real or personal, belonging exclusively to any county of this state;

(6) All lands, houses, and other buildings belonging to any county, city, or town used exclusively for the accommodation of the poor;

(7) All buildings belonging to institutions of purely public charity, together with the land actually occupied by these institutions, not leased or otherwise used with a view to profit, and all moneys and credits appropriated solely to sustaining, and belonging exclusively to, these institutions;

(8) All fire engines and other implements used for the extinguishment of fires, with the buildings used exclusively for the safekeeping of the fire engines and other implements used for the extinguishment of fires, and for the meeting of fire companies, whether belonging to any town or to any fire company organized in the town;

(9) All market houses, public squares, other public grounds, town and city houses or halls owned and used exclusively for public purposes, and all works, machinery, and fixtures belonging to any town and used exclusively for conveying water to the town;

(10) Public property which may be reserved for use by any person or organization, with or without a fee for such use, and is being used exclusively for public purposes, regardless of whether the event for which the property is reserved is open for attendance or participation by the general public;

(11) All property owned by the Girls' 4-H house, Boys' 4-H house, and the Future Farmers of America houses when the houses are used for the sole purpose of occupancy and use and enjoyment by students on the property and not leased or otherwise used with a view to profit; and

(12) (A) Under the provisions of this section, all dedicated church property, including the church building used as a place of worship, buildings used for administrative or missional purposes, the land upon which the church buildings are located, all church parsonages, any church educational building operated in connection with the church, including a family life or activity center, a recreation center, a youth center, a church association building, a day care center, a kindergarten, or a private church school shall be exempt.

(B) However, in the event any property is used partially for church purposes and partially for investments or other commercial or business purposes, the property shall be exempt from the ad valorem tax.

A.C.R.C. Notes. Acts 1987, No. 627, § 3, provided that in the event that, on April 4, 1987, there existed any claim for real or personal property taxes based on the ownership of the property by a public institution of higher learning, or state agency, institution, board, or commission, the amounts shall be removed from the books of officials of the county in which the property is located and no claim shall be made for payment of the amounts.

Acts 1995, No. 669, § 2 provided:

"If there exists any claim for real or personal property taxes or improvement district assessments based on use of public property by persons or organizations for events which are not open to the general public at the effective date of this act, such amounts shall be removed from the books of officials in the county in which such property is located, and no claim shall be made for payment of said amounts."

Publisher's Notes. Acts 1947, No. 110, § 1, repealed all state ad valorem taxes effective December 31, 1947, save for the collection of those taxes already levied and delinquent on that date.

Amendments. The 1995 amendment added (9)(B); substituted "the Future Farmers of America houses" for "the FFA houses" in (10); and made stylistic changes.

The 2005 amendment rewrote (5).

The 2007 amendment substituted "Public school buildings and buildings" for "All public schoolhouses and houses" in (1).

Improvement Districts.
Municipalities.
Schools.

In General.

All property is subject to taxation except such as is specially exempted by the Arkansas Constitution, and nothing else is or can be made exempt. Garland County v. Gaines, 56 Ark. 227, 19 S.W. 602 (1892).

Adjacent Property.

The parking lot, connecting driveways, and landscaped areas surrounding a tax exempt church building, were also held to be exempt. Phillips v. Mission Fellowship Baptist Church, 59 Ark. App. 242, 955 S.W.2d 917 (1997).

Cemeteries.

When church building burned and members disbanded, only the portion used as a cemetery was exempt from taxation. Burbridge v. Smyrna Baptist Church, 212 Ark. 924, 209 S.W.2d 685 (1948).

A cemetery is exempt from taxation unless held for profit. Ponder v. Richardson, 213 Ark. 238, 210 S.W.2d 316 (1948).

Charities.

The fact that rents and revenues of certain real estate are devoted to purposes of public charity will not exempt such property from taxation, since it is only when the property itself is actually and directly used for charitable purposes that the law exempts it from taxation. Brodie v. Fitzgerald, 57 Ark. 445, 22 S.W. 29 (1893).

A hospital supported by contributions out of employees' wages and operated for the benefit of employees and persons injured on company property is not entitled to exemption as being an institution of public charity. Missouri Pac. Hosp. Ass'n v. Pulaski County, 211 Ark. 9, 199 S.W.2d 329 (1947).

Part of property for which rents were collected and which was not being directly and exclusively used for public charity was subjected to taxation, as the exemption is based upon the actual use of property rather than the use of its revenues. Burgess v. Four States Mem. Hosp., 250 Ark. 485, 465 S.W.2d 693 (1971).

Churches.

A vacant lot belonging to a church adjoining the lot on which the church stands is subject to taxation. Pulaski County v. First Baptist Church, 86 Ark. 205, 110 S.W. 1034 (1908).

Lands conveyed to a religious society are exempt from taxes in part only as to portion used for religious purposes. Burbridge v. Smyrna Baptist Church, 212 Ark. 924, 209 S.W.2d 685 (1948). Subdivision (11)(A) does not clearly embrace television towers or like structures with the degree of exactness and certainty required. Agape Church, Inc. v. Pulaski County, 307 Ark. 420, 821 S.W.2d 21 (1991).

A television tower is not a building, and the fact that a small incidental tower house was located on the property did not convert the land into a "building." Agape Church, Inc. v. Pulaski County, 307 Ark. 420, 821 S.W.2d 21 (1991).

Ownership is not a condition for tax-exempt status for churches; use is determinative of entitlement to a tax exemption. Phillips v. Mission Fellowship Baptist Church, 59 Ark. App. 242, 955 S.W.2d 917 (1997).

Improvement Districts.

Exempt property is considered in the organization of improvement district according to its value fixed by the assessment roll, since it is not exempt from such assessments. Fry v. Poe, 175 Ark. 375, 1 S.W.2d 29 (1927).

Municipalities.

Land purchased by a city for present use as a dumping ground and used as such for several months, though such use had been discontinued because the road to it had become impassable, was exempt from taxation. Hudgins v. City of Hot Springs, 168 Ark. 467, 270 S.W. 594 (1925). Before a city can successfully claim exemption from taxation, the property must have been used for a public purpose; contemplated future use is not sufficient. City of Springdale v. Duncan, 240

Ark. 716, 401 S.W.2d 747 (1966).

Schools.

The exemption as to school buildings applies to private schools as well as public schools. Phillips County v. Sister Estelle, 42 Ark. 536 (1884).

Lands of school district held for profit are taxable. Board of Improv. v. School Dist., 56 Ark. 354, 19 S.W. 969, 35 Am. St. Rep. 108 (Ark. 1892); School Dist. v. Howe, 62 Ark. 481, 37 S.W. 717 (1896).

26-3-302. Intangible personalty.

(a) All intangible personal property in this state shall be exempt from all ad valorem tax levies of counties, cities, and school districts in the state.

(b) The exemption provided in this section shall be applicable with respect to the assessment and taxation of intangible personal property on and after January 1, 1976, and no ad valorem taxes shall be assessed or collected on such property for any period after January 1, 1976.

26-3-303. Parsonages.

Parsonages owned by churches and used as homes for pastors shall be exempt from all taxes on real property, except improvement district taxes.

History. Acts 1945, No. 139, § 1; A.S.A. 1947, § 84-207.

26-3-304. Textile mills.

(a) No person, firm, or corporation shall be required to make or file with any assessor or taxing authority in this state any return, report, or assessment of any kind as to or against any capital invested in a textile mill in this state for the manufacture of cotton or other fiber goods in any manner for a period of seven (7) years, all such capital being exempted from the provisions of all general taxation and assessment statutes and laws in this state which would otherwise be applicable for the period of seven (7) years.

(b) No taxes shall be assessed, levied upon, or collected on property used exclusively in the business of manufacturing textile goods in a textile mill located in this state for a period of seven (7) years after the location of a mill in this state.

History. Acts 1929, No. 74, § 2; Pope's Dig., § 13586; A.S.A. 1947, § 84-208.

Publisher's Notes. The initial part of Acts 1929, No. 74, § 2, provided for the cancellation of any assessment of textile mills since the adoption of Ark. Const. Amend. 12, and provided for a refund of any taxes paid to a collector, but not yet paid to the treasurer of the county, since the adoption of this constitutional amendment. Near the end of § 2 of the act there is also a provision for no assessment or levy of taxes on mills located in this state for a period of seven years after adoption of the amendment.

Case Notes

Applicability.

Limited Life Nonwoven Products.

Applicability.

Where on January 1, 1926, capital was already invested in a textile mill in the state, it became exempt from taxation under Ark. Const. Amend. 12. Wilson v. Monticello Cotton Mills Co., 180 Ark. 1090, 24 S.W.2d 324 (1930).

Limited Life Nonwoven Products.

Limited life nonwoven products produced from rayon and polyester fibers entitled manufacturer to tax exemption provided for in Ark. Const. Amend. 12 and this section, since to restrict the meaning of fiber goods to the products in existence in 1926 when the amendment was passed would require giving the words an extraordinary usage rather than the ordinary and natural meaning the law requires. Casey v. Scott Paper Co., 272 Ark. 312, 613 S.W.2d 821 (1981).

26-3-305. Nonprofit waterworks.

Waterworks systems owned by nonprofit property owners associations are public property used for public purposes and therefore exempt from ad valorem taxation.

26-3-306. Disabled veterans, surviving spouses, and minor dependent children.

(a) (1) (A) (i) A disabled veteran who has been awarded special monthly compensation by the Department of Veterans Affairs for the loss of, or the loss of use of, one (1) or more limbs, for total blindness in one (1) or both eyes, or for service-connected one hundred percent (100%) total and permanent disability shall be exempt from payment of all state taxes on the homestead and personal property owned by the disabled veteran.

(ii) (a) In the event that the disabled veteran sells his or her home, the exemption shall be prorated to the date of sale so that the disabled veteran shall owe no tax for the portion of the year he or she claimed the home as a homestead, and the purchaser shall be liable only for taxes relating to the balance of the year.

(b) Upon request by the disabled veteran, the county collector shall make such record entries as may be necessary to effect the proration.

(B) (i) Upon the death of the disabled veteran, the surviving spouse and minor dependent children of the disabled veteran shall be exempt from payment of all state taxes on the homestead and personal property owned by the surviving spouse and minor dependent children of the deceased disabled veteran.

(ii) The surviving spouse and minor dependent children of a member of the United States armed forces who was killed while within the scope of his or her military duties, who died while within the scope of his or her military duties, or who is missing in action and the surviving spouse and minor dependent children of a veteran who died from service-connected causes, as certified by the department, shall also be exempt from payment of all state taxes on the homestead and personal property owned by the surviving spouse and minor dependent children.

(iii) (a) The surviving spouse shall be entitled to the exemption provided for in this section so long as the surviving spouse remains unmarried.

(b) The surviving spouse's exemptions provided for in this section are reinstated upon the termination of the surviving spouse's subsequent marriage.

(iv) A surviving spouse of a member of the United States armed forces who died while on active duty shall be eligible for reinstatement of the homestead and personal property tax exemption upon termination of a subsequent marriage and until the surviving spouse remarries.

(v) The exemption provided in this section for surviving minor dependent children shall be available to the surviving children during their minority.

(2) As used in this section, "personal property" means only those items of tangible personal property used for other than a commercial or business purpose.

(b) (1) (A) A disabled veteran eligible for the exemption provided for in this section and desiring to claim an exemption shall furnish to the county collector a letter from the department verifying the fact that the disabled veteran is in receipt of special monthly compensation for the loss of or the loss of use of one (1) or more limbs, total blindness in one (1) or both eyes, or for service-connected one hundred percent (100%) total and permanent disability.

(B) (i) A surviving spouse or minor dependent child of a deceased disabled veteran desiring to claim the exemption provided in this section shall furnish the county collector a letter from the department verifying the fact that the deceased disabled veteran was at the time of death entitled to receive a special monthly compensation for the loss of or the loss of use of one (1) or more limbs, total blindness in one (1) or both eyes, or for service-connected one hundred percent (100%) total and permanent disability.

(ii) In addition to the requirements in subdivision (b)(1)(B)(i) of this section, the surviving spouse or minor dependent child of the deceased disabled veteran shall furnish the county collector with an affidavit signed by the surviving spouse or minor dependent child stating that the surviving spouse or minor dependent child is a surviving spouse or minor dependent child of the named deceased disabled veteran.

(2) (A) The surviving spouse or minor dependent children of a member of the United States armed forces who was killed while within the scope of his or her military duties, who died while within the scope of his or her military duties, or who is missing in action, or a surviving spouse or minor dependent children of a veteran who died of service-connected causes, as certified by the department, desiring to claim the exemption provided in this section shall furnish the county collector a letter from the department certifying the fact that such a member of the United States armed forces is missing in action, was killed while within the scope of his or her military duties, or died while within the scope of his or her military duties or that the veteran died from service-connected causes and the surviving spouse is or would be entitled to department benefits in the form of death indemnity compensation if the surviving spouse were otherwise eligible to receive the department benefits.

(B) In addition, the surviving spouse or minor dependent child shall furnish the county collector with an affidavit signed by the surviving spouse or minor dependent child or the surviving spouse or minor dependent child's guardian stating that the surviving spouse or minor dependent child is a surviving spouse or minor dependent child of the member of the United States armed forces who is missing in action, who was killed while within the scope of his or her military duties, or who died while within the scope of his or her military duties or is the surviving spouse or minor dependent child of a veteran who died of service-connected causes as certified by the department.

(c) Only a disabled veteran and a surviving spouse and minor dependent child of a disabled veteran who are citizens and residents of the State of Arkansas shall be eligible for the exemption provided in this section.

(d) Any person evading or violating any provision of this section or attempting to secure benefits under this section to which he or she is not entitled shall be guilty of a violation and upon conviction shall be fined in any sum not less than one hundred dollars ($100) nor more than one thousand dollars ($1,000).

(e) A person claiming the property tax exemption authorized by this section shall not be entitled to claim the property tax credit authorized in § 26-26-1118.

History. Acts 1953, No. 363, §§ 1-4; 1975, No. 196, §§ 1, 2; 1975, No. 319, §§ 1-3; 1975 (Extended Sess., 1976), No. 1220, §§ 1-3; 1977, No. 47, §§ 1, 2; A.S.A. 1947, §§ 84-209 — 84-212; reen. Acts 1987, No. 1010, §§ 1-3; Acts 1989, No. 354, § 1; 2001, No. 361, § 1; 2001, No. 1544, § 1; 2005, No. 1994, § 164; 2007, No. 411, § 1.

A.C.R.C. Notes. Part of this section was reenacted by Acts 1987, No. 1010, §§ 1-3. Acts 1987, No. 834, provided that 1987 legislation reenacting acts passed in the 1976 Extended Session should not repeal any other 1987 legislation and that such other legislation would be controlling in the event of conflict.

Effective Dates. Acts 2007, No. 411, § 2, provided: "Effective Date. This act is effective on and after January 1, 2007."

Amendments. The 2001 amendment, by No. 361, redesignated the former (a)(1)(A) as present (a)(1)(A)(i) and (a)(1)(A)(ii); inserted "or her" in (a)(1)(A)(ii) and (a)(1)(B)(ii); substituted "armed forces" for "Armed Forces" in (a)(1)(B)(ii); redesignated the former (a)(1)(B)(ii) as present (a)(1)(B)(ii), (a)(1)(B)(iii), and (a)(1)(B)(v); inserted (a)(1)(B)(iv); and made minor stylistic changes. The 2001 amendment, by No. 1544, added (e).

The 2005 amendment, in (d), substituted "violation" for "misdemeanor" and deleted "and such costs as are provided by law in misdemeanor offenses" from the end; and made gender neutral changes throughout.

The 2007 amendment added the (a)(1)(B)(iii)(a) designation and added (a)(1)(B)(iii)(b).

Effective Dates. Acts 1983, No. 276, § 16: Feb. 25, 1983. Emergency clause provided: “It is hereby found and determined by the General Assembly that the incentive afforded by this Act to the motion picture industry can serve to stimulate the economy of the area in which filming is done; and that the incentive has a multiplier effect, in terms of economic development, in the locality of the filming and statewide; and that tax revenues generated by the activities of motion picture filming more than offset the revenue lost through the incentive provided by this Act. Therefore, an emergency is declared to exist and this Act, being necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health and safety shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage and approval.”

Acts 1987, No. 1032, § 3: Apr. 14, 1987. Emergency clause provided: “It is hereby found and determined by the Seventy-Sixth General Assembly that restriction in the law requiring the motion picture production company to maintain a checking account, prior to and following its stay in Arkansas, is unnecessary and an undue hardship for those companies seeking to take advantage of the Motion Picture Incentive Act of 1983. Therefore, an emergency is hereby declared to exist, and this Act being necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health and safety shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage and approval.”

Acts 1991, No. 989, § 6: Apr. 8, 1991. Emergency clause provided: “It is hereby found and determined by the General Assembly that the changes made by this Act will further attract the motion picture industry into the State of Arkansas; that filming in Arkansas contributes to the economic betterment of the State; and that the sooner this Act goes into effect the sooner we will be able to attract more motion picture filming within the State. Therefore, an emergency is hereby declared to exist and this Act being immediately necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health and safety shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage and approval.”

Acts 2009, No. 816, § 4: July 31, 2009. Emergency clause provided: “It is found and determined by the General Assembly of the State of Arkansas the incentives afforded by this Act to the digital content industry can serve to stimulate the economy of the area in which production and postproduction is performed; and that the incentives have a multiplier effect, in terms of economic development, in the locality of the production and statewide; and that tax revenues generated by the activities of digital content production and postproduction more than offset the revenue lost through the incentives provided by this act. Therefore, an emergency is declared to exist and this act being necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health, and safety shall become effective on: (1) The date of its approval by the Governor; (2) If the bill is neither approved nor vetoed by the Governor, the expiration of the period of time during which the Governor may veto the bill; or (3) If the bill is vetoed by the Governor and the veto is overridden, the date the last house overrides the veto.”

26-4-201. Title.

This subchapter may be referred to and cited as the “Motion Picture Incentive Act of 1983”.

History. Acts 1983, No. 276, § 1; A.S.A. 1947, § 84-4801.

26-4-202. Purpose.

It is found and determined that:

(1) Arkansas' natural beauty and diverse topography provides a variety of excellent settings from which the motion picture industry might choose a location for filming a motion picture or television program;

(2) Several successful motion pictures have been filmed in Arkansas, due to the unique qualities of the state in terms of natural settings, availability of labor, materials, climate, and hospitality of its people;

(3) The motion picture industry brings with it a much-needed infusion of capital into areas of the state which may be economically depressed;

(4) The multiplier effect of the infusion of capital resulting from the filming of a motion picture or television program serves to stimulate economic activity beyond that immediately apparent on the film set;

(5) Due to the distance of Arkansas from the film industry center on the West Coast and due to this period of economic depression, it is necessary to provide financial incentives to the film industry in order that Arkansas might compete with other states for filming locations; and

(6) Since a significant portion of the cost of a motion picture production will not be eligible for a tax incentive due to the fact that portions of the production are carried out in another state, this subchapter may also serve as an inducement for the motion picture industry to locate operations within the State of Arkansas in order to take advantage of the tax incentive afforded by this subchapter.

History. Acts 1983, No. 276, § 2; A.S.A. 1947, § 84-4802.

26-4-203. Definitions.

As used in this subchapter, unless the context otherwise requires:

(1) “Revenue Division” means the Revenue Division of the Arkansas Department of Finance and Administration;

(2) “Motion picture production company” means a company engaged in the business of producing motion pictures intended for a theatrical release or for television viewing;

(3) “Motion Picture Office” means the division of the Arkansas Economic Development Commission charged with the responsibility of promoting and assisting the motion picture industry in Arkansas;

(4) “Resident” means natural person and includes for the purpose of determining eligibility for the tax incentive provided by this subchapter any person domiciled in the State of Arkansas and any other person who maintains a permanent place of abode within the state and spends in the aggregate more than six (6) months of the taxable year within the state;

(5) “Financial institution” means any bank or savings and loan in the state which carries Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation (FDIC) or Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation (FSLIC) insurance.

History. Acts 1983, No. 276, § 3; A.S.A. 1947, § 84-4803; Acts 1997, No. 540, § 53.

Amendments. The 1997 amendment substituted “Arkansas Economic Development Commission” for “Arkansas Industrial Development Commission” in (3).

26-4-204. Penalties.

(a) Any motion picture production company failing to comply with § 26-4-205 may be enjoined from engaging in the business of producing motion pictures in the State of Arkansas by any court of competent jurisdiction until the requirements of that section are met.

(b) Any person, business, or motion picture production company exploiting or attempting to exploit the tax incentive afforded by this subchapter shall be subject to penalty in accordance with applicable state or federal law.

(c) Any motion picture production company attempting to abuse the intent of this subchapter shall be denied any tax incentive to which it would otherwise be entitled and shall be prohibited from applying for any future tax incentive afforded by this subchapter.

History. Acts 1983, No. 276, § 9; A.S.A. 1947, § 84-4809.

26-4-205. Registration.

Each motion picture production company which plans to film any scenes within the borders of the State of Arkansas shall register with the Motion Picture Office prior to the commencement of filming.

History. Acts 1983, No. 276, § 4; A.S.A. 1947, § 84-4804.

26-4-206. Tax incentive.

Any motion picture production company which expends in excess of one million dollars ($1,000,000) in connection with the filming or production of one (1) or more motion pictures in the State of Arkansas within a twelve-month period or which expends in excess of five hundred thousand dollars ($500,000) in connection with the filming or production of one (1) motion picture in this state within a six-month period shall, upon making application therefor and meeting other requirements prescribed in this subchapter, be entitled to a tax incentive benefit of five percent (5%) of the funds so expended in Arkansas in connection with the filming or production of a motion picture.

26-4-207. Expiration date.

The opportunity for a tax incentive provided by § 26-4-206 shall expire on June 30, 1993.

History. Acts 1983, No. 276, § 12; A.S.A. 1947, § 84-4812.

26-4-208. Application for incentive.

(a) Any motion picture production company that intends to film all or parts of a motion picture in Arkansas and desires to take advantage of the tax incentive provided for in this subchapter shall provide an estimate of total expenditures to be made in Arkansas in connection with the filming or production of the motion picture. The estimate of expenditures shall be filed with the Motion Picture Office prior to the commencement of filming in Arkansas.

(b) At the time the motion picture production company provides the estimate of expenditures to the office, it shall also designate a member or representative of the motion picture production company to work with the office and the Revenue Division on the reporting of expenditures and other information necessary to take advantage of the tax incentive afforded by this subchapter.

(c) Within two (2) weeks after principal photography begins, the motion picture production company shall begin filing weekly expenditure reports. Failure to file weekly expenditure reports may result in a delay in the disbursement of the tax incentive benefit as provided in § 26-4-209. The weekly expenditure report shall be filed in accordance with, but not limited to, the following provisions:

(1) In order to be eligible for the tax incentive provided for by this subchapter, payments shall be made from a checking account from any Arkansas financial institution;

(2) Direct cash payments by the production company to Arkansas vendors, businesses, or citizens hired as cast or crew which are accompanied by receipts shall be allowed if the sum of the cash payments does not exceed forty percent (40%) of the total verifiable expenditures;

(3) Per diem expenditures by the cast or crew for lodging when accompanied by receipts shall be eligible expenditures;

(4) Expenditure reports shall include, but are not limited to, check identification number, date of payment, name of payee, address of payee, amount paid, name of financial institution, and other such information as may be deemed necessary by the Revenue Division to insure compliance with this subchapter;

(5) Payments for salaries or wages are limited to Arkansas residents who filed an Arkansas income tax return in the previous tax year; and

(6) Payments for penalties or fines, payments to nonprofit organizations, and payments to federal and state entities that do not pay state taxes are to be excluded.

(d) The twelve-month period during which expenditures may qualify for the tax incentive provided by this subchapter begins on the date of the earliest expenditure reported.

(e) Upon completion of filming or production in Arkansas, the motion picture production company shall file an application for the tax incentive afforded by this subchapter. The application shall include a final expenditure report giving a total amount of expenditures which were made in the state in connection with the filming or production of a motion picture and which comply with the provisions of this subchapter. The motion picture production company shall provide documentation for expenditures in accordance with regulations promulgated by the Revenue Division.

(f) Applications for the tax incentive provided by this subchapter shall be accepted only from those motion picture production companies which report expenditures in the state in excess of one million dollars ($1,000,000) in connection with the filming or production of one (1) or more motion pictures in the state within a twelve-month period or five hundred thousand dollars ($500,000) in connection with the filming or production of one (1) motion picture in the state within a six-month period.

(g) (1) When a motion picture production company hires a payroll service company to handle the payroll of a production, the payroll payments otherwise allowable under § 26-4-201 et seq. shall be allowed as eligible expenditures if:

(A) Payments made by the motion picture production company to the payroll service company are paid through an Arkansas financial institution account; and

(B) The payroll checks issued by the payroll service company are drawn on a bank or other entity which is outside the State of Arkansas, and the out-of-state bank or other entity guarantees payment of the checks at an Arkansas financial institution;

(2) When a motion picture production company hires a food catering service company which is outside the State of Arkansas, payments otherwise allowable under § 26-4-201 et seq., which are made by the out-of-state food catering service to food businesses located in Arkansas, shall be allowed as eligible expenditures if actual receipts or copies of invoices from the food businesses located in Arkansas are filed with the weekly expenditure reports and payments made by the motion picture production company to the out-of-state food catering service company are paid through an Arkansas financial institution account; and

(3) Preproduction and postproduction expenses, which otherwise qualify, may be made from a checking account from a financial institution located outside of Arkansas.

History. Acts 1983, No. 276, § 6; 1985, No. 895, §§ 2-4; A.S.A. 1947, § 84-4806; Acts 1987, No. 1032, § 1; 1991, No. 989, § 2.

26-4-209. Disbursement of benefit.

(a) The Revenue Division, upon receipt of an application for a tax incentive, shall:

(1) Calculate the total expenditures of the motion picture production company for which there are documented receipts for funds expended in the state;

(2) Calculate the tax incentive benefit to which the applicant is entitled; and

(3) Certify it to the Chief Fiscal Officer of the state. The division shall certify to the Chief Fiscal Officer of the state the amount to be remitted to the motion picture production company within sixty (60) days of the final expenditure report.

(b) The Chief Fiscal Officer of the state shall remit the five percent (5%) tax incentive benefit to the motion picture production company within ten (10) working days of the receipt of the certification of the amount thereof from the Revenue Division. The benefit shall be paid from any available funds appropriated for miscellaneous tax refunds by the General Assembly.

History. Acts 1983, No. 276, § 7; A.S.A. 1947, § 84-4807.

26-4-210. Audit.

The Revenue Division may require that reported expenditures and the application for a tax incentive from the motion picture production company be subjected to an audit by Revenue Division auditors to verify expenditures.

History. Acts 1983, No. 276, § 11; A.S.A. 1947, § 84-4811.

26-4-211. [Repealed.]

Publisher's Notes. This section, concerning the Motion Picture Office Fund, was repealed by Acts 2009, No. 816, § 3. The section was derived from Acts 1983, No. 276, § 8; A.S.A. 1947, § 84-4808.

26-4-212. Rules and regulations.

The Revenue Division shall promulgate appropriate rules and regulations to carry out the intent and purposes of this subchapter and to prevent abuse.

History. Acts 1983, No. 276, § 13; A.S.A. 1947, § 84-4813.

26-4-213. Disclaimer by state.

The State of Arkansas reserves the right to refuse the use of Arkansas' name in the credits of any motion picture filmed or produced in the state.

Publisher's Notes. Acts 1967, No. 410, § 7, provided that "nothing in this act shall be deemed to amend, repeal, or modify any of the provisions of the Income Tax Act of 1929 (Acts 1929, No. 118), or laws amendatory thereto, or the provisions of the Uniform Division of Income For Tax Purpose Act (Acts 1961, No. 413), or laws amendatory thereto, or any of the other tax laws of this state, it being the intent of this act that, by the enactment of the Multistate Tax Compact, the General Assembly has established an option, as authorized in this compact, whereby a multistate taxpayer may elect to report and pay taxes in accordance with the existing tax laws of this state or in accordance with the terms of the compact, as the taxpayer may elect."

Effective Dates. Acts 1967, No. 410, § 9: Jan. 1, 1968.

Acts 1968 (1st Ex. Sess.), No. 59, § 3: Feb. 27, 1968. Emergency clause provided: "It is hereby found and determined by the General Assembly that the Multistate Tax Commission is now meeting regularly and formulating policies; that, as the law now stands, the Commissioner of Revenues may only designate as his alternate either the Director of the Income Tax Division or the Director of the Sales Tax Division or the Assistant State Revenue Commissioner; that, at times, it is impossible for any of these three persons to attend the Multistate Tax Commission meetings; that, in order to give the Commissioner of Revenues a wider latitude in designating his alternate, this Act should become effective immediately. Therefore, an emergency is hereby declared to exist and this Act, being necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety, shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage and approval."

Acts 1979, No. 401, § 50: Jan. 1, 1980.

Acts 1989, No. 395, § 6: Mar. 7, 1989. Emergency clause provided: "It is hereby found and determined by the General Assembly of the State of Arkansas that the provisions of Arkansas Code of 1987 Annotated § 26-53-101 et seq. do not specifically provide for allowance to be given to persons for similar taxes paid in other states; that the proper and effective administration of the compensating (use) tax will be greatly enhanced by the provisions of a reciprocal tax credit given by the State of Arkansas to purchasers who have previously paid a compensating tax in another state, provided that such other state offers the same tax credit to Arkansas purchasers for tangible personal property brought into the other state; that this act is immediately necessary in order to eliminate the possibility that Arkansas taxpayers will be subject to undue multiple taxation by other states due to the failure of the states' taxing authorities to equate the Arkansas Gross Receipts Tax to sales tax for purposes of allowing a reciprocal sales tax credit; that this act is also necessary to lessen the administrative burdens on taxpayers whose monthly gross receipts tax liability is relatively small in amount. Therefore, an emergency is declared to exist and this act being necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health and welfare, shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage and approval."

Acts 1995, No. 682, § 3: effective for tax years beginning on or after January 1, 1995.

Acts 1995, No. 1160, § 46: Apr. 11, 1995. Emergency clause provided: "It is hereby found and determined by the General Assembly that certain changes are necessary to the Arkansas tax laws; that these changes are necessary immediately in order to maintain the efficient administration of the Arkansas income tax laws; and that this act is necessary to effectuate that purpose. Therefore, an emergency is hereby declared to exist and this act being necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage and approval."

Case Notes

Constitutionality.
Interstate Carriers.

Constitutionality.

The multistate tax compact does not impermissibly enhance state power at the expense of federal authority, and therefore the congressional approval requirements of U.S. Const., Art. 1, § 10, cl. 3, are inapplicable and the compact is valid without such approval; moreover, instances of unlawful enforcement of the compact, while they might amount to violations of U.S. Const. Amend. 14, are irrelevant to the facial validity of the compact. United States Steel Corp. v. Multistate Tax Comm'n, 434 U.S. 452, 98 S. Ct. 799, 54 L. Ed. 2d 682 (1978).

Interstate Carriers.

Where interstate air freight carrier would be given tax credit by another state under this compact, carrier was not subjected to double taxation because of imposition of compensating tax on aircraft brought to this state for extensive modifications before entering carrier's interstate operations. Skelton v. Federal Express Corp., 259 Ark. 127, 531 S.W.2d 941 (1976) (decision under prior law).

26-5-101. Multistate Tax Compact.

The "Multistate Tax Compact" is enacted into law and entered into with all jurisdictions legally joining therein, in the form substantially as follows:

MULTISTATE TAX COMPACT

ARTICLE I Purposes

The purposes of this compact are to:

- 1. Facilitate proper determination of state and local tax liability of multistate taxpayers, including the equitable apportionment of tax bases and settlement of apportionment disputes;
- 2. Promote uniformity or compatibility in significant components of tax systems;
- 3. Facilitate taxpayer convenience and compliance in the filing of tax returns and in other phases of tax administration;

4. Avoid duplicative taxation.

ARTICLE II Definitions

As used in this compact:

1. "State" means a state of the United States, the District of Columbia, the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico, or any territory or possession of the United States;
2. "Subdivision" means any governmental unit or special district of a state;
3. "Taxpayer" means any corporation, partnership, firm, association, governmental unit or agency, or person acting as a business entity in more than one state;
4. "Income tax" means a tax imposed on or measured by net income including any tax imposed on or measured by an amount arrived at by deducting expenses from gross income, one (1) or more forms of which expenses are not specifically and directly related to particular transactions;
5. "Capital stock tax" means a tax measured in any way by the capital of a corporation considered in its entirety;
6. "Gross receipts tax" means a tax, other than a sales tax, which is imposed on or measured by the gross volume of business, in terms of gross receipts or in other terms, and in the determination of which no deduction is allowed which would constitute the tax on income tax;
7. "Sales tax" imposed with respect to the transfer for a consideration of ownership, possession, or custody of tangible personal property or the rendering of services measured by the price of the tangible personal property transferred or services rendered and which is required by state or local law to be separately stated from the sales price by the seller, or which is customarily separately stated from the sales price, but does not include a tax imposed exclusively on the sale of a specifically identified commodity or article or class of commodities or articles;
8. "Use tax" means a nonrecurring tax, other than a sales tax, which (a) is imposed on or with respect to the exercise or enjoyment of any right or power over tangible personal property incident to the ownership, possession, or custody of that property or the leasing of that property from another including any consumption, keeping, retention, or other use of tangible personal property and (b) is complementary to a sales tax;
9. "Tax" means an income tax, capital stock tax, gross receipts tax, sales tax, use tax, and any other tax which has a multistate impact, except that the provisions of Articles III, IV, and V of this compact shall apply only to the taxes specifically designated therein, and the provisions of Article IX of this compact shall apply only in respect to determinations pursuant to Article IV.

ARTICLE III Elements of Income Tax Laws

Taxpayer Option, State and Local Taxes.

1. Any taxpayer subject to an income tax whose income is subject to apportionment and allocation for tax purposes pursuant to the laws of a party state or pursuant to the laws of subdivisions in two (2) or more party states may elect to apportion and allocate his income in the manner provided by the laws of such state or by the laws of such states and subdivisions without reference to this compact, or may elect to apportion and allocate in accordance with Article IV. This election for any tax year may be made in all party states or subdivisions thereof or in any one or more of the party states or subdivisions thereof without reference to the election made in the others. For the purposes of this paragraph, taxes imposed by subdivisions shall be considered separately from state taxes and the apportionment and allocation also may be applied to the entire tax base. In no instance wherein Article IV is employed for all subdivisions of a state may the sum of all apportionments and allocations to subdivisions within a state be greater than the apportionment and allocation that would be assignable to that state if the apportionment or allocation were being made with respect to a state income tax. Taxpayer Option, Short Form.

2. Each party state or any subdivision thereof which imposes an income tax shall provide by law that any taxpayer required to file a return, whose only activities within the taxing jurisdiction consist of sales and do not include owning or renting real estate or tangible personal property, and whose dollar volume of gross sales made during the tax year within the state or subdivision, as the case may be, is not in excess of one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000) may elect to report and pay any tax due on the basis of a percentage of such volume, and shall adopt rates which shall produce a tax which reasonably approximates the tax otherwise due. The Multistate Tax Commission, not more than once in five years, may adjust the one hundred thousand dollar ($100,000) figure in order to reflect such changes as may occur in the real value of the dollar, and such adjusted figure, upon adoption by the commission, shall replace the one hundred thousand dollar ($100,000) figure specifically provided herein. Each party state and subdivision thereof may make the same election available to taxpayers additional to those specified in this paragraph. Coverage.

3. Nothing in this article relates to the reporting or payment of any tax other than an income tax.

ARTICLE IV Division of Income

1. As used in this Article, unless the context otherwise requires:
 - (a) "Business income" means income arising from transactions and activity in the regular course of the taxpayer's trade or business and includes income from tangible and intangible property if the acquisition, management, and disposition of the property constitute integral parts of the taxpayer's regular trade or business operation;
 - (b) "Commercial domicile" means the principal place from which the trade or business of the taxpayer is directed or managed;
 - (c) "Compensation" means wages, salaries, commissions, and any other form of remuneration paid to employees for personal services;
 - (d) [Repealed.]
 - (e) "Nonbusiness income" means all income other than business income;

(f) “Public utility” means any business entity (1) which owns or operates any plant, equipment, property, franchise, or license for the transmission of communications, transportation of goods or persons, except by pipeline, or the production, transmission, sale, delivery, or furnishing of electricity, water, or steam; and (2) whose rates of charges for goods or services have been established or approved by a federal, state, or local government or governmental agency;

(g) “Sales” means all gross receipts of the taxpayer not allocated under paragraphs of this article;

(h) “State” means any state of the United States, the District of Columbia, the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico, any territory or possession of the United States, and any foreign country or political subdivision thereof;

(i) “This state” means the state in which the relevant tax return is filed or, in the case of application of this article to the apportionment and allocation of income for local tax purposes, the subdivision or local taxing district in which the relevant tax return is filed.

2. Any taxpayer having income from business activity which is taxable both within and without this state, other than activity as a public utility or the rendering of purely personal services by an individual, shall allocate and apportion his net income as provided in this article. If a taxpayer has income from business activity as a public utility but derives the greater percentage of his income from activities subject to this article, the taxpayer may elect to allocate and apportion his entire net income as provided in this article.

3. For purposes of allocation and apportionment of income under this article, a taxpayer is taxable in another state if (1) in that state he is subject to a net income tax, a franchise tax measured by net income, a franchise tax for the privilege of doing business, or a corporate stock tax, or (2) that state has jurisdiction to subject the taxpayer to a net income tax regardless of whether, in fact, the state does or does not.

4. Rents and royalties from real or tangible personal property, capital gains, interest, dividends, or patent or copyright royalties, to the extent that they constitute nonbusiness income, shall be allocated as provided in paragraphs 5 through 8 of this article.

(a) Net rents and royalties from real property located in this state are allocable to this state.

(b) Net rents and royalties from tangible personal property are allocable to this state: (1) if and to the extent that the property is utilized in this state, or (2) in their entirety if the taxpayer's commercial domicile is in this state and the taxpayer is not organized under the laws of or taxable in the state in which the property is utilized.

(c) The extent of utilization of tangible personal property in a state is determined by multiplying the rents and royalties by a fraction, the numerator of which is the number of days of physical location of the property in the state during the rental or royalty period in the taxable year and the denominator of which is the number of days of physical location of the property everywhere during all rental or royalty periods in the taxable year. If the physical location of the property during the rental or royalty period is unknown or unascertainable by the taxpayer, tangible personal property is utilized in the state in which the property was located at the time the rental or royalty payer obtained possession.

(a) Capital gains and losses from sales of real property located in this state are allocable to this state.

(b) Capital gains and losses from sales of tangible personal property are allocable to this state if (1) the property had a situs in this state at the time of the sale, or (2) the taxpayer's commercial domicile is in this state and the taxpayer is not taxable in the state in which the property had a situs.

(c) Capital gains and losses from sales of intangible personal property are allocable to this state if the taxpayer's commercial domicile is in this state.

7. Interest and dividends are allocable to this state if the taxpayer's commercial domicile is in this state.

(a) Patent and copyright royalties are allocable to this state: (1) if and to the extent that the patent or copyright is utilized by the payer in this state, or (2) if and to the extent that the patent copyright is utilized by the payer in the state in which the taxpayer is not taxable and the taxpayer's commercial domicile is in this state.

(b) A patent is utilized in a state to the extent that it is employed in production, fabrication, manufacturing, or other processing in the state or to the extent that a patented product is produced in the state. If the basis of receipts from patent royalties does not permit allocation to states or if the accounting procedures do not reflect states of utilization, the patent is utilized in the state in which the taxpayer's commercial domicile is located.

(c) A copyright is utilized in a state to the extent that printing or other publication originates in the state. If the basis of receipts from copyright royalties does not permit allocation to states or if the accounting procedures do not reflect states of utilization, the copyright is utilized in the state in which the taxpayer's commercial domicile is located.

9. All business income shall be apportioned to this state by multiplying the income by a fraction, the numerator of which is the property factor plus the payroll factor plus double the sales factor, and the denominator of which is four (4).

10. The property factor is a fraction, the numerator of which is the average value of the taxpayer's real and tangible personal property owned or rented and used in this state during the tax period and the denominator of which is the average value of all the taxpayer's real and tangible personal property owned or rented and used during the tax period.

11. Property owned by the taxpayer is valued at its original cost. Property rented by the taxpayer is valued at eight (8) times the net annual rental rate. Net annual rental rate is the annual rental rate paid by the taxpayer less any annual rental rate received by the taxpayer from sub-rentals.

12. The average value of property shall be determined by averaging the values at the beginning and ending of the tax period, but the tax administrator may require the averaging of monthly values during the tax period if reasonably required to reflect properly the average value of the taxpayer's property.

13. The payroll factor is a fraction, the numerator of which is the total amount paid in this state during the tax period by the taxpayer for compensation and the denominator of which is the total compensation paid everywhere during the tax period.

14. Compensation is paid in this state if:

- (a) The individual's service is performed entirely within the state;
- (b) The individual's service is performed both within and without the state, but the service performed without the state is incidental to the individual's service within the state; or
- (c) Some of the service is performed in the state and (1) the base of operations or, if there is no base of operations, the place from which the service is directed or controlled is in the state, or (2) the base of operations or the place from which the service is directed or controlled is not in any state in which some part of the service is performed, but the individual's residence is in this state.

15. The sales factor is a fraction, the numerator of which is the total sales of the taxpayer in this state during the tax period, and the denominator of which is the total sales of the taxpayer everywhere during the tax period.

16. Sales of tangible personal property are in this state if:

- (a) The property is delivered or shipped to a purchaser, other than the United States Government, within this state regardless of the f.o.b. point or other conditions of the sale; or
- (b) The property is shipped from an office, store, warehouse, factory, or other place of storage in this state and (1) the purchaser is the United States Government or (2) the taxpayer is not taxable in the state of the purchaser.

17. Sales, other than sales of tangible personal property, are in this state if:

- (a) The income-producing activity is performed in this state; or
- (b) The income-producing activity is performed both in and outside this state and a greater proportion of the income-producing activity is performed in this state than in any other state, based on costs of performance.

18. If the allocation and apportionment provisions of this Article do not fairly represent the extent of the taxpayer's business activity in this state, the taxpayer may petition for or the tax administrator may require, in respect to all or any part of the taxpayer's business activity, if reasonable:

- (a) Separate accounting;
- (b) The exclusion of any one (1) or more of the factors;
- (c) The inclusion of one (1) or more additional factors which will fairly represent the taxpayer's business activity in this state; or
- (d) The employment of any other method to effectuate an equitable allocation and apportionment of the taxpayer's income.

ARTICLE V Elements of Sales and Use Tax Laws

Tax Credit.

1. Each purchaser liable for a use tax on tangible personal property shall be entitled to full credit for the combined amount or amounts of legally imposed sales or use taxes paid by him with respect to the same property to another state and any subdivision thereof. The credit shall be applied first against the amount of any use tax due the state, and any unused portion of the credit shall then be applied against the amount of any use tax due a subdivision. For purposes of applying this credit by other states to Arkansas residents, the term “gross receipts tax” as applied to Arkansas residents by Title 26, Chapter 52 of this Code, shall be synonymous with the term “sales tax” as used by the state applying such credit.

Exemption Certificates, Vendors May Rely.

2. Whenever a vendor receives and accepts in good faith from a purchaser a resale or other exemption certificate or other written evidence of exemption authorized by the appropriate state or subdivision taxing authority, the vendor shall be relieved of liability for a sales or use tax with respect to the transaction.

ARTICLE VI The Commission

Organization and Management.

(a) The Multistate Tax Commission is hereby established. It shall be composed of one (1) “member” from each party state who shall be the head of the state agency charged with the administration of the types of taxes to which this compact applies. If there is more than one (1) such agency the state shall provide by law for the selection of the commission member from the heads of the relevant agencies. State law may provide that a member of the commission be represented by an alternate but only if there is on file with the commission written notification of the designation and identity of the alternate. The attorney general of each party state or his designee, or other counsel if the laws of the party state specifically provide, shall be entitled to attend the meetings of the commission, but shall not vote. Such attorneys general, designees, or other counsel shall receive all notices of meetings required under paragraph 1(e) of this article.

(b) Each party state shall provide by law for the selection of representatives from its subdivisions affected by this compact to consult with the commission member from that state.

(c) Each member shall be entitled to one (1) vote. The commission shall not act unless a majority of the members are present, and no action shall be binding unless approved by a majority of the total number of members.

(d) The commission shall adopt an official seal to be used as it may provide.

(e) The commission shall hold an annual meeting and such other regular meetings as its bylaws may provide and such special meetings as its executive committee may determine. The commission bylaws shall specify the dates of the annual and any other regular meetings, and shall provide for the giving of notice of annual, regular, and special meetings. Notices of special meetings shall include the reasons therefor and an agenda of the items to be considered.

(f) The commission shall elect annually, from among its members, a chairman, a vice-chairman, and a treasurer. The commission shall appoint an executive director who shall serve at its pleasure, and it shall fix his duties and compensation. The executive director shall be secretary of the commission. The commission shall make provision for the bonding of such of its officers and employees as it may deem appropriate.

(g) Irrespective of the civil service, personnel, or other merit system laws of any party state, the executive director shall appoint or discharge such personnel as may be necessary for the performance of the functions of the commission and shall fix their duties and compensation. The commission bylaws shall provide for personnel policies and programs.

(h) The commission may borrow, accept, or contract for the services of personnel from any state, the United States, or any other governmental entity.

(i) The commission may accept for any of its purposes and functions any and all donations and grants of money, equipment, supplies, materials, and services, conditional or otherwise, from any governmental entity, and may utilize and dispose of the same.

(j) The commission may establish one or more offices for the transacting of its business.

(k) The commission shall adopt bylaws for the conduct of its business. The commission shall publish its bylaws in convenient form, and shall file a copy of the bylaws and any amendments thereto with the appropriate agency or officer in each of the party states.

(l) The commission annually shall make to the governor and legislature of each party state a report covering its activities for the preceding year. Any donation or grant accepted by the commission or services borrowed shall be reported in the annual report of the commission, and shall include the nature, amount, and conditions, if any, of the donation, gift, grant or services borrowed and the identity of the donor or lender. The commission may make additional reports as it may deem desirable. Committees.

(a) To assist in the conduct of its business when the full commission is not meeting, the commission shall have an executive committee of seven (7) members, including the chairman, vice-chairman, treasurer and four (4) other members elected annually by the commission. The executive committee, subject to the provisions of this compact and consistent with the policies of the commission, shall function as provided in the bylaws of the commission.

(b) The commission may establish advisory and technical committees, membership on which may include private persons and public officials, in furthering any of its activities. Such committees may consider any matter of concern to the commission, including problems of special interest to any party state and problems dealing with particular types of taxes.

(c) The commission may establish such additional committees as its bylaws may provide.
Powers.

3. In addition to powers conferred elsewhere in this compact, the commission shall have power to:

(a) Study state and local tax systems and particular types of state and local taxes;

(b) Develop and recommend proposals for an increase in uniformity or compatibility of state and local tax laws with a view toward encouraging the simplification and improvement of state and local tax law and administration;

(c) Compile and publish information as in its judgment would assist the party states in implementation of the compact and taxpayers in complying with state and local tax laws;

(d) Do all things necessary and incidental to the administration of its functions pursuant to this compact.

(a) The commission shall submit to the Governor or designated officer or officers of each party state a budget of its estimated expenditures for such period as may be required by the laws of that state for presentation to the legislature thereof.

(b) Each of the commission's budgets of estimated expenditures shall contain specific recommendations of the amounts to be appropriated by each of the party states. The total amount of appropriations requested under any such budget shall be apportioned among the party states as follows: one-tenth ($1/10$) in equal shares; and the remainder in proportion to the amount of revenue collected by each party state and its subdivisions from income taxes, capital stock taxes, gross receipts taxes, and sales and use taxes. In determining such amounts, the commission shall employ such available public sources of information as, in its judgment, present the most equitable and accurate comparisons among the party states. Each of the commission's budgets of estimated expenditures and requests for appropriations shall indicate the sources used in obtaining information employed in applying the formula contained in this paragraph.

(c) The commission shall not pledge the credit of any party state. The commission may meet any of its obligations in whole or in part with funds available to it under paragraph 1(i) of this article; provided that the commission takes specific action setting aside such funds prior to incurring any obligation to be met in whole or in part in such manner. Except where the commission makes use of funds available to it under paragraph 1(i), the commission shall not incur any obligation prior to the allotment of funds by the party states adequate to meet the same.

(d) The commission shall keep accurate accounts of all receipts and disbursements. The receipts and disbursements of the commission shall be subject to the audit and accounting procedures established under its bylaws. All receipts and disbursements of funds handled by the commission shall be audited yearly by a certified or licensed public accountant and the report of the audit shall be included in and become part of the annual report of the commission.

(e) The accounts of the commission shall be open at any reasonable time for inspection by duly constituted officers of the party states and by any persons authorized by the commission.

(f) Nothing contained in this article shall be construed to prevent commission compliance with laws relating to audit or inspection of accounts by or on behalf of any government contributing to the support of the commission.

ARTICLE VII Uniform Regulations and Forms

1. Whenever any two (2) or more party states, or subdivisions of party states, have uniform or similar provisions of law relating to an income tax, capital stock tax, gross receipts tax, sales or use tax, the commission may adopt uniform regulations for any phase of the administration of such law, including assertion of jurisdiction to tax, or prescribing uniform tax forms. The commission may also act with respect to the provisions of Article IV of this compact.

2. Prior to the adoption of any regulation, the commission shall:

(a) As provided in its bylaws, hold at least one (1) public hearing on due notice to all affected party states and subdivisions thereof and to all taxpayers and other persons who have made timely request of the commission for advance notice of its regulation-making proceedings.

(b) Afford all affected party states and subdivisions and interested persons an opportunity to submit relevant written data and views, which shall be considered fully by the commission.

3. The commission shall submit any regulations adopted by it to the appropriate officials of all party states and subdivisions to which they might apply. Each such state and subdivision shall consider any such regulation for adoption in accordance with its own laws and procedures.

ARTICLE VIII Interstate Audits

1. This article shall be in force only in those party states that specifically provide therefor by statute.

2. Any party state or subdivision thereof desiring to make or participate in an audit of any accounts, books, papers, records, or other documents may request the commission to perform the audit on its behalf. In responding to the request, the commission shall have access to and may examine, at any reasonable time, such accounts, books, papers, records, and other documents and any relevant property or stock of merchandise. The commission may enter into agreements with party states or their subdivisions for assistance in performance of the audit. The commission shall make charges, to be paid by the state or local government or governments for which it performs the service, for any audits performed by it in order to reimburse itself for the actual costs incurred in making the audit.

3. The commission may require the attendance of any person within the state where it is conducting an audit or part thereof at a time and place fixed by it within such state for the purpose of giving testimony with respect to any account, book, paper, document, other record, property, or stock of merchandise being examined in connection with the audit. If the person is not within the jurisdiction, he may be required to attend for such purpose at any time and place fixed by the commission within the state of which he is a resident, provided that such state has adopted this article.

4. The commission may apply to any court having power to issue compulsory process for orders in aid of its powers and responsibilities pursuant to this article and any and all such courts shall have jurisdiction to issue such orders. Failure of any person to obey any such order shall be punishable as contempt of the issuing court. If the party or subject matter on account of which the commission seeks an order is within the jurisdiction of the court to which application is made, such application may be to a court in the state or subdivision on behalf of which the audit is being made or a court in the state in which the object of the order being sought is situated. The provisions of this paragraph apply only to courts in a state that has adopted this article.

5. The commission may decline to perform any audit requested if it finds that its available personnel or other resources are insufficient for the purpose or that, in the terms requested, the audit is impracticable of satisfactory performance. If the commission, on the basis of its experience, has reason to believe that an audit of a particular taxpayer, either at a particular time or on a particular schedule, would be of interest to a number of party states or their subdivisions, it may offer to make the audit or audits, the offer to be contingent on sufficient participation therein as determined by the commission.

6. Information obtained by any audit pursuant to this article shall be confidential and available only for tax purposes to party states, their subdivisions, or the United States. Availability of information shall be in accordance with the laws of the states for subdivisions on whose account the commission performs the audit, and only through the appropriate agencies or officers of such states or subdivisions. Nothing in this article shall be construed to require any taxpayer to keep records for any period not otherwise required by law.

7. Other arrangements made or authorized pursuant to law for cooperative audit by or on behalf of the party states or any of their subdivisions are not superseded or invalidated by this article.

8. In no event shall the commission make any charge against a taxpayer for an audit.

9. As used in this article, "tax," in addition to the meaning ascribed to it in Article II, means any tax or license fee imposed in whole or in part for revenue purposes.

ARTICLE IX Arbitration

1. Whenever the commission finds a need for settling disputes concerning apportionments and allocations by arbitration, it may adopt a regulation placing this article in effect, notwithstanding the provisions of Article VII.

2. The commission shall select and maintain an arbitration panel composed of officers and employees of state and local governments and private persons who shall be knowledgeable and experienced in matters of tax law and administration.

3. Whenever a taxpayer who has elected to employ Article IV, or whenever the laws of the party state or subdivision thereof are substantially identical with the relevant provisions of Article IV, the taxpayer, by written notice to the commission and to each party state or subdivision thereof that would be affected, may secure arbitration of an apportionment or allocation, if he is dissatisfied with the final administrative determination of the tax agency of the state or subdivision with respect thereto on the ground that it would subject him to double or multiple taxation by two (2) or more party states or subdivisions thereof. Each party state and subdivision thereof hereby consents to the arbitration as provided herein, and agrees to be bound thereby.

4. The arbitration board shall be composed of one (1) person selected by the taxpayer, one (1) by the agency or agencies involved, and one (1) member of the commission's arbitration panel. If the agencies involved are unable to agree on the person to be selected by them, such person shall be selected by lot from the total membership of the arbitration panel. The two (2) persons selected for the board in the manner provided by the foregoing provisions of this paragraph shall jointly select the third member of the board. If they are unable to agree on the selection, the third member shall be selected by lot from among the total membership of the arbitration panel. No member of a board selected by lot shall be qualified to serve if he is an officer or employee or is otherwise affiliated with any party to the arbitration proceeding. Residence within the jurisdiction of a party to the arbitration proceeding shall not constitute affiliation within the meaning of this paragraph.

5. The board may sit in any state or subdivision party to the proceeding, in the state of the taxpayer's incorporation, residence, or domicile, in any state where the taxpayer does business, or in any place that it finds most appropriate for gaining access to evidence relevant to the matter before it.

6. The board shall give due notice of the times and places of its hearings. The parties shall be entitled to be heard, to present evidence, and to examine and cross-examine witnesses. The board shall act by majority vote.

7. The board shall have power to administer oaths, take testimony, subpoena and require the attendance of witnesses and the production of accounts, books, papers, records, and other documents, and issue commissions to take testimony. Subpoenas may be signed by any member of the board. In case of failure to obey a subpoena, and upon application by the board, any judge of a court of competent jurisdiction of the state in which the board is sitting or in which the person to whom the subpoena is directed may be found may make an order requiring compliance with the subpoena, and the court may punish failure to obey the order as a contempt. The provisions of this paragraph apply only in states that have adopted this article.

8. Unless the parties otherwise agree the expenses and other costs of the arbitration shall be assessed and allocated among the parties by the board in such manner as it may determine. The commission shall fix a schedule of compensation for members of arbitration boards and of other allowable expenses and costs. No officer or employee of a state or local government who serves as a member of a board shall be entitled to compensation therefor unless he is required on account of his service to forego the regular compensation attaching to his public employment, but any such board member shall be entitled to expenses.

9. The board shall determine the disputed apportionment or allocation and any matters necessary thereto. The determinations of the board shall be final for purposes of making the apportionment or allocation, but for no other purpose.

10. The board shall file with the commission and with each tax agency represented in the proceeding: the determination of the board; the board's written statement of its reasons therefor; the record of the board's proceedings; and any other documents required by the arbitration rules of the commission to be filed.

11. The commission shall publish the determinations of boards together with the statements of the reasons therefor.

12. The commission shall adopt and publish rules of procedure and practice and shall file a copy of such rules and of any amendment thereto with the appropriate agency or officer in each of the party states.

13. Nothing contained herein shall prevent at any time a written compromise of any matter or matters in dispute, if otherwise lawful, by the parties to the arbitration proceeding.

ARTICLE X Entry Into Force and Withdrawal

1. This compact shall enter into force when enacted into law by any seven (7) states. Thereafter, this compact shall become effective as to any other state upon its enactment thereof. The commission shall arrange for notification of all party states whenever there is a new enactment of the compact.

2. Any party state may withdraw from this compact by enacting a statute repealing the same. No withdrawal shall affect any liability already incurred by or chargeable to a party state prior to the time of such withdrawal.

3. No proceeding commenced before an arbitration board prior to the withdrawal of a state and to which the withdrawing state or any subdivision thereof is a party shall be discontinued or terminated by the withdrawal, nor shall the board thereby lose jurisdiction over any of the parties to the proceeding necessary to make a binding determination therein.

ARTICLE XI Effect on Other Laws and Jurisdiction

Nothing in this compact shall be construed to:

(a) Affect the power of any state or subdivision thereof to fix rates of taxation, except that a party state shall be obligated to implement Article III 2 of this compact.

(b) Apply to any tax or fixed fee imposed for the registration of a motor vehicle or any tax on motor fuel, other than a sales tax; provided that the definition of "tax" in Article VIII 9 may apply for the purposes of that article and the commission's powers of study and recommendation pursuant to Article VI 3 may apply.

(c) Withdraw or limit the jurisdiction of any state or local court or administrative officer or body with respect to any person, corporation, or other entity or subject matter, except to the extent that such jurisdiction is expressly conferred by or pursuant to this compact upon another agency or body.

(d) Supersede or limit the jurisdiction of any court of the United States.

ARTICLE XII Construction and Severability

This compact shall be liberally construed so as to effectuate the purposes thereof. The provisions of this compact shall be severable and if any phrase, clause, sentence, or provision of this compact is declared to be contrary to the constitution of any state or of the United States or the applicability thereof to any government, agency, person, or circumstance is held invalid, the validity of the remainder of this compact and the applicability thereof to any government, agency, person, or circumstance shall not be affected thereby. If this compact shall be held contrary to the constitution of any state participating therein, the compact shall remain in full force and effect as to the remaining party states and in full force and effect as to the state affected as to all severable matters.

26-5-102. Election to report tax on basis of volume percentage.

(a) Every taxpayer required to file an income tax return pursuant to provisions of the Arkansas Income Tax Act, § 26-51-101 et seq., whose only activity within this state consists of sales and does not include owning or renting real estate or tangible personal property in this state and whose dollar volume of gross sales made during the last year within the State of Arkansas or its subdivisions, as the case may be, is not in excess of one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000) may elect to report any tax due the State of Arkansas on the basis of a percentage of this volume, and the Director of the Department of Finance and Administration is authorized to adopt rates which are calculated to produce a tax thereon which reasonably approximates the tax otherwise due under the laws of this state from these taxpayers.

History. Acts 1967, No. 410, § 2; A.S.A. 1947, § 84-4102.

26-5-103. State representative.

The Director of the Department of Finance and Administration of the State of Arkansas shall represent this state on the Multistate Tax Commission. The director may, with the approval of the Governor, designate an alternate to serve on the commission in his place if there is on file with the commission written notification of the designation and the identity of the alternate.

History. Acts 1967, No. 410, § 3; 1968 (1st Ex. Sess.), No. 59, § 1; A.S.A. 1947, § 84-4103.

26-5-104. Advisory committee.

(a) There is established a Multistate Tax Compact Advisory Committee of this state composed of:

(1) The member of the Multistate Tax Commission representing this state or any alternate designated by him;

(2) The Attorney General or his designee;

(3) Two (2) members of the Senate appointed by the President Pro Tempore of the Senate; and

(4) Two (2) members of the House of Representatives appointed by the Speaker thereof.

(b) The chairman of the advisory committee shall be the member of the commission representing this state.

(c) (1) The committee shall meet on the call of its chairman or at the request of a majority of its members, but, in any event, it shall meet not less than one (1) time each year.

(2) The committee may consider any and all matters relating to recommendations of the commission and the activities of the members in representing this state on it.

History. Acts 1967, No. 410, § 5; A.S.A. 1947, § 84-4105; Acts 1995, No. 1160, § 14.

Amendments. The 1995 amendment substituted “one (1) time each year” for “three (3) times in each year” in (c)(1).

26-5-105. Local government committee.

(a) The Governor, after consultation with representatives of local governments, may appoint a committee of three (3) persons who are representative of subdivisions of this state affected, or likely to be affected, by the Multistate Tax Compact, § 26-5-101.

(b) The member representing this state on the Multistate Tax Commission, or any alternate designated by him to serve on the commission, shall consult regularly with these appointees, if they are named, in accordance with Article VI 1(b) of the compact.

History. Acts 1967, No. 410, § 4; A.S.A. 1947, § 84-4104.

26-5-106. Legal counsel.

The chief attorney of the Revenue Division is designated as counsel to represent this state at meetings of the Multistate Tax Commission. However, the Director of the Department of Finance and Administration may request the Attorney General of this state to attend meetings of the commission or to designate one (1) of his assistant attorneys general to attend commission meetings.

History. Acts 1967, No. 410, § 4; A.S.A. 1947, § 84-4104.

26-5-107. Interstate audit procedures.

The provisions of Article VIII of the Multistate Tax Compact, § 26-5-101, pertaining to interstate audits, shall not be applicable to this state unless the Director of the Department of Finance and Administration shall, with the approval of the Governor, determine that compliance with the interstate audits procedures would be in the better interest of this state and shall notify the commission of this fact in writing.

(i) Institute and prosecute in his or her name as such all suits and other proceedings necessary for the collection of any taxes or fees collectible by him or her and which have become delinquent; and

(ii) Defend all suits and other proceedings concerning taxes, fees, or licenses administered by the director.

(B) All suits and proceedings instituted by the director or defended by the director that concern taxes, fees, or licenses administered by the Revenue Division of the Department of Finance and Administration may be maintained or defended by an attorney authorized to represent the interests of the division pursuant to § 26-17-202.

(2) No deposits of advance cost shall be required of the director in any suit or proceedings, nor shall he or she be required to give bond for cost, indemnity, or stay as a condition to the institution of any suit or proceedings or to the issuance, service, or execution of any process in any suit or proceedings or ancillary to any suit or proceedings or to the appeal from any adverse action.

(b) (1) The director shall not be required to advance or pay any court costs to any court clerk for the institution or prosecution of any suit filed in his or her official capacity.

(2) No bond shall be required of the director in obtaining restraining orders, injunctions, or any other cases in which a bond is required to be made by a litigant, including supersedeas bond upon appeal.

Amendments. The 2001 amendment, in (a), inserted "or her" and "or she" throughout; redesignated former (a)(1) as present (a)(1)(A), inserted "or fees," inserted the language following "delinquent," added (a)(1)(B); inserted "to" preceding "the appeal" in (a)(2); and made minor stylistic changes.

— Reciprocal Pacts and Agreements

26-17-401. Penalty.

26-17-402. Authority to enter agreements.

26-17-403. Powers and duties.

26-17-404. Violations.

Effective Dates. Acts 1949, No. 144, § 6: Feb. 23, 1949. Emergency clause provided: "Because of the doubtful authority heretofore possessed by agents of the Revenue Department, many tax violations may not be properly prosecuted; and this Act, being necessary to provide better enforcement of tax laws, is therefore necessary for preservation of the public peace, health and safety, an emergency is hereby declared and this Act shall be and remain in full force and effect from and after its passage and approval.”

26-17-401. Penalty.

(a) Any person, firm, or corporation found guilty of violating provisions of this subchapter and any person, firm, or corporation that shall willfully evade or willfully fail to pay any Arkansas tax except ad valorem taxes on real estate as provided by law shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

(b) (1) Any person convicted shall be fined in any sum not less than twenty-five dollars ($25.00) nor more than five thousand dollars ($5,000).

(2) Any person, firm, or corporation so convicted shall, as a part of the penalty of the conviction, pay to the state a sum equal to three (3) times the amount of taxes avoided.

(3) Any person or company official so convicted shall be punished by imprisonment in the county jail for a period of not to exceed six (6) months.

(c) Each transaction shall constitute a separate offense.

History. Acts 1949, No. 144, § 4; A.S.A. 1947, § 84-1734.

26-17-402. Authority to enter agreements.

The Director of the Department of Finance and Administration is authorized and empowered, on behalf of the State of Arkansas, to enter into reciprocal pacts and agreements with other states and with the government of the United States for the exchange of information and copies of public and private records, documents, books, and all other matters relative to taxes in which any state may be interested if the state or United States government is a party to such an agreement or pact.

History. Acts 1949, No. 144, § 1; A.S.A. 1947, § 84-1731.

26-17-403. Powers and duties.

The Director of the Department of Finance and Administration and his agents are authorized and empowered to perform the duties necessary to comply with any pact or agreement with any other state or with the government of the United States as provided:

(1) Upon request of any state or government of the United States that is a party to a reciprocal pact or agreement with the State of Arkansas, the director and his agents are empowered to furnish such information from public or private records as may be requested by a state;

(2) The director and his agents in the performance of these duties are empowered to require any person, firm, or corporation to make records available to the director for examination and copying. These records shall be available to the director or his agents at all reasonable times;

(3) The director and his agents are empowered to question any person with reference to any matter involving Arkansas taxes or the taxes of any state or government of the United States with which the State of Arkansas may be a party to a pact or agreement for exchange of tax information if the state or government of the United States shall request assistance of the State of Arkansas in obtaining information. The director and his agents are empowered to take depositions or written sworn statements in the performance of these duties. All persons, firms, or corporations shall, upon demand of the director or his agents, supply full and accurate information. That information shall not be used against the person, firm, or corporation supplying the information in any grand jury investigation, indictment, or trial of any person, firm, or corporation involving violation of tax laws, it being the intent of this provision to comply fully with constitutional rights guaranteed to defendants which permit defendants to refrain from giving information or testimony against themselves;

(4) The director and his agents shall not be empowered to make arrests of persons in Arkansas charged with violating tax laws of other states, unless those persons shall have been charged in the courts of other states with such offenses and notices thereof, together with a certified copy of the charges, shall have been transmitted to the director. Any person so arrested shall be permitted to maintain all rights relative to extradition of prisoners.

26-17-404. Violations.

Any Arkansas person, firm, or corporation that willfully aids or willfully abets a person, firm, or corporation in the violations of any tax laws in any state with which Arkansas shall have entered an agreement or pact, as provided in this subchapter, shall be guilty of violating provisions of this subchapter and shall be punished as provided in this subchapter.

Subchapter 5 — Collection of Revenues

26-17-501. Penalty.

26-17-502. Duty to remit revenues.

26-17-503. Daily remittance.

26-17-504. Deposits and collections.

Effective Dates. Acts 1925, No. 88, § 24: effective on passage.

Acts 1927, No. 115, § 18: approved Mar. 5, 1927. Emergency clause provided: "It is ascertained and hereby declared that the increasing number of fires in this State is a menace to the public welfare; that the necessity for a more rigid enforcement of the Insurance Laws and the prevention of fires is so urgent that the immediate operation of this Act is essential for the protection of the public safety; an emergency, therefore, is declared to exist, and this Act shall take effect and be in force and effect from and after its passage."

26-17-501. Penalty.

(a) If the Director of the Department of Finance and Administration, or any of his deputies or assistants shall collect or receive any tax, revenue, or funds by virtue of his official duties or position and shall neglect or fail to turn them over to the State Treasurer within ten (10) days after the tax, revenue, or funds shall have come into his hands or possession, the offender shall be deemed guilty of a felony and be punished by confinement in the state penitentiary for a period of not less than one (1) year and not more than five (5) years.

(b) The director shall be liable upon his official bond for all funds not turned into the State Treasurer within ten (10) days after they may come into the hands of the director or any of his deputies or assistants.

26-17-502. Duty to remit revenues.

The Director of the Department of Finance and Administration shall turn over to the State Treasurer all revenues that may come into his possession or into the possession of any of his deputies, promptly on the day the funds reach his office unless received after the office of the State Treasurer shall have closed for the day, in which event the funds shall be turned over to the State Treasurer on the first day the State Treasurer's office is open after the funds are received at the office of the director.

26-17-503. Daily remittance.

All collectors and field inspectors shall daily report and remit to the Director of the Department of Finance and Administration all collections made by them.

History. Acts 1935, No. 234, § 5; Pope's Dig., § 13349; A.S.A. 1947, § 84-1714.

26-17-504. Deposits and collections.

(a) The Director of the Department of Finance and Administration shall make daily deposits in the State Treasury of all moneys and checks collected by him.

(b) The State Treasurer shall promptly return to the director all checks which for any reason were not paid, and it shall be the duty of the director to collect all such checks.

Acts 1997, No. 1001, § 1, provided:

"This Act shall be known as and may be cited as the 'Arkansas Tax Penalty Amnesty Act of 1997'."

Acts 1997, No. 1001, § 2, provided:

"For the purposes of this Act, the following terms shall have the meanings ascribed to them in this Section:

"(a) 'Commissioner' means the Commissioner of Revenues, Department of Finance and Administration, State of Arkansas or his authorized agent.

"(b) 'Taxpayer' means any natural person, corporation or other entity subject to or liable for any State tax.

"(c) 'State Tax' means any tax, including any local tax, or any fee for a license, permit, or registration which is payable to, collected by or administered by the Division of Revenues, Department of Finance and Administration, State of Arkansas, except those taxes or fees specifically excluded from Arkansas Code § 26-18-101 et seq.

"(d) 'Account Receivable' means an amount of State tax, penalty or interest which has been recorded as due and entered in the account records of the Commissioner, or which the taxpayer should reasonably expect to become due as a direct or indirect result of any pending or completed audit or investigation which the taxpayer knows is being conducted by any governmental taxing authority (federal, state or local).

"(e) 'Voluntary Payment' means payment of any State tax which was required to be reported prior to January 1, 1997, which was not reported prior to the effective date of this Act, and which is not an Account Receivable. Provided, however, that 'Voluntary Payment' shall not include payment of any State tax with respect to which a taxpayer is under criminal investigation, charge or prosecution. Provided, further, that 'Voluntary Payment' shall not include payment of any State tax with respect to which the Commissioner has sent notice of proposed assessment to the taxpayer pursuant to Arkansas Code § 26-18-101 et seq."

Acts 1997, No. 1001, § 3, provided:

"The Commissioner shall administer a tax penalty amnesty program for taxpayers who make voluntary payment of State taxes during the period September 1, 1997 through November 30, 1997. Amnesty tax forms shall be developed and prescribed by the Commissioner and shall provide for specification by the taxpayer of the voluntary payment for which amnesty is being sought."

Acts 1997, No. 1001, § 4, provided:

"Upon written application by any taxpayer and voluntary payment by such taxpayer of all State taxes due from such taxpayer to the State of Arkansas, plus the interest due, such taxpayer shall not be subject to criminal prosecution nor shall any penalties be assessed with respect to the voluntary payment. Amnesty shall be granted only to taxpayers who apply for amnesty during the period September 1, 1997 through November 30, 1997 and who make payment of the tax due and the amount of interest due, as computed by the Commissioner, in not less than 12 months from the filing of the amnesty tax form and all other applicable tax forms. Failure to pay all State tax and interest due shall invalidate any amnesty granted pursuant to this Act."

Acts 1997, No. 1001, § 5, provided:

"The Commissioner is authorized to publicize the tax penalty amnesty program by means of any medium available to further public awareness of and participation in the program."

Acts 2003 (2nd Ex. Sess.), No. 70, § 1, provided:

"As used in this act:

"(1) 'Account receivable' means:

"(A) An amount of state tax, penalty, or interest which has been recorded as due and entered in the account records of the Director of the Department of Finance and Administration; or

"(B) An amount the taxpayer expects to become due as a direct or indirect result of any pending or completed audit or investigation the taxpayer knows is being conducted by any federal, state, or local governmental taxing authority;

"(2) 'State tax' means any tax, including local taxes, or any fee for a license, permit, or registration that is payable to, collected by, or administered by the Department of Finance and Administration except any taxes or fees specifically excluded from the Arkansas Tax Procedure Act, § 26-18-101 et seq.;

"(3) 'Taxpayer' means any natural person, corporation, or other entity subject to or liable for any state tax;

"(4) (A) 'Voluntary payment' means a payment of any state tax that:

- “(i) Was required to be reported before January 1, 2003;
- “(ii) Was not reported before the effective date of this act; and
- “(iii) Is not an account receivable.

“(B) ‘Voluntary payment’ does not include:

- “(i) Payment of any state tax with respect to which a taxpayer is under criminal investigation, charge, or prosecution; or
- “(ii) Payment of any state tax for which the Director of the Department of Finance and Administration has issued a notice of proposed assessment to the taxpayer under the Arkansas Tax Procedure Act, § 26-18-101 et seq.”

Acts 2003 (2nd Ex. Sess.), No. 70, § 2, provided:

“The Director of the Department of Finance and Administration shall administer a state tax penalty and interest amnesty program for taxpayers who make a voluntary payment of state taxes during the period of July 1, 2004, through December 31, 2004.”

Acts 2003 (2nd Ex. Sess.), No. 70, § 3, provided:

“The Director of the Department of Finance and Administration shall develop amnesty tax forms to be completed and filed by the taxpayer.”

Acts 2003 (2nd Ex. Sess.), No. 70, § 4, provided:

“(a) Upon written application and voluntary payment by the taxpayer of all state taxes due, the taxpayer shall not be subject to any further collection activity for the state taxes under this act.

“(b) Amnesty will be granted only to taxpayers who:

“(1) Apply for amnesty during the period of July 1, 2004, through September 30, 2004;

“(2) Submit all applicable tax forms during the period of July 1, 2004, through September 30, 2004; and

“(3) Pay the tax due as computed by the Director of the Department of Finance and Administration, in not less than three (3) months from the filing date of the amnesty tax form.

“(c) Failure to pay all other state taxes not eligible for amnesty when due will invalidate the amnesty granted under this act.”

Acts 2003 (2nd Ex. Sess.), No. 70, § 5, provided:

“The Director of the Department of Finance and Administration may publicize the tax amnesty program by any medium available to further public awareness of and participation in the program.”

Acts 2003 (2nd Ex. Sess.), No. 70, § 6 is codified at § 19-6-493.

Effective Dates. Acts 1979, No. 401, § 50: Jan. 1, 1980.

26-18-103. Construction.

26-18-104. Definitions.

26-18-105. Date of performance.

A.C.R.C. Notes. Acts 1997, No. 1139, § 10, provided:

“The General Assembly intends, by the passage of this amendment to the provisions of the Arkansas Tax Procedure Act, § 26-18-101 et seq., to clarify its intent that taxpayers involved in state tax disputes with the Arkansas Department of Finance and Administration shall have, as much as possible, the opportunity to secure an objective review of their dispute by a court at law through: (1) the posting of bond method; (2) the payment after assessment method; or (3) the claim for refund method, after the payment by the taxpayer of all state taxes claimed to be due from the taxpayer for at least one complete taxable period involved in the audit period. It is also intended by the General Assembly that the courts of this state are to recognize the 'divisible tax theory' applicable to the review of federal tax dispute by federal courts, as also being applicable to the review of state tax disputes by the courts of this state."

Effective Dates. Acts 1995, No. 1160, § 46: Apr. 11, 1995. Emergency clause provided: "It is hereby found and determined by the General Assembly that certain changes are necessary to the Arkansas tax laws; that these changes are necessary immediately in order to maintain the efficient administration of the Arkansas income tax laws; and that this act is necessary to effectuate that purpose. Therefore, an emergency is hereby declared to exist and this act being necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage and approval."

Acts 2003 (2nd Ex. Sess.), No. 46, § 2, provided: "This act becomes effective on July 1, 2004."

Acts 2009, No. 360, § 4: July 1, 2009. Emergency clause provided: "It is found and determined by the General Assembly of the State of Arkansas that many businesses required to report and remit Arkansas gross receipts taxes as well as employee withholding taxes often discontinue payment of withholding taxes when faced with the possible closure of the business for failure to report and remit the gross receipts taxes; that business faced with the potential closure for failure to remit gross receipts taxes will often avoid closure by paying the delinquent gross receipts or compensating use tax with the withholding tax collected from employees of the business; and that this act is necessary to stop the loss of the withholding tax. Therefore, an emergency is declared to exist and this act being necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health, and safety shall become effective on July 1, 2009."

Case Notes

Constitutionality.

Constitutionality.

The Tax Procedure Act is not unconstitutional because it fails to require that the state give taxpayers actual notice of the entire appeals procedure for protesting and appealing tax assessments. Ross v. Martin, 800 F.2d 808 (8th Cir. 1986).

26-18-103. Construction.

Unless otherwise expressly provided in any state law hereafter enacted, the provisions of this chapter are to be read in pari materia with all other state laws, and in the event of conflict with any state law, this chapter shall control.

History. Acts 1979, No. 401, § 2; A.S.A. 1947, § 84-4702.

26-18-104. Definitions.

As used in this chapter:

(1) “Assessment” means the determination and imposition of the amount of any state tax due and owing, whether made on a return filed by a taxpayer or by the Director of the Department of Finance and Administration on audit or otherwise;

(2) “Corporation” means an organization, other than a partnership, defined as follows:

(A) Created or organized under the laws of Arkansas; or

(B) Qualified to do or doing business in Arkansas, whether or not for profit, in a corporate or organized capacity, by virtue of creation or organization under the laws of the United States or some state, territory, district, or of a foreign country;

(C) Associations, joint-stock companies, insurance companies, including surety and bond companies;

(D) Unless otherwise expressly stated, common law or statutory trusts;

(E) All other business organizations or entities which are organized for profit when the business is conducted by a trustee, or when the interest or ownership in the business is evidenced by a certificate, declaration of trust, or other written instrument; and

(F) National banking associations, state banks, and trust companies, state or national savings and loan associations, or building and loan associations;

(3) "Decision of the director" means any order, ruling, finding, regulation, or action taken by the director in the administration and enforcement of any state tax law;

(4) "Director" means the Director of the Department of Finance and Administration, State of Arkansas, or the Administrative Assistant for Revenue, or his or her authorized agent;

(5) "Excise tax" means any state tax other than an individual, corporate, or fiduciary income tax;

(6) "Fiduciary" means a guardian, trustee, executor, administrator, receiver, conservator, or any other person, whether individual or corporate, acting in any fiduciary capacity for any person, trust, or estate;

(7) "Individual" means a natural person;

(8) "Noncompliant taxpayer" means any taxpayer who has failed to:

(A) File two (2) returns during any consecutive twenty-four-month period for:

(i) Gross receipts or compensating use tax; or

(ii) State income tax withholding for employees; or

(B) Pay the tax reported on the tax return or determined by the Department of Finance and Administration to be due for any two (2) months during any consecutive twenty-four-month period for:

(i) Gross receipts or compensating use tax; or

(ii) State income tax withholding for employees;

(9) "Overpayment" means the amount of any state tax paid in excess of the amount required to be paid under the particular state tax law in question;

(10) (A) "Partnership" includes a syndicate, group, pool, joint venture, or other unincorporated organization, through or by means of which any business, financial operation, or venture is carried on, and which is not a trust or estate or classed as a corporation within the provisions of this chapter.

(B) "Partner" includes a member of a syndicate, group, pool, joint venture, or organization;

(11) (A) "Person" means an individual, trust, estate, fiduciary, firm, partnership, limited liability company, or corporation.

(B) "Person" shall include:

(i) The directors, officers, agents, and employees of any person;

(ii) Beneficiaries, members, managers, and partners; and

(iii) Any county or municipal subdivision of the state;

(12) (A) "Return" means any tax or information return, report, declaration of estimated tax, or claim for refund required by, or provided for or permitted under, the provisions of any state tax law which is filed with the director by, on behalf of, or with respect to any person, and any amendment or supplement to a tax or information return, report, declaration of estimated tax, or claim for refund, including supporting schedules, attachments, or lists which are supplemental to, or part of, the return so filed.

(B) "Return" does not include:

(i) An application for any motor vehicle registration or license or any operator's or chauffeur's license;

(ii) A list showing the issuance of any motor vehicle registration or license or any operator's or chauffeur's license; or

(iii) Any information relating to any motor vehicle registration or license or any operator's or chauffeur's license;

(13) "State tax" means any tax, or any fee for a license, permit, or registration which is payable to, collected by, or administered by the Revenue Division, Department of Finance and Administration, State of Arkansas;

(14) "State tax law" means this chapter and any other law of the State of Arkansas which levies, imposes, or relates procedurally or otherwise to any state tax;

(15) "Tax deficiency" or "deficiency" means the amount by which the tax imposed by any state tax exceeds the excess of the sum of:

(A) The amount shown as the tax by the taxpayer on his or her return if a return was made by the taxpayer; plus

(B) The amounts previously assessed or collected without assessment as a deficiency;

(16) "Taxpayer" means:

(A) Any person subject to or liable for any state tax;

(B) Any person required to file a return, to pay, or to withhold and remit any tax required by the provisions of any state tax law;

(C) Any person required to obtain a license or a permit or to keep any records under any state tax law; or

(D) Any person who files a return and pays a reported tax without regard to whether he or she was required to file the return;

(17) (A) "Tax return preparer" means any person who prepares for compensation, or who employs one (1) or more persons to prepare for compensation, any state tax return or claim for refund.

(B) For purposes of this subdivision (17), the preparation of a substantial portion of a return or claim for refund shall be treated as if it were the preparation of the return or claim for refund; and

(18) "Underpayment" means the difference between the state tax paid and the amount required to be paid under the particular state tax law in question.

History. Acts 1979, No. 401, § 3; A.S.A. 1947, § 84-4703; Acts 1993, No. 332, § 3; 1995, No. 1160, § 16; 2003, No. 1718, § 1; 2003 (2nd Ex. Sess.), No. 46, § 1; 2009, No. 360, § 1.

Amendments. The 1993 amendment, in (2), substituted "Revenue" for "Revenues," deleted "Department of Finance and Administration, State of Arkansas" following "Revenue," and inserted a comma following "Arkansas."

The 1995 amendment rewrote (10).

The 2003 amendment deleted "the provisions of" after "under" in (14)(C); and added (14)(D) and made related changes.

The 2003 (2nd Ex. Sess.) amendment inserted present (9) and redesignated the remaining subdivisions accordingly.

The 2009 amendment, in (8), deleted "gross receipts or compensating use tax" following "two (2)" in (8)(A), inserted (8)(A)(i) and (ii), deleted "gross receipts or use" following "Pay the" in (8)(B), inserted (8)(B)(i) and (ii), and made related changes.

A.C.R.C. Notes. Acts 1987, No. 502, §§ 1-6, provided as follows:

“SECTION 1. This act shall be known as and may be cited as the ‘Arkansas Tax Penalty Amnesty Act’.

“SECTION 2. For the purposes of this act, the following terms shall have the meanings ascribed to them in this section:

“(a) ‘Commissioner’ means the Commissioner of Revenues, Department of Finance and Administration, State of Arkansas or his authorized agent.

“(b) ‘Taxpayer’ means any natural person, corporation or other entity subject to or liable for any state tax.

“(c) ‘State tax’ means any tax, including any local tax, or any fee for a license, permit, or registration which is payable to, collected by or administered by the Division of Revenues, Department of Finance and Administration, State of Arkansas, except those taxes or fees specifically excluded from Act 401 of 1979, as amended [A.C.A. § 26-18-101 et seq.].

“(d) ‘Account receivable’ means an amount of state tax, penalty or interest which has been recorded as due and entered in the account records of the commissioner, or which the taxpayer should reasonably expect to become due as a direct or indirect result of any pending or completed audit or investigation which the taxpayer knows is being conducted by any governmental taxing authority (federal, state or local).

“(e) ‘Voluntary payment’ means payment of any state tax which was required to be reported prior to February 1, 1987, which was not reported prior to the effective date of this act, and which is not an account receivable. Provided, however, that ‘voluntary payment’ shall not include payment of any state tax with respect to which a taxpayer is under criminal investigation, charge or prosecution. Provided, further, that ‘Voluntary Payment’ shall not include payment of any state tax with respect to which the commissioner has sent notice of proposed assessment to the taxpayer pursuant to Section 18 of Act 401 of 1979.

“SECTION 3. The commissioner shall administer a tax penalty amnesty program for taxpayers who make voluntary payment of state taxes during the period September 1, 1987 through November 30, 1987. Amnesty tax forms shall be developed and prescribed by the commissioner and shall provide for specification by the taxpayer of the voluntary payment for which amnesty is being sought.

“SECTION 4. Upon written application by any taxpayer and voluntary payment by such taxpayer of all state taxes due from such taxpayer to the State of Arkansas, plus the interest due, such taxpayer shall not be subject to criminal prosecution nor shall any penalties be assessed with respect to the voluntary payment. Amnesty shall be granted only to taxpayers who apply for amnesty during the period September 1, 1987 through November 30, 1987 and who make payment of the tax due and the amount of interest due, as computed by the commissioner, in not less than 12 months from the filing of the amnesty tax form and all other applicable tax forms. Failure to pay all state tax and interest due shall invalidate any amnesty granted pursuant to this act.

“SECTION 5. Nothing in this act shall be construed to prohibit the commissioner from examining forms filed pursuant to this act or assessing additional tax, penalty and interest due after such forms are filed.

“SECTION 6. (a) The commissioner is authorized to publicize the tax penalty amnesty program by means of any medium available to further public awareness of and participation in the program.

“(b) For the duration of the period during which the amnesty program is conducted, the commissioner is authorized to employ twenty (20) additional employees to aid in the administration of said program. The commissioner is further authorized to receive and expend additional sums totaling fifty thousand dollars ($50,000.00) to implement the provisions of and the items authorized by this act.”

Effective Dates. Acts 1981, No. 914, § 9: Dec. 31, 1980. Emergency clause provided: “It is hereby found and determined by the General Assembly that certain provisions of the State's income tax laws that have counterparts in the Federal income tax laws do not coincide with recent amendments to the Federal income tax laws; that clarification needs to be made to provisions of the Arkansas Tax Procedure Act (Act 401 of 1979) with regard to the statute of limitations on assessments, the judicial review of contested assessments and the automatic assertion of the 10% negligence penalty (as apparently approved by the Supreme Court in its decision in Great Lakes Chemical Co. v. Wooten, 266 Ark. 511, 514 (1979) which decision was rendered after the adoption by the General Assembly of Act 401 of 1979, but before the effective date of that Act); and that this Act is immediately necessary to make the Arkansas income tax law conform with the Federal income tax law, to clarify any possible question as to the applicability of the Statute of Limitations on assessment and judicial review of contested assessments, and to stop the automatic assessment of the 10% negligence penalty on any deficiency in tax determined by the Commissioner. Therefore, an emergency is hereby declared to exist and this Act being immediately necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health and safety shall be in full force and effect for all periods beginning after December 31, 1980.”

Acts 1987, No. 502, § 16: Apr. 1, 1987. Emergency clause provided: “It is hereby found and determined by the General Assembly that the State of Arkansas is in great need of additional general revenues and that providing a tax penalty amnesty program will result in a substantial addition to the generation of such much needed general revenues. It is further found and determined that certain criminal and civil penalties provided for in the Arkansas Tax Procedure Act must be made more severe to effectuate the collection of taxes owed under the laws of this State. Therefore, an emergency is hereby declared to exist and this Act being necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health and safety shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage and approval.”

Acts 1991, No. 3, § 14: May 1, 1991. Emergency clause provided: “It is hereby found and determined that the State of Arkansas is lacking adequate funds to provide for the education of its citizens and for other essential services: that increased funds must be raised to adequately provide for those needs; that certain persons are assisting taxpayers in evading or defeating the payment or collection of lawfully imposed state taxes depriving the state of needed revenues and that this act is designed to provide the necessary revenues to the state sufficient to meet these needs. Therefore, an emergency is declared to exist and this act, being necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety, shall be in full force and effective on and after May 1, 1991.”

Acts 1991, No. 688, § 10: Mar. 21, 1991. Emergency clause provided: “It is hereby found and determined by the General Assembly that some taxpayers are not properly completing and timely filing tax returns; that these failures create an administrative burden upon the Department of Finance and Administration; and that this act is designed to impose a fifty dollar ($50) penalty for failure to timely file returns, even if no tax is due, or if returns are not properly completed.

Therefore, an emergency is hereby declared to exist and this act being necessary for the public peace, health and safety shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage and approval.”

Lesser Included Offenses.

Operation of a vehicle without a valid license plate in violation of § 27-14-304 is not a lesser included offense of willfully attempting to evade or defeat the payment of tax, in violation of subsection (a) of this section, and failure to pay tax, in violation of § 26-18-202; it is possible to commit the greater offenses without committing the offense of operating a vehicle without a license plate, and the lesser charge requires proof of an additional element not required under the greater offenses. Owens v. State, 354 Ark. 644, 128 S.W.3d 445 (2003).

Statute of Limitations.

Where defendant was charged with willfully attempting to evade or defeat the payment of tax, in violation of subsection (a) of this section, and was convicted of failure to pay tax, in violation of § 26-18-202, the six-year statute of limitations under § 26-18-306(j) was applicable rather than the more general three-year limitations period under § 5-1-109(b)(2); section 26-18-306(j) specifically provides a six-year limitations period for prosecutions for any of the various criminal offenses arising under the provisions of any state tax law, and it is a well-settled principle of law that a general statute does not apply when a specific one governs the subject matter. *Owens v. 26-18-208. Additional penalties and tax.

In addition to the criminal penalties provided by this chapter, if a taxpayer shall fail to comply with certain provisions of this chapter, then the following penalties and additions to tax shall be applicable:

(1) In the case of a taxpayer's failure to file any return required by any state tax law on or before the date prescribed determined with regard to any extension of time for filing the return, unless it is shown that the failure is due to reasonable cause and not to willful neglect, there shall be added to the amount required to be shown as tax on the return five percent (5%) of the amount of the tax if the failure is not more than one (1) month, with an additional five percent (5%) for each additional month or fraction of a month during which the failure continues, not to exceed thirty-five percent (35%) in the aggregate;

(2) (A) In case of a failure to pay the amount shown as tax on any return required to be filed under any state tax law, except an individual income tax return, on or before the date prescribed for payment of the tax, unless it is shown that the failure to pay is due to reasonable cause and not to willful neglect, there shall be added to the amount shown as tax on the return five percent (5%) of the amount of the tax if the failure is for not more than one (1) month, with an additional five percent (5%) for each additional month or fraction of a month during which the failure continues, not to exceed thirty-five percent (35%) in the aggregate;

(B) In case of failure to pay the amount shown as tax on any individual income tax return required to be filed, on or before the date prescribed for payment of the tax, unless it is shown that the failure to pay is due to reasonable cause and not to willful neglect, there shall be added to the amount shown as tax on the return one percent (1%) of the amount of the tax if the failure is for not more than one (1) month, with an additional one percent (1%) for each additional month or fraction of a month during which the failure continues, not to exceed thirty-five percent (35%) in the aggregate;

(3) (A) (i) If any penalty is assessed under subdivision (1) of this section, then no penalty shall be assessed under subdivision (2)(A) of this section.

(ii) If any penalty is assessed under subdivision (2)(A) of this section, then no penalty shall be assessed under subdivision (1) of this section;

(B) With respect to any individual income tax return, the amount of the addition under subdivision (1) of this section shall be increased by the amount of the addition under subdivision (2)(B) of this section for any month or fraction of a month to which an addition to tax applies under both subdivision (1) and (2)(B) of this section, not to exceed thirty-five percent (35%) in the aggregate;

(4) (A) If any part of a deficiency in taxes is determined to be due to negligence or intentional disregard of rules and regulations promulgated under the authority of this subchapter or any state tax law, then the Director of the Department of Finance and Administration shall add a penalty of ten percent (10%) of the total amount of the deficiency in addition to any interest provided by law.

(B) However, if any penalty is assessed under subdivisions (1)-(3) of this section, then no penalty shall be assessed under subdivision (4)(A) of this section;

(5) (A) (i) If any part of any deficiency of any state tax required to be shown on a return is determined to be due to fraud, there shall be added to the tax an amount equal to fifty percent (50%) of the deficiency in addition to any interest provided by law.

(B) If any penalty is assessed under subdivision (5)(A) of this section, then no penalty shall be assessed under subdivisions (1)-(4) of this section;

(6) (A) (i) If a taxpayer fails to make a declaration of estimated tax and pay on any quarterly due date the equivalent to at least ninety percent (90%) of the amount actually due, there shall be added a penalty of ten percent (10%) per annum to the amount of the underestimate.

(ii) The ten percent (10%) per annum penalty shall be applied on a quarterly basis.

(iii) A taxpayer who has an uneven income may compute the ten percent (10%) penalty on an annualized basis.

(B) The penalty provided in this subdivision (6) for failure to make correct payments of estimated income tax shall not be applied to the following exceptions:

(i) No penalty shall be imposed for a tax year if the tax shown on the return for such tax year is one thousand dollars ($1,000) or less;

(ii) A taxpayer whose income from farming for the income year can reasonably be expected to amount to at least two-thirds (2/3) of the total gross income from all sources for the income year, may file such declaration and pay the estimated tax on or before the fifteenth day of the second month after the close of the income year, or in lieu of filing any declaration, may file an income tax return and pay the tax on or before the fifteenth day of the third month after the close of the income year;

(iii) The penalty provided in this subdivision (6) shall not be applicable when the original amount of estimated tax is the same amount shown to be due by the return of the taxpayer for the preceding income year when such return showing a liability for tax was filed by the taxpayer for the preceding income year of twelve (12) months;

(iv) In lieu of filing the fourth quarter installment, the taxpayer may file an income tax return and pay the tax on or before January 31, or on the last day of the first month after the close of the income year;

(v) No penalty shall be imposed for a tax year if:

(a) The preceding tax year was a tax year of twelve (12) months;

(b) The taxpayer did not have a tax liability for the preceding tax year; and

(c) The taxpayer was a resident of Arkansas throughout the preceding tax year;

(vi) No penalty shall be imposed with respect to any underpayment to the extent that the director determines that by reasons of casualty, disaster, or other unusual circumstances the imposition of such penalty would be against equity and good conscience; and

(vii) No penalty shall be imposed with respect to any underestimate or underpayment if the director determines that:

(a) In the year for which such estimated payment was required to be made or in the tax year preceding such tax year, the taxpayer:

(1) Retired after having attained sixty-two (62) years of age; or

(2) Became disabled; and

(b) Such underpayment was due to reasonable cause and not to willful neglect;

(7) In addition to any other penalty provided by law, there shall be assessed a penalty of five hundred dollars ($500) if any taxpayer:

(A) Files what purports to be a return, but the purported return does not contain information on which the substantial correctness of the return may be judged, and the conduct is due to a position which is frivolous or an effort to delay or impede the administration of any state tax law;

(B) Files what purports to be a return, but the purported return contains information that on its face indicates that the return is substantially incorrect, and the conduct is due to a position which is frivolous or an effort to delay or impede the administration of any state tax law; or

(C) Asserts or relies upon any grounds in defense or avoidance of a proposed assessment of tax, penalty, or interest, and the conduct is due to a position which is frivolous or an effort to delay or impede the administration of any state tax law;

(8) All penalties or additions to tax and interest imposed by any state tax law are assessable and collectible by the director as a part of the tax due and owing;

(9) (A) If any person makes payment to the director for any taxes, licenses, or fees imposed by any laws of this state by means of a check, draft, order, electronic funds transfer, or any other form of presentment involving the transmission of account information for the payment of money upon any bank, person, firm, or corporation having insufficient funds in or on deposit with the bank, person, firm, or corporation for the payment of the check, draft, order, electronic funds transfer, or any other form of presentment, the director may impose a penalty of ten percent (10%) of the face amount of the check, draft, order, electronic funds transfer, or any other form of presentment or twenty dollars ($20.00), whichever is greater, against the maker or drawer of the check, draft, order, electronic funds transfer, or any other form of presentment.

(B) This subdivision (9) shall not apply if the person establishes to the satisfaction of the director that he or she tendered the check, draft, order, electronic funds transfer, or any other form of presentment in good faith and with reasonable cause to believe it would be duly paid.

26-18-209. Evading or defeating tax — Accomplice liability.

Any person who assists a taxpayer in evading or defeating the payment of any state tax shall be liable for a penalty equal to the total amount of the tax evaded, or not collected, or not accounted for and paid over to the Director of the Department of Finance and Administration.

History. Acts 1991, No. 3, § 10.

26-18-210. Prosecutions — Where permitted.

Prosecution of any criminal offense provided for in this subchapter may be in the county wherein the taxpayer resides, has an established place of business, or in Pulaski County.

History. Acts 1991, No. 3, § 10.

26-18-211. Failure to correct noncompliance after notification.

If a taxpayer has been previously advised that he has failed to comply with the provisions of the Arkansas Code or the rules and regulations as promulgated by the Director of the Department of Finance and Administration by his failure to include all of the information required to be shown on the return or the inclusion of incorrect information and he continues to disregard those provisions, there shall be assessed a penalty of fifty dollars ($50.00) per return, unless the failure is due to reasonable cause and not due to willful neglect.

History. Acts 1991, No. 688, § 5.

Publisher's Notes. Pursuant to Acts 1971, No. 38, § 5, the Department of Revenue, created by Acts 1925, No. 88, as amended by Acts 1927, No. 115, and Acts 1953, No. 293, and its functions, powers, and duties were transferred by a type 2 transfer to the Department of Finance and Administration.

Effective Dates. Acts 1981, No. 914, § 9: Dec. 31, 1980. Emergency clause provided: "It is hereby found and determined by the General Assembly that certain provisions of the State's income tax laws that have counterparts in the Federal income tax laws do not coincide with recent amendments to the Federal income tax laws; that clarification needs to be made to provisions of the Arkansas Tax Procedure Act (Act 401 of 1979) with regard to the statute of limitations on assessments, the judicial review of contested assessments and the automatic assertion of the 10% negligence penalty (as apparently approved by the Supreme Court in its decision in Great Lakes Chemical Co. v. Wooten, 266 Ark. 511, 514 (1979) which decision was rendered after the adoption by the General Assembly of Act 401 of 1979, but before the effective date of that Act); and that this Act is immediately necessary to make the Arkansas income tax law conform with the Federal income tax law, to clarify any possible question as to the applicability of the Statute of Limitations on assessment and judicial review of contested assessments, and to stop the automatic assessment of the 10% negligence penalty on any deficiency in tax determined by the Commissioner. Therefore, an emergency is hereby declared to exist and this Act being immediately necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health and safety shall be in full force and effect for all periods beginning after December 31, 1980."

Acts 1983, No. 673, § 4: Mar. 22, 1983. Emergency clause provided: "It is hereby found and determined by the General Assembly that the Arkansas Student Loan Authority and the Student Loan Guarantee Foundation of Arkansas are charged with collecting student loan indebtedness and that in some cases those agencies are unable to locate persons who fail to make payment of their student loans; that all reasonable assistance should be given those agencies in locating persons who fail to repay student loans as agreed; that this Act is designed to aid those agencies in locating such persons by authorizing the Commissioner of Revenues to disclose to those agencies information concerning the last known address and/or last known employer of such persons. Therefore, an emergency is hereby declared to exist and this Act being necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage and approval."

Acts 1983, No. 694, § 4: Mar. 23, 1983. Emergency clause provided: "It is hereby found and determined by the General Assembly that the law regarding confidentiality of tax information needs to be modified in order to provide an exchange of information between the Revenue Commissioner and other State government agencies to ensure that vendors receiving payments have been issued sales tax permits, and that this Act is immediately necessary to provide such exchange of information. Therefore an emergency is hereby declared to exist and this Act being immediately necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health and safety shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage and approval."

Acts 1987, No. 382, § 34: Mar. 24, 1987. Emergency clause provided: "It is hereby found and determined by the General Assembly of the State of Arkansas that the federal government has recently made major changes in the federal income tax law; that for simplicity of administration and equity various provisions of the federal law should be adopted for Arkansas Income Tax purposes; and that for the effective administration of this Act, the Act should become effective immediately. Therefore an emergency is hereby declared to exist and this Act being immediately necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health and safety shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage and approval."

Acts 1991, No. 678, § 2: Jan. 1, 1992.

Acts 1993, No. 785, § 24: Mar. 30, 1993. Emergency clause provided: "It is hereby found and determined that certain changes are necessary to the Arkansas income tax laws; that these changes are necessary immediately in order to maintain the efficient administration of the Arkansas income tax laws; and that this act is necessary to effectuate that purpose. Therefore, an emergency is hereby declared to exist and this act being necessary for the preservation of public peace, health and safety shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage and approval."

Acts 1993, No. 1018, § 6: Apr. 12, 1993. Emergency clause provided: "It is hereby found and determined by the General Assembly that the Arkansas Public Institutions of Higher Education are charged with collecting student indebtedness and that in some cases those institutions are unable to locate persons who fail to make payment of their student indebtedness; that all reasonable assistance should be given those agencies in locating persons who fail to pay or repay student tuition, fees, loans, and other student indebtedness; that this act is designed to aid those institutions in locating such persons by authorizing the Commissioner of Revenues to disclose to those agencies information concerning the last known address and/or last known employer of such persons. Therefore, an emergency is hereby declared to exist and this act being necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage and approval.”

Acts 1997, No. 951, § 34: Sections 1 through 24, 32 and 33 shall be effective for tax years beginning on and after January 1, 1997. However, it is the intent of this Act that those portions of the Internal Revenue Code adopted by this Act which for federal tax purposes do not become effective until some time after January 1, 1997, shall also not become effective for state tax purposes until the same time.

Acts 1997, No. 951, § 38: March 31, 1997. Emergency clause provided: “It is hereby found and determined by the General Assembly that current state tax laws are unclear or confusing, creating difficulty for taxpayers seeking to comply with these tax laws; that the changes made by Sections 25 through 31 of this bill are necessary to provide adequate direction to those taxpayers and to maintain the efficient administration of the Arkansas tax laws; and that the provisions of Sections 25 through 31 of this Act are necessary to effectuate that purpose. Therefore, an emergency is hereby declared to exist and the provisions of Sections 25 through 31 of this Act being necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health, and safety shall become effective on the date of its approval by the Governor. If the bill is neither approved nor vetoed by the Governor, Sections 25 through 31 shall become effective on the expiration of the period of time during which the Governor may veto the bill. If the bill is vetoed by the Governor and the veto is overridden, Sections 25 through 31 shall become effective on the date the last house overrides the veto.”

Acts 1999, No. 1126, § 43: effective for tax years beginning on or after January 1, 1999.

Acts 2001, No. 1368, § 6: Apr. 5, 2001. Emergency clause provided: “It is found and determined by the General Assembly that lack of compliance with state and local tax laws reduces the available revenues to fund the public schools and other essential state services, and that this act is designed and intended to ensure that adequate funding is available for those programs and to ensure full compliance with the tax laws of this state. Therefore, an emergency is declared to exist and this act being immediately necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health and safety shall become effective on the date of its approval by the Governor. If the bill is neither approved nor vetoed by the Governor, it shall become effective on the expiration of the period of time during which the Governor may veto the bill. If the bill is vetoed by the Governor and the veto is overridden, it shall become effective on the date the last house overrides the veto.”

Acts 2003, No. 214, § 2: Feb. 26, 2003. Emergency clause provided: “It is found and determined by the General Assembly of the State of Arkansas that revenue available for the support of necessary state services has declined during the last twelve months as a result of the nationwide economic slowdown; that without reducing the administrative expenses of the Department of Finance and Administration, some state services will be reduced or eliminated; and that this bill will reduce administrative expenses associated with certified mail in order to avoid the reduction in necessary services. Therefore, an emergency is declared to exist and this act being immediately necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health, and safety shall become effective on: (1) The date of its approval by the Governor; (2) If the bill is neither approved nor vetoed by the Governor, the expiration of the period of time during which the Governor may veto the bill; or (3) If the bill is vetoed by the Governor and the veto is overridden, the date the last house overrides the veto.”

Acts 2003, No. 860, § 16: July 1, 2003. Emergency clause provided: “It is found and determined by the General Assembly of the State of Arkansas that the flow of development capital funds into and within the state has been and continues to be, insufficient to support the growth of businesses and infrastructure development; that as a result of the lack of available capital sources, the state has suffered economic losses because of the inability to compete with other states in providing capital resources for business and infrastructure development; that this legislation will stimulate the flow of private capital and long-term loan funds that are vital to the sound financing of businesses and will encourage growth, expansion, and modernization through the reinstatement of tax credits; that unless an adequate program to encourage private capital investment is undertaken, the state will suffer further irreparable loss as a result of the continued inability to support business and infrastructure development, and from the lost opportunities for economic expansion. Therefore, an emergency is declared to exist and this act being necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health and safety shall be effective on July 1, 2003.” Acts 2007, No. 865, § 3: Apr. 3, 2007. Emergency clause provided: “It is found and determined by the General Assembly of the State of Arkansas that this act concerns the disclosure of certain information in corporate franchise tax reports; that the release of this information to the public at large is harmful to the report’s filer; and that this act should become effective as soon as possible to prevent this harm. Therefore, an emergency is declared to exist and this act being necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health, and safety shall become effective on: (1) The date of its approval by the Governor; (2) If the bill is neither approved nor vetoed by the Governor, the expiration of the period of time during which the Governor may veto the bill; or (3) If the bill is vetoed by the Governor and the veto is overridden, the date the last house overrides the veto.” Acts 2009, No. 238, § 2: Feb. 25, 2009. Emergency clause provided: “It is found and determined by the General Assembly of the State of Arkansas that federal law currently extends the statute of limitations to request a federal income tax refund to allow an individual who receives military retirement benefits that are subject to federal income tax and is later determined to be eligible for service connected disability benefits that are not subject to federal income tax to claim a refund of the tax paid on the benefits that are retroactively determined to be excluded from income. There is no comparable extension of the statute of limitations in state law, and a veteran is unable to receive a state income tax refund on the same benefits for which the veteran is able to receive a federal income tax refund. Therefore, an emergency is declared to exist and this act being immediately necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health, and safety shall become effective on: (1) The date of its approval by the Governor; (2) If the bill is neither approved nor vetoed by the Governor, the expiration of the period of time during which the Governor may veto the bill; or (3) If the bill is vetoed by the Governor and the veto is overridden, the date the last house overrides the veto.”

Acts 2009, No. 360, § 4: July 1, 2009. Emergency clause provided: “It is found and determined by the General Assembly of the State of Arkansas that many businesses required to report and remit Arkansas gross receipts taxes as well as employee withholding taxes often discontinue payment of withholding taxes when faced with the possible closure of the business for failure to report and remit the gross receipts taxes; that business faced with the potential closure for failure to remit gross receipts taxes will often avoid closure by paying the delinquent gross receipts or compensating use tax with the withholding tax collected from employees of the business; and that this act is necessary to stop the loss of the withholding tax. Therefore, an emergency is declared to exist and this act being necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health, and safety shall become effective on July 1, 2009.”

Acts 2009, No. 755, § 3: July 31, 2009. Emergency clause provided: “It is found and determined by the General Assembly of the State of Arkansas that many manufacturers and other businesses have found that it is substantially more difficult to prove they are entitled to a tax exemption, deduction, or credit in Arkansas than in most other states based on the court interpretation that the taxpayer must present facts that establish their right to a tax exemption, deduction, or credit “beyond a reasonable doubt” and “to doubt is to deny” exemptions; that the standard of proof for the taxpayer to prove an exemption, deduction, or credit should be changed to clear and convincing evidence, and that in trials de novo or appeals within the judicial system, no presumption of correctness should attach to positions of taxing authorities at the administrative level. Therefore, an emergency is declared to exist and this act being immediately necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health, and safety shall become effective on: (1) The date of its approval by the Governor; (2) If the bill is neither approved nor vetoed by the Governor, the expiration of the period of time during which the Governor may veto the bill; or (3) If the bill is vetoed by the Governor and the veto is overridden, the date the last house overrides the veto.”

(b) (1) The director may microfilm any returns, reports, records, or documents received or issued by him in the administration of any state tax law.

(2) The microfilm records shall be properly indexed for easy retrieval, and one (1) copy shall be placed in a fireproof vault.

(3) These records are admissible as evidence in any court in this state under § 16-46-101 and shall have the same weight and force as the original thereof.

(c) If the director determines that a method for the reproduction of records is more practicable than the use of microfilm, he may use that method.

History. Acts 1979, No. 401, § 5; A.S.A. 1947, § 84-4705.

26-18-303. Records confidential and privileged — Exceptions.

(a) (1) The Director of the Department of Finance and Administration is the official custodian of all records and files required by any state tax law to be filed with the director and is required to take all steps necessary to maintain their confidentiality.

(2) (A) (i) Except as otherwise provided by this chapter, the records and files of the director concerning the administration of any state tax law are confidential and privileged.

(ii) These records and files and any information obtained from these records or files or from any examination or inspection of the premises or property of any taxpayer shall not be divulged or disclosed by the director or any other person who may have obtained these records and files.

(B) It is the specific intent of this chapter that all tax returns, audit reports, and information pertaining to any tax returns, whether filed by individuals, corporations, partnerships, or fiduciaries, shall not be subject to the provisions of the Freedom of Information Act of 1967, § 25-19-101 et seq.

(b) The provisions against disclosures shall not apply to the following:

(1) Publication of statistics by the director classified to prevent the identification of a particular taxpayer;

(2) Use of the information in records filed under any state tax law by the director when conducting any audit or investigation of any taxpayer in regard to any state tax;

(3) (A) Disclosure of information to the Attorney General of this state, any prosecuting attorney, or any other individual who is empowered by law to prosecute criminal and civil violations of any state tax law when the director initiates the investigation.

(B) If the prosecution is initiated by the Attorney General or a prosecuting attorney, the director shall not disclose any information unless required by subpoena issued by a circuit court.

(C) Information may be introduced as evidence by the Attorney General, a prosecuting attorney, or other individual so empowered when the individual is prosecuting any civil or criminal violation of state tax law;

(4) Disclosure compelled by any Arkansas circuit court, the Supreme Court, the Court of Appeals, or by any federal court of information involved in any case or controversy before that court;

(5) Disclosure by the taxpayer or the taxpayer's authorized agent or by the director, at the taxpayer's request, of any information which the director has concerning that taxpayer;

(6) Disclosure by the director, at the director's discretion, of information from the records of any state tax law to comparable officials of any other state or the United States who are charged with the administration of a similar tax;

(7) Disclosure of motor vehicle titling and registration information, all licenses and permits issued to owners and operators of coin-operated amusement machines pursuant to §§ 26-57-402, 26-57-408 — 26-57-421, and 26-77-303, and tax records, files, and other information relating to sales of aviation fuel at airports and other aviation fuel outlets;

(8) Disclosure of information other than income tax information at an administrative hearing held regarding the issuance, cancellation, revocation, or suspension of licenses or permits issued by the director or any other state agency or department;

(9) (A) Disclosure to the Arkansas Student Loan Authority, the Department of Higher Education, the Student Loan Guarantee Foundation of Arkansas, or any Arkansas public institution of higher education of the last known address or whereabouts or the last known employer of any person from whom these agencies are charged with collecting a student loan or other student indebtedness.

(B) In providing such information, the director shall not allow the Arkansas Student Loan Authority, the Student Loan Guarantee Foundation of Arkansas, the Department of Higher Education, or any Arkansas public institution of higher education to examine the tax return;

(10) (A) In order to ensure proper payment to vendors by all agencies of state government or by county governments or city governments, information about the receipt or nonreceipt of sales tax permits by vendors must be made available by the director upon request by these agencies of state government or by county governments or city governments.

(B) Therefore, notwithstanding any provision of this chapter or any other law to the contrary, in instances when state agencies, boards, commissions, and other branches of state government or county governments or city governments identify to the director the identity of vendors receiving payments and ask the director whether these vendors have been issued sales tax permits, the director shall answer these inquiries;

(11) Disclosure of the name of any taxpayer and the amount of any tax credit, tax rebate, tax discount, or commission for the collection of a tax received by such taxpayer from the following tax incentive provisions:

- (A) Discount for prompt payment, § 26-52-503;
- (B) Economic Investment Tax Credit Act, § 26-52-701 et seq.;
- (C) Steel Mill Tax Incentives, §§ 26-52-901 — 26-52-903;
- (D) Motor fuel shrinkage allowance, § 26-55-230(a)(1)(F);
- (E) Commission for sale of stamps for cigarettes and the collection of cigarette taxes, § 26-57-236(f), as amended by Acts 1997, No. 1337;
- (F) Motion Picture Incentive Act of 1983, § 26-4-201 et seq.;
- (G) Credit on severance tax of oil producer, § 26-58-204;
- (H) Credit on severance tax of gas producer, § 26-58-205;
- (I) Refund of motor fuel tax by municipal buses, § 26-55-401 et seq.;
- (J) Refund of distillate special fuel tax to interstate users, §§ 26-56-214 and 26-56-215;

(K) Credit against severance tax for the discovery of a commercial oil pool, § 15-72-706;

- (L) Native wines — Subsidies, § 3-5-1001 et seq.;
- (M) Native wines — Incentive grants, § 3-5-901 et seq.;
- (N) Native wines export incentives, § 3-5-607 [repeled];
- (O) Consolidated Incentive Act of 2003, § 15-4-2701 et seq.; and
- (P) (i) Any other tax incentive program enacted after January 1, 1991, that provides a tax credit, tax rebate, tax discount, or commission for the collection of a tax, with the exception of any benefits under the income tax laws of this state.

(ii) However, information that is subject to disclosure under the provisions of this subdivision (b)(11) shall not be disclosed if such information would give an advantage to competitors or bidders or if such information is exempt from disclosure under any other provision of law that exempts specified information from disclosure under any such law;

(12) Disclosure of the lists required by:

- (A) Section 3-2-205(e)(4), reporting to the Alcoholic Beverage Control

Division of the Department of Finance and Administration and the Alcoholic Beverage Control Board those taxpayers who hold a permit to sell alcoholic beverages and who are delinquent in state taxes; and

(B) Section 26-57-257(q)(2), reporting to the Arkansas Tobacco Control Board those taxpayers who hold a permit to sell tobacco products and cigarettes and who are delinquent in state taxes;

(13) Disclosure to the Tax Division of the Arkansas Public Service Commission of information contained in motor fuel tax records necessary to assess motor carrier companies for ad valorem taxation;

(14) (A) Disclosure of the following information from corporate franchise tax reports:

(i) The name and address of the corporation;

(ii) The name of the corporation's president, vice president, secretary, treasurer, and controller;

(iii) The total authorized capital stock with par value;

(iv) The total issued and outstanding capital stock with par value;

(v) The state of incorporation.

(B) In the case of a franchise tax report filed by an organization formed under the Small Business Entity Tax Pass Through Act, § 4-32-101 et seq., the confidentiality provision of subsection (a) of this section shall apply to the names of members of the organization, except those designated in the organization's franchise tax report as a manager, president, vice president, secretary, treasurer, or controller of the organization, unless the organization has no registered agent for service of process, in which case the confidentiality provisions of subsection (a) of this section shall not apply;

(15) Disclosure compelled by a subpoena issued by a state or federal prosecutor or grand jury or other state or federal entity with subpoena power;

(16) (A) Disclosure to county assessors of information that may affect personal property tax assessments, including information obtained during the course of audits or investigations concerning motor vehicles, boats, trailers, airplanes, or other items of personal property that may be subject to assessment in that county.

(B) This information may be released only following completion of an audit or investigation by the director and following a determination by the director that there is a strong possibility the taxpayer has failed to properly assess the taxpayer's personal property in the county.

(C) In providing this information, the director shall not allow the county assessors to examine any tax returns or audit records;

(17) Disclosure to a capital development company organized under the Arkansas Capital Development Company Act, § 15-4-1001 et seq., of the name and tax identification number of and amount of any tax credit received by a taxpayer as a result of the purchase of an equity interest in a capital development company;

(18) (A) For the purpose of the timely and accurate collection of local sales and use tax and state income tax withholding for employees, disclosure of the name and address of a taxpayer that has failed three (3) times within any consecutive twenty-four-month period to either report or remit state or local gross receipts or compensating use tax or state income tax withholding for employees and has been served with a business closure order under § 26-18-1001 et seq.

(B) Disclosure shall be made by posting weekly on the website maintained by the Department of Finance and Administration the business name, business address, and city and county in which the business is located as it appears on the sales tax permit or the state income tax withholding for employees registration of each taxpayer identified in subdivision (b)(18)(A) of this section.

(C) The information posted on the website for a taxpayer shall remain on the website until that taxpayer is no longer subject to the business closure provisions of § 26-18-1001 et seq.;

(19) (A) Disclosure to the Arkansas Economic Development Commission of any information requested regarding a tax incentive program that provides a tax credit, tax rebate, tax discount, or other economic incentive that is jointly administered by the Arkansas Economic Development Commission and the Department of Finance and Administration.

(B) Any information received by the Arkansas Economic Development Commission under this section shall remain confidential and is not subject to disclosure except in accordance with this section;

(20) Disclosure to the office of a standing chapter 13 bankruptcy trustee, upon the request of the trustee, whether or not a taxpayer filed a state tax return for all taxable periods ending during the four-year period ending on the date of the filing of a petition for relief under Chapter 13 of Title 11 of the United States Code; and

(21) (A) To perform audit and compliance duties, disclosure to the Department of Workforce Services of withholding tax information reported by companies doing business in Arkansas, including without limitation taxpayer names, taxpayer addresses, tax identification numbers, and tax withholding information.

(B) Information received by the Department of Workforce Services under this section shall remain confidential and is not subject to disclosure except in accordance with this section.

(c) The provisions of this section shall be strictly interpreted and shall not permit any other disclosure of tax information concerning a taxpayer, whether the taxpayer is an individual, a corporation, a partnership, or a fiduciary, that is contained in the records and files of the director relating to income tax or any other state tax administered under this chapter.

(d) (1) Any person who knowingly discloses information in violation of a provision of this section shall be guilty of a Class A misdemeanor.

(2) An employee of the state who is convicted of violating a provision of this section shall be discharged from employment in addition to any fine or imprisonment.

(e) Any person who knowingly obtains or attempts to obtain any of the confidential and privileged records and files of the director who is not so permitted by law is guilty of a Class A misdemeanor.

(f) The director shall report all violations of this section to the appropriate prosecuting attorney in this state.

(g) (1) The director shall promulgate such regulations as are necessary to establish a reasonable procedure for making requests for and release of information under subdivision (b)(11) of this section, for allowing a taxpayer reasonable notice in advance of the release of the requested information, for a period of time up to seven (7) days from the date a request for information is made to provide notice and make necessary determinations, and to provide the methods by which the director shall determine if the information requested is subject to disclosure under Arkansas law.

(2) The provisions of this section shall solely govern the release of information under subdivision (b)(11) of this section and the release of information shall not be subject to the Freedom of Information Act of 1967, § 25-19-101 et seq.

(h) (1) Upon the request of a county government or a city government, the director shall provide a list of vendors within the requesting county or city who hold permits issued pursuant to the Arkansas Gross Receipts Act of 1941, § 26-52-101 et seq.

(2) Requests made pursuant to this subsection must be made in writing by an official of the county government or city government prior to August 1 of the calendar year for which the list is requested.

(3) Lists provided pursuant to the provisions of this subsection will be made available following October 1 of the year requested and will be compiled from the list of all valid sales tax permit holders within the requesting county or city as of September 1 of the year requested.

(4) (A) A reasonable fee based upon the number of permit holders within the requesting city or county may be charged for the permit search made and reported to the requesting county or city government.

(B) Fees collected under the provisions of this subsection shall be deposited into the State Central Services Fund to be treated as a refund of expenditures to reimburse the Department of Finance and Administration for the costs of providing the requested information.

(i) (1) The director may disclose information from a return filed by a person, partnership, corporation, trust, or estate to any of the parties who signed the return:

(A) Who is the administrator, executor, or trustee of the estate filing the return;

(B) Who was a member of the partnership filing the return during any part of the period covered by the return;

(C) Who is a trustee or beneficiary of the trust filing the return;

(D) Who is an officer or bona fide shareholder of record owning one percent (1%) or more of the outstanding stock of the corporation filing the return;

(E) Who was a shareholder during any part of the period covered by the return filed by a Subchapter S corporation;

(F) Who was a member of the partnership during any part of the period covered by the partnership return; or

(G) Who is the attorney in fact duly authorized in writing by any of the persons described in subdivisions (i)(1)(A)-(F) of this section.

(2) The director may also disclose all information concerning the collection activity related to a tax return to any party who signed the return.

(3) The director shall promulgate such regulations as are necessary to establish a reasonable procedure for making requests for and for the release of information under this section.

A.C.R.C. Notes. Pursuant to § 1-2-303, the preposition “of” could not be inserted following the word “Commission” in (b)(13).

Section 3-5-607, concerning tax incentives for export of local wines, referred to in subdivision (a)(11)(N) of this section, was repealed by Acts 2007, No. 668, § 5.

Publisher's Notes. Acts 1987, No. 382, § 1, provided that this act shall be known and may be cited as the “Income Tax Act of 1987.”

Acts 1987, No. 382, § 2, provided that the purpose of this act is to make technical amendments to the Income Tax Act of 1929, Acts 1929, No. 118, as amended, and to the Arkansas Tax Procedure Act, Acts 1979, No. 401, as amended, to make the Arkansas income tax and tax procedure statutes conform to several recent amendments to their counterparts in the federal income statutes, to eliminate procedural problems that have arisen since the enactment of these acts, and for other purposes.

Acts 1987, No. 382, § 32(e), provided that all other laws and parts of laws in conflict with this act are repealed for income years beginning on and after January 1, 1987.

Acts 1987, No. 382, § 33, provided that, except as provided in § 26-18-303(a)(2)(B) and (c), regarding confidentiality of tax returns and other tax information, which shall apply retroactively to any pending suit, action, or prosecution, administrative or judicial, for which no final judgment has been rendered by a court of competent jurisdiction and all future suits, actions, and prosecutions, the provisions of this act shall apply to income years beginning on and after January 1, 1987.

The Arkansas Enterprise Zone Act of 1989, §§ 15-4-801 — 15-4-814, referred to in this section, expired June 30, 1995, pursuant to former § 15-4-814. Sections 26-55-301 — 26-55-321, referred to in this section, were repealed by Acts 1995, No. 777, § 9.

Amendments. The 1993 amendment by No. 403 substituted “case or controversy” for “case of controversy” in (b)(4).

The 1993 amendment by No. 1018, in both the first and second sentences of (b)(9), inserted “the State Department of Higher Education” and inserted “or any Arkansas public institution of higher education”; and in the first sentence of (b)(9), deleted “Arkansas” preceding “Student Loan Authority.”

The 1993 amendment by No. 1159, in (b)(7), deleted “and” preceding and following “26-77-303” and added “and tax ... outlets” at the end.

The 1995 amendment inserted “or by county governments or city governments” three times in (b)(10); and added (b)(12) and (h).

The 1997 amendment added (b)(13).

The 1999 amendment by No. 1126 added (i).

The 1999 amendment by No. 1277 added (b)(15); and made stylistic changes.

The 1999 amendment by No. 1598 deleted (b)(11)(E) and (b)(11)(J) and redesignated the remaining subdivisions accordingly; substituted “26-57-421, and 26-77-303” for “26-57-421, 26-77-303, 26-57-303 - 26-57-306, 26-57-311, and 26-57-313” in (b)(7); added (b)(14); and made stylistic changes.

The 2001 amendment, by No. 565, substituted “or the Supreme Court or by any federal court” for “the Arkansas Supreme Court, or any United States federal court” in (b)(4); added (b)(16); and made gender neutral changes and minor stylistic changes throughout.

The 2001 amendment, by No. 1368, in (b)(12), substituted “lists” for “list” in the introductory language; redesignated former (b)(12) as present (b)(12)(A), inserted “Section” and added “and” to the end; and added (b)(12)(B).

The 2003 amendment added (b)(17) and made related changes.

The 2005 amendment added (b)(18) and made related changes.

The 2007 amendment by No. 437 deleted “and 15-4-1101 et seq.” following “26-52-903” in (b)(11)(C); added (b)(11)(O) and redesignated the remaining subdivision accordingly; added (b)(19); and made minor punctuation and stylistic changes.

The 2007 amendment by No. 827 inserted “the Court of Appeals” in (b)(4), and made related changes.

The 2007 amendment by No. 865 redesignated former (b)(14) as present (b)(14)(A) and redesignated the remaining subdivisions accordingly; and added (b)(14)(B).

The 2009 amendment by No. 272 inserted (b)(20) and made related and minor stylistic changes.

The 2009 amendment by No. 360 inserted “and state income tax withholding for employees” or similar language in two places in (18)(A), inserted “or the state income tax withholding for employees registration” in (18)(B), and made a minor stylistic change.

The 2009 amendment by No. 504 inserted (b)(20) (now (b)(21)) and made related and minor stylistic changes.

The 2009 amendment by No. 655 substituted “§ 26-57-236(f)” for “§ 26-57-236(g), as amended by Acts 1997, No. 434” in (b)(11)(E).

The language in subdivision (b)(11)(Q) of this section is not ambiguous and thus must be given its plain and ordinary meaning as written. Leathers v. W.S. Compton Co., 316 Ark. 10, 870 S.W.2d 710 (1994).

The phrase “advantage to competitors” in subdivision (b)(11)(Q) of this section means “any advantage” as it is simply not otherwise limited. Leathers v. W.S. Compton Co., 316 Ark. 10, 870 S.W.2d 710 (1994).

The commissioner has interpreted subdivision (b)(11)(Q) of this section in Revenue Regulation 1991-7, which is entitled “Disclosable Tax Information”; it states that the information will not be released unless the taxpayer shows release of the information would result in substantial harm to the taxpayer's competitive position. Leathers v. W.S. Compton Co., 316 Ark. 10, 870 S.W.2d 710 (1994).

Legal opinions rendered in tax cases under 006-05-009 Ark. Code R. § GR-75(B) are subject to disclosure to a company because they are “otherwise kept” public records under § 25-19-103(5)(A); however, any and all identifying facts and information have to be fully redacted under § 25-19-105(f)(1)–(3). Moreover, the legal opinions are not confidential because subdivision (a)(1) of this section does not cover 006-05-009 Ark. Code R. § GR-75(B); state law does not require that the opinions be kept by or filed with the Director of the Arkansas Department of Finance and Administration. Ryan & Co. v. Weiss, 371 Ark. 43, 263 S.W.3d 489 (2007).

Implied Repeal.

Section 26-55-249 is impliedly repealed by this section. Snyder v. Martin, 305 Ark. 128, 806 S.W.2d 358 (1991).

Inspection and Copying.

Subsection (a) limits the applicability of the Freedom of Information Act to individual tax returns; therefore, the records of motor fuel taxpayers, except those of individuals, are not excluded from inspection and copying. Ragland v. Yeorgan, 288 Ark. 81, 702 S.W.2d 23 (1986).

Motor Fuel Tax Records.

Ark. Const., Art. 19, § 12 does not require public access to corporate motor fuel tax records that include the monthly "shrinkage allowance" given to motor fuel distributors, and thus this section's prohibition of such disclosure is constitutionally permissible. Snyder v. Martin, 305 Ark. 128, 806 S.W.2d 358 (1991).

Tobacco Stamp Sales.

The chancellor properly held that, because it would confer "advantage" upon a competitor, the release of "stamp deputy allowance" information was precluded by subdivision (b)(11)(Q) of this section and thus should be enjoined. Leathers v. W.S. Compton Co., 316 Ark. 10, 870 S.W.2d 710 (1994).

26-18-304. Bonds.

(a) Any bond required by any state tax law shall be subject to the approval of the director as to form, sufficiency, value, amount, stability, and other features necessary to provide a guarantee of payment of the tax due the state under this chapter.

(b) Where a bond is required for the purpose of insuring any state tax law, and written notice of termination is required before the bond can be terminated, the party issuing the bond cannot be required to provide the written notice of termination more than sixty (60) days prior to the date the bond is to be terminated.

(c) The length of time required for the notice of termination shall be calculated from the date of receipt of the notice of termination, rather than the date of mailing.

(d) The term bond shall mean any bond, letter of credit, or assignment of a certificate of deposit.

26-18-305. Examinations and investigations.

(a) (1) (A) In the administration of any state tax law, the Director of the Department of Finance and Administration, for the purpose of determining the accuracy of a return or fixing any liability under any state tax law, may make an examination or investigation of the place of business, the tangible personal property, equipment, and facilities, and the books, records, papers, vouchers, accounts, and documents of any taxpayer or other person.

(B) Every taxpayer or other person and his or her agents and employees shall exhibit to the director these places and items and facilitate any examination or investigation.

(2) (A) The director may employ proper and reasonable audit methods as he or she deems necessary, including the use of sampling.

(B) If sampling is to be employed as an audit method, the taxpayer's consent to the sampling technique must be obtained at the commencement of the audit.

(b) No taxpayer shall be subjected to unnecessary examination or investigations, and only one (1) inspection of a taxpayer's books of account shall be made for each taxable year unless the taxpayer requests otherwise or unless the director, after investigation, notifies the taxpayer in writing that an additional inspection is necessary.

(c) (1) When conducting an investigation or an audit of any taxpayer, the director may, in his or her discretion, examine the records and files of any person, except when privileged by law, any other business, institution, financial institution, the records of any state agency, agency of the United States Government, or agency of any other state when permitted by agreement or reciprocity.

(2) (A) The director may compel production of these records by summons.

(B) The summons may be served directly by the director.

(d) In the administration of any state tax law, the director may:

(1) Administer oaths, conduct hearings, and compel by summons the attendance of witnesses, testimony, and the production of any books, records, papers, or other data of any person or taxpayer; or

(2) (A) Examine under oath any person regarding the business of any taxpayer concerning any matter incident to the administration of any state tax law.

(B) (i) The fees of witnesses required by the director to attend any hearing shall be the same as those allowed to the witnesses appearing before circuit courts of this state.

(ii) The fees shall be paid in the manner provided for the payment of other expenses incident to the administration of any state tax law.

(e) (1) The investigation may extend to any person that the director determines has access to information which may be relevant to the examination or investigation.

(2) When any summons requiring the production of records as described in subsection (c) of this section is served on a third-party recordkeeper, written notice of the summons shall be mailed to the taxpayer that his or her records are being summoned, at least fourteen (14) days prior to the date fixed in the summons as the day for the examination of the records.

(3) Notice to the taxpayer required by this section is sufficient if it is mailed by certified mail to the last address on record with the director.

(f) When the director has the power to issue a summons for his or her own investigative or auditing purposes, then the director shall honor any reasonable request by any taxpayer to issue a summons on the taxpayer's behalf.

(g) (1) The director or the taxpayer may apply to the circuit court of the county of the taxpayer's residence, place of business, or county where the summons can be served as with any other case at law for any order compelling the production of the summoned records.

(2) Failure to comply with the order of the court for the production of records may be punished by the court as for contempt.

(h) (1) The cost of producing records of a third party required by a summons shall be borne by the taxpayer if he or she requests the summons to be issued.

(2) (A) If the director initiates the summons for third-party records, the director shall bear the reasonable cost of producing the records.

(B) The director may later assess the cost against any delinquent or deficient taxpayer as determined by the records.

(i) (1) The director may examine the books, records, and other documents of transportation companies, agencies, firms, or persons that conduct business by truck, rail, water, airplane, or otherwise in order to determine any sales or use tax due on out-of-state purchases and to determine which dealers are importing or shipping articles of tangible personal property and are liable for any state tax.

(2) If the transportation company, agency, firm, or person refuses to allow an examination of its books, records, and other documents, the director may petition the appropriate circuit court to require the transportation company, agency, firm, or person to show cause as to why its books, records, and other documents should not be examined and why a bond should not be required in an amount not to exceed two thousand dollars ($2,000) for a period of not more than one (1) year to guarantee compliance with the provisions of this section.

(3) Refusal to permit the director to examine books, records, and other documents pursuant to this section is a Class C misdemeanor.

Amendments. The 1995 amendment added (i).

The 1999 amendment added the last sentence in (a); and made stylistic changes.

26-18-306. Time limitations for assessments, collection, refunds, and prosecution.

(a) (1) Except as otherwise provided in this chapter, no assessment of any tax levied under the state tax law shall be made after the expiration of three (3) years from the date the return was required to be filed or the date the return was filed, whichever period expires later.

(2) The Director of the Department of Finance and Administration shall not begin court proceedings after the expiration of the three-year period unless there has been a previous assessment for the collection of the tax.

(b) (1) Notwithstanding the provisions of subsection (a) of this section, if the amount of taxable income or taxable estate for a taxpayer for any year, as returned to the United States Department of the Treasury, is changed and corrected by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue or any officer of the United States of competent authority, the taxpayer, within ninety (90) days from the receipt of the notice and demand for payment by the Internal Revenue Service, must report to the director the corrected federal tax, taxable income, or taxable estate for the taxable period covered by the change on an amended Arkansas income tax return.

(2) (A) If there is any additional state tax due from the taxpayer because of the correction by the Internal Revenue Service, any additional state tax resulting from the issues that are included in the correction must be assessed by the director within one (1) year of the filing of the amended Arkansas income tax return by the taxpayer.

(B) However, in the instance of a taxpayer who fails to notify the director of the correction as required by this subsection, no assessment of additional state tax due from the taxpayer because of the correction by the Internal Revenue Service shall be made by the director after the expiration of eight (8) years from the date the return was required to be filed or the date the return was filed, whichever period expires later.

(C) If the assessment made by the Internal Revenue Service is appealed by the taxpayer, the director shall have three (3) years from the date of the final Internal Revenue Service assessment or date of payment of the federal assessment by the taxpayer, whichever of the two (2) periods expires later, in which to make an assessment.

(3) (A) Notwithstanding the provisions of subsection (i) of this section, if the correction by the Internal Revenue Service results in an overpayment of state income tax for the taxable year for which the correction is made, the taxpayer may receive a refund of the overpaid income tax for that year resulting from the issues that are included in the correction upon the filing of the amended return within ninety (90) days from receipt of the notice from the Internal Revenue Service.

(B) A refund shall not be paid if the amended return is filed on or after the ninety-first day following receipt of the notice from the Internal Revenue Service unless the amended return is filed within three (3) years from the time the original return was filed or two (2) years from the time the income tax due on the original return was paid, whichever of the periods expires later.

(4) A change or correction to taxable income made by the Internal Revenue Service that results in additional state income tax due from the taxpayer does not entitle the director to issue an assessment unless fewer than three (3) years have elapsed from the date the original return for the year not included in the notice was required to be filed or the date the original return was filed, whichever of the periods expires later, for:

(A) A tax year that is not included in the notice of change or correction;

or

(B) An issue that is not included in the notice of change or correction.

(5) A change or correction to taxable income made by the Internal Revenue Service that results in a refund to the taxpayer does not entitle the taxpayer to receive a refund unless fewer than three (3) years have elapsed from the date the original return for the tax year not included in the notice was filed or fewer than two (2) years have elapsed from the time that income tax due on the original return was paid, whichever of the periods expires later, for:

(A) A tax year that is not included within the notice of change or correction; or

(B) An issue that is not included in the notice of change or correction.

(c) Upon written agreement of the director and the taxpayer, the time within which the director may make a final assessment, as provided by § 26-18-401, may be extended to a date mutually agreed upon in the written agreement.

(d) (1) When, before the expiration of the time prescribed for the assessment of the tax or of extensions of the time prescribed for the assessment of the tax consented to in writing, both the director and the taxpayer have consented in writing to an assessment after that time, then the tax may be assessed at any time prior to the expiration of the time agreed upon.

(2) When the time to file a claim for a refund has not expired at the time the extension agreement is entered into, the agreement shall automatically extend the period in which a refund may be allowed or a claim for a refund may be filed to the final date agreed to in the agreement, plus sixty (60) days.

(e) If a taxpayer understates a state tax due by an amount equal to or greater than twenty-five percent (25%) in any return or report or in the case of an income tax, if the taxpayer underreports net taxable income by twenty-five percent (25%) or more, the director may assess the tax due or begin an action in court for the collection of the tax due at any time prior to the expiration of six (6) years after the return was required to be filed or the date the return was filed, whichever period expires later.

(f) In the case of a fraudulent return or failure to file a report or return required under any state tax law, the director may compute, determine, and assess the estimated amount of tax due from any information in his or her possession or may begin an action in court for the collection of the tax without assessment, at any time.

(g) Whenever a taxpayer requests an extension of time for filing any return required by any state tax law, the limitation of time for assessing any tax shall be extended for a like period.

(h) When the assessment of any tax imposed by any state law has been made within the period of limitation properly applicable to the assessment, the tax may be collected by levy or proceeding in court, but only if the levy is made or the proceeding is begun within ten (10) years after the date of the assessment of the tax.

(i) (1) (A) An amended return or verified claim for credit or refund of an overpayment of any state tax shall be filed by the taxpayer within three (3) years from the time the return was filed or two (2) years from the time the tax was paid, whichever of the periods expires later.

(B) The provisions of subdivision (i)(1)(A) of this section shall not apply to a tax paid as a result of an audit or proposed assessment.

(2) Any taxpayer who fails to file a return, underreports his or her income by twenty-five percent (25%) or more, or fails to notify the director of any change or correction by the Internal Revenue Service in the taxpayer's taxable income shall not be entitled to file an amended return or verified claim for credit or refund after the expiration of three (3) years from the date the original return or notification of change was originally due.

(j) No person shall be prosecuted, tried, or punished for any of the various criminal offenses arising under the provisions of any state tax law unless the indictment of the person is instituted within six (6) years after the commission of the offense.

(k) (1) In the case of an individual, the running of the periods specified for filing an amended return or verified claim for credit or refund shall be suspended during any period of the individual's life in which the individual is financially disabled.

(2) (A) An individual is financially disabled if the individual is unable to manage his or her financial affairs by reason of a medically determinable physical or mental impairment of the individual which can be expected to result in death or which has lasted or can be expected to last for a continuous period of not less than twelve (12) months.

(B) An individual shall not be considered to have a physical or mental impairment unless proof of the existence of the impairment is furnished in a form and in a manner as the director may require.

(3) An individual shall not be treated as financially disabled during any period that the individual's spouse or any other person is authorized to act on behalf of the individual in financial matters.

(l) (1) The limitation periods in subsection (i) of this section to file a claim for credit or refund of an overpayment of state tax do not apply to a taxpayer who is a veteran if the:

(A) Overpayment of state tax claimed resulted from the:

(i) Reduction of uniformed service retired pay computed under 10 U.S.C. § 1046 or 1047, as in effect on January 1, 2009; or

(ii) Waiver of retired pay under 38 U.S.C. § 5305, as in effect on January 1, 2009; and

(B) Reduction of the uniformed service retired pay or waiver of retired pay provided in subdivision (l)(1)(A) of this section is the result of an award of compensation under a determination by the Secretary of Veterans Affairs that part or all of the payments to the taxpayer are payments made for a service-connected disability that are not included in gross income under 26 U.S.C. § 104, as in effect on January 1, 2009.

(2) An amended return or verified claim for credit or refund of an overpayment of state tax described in subdivision (l)(1) of this section shall be filed by the taxpayer within one (1) year of the date of the determination described in subdivision (l)(1)(B) of this section or February 25, 2009, whichever occurs later.

(3) A credit or refund for an overpayment of state tax shall not be allowed under this subsection for any tax year which began before January 1, 2001.

Acts 1989, No. 826, § 36, provided that the provisions of that act shall be in full force and effect for all income years beginning on or after January 1, 1989.

Acts 1991, No. 685, § 11, provided:

"The provisions of this act shall be in full force and effect for all income years beginning on and after January 1, 1991."

Amendments. The 1993 amendment deleted "or as long as the statute of limitations for assessment is still open to the director" from the end of (i)(1); and added (i)(2).

The 1997 amendment added "on an amended Arkansas income tax return" at the end of (b)(1); and substituted "amended Arkansas income tax return" for "notice" in the first sentence of (b)(2).

The 1999 amendment by No. 1126 added (k), and made stylistic changes.

The 1999 amendment by No. 1277 rewrote (e).

The 2003 amendment redesignated former (i)(1) as present (i)(1)(A) and deleted "for which the taxpayer is required to file a return" after "any state"; and added (i)(1)(B).

The 2007 amendment substituted "ninety (90) days" for "thirty (30) days" in (b)(1).

The 2009 amendment by No. 238 added (l).

The 2009 amendment by No. 373, in (b), inserted "resulting from the issues that are included in the correction" in (b)(2)(A), and added (b)(3) through (b)(5).

Effective Dates. Acts 1999, No. 1126, § 43: effective for tax years beginning on or after January 1, 1999.

Acts 2009, No. 373, § 2, provided: "Section 1 of this act is effective for tax years beginning on or after January 1, 2009."

Applicability.

Extensions.

Tolling of Limitations.

Applicability.

Subdivision (i)(1) of this section does not supply the standard for determining whether an Enterprise Zone Act (see § 15-4-1701 et seq.) refund claim is timely filed. Acxiom Corp. v. Leathers, 331 Ark. 205, 961 S.W.2d 735 (1998).

Where defendant was charged with willfully attempting to evade or defeat the payment of tax, in violation of § 26-18-201(a), and was convicted of failure to pay tax, in violation of § 26-18-202, the six-year statute of limitations under subsection (j) was applicable rather than the more general three-year limitations period under § 5-1-109(b)(2); subsection (j) specifically provides a six-year limitations period for prosecutions for any of the various criminal offenses arising under the provisions of any state tax law, and it is a well-settled principle of law that a general statute does not apply when a specific one governs the subject matter. Owens v. State, 354 Ark. 644, 128 S.W.3d 445 (2003).

Extensions.

The extension of the statute of limitations from three years to six years under subsection (e) for taxpayers who understate their tax liability by more than 25% does not apply to use taxes that became delinquent before this provision was effective on January 1, 1980. Ragland v. Travenol Labs., Inc., 286 Ark. 33, 689 S.W.2d 349 (1985).

Tolling of Limitations.

A proposed tax assessment under § 26-18-403, if contested, will toll subsection (a), which limits the time in which an assessment can be made to three years. Ragland v. Alpha Aviation, Inc., 285 Ark. 182, 686 S.W.2d 391 (1985).

26-18-307. Notice requirements.

(a) (1) The Director of the Department of Finance and Administration shall give a taxpayer notice of any assessment, demand, decision, or hearing before the director which directly involves that taxpayer.

(2) (A) All notices required to be given by the director to a taxpayer shall be either served by personal service or sent by regular mail to the taxpayer's last address on record with the particular tax section of the Revenue Division of the Department of Finance and Administration in question.

(B) Service of the notice by mail is presumptively complete upon mailing, and the director may take any action permitted by any state tax law.

(3) All notices of final assessment under § 26-18-401 shall be sent by regular mail.

(b) (1) When giving notice to the director, the taxpayer shall give notice either by mail or by personal service on the director.

(2) The notice the taxpayer gives shall be effective when postmarked or, in case of personal service, when so served.

(c) By written agreement, the director and any taxpayer may provide for any other reasonable means of giving notice.

(d) All notices shall be in writing.

History. Acts 1979, No. 401, § 33; A.S.A. 1947, § 84-4733; Acts 2003, No. 214, § 1.

Amendments. The 2003 amendment, in (a)(1), substituted "Director of ... Administration" for "director"; in (a)(2), inserted "regular" preceding "mail" and substituted "Service of ... mailing" for "If this mail is returned unclaimed or refused then proper notice shall have been served and given"; and, in (a)(3), substituted "regular mail" for "certified mail, return receipt requested."

26-18-308. Disposition of revenues.

All taxes, interest, penalties, and court costs received by the director under any state tax law, unless otherwise specified in this chapter, shall be deposited in the manner stated in the applicable state tax law. Where this chapter is the governing authority for the collection of interest, penalties, and court costs, the amounts collected are general revenues and shall be so deposited to the credit of the State Apportionment Fund and allocated as provided by the Revenue Stabilization Law of Arkansas, § 19-5-101 et seq.

History. Acts 1979, No. 401, § 43; A.S.A. 1947, § 84-4743.

26-18-309. Defense of director in civil suits.

When the director is a defendant in a civil suit which seeks to recover damages from him personally resulting from any action taken by the director in his official capacity, the Attorney General of this state shall provide the defense for the director.

26-18-310. Director's authority.

(a) The Director of the Department of Finance and Administration may accept payment of any state or local tax or fee by credit card when he or she determines that credit card payments are administratively feasible.

(b) The director may enter into contracts with credit card companies and may pay fees normally charged by those companies for allowing the use of their credit cards as authorized by this section.

History. Acts 1999, No. 1132, § 1.

26-18-311. Electronic tax administration policy.

(a) (1) The Director of the Department of Finance and Administration may promote the benefits of and encourage the use of electronic tax administration programs, as they become available, through the use of mass communications and other means.

(2) It is the policy of the Department of Finance and Administration that:

(A) Paperless filing should be the preferred and most convenient means of filing state tax and information returns; and

(B) The department should cooperate with and encourage the private sector by encouraging competition to increase electronic filing of such returns.

(b) The director shall establish a plan to eliminate barriers, provide incentives, and use competitive market forces to increase electronic filing gradually over the next ten (10) years while maintaining existing processing times for paper returns.

Effective Dates. Acts 1999, No. 1126, § 43: effective for tax years beginning on or after January 1, 1999.

26-18-312. Signatures on electronic forms.

(a) The Director of the Department of Finance and Administration shall develop procedures for the acceptance of signatures on state tax returns or reports in digital or other electronic form.

(b) Until such time as such procedures are in place, the director may:

(1) Waive the requirement of a signature for a particular type or class of return, declaration, statement, or other document required or permitted to be made in writing under state tax laws and regulations; or

(2) Provide for alternative methods of signing or subscribing a particular type or class of return, declaration, statement, or other document required or permitted to be made in writing under state tax laws and regulations.

Subchapter 4 — Assessments

26-18-401. Assessment and collection of taxes generally.

26-18-402. Jeopardy assessment.

26-18-403. Proposed assessments.

26-18-404. Taxpayer relief.

26-18-405. Hearing on proposed assessments.

26-18-406. Judicial relief.

A.C.R.C. Notes. Acts 1997, No. 1139, § 10, provided:

"The General Assembly intends, by the passage of this amendment to the provisions of the Arkansas Tax Procedure Act, § 26-18-101 et seq., to clarify its intent that taxpayers involved in state tax disputes with the Arkansas Department of Finance and Administration shall have, as much as possible, the opportunity to secure an objective review of their dispute by a court at law through: (1) the posting of bond method; (2) the payment after assessment method; or (3) the claim for refund method, after the payment by the taxpayer of all state taxes claimed to be due from the taxpayer for at least one complete taxable period involved in the audit period. It is also intended by the General Assembly that the courts of this state are to recognize the 'divisible tax theory' applicable to the review of federal tax dispute by federal courts, as also being applicable to the review of state tax disputes by the courts of this state."

Collection of taxes generally, § 26-34-101 et seq.

Effective Dates. Acts 1981, No. 914, § 9: Dec. 31, 1980. Emergency clause provided: "It is hereby found and determined by the General Assembly that certain provisions of the State's income tax laws that have counterparts in the Federal income tax laws do not coincide with recent amendments to the Federal income tax laws; that clarification needs to be made to provisions of the Arkansas Tax procedure Act (Act 401 of 1979) with regard to the statute of limitations on assessments, the judicial review of contested assessments and the automatic assertion of the 10% negligence penalty (as apparently approved by the Supreme Court in its decision in Great Lakes Chemical Co. v. Wooten, 266 Ark. 511, 514 (1979) which decision was rendered after the adoption by the General Assembly of Act 401 of 1979, but before the effective date of that Act); and that this Act is immediately necessary to make the Arkansas income tax law conform with the Federal income tax law, to clarify any possible question as to the applicability of the Statute of Limitations on assessment and judicial review of contested assessments, and to stop the automatic assessment of the 10% negligence penalty on any deficiency in tax determined by the Commissioner. Therefore, an emergency is hereby declared to exist and this Act being immediately necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health and safety shall be in full force and effect for all periods beginning after December 31, 1980."

Acts 1997, No. 1139, § 14: July 1, 1997. Emergency clause provided: "It is found and determined by the General Assembly of the State of Arkansas that the taxpayers' procedural rights to pursue an objective judicial review in challenging a state tax assessment are, in some instances, being unfairly denied to Arkansas taxpayers who have legitimate disputes with the Arkansas Department of Finance and Administration. It is therefore held that the provisions of this act, are needed to cure this problem for state taxpayers. Therefore an emergency is declared to exist and this act being immediately necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health and safety shall become effective on and after July 1, 1997."

Acts 2009, No. 755, § 3: July 31, 2009. Emergency clause provided: "It is found and determined by the General Assembly of the State of Arkansas that many manufacturers and other businesses have found that it is substantially more difficult to prove they are entitled to a tax exemption, deduction, or credit in Arkansas than in most other states based on the court interpretation that the taxpayer must present facts that establish their right to a tax exemption, deduction, or credit "beyond a reasonable doubt" and "to doubt is to deny" exemptions; that the standard of proof for the taxpayer to prove an exemption, deduction, or credit should be changed to clear and convincing evidence, and that in trials de novo or appeals within the judicial system, no presumption of correctness should attach to positions of taxing authorities at the administrative level. Therefore, an emergency is declared to exist and this act being immediately necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health, and safety shall become effective on: (1) The date of its approval by the Governor; (2) If the bill is neither approved nor vetoed by the Governor, the expiration of the period of time during which the Governor may veto the bill; or (3) If the bill is vetoed by the Governor and the veto is overridden, the date the last house overrides the veto."

26-18-401. Assessment and collection of taxes generally.

(a) (1) The Director of the Department of Finance and Administration shall make the inquiries, determinations, and assessments of all state taxes, including interest, additions to taxes, and assessable penalties, imposed by all state tax laws.

(2) The proposed assessment shall be made by recording the liability of the taxpayer in the office of the director in accordance with rules or regulations prescribed by the director.

(3) Upon request of the taxpayer, the director shall furnish the taxpayer a copy of the record of the assessment.

(b) (1) The director shall collect all taxes imposed by any state tax law.

(2) (A) (i) The director shall issue a final assessment to each taxpayer liable for the unpaid tax.

(ii) The final assessment shall state the amount of the assessment and demand payment within ten (10) days of the assessment.

(iii) The final assessment shall not be issued before the expiration of time for the taxpayer to request an administrative hearing under § 26-18-404.

(B) If the taxpayer has requested administrative relief under § 26-18-404 the final assessment shall be issued according to § 26-18-405.

(C) (i) If the taxpayer has paid the assessment before the time for the issuance of the final assessment, no final assessment shall be issued.

(ii) The taxpayer may seek to recover the payment of the assessment only if §§ 26-18-403 or 26-18-406 applies.

(3) Upon receipt of the final assessment from the director, the person liable for the tax shall pay the stated amount including any interest, additions to tax, and assessable penalties at the place and time stated in the final assessment.

Case Notes

Business Transfers.
Limitations of Action.
Reassessments.
Venue.

Business Transfers.

State held not to waive right to enforce claim for tax deficiencies of former owner discovered after transfer of business to new owner. Commissioner of Revenues v. Belote, 226 Ark. 295, 289 S.W.2d 665 (1956) (decision under prior law).

Limitations of Action.

Where record did not disclose what particular months alleged unpaid taxes were charged against in situation where some of the months of the year in question might be barred and some months not, entire total for year could have been incurred in months not barred and plea of statute of limitations as to entire year was without merit. Scurlock v. Yarbrough, 224 Ark. 113, 271 S.W.2d 916 (1954) (decision under prior law).

Where taxpayers failed to file their protests on additional sales and individual tax assessments imposed against them by the Department of Finance and Administration until after more than a year had passed since said assessments were paid, dismissal of their complaint was warranted. Mac v. Weiss, 360 Ark. 384, 201 S.W.3d 897 (2005).

Reassessments.

Reassessment and collection of taxes precluded in view of statute preventing proceedings for reassessment except for actual fraud. McCarroll v. Hollis & Co., 201 Ark. 931, 148 S.W.2d 167 (1941) (decision under prior law).

Venue.

Where defense to state's claim for unpaid sales taxes was three year statute of limitations and not “no tax due,” venue of suit to enjoin levy of execution was in Pulaski Chancery Court and not in county in which certificate of indebtedness of record had been placed. Scurlock v. Yarbrough, 224 Ark. 113, 271 S.W.2d 916 (1954) (decision under prior law).

Former statute governing penalties for tax report violations did not require that the failure to report be deemed to be an action committed in part at the taxpayer's residence; accordingly, where a taxpayer was required by law to file a return in a county other than that of his residence, prosecution for failure to file had to be brought in the county of filing, not the county of residence. Taylor v. Partain, 267 Ark. 476, 591 S.W.2d 653 (1980) (decision under prior law).

26-18-402. Jeopardy assessment.

(a) Regardless of the date on which a return or payment is due or a taxable period of a taxpayer closes, the director shall declare the taxable period of any state tax terminated for that person and shall issue a jeopardy assessment and assess the tax from any information in his possession, notify the taxpayer, and demand immediate payment if the director believes that:

(1) The tax liability of any person who has a bond on file with the director to indemnify the state for the payment of any state tax is in excess of the amount of the bond;

(2) A taxpayer intends to depart from the state, to remove his property therefrom, or to conceal himself or any of his property therein;

(3) A taxpayer intends to discontinue business without making adequate provisions for payment of all state tax; or

(4) A taxpayer intends to do any other act tending to prejudice, jeopardize, or render wholly or partially ineffectual proceedings to compute, assess, or collect any state tax.

(b) (1) Within five (5) days after the date on which a notice and demand for payment is made under subsection (a) of this section, the director shall provide the taxpayer with a written statement of the information upon which the director relies in making such assessment.

(2) If the taxpayer fails or refuses to pay the tax upon demand of the director or requests a hearing before the director within five (5) business days after the day the taxpayer is furnished the written statement described in subdivision (1) of this subsection, the tax shall become delinquent and the director shall proceed to issue a certificate of indebtedness.

(c) When the taxpayer requests a hearing, the director shall hold the hearing within five (5) business days of receipt of the request. After a hearing, the director shall determine whether the making of the assessment under subsection (a) of this section is reasonable under the circumstances and shall render his decision. The taxpayer has three (3) days after the receipt of the director's decision either to pay the tax and applicable penalty and interest due or to protest the decision of the director as provided by § 26-18-406(a) prior to the director's issuing a certificate of indebtedness.

(d) Whenever the director issues a jeopardy assessment, he shall have the burden of proving the reasonableness of the assessment.

26-18-403. Proposed assessments.

(a) (1) If any taxpayer fails to file any return as required by any state tax law, the director, from any information in his possession or obtainable by him, may determine the correct amount of tax for the taxable period. If a return has been filed, the director shall examine the return and make any audit or investigation that he considers necessary.

(2) When no return has been filed and the director determines that there is a tax due for the taxable period or when a return has been filed and the director determines that the tax disclosed by the return is less than the tax disclosed by his examination, the director shall propose the assessment of additional tax plus penalties, as the case may be, and shall give notice of the proposed assessment to the taxpayer. The notice shall explain the basis for the proposed assessment and shall state that a final assessment, as provided by § 26-18-401, will be made if the taxpayer does not protest such proposed assessment as provided by § 26-18-404. The taxpayer does not have to protest the proposed assessment to later be entitled to exercise the right to seek a judicial review of the assessment, pursuant to the provisions of § 26-18-406.

(b) Any demand for additional payment of a state tax which is made as the result of a verification of a mathematical error on the return shall not be deemed to be a proposed assessment under the provisions of this section and shall not be subject to the hearing or appeal provisions of this chapter.

A.C.R.C. Notes. Acts 1997, No. 1139, § 10, provided:

"The General Assembly intends, by the passage of this amendment to the provisions of the Arkansas Tax Procedure Act, § 26-18-101 et seq., to clarify its intent that taxpayers involved in state tax disputes with the Arkansas Department of Finance and Administration shall have, as much as possible, the opportunity to secure an objective review of their dispute by a court at law through: (1) the posting of bond method; (2) the payment after assessment method; or (3) the claim for refund method, after the payment by the taxpayer of all state taxes claimed to be due from the taxpayer for at least one complete taxable period involved in the audit period. It is also intended by the General Assembly that the courts of this state are to recognize the 'divisible tax theory' applicable to the review of federal tax dispute by federal courts, as also being applicable to the review of state tax disputes by the courts of this state."

Amendments. The 1997 amendment added the last sentence in (a)(2).

Case Notes

Due Process.

Tolling of Limitations.

Due Process.

The state did not deprive the taxpayers of property without due process by filing a certificate of indebtedness, where the state obtained a tax lien only after giving the taxpayers several notices and an opportunity to be heard. Ross v. Martin, 800 F.2d 808 (8th Cir. 1986).

Tolling of Limitations.

A proposed tax assessment under this section, if contested, will toll subsection (a) of § 26-18-306, which limits the time in which an assessment can be made to three years. Ragland v. Alpha Aviation, Inc., 285 Ark. 182, 686 S.W.2d 391 (1985).

26-18-404. Taxpayer relief.

(a) Any taxpayer who wishes to seek administrative relief from any proposed assessment of taxes or from a denial of a claim for refund by the Director of the Department of Finance and Administration shall follow the procedure provided by this section.

(b) (1) A taxpayer may at his or her option either request the director to consider his or her request for relief solely upon written documents furnished by the taxpayer or upon the written documents and any evidence produced by the taxpayer at a hearing.

(2) A taxpayer who requests the director to render his or her decision based on written documents is not entitled by law to any other administrative hearing prior to the director's rendering of his or her decision and, if necessary, the issuing of a final assessment and demand for payment or issuing of a certificate of indebtedness.

(c) (1) Within sixty (60) days after service of notice of the proposed assessment or denial of a claim for refund, the taxpayer may file with the director a written protest under oath, signed by the taxpayer or the taxpayer's authorized agent, setting forth the taxpayer's reasons for opposing the proposed assessment or the denial of a claim for refund.

(2) No administrative relief will be available to a taxpayer who fails to protest or to a taxpayer who fails to request an extension of time to protest a proposed assessment of tax or denial of a claim for refund within the sixty (60) days following the service of notice of the proposed assessment or denial of a claim for refund.

(d) The director may, in his or her discretion, extend the time for filing a protest for any period of time not to exceed an additional ninety-day period.

A.C.R.C. Notes. Acts 1997, No. 1139, § 10, provided:

"The General Assembly intends, by the passage of this amendment to the provisions of the Arkansas Tax Procedure Act, § 26-18-101 et seq., to clarify its intent that taxpayers involved in state tax disputes with the Arkansas Department of Finance and Administration shall have, as much as possible, the opportunity to secure an objective review of their dispute by a court at law through: (1) the posting of bond method; (2) the payment after assessment method; or (3) the claim for refund method, after the payment by the taxpayer of all state taxes claimed to be due from the taxpayer for at least one complete taxable period involved in the audit period. It is also intended by the General Assembly that the courts of this state are to recognize the 'divisible tax theory' applicable to the review of federal tax dispute by federal courts, as also being applicable to the review of state tax disputes by the courts of this state."

Amendments. The 1997 amendment, in (a), inserted "administrative" preceding "relief" and inserted "or proposed notice of disallowance of a claim for refund"; and, in (c), substituted "or proposed notice of claim disallowance" for "or action" and added "or the proposed notice of claim disallowance" to the end.

The 1999 amendment substituted "a denial" for "proposed notice of disallowance" preceding "of a claim" in (a); and substituted "denial of a claim for refund" for "proposed notice of claim disallowance" twice in (c); and made stylistic changes.

The 2007 amendment added the (c)(1) designation and added (c)(2); and in (c)(1), substituted "sixty (60) days" for "thirty (30) days," "the taxpayer" for "himself or herself," and "the taxpayer's" for "his or her."

Case Notes

Appeals.

Appeals.

This chapter requires a particular type of protest in order to initiate the administrative review procedures outlined in this section and § 26-18-405, which involve contesting proposed assessments, while paying the final assessment under protest is required by § 26-18-406(a)(1) in order to preserve the taxpayer's right to judicial review. *Hercules, Inc. v. 26-18-405. Hearing on proposed assessments.

(a) (1) The Director of the Department of Finance and Administration shall appoint a hearing officer to review all written protests submitted by taxpayers, hold all hearings, and make written findings as to the applicability of the proposed assessment or the denial of the claim for refund.

(2) Decisions of the hearing officer shall be final unless revised by the director.

(3) The hearings on written and oral protests and determinations made by the hearing officer shall not be subject to the provisions of the Arkansas Administrative Procedure Act, § 25-15-201 et seq.

(b) The director may appoint one (1) or more hearing officers, but the persons occupying these appointments shall not contemporaneously with the holding of these appointments have any other administrative duties within the Revenue Division of the Department of Finance and Administration.

(c) The actual hearing on the written protest shall be held in any city in which the division maintains a Field Audit District Office or in such other city as the director shall, in his or her discretion, designate.

(d) (1) The hearing officer shall set the time and place for hearing on the written protests and shall give the taxpayer reasonable notice of the hearing.

(2) At the hearing, the taxpayer may be represented by an authorized representative and may present evidence in support of his or her position.

(3) After the hearing, the hearing officer shall render his or her decision in writing and shall serve copies upon both the taxpayer and the section or division of the Department of Finance and Administration which proposed the assessment or the denial of the claim for refund.

(4) (A) (i) If the proposed assessment or denial of a claim for refund is sustained, in whole or part, the taxpayer or legal counsel for the director may request in writing, within twenty (20) days of the mailing of the decision, that the director revise the decision of the hearing officer. No request for revision will be considered unless it is received by the director within twenty (20) days of the mailing of the hearing decision.

(ii) Either the taxpayer or legal counsel for the director must provide a copy of any written request for revision to the other.

(B) If the director refuses to make a revision or if the taxpayer or legal counsel for the director does not make a request for revision, then the director will send either:

(i) A final assessment to the taxpayer, as provided by § 26-18-401, that is made upon the final determination of the hearing officer that sustained a proposed assessment of tax; or

(ii) A notice in writing to both the taxpayer and legal counsel for the director, if a revision was requested, of his or her decision not to revise a decision that resulted in no tax due, including the denial of a claim for refund.

(C) (i) If the director revises the decision of the hearing officer, the director shall send the final decision of the director to the taxpayer and to the legal counsel for the director.

(ii) A notice of final assessment shall be made upon the decision of the director if the director's decision sustained a proposed assessment of tax.

(iii) No further notice will be issued for a final decision of the director that results in no tax due, including the denial of a claim for refund.

(D) A taxpayer may not request revision of a decision issued by the director under this subdivision (d)(4).

(e) A taxpayer may seek relief from the final decision of the hearing officer or the director on a final assessment of a tax deficiency or a notice of denial of a claim for refund by following the procedure set forth in § 26-18-406.

(f) (1) In addition to the hearing procedures set out in subsections (a)-(e) of this section, the director may hold administrative hearings by telephone, video conference, or other electronic means if the director determines that conducting the hearing in such a manner:

(A) Is in the best interest of the taxpayer and the department;

(B) Is agreed to by both parties;

- (C) Is not fiscally unsound or administratively burdensome; and
- (D) Adequately protects the confidentiality of the taxpayer's information.

(2) The director may contract with third parties for all services necessary to conduct hearings by telephone, video, or other electronic means.

A.C.R.C. Notes. Acts 1997, No. 1139, § 10, provided:

“The General Assembly intends, by the passage of this amendment to the provisions of the Arkansas Tax Procedure Act, § 26-18-101 et seq., to clarify its intent that taxpayers involved in state tax disputes with the Arkansas Department of Finance and Administration shall have, as much as possible, the opportunity to secure an objective review of their dispute by a court at law through: (1) the posting of bond method; (2) the payment after assessment method; or (3) the claim for refund method, after the payment by the taxpayer of all state taxes claimed to be due from the taxpayer for at least one complete taxable period involved in the audit period. It is also intended by the General Assembly that the courts of this state are to recognize the ‘divisible tax theory’ applicable to the review of federal tax dispute by federal courts, as also being applicable to the review of state tax disputes by the courts of this state.”

Amendments. The 1993 amendment inserted (d)(4)(C).

The 1995 amendment added (f).

The 1997 amendment inserted “or the proposed notice of claim disallowance” in (a)(1); added “or the proposed notice of claim of disallowance” to the end of (d)(3); inserted “or proposed notice of claim disallowance” in (d)(4)(A); inserted “or a final notice of claim disallowance, as provided by § 26-18-507” in (d)(4)(B) and the first sentence in (d)(4)(C); inserted “or allowing any part of a claim for refund” in the second sentence (d)(4)(C); and inserted “or a final notice of claim disallowance” in (e).

The 1999 amendment substituted “denial of the claim for refund” for “proposed notice of claim disallowance” in (a)(1); substituted “denial of the claim for refund” for “proposed notice of claim of disallowance” in (d)(3); substituted “denial of a claim for refund” for “proposed notice of claim disallowance” in (d)(4); deleted “or a final notice of claim disallowance, as provided by § 26-18-507” following “§ 26-18-401” in (d)(4)(B) and (d)(4)(C); added the last sentence in (d)(4)(B); deleted “or allowing any part of a claim for refund” following “any portion of an assessment” in (d)(4)(C); added (d)(4)(D); substituted “or a notice of denial of a claim for refund” for “or a notice of claim disallowance” in (e); and made stylistic changes.

The 2007 amendment rewrote (d)(4).

Appeals.

Source of Relief.

Tolling of Limitations.

Appeals.

This chapter requires a particular type of protest in order to initiate the administrative review procedures outlined in this section and § 26-18-404, which involve contesting proposed assessments, while paying the final assessment under protest is required by § 26-18-406(a)(1) in order to preserve the taxpayer's right to judicial review. Hercules, Inc. v. Pledger, 319 Ark. 702, 894 S.W.2d 576 (1995).

Source of Relief.

When the legality of the underlying tax act is not in issue, but only the correctness of the person assessed, the taxpayer does not have a cause of action for an illegal exaction, but the taxpayer's relief is that which is provided by this section and § 26-18-406. Cook v. State, 312 Ark. 438, 850 S.W.2d 309 (1993).

Tolling of Limitations.

A proposed tax assessment under § 26-18-403, if contested, will toll subsection (a) of § 26-18-306, which limits the time in which an assessment can be made to three years. Ragland v. Alpha Aviation, Inc., 285 Ark. 182, 686 S.W.2d 391 (1985).

26-18-406. Judicial relief.

(a) After the issuance and service on the taxpayer of the final assessment of a deficiency in tax that is not protested by the taxpayer under § 26-18-403 or a final determination of the hearing officer or the Director of the Department of Finance and Administration under § 26-18-405, a taxpayer may seek judicial relief from the final determination or assessment by:

(1) (A) Paying the entire amount of state tax due for any taxable period or periods covered by the final assessment within one (1) year of the date of the final assessment and filing suit to recover that amount within one (1) year of the date of payment.

(B) The director may proceed with collection activities including the filing of a certificate of indebtedness as authorized under § 26-18-701 within thirty (30) days of the issuance of the final assessment for any assessed but unpaid state taxes, penalties, or interest owed by the taxpayer for other taxable periods covered by the final assessment while the suit for refund is being pursued by the taxpayer for other taxable periods covered by the final assessment;

(2) (A) Filing with the director a bond in double the amount of the tax deficiency due within thirty (30) days of the issuance and service on the taxpayer of the final assessment and by filing suit within thirty (30) days thereafter to stay the effect of the director's determination.

(B) The bond shall be subject to the conditions that the taxpayer shall:

(i) File suit within thirty (30) days after filing the bond;

(ii) Faithfully and diligently prosecute the suit to a final determination; and

(iii) Pay any deficiency found by the court to be due and pay any court cost assessed against him or her.

(C) A taxpayer's failure to file suit, diligently prosecute the suit, or pay any tax deficiency and court costs, as required by subdivision (a)(2)(B) of this section, shall result in the forfeiture of the bond in the amount of the assessment and assessed court costs; or

(3) Filing suit to recover assessed tax, penalty, and interest paid prior to the time for issuance of the final assessment within one (1) year of the date of the final determination of the hearing officer or the director under § 26-18-405.

(b) A taxpayer may seek judicial relief from a final determination denying a claim for refund by filing suit to recover the amount claimed within one (1) year from the mailing of the denial of the director under § 26-18-507, or a final determination of the hearing officer or the director under § 26-18-405, whichever is later.

(c) (1) Jurisdiction for a suit to contest a determination of the director under this section shall be in the Pulaski County Circuit Court or the circuit court of the county in which the taxpayer resides or has his or her principal place of business, where the matter shall be tried de novo.

(2) An appeal will lie from the circuit court to the Supreme Court, as in other cases provided by law.

(3) A presumption of correctness or weight of authority will not attach to a determination of the director in a trial de novo or an appeal under this section.

(d) (1) The methods provided in this section shall be the sole alternative methods for seeking relief from a written decision of the director establishing a deficiency in tax or disallowing a claim for refund.

(2) No injunction shall issue to stay proceedings for assessment or collection of any taxes levied under any state tax law.

(e) (1) In any court proceeding under this section, the prevailing party may be awarded a judgment for court costs.

(2) A judgment of court costs entered by the court in favor of either party shall be treated, for purposes of this chapter, in the same manner as an overpayment or deficiency of tax, except that no interest or penalty shall be allowed or assessed with respect to any judgment for court costs.

(f) If a taxpayer pays the tax, penalty, and interest assessed under § 26-18-403 and does not request administrative relief according to § 26-18-404, then:

(1) The taxpayer may seek judicial relief from the assessment only if the taxpayer files suit in circuit court within one (1) year from the date of payment of the assessment; and

(2) The provisions of § 26-18-507 shall not apply to the payments.

A.C.R.C. Notes. Acts 1997, No. 1139, § 10, provided:

"The General Assembly intends, by the passage of this amendment to the provisions of the Arkansas Tax Procedure Act, § 26-18-101 et seq., to clarify its intent that taxpayers involved in state tax disputes with the Arkansas Department of Finance and Administration shall have, as much as possible, the opportunity to secure an objective review of their dispute by a court at law through: (1) the posting of bond method; (2) the payment after assessment method; or (3) the claim for refund method, after the payment by the taxpayer of all state taxes claimed to be due from the taxpayer for at least one complete taxable period involved in the audit period. It is also intended by the General Assembly that the courts of this state are to recognize the 'divisible tax theory' applicable to the review of federal tax dispute by federal courts, as also being applicable to the review of state tax disputes by the courts of this state."

Amendments. The 1997 amendment rewrote the section.

The 1999 amendment rewrote (b).

The 2003 amendment, in (a), substituted "final assessment" for "notice and demand for payment," "director of the Department of Finance and Administration" for "director" and "or assessment by" for "by either," and deleted "established by an audit determination" following "deficiency in tax"; inserted the subdivision designations in (a)(1); substituted "final assessment" for "notice and demand for payment" in (a)(2)(A); substituted "subdivision (a)(2)(B)" for "subsection (a)" in (a)(2)(C); added (a)(3); substituted "chancery" with "circuit" twice in (c)(1) and once in (c)(2); deleted "Arkansas" before "Supreme Court" in (c)(2); added (f); and made stylistic and gender neutral changes throughout.

The 2009 amendment inserted (c)(3)

Appeals.

Appeal to chancery court automatically superseded certificate of indebtedness. Hardin v. Norsworthy, 204 Ark. 943, 165 S.W.2d 609 (1942) (decision under prior law).

State had right of appeal from injunction restraining circuit clerk from issuing writ of execution on certificate of indebtedness. Hardin v. Norsworthy, 204 Ark. 943, 165 S.W.2d 609 (1942) (decision under prior law).

This chapter requires a particular type of protest in order to initiate the administrative review procedures outlined in §§ 26-18-404 and 26-18-405, which involve contesting proposed assessments, while paying the final assessment under protest is required by subdivision (a)(1) of this section in order to preserve the taxpayer's right to judicial review. Hercules, Inc. v. Pledger, 319 Ark. 702, 894 S.W.2d 576 (1995).

Burden of Proof.

Where taxpayer was not claiming an exemption from tax, but rather was claiming that a tax could not be levied upon it, the Department of Finance and Administration had the burden of proving the propriety of the tax, and all doubts and ambiguities had to be resolved in favor of the taxpayer. Pledger v. Troll Book Clubs, Inc., 316 Ark. 195, 871 S.W.2d 389 (1994).

Certificates of Indebtedness.

Where payment had been made and taxpayer sued to recover overcharge, certificate of indebtedness had performed its function and there was no lien. Hardin v. Gautney, 204 Ark. 723, 164 S.W.2d 427 (1942) (decision under prior law).

Issuance of certificate of indebtedness within 30-day period allowing merchant to appeal to chancery court was proper, since tax amount fixed should have been paid and an action brought for refund of any excess shown to have been collected. Hardin v. Norsworthy, 204 Ark. 943, 165 S.W.2d 609 (1942) (decision under prior law).

Proceeding for issuance of certificate of indebtedness held not a common law action wherein trial by jury was guaranteed, and right to jury trial was not accorded by statute. Hardin v. Norsworthy, 204 Ark. 943, 165 S.W.2d 609 (1942) (decision under prior law).

Regularity of signature to certificate of indebtedness could not be raised for the first time in the Supreme Court. Cook v. Hickenbottom, 212 Ark. 768, 207 S.W.2d 721 (1948) (decision under prior law).

Where merchant did not refute claim of tax indebtedness, filing of certificate of indebtedness became a mandate, and a lien attached from time certificate was entered. Hardin v. Norsworthy, 204 Ark. 943, 165 S.W.2d 609 (1942) (decision under prior law).

Claim Upheld.

Claim for refund survived a motion to dismiss under ARCP 12(b)(6). Little Rock Cleaning Sys. v.

Weiss, 326 Ark. 1007, 935 S.W.2d 268 (1996).

Exclusivity.

The fact that § 26-18-405(e) states that a “taxpayer may seek relief” under this section takes nothing away from the clarity of the exclusivity language of this section. Nor does the fact that the second sentence of subsection (d) states that there shall be no injunctive relief against assessment or collection. It gives the taxpayer the exclusive method of challenge. Taber v. Pledger, 302 Ark. 484, 791 S.W.2d 361 (Ark. 1990).

Injunctions.

Interdiction against injunction could only have reference to taxes lawfully assessed and to lawful methods used in collection of taxes. Hardin v. Gautney, 204 Ark. 723, 164 S.W.2d 427 (1942) (decision under prior law).

Evidence that merchant was misled into thinking another hearing would be accorded was insufficient to justify granting of injunction restraining issuance of writ of execution on certificate of indebtedness. Hardin v. Norsworthy, 204 Ark. 943, 165 S.W.2d 609 (1942) (decision under prior law).

One had 30 days from filing of certificate of indebtedness in which to bring injunction proceedings in county where certificate was filed where person alleged that no part of tax amount claimed was owing. Scurlock v. Little, 224 Ark. 109, 271 S.W.2d 914 (1954) (decision under prior law).

Legislative Intent.

In enacting this section, the General Assembly had in mind at least two reasons for requiring a taxpayer to designate specifically any payment as being under protest when seeking judicial review of a final deficiency assessment: first, subsection (c) mandates that all taxes and penalties paid under protest are to be held by the director in an escrow account denominated the “Tax Protest Fund Account,” and that refunds are to be made from this account; second, a taxpayer who has protested and pursued an earlier administrative review of a proposed assessment under § 28-18-404 may reasonably decide not to pursue further adjustments of the assessment or judicial review of the final determination. Hercules, Inc. v. Pledger, 319 Ark. 702, 894 S.W.2d 576 (1995).

Notice of Deficiency.

Purchaser of business who was issued a permit was entitled to notice of deficiency, and notice to former owner mailed six months after sale was insufficient. Thompson v. Chadwick, 221 Ark. 720, 255 S.W.2d 687 (1953) (decision under prior law).

Paying Under Protest.

Protest is commonly understood to mean a formal disapproval or objection issued by a concerned party. Hercules, Inc. v. Pledger, 319 Ark. 702, 894 S.W.2d 576 (1995).

While a payment which is not made under protest is deposited into general revenues and becomes available for immediate use by the state, a payment made under protest only becomes available for the state’s use after the taxpayer fails to file suit within the one year period or after judicial determination that the deficiency assessment was valid. Hercules, Inc. v. Pledger, 319 Ark. 702, 894 S.W.2d 576 (1995).

Relief Precluded.

General Assembly has right to designate a period within which one alleged to owe state on tax will be required to make his defense. Hardin v. Gautney, 204 Ark. 723, 164 S.W.2d 427 (1942) (decision under prior law).

Limitation of 30 days applied with equal force to litigant who sought relief in his county of residence where right to assess any tax was challenged and to litigant who only questioned amount of tax that had been legally assessed, some part of which was due. Hardin v. Gautney, 204 Ark. 723, 164 S.W.2d 427 (1942) (decision under prior law).

Where tax was collected by mercantile establishment from its customers, it could not thereafter question the applicability of the tax to particular sales in order either to retain tax money for itself or to recover it from state, since such action would constitute unjust enrichment. Cook v. Sears-Roebuck & Co., 212 Ark. 308, 206 S.W.2d 20 (1947) (decision under prior law).

Taxpayer who was given due notice of filing certificate of indebtedness could not wait six months after filing of certificate and issuance of first execution and then question validity of tax assessed against him. Cook v. Hickenbottom, 212 Ark. 768, 207 S.W.2d 721 (1948) (decision under prior law).

Wife estopped to assert her claim against tax lien where she allowed husband to use her money. Cook v. Pranger, 215 Ark. 2, 219 S.W.2d 420 (1949) (decision under prior law).

Imposition of unpaid withholding taxes, interest, and penalties against employers was proper; there was no error in failing to give the employers additional credit for taxes certain employees claimed they had paid where (1) the Arkansas Department of Finance and Administration's records did not show that the employees had paid their taxes and (2) the employers were not entitled to any credit under § 26-51-916 because they had not shown reasonable cause for failing to withhold and remit taxes. Morris v. Ark. Dep't of Fin. & Admin., 82 Ark. App. 124, 112 S.W.3d 378 (2003).

Where taxpayers failed to file their protests on additional sales and individual tax assessments imposed against them by the Department of Finance and Administration until after more than a year had passed since said assessments were paid, dismissal of their complaint was warranted. Mac v. Weiss, 360 Ark. 384, 201 S.W.3d 897 (2005).

Source of Relief.

When the legality of the underlying tax act is not in issue, but only the correctness of the person assessed, the taxpayer does not have a cause of action for an illegal exaction, but the taxpayer's relief is that which is provided by § 26-18-405 and this section. Cook v. State, 312 Ark. 438, 850 S.W.2d 309 (1993).

Venue.

If controversy went only to proposition that transaction was not taxable or, if taxable, person assessed was not person charged by law with payment, such issue was determinable by chancery court of county where it was sought to compel collection, that is, where the certificate, prima facie, created a lien. Hardin v. Gautney, 204 Ark. 723, 164 S.W.2d 427 (1942) (decision under prior law).

If issue in controversy related only to amount of valid tax to be paid, the General Assembly could require payment as a condition precedent to the right to litigate as to any alleged overcharge and since fund was then transmitted to Little Rock, legislature could fix venue in Pulaski County.

Hardin v. Gautney, 204 Ark. 723, 164 S.W.2d 427 (1942) (decision under prior law).

Where taxpayer's defense to state's claim for unpaid sales taxes was the three year statute of limitations and he did not claim "no tax due," venue of his suit to enjoin levy of execution was in Pulaski Chancery Court and not in county in which certificate of indebtedness of record had been placed against him. Scurlock v. Yarbrough, 224 Ark. 113, 271 S.W.2d 916 (1954) (decision under prior law).

It was only where the taxpayer claimed "no tax due" that he would invoke the venue of his county of residence to bring action to enjoin levy of execution of unpaid sales taxes; in other cases, taxpayer had to pay amount claimed and proceed in Pulaski Chancery Court to recover overcharge. Scurlock v. Yarbrough, 224 Ark. 113, 271 S.W.2d 916 (1954) (decision under prior law).

Plaintiff could not obtain jurisdiction by an injunction suit in court of his residence until certificate of indebtedness was filed in that court. Scurlock v. Hardscrabble Country Club, 224 Ark. 629, 275 S.W.2d 638 (1955) (decision under prior law).

Acts 1995, No. 1160, § 46: Apr. 11, 1995. Emergency clause provided: "It is hereby found and determined by the General Assembly that certain changes are necessary to the Arkansas tax laws; that these changes are necessary immediately in order to maintain the efficient administration of the Arkansas income tax laws; and that this act is necessary to effectuate that purpose. Therefore, an emergency is hereby declared to exist and this act being necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage and approval."

Acts 1997, No. 1139, § 14: July 1, 1997. Emergency clause provided: "It is found and determined by the General Assembly of the State of Arkansas that the taxpayers' procedural rights to pursue an objective judicial review in challenging a state tax assessment are, in some instances, being unfairly denied to Arkansas taxpayers who have legitimate disputes with the Arkansas Department of Finance and Administration. It is therefore held that the provisions of this act, are needed to cure this problem for state taxpayers. Therefore an emergency is declared to exist and this act being immediately necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health and safety shall become effective on and after July 1, 1997."

26-18-501. Liability for tax payment generally.

- (a) The liability for the payment of taxes imposed under any state tax law is on the taxpayer or person as identified by the particular state tax law.
- (b) Any person required to collect, truthfully account for, and pay over any state tax who willfully fails to collect the tax, or truthfully account and pay over the tax, or willfully attempts in any manner to evade or defeat any tax or the payment thereof, shall, in addition to other penalties provided by law, be liable to a penalty equal to the total amount of the tax evaded, or not collected, or not accounted for and paid over.
- (c) The term “person,” as used in this section, includes an officer, director, or employee of a corporation, a partner or employee of a partnership, or a member, manager, or employee of a limited liability company, who, as an officer, director, employee, partner, member, or manager is under a duty to perform the act in respect to which the violation occurs.
- (d) This section shall not apply to the payment of corporate income taxes.

26-18-502. Transferee liability.

- (a) The liability, at law or in equity, of the transferee of property of any person liable for any tax imposed by a law of the State of Arkansas shall be the same as that of the transferor and may be assessed and collected from the transferee in the same manner and subject to the same provisions as the transferor.
- (b) The period of limitation for assessment of any liability of a transferee or a fiduciary shall be within one (1) year after the expiration of the period of limitation for assessment against the transferor.
- (c) As used in this section, unless the context otherwise requires, “transferee” includes the donee, heir, legatee, devisee, and distributee and, with respect to estate tax, also includes any person who is personally liable for any part of the tax.

26-18-503. Remittance of taxes.

- (a) When a return of tax is required to be filed, the person required to make the return shall, without assessment or notice and demand from the director, pay the tax to the director at the time and place fixed for filing the return, determined without regard to any extension of time for filing the return.
- (b) All remittances required to be paid under any state tax law shall be made payable to the Department of Finance and Administration by bank draft, check, cashier's check, money order, or money. The director shall issue a receipt, if requested, to the taxpayer for every cash payment. No remittance, other than cash, is a final discharge of liability due the director until it has been paid in cash.

26-18-504. Final accounts of fiduciaries.

(a) No final account of any fiduciary shall be allowed by a probate court of the state unless the account shows, and the court finds, that all taxes imposed by any state tax law which are due have been paid and that all taxes which may become due are secured by bond, security deposit, or otherwise. To the extent that a tax certificate of the director shows payment, it shall be conclusive.

(b) For the purpose of facilitating the settlement and distribution of the estates held by fiduciaries, the director may agree upon the amount of taxes due, or to become due, from the fiduciaries under the provisions of any state tax law, and payment in accordance with the agreement shall be in full satisfaction of all taxes to which the agreement relates.

26-18-505. Extension of time for filing returns.

(a) (1) Upon written request and for good cause, the director may grant a reasonable extension of time to file any return required under any state tax law.

(2) The director shall keep a record of every extension granted with the reason the extension was granted.

(3) Except for a corporation income tax return as provided in § 26-51-807(c), the time for filing any return shall not be extended more than one hundred eighty (180) days.

(4) The Director of the Department of Finance and Administration may promulgate regulations to grant automatic extensions of time to file income tax returns and information returns without the taxpayer being required to submit a written application for the extension of time to file.

(b) When an extension of time to file is granted, the taxpayer may file a tentative return on or before the original due date showing the estimated amount of tax due for the period covered by the return and may pay the estimated tax or the first installment at the same time.

(c) (1) No interest shall be accrued or assessed against any sums paid on or before the original due date.

(2) Any state tax not paid when due because the director granted an extension of time for payment shall bear interest at the rate of ten percent (10%) per annum from the date originally due until paid.

(d) (1) For purposes of granting an extension of time for filing a return under this section, "good cause" includes, but is not limited to:

(A) An instance in which the taxpayer is determined for federal tax purposes to be affected by a presidentially declared disaster under the provisions of section 7508A of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as in effect on January 1, 1999; and

(B) An instance in which the taxpayer is determined to be affected by a disaster emergency as declared by the Governor under § 12-75-107.

(2) In the event that an extension of time for filing a return is granted to a taxpayer affected by a presidentially declared disaster or a disaster emergency declared by the Governor, no interest or penalty shall accrue for the extension period granted by the director.

Publisher's Notes. Acts 1991, No. 685, § 11, provided:

"The provisions of this act shall be in full force and effect for all income years beginning on and after January 1, 1991."

Amendments. The 1999 amendment added (d); and made stylistic changes.

The 2005 amendment substituted "the extension was granted" for "therefor" in (a)(2); substituted "one hundred twenty (120)" for "ninety (90)" in (a)(3)(A); and substituted "sixty-day" for "ninety-day" in (a)(3)(B).

The 2007 amendment deleted the subsection designation (a)(3)(A); in present (a)(3), substituted "Except for a corporation income tax return as provided in § 26-51-807(c), the" for "The" and substituted "eighty (180)" for "twenty (120)"; and deleted former (a)(3)(B).

Effective Dates. Acts 1999, No. 1126, § 43: effective for tax years beginning on or after January 1, 1999.

Acts 2007, No. 369, § 4, provided: "This act shall be effective for tax years beginning on or after January 1, 2007."

26-18-506. Preservation of records by taxpayers.

(a) It is the duty of every taxpayer required to make a return of any tax due under any state tax law to keep and preserve suitable records as are necessary to determine the amount of tax due or to prove the accuracy of any return.

(b) Unless otherwise provided by law, the taxpayer is required to keep and maintain all records within the State of Arkansas and for at least six (6) years after a return was filed. These records are subject to examination by the director at any reasonable time.

(c) When the records required by this section are kept outside the State of Arkansas in the usual course of business, they shall be produced within the state within fifteen (15) days after receipt of demand by the director. If the taxpayer determines it is impractical, then the taxpayer may request, and the director may grant, permission to have the records audited wherever they may be.

(d) When a taxpayer fails to preserve and maintain the records required by any state tax law, the director may, in his discretion, make an estimated assessment based upon information available to him as to the amount of tax due by the taxpayer. The burden of proof of refuting this estimated assessment is upon the taxpayer.

History. Acts 1979, No. 401, § 11; A.S.A. 1947, § 84-4711.

Case Notes

Burden of Proof.
Evidence.

Burden of Proof.

Where taxpayer's records showed transactions were leases but taxpayer did not maintain the required records, the burden of refuting the assessment was upon the taxpayer. Weiss v. Best Enters., Inc., 323 Ark. 712, 917 S.W.2d 543 (1996).

Evidence.

Evidence insufficient to refute the reasonableness of the estimated assessments; however, evidence insufficient to support finding as to the amount of gross sales. Jones v. Ragland, 293 Ark. 320, 737 S.W.2d 641 (1987).

Absent adequate additional documentation or testimony from the parties involved, the gross receipts tax would be levied against the taxpayer on transactions involving both sales and services and the taxpayer had the burden of refuting the reasonableness of the estimated tax assessments. Leathers v. A & B Dirt Movers, Inc., 311 Ark. 320, 844 S.W.2d 314 (1992).

26-18-507. Claims for refunds of overpayments.

(a) (1) Any taxpayer who has paid any state tax to the State of Arkansas in excess of the taxes lawfully due, subject to the requirements of this chapter, shall be refunded the overpayment of the tax determined by the Director of the Department of Finance and Administration to be erroneously paid upon the filing of an amended return or a verified claim for refund.

(2) This subsection does not include an action based on Arkansas Constitution, Article 16, § 13.

(b) The claim shall specify:

(1) The name of the taxpayer;

(2) The time when and the period for which the tax was paid;

(3) The nature and kind of tax paid;

(4) The amount of the tax which the taxpayer claimed was erroneously paid;

(5) The grounds upon which a refund is claimed; and

(6) Any other information relative to the payment as may be prescribed by the director.

(c) The director shall determine what amount of refund, if any, is due as soon as practicable after a claim has been filed, but in no event shall the taxpayer be entitled to file a suit for refund under § 26-18-406, until at least six (6) months have elapsed from the date of the filing of the claim for refund, or the director has issued a notice of denial of a claim for refund.

(d) Notwithstanding any provisions of the law to the contrary, a taxpayer who acts only as an agent of the state in the collection of any state tax shall be entitled to claim a credit or refund of such tax only if the taxpayer establishes that he or she has:

(1) Borne the tax in question;

(2) Repaid the amount of the tax to the person from whom he or she collected it;

or

(3) Obtained the consent of the person to the allowance of the credit or refund.

(e) (1) (A) The director shall make a written determination and give notice to the taxpayer concerning whether or not a refund is due.

(B) If a refund is due, the director shall certify that the claim is to be paid to the taxpayer as provided by law or credited against taxes due or to become due.

(2) (A) If the director's determination is to disallow the claim for refund, in whole or in part, then the director shall forthwith issue a written decision giving notice to the taxpayer of the denial of the claim for refund.

(B) The taxpayer may seek administrative review and relief from the director's decision to deny a claim for refund by protesting as provided in §§ 26-18-404 and 26-18-405.

(3) The taxpayer may seek judicial relief under the provisions of § 26-18-406 from:

(A) A notice of a denial of a claim for refund issued by the director; or

(B) The director's failure to issue a written decision after the claim for refund has been filed for six (6) months.

(f) (1) This section shall not apply to taxes paid as a result of an audit or proposed assessment.

(2) Taxes paid as a result of an audit or proposed assessment may not be recovered unless § 26-18-406 applies.

A.C.R.C. Notes. Acts 1997, No. 1139, § 10, provided:

“The General Assembly intends, by the passage of this amendment to the provisions of the Arkansas Tax Procedure Act, to clarify its intent that taxpayers involved in state tax disputes with the Arkansas Department of Finance and Administration shall have, as much as possible, the opportunity to secure an objective review of their dispute by a court at law through: (1) the posting of bond method; (2) the payment after assessment method; or (3) the claim for refund method, after the payment by the taxpayer of all state taxes claimed to be due from the taxpayer for at least one complete taxable period involved in the audit period. It is also intended by the General Assembly that the courts of this state are to recognize the ‘divisible tax theory’ applicable to the review of federal tax dispute by federal courts, as also being applicable to the review of state tax disputes by the courts of this state.”

Amendments. The 1997 amendment, in (c), substituted “§ 26-18-406” for “subsection (e) of this section” and added “or the director has issued a final notice of claim disallowance”; and rewrote (e).

The 1999 amendment by No. 1277 substituted “issued a notice of denial of a claim for refund” for “issued a final notice of claim disallowance” in (c); substituted “denial of the claim for refund” for “proposed disallowance of the claim for refund” in (e)(2)(A); rewrote (e)(2)(B); deleted (e)(2)(C); and substituted “a notice of a denial of a claim for refund” for “a final notice of claim disallowance” in (e)(3)(A); and made stylistic changes.

The 1999 amendment by No. 1373, in (a), deleted “through error of fact, computation, or mistake of law” following “State of Arkansas” and added the last sentence; and made stylistic changes.

The 2003 amendment added (f).

Case Notes

Applicability.

Class Action.

Applicability.

This section deals with a taxpayer's overpayment through “error of fact, computation, or mistake of law,” and does not apply to payment made under protest. Taber v. Pledger, 302 Ark. 484, 791 S.W.2d 361 (Ark. 1990).

Where a taxpayer challenges a tax statute as patently unconstitutional, rather than unconstitutional in its application, she is not required to file a refund claim for the State to waive sovereign immunity. Carson v. Weiss, 333 Ark. 561, 972 S.W.2d 933 (1998), appeal dismissed, sub nom. Fisher v. Chavers, 351 Ark. 318, 92 S.W.3d 30 (2002).

Where a taxpayer did not appeal a final assessment, but instead filed a verified claim for refund and for abatement, the suit was not timely; further, the plain language demonstrated that this section applied only to those cases where a taxpayer had erroneously or mistakenly overpaid taxes, and not where a taxpayer paid the amount assessed deliberately in order to challenge a final assessment of additional taxes following an audit. Baker Refrigeration Sys. v. Weiss, 360 Ark. 388, 201 S.W.3d 900 (2005).

Class Action.

There must be full compliance with subdivision (e)(2)(A) before sovereign immunity is waived; therefore, where only one taxpayer has claimed a refund, no taxpayer class action can be certified. State, Dep't of Fin. & Admin. v. Staton, 325 Ark. 341, 942 S.W.2d 804 (1996); State, Dep't of Fin. & Admin. v. Tedder, 326 Ark. 495, 932 S.W.2d 755 (1996).

In action by taxpayers for refunds, chancellor lacked authority to certify as members of class taxpayers who had not filed refund claims, because sovereign immunity was waived only for plaintiffs who had followed the procedure outlined in this section. ACW, Inc. v. Weiss, 329 Ark. 302, 947 S.W.2d 770 (1997).

26-18-508. Interest on deficiencies and overpayments.

Interest shall be collected on tax deficiencies and paid on overpayments as follows:

(1) A tax levied under any state tax law which is not paid when due is delinquent. Interest at the rate of ten percent (10%) per annum shall be collected on the total tax deficiency from the date the return for the tax was due to be filed until the date of payment;

(2) Interest on a tax deficiency shall be assessed at the same time as the tax deficiency. The tax deficiency together with the interest shall be paid upon notice and demand by the Director of the Department of Finance and Administration;

(3) When any overpayment has been made by a taxpayer, the overpayment shall be refunded together with interest at the rate of ten percent (10%) per annum;

(4) Interest on overpayments shall be paid from the date the return for the tax was due to be filed or the date the return is filed, whichever occurs later, until a date, to be determined by the director, preceding the date of the refund warrant by not more than thirty (30) days, whether or not the warrant is accepted by the taxpayer;

(5) No interest shall be allowed on an overpayment of tax that is refunded by the director within ninety (90) days after the last date provided for filing the return for the tax including any extension of time for filing the return, or ninety (90) days after the date the return is filed, whichever occurs later; and

(6) (A) In lieu of the amount of interest otherwise provided by this section, when an election to defer the payment of estate tax is made pursuant to the provisions of § 26-59-113(c), then the amount of interest on the deferred portion of the estate tax qualifying for the election shall be at the rate of four percent (4%) per annum on the balance of the payments due under the installment deferral election.

(B) However, the four percent (4%) interest rate shall only apply to the "4-percent portion" as that term is defined in 26 U.S.C. § 6601(j)(2), as it existed on January 1, 1989.

(C) The interest rate on the estate tax exceeding the "4-percent portion" shall be at the rate specified in subdivision (1) of this section.

History. Acts 1979, No. 401, § 8; 1983, No. 379, § 21; A.S.A. 1947, § 84-4708; Acts 1989, No. 910, § 3; 2005, No. 262, § 1; 2007, No. 827, § 197.

A.C.R.C. Notes. Acts 1989, No. 910, § 1, provided:

“It is hereby found and determined that it has been the policy of the General Assembly to attempt to conform federal and Arkansas tax laws, as much as possible, so as to eliminate confusion and complexity in the administration of Arkansas state tax laws, and to provide Arkansas citizens with the same treatment for state taxes as they receive for federal taxes. Federal tax law now provides a special installment deferral for the payment of federal estate taxes for certain qualifying assets (generally family farms and closely held businesses) of a decedent's estate that are inherited by the members of the decedent's family. This special installment deferral provision, of up to fifteen (15) years at a four percent (4%) interest rate, has been enacted by Congress to encourage the continued ownership of family farms and closely held family businesses, rather than forcing the sale or heavy mortgaging of the assets of such businesses to immediately pay estate taxes. Arkansas estate tax law does not now contain similar provisions. Arkansas law now requires a much quicker payment of Arkansas estate taxes on assets of a decedent's estate comprising family farms and closely held family businesses. The General Assembly finds and determines that the estates of Arkansas decedents that are entitled to claim the special deferral payment of federal estate taxes, at a four percent (4%) interest rate, should also be entitled to those same privileges for the payment of Arkansas Estate Tax.”

Amendments. The 2005 amendment inserted “or the date the return is filed, whichever occurs later” in (4); and rewrote (5).

The 2007 amendment substituted “as it existed on January 1, 1989” for “(Supp. 1988),” and made a related change.

Subchapter 6 — Licenses, Permits, and Registrations

26-18-601. Cancellation or refusal of license or permit.

26-18-602. Judicial review of cancellation decision.

26-18-601. Cancellation or refusal of license or permit.

(a) The director may cancel or refuse to issue, extend, or reinstate any license, permit, or registration under any state tax law to any person or taxpayer who has within the last three (3) years:

(1) Failed to observe or fulfill the conditions upon which the license or permit was issued; or

(2) Failed to pay any delinquent tax or penalty.

(b) (1) When the director determines, in his sole discretion, that an emergency situation exists and that the public welfare and safety are endangered, he may issue an order temporarily suspending a license, permit, or registration pending a hearing before him on the subject of the cancellation of the license, permit, or registration.

(2) The director shall give notice of the temporary suspension at the same time that he gives notice of his intention to cancel or to refuse to issue, extend, or reinstate any license, permit, or duplicate copy thereof, as provided by this section.

(3) The director shall as soon as practicable, but in any event within three (3) days after the request of the taxpayer, hold a hearing on whether the temporary suspension should be made permanent.

(4) The temporary suspension shall be made permanent without a hearing unless the taxpayer requests a hearing within twenty (20) days of receipt of notice of the temporary suspension.

(c) Except as set out in subsection (b) of this section, before the director may cancel or refuse to issue, extend, or reinstate any license, permit, or registration, he shall give notice of his proposed action, and the owner or applicant shall have twenty (20) days after receipt of the director's decision to request a hearing.

(d) (1) When a license, permit, or registration is cancelled by the director, all accrued fees, taxes, and penalties, even though not due and payable at the time of cancellation under the state tax law imposing and levying the tax, shall become due concurrently with the cancellation of the license, permit, or registration.

(2) The licensee or permittee shall within five (5) business days of cancellation make a report to the director covering the period not previously covered by reports filed by that person and ending with the date of the cancellation and shall pay all accrued fees, taxes, and penalties at the time the report is made.

(3) Violation of this subsection is a Class C misdemeanor.

(e) (1) The affected taxpayer may seek relief from the decision of the director cancelling a license, permit, or registration by requesting a hearing, pursuant to subsections (b) and (c) of this section, by filing a written protest of the action with the hearing officer appointed by the director, pursuant to § 26-18-405, and the hearing officer shall hold all hearings requested pursuant to this section.

(2) The hearing officer shall issue a written decision on all hearings which shall be final unless revised by the director.

(3) The hearings and determinations of the hearing officer shall not be subject to the provisions of the Arkansas Administrative Procedure Act, § 25-15-201 et seq.

(4) (A) A taxpayer may request a revision by the director of the hearing officer's determination which is adverse to him within twenty (20) days of the date of the mailing of the hearing officer's decision.

(B) If the director refuses to make a revision, or if the taxpayer does not request a revision, then the affected taxpayer may seek relief from the hearing officer's decision or the final revision determination by the director by following the method provided in § 26-18-602.

(f) Violations of this section shall be punished as provided in § 26-18-206. The director may seek to enjoin any violation of any state tax law the director is charged to enforce.

26-18-602. Judicial review of cancellation decision.

(a) (1) The affected taxpayer may seek relief from the decision of the director, rendered after a hearing, cancelling a license, permit, or registration.

(2) The taxpayer's petition seeking an order to stay the effect of the director's decision shall be filed within thirty (30) days after receipt of notice of that decision by the taxpayer with the Pulaski County Circuit Court or the circuit court of the county in which the taxpayer resides or has his or her principal place of business, where the matter shall be tried de novo.

(b) (1) Relief from the decision of the director cancelling a license, permit, or registration may be taken only as provided in this section.

(2) (A) To stay the effect of the director's decision, the person or taxpayer shall file a bond not to exceed twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000) with and in an amount fixed by the director, payable to the State of Arkansas.

(B) The bond shall be conditioned upon:

(i) The faithful and diligent prosecution of the appeal by the taxpayer to a final determination; and

(ii) The immediate compliance of the taxpayer with the director's decision if the director's decision is not enjoined by the circuit court or upon appeal is upheld by the Supreme Court.

(3) The director may, in his or her discretion, refuse to stay the effect of his or her decision and permit a bond to be posted when he or she determines in his or her sole discretion that the public safety and welfare would be endangered by the stay.

(c) The venue for all actions seeking relief from a decision of the director concerning the cancellation of or refusal of the issuance of a license or permit shall be the Pulaski County Circuit Court or the circuit court of the county in which the taxpayer resides or has his or her principal place of business.

26-18-701. Issuance of certificates of indebtedness and execution.

(a) (1) (A) If a taxpayer does not timely and properly pursue his or her remedies seeking relief from a decision of the Director of the Department of Finance and Administration and a final assessment is made against the taxpayer, or if the taxpayer fails to pay the deficiency assessed upon notice and demand, then the director shall, as soon as practicable thereafter, issue to the circuit clerk of any county of the state a certificate of indebtedness certifying that the person named in the certificate of indebtedness is indebted to the state for the amount of the tax established by the director as due.

(B) (i) If a taxpayer has a delinquent tax liability to the State of Arkansas of less than one thousand dollars ($1,000), the director may enter into an agreement with the taxpayer to allow the taxpayer to pay the delinquency in installments.

(ii) The director may choose not to issue a certificate of indebtedness during the period of the installment agreement if he or she determines that it is in the best interest of the state.

(2) The circuit clerk shall enter immediately upon the circuit court judgment docket:

(A) The name of the delinquent taxpayer;

(B) The amount certified as being due;

(C) The name of the tax; and

(D) The date of entry upon the judgment docket.

(3) (A) (i) The entry of the certificate of indebtedness shall have the same force and effect as the entry of a judgment rendered by the circuit court.

(ii) This entry shall constitute the state's lien upon the title of any real and personal property of the taxpayer in the county where the certificate of indebtedness is recorded.

(B) This lien is:

(i) In addition to any other lien existing in favor of the state to secure payment of taxes, applicable interest, penalties, and costs, including any costs the circuit clerk is entitled to receive as provided by law for either the filing or the release of this lien; and

(ii) Superior to:

(a) Other liens of any type or character attaching to the property after the date of entry of the certificate of indebtedness on the judgment docket; and

(b) All claims of unsecured creditors.

(C) (i) The certificate of indebtedness authorized by this subsection shall continue in force for ten (10) years from the date of recording and shall automatically expire after the ten-year period has run.

(ii) An action on the lien on the certificate of indebtedness shall be commenced within ten (10) years after the date of recording of the certificate, and not afterward.

(iii) The director shall not be required to file a release on a lien which has expired and the provisions of § 26-18-808 dealing with failure to release liens are not applicable to this section.

(iv) The provisions of this subsection are applicable to both liens already on file and all future filings of liens.

(b) (1) After entry of the certificate of indebtedness, the circuit clerk shall issue a writ of execution directed to the director, authorizing the director to levy upon and against all real and personal property of the taxpayer.

(2) The director shall have all remedies and may take all proceedings for the collection of the tax which may be taken for the recovery of a judgment at law.

(3) The writ of execution shall be issued, served, and executed in the same manner as provided for in the issuance and service of executions rendered by the circuit courts of this state, except the director shall act in the place of the county sheriffs.

(4) The director shall have this authority for all liens either presently filed or filed after the passage of this act.

(c) (1) Nothing in this chapter shall preclude the director from resorting to any other means provided by law for collecting delinquent taxes.

(2) The issuance of a certificate of indebtedness, entry by the circuit clerk, and levy of execution as provided in this section shall not constitute an election of remedies with respect to the collection of the tax.

(3) The taxes, interest, penalties, and fees, including any costs the circuit clerk is entitled to receive as provided by law in these matters, imposed or levied by any state tax law, when due, may be collected in the same way as a personal debt of the taxpayer.

(4) In the name of the state, the director may sue to the same effect and extent as for the enforcement of a right of action for debt.

(5) All provisional remedies available in these actions are available to the State of Arkansas in the enforcement of the payment of any state tax.

(d) (1) (A) In addition to the remedies provided in subsections (b) and (c) of this section, the director may direct the circuit clerk to issue a writ of execution directed to the sheriff of any county authorizing the sheriff to levy upon and against all real and personal property of the taxpayer.

(B) The writ of execution shall be issued, served, and executed in the same manner as provided for in the issuance and service of executions rendered by the circuit courts of this state.

(2) (A) The circuit clerk and sheriff shall be entitled to receive the same fees provided by law in these matters.

(B) These fees shall be collected from the taxpayer by either the director or the sheriff in addition to the tax, penalties, and interest included in the certificate of indebtedness.

(C) If the sheriff is unable after diligent effort to collect the tax, interest, penalties, and costs, the director may pay such fees as are properly shown to be due to the clerk and sheriff.

(e) The director may contract with persons inside or outside the state to help the director collect delinquencies of resident or nonresident taxpayers.

Assessments.

Judgments.

Assessments.

When person paid taxes on yearly assessment made on property, state could not recover further taxes where merely a mistake had been made in assessing the property too low, and a review by courts was permitted only when assessors proceeded on wrong basis of valuation in omitting some property or element of value or in adopting wrong basis of estimating value. State ex rel. Norwood v. Kansas City & M. Ry. & Bridge Co., 106 Ark. 248, 153 S.W. 614 (1913) (decision under prior law).

Authority to Sue.

Former statute that authorized tax commission to "direct" and "approve" suits against corporations for collection of back taxes was repealed by implication by so much of a subsequent statute as authorized the attorney general to bring action therefor. State ex rel. Attorney Gen. v. Standard Oil Co., 179 Ark. 280, 16 S.W.2d 581 (1929) (decision under prior law).

Demurrer to complaint should have been sustained where complaint did not contain allegation that attorney general had been directed by tax commission to bring suit. State ex rel. Att'y Gen. v. Republic Mining & Mfg. Co., 185 Ark. 1119, 52 S.W.2d 43 (1932) (decision under prior law).

Former statute authorizing the attorney general to bring suits to recover overdue taxes due from corporations had been impliedly repealed as to delinquent severance taxes, the collection of which was conferred on the commissioner of revenues by Acts 1933, No. 82 (superseded by § 26-17-304), and Acts 1935, No. 131 (repealed). Wiseman v. Arkansas-Louisiana Pipe Line Co., 191 Ark. 195, 85 S.W.2d 703 (Ark. 1935) (decision under prior law).

Corporations.

Former statute gave state right to recover back taxes on a corporation's personal property by personal judgment against the corporation which owned it at the time it was either omitted from taxation or was grossly undervalued, and where it had gone into the hands of a subsequent purchaser, the purchaser could be made a party and the state's lien enforced. State ex rel. Attorney Gen. v. Chicago Mill & Lumber Corp., 184 Ark. 1011, 45 S.W.2d 26 (1931) (decision under prior law).

A personal judgment could not be rendered against a corporation for back taxes due on property during the period another corporation had owned it, though both corporations had the same stockholders and directors. State ex rel. Attorney Gen. v. Chicago Mill & Lumber Corp., 184 Ark. 1011, 45 S.W.2d 26 (1931) (decision under prior law).

A foreign corporation doing business in state could be sued in the county of its principal office for back taxes on property during the years it owned the property. State ex rel. Attorney Gen. v. Chicago Mill & Lumber Corp., 184 Ark. 1011, 45 S.W.2d 26 (1931) (decision under prior law).

A foreign corporation which had withdrawn from state and was not doing business in state could not be sued for back taxes. State ex rel. Attorney Gen. v. Chicago Mill & Lumber Corp., 184 Ark. 1011, 45 S.W.2d 26 (1931) (decision under prior law).

Filing of Lien.

Because 11 U.S.C.S. § 522(c)(2)(B) applied only to a properly filed lien, and because the creditor state taxing authority had filed its lien in the wrong county, the lien did not attach to the debtor's property under subdivision (a)(3)(A) of this section, and thus, was avoidable in the debtor's bankruptcy under 11 U.S.C.S. § 506(d) as an unsecured lien. Roper v. Barclay, 286 B.R. 693 (Bankr. E.D. Ark. Oct. 19, 2002), aff'd, 294 B.R. 301 (B.A.P. 8th Cir. 2003).

Judgments.

Former statute authorized a personal judgment when property was of such a character that payment could not otherwise be enforced; however, where only land was involved, court was merely authorized to find in decree the amount of taxes due and declare the amount to be a lien on the lands and order each tract sold for back taxes unless paid within three months after decree. White River Lumber Co. v. State, 175 Ark. 956, 2 S.W.2d 25 (1928), aff'd, 279 U.S. 692, 49 S. Ct. 457 (1929) (decision under prior law).

26-18-702. Injunction proceedings.

(a) When a return required under any state tax law has not been filed or does not furnish all the information required by the Director of the Department of Finance and Administration or when the taxes imposed by any state tax law have not been paid or when any required license or permit has not been secured, the director, in the name of the State of Arkansas, may institute any necessary action or proceeding in the Pulaski County Circuit Court to enjoin the person or taxpayer from continuing operations until the report or return has been filed, required licenses or permits secured, or taxes paid as required.

(b) The injunction shall be issued without a bond being required from the state.

History. Acts 1979, No. 401, § 28; A.S.A. 1947, § 84-4728.

26-18-703. Appointment of receivers.

At the director's request, the court shall appoint a receiver to manage the property of the taxpayer upon a proper showing by the director that the claim of the state of any state tax is in danger of being lost or rendered uncollectible because of mismanagement, dissipation, or concealment of the property by the taxpayer.

History. Acts 1979, No. 401, § 28; A.S.A. 1947, § 84-4728.

26-18-704. Proceedings against localities.

When a county, city, town, or other political subdivision of the state fails or refuses to pay any tax due under any state tax law, the procedure for collecting the tax shall be the same as for any other taxpayer.

History. Acts 1979, No. 401, § 29; A.S.A. 1947, § 84-4729.

26-18-705. Settlement or compromise of liability controversies.

(a) The director may enter into an agreement to compound, settle, or compromise any controversy relating to a state tax or any admitted or established tax liability as to any tax collectible under any state law when:

(1) The controversy is over the amount of tax due; or

(2) The inability to pay results from the insolvency of the taxpayer.

(b) The director may waive or remit the interest or penalty, or any portion of the interest or penalty, ordinarily accruing because of a taxpayer's failure to pay a state tax within the statutory period allowed for its payment:

(1) If the taxpayer's failure to pay the tax is satisfactorily explained to the director;

(2) If the failure results from a mistake by the taxpayer of either the law or the facts subjecting him or her to such tax; or

(3) If the inability to pay the interest or penalty results from the insolvency or bankruptcy of the taxpayer.

(c) (1) In settling or compromising any controversy relating to the liability of a person for any state tax for any taxable period, the director may enter into a written closing agreement concerning the liability.

(2) When the closing agreement is signed by the director, it shall be final and conclusive, and except upon a showing of fraud or misrepresentation of a material fact, no additional assessment or collection shall be made by the director, and the taxpayer shall not institute any judicial proceeding to recover such liabilities as agreed to in the closing agreement.

(d) The Director of the Department of Finance and Administration shall promulgate rules and regulations establishing guidelines for determining whether a proposed offer in compromise is adequate and is acceptable to resolve a tax dispute.

History. Acts 1979, No. 401, § 24; A.S.A. 1947, § 84-4724; Acts 1999, No. 1126, § 5.

Amendments. The 1999 amendment added (d).

Effective Dates. Acts 1999, No. 1126, § 43: effective for tax years beginning on or after January 1, 1999.

26-18-706. Release of property from lien.

(a) Upon written application by any person, the Director of the Department of Finance and Administration may release affected property from the lien imposed by any assessment, order, judgment, or certificate of indebtedness obtained by or from any levy made by the director if:

(1) Either full payment is made to the director of the sum he or she considers adequate consideration for the release, including any costs the circuit clerk is entitled to receive as provided by law in these matters; or

(2) Adequate security deposit is made with the director to secure the payment of the debt evidenced by the lien, including any costs the circuit clerk is entitled to receive as provided by law in these matters.

(b) When the director determines that his or her assessment, certificate of indebtedness, or judgment is clouding the title of property because of an error in the description of properties or similarity in names, the director may issue a release without the payment of any consideration or any costs the circuit clerk is entitled to receive, as provided by law in these matters.

(c) The director's release shall be given under his or her seal and filed in the office of the circuit clerk in the county in which the lien is filed, or it shall be recorded in any office in which conveyances of real estate may be recorded.

History. Acts 1979, No. 401, § 25; A.S.A. 1947, § 84-4725; Acts 2003, No. 1085, § 3.

Amendments. The 2003 amendment, in (a), substituted "Director of the Department of Finance and Administration" for "director," "affected" for "any" and "the director" for "him"; inserted "including any ... in these matters" in (a)(1) and (a)(2); in (b), inserted "or any costs ... in these matters"; and made gender neutral changes throughout the section.

26-18-707. Extension of comity.

The courts of this state shall recognize and enforce liability for taxes lawfully imposed by other states which extend a like comity to this state.

History. Acts 1979, No. 401, § 31; A.S.A. 1947, § 84-4731.

26-18-708. Spousal relief.

(a) If a return required under any state tax law has been filed by a husband and wife and the amount of tax due on the return was understated by either the omission of an amount properly includable in the return or by erroneous deductions or credits attributable to one (1) spouse, upon written request, the Director of the Department of Finance and Administration may relieve the other spouse of liability for any tax, penalty, or interest attributable to the understatement of tax for that return.

(b) In determining whether to grant the relief set out in subsection (a) of this section, the director may take into consideration the following factors:

(1) Whether the spouse making the request for relief has significantly benefited, either directly or indirectly, from the understatement of tax;

(2) Whether the spouse making the request for relief knew or had reason to know of the understatement of tax; and

(3) Any other fact or circumstance which would make it inequitable to hold the spouse making the request for relief liable for the deficiency resulting from the understatement of tax.

(c) As used in subdivision (b)(2) of this section, “reason to know” means whether a reasonably prudent person would have known that an understatement was made.

(d) As used in subsection (a) of this section, “attributable to one (1) spouse” means that the understatement on the return was the result of the actions taken or information supplied by that spouse.

26-18-802. Disclosure of rights of taxpayer.

(a) The Director of the Department of Finance and Administration shall, as soon as practicable, but not later than one hundred eighty (180) days after July 3, 1989, prepare a statement which sets forth in simple and nontechnical terms:

- (1) The rights of a taxpayer and the obligations of the director during an audit;
- (2) The procedure by which a taxpayer may appeal any adverse decision of the director, including administrative and judicial appeals;
- (3) The procedures for prosecuting refund claims and for filing of taxpayer complaints; and
- (4) The procedures which the director may use in enforcing the state's revenue laws, including assessment, estimated assessment, jeopardy assessment, and the filing and enforcement of liens.

(b) The statement prepared in accordance with subsection (a) of this section shall be distributed by the director to a taxpayer:

- (1) When a proposed assessment of any state tax is made against the taxpayer or when the taxpayer is contacted by the director for an examination of the taxpayer's records, whichever is earlier;
- (2) When requested by the taxpayer; and
- (3) At any time the director deems it appropriate.

(c) The director shall take such actions as the director deems necessary to ensure that such distribution does not result in multiple statements being sent to any one (1) taxpayer.

History. Acts 1989, No. 590, § 1.

Penalty.

Penalty.

This section has no sanctions or penalties provided for when the Department of Finance & Administration fails to prepare and distribute taxpayer statements on the various matters provided in this section. Hercules, Inc. v. Pledger, 319 Ark. 702, 894 S.W.2d 576 (1995).

26-18-803. Procedures involving taxpayer interviews.

(a) Recording of Interviews.

(1) Recording by Taxpayer. Any agent of the director in connection with any in-person interview with any taxpayer relating to the determination or collection of any tax shall, upon advance request of such taxpayer, allow the taxpayer to make an audio recording of such interview at the taxpayer's expense and with the taxpayer's equipment.

(2) Recording by Director. An agent of the director may make an audio recording of any interview described in subdivision (1) of this subsection if such agent:

(A) Informs the taxpayer of such recording prior to the interview; and

(B) Upon request of the taxpayer, provides the taxpayer with a copy of such recording, but only if the taxpayer provides reimbursement for the cost of the reproduction of such copy.

(b) Safeguards.

(1) Explanations of Processes. An agent of the director, before or at an initial interview, shall provide to the taxpayer:

(A) In the case of an in-person interview with the taxpayer relating to the determination of any tax, an explanation of the audit process and the taxpayer's rights under such process; or

(B) In the case of an in-person interview with the taxpayer relating to the collection of any tax, an explanation of the collection process and the taxpayer's rights under such process.

(2) Right of Consultation. If the taxpayer clearly states to an agent of the director at any time during any interview, other than during an interview initiated by an administrative summons issued under § 26-18-305, that the taxpayer wishes to consult with an attorney, certified public accountant, or any other person permitted to represent the taxpayer before the director, then such agent shall suspend such interview regardless of whether the taxpayer may have answered one or more questions. However, the taxpayer may be requested to sign a waiver extending the time the director has for making a final assessment as provided by § 26-18-401. If the taxpayer refuses to sign such a waiver, the taxpayer may be subject to an estimated assessment by the director.

(c) Representatives Holding Power of Attorney.

(1) Any attorney, certified public accountant, or any other person, permitted to represent the taxpayer before the director who is not disbarred or suspended from practice may be authorized by such taxpayer to represent the taxpayer in any interview described in subsection (a) of this section.

(2) An agent of the director may not require a taxpayer to accompany the representative in the absence of an administrative summons issued to the taxpayer under § 26-18-305.

(3) Such agent, with the consent of the immediate supervisor of such agent, may notify the taxpayer directly that such agent believes such representative is responsible for unreasonable delay or hindrance of an examination or investigation of the taxpayer.

(d) Section Not to Apply to Certain Investigations. This section shall not apply to criminal investigations or investigations relating to the integrity of any agent of the director.

History. Acts 1989, No. 590, § 1.

26-18-804. Abatement of penalty or addition to tax due to erroneous written advice by director — Limitations.

(a) In General. The director shall abate any portion of any penalty or addition to tax attributable to erroneous advice furnished to the taxpayer in writing by an agent of the director acting in such agent's official capacity.

(b) Limitations. The provisions of subsection (a) of this section shall apply only if:

(1) The written advice was reasonably relied upon by the taxpayer and was in response to a specific written request of the taxpayer; and

(2) The portion of the penalty or addition to tax did not result from a failure by the taxpayer to provide adequate or accurate information.

History. Acts 1989, No. 590, § 1.

26-18-805. Basis for evaluation of employees.

The director shall not use records of tax collection results to:

(1) Evaluate employees directly involved in collection activities, and their immediate supervisors; or

(2) Impose or suggest production quotas or goals with respect to employees directly involved in collection activities, and their immediate supervisors.

History. Acts 1989, No. 590, § 1.

26-18-806. Content of tax due, deficiency, and other notices.

(a) General Rule.

(1) Any notice to which this section applies shall describe the basis for, and identify the amounts (if any) of, the tax due, interest, additional amounts, additions to the tax, and assessable penalties included in such notice.

(2) An inadequate description under this subsection shall not invalidate such notice.

(b) Notice to Which Section Applies. This section shall apply to:

(1) Any notice to be given by the director described in § 26-18-307;

(2) Any notice generated out of any information return matching program; and

(3) The first letter of the proposed deficiency which allows the taxpayer an opportunity for administrative review under the Arkansas Tax Procedure Act, § 26-18-101 et seq.

History. Acts 1989, No. 590, § 1.

26-18-807. Agreements for payment of tax liability in installments.

(a) Authorization of Agreements. The director is authorized to enter into written agreements with any taxpayer under which such taxpayer is allowed to satisfy liability for payment of any tax in installment payments, if the director determines that such agreement will facilitate collection of such liability.

(b) Extent to Which Agreements Remain in Effect.

(1) In General. Except as otherwise provided in this subsection, any agreement entered into by the director under subsection (a) of this section shall remain in effect for the term of the agreement.

(2) Inadequate Information or Jeopardy. The director may terminate any agreement entered into by the director under subsection (a) of this section if the following conditions apply:

(A) Information which the taxpayer provided to the director prior to the date such agreement was entered into was inaccurate or incomplete; or

(B) The director believes that collection of any tax to which an agreement under this section relates is in jeopardy.

(3) Subsequent Change in Financial Conditions.

(A) In General. If the director makes a determination that the financial condition of a taxpayer with whom the director has entered into an agreement under subsection (a) of this section has significantly changed, the director may alter, modify, or terminate such agreement.

(B) Notice. Action may be taken by the director under subdivision (A) of this subdivision only if:

(i) Notice of such determination is provided to the taxpayer no later than thirty (30) days prior to the date of such action; and

(ii) Such notice includes the reasons why the director believes a significant change in the financial condition of the taxpayer has occurred.

(4) Failure to Pay an Installment or any Other Tax Liability When Due or to Provide Requested Financial Information. The director may alter, modify, or terminate an agreement entered into by the director under subsection (a) of this section in the case of the failure of the taxpayer to:

(A) Pay any installment at the time such installment payment is due under such agreement;

(B) Pay any other tax liability at the time such liability is due; or

(C) Provide a financial condition update as requested by the director.

History. Acts 1989, No. 590, § 1.

26-18-808. Civil damages for failure to release lien.

(a) In General. If any employee of the director knowingly, or by reason of negligence, fails to release a lien under § 26-18-706 or § 26-18-811 on property of the taxpayer, such taxpayer may bring a civil action for damages against the director in court.

(b) Damages. In any action brought under subsection (a) of this section, upon a finding of liability on the part of the defendant, the defendant shall be liable to the plaintiff in an amount equal to the sum of the following:

(1) Actual, direct, economic damages sustained by the plaintiff which, but for the action of the defendant, would not have been sustained; plus

(2) The costs of the action.

(c) Limitations.

(1) Requirement that Administrative Remedies Be Exhausted. A judgment for damages shall not be awarded under subsection (b) of this section, unless the court determines that the plaintiff has exhausted the administrative remedies available to such plaintiff within the Department of Finance and Administration, Revenue Division.

(2) Mitigation of Damages. The amount of damages awarded under subdivision (b)(1) of this section shall be reduced by the amount of such damages which could have reasonably been mitigated by the plaintiff.

(3) Period for Bringing Action. Notwithstanding any other provision of the law, an action to enforce liability created under this section may be brought without regard to the amount in controversy and may be brought only within two (2) years after the date the right of action accrues.

(d) Notice of Failure to Release Lien. The director shall by regulation prescribe reasonable procedures for a taxpayer to notify the director of the failure to release a lien on property of the taxpayer.

26-18-809. Civil damages for certain unauthorized collection actions.

(a) In General. If, in connection with any collection of state tax with respect to a taxpayer, any employee of the Department of Finance and Administration, Revenue Division, recklessly or intentionally disregards any provision of this title, or any regulation promulgated under this title, such taxpayer may bring a civil action for damages against the director. Except as provided in § 26-18-808, such civil action shall be the exclusive remedy for recovering damages resulting from such actions.

(b) Damages. In any action brought under subsection (a) of this section, upon a finding of liability on the part of the defendant, the defendant shall be liable to the plaintiff in an amount equal to the lesser of ten thousand dollars ($10,000) or the sum of:

- (1) Actual, direct economic damages sustained by the plaintiff as a proximate result of the reckless or intentional actions of the officer or employee; and
- (2) The costs of the action.

(c) Limitations.

(1) Requirement that Administrative Remedies Be Exhausted. A judgment for damages shall not be awarded under subsection (b) of this section unless the court determines that the plaintiff has exhausted the administrative remedies available to such plaintiff within the Department of Finance and Administration, Revenue Division.

(2) Mitigation of Damages. The amount of damages awarded under subdivision (b)(1) of this section shall be reduced by the amount of such damages which could have reasonably been mitigated by the plaintiff.

(3) Period for Bringing Action. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, an action to enforce liability created under this section may be brought without regard to the amount in controversy and may be brought only within two (2) years after the date the right of action accrues.

(d) Damages for Frivolous or Groundless Claims. Whenever it appears to the court that the taxpayer's position in proceedings before the court instituted or maintained by such taxpayer under this section, is frivolous or groundless, then damages in an amount not in excess of ten thousand dollars ($10,000) shall be awarded to the Department of Finance and Administration by the court in the court's decision. Damages so awarded shall be assessed at the same time as the decision and shall be paid upon notice and demand from the director.

26-18-810. Disclosure or use of information by preparers of returns.

(a) Imposition of Penalty. If any person who is engaged in the business of preparing, or providing services in connection with the preparation of, returns of tax administered under the Arkansas Tax Procedure Act, § 26-18-101 et seq., or when any person who, for compensation prepares any such return for any other person, and who:

- (1) Discloses any information furnished to him for, or in connection with, the preparation of any such return; or

(2) Uses any such information for any purpose other than to prepare, or assist in preparing, any such return, shall pay a penalty of two hundred fifty dollars ($250) for each such disclosure or use, but the total amount imposed under this subsection on such a person for any calendar year shall not exceed ten thousand dollars ($10,000).

(b) Subsection (a) of this section shall not apply to a disclosure of information if such disclosure is made either:

(1) Pursuant to any other provision of this subchapter; or

(2) Pursuant to an order of a court; or

(3) For quality or peer reviews, which are conducted under the auspices of the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants or the Securities and Exchange Commission.

(c) Subsection (a) of this section shall be in addition to the provisions of § 26-18-303.

Subchapter 9 — Taxpayer Assistance

26-18-901. Office of Problems Resolution and Tax Information.

26-18-902. Tax Advisory Council.

26-18-903. Employee evaluation criteria.

26-18-904. Collection activity — Erroneous action — Claim for damages.

A.C.R.C. Notes. References to "this chapter" in subchapters 1 — 8 may not apply to this subchapter which was enacted subsequently.

Publisher's Notes. Acts 1991, No. 998, § 6 provided that "the director shall promulgate regulations necessary to implement that act no later than January 1, 1992."

26-18-901. Office of Problems Resolution and Tax Information.

(a) The Director of the Department of Finance and Administration shall request the General Assembly to appropriate funds and create positions for an Office of Problems Resolution and Tax Information, which shall resolve taxpayer problems directly and provide information to taxpayers concerning tax law. This office shall report directly to the Administrative Assistant of Revenues.

(b) The Director of the Department of Finance and Administration shall have the authority to establish the duties of the Office of Problems Resolution and Tax Information. The office shall give highest priority to reviewing taxpayer problems and taking prompt and appropriate action to resolve problems and respond to taxpayers.

26-18-902. Tax Advisory Council.

(a) The Director of the Department of Finance and Administration shall establish a Tax Advisory Council consisting of representatives of the Arkansas Bar Association, the Arkansas Society of Certified Public Accountants, the Arkansas Society of Public Accountants, the Office of Problems Resolution and Tax Information, other taxpayer-oriented groups, and other representatives of the Revenue Division of the Department of Finance and Administration.

(b) The Tax Advisory Council shall meet annually to discuss tax law changes, compliance problems, and other related matters, and it shall study methods to expedite claims for refunds, protests, appeals, and cases which take an inordinate amount of time to complete.

(c) The Tax Advisory Council will develop and submit a report to the chairmen of the Revenue and Taxation Committees of the House of Representatives and Senate.

History. Acts 1991, No. 998, § 3.

26-18-903. Employee evaluation criteria.

The Director of the Department of Finance and Administration shall develop employee evaluation criteria requiring compliance with the Taxpayer Bill of Rights, § 26-18-801 et seq., and quality taxpayer assistance, which shall be included in the annual evaluation of each employee whose job responsibilities include taxpayer contact.

History. Acts 1991, No. 998, § 4.

26-18-904. Collection activity — Erroneous action — Claim for damages.

(a) A claim may be filed with the Department of Finance and Administration for any actual damages sustained as a result of any erroneous action taken in a collection activity. Each claimant applying for reimbursement shall file a claim in such form as may be prescribed by the Director of the Department of Finance and Administration. In order for the claim to be granted, the claimant must establish that:

(1) The actual damage resulted from an error made by the Revenue Division; and

(2) Prior to the actual damage, the taxpayer responded to all contacts by the Revenue Division and provided all requested information or documentation sufficient to establish the taxpayer's position. This provision may be waived for reasonable cause.

(b) (1) (A) Claims made pursuant to this section shall be filed within ninety (90) calendar days after the date the actual damage was sustained.

(B) Within thirty (30) calendar days after the date the claim is received, the claim shall be approved or denied.

(2) If a claim is denied, the taxpayer shall be notified in writing of the reason for the denial of the claim.

Subchapter 10 — Business Closure

26-18-1001. Business closure authority — Notice.

26-18-1002. Administrative hearing.

26-18-1003. Judicial relief.

26-18-1004. Business closure procedure.

26-18-1005. Suspension of a business license.

26-18-1006. Authority to promulgate rules.

Effective Dates. Acts 2003 (2nd Ex. Sess.), No. 46, § 2, provided: "This act becomes effective on July 1, 2004."

Acts 2009, No. 605, § 27: July 31, 2009. Emergency clause provided: "It is found and determined by the General Assembly of the State of Arkansas that the people of the State of Arkansas overwhelmingly approved the establishment of lotteries at the 2008 General Election; that lotteries will provide funding for scholarships to the citizens of this state; that the failure to immediately implement this act will cause a reduction in lottery proceeds that will harm the educational and economic success of potential students eligible to receive scholarships under the act; and that the state lotteries should be implemented as soon as possible to effectuate the will of the citizens of this state and implement lottery-funded scholarships as soon as possible. Therefore, an emergency is declared to exist and this act being immediately necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health, and safety shall become effective on: (1) The date of its approval by the Governor; (2) If the bill is neither approved nor vetoed by the Governor, the expiration of the period of time during which the Governor may veto the bill; or (3) If the bill is vetoed by the Governor and the veto is overridden, the date the last house overrides the veto."

Acts 2009, No. 606, § 27: July 31, 2009. Emergency clause provided: "It is found and determined by the General Assembly of the State of Arkansas that the people of the State of Arkansas overwhelmingly approved the establishment of lotteries at the 2008 General Election; that lotteries will provide funding for scholarships to the citizens of this state; that the failure to immediately implement this act will cause a reduction in lottery proceeds that will harm the educational and economic success of potential students eligible to receive scholarships under the act; and that the state lotteries should be implemented as soon as possible to effectuate the will of the citizens of this state and implement lottery-funded scholarships as soon as possible. Therefore, an emergency is declared to exist and this act being immediately necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health, and safety shall become effective on: (1) The date of its approval by the Governor; (2) If the bill is neither approved nor vetoed by the Governor, the expiration of the period of time during which the Governor may veto the bill; or (3) If the bill is vetoed by the Governor and the veto is overridden, the date the last house overrides the veto."

26-18-1001. Business closure authority — Notice.

(a) In addition to all other remedies provided by law for the collection of unpaid taxes, the Director of the Department of Finance and Administration may close the business of a noncompliant taxpayer as defined by § 26-18-104, subject to the administrative and judicial appeal procedures in this subchapter, if the noncompliant taxpayer for three (3) times within any consecutive twenty-four-month period fails to either:

(1) Report in the manner required by Arkansas law:

- (A) Gross receipts or compensating use tax; or
 - (B) State income tax withholding for employees; or
- (2) Remit the tax that is due for the reporting period for:
 - (A) Gross receipts or compensating use tax; or
 - (B) State income tax withholding for employees.
- (b) (1) The director shall give notice to the noncompliant taxpayer that the third delinquency in reporting or remitting tax in any consecutive twenty-four-month period will result in the closure of the business.
 - (2) The notice must be in writing and delivered to the noncompliant taxpayer by the United States Postal Service or by hand delivery.
- (c) (1) If the noncompliant taxpayer has a third delinquency in reporting or remitting tax in any consecutive twenty-four-month period after the issuance of the notice provided in subsection (b) of this section, the director shall notify the noncompliant taxpayer by certified mail or by hand delivery that the business will be closed within five (5) business days from the date of the notice unless the noncompliant taxpayer makes arrangements with the director to satisfy the tax delinquency.
 - (2) When the fifth day falls on a Saturday, Sunday, or legal holiday, the performance of the act is considered timely if it is performed on the next succeeding business day that is not a Saturday, Sunday, or legal holiday.
- (d) A noncompliant taxpayer may avoid closure of the business by:
 - (1) Filing all delinquent reports and by remitting the delinquent tax including any interest and penalty; or
 - (2) Entering into a payment agreement approved by the director to satisfy the tax delinquency.
- (e) After written notice delivered to a lottery retailer by the United States Postal Service or by hand delivery, the Director of the Department of Finance and Administration may pursue a remedy under this subchapter against a lottery retailer as a noncompliant taxpayer upon receiving a referral from the Arkansas Lottery Commission under § 23-115-605.

History. Acts 2003 (2nd Ex. Sess.), No. 46, § 2; 2009, No. 360, § 3; 2009, No. 605, § 24; 2009, No. 606, § 24.

Amendments. The 2009 amendment by No. 360 rewrote (a)(1) and (a)(2). The 2009 amendment by identical acts Nos. 605 and 606 added (e).

26-18-1002. Administrative hearing.

- (a) A noncompliant taxpayer may request an administrative hearing concerning the decision of the Director of the Department of Finance and Administration to close the noncompliant taxpayer's business by following the procedures in this section.
- (b) Within five (5) business days after the delivery or attempted delivery of the notice required by § 26-18-1001(c), the noncompliant taxpayer may file a written protest, signed by the noncompliant taxpayer or his or her authorized agent, stating the reasons for opposing the closure of the business and requesting an administrative hearing.
- (c) (1) A noncompliant taxpayer may request that an administrative hearing be held in person, by telephone, upon written documents furnished by the noncompliant taxpayer, or upon written documents and any evidence produced by the noncompliant taxpayer at an administrative hearing.

(2) The director has the discretion to determine whether an administrative hearing at which testimony is to be presented will be conducted in person or by telephone.

(3) A noncompliant taxpayer who requests an administrative hearing based upon written documents is not entitled to any other administrative hearing prior to the hearing officer's rendering a decision.

(d) The administrative hearing will be conducted by a hearing officer appointed by the director under § 26-18-405.

(e) (1) The hearing officer will set the time and place for a hearing and will give the noncompliant taxpayer notice of the hearing.

(2) At the administrative hearing, the noncompliant taxpayer may be represented by an authorized representative and may present evidence in support of his or her position.

(f) (1) The hearing may be held in any city in which the Revenue Division of the Department of Finance and Administration maintains a field audit district office or in such other city as the director may designate.

(2) The administrative hearing will be held within fourteen (14) calendar days of receipt by the director of the request for hearing.

(g) The administrative hearing and determinations made by the hearing officer under this subchapter are not subject to the provisions of the Arkansas Administrative Procedure Act, § 25-15-201 et seq.

(h) The defense or defenses to the closure of a business under this subchapter are:

(1) Written proof that the noncompliant taxpayer filed all delinquent returns and paid the delinquent tax due including interest and penalty; or

(2) That the noncompliant taxpayer has entered into a written payment agreement, approved by the director, to satisfy the tax delinquency.

(i) The decision of the hearing officer must be in writing with copies delivered to the noncompliant taxpayer and the Department of Finance and Administration by the United States Postal Service or by hand delivery.

History. Acts 2003 (2nd Ex. Sess.), No. 46, § 2.

26-18-1003. Judicial relief.

(a) (1) If the decision of the hearing officer under § 26-18-1002 is to affirm the closure of the business, the decision shall be submitted in writing and delivered by the United States Postal Service or by hand to the noncompliant taxpayer.

(2) The noncompliant taxpayer may seek judicial relief from the decision by filing suit within twenty (20) calendar days of the date of the decision.

(b) (1) Jurisdiction for a suit under this section to contest a determination of the Director of the Department of Finance and Administration shall be in the Pulaski County Circuit Court or the circuit court of the county where the noncompliant taxpayer resides or has his or her principal place of business, where the matter shall be tried de novo.

(2) (A) If the circuit court finds that the business closure order was appropriately issued by the director, the circuit court shall issue an injunction prohibiting the further operation of the business against the noncompliant taxpayer.

(B) In the event that a business subject to an injunction issued by the circuit court as provided in this subchapter continues in operation, upon conviction, any person responsible for the decision to operate the business after the issuance of the injunction shall be guilty of a Class A misdemeanor.

(3) An appeal may be made from the circuit court to the appropriate appellate court, as provided by law.

(c) The procedures established by this section are the sole methods for seeking relief from a written decision to close the business of a noncompliant taxpayer.

(d) The decision to close the business of a noncompliant taxpayer will be final:

(1) If the noncompliant taxpayer fails to:

(A) Request an administrative hearing under § 26-18-1002; or

(B) Seek judicial relief under this section; or

(2) Upon the final decision of a circuit court or an appellate court.

(e) (1) It is unlawful for a business to continue in operation after a business closure order is issued that is:

(A) Upheld on appeal under this subchapter; or

(B) Not appealed by the noncompliant taxpayer under this subchapter.

(2) Upon conviction, any person responsible for the decision to operate the business in violation of this subchapter shall be guilty of a Class A misdemeanor.

History. Acts 2003 (2nd Ex. Sess.), No. 46, § 2; 2005, No. 1962, § 114.

Amendments. The 2005 amendment substituted “the United States Postal Service or by hand” for “mail” in (a)(1).

26-18-1004. Business closure procedure.

(a) If a noncompliant taxpayer fails to timely seek administrative or judicial review of a business closure decision or if the business closure decision is affirmed after administrative or judicial review, the Director of the Department of Finance and Administration shall affix a written notice to all entrances of the business that:

(1) Identifies the business as being subject to a business closure order; and

(2) States that the business is prohibited from further operation.

(b) (1) The director may also lock or otherwise secure the business so that it may not be operated.

(2) However, if the business is located in the noncompliant taxpayer's home, the director shall not lock or otherwise secure the business but may post the notice under subsection (a) of this section.

(c) The director may request the assistance of the Department of Arkansas State Police or any state or local law enforcement official to post the notice or to secure the business as authorized in this section.

(d) Any taxpayer information disclosed by the director under the procedures outlined in this section shall not be subject to the confidentiality provisions of § 26-18-303.

History. Acts 2003 (2nd Ex. Sess.), No. 46, § 2.

26-18-1005. Suspension of a business license.

(a) After the decision to close the noncompliant taxpayer's business becomes final, the Director of the Department of Finance and Administration shall contact the appropriate administrative body responsible for granting licenses to operate the business and report the closure of the business.

(b) The closure of a business under this subchapter shall be grounds for the suspension or revocation of any business license granted under the laws of the State of Arkansas, excluding professional licenses.

History. Acts 2003 (2nd Ex. Sess.), No. 46, § 2.

26-18-1006. Authority to promulgate rules.

The Director of the Department of Finance and Administration may promulgate rules necessary for the enforcement of this subchapter.

History. Acts 2003 (2nd Ex. Sess.), No. 46, § 2.

Chapter 19 Electronic Funds

26-19-101. Definition.

26-19-102. Applicability of Arkansas Tax Procedure Act.

26-19-103. Authority of Director.

26-19-104. Effective dates.

26-19-105. Payment by taxpayer.

26-19-106. Payment by corporation.

26-19-107. Penalties.

26-19-108. Rules and regulations.

26-19-101. Definition.

(a) As used in this subchapter, “electronic funds transfer” means any transfer of funds, other than a transaction originated by check, draft, or similar paper instrument, that is initiated through an electronic terminal, telephone, computer, or magnetic tape for the purpose of ordering, instructing, or authorizing a financial institution to debit or credit an account, commonly referenced as either an automated clearinghouse credit or an automated clearinghouse debit.

(b) A transfer of funds by wire transfer which contains no electronic record from which to identify the taxpayer, tax type, tax account number, and tax period is not an electronic funds transfer.

History. Acts 1993, No. 848, § 1; 1999, No. 1132, § 3.

Amendments. The 1999 amendment added the language beginning “commonly referenced as either” at the end of the first sentence; and made stylistic changes.

26-19-102. Applicability of Arkansas Tax Procedure Act.

The provisions of the Arkansas Tax Procedure Act, § 26-18-101 et seq., shall be applicable to this subchapter.

History. Acts 1993, No. 848, § 2.

26-19-103. Authority of Director.

The Director of the Department of Finance and Administration is authorized to require, and to contract for services necessary to implement, payment of taxes as specified in this subchapter by electronic funds transfer. Provided, however, that this subchapter shall not be construed to require the director to contract for such services or implement a system for payment of any taxes by electronic funds transfer if the director determines that it is fiscally unsound or administratively burdensome to do so.

26-19-104. Effective dates.

The provisions of this subchapter shall be effective on and after January 1, 1994, for the taxes set forth in § 26-19-105(a)(1); on and after January 1, 1995, for the taxes set forth in § 26-19-105(a)(2); and for the taxable period beginning on or after January 1, 1995, for the taxes set forth in § 26-19-106.

History. Acts 1993, No. 848, § 4.

26-19-105. Payment by taxpayer.

(a) (1) If the Director of the Department of Finance and Administration determines that a taxpayer's monthly liability for the following taxes for any calendar year equals or exceeds twenty thousand dollars ($20,000), the taxpayer shall pay any tax due by electronic funds transfer:

(A) Income withholding taxes under the Arkansas Income Tax Withholding Act of 1965, § 26-51-901 et seq.;

(B) Gross receipts or sales taxes under the Arkansas Gross Receipts Act of 1941, § 26-52-101 et seq., §§ 26-74-201 — 26-75-705, or the Local Government Bond Act of 1985, § 14-164-301 et seq.;

(C) Compensating or use taxes under the Arkansas Compensating Tax Act of 1949, § 26-53-101 et seq.;

(D) Privilege taxes;

(E) Special alcoholic beverage excise taxes under § 3-7-201;

(F) Alcoholic beverage supplemental taxes under §§ 3-9-213 and 3-9-223; and

(G) Any other taxes supplemental to the taxes in subdivisions (a)(1)(A)-(F) of this section or required to be collected and remitted in the same manner as sales or use taxes or any other law of this state.

(2) If the director determines that a taxpayer's monthly liability for the following taxes for any calendar year equals or exceeds twenty thousand dollars ($20,000), the taxpayer shall pay the taxes due by electronic funds transfer:

(A) Taxes on tobacco products under the Arkansas Tobacco Products Tax Act of 1977, § 26-57-201 et seq.;

(B) Severance taxes under §§ 26-58-101 — 26-58-303; or

(C) Taxes on spirituous liquors, wines, malt liquors, and beer under §§ 3-5-101 — 3-7-114.

(3) If the director determines that a taxpayer's monthly liability for soft drink taxes under the Arkansas Soft Drink Tax Act, § 26-57-901 et seq., for any calendar year equals or exceeds twenty thousand dollars ($20,000), the taxpayer shall pay the taxes due by electronic funds transfer.

(b) Monthly liability for taxes shall be determined by the director on the basis of average monthly liability for the preceding year.

(c) (1) The transfer shall be made no later than the day before the due date for payment of the taxes so that payment of the taxes is received by the director on or before the due date for payment of the taxes as required by the laws of this state.

(2) (A) A taxpayer who pays income withholding tax by electronic funds transfer or through the state module of the electronic funds transfer payment system of the United States Department of the Treasury in the time and manner required by this section shall not be required to file a monthly withholding return.

(B) However, the taxpayer shall annually file a withholding return, setting forth the basis for each monthly payment made during the year by electronic funds transfer or through the state module of the electronic funds transfer payment system of the United States Department of the Treasury, on or before the fifteenth day following the end of each year.

(C) The annual withholding return shall be made on such a form and shall include such information as the director prescribes.

(3) Except as otherwise provided by this subchapter, no taxpayer required to pay tax by electronic funds transfer or who remits tax through the state module of the electronic funds transfer payment system of the United States Department of the Treasury shall be relieved from filing returns or complying with all other requirements of state tax laws.

(4) (A) For any withholding tax reporting period, a company or any other business enterprise that provides the service of reporting and remitting withholding tax on the wages paid to Arkansas employees by other employers shall remit all such withholding taxes to the director by electronic funds transfer.

(B) However, a company or business that provides tax reporting and remitting services shall not be required to remit withholding taxes by electronic funds transfer if the company or business provides those services for fewer than one hundred (100) Arkansas employers.

(C) As used in this subdivision (c)(4), "Arkansas employer" means any employer required by Arkansas law to withhold, report, and remit Arkansas income tax on the wages, salary, or other compensation paid to its employees within this state.

(d) The following may elect to utilize the state module of the electronic funds transfer payment system of the United States Department of the Treasury to pay monthly income withholding taxes by electronic funds transfer:

(1) Any taxpayer who is not required by subdivision (a)(1) of this section to pay income withholding taxes by electronic funds transfer; or

(2) Any business that provides tax reporting and remitting services that is not required by subdivision (c)(4) of this section to pay income withholding taxes by electronic funds transfer.

History. Acts 1993, No. 848, § 5; 1995, No. 301, § 1; 1999, No. 1132, § 6; 2005, No. 389, §§ 1, 2; 2007, No. 827, §§ 198, 199, 200.

Amendments. The 1995 amendment added (a)(3).

The 1999 amendment added (c)(4) and made stylistic changes.

The 2005 amendment inserted the subdivision designations in (c)(2); inserted "or through the state module of the electronic funds transfer payment system of the United States Department of the Treasury" in (c)(2)(A) and (c)(2)(B); inserted "or who remits tax through the state module of the electronic funds transfer payment system of the United States Department of the Treasury" in (c)(3); and added (d).

The 2007 amendment, in (a), rewrote the introductory language of (1), deleted "§ 26-52-1401 et seq. [expired and terminated]" following "§ 26-52-101 et seq." in (1)(B), rewrote (1)(G) and (2), in (3), substituted "for any calendar year" for "for the calendar year 1995 or any calendar year thereafter," and deleted "beginning January 1, 1996" at the end, and made related changes; substituted "For any withholding tax reporting period" for "Starting with withholding tax reporting periods beginning on January 1, 2001, and for all subsequent reporting periods" in (c)(4)(A); and deleted "for tax years beginning on and after January 1, 2006" at the end of the introductory paragraph in (d).

26-19-106. Payment by corporation.

(a) If the director determines that a corporation's estimated quarterly state income tax liability under § 26-51-911 et seq. equals or exceeds twenty thousand dollars ($20,000), the corporation shall pay the quarterly income taxes due by electronic funds transfer.

(b) A corporation's quarterly liability shall be determined on the basis of average quarterly liability for the preceding year.

(c) (1) The transfer shall be made no later than the day before the due date for payment of the taxes so that payment of the taxes is received by the director on or before the due date for payment of the taxes as required by the laws of this state.

(2) If the corporation's income tax payment is timely made by electronic funds transfer, the corporation is not required to file a quarterly estimated tax declaration.

History. Acts 1993, No. 848, § 6.

26-19-107. Penalties.

(a) In addition to the penalties imposed under the Arkansas Tax Procedure Act, § 26-18-101 et seq., a taxpayer required to pay taxes by electronic funds transfer who fails to so pay the amount required under any state law on or before the due date for payment of the taxes shall be assessed a penalty of five percent (5%) of the amount of taxes due.

(b) In addition to all other penalties imposed under this subchapter and the Arkansas Tax Procedure Act, § 26-18-101 et seq., a taxpayer required to pay sales taxes by electronic funds transfer who fails to so pay any of the sales taxes on or before the due date for payment of the taxes in the amounts required under §§ 26-52-501 or 26-52-512 shall not be entitled to the benefits contained in §§ 26-52-503 and 26-52-512.

(c) (1) With respect to an electronic funds transfer by automated clearinghouse debit, "to pay taxes by electronic funds transfer" means that the following conditions are met on or before the due date for such payment:

(A) The taxpayer initiates the automated clearinghouse debit by calling the designated toll-free telephone number by 3:00 p.m. on the last business day prior to the due date;

(B) The taxpayer accurately provides the Director of the Department of Finance and Administration with sufficient information from which the payment may be applied to the correct account, including, but not limited to, the taxpayer's name, account number, tax type, tax period, and the amount of the payment; and

(C) The taxpayer's bank account designated as the account to be debited contains adequate funds to cover the payment of taxes by debit transfer at the time the debit transaction is initiated and continuing through the due date of the tax payment.

(2) With respect to an electronic funds transfer by automated clearinghouse credit, "to pay taxes by electronic funds transfer" means that the following conditions are met on or before the due date for the payment:

(A) (i) The taxpayer initiates a successful prenote or test transaction containing necessary information in cash concentration or disbursement plus tax payment addendum (CCD + TXP) format.

(ii) "Tax payment addendum format" means a technical format for the communication of limited tax remittance data accompanying a payment through the automated clearinghouse system and includes a list of standard tax-type and account-type codes;

(B) The transfer contains an electronic addenda which allows the director to identify the taxpayer, tax account number, tax payment amount, tax type, and tax period in accordance with instructions provided by the director;

(C) The taxpayer transfers the amount of funds due; and

(D) The taxpayer's designated bank account contains adequate funds to cover the credit transfer at the time the credit transaction is initiated and continuing through the due date of the tax payment.

(3) (A) A taxpayer is considered to have failed to pay taxes by electronic funds transfer if the conditions stated in subdivision (c)(1) or (c)(2) of this section are not met.

(B) The director will notify the taxpayer in writing of the failure to meet the conditions with respect to a particular reporting period.

(C) Subsequent failures to meet the prescribed conditions shall result in the assessment of penalties described in § 26-19-107(a) without necessity of additional written notice.

Effective Dates. Acts 2001, No. 1279, § 10: Apr. 4, 2001. Emergency clause provided: "It is hereby found and determined by the 83rd General Assembly that passage of this bill would allow Arkansas to continue participating in the national Streamlined Sales Tax Project; that the Streamlined Sales Tax Project is an effort created by state governments, with input from local governments and the private sector, to simplify and modernize sales and use tax administration; that the Streamlined Sales Tax System is focused on improving sales and use tax administration systems for all sellers and for all types of commerce; and that it is imperative for states to develop a more modern sales and use tax system in order to level the playing field between in-state and out-of-state sellers and preserve the sales and use tax system. Therefore, an emergency is declared to exist and this act being immediately necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health and safety shall become effective on the date of its approval by the Governor. If the bill is neither approved nor vetoed by the Governor, it shall become effective on the expiration of the period of time during which the Governor may veto the bill. If the bill is vetoed by the Governor and the veto is overridden, it shall become effective on the date the last house overrides the veto.”

As used in this chapter:

- (1) “Agreement” means the Streamlined Sales and Use Tax Agreement;
- (2) “Certified automated system” means software certified jointly by the states that are signatories to the agreement and which is used to calculate the sales and use tax imposed by each jurisdiction on a transaction, determine the amount of tax to remit to the appropriate state, and maintain a record of the transaction;
- (3) “Certified service provider” means an agent certified jointly by the states that are signatories to the agreement to perform all of the seller’s sales and use tax functions;
- (4) “Director” means the Director of the Department of Finance and Administration;
- (5) “Person” means an individual, trust, estate, fiduciary, partnership, limited liability company, limited liability partnership, corporation, or any other legal entity;
- (6) “Sales tax” means the tax levied under the Arkansas Gross Receipts Act of 1941, § 26-52-101 et seq.;
- (7) “Seller” means any person making sales, leases or rentals of personal property or services;
- (8) “State” means any state of the United States and the District of Columbia; and
- (9) “Use tax” means the tax levied under the Arkansas Compensating Tax Act of 1949, § 26-53-101 et seq.

History. Acts 2001, No. 1279, § 2.

Meaning of “this act”. See note to § 26-20-101.

26-20-103. Legislative finding.

The Eighty-Third General Assembly finds that this state should enter into an agreement with one (1) or more states to simplify and modernize sales and use tax administration in order to substantially reduce the burden of tax compliance for all sellers and for all types of commerce.

History. Acts 2001, No. 1279, § 3.

26-20-104. Authority to enter agreement.

(a) The Director of the Department of Finance and Administration is authorized and directed to enter into the Streamlined Sales and Use Tax Agreement with one (1) or more states to simplify and modernize sales and use tax administration in order to substantially reduce the burden of tax compliance for all sellers and for all types of commerce.

(b) In furtherance of the agreement, the director is authorized to act jointly with other states that are members of the agreement to establish standards for certification of a certified service provider and certified automated system and establish performance standards for multistate sellers.

(c) The director is further authorized to take other actions reasonably required to implement the provisions set forth in this chapter.

(d) Other actions authorized by this section include, but are not limited to, the adoption of rules and regulations and the joint procurement, with other member states, of goods and services in furtherance of the cooperative agreement.

(e) The director or his or her designee is authorized to represent this state before the other states that are signatories to the agreement.

History. Acts 2001, No. 1279, § 4.

Meaning of “this act”. See note to § 26-20-101.

26-20-105. Relationship to state law.

(a) No provision of the agreement authorized by this chapter in whole or part invalidates or amends any provision of the law of this state.

(b) Adoption of the agreement by this state does not amend or modify any law of this state.

(c) Implementation of any condition of the agreement in this state, whether adopted before, at, or after membership of this state in the agreement, must be by the action of this state.

History. Acts 2001, No. 1279, § 5.

Meaning of “this act”. See note to § 26-20-101.

26-20-106. Agreement requirements.

The Director of the Department of Finance and Administration shall not enter into the agreement unless it requires each state to abide by the following requirements:

(a) Uniform State Rate.

The agreement must set restrictions to achieve more uniform state rates through the following:

(1) Limiting the number of state rates;

(2) Limiting the application of maximums on the amount of state tax that is due on a transaction;

(3) Limiting the application of thresholds on the application of state tax.

(b) Uniform Standards.

The agreement must establish uniform standards for the following:

- (1) The sourcing of transactions to taxing jurisdictions;
- (2) The administration of exempt sales;
- (3) The allowances a seller can take for bad debts;
- (4) Sales and use tax returns and remittances.

(c) Uniform Definitions.

The agreement must require states to develop and adopt uniform definitions of sales and use tax terms. The definitions must enable a state to preserve its ability to make policy choices not inconsistent with the uniform definitions.

(d) Central Registration.

The agreement must provide a central, electronic registration system that allows a seller to register to collect and remit sales and use taxes for all signatory states.

(e) No Nexus Attribution.

The agreement must provide that registration with the central registration system and the collection of sales and use taxes in the signatory states will not be used as a factor in determining whether the seller has nexus with a state for any tax.

(f) Local Sales and Use Taxes.

The agreement must provide for reduction of the burdens of complying with local sales and use taxes through the following:

- (1) Restricting variances between the state and local tax bases;
- (2) Requiring states to administer any sales and use taxes levied by local jurisdictions within the state so that sellers collecting and remitting these taxes will not have to register or file returns with, remit funds to, or be subject to independent audits from local taxing jurisdictions;
- (3) Restricting the frequency of changes in the local sales and use tax rates and setting effective dates for the application of local jurisdictional boundary changes to local sales and use taxes;
- (4) Providing notice of changes in local sales and use tax rates and of changes in the boundaries of local taxing jurisdictions.

(g) Monetary Allowances.

The agreement must outline any monetary allowances that are to be provided by the states to sellers or certified service providers.

(h) State Compliance.

The agreement must require each state to certify compliance with the terms of the agreement prior to joining and to maintain compliance, under the laws of the member state, with all provisions of the agreement while a member.

(i) Consumer Privacy.

The agreement must require each state to adopt a uniform policy for certified service providers that protects the privacy of consumers and maintains the confidentiality of tax information.

(j) Advisory Councils.

The agreement must provide for the appointment of an advisory council of private sector representatives and an advisory council of non-member state representatives to consult with in the administration of the agreement.

History. Acts 2001, No. 1279, § 6.

26-20-107. Cooperating sovereigns.

(a) The agreement authorized by this chapter is an accord among individual cooperating sovereigns in furtherance of their governmental functions.

(b) The agreement provides a mechanism among the member states to establish and maintain a cooperative, simplified system for the application and administration of sales and use taxes under the duly adopted law of each member state.

History. Acts 2001, No. 1279, § 7.

Meaning of “this act”. See note to § 26-20-101.

26-20-108. Limited binding and beneficial effect.

(a) (1) The agreement authorized by this chapter binds and inures only to the benefit of this state and the other member states.

(2) No person, other than a member state, is an intended beneficiary of the agreement.

(3) Any benefit to a person other than a state is established by the law of this state and the other member states and not by the terms of the agreement.

(b) (1) Consistent with subsection (a), no person shall have any cause of action or defense under the agreement or by virtue of this state's approval of the agreement.

(2) No person may challenge, in any action brought under any provision of law, any action or inaction by any department, agency, or other instrumentality of this state, or any political subdivision of this state on the ground that the action or inaction is inconsistent with the agreement.

(c) No law of this state, or the application thereof, may be declared invalid as to any person or circumstance on the ground that the provision or application is inconsistent with the agreement.

History. Acts 2001, No. 1279, § 8.

Meaning of “this act”. See note to § 26-20-101.

26-20-109. Seller and third-party liability.

(a) (1) A certified service provider is the agent of a seller, with whom the certified service provider has contracted, for the collection and remittance of sales and use taxes.

(2) As the seller's agent, the certified service provider is liable for sales and use tax due each member state on all sales transactions it processes for the seller except as set out in this section.

(3) A seller that contracts with a certified service provider is not liable to the state for sales or use tax due on transactions processed by the certified service provider unless the seller misrepresented the type of items it sells or committed fraud.

(4) In the absence of probable cause to believe that the seller has committed fraud or made a material misrepresentation, the seller is not subject to audit on the transactions processed by the certified service provider.

(5) A seller is subject to audit for transactions not processed by the certified service provider.

(6) The member states acting jointly may perform a system check of the seller and review the seller's procedures to determine if the certified service provider's system is functioning properly and the extent to which the seller's transactions are being processed by the certified service provider.

(b) (1) A person that provides a certified automated system is responsible for the proper functioning of that system and is liable to the state for underpayments of tax attributable to errors in the functioning of the certified automated system.

(2) A seller that uses a certified automated system remains responsible and is liable to the state for reporting and remitting tax.

(c) A seller that has a proprietary system for determining the amount of tax due on transactions and has signed an agreement establishing a performance standard for that system is liable for the failure of the system to meet the performance standard.

Acts 2007, No. 181, § 45: January 1, 2008.

26-21-101. Title.

This chapter shall be known and may be cited as the "Streamlined Sales Tax Administrative Act".

History. Acts 2005, No. 2163, § 1.

26-21-102. Legislative findings and intent.

The Eighty-Fifth General Assembly finds that this state should enter into an agreement with one (1) or more states to simplify and modernize sales and use tax administration in order to substantially reduce the burden of tax compliance for all sellers and for all types of commerce.

History. Acts 2005, No. 2163, § 1.

26-21-103. Definitions.

As used in this chapter:

(1) “Agent” means a person appointed by a seller to represent the seller before the State of Arkansas and the other states in the agreement;

(2) “Agreement” means the multistate agreement to simplify and modernize sales and use tax administration known as the “Streamlined Sales and Use Tax Agreement”;

(3) “Certified automated system” means software that is certified under the agreement to calculate the tax imposed by each jurisdiction on a transaction, determine the amount of tax to remit to the appropriate state, and maintain a record of the transaction;

(4) “Certified service provider” means an agent certified under the agreement to perform all the seller's sales and use tax functions, other than the seller's obligation to remit tax on its own purchases;

(5) (A) “Entity-based exemption” means an exemption based on who purchases the product or who sells the product.

(B) An exemption that is available to all individuals shall not be considered an entity-based exemption;

(6) “Model 1 seller” means a seller that has selected a certified service provider as its agent to perform all the seller's sales and use tax functions, other than the seller's obligation to remit tax on its own purchases;

(7) “Model 2 seller” means a seller that has selected a certified automated system to perform part of its sales and use tax functions, but retains responsibility for remitting the tax;

(8) (A) “Model 3 seller” means a seller that has:

(i) Sales in at least five (5) member states;

(ii) Total annual sales revenue of at least five hundred million dollars ($500,000,000);

(iii) A proprietary system that calculates the amount of tax due each jurisdiction; and

(iv) Entered into a performance agreement with the member states that establishes a tax performance standard for the seller.

(B) As used in subdivision (8)(A) of this section, “seller” includes an affiliated group of sellers using the same proprietary system;

(9) “Person” means an individual, trust, estate, fiduciary, partnership, limited liability company, limited liability partnership, corporation, or any other legal entity;

(10) “Purchaser” means a person to which a sale of personal property is made or to which a service is furnished;

(11) “Seller” means a person making sales, leases, or rentals of personal property or services;

(12) “State” means any state of the United States, the District of Columbia, and the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico; and

(13) “Use-based exemption” means an exemption based on a specified use of the product by the purchaser.

History. Acts 2005, No. 2163, § 1; 2007, No. 181, §§ 1, 2.

Amendments. The 2007 amendment added (5)(B), and redesignated (5) as (5)(A); inserted “and the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico” in (12); substituted “a specified use of the product by the purchaser” for “the purchaser’s use of the product” in (13); and made related changes.

Effective Dates. Acts 2007, No. 181, § 45: Jan. 1, 2008, by its own terms.

26-21-104. Seller registration.

(a) The Department of Finance and Administration shall participate in an online sales and use tax registration system in cooperation with the states that are members of the agreement. (b) The department shall not use a seller’s registration with the online sales and use tax registration system as provided in subsection (a) of this section and any subsequent collection of a sales or use tax in determining whether the seller has nexus with the state for any tax at any time.

History. Acts 2005, No. 2163, § 1; 2007, No. 181, § 3.

Amendments. The 2007 amendment added (b), and designated the existing provisions as (a).

Effective Dates. Acts 2007, No. 181, § 45: January 1, 2008, by its own terms.

26-21-105. Taxing jurisdictions.

The Department of Finance and Administration shall develop a downloadable online database system to assign state and local taxing jurisdictions, boundaries, and sales and use tax rates.

History. Acts 2005, No. 2163, § 1; 2007, No. 181, § 4.

Amendments. The 2007 amendment substituted “develop a downloadable online database system ... use tax rates” for “participate with the states that are members of the agreement in the development of an address-based system for assigning taxing jurisdictions.”

Effective Dates. Acts 2007, No. 181, § 45: January 1, 2008, by its own terms.

26-21-106. Relief from certain liability.

(a) Except as provided in subsection (c) of this section, a seller or certified service provider using a database provided by the department shall not be liable to the State of Arkansas or its local jurisdictions for charging and collecting the incorrect amount of sales or use tax if the seller or the certified service provider relied on erroneous data provided by the department on sales or use tax rates, boundaries, taxing jurisdiction assignments, or the taxability matrix.

(b) The department shall promulgate rules to provide a purchaser relief from a sales or use tax, penalties, and interest for failing to pay the correct amount of sales or use tax if erroneous information on sales or use tax rates, boundaries, or taxing jurisdiction assignments or in the taxability matrix provided by the department has been relied on by the purchaser, the purchaser’s seller, or the purchaser’s certified service provider.

(c) (1) If the department provides an address-based boundary database for assigning taxing jurisdictions and their associated sales or use tax rates, the department may cease providing the relief from liability provided in subsections (a) and (b) of this section if the department gave the seller or the certified service provider adequate notice.

(2) If a seller demonstrates that requiring the use of the address-based database would create an undue hardship, the department may extend the relief from liability to the seller for a designated period of time.

History. Acts 2005, No. 2163, § 1; 2007, No. 181, § 5.

Amendments. The 2007 amendment added (b) and (c) and designated the existing provisions as (a); in (a), added “Except as provided in subsection (c) of this section,” inserted “using a database provided by the Department of Finance and Administration,” substituted “sales or use tax rates” for “tax rates,” and added “or the taxability matrix”; and made related changes.

Effective Dates. Acts 2007, No. 181, § 45; January 1, 2008, by its own terms.

26-21-107. Administration of exemptions.

(a) The Department of Finance and Administration shall administer use-based exemptions and entity-based exemptions when practicable through a direct pay permit, an exemption certificate, or another means that does not burden sellers.

(b) (1) A seller that follows the exemption requirements as prescribed by the Director of the Department of Finance and Administration shall be relieved from any tax otherwise applicable if it is determined that the purchaser improperly claimed an exemption.

(2) If it is determined that the purchaser improperly claimed an exemption, the department shall hold the purchaser liable for the nonpayment of tax.

(3) The relief from liability provided in subdivision (b)(1) of this section does not apply to a seller that:

(A) Fraudulently fails to collect the sales or use tax;

(B) Solicits a purchaser to participate in the unlawful claim of an exemption; or

(C) Accepts an exemption certificate from a purchaser claiming an entity-based exemption when:

(i) The subject of the transaction sought to be covered by the exemption certificate is actually received by the purchaser at a location operated by the seller; and

(ii) The state where that location resides provides an exemption certificate that clearly and affirmatively indicates that the claimed exemption is not available in that state.

(4) (A) A seller may obtain a fully completed exemption certificate or capture the relevant data elements required by the department within ninety (90) days after the date of sale.

(B) If the seller has not obtained an exemption certificate or all relevant data elements and the department makes a request for substantiation of the exemption, the seller has one hundred twenty (120) days from the date of the request to prove by other means that the transaction was not subject to sales or use tax or to obtain in good faith a fully completed exemption certificate from the purchaser.

(c) A third party vendor may claim a resale exemption based on an exemption certificate provided by its customer or any other acceptable information available to the third party vendor evidencing qualification for a resale exemption regardless of whether the customer is registered with the department to collect and remit sales or use tax.

History. Acts 2005, No. 2163, § 1; 2007, No. 181, § 6.

Amendments. The 2007 amendment, in (b), inserted (b)(3)(C) and redesignated the existing provisions of (b)(3) as (A) and (B); added (c); and made related and stylistic changes.

Effective Dates. Acts 2007, No. 181, § 45: January 1, 2008, by its own terms.

26-21-108. Returns and remittance of funds.

(a) The Director of the Department of Finance and Administration shall promulgate rules to provide:

(1) An alternative method for making payments if an electronic funds transfer fails on its due date; and

(2) A rounding algorithm for sales or use tax computation.

(b) (1) The Department of Finance and Administration shall develop a simplified tax reporting form to be used for all state and local sales and use taxes levied by the Arkansas Gross Receipts Act of 1941, § 26-52-101 et seq., and the Arkansas Compensating Tax Act of 1949, § 26-53-101 et seq.

(2) The department shall provide a separate reporting form for any other special or miscellaneous excise taxes so as not to violate the agreement.

(3) The department may require additional information returns to be submitted not more frequently than every six (6) months.

(4) The department shall allow a Model 1, Model 2, or Model 3 seller to submit its sales and use tax return in a simplified format.

(c) The department shall allow a seller to elect to compute the sales or use tax due on a transaction on an item or an invoice basis and shall allow the rounding rule to be applied to the aggregated state and local sales or use taxes.

History. Acts 2005, No. 2163, § 1; 2007, No. 181, § 7.

Amendments. The 2007 amendment added (a)(2) and designated the existing provision as (a)(1); added (b)(4) and (c); and made related and stylistic changes.

Effective Dates. Acts 2007, No. 181, § 1: January 1, 2008, by its own terms.

26-21-109. Customer refund procedures.

(a) (1) A cause of action against the seller for over-collected sales or use taxes does not accrue until sixty (60) days after a purchaser has provided written notice to the seller.

(2) The written notice to the seller required in subdivision (a)(1) of this section must contain the information necessary to determine the validity of the request.

(b) In connection with a purchaser's request from a seller of over-collected sales or use taxes, a seller shall be presumed to have a reasonable business practice, if in the collection of the sales or use taxes, the seller:

(1) Uses either a certified service provider or a certified automated system, including a certified proprietary system, that is certified by the State of Arkansas; and

(2) Has remitted to the Department of Finance and Administration all taxes collected less any deductions, credits, or collection allowances.

History. Acts 2005, No. 2163, § 1.

26-21-110. Amnesty for registration.

(a) The Director of the Department of Finance and Administration shall provide amnesty for uncollected or unpaid sales or use tax to a seller that registers to pay or to collect and remit applicable sales or use tax on sales made to purchasers in the state in accordance with the terms of the agreement, provided that the seller was not registered to collect sales and use tax in the State of Arkansas in the twelve-month period preceding the effective date of the state's participation in the agreement.

(b) The amnesty shall preclude assessment for uncollected or unpaid sales or use tax, penalty, and interest for sales made during the period that the seller was not registered in the state, provided registration occurs within twelve (12) months of the date the state is found to be in compliance with the agreement.

(c) The amnesty shall not be available to a seller with respect to any matter or matters for which the seller received notice of the commencement of an audit and the audit is not yet finally resolved, including any related administrative and judicial processes.

(d) The amnesty shall not be available for sales or use taxes already paid or remitted to the Department of Finance and Administration or to taxes collected by the seller.

(e) The amnesty shall be fully effective, absent the seller's fraud or intentional misrepresentations of a material fact, so long as the seller continues its Arkansas sales and use tax registration and continues payment or collection and remittance of applicable sales or use taxes for a period of at least thirty-six (36) months from the date amnesty was awarded.

(f) The amnesty shall be applicable only to sales or use taxes due from a seller in its capacity as a seller and not to sales or use taxes due from a seller in its capacity as a purchaser.

(g) The director shall also provide amnesty to a seller for uncollected or unpaid sales or use tax if:

(1) The seller was already registered with the agreement at the time Arkansas became a full member of the agreement; and

(2) The seller was not registered to collect sales and use tax in Arkansas in the twelve-month period preceding the effective date of Arkansas's full membership in the agreement.

History. Acts 2005, No. 2163, § 1; 2007, No. 181, § 8.

Amendments. The 2007 amendment added (g).

Effective Dates. Acts 2007, No. 181, § 1: January 1, 2008, by its own terms.

26-21-111. Certification and payment of service providers and automated systems.

The Director of the Department of Finance and Administration may:

(1) Certify service providers and automated systems to aid in the administration of sales and use tax collections;

(2) Provide a monetary allowance to the certified service providers, certified automated systems, and to sellers that do not have a requirement to register to collect the gross receipts tax levied by the Arkansas Gross Receipts Tax Act of 1941, § 26-52-101 et seq. or the compensating use tax levied by the Arkansas Compensating Tax Act of 1949, § 26-53-101 et seq.; and

(3) Promulgate rules concerning the review and approval of certified automated system software and the relief from liability for certified service providers and certified automated systems that were relying on the certification provided by the Department of Finance and Administration.

History. Acts 2005, No. 2163, § 1; 2007, No. 181, § 9.

Amendments. The 2007 amendment rewrote (2), which read: "Provide a monetary allowance to the certified service providers, and the certified automated systems"; added (3); and made related changes.

Effective Dates. Acts 2007, No. 181, § 1: January 1, 2008, by its own terms.

26-21-112. Effective date for rate changes.

The effective date of rate changes for services covering a period starting before and ending after the statutory effective date shall be as follows:

(1) For a rate increase, the new rate shall apply to the first billing period starting on or after the effective date; and

(2) For a rate decrease, the new rate shall apply to bills rendered on or after the effective date.

History. Acts 2005, No. 2163, § 1.

26-21-113. Promulgation of rules.

The Director of the Department of Finance and Administration shall promulgate rules and develop forms to implement the provisions of this chapter.

History. Acts 2005, No. 2163, § 1.

26-21-114. Governing board.

For the purposes of representing this state on the governing board authorized by the agreement, there shall be four (4) representatives as follows:

(1) One (1) member appointed by the President Pro Tempore of the Senate;

(2) One (1) member appointed by the Speaker of the House of Representatives;

(3) One (1) member appointed by the Governor; and

(4) The Director of the Department of Finance and Administration or his or her designee.

26-23-204. Tax bill information.

26-23-205. Taxpayer notice.

Effective Dates. Acts 2009, No. 151, § 3: Jan. 1, 2008. Emergency clause provided: "It is found and determined by the General Assembly of the State of Arkansas that not all counties are following the dictates of Arkansas Constitution, Amendment 79; that some counties are not allowing persons that meet the property tax relief requirements under Arkansas Constitution, Amendment 79, to be assessed a later assessed value if that assessment is lower; that this results in taxpayers not being treated equally across the state; that all counties should allow its taxpayers that qualify for the property tax relief to be assessed a later assessed value if that assessment is lower; and that all counties should follow the provisions of Arkansas Constitution, Amendment 79. Therefore, an emergency is declared to exist and this act being necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health, and safety shall become effective on January 1, 2008." Acts 2009, No. 278, § 2: July 31, 2009. Effective date clause provided: "Effective Date. This act is effective for the assessment year 2010 and thereafter."

26-23-201. Title.

This act shall be referred to as the "Arkansas Property Taxpayer Bill of Rights".

History. Acts 1999, No. 572, § 1.

Meaning of "this act". Acts 1999, No. 572, codified as §§ 26-23-201—26-23-204, 26-27-317, 26-27-318, 26-34-105, 26-35-901.

26-23-202. Purpose.

(a) It is the intent of this act that the following objectives shall apply to the operation of the property tax system for Arkansas taxpayers:

- (1) To be taxed fairly and assessed equitably throughout the state;
- (2) To have access to information concerning how the system of property taxation works and how their tax dollars are spent;
- (3) To participate in the determination of tax rates or millage rates levied in local taxing units;
- (4) To receive fair and courteous treatment throughout the property tax system;
- (5) To review the reassessments and methodology used in determining the value of their properties and that of comparable properties;

(6) To receive a prompt response by government officials to inquiries regarding the value of their properties;

(7) To require government officials or others responsible for the valuation of property to review and correct any measurement error to the nearest foot, clerical error, or other technical error which occurred in the valuation of their properties;

(8) To be sent a notice setting forth the following:

(A) The amount of any change in the value of their properties;

(B) The right of the taxpayer to appeal such a change; and

(C) The procedures which must be followed on appeal, including the name, title, address, and telephone number of the secretary of the county equalization board to whom the appeal and any supporting documentation should be directed, the deadline for requesting a hearing, and the proof required for adjustment of value;

(9) To complete all steps in the appeal process before paying any disputed taxes;

(10) To receive written notification of the outcome of any appeal; and

(11) To recover any overpayment of taxes resulting from erroneous assessments within three (3) years after payment.

(b) The rights enumerated in subsection (a) of this section shall be prominently displayed in each county assessor's and county collector's office in Arkansas.

(c) (1) The provisions of subsections (a) and (b) of this section are goals and objectives only and no person or entity shall have a civil cause of action for any alleged breach or violation of any of these goals and objectives.

(2) However, subdivision (c)(1) of this section shall not be interpreted or construed to limit the rights of any taxpayer under any other law of this state.

History. Acts 1999, No. 572, § 2.

Meaning of "this act". See note to § 26-23-201.

26-23-203. Notice procedures.

The following procedures shall be employed to ensure taxpayers receive adequate notice of value changes:

(1) (A) Countywide reappraisals of real property shall be completed no later than July 1 of the year in which the countywide reappraisal is scheduled to be completed.

(B) Original valuations of newly discovered and newly constructed real property shall be completed no later than July 1 of each assessment year;

(2) (A) Notice of value changes shall be sent to affected property owners no later than ten (10) business days after July 1 of the assessment year.

(B) The notice of value changes shall include:

(i) The previous year's full and assessed value, the reassessed full and assessed value, or the new full and assessed value resulting from an original assessment of newly discovered and newly constructed property;

(ii) The time period for meeting with the county assessor or his or her representative to review the new valuation of the taxpayer's property;

(iii) A statement that property owners have the right to appeal the new valuation to the county equalization board;

(iv) The deadline to petition the county equalization board to conduct a hearing to review the contested assessment; and

(v) A summary of laws relating to the criteria established by the Supreme Court to uphold an assessment determination by the county equalization board; and

(3) (A) Property owners shall have the right to have a meeting with the county assessor or his or her representative for a change in value before petitioning the county equalization board for a hearing.

(B) In order to accommodate property owners, the county assessor or his or her representative shall conduct the informal hearings required by this section after normal business hours at least one (1) day per week.

History. Acts 1999, No. 572, § 3; 2009, No. 278, § 1.

Amendments. The 2009 amendment deleted “and personal” following “real” in (1)(B).

Meaning of “this act”. See note to § 26-23-201.

Effective Dates. Acts 2009, No. 278, § 2, provided: “This act is effective for the assessment year 2010 and thereafter.”

26-23-204. Tax bill information.

In order to assist property taxpayers to better understand their property tax bills, the following information shall be included on each tax bill sent by the county collector:

(1) The dollar amount of the taxpayer's total tax bill distributed to each taxing unit in the county where the taxpayer's property is taxed;

(2) The millage rate levied by each taxing unit used to determine the tax distribution to each taxing unit and the percentage of the full value of the taxpayer's property that each millage rate levy represents;

(3) The percentage of the full value of the property shall be calculated by multiplying the legal assessment level by the appropriate millage rate levy; and

(4) The sum of the millage rates levied by each taxing unit, the percentage of the full value of the taxpayer's property that the sum of the millage rate levies represents, and the total dollar amount due and billed.

History. Acts 1999, No. 572, § 6.

26-23-205. Taxpayer notice.

(a) A county collector shall send a property taxpayer a yearly notice concerning his or her rights under the provisions of Arkansas Constitution, Amendment 79, containing the following:

(1) A statement that the assessed value of a homestead used as a principal place of residence and owned by a taxpayer who is disabled or sixty-five (65) years of age or older shall be the lower of the assessed value at the time the taxpayer qualified for the property tax relief under Arkansas Constitution, Amendment 79, or a later assessed value; and

(2) The county assessor's contact information.

(b) The yearly notice required in subsection (a) of this section may be sent with the taxpayer's tax statement or by separate first-class mail.

History. Acts 2007, No. 467, § 1; 2009, No. 151, § 1.

Amendments. The 2009 amendment substituted “be the lower of the assessed value ... or a later assessed value” for “not increase” in (a)(1).

26-24-101. Divisions created.

For the purpose of assisting it in the carrying out of its functions, powers, and duties, there is created within the Arkansas Public Service Commission the following divisions:

(1) (A) A Tax Division which shall have the responsibility of performing all functions and duties regarding assessment and equalization of properties of public utilities and public carriers.

(B) (i) (a) All rules, regulations, and procedures to be followed by the Tax Division in assessing public utilities shall be promulgated by the Arkansas Public Service Commission, and all assessments of public utilities made by the Tax Division shall be upon the approval of the Arkansas Public Service Commission.

(b) Any person aggrieved by any assessment of any public utility made by the Tax Division and approved by the Arkansas Public Service Commission shall, upon petition, be entitled to a hearing before the Arkansas Public Service Commission, and appeals from the rulings of the Arkansas Public Service Commission shall be to the circuit court upon the record made before the Arkansas Public Service Commission in the manner provided by law.

(ii) (a) All rules, regulations, and procedures to be followed by the Tax Division in assessing public carriers shall be promulgated by the Arkansas Transportation Commission [abolished], and all assessments of public carriers made by the Tax Division shall be upon the approval of the Arkansas Transportation Commission [abolished].

(b) Any person aggrieved by any assessment of any public carrier made by the Tax Division and approved by the Arkansas Transportation Commission [abolished] shall, upon petition, be entitled to a hearing before the Arkansas Public Service Commission, and appeals from the rulings of the Arkansas Transportation Commission [abolished] shall be to the circuit court upon the record made before the Arkansas Transportation Commission [abolished] in the manner provided by law; and

(2) An Assessment Coordination Division [abolished], the duties of which shall be such of those formerly imposed upon the Arkansas Assessment Coordination

Department [abolished] as shall be assigned to the Assessment Coordination Division [abolished] by the Arkansas Public Service Commission. None of the duties so assigned shall relate to the assessment of the properties of public carriers or public utilities.

History. Acts 1959, No. 245, § 1; 1961, No. 129, § 8; A.S.A. 1947, § 84-114; Acts 2009, No. 218, § 1; 2009, No. 951, §§ 1, 2.

A.C.R.C. Notes. The Assessment Coordination Division of the Public Service Commission was transferred to the Assessment Coordination Department by a type 2 transfer under § 25-2-105 by Acts 1997, No. 436, § 2.

This section was amended by Acts 2009, No. 218, § 1. However, Acts 2009, No. 951, §§ 1 and 2, repealed this section as amended by Acts 2009, No. 218, § 1, and reenacted this section as it existed before the amendments by Acts 2009, No. 218, § 1.

Publisher's Notes. The first sentence of Acts 1959, No. 245, § 1, abolished the Arkansas Assessment Coordination Department and transferred all functions, etc., to the Arkansas Public Service Commission.

The Arkansas Transportation Commission, referred to in this section, was abolished and replaced by the Transportation Regulatory Board and the Transportation Safety Agency pursuant to Acts 1987, No. 572. However, Acts 1989 (1st Ex. Sess.), No. 67, § 23 and Acts 1989 (1st Ex. Sess.), No. 153, §§ 2, 3, abolished the board and the agency and transferred their powers, functions, and duties to the State Highway Commission and the State Highway and Transportation Department, respectively. See § 23-2-201 et seq.

Amendments. The 2009 amendment substituted "Court of Appeals" for "circuit court" in (1)(B)(i)(b) and (1)(B)(ii)(b); substituted "State Highway Commission" for "Arkansas Transportation Commission" in (1)(B)(ii)(a) and (1)(B)(ii)(b); and substituted "§§ 23-2-422 – 23-2-424" for "law" in (1)(B)(i)(b).

Case Notes

Appellate Review.

Boundary Disputes.

Appellate Review.

Courts can only review real property assessments and reverse them and send them back to the executive department when they are clearly erroneous, manifestly excessive, or confiscatory. Tuthill v. Arkansas County Equalization Bd., 303 Ark. 387, 797 S.W.2d 439 (1990).

Boundary Disputes.

The Public Service Commission does not have jurisdiction to determine the boundary between two counties arising from a change in the flow of the Arkansas River through accretion or avulsion. Arkansas County v. Desha County, 342 Ark. 135, 27 S.W.3d 379 (2000).

Cited: Kansas City S. Ry. v. Arkansas Commerce Comm'n, 230 Ark. 663, 326 S.W.2d 805 (1959).

26-24-102. Power and authority generally.

The Arkansas Public Service Commission shall have the full power and authority in the administration of the tax laws of this state to have and exercise general and complete supervision and control over:

(1) The valuation, assessment, and equalization of all property, privileges, and franchises; and

(2) The several county assessors, county boards of equalization, and other officers charged with the assessment or equalization of property taxes throughout the state, to the end that all assessments on property, privileges, and franchises in this state shall be made in relative proportion to the just and true value of the property, privileges, and franchises, in substantial compliance with the law.

History. Acts 1927, No. 129, § 12; Pope's Dig., § 2038; A.S.A. 1947, § 84-103; Acts 1999, No. 228, § 1.

Amendments. The 1999 amendment deleted former (2) and redesignated former (3) as present (2); in present (2), deleted "tax collectors" following "review and equalization" and deleted "or the collection of" preceding "taxes"; and made minor stylistic changes.

Commercial Mobile Service Providers.
Determinations.

Commercial Mobile Service Providers.

The termination of the Public Service Commission's traditional regulatory authority over commercial mobile service providers did not result in the termination of the commission's tax assessment power over utilities. Southwestern Bell Mobile Sys. v. Arkansas Pub. Serv. Comm'n, 73 Ark. App. 222, 40 S.W.3d 838 (2001).

A commercial mobile service provider is a "telephone company" within the meaning of this section. Southwestern Bell Mobile Sys. v. Arkansas Pub. Serv. Comm'n, 73 Ark. App. 222, 40 S.W.3d 838 (2001).

Determinations.

Assessment at 20% of value by Public Service Commission was not arbitrary and was not shown to be arbitrary by spot check of assessments in the state which showed a lower valuation. Saint Louis-San Francisco Ry. v. Arkansas Pub. Serv. Comm'n, 227 Ark. 1066, 304 S.W.2d 297 (1957).

26-24-104. Basis of valuation.

(a) The Arkansas Public Service Commission shall have the full power and authority in the administration of the tax laws of this state to file with the county judge, county clerk, and county assessor of each county not later than ten (10) days before the time for the beginning of the assessment of property by the tax assessors a certificate showing the percentage of true and full market or actual value that it has used, or will use, in valuing for taxation for that year the property the commission is required to assess.

(b) It shall be the duty of the assessors and boards of review or equalization and county judges to adopt the same basis of valuation of property in their county for the purpose of taxation as that certified by the commission.

26-24-106. Opinions of commission.

(a) The Arkansas Public Service Commission shall have the full power and authority in the administration of the tax laws of this state to answer all questions that may arise in the construction of any statute affecting the assessment, equalization, or collection of taxes, in accordance with the advice and opinion of the Attorney General.

(b) Such opinion and the rules, regulations, orders, and instructions of the commission prescribed and issued in conformity therewith shall be binding upon all officers, who shall faithfully observe and obey the same unless and until they are reversed, annulled, or modified by a court of competent jurisdiction.

26-24-112. Witnesses.

(a) The Arkansas Public Service Commission shall have the full power and authority in the administration of the tax laws of this state to summon witnesses to appear, give testimony, and produce records, books, papers, documents, and all other information of any kind or character required relating to any matter which the commission shall have authority to investigate and determine.

(b) (1) (A) Witnesses may be summoned by ordinary subpoena or by subpoena duces tecum issued by any member of the commission, or by the secretary, in the name of the commission, directed to any sheriff of Arkansas, and returnable to the commission, which subpoena may be served in like manner as process issued out of any circuit court; or

(B) The subpoenas may be served by registered mail, addressed to the witness with return receipt demanded.

(2) In either case, the subpoenas must be served at least five (5) days previously to the day named therein for the appearance of the witness.

26-24-114. Appointment of agents — Penalty for disclosing information.

(a) (1) For the purpose of making any investigation of any company, firm, corporation, person, association, copartnership, or public utility, subject to the provisions of the laws which the commission is required to administer, the Arkansas Public Service Commission may appoint, by an order in writing, an agent whose duties shall be prescribed in that order.

(2) In the discharge of his duties, the agent shall have every power of an inquisitorial nature granted by the law to the commission and the same powers as a notary public, with regard to the taking of depositions; and all powers given by law to a notary public relative to deposition are given to the agent.

(b) Except in his report to the commission, or when called on to testify in any court or proceedings, any agent who shall divulge any information acquired by him in respect to the transactions, property, or business of any company, firm, or corporation, person, association, copartnership, or public utility, while acting or claiming to act under such order, shall be fined not less than fifty dollars ($50.00) nor more than one hundred dollars ($100) and shall thereafter be disqualified from acting as agent or in any other capacity under appointment or employment of the commission.

26-24-115. Investigation by agents.

(a) The Arkansas Public Service Commission shall have the full power and authority in the administration of the tax laws of this state to conduct any number of investigations, contemporaneously, through different agents, and may delegate to any agent the taking of all testimony bearing upon any investigation or hearing.

(b) The decision of the commission shall be based upon its examination of all testimony and records.

(c) The recommendations made by an agent shall be advisory only and shall not preclude the taking of further testimony nor further investigation, if the commission so orders.

26-24-116. Investigations by commission.

The Arkansas Public Service Commission shall have the full power and authority in the administration of the tax laws of this state to:

(1) Visit in a body or singly, or by authorized agents, the several counties in this state for the purpose of investigating the work and methods of tax assessors, or other officers or boards charged with the duty of administering the tax laws;

(2) Examine carefully into all cases where evasion or violation of the tax laws is alleged, complained of, or discovered, and to ascertain wherein existing laws are defective, or are improperly or negligently administered; and

(3) Report the result of the investigation and the facts ascertained to the Governor from time to time when so required by him.

26-24-118. Meetings of assessors.

(a) The Arkansas Public Service Commission shall have the full power and authority in the administration of the tax laws of this state to call a group meeting of two (2) or more assessors at such time and place as it may designate, due notice of which shall be given by the commission.

(b) (1) For attending these meetings, assessors shall receive no compensation but shall be reimbursed for their actual and necessary expenses in attending the meeting, including only the fare necessarily spent in going to and returning from the place of the meeting.

(2) When such claims are verified by oath and approved by the commission or any member thereof, they shall be presented to the county court which shall make an order showing the amount due and directing the clerk to draw his warrant on the county treasurer to be paid out of any general funds belonging to the county.

26-24-119. Investigation of tax systems.

The Arkansas Public Service Commission shall have the full power and authority in the administration of the tax laws of this state to:

- (1) Investigate the revenue systems of other states;
- (2) Thoroughly inform themselves upon the subject of taxation and of the progress made in other states and countries in improving their tax systems;
- (3) Formulate and recommend such legislation as may be deemed expedient to forestall evasion of existing tax laws; and
- (4) Secure just and equal taxation and improvements in the system of taxation in Arkansas.

26-24-121. Biennial report.

The Arkansas Public Service Commission shall have the full power and authority in the administration of the tax laws of this state to transmit to the Governor, thirty (30) days before the convening of the General Assembly, a written report showing in tabular form all the taxable property in the state and the assessed value thereof, together with suggestions of such measures as the commission may formulate and recommend for the consideration of the General Assembly.

History. Acts 1927, No. 129, § 12; Pope's Dig., § 2038; A.S.A. 1947, § 84-103.

A.C.R.C. Notes. The Assessment Coordination Division of the Public Service Commission was transferred to the Assessment Coordination Department by a type 2 transfer under § 25-2-105 by Acts 1997, No. 436, § 2.

26-24-122. Appearance of witnesses.

(a) (1) In case any witness who has been summoned to testify before the Arkansas Public Service Commission shall fail or refuse to testify to or make answer to any material question relating to any matter under investigation or to produce any records, books, papers, or other documents in his custody or control when required to do so, any circuit court, or any judge thereof, upon application of any member of the commission, shall issue an attachment for the witness and compel him to comply with the summons and to attend before the commission and produce the books, documents, papers, or records and give testimony upon matters about which he may be lawfully interrogated.

(2) The court, or judge thereof, may punish a witness for contempt as in the case of disobedience of a like subpoena issued from the court for the refusal to testify in any cases pending therein.

(b) (1) No witness shall be excused from attending or testifying or from producing books, papers, records, accounts, and other documents before the commission, or in obedience to its subpoena, on the ground or for the reason that the testimony, documentary or otherwise, required of him may tend to incriminate him or subject him to a penalty or forfeiture.

(2) No person shall be prosecuted or subjected to any penalty or forfeiture for or on account of any transaction, matter, or thing concerning which he may testify or produce evidence, documentary or otherwise, before the commission, or in obedience to its subpoena. However, no person so testifying shall be exempt from prosecution and punishment for perjury committed in so testifying.

(c) (1) Every witness who shall appear before the commission by its order shall receive for his attendance the fees and mileage allowed by law for witnesses in civil cases in circuit courts, which shall be audited and paid by the state in the same manner as other expenses of the commission are audited and paid, upon the presentation of the proper voucher sworn to by the witness and approved by the commission or the chairman thereof.

(2) Witnesses summoned at the instance of parties other than the commission shall be paid by the party causing the witnesses to be summoned.

26-24-123. Appeal of actions or orders.

(a) Any taxpayer aggrieved by the action or order of the Arkansas Public Service Commission respecting the assessment or equalization of property shall have the right of appeal to the circuit court and thence to the Supreme Court.

(b) (1) All appeals from the commission involving the assessment or equalization of property locally assessed may be either to the circuit court of the county where the property is located or the Pulaski County Circuit Court.

(2) All appeals involving the assessment or equalization of property, the original assessment of which has been fixed by the commission, shall be to the Pulaski County

Circuit Court.

(c) All appeals shall be taken within thirty (30) days from the date of the action or order appealed from by filing a written notice with the commission and shall be tried de novo.

(d) No appeal shall lie from the action or order of the commission on original assessments unless the property owner shall have first exhausted his or her remedy before the commission by way of petition for review.

Construction.

Burden of Proof.

Evidence.

Judicial Review.

Scope of Judicial Authority.

Construction.

Section 23-2-423 and this section are easily distinguishable, inasmuch as § 23-2-423 pertains to public utility regulatory matters and this section governs judicial review on Public Service Commission decisions concerning taxation matters. Arkansas Elec. Coop. Corp. v. Arkansas Pub. Serv. Comm'n, 307 Ark. 171, 818 S.W.2d 935 (1991).

Burden of Proof.

The burden of proof is on the protestant to show that the property assessment is manifestly excessive or clearly erroneous or confiscatory. Potlatch Corp. v. Arkansas City Sch. Dist., 311 Ark. 145, 842 S.W.2d 32 (1992).

Evidence.

An appeal from a ruling by the Public Service Commission is not the type that calls for the reception of new evidence, but is the type in which review is confined to the record made before the administrative body. Southwestern Bell Mobile Sys. v. Arkansas Pub. Serv. Comm'n, 73 Ark. App. 222, 40 S.W.3d 838 (2001).

Judicial Review.

Courts can only review assessments, and reverse them, and send them back to the executive department when they are clearly erroneous, manifestly excessive, or confiscatory. Potlatch Corp. v. Arkansas City Sch. Dist., 311 Ark. 145, 842 S.W.2d 32 (1992).

Scope of Judicial Authority.

Because of the separation of powers doctrine, it is not within the province of the state courts to assess property. Potlatch Corp. v. Arkansas City Sch. Dist., 311 Ark. 145, 842 S.W.2d 32 (1992).

26-25-101. Limitation on counties.

It shall be unlawful for the county court to levy on the taxable property of the county in any one (1) year a greater percentage rate than is authorized in this section:

- (1) For all county purposes, not exceeding five (5) mills on the dollar; and
- (2) For paying indebtedness existing at the time of the adoption of the present constitution, not exceeding five (5) mills on the dollar.

Publisher's Notes. Acts 1980 (1st Ex. Sess.), No. 64, provided for a one-time millage rate adjustment for county, community college district and municipal ad valorem taxes, and school district taxes in order to avoid excessive taxation which might result from the court ordered reappraisal of taxable property (Arkansas Pub. Serv. Comm'n v. Pulaski County Bd. of Equalization, 266 Ark. 64, 582 S.W.2d 942 (1979)), and the procedure for making this one-time millage rate adjustment.

Case Notes

- County Bonds.
- Excessive Levy.
- Existing Indebtedness.
- Judicial Districts.
- Schools.

County Bonds.

Where county bonds had been issued under authority of law and where at the same time the law had directed a tax to be levied for their protection or where there was a general law authorizing and directing a tax in all like cases applicable to such bonds, the law became a part of the contract and the holder had a right to look to the taxing provision as a part of his security and to demand at the proper time that it be exercised in his favor. Brodie v. McCabe, 33 Ark. 690 (1878) (decision under prior law).

Excessive Levy.

An excessive levy vitiated the whole tax and a court, upon a bill to enjoin, could not treat as valid so much of the levy as was not in excess of the rate authorized by law. Worthen v. Badgett, 32 Ark. 496 (1877) (decision under prior law).

Existing Indebtedness.

Where county court levied tax of five mills for purpose of paying indebtedness existing at time of adoption of Arkansas Constitution, but on subsequent day of term modified its order and appropriated whole of the levy to payment of a judgment rendered against it in federal court, conceding the latter order to have been an error, it was not void for want of jurisdiction of the subject matter, and where no appeal was taken, it could not subsequently be corrected. Graham v. Parham, 32 Ark. 676 (1878) (decision under prior law).

When county court levied a tax of five mills to pay indebtedness existing at time of adoption of the Arkansas Constitution of 1874, it exhausted its power to levy for that purpose and could not make an additional levy for a particular debt. Cope v. Collins, 37 Ark. 649 (1881) (decision under prior law).

Judicial Districts.

Although a county is divided into two judicial districts, a different tax levy in each district is invalid. Hutchinson v. Ozark Land Co., 57 Ark. 554, 22 S.W. 173 (1893) (decision under prior law).

Schools.

County court had no authority to levy school tax without return of election. Hodgkin v. Fry, 33 Ark. 716 (1878) (decision under prior law).

Cited: County Bd. of Educ. v. Austin, 169 Ark. 436, 276 S.W. 2 (1925).

26-25-102. Limitation on cities and towns.

(a) The amount of taxes which may be levied for general purposes in any one (1) year by the constituted authorities of any city or town under the provisions of Arkansas Constitution, Article 12, Section 4, may equal, but not exceed, the maximum amount of levy at any time fixed under this section of the Arkansas Constitution.

(b) This limitation shall not be construed to prohibit assessments on property adjacent to local improvements made in any city or town for the purpose of paying the costs and damages occasioned thereby.

Tax on Property.

When reading this section and § 26-25-103 in conjunction with Ark. Const., Art. 12, it is clear that these enactments have reference to taxes on property. Holt v. City of Maumelle, 302 Ark. 51, 786 S.W.2d 581 (1990).

City ordinance imposing charge for police and fire protection and street lighting was not a property tax within the meaning of Ark. Const., Art. 12, § 4 or this section and § 26-25-103, where ordinance placed tax on the "resident" or "occupant" of the property as opposed to a tax on the “residence” or upon the “real property,” and was a tax not otherwise prohibited by law pursuant to § 26-73-103(a). Holt v. City of Maumelle, 302 Ark. 51, 786 S.W.2d 581 (1990).

26-25-103. Basis of city and town levies.

All levies of taxes in cities and towns shall be based upon the appraisal of the county assessor, as equalized for the levy of state and county taxes, and placed upon the tax book by the clerk of the county court. They shall be collected in the same manner, and by the same person, that county taxes are collected.

26-25-104. State levy in cities one mile from state line.

The rate of all taxes levied by the State of Arkansas, not including county, city, and other local tax levies, in cities and incorporated towns whose corporate limits on March 11, 1957, extend to within one (1) mile of the corporate limits of an Arkansas city which adjoins a city in another state and is separated therefrom only by a state line, shall be at the rate at which the tax is levied and collected in the Arkansas city which adjoins a city in another state and is separated therefrom only by a state line.

History. Acts 1957, No. 201, § 1; A.S.A. 1947, § 84-307.

26-25-105. Objections to levy.

(a) (1) Any person having real or personal property assessed for taxation may appear in person or by attorney before the county court, at the time of the levy of taxes by it, or at the succeeding term thereafter, and by petition or remonstrance, object to the levy of any specific tax for illegality, and may by sworn petition, set forth and show any facts upon which the illegality rests.

(2) If the petition is based upon facts, it shall be the duty of the court to determine both the law and the facts presented, and for that purpose, it shall hear any testimony offered.

(3) If the court should rule against the objection so presented, the party objecting to the levy may appeal from the ruling to the circuit court of the county. Upon giving bond within ten (10) days, with good and sufficient security, in double the amount of specific tax levied upon the property of the party objecting, subject to the approval of the court, and conditioned for the payment of the tax, should it be decided to have been lawfully levied, it shall operate as a supersedeas of the collection of the tax.

- (b) (1) The bond shall not operate to prevent the tax being placed upon the tax book.
- (2) The bond shall be given to the State of Arkansas.
- (3) In the event the levy shall finally be declared illegal, the judgment shall operate as an acquittal to the collector and his securities for the noncollection of the tax.
- (4) If the tax is finally declared legal, the collector shall immediately proceed to collect it as in other cases, or by action on the appeal bond.
- (5) Any taxpayer feeling himself aggrieved by any such levy may, at any time before the returning of delinquent taxes by the collector for that year, appeal as provided in this section.
- (6) Any person interested in the levy of the tax may resist the petition to prevent a levy, either before the county court or in the circuit court on appeal.
- (7) In all cases where an appeal is taken, the clerk of the county court shall enter on the tax books, opposite the name of the party, tract, or lot of land, the supersedeas of the specific tax.

(c) (1) The county court shall employ counsel to attend before it at the hearing, and, should it be appealed to the circuit court, the prosecuting attorney and, if to the Arkansas Supreme Court, the Attorney General, shall appear in the interest and behalf of the levy of the tax.

(2) The real or personal property upon which the illegal specific tax as alleged to have been levied shall not be withheld from sale on account of any taxes for any purpose due or to become due upon it and which has not been paid as provided by law, and against the collection of which no petition has been filed.

26-25-107. Ordinance.

(a) (1) Every city or county that adopts an ordinance levying a local sales and use tax which is collected by the Director of the Department of Finance and Administration shall submit the ordinance to the director at least forty-five (45) days prior to the election on the levy.

(2) The director shall review the ordinance to determine if the proposed levy complies with all statutory requirements and limitations, including a separate levy of the sales and use tax, and an authorized sales or use tax rate.

(b) (1) The director shall approve or reject the ordinance and provide written notice to the city or county within fifteen (15) days of receipt of the ordinance.

(2) (A) If the ordinance is rejected, the director shall note the defects.

(B) If the ordinance is rejected and the city or county fails to correct the noted defects, any tax levied by the defective ordinance shall not be collected by the director.

(c) Whenever a special election is called for the purpose of submitting an initiated measure which levies a city or county sales and use tax to be collected by the director, the county board of election commissioners shall submit the initiated measure to the director and the provisions of subsections (a) and (b) of this section shall apply.

(d) No ordinance or initiated measure shall be deemed invalid because of the failure to submit the ordinance or measure to the director or to use a sample form, and such failure shall not constitute a cause of action to invalidate an ordinance or initiated measure.

Subchapter 1 — General Provisions

26-26-101. Attorney General as chief counsel in tax assessment review.

A.C.R.C. Notes. Acts 2001, No. 783, § 3, provided:

Publisher's Notes. Acts 1993, No. 1176, § 1, formerly noted at this subchapter, was repealed by Acts 2001, No. 783, § 3.

Effective Dates. Acts 1980 (2nd Ex. Sess.), No. 5, § 3: May 8, 1980. Emergency clause provided: "It is hereby found and determined by the General Assembly that the present statutes governing appeals from assessments made by the Tax Division of the Public Service Commission do not provide a specific procedure for appellate review of decisions of the Public Service Commission and the Transportation Commission which modify property tax assessments made by the Tax Division of the Public Service Commission; that the Attorney General's participation in appeals of property tax assessments made by the Tax Division of the Public Service Commission is necessary to ensure that Public Service Commission or Transportation Commission decisions in such cases can be appealed by the Tax Division and that the Attorney General should be designated as chief counsel for the Tax Division when Tax Division property tax assessments are appealed to the Public Service Commission or the Transportation Commission and empowered to appeal orders from the Public Service Commission or the Transportation Commission which modify Tax Division property tax assessments; and that the immediate passage of this Act is necessary to ensure that Public Service Commission or Transportation Commission decisions affecting property tax assessments in 1980 and thereafter can be appealed. Therefore, an emergency is hereby declared to exist and this Act being necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage and approval."

26-26-101. Attorney General as chief counsel in tax assessment review.

(a) When any person, firm, company, copartnership, association, or corporation whose property is required by law to be assessed for ad valorem taxation by the Tax Division of the Arkansas Public Service Commission shall file a petition with the commission or the Arkansas Transportation Commission seeking review of the assessment, the chairman of the commission having jurisdiction over the review shall, within ten (10) days of the filing of the petition, give notice to the Attorney General.

(b) (1) Upon receipt of notice from the Arkansas Public Service Commission or the Arkansas Transportation Commission that a person, firm, company, copartnership, association, or corporation whose property is required by law to be assessed for ad valorem taxation by the Tax Division of the Arkansas Public Service Commission has filed a petition for review of the assessment, the Attorney General shall undertake legal representation of the division and shall serve as chief counsel for the division during the pendency of the review before the commission having jurisdiction of the matter.

(2) The Attorney General shall be assisted by the division's legal counsel and on appeals to the Arkansas Transportation Commission by the Arkansas Transportation Commission's legal counsel.

(3) If any assessment made by the division is modified on review by order of the commission having jurisdiction of the matter, the Attorney General, after consulting with the administrator of the division, shall be empowered to appeal the commission order to the Pulaski County Circuit Court and shall continue to serve as chief counsel for the division during the appellate process, with the authority to appeal subsequent court orders.

History. Acts 1980 (2nd Ex. Sess.), No. 5, §§ 1, 2; A.S.A. 1947, §§ 84-490, 84-491.

Publisher's Notes. The Arkansas Transportation Commission, referred to in this section, was abolished and replaced by the Transportation Regulatory Board and the Transportation Safety Agency pursuant to Acts 1987, No. 572. However, Acts 1989 (1st Ex. Sess.), No. 67, § 23 and Acts 1989 (1st Ex. Sess.), No. 153, §§ 2, 3, abolished the board and the agency and transferred their powers, functions, and duties to the State Highway Commission and the State Highway and Transportation Department, respectively. See § 23-2-201 et seq.

Subchapter 2 — Penalties and Offenses Generally

26-26-201. Delinquent assessments.

26-26-202. Refusal to give name or description of property.

Effective Dates. Acts 1919, No. 147, § 18: approved Mar. 1, 1919. Emergency clause provided: "That Act 234 of the Acts of 1917 and Act 124 of the Acts of 1913, and all other laws in conflict herewith, are hereby repealed, and this Act, being necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety, an emergency is hereby declared to exist, and this Act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage."

Acts 1929, No. 111, § 14: approved Mar. 9, 1929. Emergency clause provided: "All laws and parts of laws in conflict herewith are hereby repealed, and this act being necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety, an emergency is hereby declared to exist, and this act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage."

Acts 1929, No. 172, § 4: approved Mar. 22, 1929. Emergency clause provided: "It is ascertained and hereby declared that the present system of assessing property for taxation is defective, unfair, unjust and inequitable; that the changes herein contemplated are necessary in order to bring about a more equitable distribution of the costs of government, so that the immediate operation of the Act is essential for the preservation of the public peace, health and safety, and an emergency is therefore declared, and this Act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage."

26-26-201. Delinquent assessments.

(a) (1) (A) There shall be a penalty of ten percent (10%) of all taxes due on all persons and property delinquent in assessment.

(B) Where the penalty of ten percent (10%) of the amount of all taxes due shall amount to less than one dollar ($1.00), the penalty shall be arbitrarily fixed at one dollar ($1.00).

(2) (A) All persons and property not listed for assessment with the assessor on or before May 31 of the year in which the assessment is required, as provided by this chapter, shall be deemed to be delinquent in assessment, and the assessor shall so designate it on his records that the clerk may know each item of property and all persons so delinquent.

(B) It shall be the duty of the clerk to affix and extend the penalty provided in this section against each item of property and all persons so delinquent.

(3) The penalty shall be collected by the county tax collector and shall be by him paid into the county general fund.

(b) Between January 1 and June 5 of each year, each county assessor shall file with the State Treasurer a sworn statement that he will comply with subsection (a) of this section. If a county assessor fails to file the statement by June 5, then the State Treasurer shall withhold county turnback to that county until the statement is received by the State Treasurer.

(c) If the neglect is willful, the delinquent shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be fined in any sum not more than one thousand dollars ($1,000).

(d) (1) In addition to the penalties for not assessing, delinquent persons shall be required to pay an additional fifty cents (50¢) for each list, which shall go to the assessor.

(2) This additional sum shall be collected by the tax collector in the usual manner.

Subchapter 3 — Administration Generally

26-26-301. Duties of officers.

26-26-302. Assessment records to be kept current.

26-26-303. Percentage of value to be used in appraisal.

26-26-304. Ratio of assessed value to market value in the assessment year that reappraised values are placed on the assessment rolls.

26-26-305. [Repealed.]

26-26-306. Countywide reappraisal of property.

26-26-307. Completion of reappraisal — Suspension of penalties.

26-26-308. Rules and regulations.

26-26-309. [Repealed.]

26-26-310. Certification of amount of property tax reduction.

26-26-311. Appraisal completion on the date the collector's books are open for collection on the newly appraised value.

A.C.R.C. Notes. References to “this subchapter” in §§ 26-26-301 — 26-26-304 may not apply to §§ 26-26-306 — 26-26-308, which were enacted subsequently. References to “this subchapter” in §§ 26-26-301 through 26-26-310 may not apply to § 26-26-311 which was enacted subsequently.

Effective Dates. Acts 1955, No. 153, § 15: Mar. 7, 1955. Emergency clause provided: “It has been found and is hereby declared by the General Assembly of the State of Arkansas that great inequalities and discriminations in property assessments now exist throughout the State, that there is urgent need for equalization, and that only by the enactment of this bill can there be provided a more efficient and adequate administration of the tax laws. Therefore, an emergency is hereby declared to exist, and this Act being necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health and safety, shall take effect and be in force from and after the date of its passage and approval.”

Acts 1959, No. 31, § 2: approved Feb. 13, 1959. Emergency clause provided: “It has been found and is declared by the General Assembly of Arkansas that under the present reappraisal law of Arkansas, funds would be withheld beginning in April of 1959; that it has been impossible for several counties of this State to comply with the reappraisal requirement due to a lack of sufficient technically skilled personnel to handle the reappraisal; that the withholding of State funds will cause a shortened school term for many schools of this State to the deprivation of the school children of Arkansas; that the General Assembly is desirous of maintaining the full nine months school term; and that this act is necessary to enable the schools to remain open for the full term. Therefore, an emergency is declared to exist and this act being necessary for the public peace, health and safety shall take effect and be in full force from and after the date of its passage.”

Acts 1959, No. 244, § 2: Mar. 25, 1959. Emergency clause provided: “The General Assembly does hereby make the following findings: (1) That Section 12 of Act 153 of 1955, as amended will require the withholding of State aid from many school districts in this State during the current school year, and (2) that such withholding of State school funds will prevent such school districts from having a regular nine month school term, and thereby depriving thousands of school children in this State of an adequate education, (3) that many counties need additional time in which to complete reassessment of property, and (4) that the immediate passage of this Act is necessary in order to correct the situation mentioned above. Therefore, an emergency is hereby declared to exist and this Act being necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety, shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage and approval.”

Acts 1997, No. 440, § 6: March 11, 1997. Emergency clause provided: “It is hereby found and determined by the General Assembly that Arkansas Code 26-26-305 which requires a reappraisal of property in each county for ad valorem tax purposes at least every five (5) years does not address various issues concerning the application of the new appraised values when the reappraisal is carried out over a period of two or more years and purports to prevent application of the rollback provisions of Amendment #59 to the Arkansas Constitution when a reappraisal is carried out over a period of two or more years and consequently has raised several constitutional questions and caused considerable confusion in the administration of ad valorem tax laws and should be repealed immediately. Therefore an emergency is declared to exist and this act being immediately necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health and safety shall become effective on the date of its approval by the Governor. If the bill is neither approved nor vetoed by the Governor, it shall become effective on the expiration of the period of time during which the Governor may veto the bill. If the bill is vetoed by the Governor and the veto is overridden, it shall become effective on the date the last house overrides the veto.”

Acts 1997, No. 836, § 8: March 26, 1997. Emergency clause provided: “It is hereby found and determined by the General Assembly that Act 758 of 1995 has placed an unfair burden on the taxpayers of the State of Arkansas by directing countywide reappraisals of property in a manner which circumvents the rollback provisions of Amendment 59 of the Arkansas Constitution; that counties which have commenced a cyclical review of property in accordance with Act 758 of 1995 should be permitted to implement a fair and equitable comprehensive countywide reappraisal using valuations determined through the cyclical review program and in a manner which minimizes the disparities and inequities created through Act 758 of 1995; that when there is a countywide reappraisal of property for ad valorem tax purposes which is conducted over a period of two or more years, fairness and equity demand that taxes not be assessed on the new appraised values of any property in the county until all property therein has been reappraised, and that when taxes are first assessed on the basis of the newly appraised values, the provisions of Amendment #59 to the Arkansas Constitution, including the rollback provision, should be applied; that this act is designed to accomplish this purpose and should be given effect immediately. Therefore, an emergency is declared to exist and this act being immediately necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health and safety shall become effective on the date of its approval by the Governor. If the bill is neither approved nor vetoed by the Governor, it shall become effective on the expiration of the period of time during which the Governor may veto the bill. If the bill is vetoed by the Governor and the veto is overridden, it shall become effective on the date the last house overrides the veto.”

Acts 1999, No. 1079, § 2: January 1, 2000.

Acts 1999, No. 1492, § 8: if contingency met, sections 1, 2, 3, 4 and 6 shall become effective on January 1, 2001, and Section 7 shall become effective on January 1, 2002. Effective date clause provided: "Effective Date. The provisions of Section 5 shall be effective 90 days after adjournment. The provisions of Sections 1, 2, 3, 4, 6 and 7 shall not be effective unless; a) the General Assembly refers a constitutional amendment to be approved during the 2000 general election; b) the amendment provides for a limitation on the increase in the assessed value of real property after a county-wide reappraisal; and c) the amendment is approved. If those conditions are met, Sections 1, 2, 3, 4 and 6 shall become effective on January 1, 2001, and Section 7 shall become effective on January 1, 2002. Claims for refund may be filed in 2001 pursuant to §§ 26-51-601 - 26-51-608 for property taxes paid during calendar year 2000 for property assessed in calendar year 1999."

Identical Acts 2000 (2d Ex. Sess.), Nos. 1 and 2, § 11. December 15, 2000. Emergency clause provided: "It is found and determined by the General Assembly of the State of Arkansas that Amendment 79 to the Arkansas Constitution requires the General Assembly to provide for a property tax credit of not less than $300 for each homestead; that providing such a property tax credit results in a significant reduction in revenues for funding county services and public schools; that without an alternative source of funding counties and public schools cannot operate effectively; that an increase in the state sales and use tax provides a source of funding for counties and public schools; that this act will accomplish the purposes of Amendment 79 in providing a property tax credit and source of funding. It is necessary that this act become effective immediately in order to facilitate the administration of the property tax credit and to generate sufficient revenues to fully fund the credit. Therefore, an emergency is declared to exist and Sections 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 8 and 9 of this act being immediately necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health and safety shall become effective on the date of its approval by the Governor. If the bill is neither approved nor vetoed by the Governor, it shall become effective on the expiration of the period of time during which the Governor may veto the bill. If the bill is vetoed by the Governor and the veto is overridden, it shall become effective on the date the last house overrides the veto."

Acts 2001, No. 1275, § 4: Apr. 4, 2001. Emergency clause provided: "It is found and determined by the General Assembly that property tax reimbursements to the counties will most likely begin in April and it is critical to the counties to account for costs borne by the certification of amounts of real property tax reduction to the Chief Fiscal Officer of the State as soon as possible. Therefore, an emergency is declared to exist and this act being immediately necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health and safety shall become effective on the date of its approval by the Governor. If the bill is neither approved nor vetoed by the Governor, it shall become effective on the expiration of the period of time during which the Governor may veto the bill. If the bill is vetoed by the Governor and the veto is overridden, it shall become effective on the date the last house overrides the veto."

Acts 2001, No. 1544, § 6: Apr. 12, 2001. Emergency clause provided: "It is found and determined by the General Assembly that in order to efficiently reimburse the counties for the homestead property tax credit, county assessors are required to recertify to the Chief Fiscal Officer the amount of real property reduction on or before June 30 of the year 2001 and every year thereafter. Therefore, an emergency is declared to exist and this act being immediately necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health and safety shall become effective on the date of its approval by the Governor. If the bill is neither approved nor vetoed by the Governor, it shall become effective on the expiration of the period of time during which the Governor may veto the bill. If the bill is vetoed by the Governor and the veto is overridden, it shall become effective on the date the last house overrides the veto."

Acts 2005, No. 1772, § 3: Apr. 6, 2005. Emergency clause provided: "It is found and determined by the General Assembly of the State of Arkansas that the Assessment Coordination Department prepares a ratio study to determine the average ratio of full assessed value to market value of real property; that there is a large amount of data submitted to the department by July 1 of each year; that the department is required to complete the ratio study by August 1 of that same year; and that extending the due date to September 15 would give the department more time to prepare an accurate ratio study. Therefore, an emergency is declared to exist and this act being immediately necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health, and safety shall become effective on: (1) The date of its approval by the Governor; (2) If the bill is neither approved nor vetoed by the Governor, the expiration of the period of time during which the Governor may veto the bill; or (3) If the bill is vetoed by the Governor and the veto is overridden, the date the last house overrides the veto.”

Basis of Valuation.

Basis of Valuation.

Arkansas Constitution requires assessment of property on basis of current market value. Arkansas Pub. Serv. Comm'n v. Pulaski County Bd. of Equalization, 266 Ark. 64, 582 S.W.2d 942 (1979), superseded by statute as stated in, Clark v. Union P. R. Co., 294 Ark. 586, 745 S.W.2d 600 (Ark. 1988) (decision prior to Const. Amend. 59).

26-26-304. Ratio of assessed value to market value in the assessment year that reappraised values are placed on the assessment rolls.

(a) (1) (A) The Assessment Coordination Department shall prepare a ratio study for the purpose of determining the average ratio of full assessed value to the true and full market or actual value of real property, by classifications, in each of the several counties and school districts of the state in the assessment year that reappraised values are placed on the assessment rolls.

(B) (i) This ratio study shall be based on sales-to-assessment ratios, supplemented with appraisal to assessment ratios as required to meet generally accepted statistical techniques.

(ii) The study shall determine the actual assessment level of real estate as required by law, including the value of agricultural lands that qualify for use and productivity valuation, by classification such as residential, commercial and industrial, agricultural, and other classifications.

(iii) No later than January 31 of every year, all counties shall report, by electronic transmission, sales data to the department. The sales data shall include:

- (a) A listing of each property transferred under a warranty deed or special warranty deed;
- (b) The consideration paid;
- (c) The date of the sale;
- (d) The parcel number;
- (e) The legal description;
- (f) The names of the grantor and grantee;
- (g) The most recent assessed value of the property; and

(h) Other data prescribed by the department.

(iv) (a) The sales-to-assessment ratio study shall include sales data for the calendar year previous to the assessment year.

(b) In those instances when the number of appropriate sales from the calendar year previous to the assessment year is insufficient to present a statistically sound sample, the sales-to-assessment ratio study may include sales data for the three (3) calendar years previous to the assessment year.

(c) The department shall report the preliminary sales-to-assessment ratio studies to the county assessor and county judge on or before March 1 of the assessment year.

(2) The department shall supplement the sales-to-assessment ratio with appraisals as required and report the original combined real property ratios to the county assessor and county judge.

(3) In conducting the studies, the department shall use generally accepted valuation procedures, statistical compilation, and analysis techniques found in the International Association of Assessing Officers' standards on ratio studies.

(b) (1) (A) An annual ratio study for the purpose of determining the average ratio of assessed value to the true and full market or actual value of personal property in each of the several counties of the state shall also be made.

(B) This ratio study of personal property shall be based upon a physical examination of the records of each county assessor's office to determine the degree of compliance with the criteria as established by the Personal Property Manual.

(2) The personal property original ratio study shall be certified by the department to the county judge and county assessor of each county by September 15 of each year.

(c) (1) On or before August 1 of each year the county assessor shall report to the department by total of items and value the total assessment of the county as made by the county assessor.

(2) (A) The county clerk shall file a report with the department showing the percent of true market or actual value at which the county equalization board has equalized the assessed values of the property of the county under the county equalization board's jurisdiction for the year, together with an abstract of the adjusted assessment by total of items and value.

(B) The report and abstract shall be filed each year no later than thirty (30) days after final adjournment of the county equalization board.

(d) (1) Whenever any county assessor or deputy assessor attends a school or instructional meeting pursuant to the request of the department, he or she shall be entitled to reimbursement for his or her travel expenses, which shall be paid by the department upon filing of a proper claim for the travel expenses.

(2) The county assessor and his or her deputies shall also be entitled to reimbursement for travel expenses within the county in performance of their duties as required by this section, which shall be paid by the county.

(3) (A) All reimbursements for travel expenses shall be limited to the actual and necessary expenses incurred.

(B) The total expenses incurred, other than for transportation, for travel within the county shall not exceed one-half (1/2) the daily maximum amount authorized for travel of state employees within the state, and, for travel outside the county, the amount shall not exceed the daily maximum amount authorized for travel of state employees within the state, in accordance with state travel laws and regulations.

(C) The transportation expenses shall not exceed the actual amount paid, except that the reimbursement for use of a private automobile shall be at the same rate per mile as is allowed in the reimbursement of state employees under the state travel laws and regulations for transportation expenses for each mile actually and necessarily traveled by the automobile, within and without the county.

(e) (1) In addition to the other provisions of this section, whenever the September 15 ratio for the classifications of market value real estate, business personal property, auto and other personal property, or agricultural and timber falls below eighteen percent (18%) or above twenty-two percent (22%) of full fair market value, the county shall be deemed to have failed the ratio study and shall be subject to the corrective actions outlined in subsection (f) of this section.

(2) Furthermore, when a ratio study determines that the county does not meet the ratio standards found in the International Association of Assessing Officers' standards on ratio studies, the county shall be deemed to have failed the ratio study and shall be subject to the corrective actions outlined in subsection (f) of this section.

(3) The department may conduct a county ratio study, in full or in part, at any time that the department determines that a county has engaged in inappropriate assessment roll changes or manipulations.

(f) (1) (A) When a county has failed the ratio study, the department shall direct and supervise a detailed market value and assessment value analysis of the area or class indicating a deficiency in order to determine the political subdivisions and neighborhoods or appraisal methodology, or both, in need of assessment value adjustments.

(B) When appropriate assessment value adjustments are determined for the county, the county shall place the assessment value adjustments on the assessment rolls of the county in a manner that is most equitable for the taxpayers of the county for taxation according to the laws of this state.

(C) (i) The department and counties employing contracted appraisal services shall bear no additional expense for correcting a failed ratio study if the failure is found to be the fault of the contractor.

(ii) The contractor shall bear the cost of these additional services.

(2) (A) In the case in which a county fails to place the assessment value adjustments on the assessment rolls of the county as directed by the department, the department may notify the disbursing agents of the State of Arkansas to withhold the funds accruing to the county from all sources until the time that the adjustments are made.

(B) If the adjustments are not made for one (1) year, the withheld funds shall not be reimbursed to the county and shall be deposited in the State General Government Fund, and withholding shall begin for the following year.

(g) (1) If a county is aggrieved at the findings of the department, the county may appeal the findings of the department to the Director of the Assessment Coordination Department.

(2) The officials of each unit of government affected shall have the right to examine the records of the department that pertain to the ratio findings or value adjustment order for that unit of government.

A.C.R.C. Notes. The Assessment Coordination Division of the Public Service Commission was transferred to the Assessment Coordination Department by a type 2 transfer under § 25-2-105 by Acts 1997, No. 436, § 2.

Publisher's Notes. Acts 1955, No. 153 as originally enacted was, except for §§ 4, 6, and 13 (§§ 26-26-301 — 26-26-303), a temporary law providing for an appraisal and assessment of property as of January 1, 1957. However, thereafter, amendments were made to § 12 (this section) inserting continuing provisions making this section permanent in nature. Therefore, § 12 has been codified above, and because of possible applicability of other provisions of this act to this subchapter, the other sections of Acts 1955, No. 153, as amended, should also be checked.

Amendments. The 1997 amendment added (g).

The 1999 amendment added the present second sentence in (a)(1)(B)(iii).

The 2001 amendment rewrote the section.

The 2005 amendment by No. 73 inserted the subdivision (A) designation in (c)(2); deleted “on or before October 1 of each year” following “The county clerk” in present (c)(2)(A); and inserted (c)(2)(B).

The 2005 amendment by No. 1772 substituted “September 15” for “August 1” in (b)(2) and (e)(1).

Capitalization of Income Method.

A trial court did not err in basing its decision as to the property assessment upon values reflected by the capitalization of income method. Board of Equalization v. Evelyn Hills Shopping Ctr., 251 Ark. 1055, 476 S.W.2d 211 (1972).

Manual for Assessors.

The methods and criteria of the manual required by Acts 1955, No. 153, § 5, are to be used as a guide by assessors in assessing real and personal property. Kitchens v. Arkansas Appraisal Serv., 233 Ark. 384, 344 S.W.2d 853 (1961).

Assessors who substantially comply with procedure outlined in assessment manual in assessing real and personal property have complied with Acts 1955, No. 153, § 5. Kitchens v. Arkansas Appraisal Serv., 233 Ark. 384, 344 S.W.2d 853 (1961).

Market Value.

Acts 1973, No. 411 was held unconstitutional, because, under the act, property was not assessed as to current market value, but, instead, artificial 1956 values for residential property and certain construction were used, and likewise, farm and timber land were valued as of 1961. Arkansas Pub. Serv. Comm'n v. Pulaski County Bd. of Equalization, 266 Ark. 64, 582 S.W.2d 942 (1979), superseded by statute as stated in, Clark v. Union P. R. Co., 294 Ark. 586, 745 S.W.2d 600 (Ark. 1988) (decision prior to Const. Amend. 59).

A 1979 county reassessment, although not based on current market value of real property, was an action taken to achieve a more proper level of taxation and, as such, was neither illegal nor contrary to the decision in Arkansas Pub. Serv. Comm'n v. Pulaski County Bd. of Equalization, 266 Ark. 64, 582 S.W.2d 942 (1979), which allowed the Public Service Commission until the end of 1979 to prepare an implementation plan and provided that statewide reassessments begin in January 1981. *Rodgers v. 26-26-305. [Repealed.]

Publisher's Notes. This section, concerning the valuation review program, was repealed by Acts 1997, No. 440, § 1 and No. 836, § 1. The section was derived from Acts 1995, No. 758, §§ 1-5. For present law, see §§ 26-26-306 — 26-26-308, and 26-36-410.

26-26-306. Countywide reappraisal of property.

(a) Any countywide valuation review program begun in accordance with the requirements of § 26-26-305 [repealed] shall be deemed to be a countywide reappraisal of property pursuant to directive of law enacted by the General Assembly.

(b) Any county which has begun but has not completed a countywide valuation review program in accordance with the requirements of § 26-26-305 [repealed] or otherwise on March 26, 1997, shall direct that a countywide reappraisal of property be completed, using, in part, valuations determined through the valuation review program for each parcel of taxable property reviewed to date.

(c) The provisions of § 26-26-401 et seq., relative to the adjustment or rollback of millage levied for ad valorem tax purposes shall be applicable where a countywide reappraisal of property is completed as provided in this section.

(d) Any county which has begun but has not completed a countywide valuation review program in accordance with the requirements of § 26-26-305 [repealed] or otherwise on March 26, 1997, shall suspend the valuations determined through the valuation review program and use the valuations which were applicable prior to the valuation adjustments pending the completion of the countywide reappraisal.

(e) Ad valorem taxes which are due and owing on March 26, 1997, shall continue to be due and owing and shall not be affected by the terms of this section.

Case Notes

In General.

In General.

It was error for the trial court to interpret subsection (e) of this section as exempting 1996 county taxes from the rollback provision of Amendment 59 on the basis that the taxes from 1996 were due and owing at the time the law took effect and that, therefore, the provisions of the statute were inapplicable to those taxes; such an interpretation of the statute improperly carved out an exception to the requirements of Amendment 59. Worth v. City of Rogers, 341 Ark. 12, 14 S.W.3d

471 (2000).

26-26-307. Completion of reappraisal — Suspension of penalties.

(a) When there is a countywide reappraisal of property for ad valorem tax purposes in any county, which reappraisal is conducted over a period of two (2) or more years, taxes shall not be assessed on the basis of the reappraised value of any property in the county until all taxable property in the county has been reappraised. When a countywide reappraisal of property is completed in any county and taxes are first assessed on the newly reappraised values, the provisions of Arkansas Constitution, Amendment 59 and § 26-26-401 et seq. relative to the adjustment or rollback of millage levied for ad valorem tax purposes shall be applicable.

(b) Provided that newly discovered real property, new construction and improvements to real property, and personal property, shall be listed, appraised and assessed as otherwise provided by law until the countywide reappraisal of property is completed.

(c) No county which is conducting a comprehensive countywide reappraisal of property for ad valorem tax purposes which is in progress on the third Monday in November in any year, or any municipality or school district therein, shall be subject to any penalties provided in § 26-26-304 for such fiscal year if the following requirements are met:

(i) The reappraisal meets the requirements of § 26-26-401; and

(ii) The reappraisal is conducted in accordance with a plan which has been approved by the Assessment Coordination Division and provides that the reappraisal will be completed within twenty-four (24) months following the date of such approval.

26-26-309. [Repealed.]

Publisher's Notes. This section, concerning a contingent certification of amount of property tax reduction, was repealed by identical Acts 2000 (2d Ex. Sess.), Nos. 1 and 2, § 3. The section was derived from Acts 1999, No. 1492, § 2. For present law, see Ark. Const. Amend. 79 and § 26-26-310.

26-26-310. Certification of amount of property tax reduction.

(a) (1) On or before March 31 of each year, the county collector of each county shall certify to the Chief Fiscal Officer of the State the amount of the real property tax reduction provided in § 26-26-1118.

(2) (A) After receipt of the certification from the county collectors, the Chief Fiscal Officer of the State shall determine the proportionate share of the total statewide reduction attributable to each county.

(B) (i) At the end of each month, the Chief Fiscal Officer of the State shall determine the balance in the Property Tax Relief Trust Fund and certify it to the Treasurer of State.

(ii) The Treasurer of State shall make distributions from the Property Tax Relief Trust Fund to each county treasurer in accordance with the county's proportionate share of the total statewide property tax reduction for that calendar year resulting from the provisions of § 26-26-1118.

(iii) (a) Effective January 1, 2006, the Treasurer of State shall make a monthly distribution from the Property Tax Relief Trust Fund to each county treasurer.

(b) The distributions for January, February, and March shall be in accordance with the county's proportionate share of the total statewide property tax reduction as of the final county certification of the previous year.

(c) Beginning in April of each year, the distribution from the Property Tax Relief Trust Fund to each county treasurer shall be in accordance with the county's proportionate share of the total statewide property tax reduction for that calendar year under § 26-26-1118.

(C) (i) If the Chief Fiscal Officer of the State has not received all of the certifications from the county collectors, then the distribution of the Property Tax Relief Trust Fund shall be as follows until all certifications have been received:

(a) The total amount of the Property Tax Relief Trust Fund to be distributed shall equal the total amount in the Property Tax Relief Trust Fund multiplied by the proportion of the previous year's total property assessment, less tangible personal property and property owned by utilities and regulated carriers, of the counties that have certified, divided by the previous year's total property assessment, less tangible personal property and property owned by utilities and regulated carriers in the state; and

(b) Each county that has certified its property tax reduction shall receive an amount of the Property Tax Relief Trust Fund, as adjusted in subdivision (a)(2)(C)(i)(a) of this section, equal to the county's proportionate share of the total property tax reduction of the counties that have certified their property tax reductions.

(ii) However, until all counties have certified their property tax reductions to the Chief Fiscal Officer of the State, no county shall receive more than seventy-five percent (75%) of its certified property tax reduction.

(3) (A) (i) Funds so received by the county treasurers shall be credited to the county property tax relief fund.

(ii) Ninety-six percent (96%) of the funds shall be allocated and distributed to the various taxing entities within the county that levy ad valorem taxes.

(iii) The allocation shall be based on a certification from the county collector of the amount of the real property tax reduction per taxing entity provided in § 26-26-1118.

(iv) (a) The four percent (4%) retained in the county property tax relief fund is the commission of the county collector as authorized under § 21-6-305(a)(4).

(b) This commission shall become a part of the total commission of the county collector.

(v) These funds are subject to § 21-6-305(d).

(B) Funds so received by the various taxing units shall be used for the same purposes and in the same proportions as otherwise provided by law.

(b) (1) Distributions to each county shall continue on a monthly basis from the Property Tax Relief Trust Fund until the full amount certified by the county collectors, as of November 15 of each year, has been paid.

(2) (A) In no event shall the amount distributed to a county during a calendar year from the Property Tax Relief Trust Fund exceed the final amount certified by the county collector as of November 15 as the property tax reduction for that calendar year resulting from § 26-26-1118.

(B) If a county is paid in excess of its proportionate share, the Chief Fiscal Officer of the State may reduce payments made to the county for the subsequent calendar year until the overpayment is recovered.

(C) (i) On or before December 31 of each year, the Chief Fiscal Officer of the State, in cooperation with the Legislative Council and the Legislative Auditor, shall determine that portion of the balance remaining in the Property Tax Relief Trust Fund that is in excess of the required reimbursement to the counties and shall certify the excess to the Treasurer of State.

(ii) Beginning December 31, 2005, and on December 31 of each subsequent year, the Treasurer of State shall:

(a) Calculate an amount equal to one percent (1%) of the amount of the excess funds certified in subdivision (b)(2)(C)(i) of this section;

(b) Calculate each county's proportionate share of the amount calculated in subdivision (b)(2)(C)(ii)(a) of this section based on the proportions used to reimburse the county for property tax reductions under subsection (a) of this section; and

(c) Transfer the amount calculated under subdivision (b)(2)(C)(ii)(b) of this section to the county treasurer for allocation to the county assessor.

(iii) (a) These funds shall be used by the county assessor for the costs of administering Arkansas Constitution, Amendment 79.

(b) These costs include personnel, equipment, services, and postage used in the administration of Arkansas Constitution, Amendment 79.

(iv) The remaining excess funds may be used in accordance with subsequent legislation to provide additional tax relief or financial assistance to school districts that incur a reduction in revenue as a direct result of Arkansas Constitution, Amendment 79.

(3) (A) The Legislative Auditor or his or her designee shall audit the books and records of the county assessor, county collector, or any other party as needed to ensure that the amount of the property tax reduction certified by the county collector is accurate.

(B) The Chief Fiscal Officer of the State may adjust the amount certified by the county collector if it is discovered that the certified amount is incorrect.

(c) (1) On or before June 30 and November 15 of each year, the county collector of each county shall recertify to the Chief Fiscal Officer of the State the amount of the real property tax reduction provided in § 26-26-1118.

(2) The recertification shall reflect the most current total of tax reductions based on corrections and amendments to the records of the county assessor.

(3) After receipt of the recertification from the county collectors, the Chief Fiscal Officer of the State shall redetermine the proportionate share of the total statewide reduction attributable to each county.

Amendments. The 2001 amendment by No. 1275 rewrote (a)(3)(A).

The 2001 amendment by No. 1544 rewrote the section.

The 2005 amendment by No. 659 substituted "March 31 of each year" for "March 31, 2001, and each March 31 thereafter" in (a)(1); inserted the subdivision (i) and (ii) designations in (a)(2)(B); substituted "The Treasurer of State shall" for "who shall" in present (a)(2)(B)(ii); added (a)(2)(B)(iii); deleted "be transferred to the general fund of the county in December of each year to" following "This commission shall" in (a)(3)(A)(v); substituted "Distributions" for "Reimbursements" in (b)(1); substituted "On or before December 31 of each year" for "Commencing December 31, 2002, and each December 31 thereafter" in (b)(2)(C); and inserted "Beginning in 2001" in (c)(1).

The 2005 amendment by No. 1892 inserted the present (i) and (iv) designations in (b)(2)(C); inserted (b)(2)(C)(ii), (b)(2)(C)(iii); substituted "on or before December 31 of each year" for "commencing December 31, 2002, and each December 31 thereafter" in (b)(2)(C)(i); and substituted "The remaining" for "Such" at the beginning of (b)(2)(C)(iv).

A.C.R.C. Notes. References to “this subchapter” in §§ 26-26-401 to 26-26-409 may not apply to § 26-26-410 which was enacted subsequently.

Effective Dates. Acts 1981, No. 848, § 11: Mar. 28, 1981. Emergency clause provided: “It is hereby found and determined by the General Assembly that Amendment 59 to the Arkansas Constitution was adopted to minimize the increased tax burden which would otherwise have resulted from a court ordered statewide reappraisal of property for ad valorem tax purposes; that several counties are in the process of conducting the reappraisal of property mandated by the court; that Amendment 59 requires enactment of legislation to implement the provisions thereof and that this Act provides such implementation and should be given effect immediately to accomplish the purposes of Amendment 59 in an orderly, effective and efficient manner. Therefore, an emergency is hereby declared to exist and this Act being immediately necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health and safety shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage and approval.”

Acts 1997, No. 1300, § 29: Apr. 10, 1997. Emergency clause provided: “It is found and determined by the General Assembly that Amendment No. 74 to the Arkansas Constitution was adopted by the electors of this state on November 5, 1996; that Amendment No. 74 became effective on adoption and applies to ad valorem property taxes due in 1997; that the tax books of each county will open for collection of taxes in the near future and that local officials and school districts must have direction on procedures and effects of the various actions required. The General Assembly further finds that Amendment No. 74 requires enactment of legislation to implement the provisions thereof and that this act provides such implementation and should be given effect immediately to accomplish the purposes of Amendment No. 74 in an orderly, effective and efficient manner. Therefore, an emergency is declared to exist and this act being immediately necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health and safety shall become effective on the date of its approval by the Governor. If the bill is neither approved nor vetoed by the Governor, it shall become effective on the expiration of the period of time during which the Governor may veto the bill. If the bill is vetoed by the Governor and the veto is overridden, it shall become effective on the date the last house overrides the veto.”

Acts 2003 (2nd Ex. Sess.), No. 28, § 10: Dec. 31, 2003. Emergency clause provided: “It is found and determined by the General Assembly of the State of Arkansas that the Arkansas Supreme Court has declared that the current method that the state uses to determine compliance with Amendment 74 to be unconstitutional and has instructed the General Assembly to take action before the termination of the court's stay of its mandate. It is also found that the people must be informed as early as possible the impact of the court's ruling on the property taxes that they pay for education. Therefore, an emergency is declared to exist and this act being immediately necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health, and safety shall become effective on: (1) The date of its approval by the Governor; (2) If the bill is neither approved nor vetoed by the Governor, the expiration of the period of time during which the Governor may veto the bill; or (3) If the bill is vetoed by the Governor and the veto is overridden, the date the last house overrides the veto.”

Acts 2003 (2nd Ex. Sess.), No. 105, § 12: Feb. 10, 2004. Emergency clause provided: “It is found and determined by the General Assembly of the State of Arkansas that the Arkansas Supreme Court has declared that the current method that the state uses to determine compliance with Amendment 74 to be unconstitutional and has instructed the General Assembly to take action before the termination of the court's stay of its mandate. It has also found that the people must be informed as early as possible of the impact of the court's ruling on the property taxes that they pay for education. Therefore, an emergency is declared to exist and this act being immediately necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health, and safety shall become effective on: (1) The date of its approval by the Governor; (2) If the bill is neither approved nor vetoed by the Governor, the expiration of the period of time during which the Governor may veto the bill; or (3) If the bill is vetoed by the Governor and the veto is overridden, the date the last house overrides the veto.”

Case Notes

Purpose.

Equalization.

Purpose.

Constitutional Amend. 59 was intended to effect equalization on a gradual basis by holding the revenue from taxation of personal property relatively static as taxes on real estate increased, and Act 848 of 1981, codified as this subchapter, was passed to implement Amendment 59. Crane v. Newark School Dist. No. 33, 303 Ark. 650, 799 S.W.2d 536 (1990).

Equalization.

From both the wording of Ark. Const. Amend. 59 (which appears as Ark. Const., Art. 16, §§ 5, 14-16 in the text of the Constitution) and this subchapter, real estate taxes cannot be increased more than 10 percent per year until such time as the personal and real property evaluation and millage rates are equalized. The amendment prevents the taxing units from receiving more than a 10 percent increase in tax collections for any one year; in the event the applicable millage would result in the collection of more than a 10 percent increase in revenues, a rollback procedure is mandated. Clark v. Union Pac. R.R., 294 Ark. 586, 745 S.W.2d 600 (1988).

Both Ark. Const., Art. 16, § 14 and this subchapter contemplate that equalization of rates of taxation on realty and personalty will occur because there will be an increase in personal property in any taxing unit from year to year but the amount of realty will remain the same. Crane v. Newark School Dist. No. 33, 303 Ark. 650, 799 S.W.2d 536 (1990).

26-26-401. Applicability.

The provisions of this subchapter relative to the adjustment or rollback of millage levied for ad valorem tax purposes shall be applicable only where there is a countywide or statewide reappraisal of property:

(1) Pursuant to court order; or

(2) Pursuant to directive of law enacted by the General Assembly; or

(3) When the reappraisal is initiated by the assessor, the county equalization board, by directive of the quorum court or upon request of one (1) or more taxing units of a county, and is determined and certified by the Assessment Coordination Division of the Arkansas Public Service Commission as constituting a comprehensive countywide reappraisal; or

(4) When ordered by or implemented by a county pursuant to a directive of the division or its successor agency.

Case Notes

In General.

In General.

This subchapter applies only to a rollback of millage levied where there has been a countywide or statewide reappraisal of property pursuant to the four factors listed in this section. Gazaway v. Greene County Equalization Bd., 314 Ark. 569, 864 S.W.2d 233 (1993).

Where there is no evidence an appraisal occurred as a result of a countywide or statewide reappraisal of property by one of the four methods listed in this section, § 26-26-407 does not apply. Gazaway v. Greene County Equalization Bd., 314 Ark. 569, 864 S.W.2d 233 (1993).

26-26-402. Procedure for adjustment of taxes after reappraisal or reassessment of property.

(a) (1) Whenever a countywide reappraisal or reassessment of property subject to ad valorem taxes, made in accordance with procedures established in this subchapter and with regulations of the Assessment Coordination Division of the Arkansas Public Service Commission, or its successor agency, adopted pursuant to the authority granted in this section shall result in an increase in the aggregate value of taxable real and personal property in any taxing unit in this state of ten percent (10%) or more over the previous year, the rate of city or town, county, school district, and community college district taxes levied against the taxable real and personal property of each taxing unit shall, upon completion of the reappraisal or reassessment, be adjusted or rolled back by the governing body of the taxing unit for the year for which levied as provided.

(2) The adjustment or rollback of tax rates or millage for the base year as defined in subdivision (5) of this subsection shall be designed to assure that each taxing unit will receive an amount of tax revenue from each tax source no greater than ten percent (10%) above the revenues received during the previous year from each tax source, adjusted for any lawful tax or millage rate increase or reduction imposed in the manner provided by law for the year for which the tax adjustment or rollback is to be made, and after making the following additional adjustments:

(A) By excluding from calculation the assessed value of, and taxes derived from, tangible personal property assessed in the taxing unit and all real and tangible personal property of public utilities and regulated carriers assessed in the taxing unit; and

(B) (i) By computing the adjusted or rollback millage rates on the basis of the reassessed taxable real property for the base year that will produce an amount of revenue no greater than ten percent (10%) above the revenues produced from the assessed value of real property in the taxing unit after making the aforementioned adjustments for personal properties and properties of public utilities and regulated carriers as provided in subdivision (a)(2)(A) from millage rates in effect in the taxing unit during the base year in which the millage adjustment or rollback is to be calculated;

(ii) In calculating the amount of adjusted or rollback millage necessary to produce tax revenues no greater than ten percent (10%) above the revenues received during the previous year, the governing body shall separate from the assessed value of taxable real property of the taxing unit, newly discovered real property and new construction and improvements to real property, after making the adjustments for personal property or property of public utilities and regulated carriers as provided in subdivision (a)(2)(A), and shall compute the millage necessary to produce an amount of revenues equal to, but no greater than, the base year revenues of the taxing unit from each millage source. Such taxing unit may elect either to obtain an increase in revenues equal to the amount of revenues that the computed or adjusted rollback millage will produce from newly discovered real property, new construction, and improvements to real property, or, if the same is less than ten percent (10%), the governing body of the taxing unit may recompute the millage rate to be charged to produce an amount no greater than ten percent (10%) above the revenues collected for taxable real property during the base year.

(3) The amount of revenues to be derived from taxable personal property assessed in the taxing unit for the base year, other than personal property taxes to be paid by public utilities and regulated carriers in the manner provided, shall be computed at the millage necessary to produce the same dollar amount of revenues derived during the current year in which the base year adjustment or rollback of millage is computed, and the millage necessary to produce the amount of revenues received from personal property taxes received by the taxing unit, for the base year shall be reduced annually as the assessed value of taxable personal property increases until the amount of revenues from personal property taxes, computed on the basis of the current year millage rates, will produce an amount of revenues from taxable personal property equal to or greater than that received during the base year, and thereafter the millage rates for computing personal property taxes shall be the millage rates levied for the current year.

(4) The taxes to be paid by public utilities and regulated carriers in the respective taxing units of the several counties of this state during the first five (5) calendar years in which taxes are levied on the taxable real and personal property as reassessed and equalized in each of the respective counties as a part of a statewide reappraisal program shall be the greater of the following:

(A) The amount of taxes paid on property owned by such public utilities or regulated carriers in or assigned to the taxing unit, less adjustments for properties disposed of or reductions in the assessed valuation of such properties in the base year as defined below; or

(B) The amount of taxes due on the assessed valuation of taxable real and tangible personal property belonging to the public utilities or regulated carriers located in or assigned to the taxing unit in each county at millage rates levied for the current year.

(5) As used in this section, the term "base year" shall mean the year in which a county completes reassessment and equalization of taxable real and personal property as a part of a statewide reappraisal program and extends the adjusted or rolled back millage rates for the first time, as provided in subdivision (1) of this subsection, for the respective taxing units in that county for collection in the following year.

(A) In the event the amount of taxes paid the taxing unit in a county in the base year, as defined in this subdivision, is greater than the taxes due to be paid to such taxing unit for the current year of any year of the second period of five (5) years after the base year, the difference between the base-year taxes and the current year taxes for any year of the five-year period shall be adjusted as follows:

Current year of second period of five (5) years	Taxes shall be current-year taxes to which shall be added the following percentage of the difference between the current-year taxes and the base-year taxes (if greater than current-year taxes)
1st year	80% of difference
2nd year	60% of difference
3rd year	40% of difference
4th year	20% of difference
5th year and thereafter	Current year's taxes only

(B) If the current-year taxes of a public utility or regulated carrier equal or exceed the base-year taxes due a taxing unit during any year of the first ten (10) years after the base year, the amount of taxes to be paid to the taxing unit shall thereafter be the current-year taxes, and the adjustment authorized in this section shall no longer apply in computing taxes to be paid to such taxing unit.

(6) In the event the requirement for payment of taxes by public utilities and regulated carriers, or any class of utilities or carriers for the ten-year period as provided in subdivision (a)(5)(B) shall be held by court decision to be contrary to the constitution or statutes of this state or of the federal government, all utilities and all classes of carriers shall receive the same treatment provided or required under the court order for a particular type of carrier or utility if deemed necessary to promote equity between similar utilities or classes of carriers.

(b) If it is determined that the adjustment or rollback of millages as provided for in this section will render income from millages pledged to secure any bonded indebtedness insufficient to meet the current requirements of all principal, interest, paying agents' fees, reserves, and other requirements of a bond indenture, any pledged millage shall be rolled back or adjusted only to a level which will produce at least a level of income sufficient to meet the current requirements of all principal, interest, paying agents' fees, reserves, and other requirements of the bond indenture.

(c) Pursuant to the application of Arkansas Constitution, Amendment 74, to the rollback provisions of Arkansas Constitution, Amendment 59, for millage rates levied by the various school districts within the county, if it is determined that the adjustment or rollback of millages as provided in Amendment 59 will result in a tax rate available for maintenance and operation of less than the uniform rate of tax, then the millage shall be rolled back only to the uniform rate of tax plus debt service millage required, and no further.

Case Notes

Guarantee of 10 Percent.

Guarantee of 10 Percent.

The language in subdivision (a)(2) of this section that, upon completion of a county-wide reappraisal or reassessment of property, "each taxing unit will receive an amount of tax revenue from each tax source no greater than 10% above the revenues received during the previous year" is part of a guarantee to the taxpayers that their taxes would not be increased by more than 10%; the language is not a guarantee to school districts that they would get an exact 10% increase in tax money. Thus, where, following a reappraisal and reassessment of property, school districts received increases ranging from 4.9% to 8.7%, the districts could not argue that the increases were insufficient and that they were instead entitled to full 10% increases. 26-26-404. Computation and certification form.

(a) (1) The governing body of each taxing unit in the base year of countywide reassessment shall complete the following form and return the form to the county clerk on or before the third Monday in November of the base year, using certified data provided by the county clerk as described in § 26-26-402.

(2) The form shall be signed by the officers of the governing body of each taxing unit.

(b) (1) If newly discovered and new construction properties are less than a ten percent (10%) increase in assessments, the governing body of each taxing unit may elect to increase the rolled back millage an amount to allow no more than an overall ten percent (10%) increase in taxes.

(2) If the newly discovered and new construction property list is ten percent (10%) or more above reassessment total, the total amount is allowed; however, no increase in the rolled back millage shall be considered.

(c) Each tax source or millage levy shall be computed and rounded up to the nearest one-tenth ($\frac{1}{10}$) mill.

(d) The county clerk shall file and record the completed forms required in § 26-26-403 and this section and shall forward a copy of the forms to the Assessment Coordination Division of the Arkansas Public Service Commission by December 1 of the base year.

26-26-405. Personal property interim millage adjustment.

(a) Revenues derived from personal property by each taxing unit in the county are to be frozen at the base-year levels. The millage applied to personal property only is then adjusted downwards in the same proportion that the assessment base increases. The current millage is defined as the millage that was used in each taxing unit to derive the base-year revenues for personal property. This procedure shall be followed each year until the personal property millage rate is equal to or lesser than the millage rate applied to real estate, at which time the interim adjustment is complete, and both personal property and real estate shall thereafter be taxed at the same millage rate.

(b) In calculating the interim millage, all millage will be rounded up only to the nearest one-tenth ($\frac{1}{10}$) mill or to four (4) places to the right of the decimal.

(c) The adjustment shall be performed by the county clerk at the conclusion of all due process proceedings, or by the second Monday in November, whichever is earlier. The county clerk shall then certify the interim personal property millage rate by taxing unit to the county quorum court by the third Monday in November for certification of all millage rates.

(d) The county clerk shall file and record the completed form required by this section. The clerk shall forward a copy of the form to the Assessment Coordination Division of the Arkansas Public Service Commission by December 1 of each year where an interim millage is used, or the year of final adjustment.

(a) Residential property used solely as the principal place of residence of the owner shall be assessed in accordance with its value as a residence, so long as the property is used as the principal place of residence of the owner and shall not be assessed in accordance with some other method of valuation until the property ceases to be used for the residential purpose.

(b) (1) (A) Agricultural land, pasture land, and timber land valuation shall be based on the productivity of the agricultural land, pasture land, or timber land soil.

(B) Agricultural land, pasture land, and timber land guidelines shall be developed based on the typical or most probable use of the soils for agricultural land, pasture land, and timber land in the region.

(2) Land that is enrolled in the Wetland Reserves Program of the Natural Resources Conservation Service of the United States Department of Agriculture or in the Conservation Reserve Program of the Natural Resources Conservation Service of the United States Department of Agriculture shall be treated as agricultural land, pasture land, or timber land for purposes of valuation.

(c) (1) Commercial land and residential land that are vacant shall be valued on their typical use.

(2) The county assessor shall determine what the typical use of vacant commercial land or residential land is by considering the primary current use of adjacent lands.

(d) (1) For real property in which the mineral estate and surface estate are severed, if a surface estate owner's use and enjoyment of the surface estate are adversely affected by a severed mineral estate owner's use and enjoyment of the severed mineral estate, or a surface estate owner's utility of the surface estate interest is adversely affected by a severed mineral estate owner's use and enjoyment of the severed mineral estate, the assessment of the surface estate is as follows:

(A) For agricultural land, pasture land, or timber land, a well drilled for the purpose of extracting minerals from a severed mineral estate creates a presumption of diminished utility of the surface estate, and the assessed value of the affected surface estate shall reflect the minimum productivity value of the surface estate and shall be reduced accordingly.

(B) For residential property and commercial property, a well drilled for the purpose of extracting minerals from a severed mineral estate creates a presumption of diminished utility of the surface estate, and the assessed value of the affected surface estate shall reflect the diminished utility of the surface estate and reduced accordingly.

(2) Unless market evidence indicates an increase in land area value or an increase in value of the surface estate, the portion of the surface estate for which a presumption of diminished utility exists under subdivision (d)(1) of this section shall not exceed one (1) acre per well, and the value of the surface estate for that one (1) acre shall be assessed in an amount not to exceed twenty-five percent (25%) less than surrounding comparable property.

(e) (1) The county equalization board may reclassify land upon proof of change in use of the land or upon proof that the land is not eligible for classification under the provisions of this section.

(2) The owner may appeal the decisions of the county assessor and county equalization board as provided by law for other appeals from the county assessor or county equalization board.

(f) (1) In devising and developing methods of assessing and levying the ad valorem property tax on real property, the Assessment Coordination Department shall annually develop and publish valuation tables and other data that shall be used by county assessors for assessing lands qualifying under this subchapter.

(2) (A) Each year the Assessment Coordination Department shall update the valuation tables for assessing lands qualifying as agricultural land, pasture land, and timber land in time for counties to use the updated tables when they finish their countywide appraisals.

(B) When there is a countywide reappraisal, a county shall assess agricultural land, pasture land, and timber land based upon the updated land values in the valuation tables issued for the assessment year.

(3) (A) The Assessment Coordination Department by rule shall develop appropriate formulas reflecting the productivity valuation of the land based upon income capability attributable to agricultural land, pasture land, and timber land soils.

(B) Each year the Assessment Coordination Department shall develop and calculate capitalization rates by using appropriate long-term federal security rates, risk rates, management rates, and other appropriate financial rates.

(C) However, the capitalization rate developed under subdivision (f)(3)(B) of this section shall not be less than eight percent (8%) nor more than twelve percent (12%).

(4) By October 15 of each year, the Assessment Coordination Department shall report to the Legislative Council any changes to any part of the formula used to determine the value of land or the capitalization rate.

(g) (1) Whenever land that has qualified for valuation on use or productivity under subsection (b) of this section is converted to another use, the person converting the land to another use shall notify, immediately and in writing, the county assessor of the change in use.

(2) At the appropriate time, the county assessor shall extend the taxes on the land based on the change in use and shall certify to the county collector the amount to be collected.

(h) (1) If any person shall fail to give written notice of a change in use of land as required in subsection (g) of this section, the person shall be subject to a penalty in an amount equal to three (3) years of taxes on the land at the value in the new use or conversion use.

(2) Any penalty so assessed shall be included in the taxes on the land for the year in which the failure is discovered and shall be a lien on the land to the same extent as any other taxes levied on the land.

(i) Any funds derived from penalties assessed pursuant to subsection (h) of this section shall be deposited into the county general fund to be used for the purposes prescribed by law.

A.C.R.C. Notes. The Assessment Coordination Division of the Public Service Commission was transferred to the Assessment Coordination Department by a type 2 transfer under § 25-2-105 by Acts 1997, No. 436, § 2.

Amendments. The 2005 amendment redesignated former (b)(1) and (b)(2) as present (b)(1)(A) and (b)(1)(B); and added (b)(2).

The 2007 amendment by No. 660 inserted “and uses” in the section heading; added (d) and redesignated the following subdivisions accordingly; and substituted “(g)” for “(f)” in present (h)(1). The 2007 amendment by No. 994 redesignated former (e) as present (e)(1); in (e)(1), inserted “annually” and inserted “valuation”; and added (e)(2) through (e)(4).

The 2009 amendment substituted “county assessor shall” for “assessor must” in (c)(2); in (f), substituted “Each year” for “Effective for assessment years beginning January 1, 2008, and every year thereafter” in (f)(2)(A) and (f)(3)(B), deleted “Beginning January 1, 2008” in (f)(2)(B), and deleted “Effective for assessment years beginning January 1, 2008” in (f)(3)(A); and made related and minor stylistic changes.

Case Notes

Applicability.

Assessment According to Use.

Applicability.

Where there is no evidence an appraisal occurred as a result of a countywide or statewide reappraisal of property by one of the four methods listed in § 26-26-401, this section does not apply. Gazaway v. Greene County Equalization Bd., 314 Ark. 569, 864 S.W.2d 233 (1993).

Assessment According to Use.

Argument that if residential property of the owner and vacant residential property are to be assessed according to their use, so should residential rental property, held without merit.

26-26-408. Implementation of millage rollback in fringe school districts.

(a) For purposes of this section, the term “fringe school districts” means those school districts whose boundaries extend across one (1) or more county lines.

(b) When there is a statewide or countywide reappraisal of property for ad valorem tax purposes pursuant to court order or pursuant to law enacted by the General Assembly, the millage rollback for fringe school districts will be implemented as follows: That part of the school district in a county reappraised first will be rolled back in accordance with procedures prescribed in this subchapter, and taxes will be levied at that millage rate until such time as a similar reappraisal is completed in the other counties in which the school district lies and the millage in those counties is rolled back in accordance with this subchapter at which time the rolled back millage for the first part of the school district that has been reappraised and the rolled back millage for each succeeding part of the school district that has been reappraised shall be averaged, weighted by the percentage of the total assessment of the school district that each part consists of in order to create a weighted average millage, and thereafter the weighted average millage for the school district will be the millage rate levied in the whole school district.

Therefore, an emergency is hereby declared to exist and this Act being necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health and safety shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage and approval."

26-26-501. [Repealed.]

Publisher's Notes. This section, concerning duties generally, was repealed by Acts 1999, No. 933, § 1. The section was derived from Acts 1929, No. 172, § 7; 1931, No. 120, § 1; Pope's Dig., § 13658; Acts 1965, No. 474, § 1; 1983, No. 173, § 1; A.S.A. 1947, § 84-414.

26-26-502. Deputy assessors.

The county assessor in each county, with the approval of the Director of the Department of Finance and Administration, is authorized to deputize one (1) or more full-time or part-time clerks or other employees in the county revenue office and to authorize these deputies to assess personal property or to list personal property for assessment for ad valorem taxes.

History. Acts 1977, No. 186, § 1; A.S.A. 1947, § 84-416.1.

26-26-503. Appointment and training of personnel.

- (a) The county assessor in each county may employ such personnel as the assessor deems necessary to reappraise taxable property in the county in compliance with the court order in Arkansas Public Service Commission, et al. v. Pulaski County Board of Equalization, et al. and to thereafter maintain a proper appraisal of property in the county.
- (b) (1) (A) The Assessment Coordination Division of the Arkansas Public Service Commission shall prescribe an appropriate course of training to qualify persons employed by elected county assessors to conduct appraisals of property for ad valorem tax purposes and shall issue a certificate of qualification to each person who successfully completes the course of training or is otherwise determined by the division to be qualified to conduct appraisals.

(B) (i) Only those persons who hold certificates of qualification issued by the division as provided for in this section shall be employed by the elected county assessors for or undertake the appraisal of property for ad valorem tax purposes in any county.

(ii) This section only applies to persons employed by elected county assessors, and the elected county assessors are not themselves required to be certified by the division.

(2) The division shall seek the advice of the Legislative Council prior to the final adoption of training criteria for persons to be employed by county assessors to appraise property for ad valorem tax purposes.

Subchapter 6 — Professional Appraisers

26-26-601 — 26-26-607. [Repealed.]

Effective Dates. Acts 2001, No. 590, § 2: Mar. 7, 2001. Emergency clause provided: "It is found and determined by the General Assembly that conflicting provisions exist within the Arkansas Code concerning the procedures for hiring professional appraisers. Counties in the State of Arkansas are in the process of contracting with professional appraisers and it is required that reappraisal management plans be filed with the Assessment Coordination Department no later than July 1 of the year preceding the commencement of the reappraisal. Therefore, an emergency is declared to exist and this act being immediately necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health and safety shall become effective on the date of its approval by the Governor. If the bill is neither approved nor vetoed by the Governor, it shall become effective on the expiration of the period of time during which the Governor may veto the bill. If the bill is vetoed by the Governor and the veto is overridden, it shall become effective on the date the last house overrides the veto."

Preambles. Acts 1887, No. 13 contained a preamble which read:

“Whereas, 1st. Lands have been sold to the State under proceedings purporting to have been had in the courts of this State by virtue of an Act of the General Assembly thereof entitled “An Act to enforce the payment of Overdue Taxes,” approved March 12, 1881, when the taxes for the alleged nonpayment of which such lands were so sold under said proceedings and decrees of said courts, had been in fact paid prior to any such sales, proceedings or decrees of said courts; and,

“Whereas, 2d. Also the lands of many other persons were under like proceedings and decrees aforesaid had, by virtue of said act, sold to the State, where the owners thereof had paid taxes which they supposed were on such lands of their own, but which taxes so paid, owing to an erroneous description in the numbers of the same afterwards were ascertained to be on other lands than their own, and their lands sold to the State as aforesaid; and,

“Whereas, 3d. Said overdue tax act was a novel proceeding in this State that was productive of hardships in other respects, and it is but just to them that the owners of land at the time of such sale to the State, should have a limited time to redeem the same therefrom, without loss to the State, provided said lands shall not have been sold by the State prior to any such application to redeem;

“Now, therefore....”

Acts 1945, No. 211 contained a preamble which read:

“Whereas, the County assessors are now forced under Section 13653 of Pope's Digest of 1937 [§ 26-26-1202] to put a valuation on all land, lots and parts of lots subject to taxation, and

“Whereas, the assessor put a valuation on the assessment record of the land, lots, and parts of lots that has been certified to the State of Arkansas for the nonpayment of the delinquent taxes thereon, and the County Clerk in copying the valuations from the assessment record to the tax records, get a valuation on the forfeited land, lots and parts of lots, and extends taxes against said forfeited land, lots and parts of lots and no taxes should be extended as long as it remains against said property in the State Land Office, and to correct these errors and to help the County Clerks of the various counties of the State of Arkansas, to get their tax records correct....”

Acts 1953, No. 235 contained a preamble which read:

“Whereas, numerous owners of real estate fail to receive their tax statements through incorrect addresses on the tax books, thereby permitting their property to go delinquent; and

“Whereas, certain real estate and the improvements thereon do not appear on the tax books with the result that the owners thereof avoid the payment of taxes, thereby penalizing others who carry an additional tax burden.

“Now, therefore....”

Acts 1969, No. 38 contained a preamble which read:

“Whereas, the 1967 regular session of the General Assembly enacted laws providing for the issuance of motor vehicle licenses on a twelve-month staggered basis, and

“Whereas, existing laws of the State require each motor vehicle owner to submit proof of the assessment of the motor vehicle as a condition of the issuance or the renewal of the license thereon; and

“Whereas, the issuance and renewal of motor vehicle license plates on a twelve-month staggered basis is working extreme hardship upon the county assessors in discovering and assessing motor vehicles and other personal property within the scheduled time provided for assessment of property;

26-26-701. Furnishing of lists, blanks, and records.

(a) (1) The Arkansas Public Service Commission shall prepare and furnish, at the proper time, to the county clerks in this state copies for all lists, blanks, and records to be used in the assessment, extension, and collection of taxes, and the county clerk shall have all lists, blanks, and records made at the expense of the county.

(2) This subsection shall not apply to poll tax receipts.

(3) No lists, blanks, or records shall be used by any official in the assessment, extension, or collection of taxes except as shall have had the approval of the commission.

(b) On or before January 1 of each year, the county clerk shall furnish to the assessor all lists, blanks, and records necessary for the assessment of all real and personal property for the year, all of them to be prepared as provided by law unless otherwise directed by the commission.

Extensions.

Extensions.

This section amends by necessary implication § 26-28-103, relating to extension of taxes. Lambert v. Reeves, 194 Ark. 1109, 110 S.W.2d 503 (1937), modified, 194 Ark. 1123, 112 S.W.2d 33 (Ark. 1938).

This section conferred authority on the commission to change the form of tax books so as to omit blank spaces for the extension in dollars and cents of the amounts due the state and its various subdivisions, and since, acting under this authority, the commission had, for a number of years, approved forms of tax books omitting such extension, failure of a county clerk to make such an extension did not render a tax sale based thereunder void. Lambert v. Reeves, 194 Ark. 1109, 110 S.W.2d 503 (1937), modified, 194 Ark. 1123, 112 S.W.2d 33 (Ark. 1938); Kansas City Life Ins. Co. v. Moss, 196 Ark. 553, 118 S.W.2d 873 (1938).

26-26-702. Abstracts of tracts and lots of land furnished assessor.

(a) On or before January 1 of each year, the clerk of the county court of each county shall make out and deliver to the assessor, in books prepared for that purpose, an abstract containing a description of each tract or lot of land situated within the boundaries of any city or town and additions thereto which have been regularly platted into lots and blocks. In the case of real estate situated within the boundaries of any city or town and additions thereto which have been regularly platted into lots and blocks, the clerk shall proceed according to the plan or plat thereof, commencing with the lowest number of the block and lot of each city, town, or addition and proceed numerically with all lots in a block and all blocks in a city, town, or addition until completed.

(b) On or before January 1 of each year, the clerk shall make out and deliver to the assessor, in books prepared for that purpose, an abstract containing a description of each tract of land situated outside the boundaries of any city or town and additions thereto which have been regularly platted into lots and blocks. In case of acreage land, he shall commence the abstract in the lowest number in township and range in his county, and in the northeast corner of each township, and shall proceed numerically with all sections, townships, and ranges in his county first setting down all the subdivisions of each section as they belong to different individuals or the whole section together if owned by one (1) person and not divided on account of parcels being of different value.

(c) The abstract in each case shall show the name of the owner, if known, and the number of acres or quantity of land contained in each call.

(d) No failure to observe any of these requirements shall be held to vitiate any assessment if the lands are so described as to be identified.

Tax sale was not invalidated by fact that two contiguous forty-acre tracts were listed separately in assessment book while county clerk in making up tax book combined the two tracts into one tract of 80 acres. Coulter v. Anthony, 228 Ark. 192, 308 S.W.2d 445 (Ark. 1957).

Duties of County Clerks.

Duties of county clerks prior to 1929 amendment. Rives v. Woodruff County, 179 Ark. 1110, 20 S.W.2d 184 (1929).

Mineral Interests.

Mineral interests severed from the soil are to be arranged according to the land assessments, and not alphabetically by names of owners. Sorkin v. Myers, 216 Ark. 908, 227 S.W.2d 958 (1950).

Tax title obtained on mineral interests was void where names of owners were listed alphabetically under each school district instead of by section, township, and range. Stienbarger v. Keever, 219 Ark. 411, 242 S.W.2d 713 (1951).

Tax sale of severed mineral interest not subjoined to surface assessment is not valid. Blackburn v. Cline, 8 Ark. App. 108, 650 S.W.2d 588 (1983).

26-26-703. Exempt lands to be abstracted.

Lands of the United States or of Arkansas, or lands otherwise exempt from taxation, shall be entered upon the abstract in the name of the owner.

History. Acts 1883, No. 114, § 85, p. 199; C. & M. Dig., § 9883; Pope's Dig., § 13650; A.S.A. 1947, § 84-403.

26-26-704. Land book and list.

(a) To facilitate the assessment and collection of taxes, the county court of each county shall procure and keep a land book or books of maps of all the townships or fractional townships in the county. The book shall be well-bound and shall be deposited in the office of the clerk of the county court.

(b) The court shall also procure a list of the lands owned by the United States and by this state in their respective counties.

History. Acts 1883, No. 114, § 85, p. 199; C. & M. Dig., § 9885; Pope's Dig., § 13651; A.S.A. 1947, § 84-404.

26-26-705. School district lists.

(a) The school directors of each and every school district in the state shall furnish to the county assessor a complete list, showing addresses alphabetically arranged, of all persons who under the law should be taxpayers in the school district.

(b) The various school boards are authorized to pay out of the school funds of the district the expense incurred in the preparation of the list.

History. Acts 1929, No. 111, § 3; Pope's Dig., §§ 11540, 13627; A.S.A. 1947, § 84-405.

Case Notes

Expenses.

Expenses.

Where six school districts cooperatively employed a tax representative to prepare the list required by this section, there was authority to pay the expense incurred in preparation of the list. Burnett v. Nix, 244 Ark. 235, 424 S.W.2d 537 (1968).

26-26-706. Lists of motor vehicle licenses.

On or before January 1, 1999, the Director of the Department of Finance and Administration shall institute a system whereby the county assessor and county collector shall notify the director that a vehicle owner has assessed a vehicle and has paid all personal property taxes that were due by the preceding October 10. Upon receipt of such notification the director shall renew the vehicle license. Such notification by the county assessor and collector shall be in the form of an electronic notation placed on or removed from the department's vehicle license record by the county assessor and collector denoting that the vehicle has been assessed and that the owner owes no delinquent personal property taxes. Prior to instituting such system the director shall continue to require vehicle owners to present proof that each vehicle has been assessed and that all personal property taxes due from the owner by the preceding October 10 have been paid before issuing or renewing any vehicle registration.

A.C.R.C. Notes. Acts 1997, No. 974, § 19, codified as § 27-13-103, provided:

"The Director of the Department of Finance and Administration shall have the authority to promulgate such regulations as are necessary to implement and administer the provisions of this Act."

Amendments. The 1997 amendment rewrote this section.

Cross References. Motor vehicles to be listed for assessment before registration, § 27-14-706.

26-26-707. List of building permits.

The city clerks of all cities and municipalities in each county shall prepare and file with the county assessor a list of all building permits issued each year. The list shall be alphabetically arranged, showing the value of the improvements to be made and the names and addresses of the persons making the improvements.

History. Acts 1929, No. 111, § 5; Pope's Dig., § 13629; A.S.A. 1947, § 84-407.

26-26-708. List of contracts, deeds, leases.

(a) The recorder of deeds and mortgages in each county shall, each year, prepare and file with the county assessor a list, alphabetically arranged in the name of the grantor, or a copy of the following which were recorded during the year, to wit:

- (1) All deeds, mortgages, and contracts for the sale of realty;
- (2) All timber deeds or contracts, or mineral or royalty deeds; and
- (3) All leases or contracts of every kind, whether oil and gas or other things leased.

(b) If a list is furnished, it shall reflect the last known business address of the person owning the rights under the contract, deed, or lease, the date, and the consideration.

26-26-709. Other instruments conveying real estate.

(a) When an instrument for the conveyance of real estate, save mortgages and deeds of trust, is tendered to the county recorder for recording, that official shall obtain from the person tendering the instrument the name of the grantee and the address to which the grantee wants future tax statements mailed.

(b) At least weekly the recorder shall transmit the duplicate statements to the county assessor, who shall keep the original and immediately transmit the copy to the county clerk, together with his instructions as to any change in legal description or separation of parcel as they then appear on the tax books.

(c) In counties operating under the unit tax ledger system, the county assessor shall immediately transmit the copy to the county collector, together with his instructions as to any change in legal description or separation of parcel as they then appear on the tax books.

(d) Both the county assessor and the county clerk shall make proper entry of the information so received into their permanent records.

(e) Where a plat is offered for record to the county recorder, the person so offering the plat shall tender to the circuit clerk the original for recording and one (1) copy of the plat, which shall be certified to by the circuit clerk, showing the book and page of the records wherein the original is recorded. The certified copy shall be transmitted by the circuit clerk to the tax assessor within five (5) days from the date of recording.

26-26-712. Employees' names furnished on demand.

(a) Any person, partnership, company, or corporation having any person in their employ shall be required to give the name of the employee to the county assessors, sheriffs, or county collectors of the various counties when demanded by the county assessors, sheriffs, or county collectors in their official capacity.

(b) Any person, partnership, company, or corporation, their agents, attorneys, or managers that shall violate this section shall be guilty of a violation and shall be fined in any sum not less than ten dollars ($10.00) nor more than one hundred dollars ($100).

History. Acts 1903, No. 142, §§ 1, 2, p. 243; 1911, No. 19, § 1, p. 7; C. & M. Dig., §§ 10169, 10550; Pope's Dig., §§ 13951, 14246; A.S.A. 1947, § 84-413; Acts 2005, No. 1994, § 166.

Amendments. The 2005 amendment, in (b), substituted "managers that" for "managers, who" and "violation" for "misdemeanor."

26-26-713. Filing of required lists.

(a) All lists required in §§ 26-26-705, 26-26-707, and 26-26-708 by clerks, school directors, and others shall be filed with the county assessors of the various counties on the first Monday in January of each year.

(b) The lists shall be filed in triplicate:

(1) One (1) to be forwarded by the county assessor to the Arkansas Public Service Commission;

(2) One (1) to be filed with the county clerk; and

(3) One (1) to be retained by the county assessor.

(c) (1) The list retained by the county assessor shall be checked by him or her and used in his or her endeavor to place all taxable property on the books.

(2) When the county assessor's books are closed, the county assessor shall certify all of the lists to the county court, and the certificate shall show whether the individuals have made an assessment and if not, why not, and what effort the county assessor has put forth in each case to secure an assessment by each individual on the lists.

(d) (1) Upon conviction, any individual, school director, tax commissioner, county assessor, or other person charged with a duty under this section who fails to perform the duty is guilty of a violation and shall be fined in any sum not less than one hundred dollars ($100) nor more than one thousand dollars ($1,000).

(2) Upon conviction for a second offense, in the case of any public official, the public official shall be removed from office.

(e) The commission shall prepare such forms as will ensure the effective execution of this section.

Amendments. The 2005 amendment substituted "and 26-26-708" for "26-26-708, 26-26-710 [repealed], and 26-26-711 [repealed]" in (a); inserted "or her" twice in (c), in (d)(1), substituted "violation" for "misdemeanor" and inserted "dollars" following "one hundred"; and substituted "ensure" for "insure" in (e).

The 2007 amendment rewrote (d)(1).

26-26-714. Preservation of assessment lists.

(a) The original assessment lists as made out, sworn to, and delivered to the assessor by any person or property owner of the county and assessment lists made by the assessor prior to the date on which the assessment rolls are delivered to the county clerk, together with copies of all assessment lists as made out, sworn to, and delivered to the county clerk by the assessor or any other person after the assessment rolls have been delivered to the clerk and before the county collector closes his books, shall remain in the office of the assessor for at least four (4) years after the date upon which they shall have been made, during which time the lists shall be filed by the assessor in such manner that they may be readily referred to and utilized.

(b) Copies of all assessment lists as made by the assessor or any other person subsequent to the date on which penalty attached for failure to assess and before the assessment record is required to be filed with the county clerk shall be delivered to the clerk at the same time the assessment record is filed, which lists, together with the original of all assessment lists as may be filed with the clerk by the assessor or any other person after the assessment record has been delivered to the clerk and before the collector closes his books, shall be preserved by the clerk for the purpose of checking the tax books to determine if all penalties for failure to assess at the proper time have been properly designated and extended.

26-26-715. Information gathered by assessor.

From time to time, the assessor shall, by personal inspection and examination of persons, property, or records, gather and record in writing any and all available data and information bearing upon the location, number, amount, kind, and value of any and all property and persons which he is by law required to assess. This data and information shall be and remain permanently a part of the records of the assessor's office and shall be filed in such manner as may be readily referred to and utilized by the equalization board, county clerk, county court, or other interested parties.

26-26-716. Assessment reports filed with county clerk.

(a) (1) (A) Each year, the assessor shall, on or before the third Monday in August, file with the county clerk his report of assessment of all real property of the county situated within the boundaries of any city or town and additions thereto which have been regularly platted into lots and blocks.

(B) Each year, the assessor shall, on or before the third Monday in August, file with the county clerk his report of assessment of all real property of the county situated outside the boundaries of any city or town and additions thereto which have been regularly platted into lots and blocks.

(2) On or before July 31, the assessor shall deliver the personal property assessment report or roll book to the county clerk, to be arranged in alphabetical order according to school districts and showing separately in alphabetical order the persons residing outside of incorporated cities and towns and of persons who are residents of incorporated cities and towns of the same school district.

(3) In addition to the other requirements of this section, the county assessors shall be required to list poll and personal property owners to the respective political township and ward in which they reside at the time of the assessment.

(b) (1) These reports shall be filed in books or records of the kind and character furnished to the assessor by the county clerk for that purpose, unless otherwise directed by the Arkansas Public Service Commission, and each report shall show each item of property by totals in number and value.

(2) The clerk shall not receive these reports unless they are in a neat and legible manner, and to each of which the assessor shall have attached his oath in the following words:

“I, _____, Assessor for _____ County, State of Arkansas, do solemnly swear that I have made diligent efforts to ascertain all the taxable property and persons subject to taxation in said county; that so far as I have been able to ascertain, the same is correctly set forth and described in the foregoing report, and that the property therein mentioned is not appraised at less than its true market or actual value, or authorized percentage thereof.

That this record or book is one of _____ records or books constituting the report of assessment or appraisal of all property and persons of the county which I am by law required to assess or appraise for the year 19 _____, so help me God.

Sworn to and subscribed before me this _____ day of _____, 19 _____, Clerk _____ County.”

Affidavit and Oath.
Levy of Taxes.
State Lands.

Affidavit and Oath.

Tax sale of rural land was not void on ground that assessor failed to make affidavit to real estate assessments for the year 1929, where assessor testified that he made an affidavit and a certificate, but testimony did not show what oath was taken or what certificate was made. Peace v. Tippet, 195 Ark. 799, 114 S.W.2d 461 (1938).

Title of purchaser of real estate certified to state for nonpayment of taxes was not void because assessor failed to attach to assessment roll the oath prescribed by this section. Hudson v. Marlin, 196 Ark. 1070, 121 S.W.2d 91 (1938).

Sale of land to the state for taxes was not void on ground that the assessor failed to attach to his assessment roll the oath prescribed by this section, where attached oath stated that assessor solemnly swore that the foregoing was correct and he had appraised each tract or lot of land, except such as was exempt from taxation, at the per centum of its cash value as agreed upon by the state. Hargrave v. Williams, 200 Ark. 66, 138 S.W.2d 1045 (1940).

Actual possession of land, taken and held continuously for statutory period of two years under clerk's tax deed, bars action against grantee for recovery thereof by prior owners, as provided in §§ 18-60-212 and 18-61-106, even though clerk's affidavit and assessor's reports were insufficient. Hoch v. Ratliff, 216 Ark. 357, 226 S.W.2d 39 (1950).

Levy of Taxes.

In action involving the ad valorem assessment of real property, where assessor, after making up his assessment books and an abstract of the assessed property, filed claim with the county clerk, who made out his report in accordance with the assessor's abstract, forwarding the report to the state, during which time the county board of equalization was in session, the action of the quorum court directing taxes be collected from the value established by the assessor was void, since it was without authority to levy millages on any basis other than the assessment of the assessor as equalized and adjusted by the equalization board. Layne v. Strode, 229 Ark. 513, 317 S.W.2d 6 (1958).

State Lands.

Assessor's duty to return all lands is not affected by fact that particular lands may have been sold to state. Crockett v. Bearden, 203 Ark. 48, 156 S.W.2d 79 (1941).

26-26-717. Accurate description of all tracts required.

(a) (1) (A) It shall be the duty of each assessor to make out, from such sources of information as shall be in his power, a correct and pertinent description of each tract or lot of real property in his county, so that it can be identified and distinguished from any other tracts or parts of tracts.

(B) The assessor shall place a value on each subdivision of a block, and the improvements thereon, in cities and towns, or additions thereto, notwithstanding the fact that one (1) individual owns the whole block.

(2) (A) When the assessor shall deem it necessary to obtain an accurate description of any separate tract or lot in his county, he may require the owner or occupier to furnish it with any title papers he may have in his possession.

(B) (i) If the owner or occupier, upon demand made for it, shall neglect or refuse to furnish a satisfactory description of the parcel of real property to the assessor, he may employ the county surveyor to make out a description of the boundaries, and location thereof, and a statement of the quantity of land therein.

(ii) The expense of the survey shall be returned by the assessor to the clerk of the county court, who shall add the expense of the survey to the tax assessed upon the real property, and it shall be collected by the collector of the county with the tax. When collected, it shall be paid on demand to the person to whom it is due.

(b) (1) The assessor shall, in all cases, from actual view or from the best sources of information within his reach, determine, as near as practicable, the true value of each separate tract and lot of real property in his county, according to the rules prescribed by this chapter for valuing property.

(2) The assessor shall note in his plat book, separately, the value of all houses, mills, and other buildings which shall be carried out as a part of the value of the tracts.

Case Notes

Insufficient Descriptions.

Sufficient Descriptions.

Insufficient Descriptions.

Description as "N., N.E., sec. 3, Town 15, range 6, 87.19 acres" was not description by abbreviations so generally known as to sufficiently describe land. Cooper v. Lee, 59 Ark. 460, 27 S.W. 970 (1894).

Description as "west part S.W.S.W. sec. 20, T. 15, range 28, 30 acres, valuation, $30,000 belonging to a certain company" was insufficient to describe 30 acres belonging to such company where land was not in shape of parallelogram and part of it was outside the southwest quarter of the southwest quarter. Texarkana Water Co. v. State, 62 Ark. 188, 35 S.W. 788 (1896).

Tax deed is insufficient that describes land sold as four-sixths of a certain quarter section without describing the tract sold with sufficient definiteness to locate it without reference to the remainder of the tract. King v. Booth, 94 Ark. 306, 126 S.W. 830 (1910).

Claim of property owners in drainage district that numerous descriptions of land in district were fatally defective did not invalidate an assessment where there was no complaint that the description of the petitioners' property was insufficient, since defects and irregularities in assessments could be cured by subsequent orders. St. Louis S. F. R. Co. v. Subdistrict, 179 Ark. 567, 17 S.W.2d 299 (1929).

Sale of land for delinquent taxes described as "Part South Half Northwest Quarter" was a void sale for insufficient description of land sold. Holt v. Reagan, 201 Ark. 1101, 148 S.W.2d 155 (1941).

Tract of land described as "Accretions, Section 20" was too indefinite and was insufficient to pass title when accretions had been formed to two separate quarter sections of that section. Sanders v. Plant, 211 Ark. 913, 204 S.W.2d 323 (1947).

Sufficient Descriptions.

Description of lands in complaint as "W. ½ 6-3-7" and notice described land as "W. ½ section 6, township 3 north, range 7 east" held valid. Beck v. Anderson-Tulley Co., 113 Ark. 316, 169 S.W. 246 (1914).

A description of land by the abbreviations commonly used to designate government subdivisions sufficiently identifies it; however, the use of abbreviations in a tax assessment or notice must be confined to those commonly known or understood. Beck v. Anderson-Tulley Co., 113 Ark. 316, 169 S.W. 246 (1914).

Description "Southwest quarter section 3, township 20 south, range 18 west, 112.28 acres", which included all that part of the quarter section lying within the state of Arkansas, was sufficient against contention that it could not be known what portion of the quarter section was assessed where only other portion of quarter section was in another state. Alphin v. Banks, 193 Ark. 563, 102 S.W.2d 558 (1937).

Describing lands as the "NE SE" of a certain section was sufficient notice under the law creating improvement district. Chestnut v. Harris, 64 Ark. 580, 43 S.W. 977 (1897); Kunze v. Blackwood, 195 Ark. 658, 113 S.W.2d 705 (1938).

Inclusion of letter W following block number in description of property did not render description invalid where there was only one such block in the town and the block embraced the lots in question. Moseley v. Moon, 201 Ark. 164, 144 S.W.2d 1089 (1940).

26-26-718. Duty to account for all realty.

It is the duty of the several tax assessors of the state to correctly describe according to ownership each parcel of real property in the county, and every acre of land or town or city lot must be accounted for on the assessment roll. In instances where real property is exempt from taxation, either under the Arkansas Constitution or because title is vested in the state, this fact must be noted on the assessment roll with the reason for the exemption. The county clerk must likewise in extending taxes account for every parcel of real property within the county.

History. Acts 1935, No. 170, § 5; Pope's Dig., § 13792; A.S.A. 1947, § 84-449.

Publisher's Notes. Acts 1935, No. 170, § 8, provided that this act shall be cumulative to Acts 1933, No. 16, except where in conflict therewith.

Case Notes

Assessor's Error.

Extension of Taxes.

Assessor's Error.

Where plaintiff went to the assessor's office in good faith attempt to ensure that taxes on his property would be correctly billed and paid, and the assessor's office failed to change ownership of the property, which was subsequently sold by the state land commission for delinquent taxes, plaintiffs' good faith attempt to pay was not defeated by the assessor's mistake; because of the interrelationship of the tax assessor, county clerk, and collector, plaintiff's inquiry at the assessor's office was sufficient notice. Aldridge v. Tyrrell, 301 Ark. 116, 782 S.W.2d 562 (1990). Where landowner did not literally comply with § 26-26-501(a)(2) by delivering a verified list of property but demonstrated substantial compliance with the statute by personally visiting the assessor's office to ensure that the records reflected the change of ownership for the property, and where the assessor's office admitted that they did not do so, tax sale of property was properly set aside. Aldridge v. Tyrrell, 301 Ark. 116, 782 S.W.2d 562 (1990).

Extension of Taxes.

Where taxes were extended as follows: "Value of lot, 300; value of improvements, 200; total value 300", assessment was not void for failure to show what the figures represented, since it would be presumed they meant dollars; nor was it void for apparent error. London v. Montgomery, 211 Ark. 434, 201 S.W.2d 760 (1947).

26-26-719. Irregular or incomplete descriptions.

(a) (1) It is the duty of a county assessor to strictly follow the provisions of § 26-26-717.

(2) When it is otherwise impossible to correctly describe real property on the assessment roll according to its ownership, it is the duty of a county assessor to petition the county court for a survey of the real property under the provisions of § 26-26-802.

(b) (1) In any case where a tract of land is irregularly described, the assessor must require the owner to bring in his or her deed.

(2) The tract of land must then be taken from the deed, and the tract of land to be assessed must be platted on a plat book furnished the county assessor by the county court of each township in the county.

(3) The county assessor shall draw a plat of the tract of land and shall number it as "Lot No." and then enter the tract of land on the assessment book as "Lot No. of" describing the section or portion of the section in which the tract of land is found.

(c) It shall be sufficient to advertise the tract of land for failure to pay taxes by the number of the lot assigned to the tract of land.

(d) (1) If for any reason a part description of the real property assessed is made by the county assessor, the reason must be stated, and the county assessor shall immediately certify his or her inability to properly describe the real property to the Commissioner of State Lands on or before October 1 in each year.

(2) (A) The Commissioner of State Lands shall assemble the certificates of part description received from the county assessors and certify them to the Attorney General, who shall file his or her petition in the circuit court having jurisdiction.

(B) The circuit court is vested with jurisdiction upon the petition to issue any form or writ necessary for ascertaining the correct ownership description of the real property involved.

(e) Upon petition of the Attorney General addressed to the circuit court having jurisdiction, any county assessor who shall fail or refuse to comply with the provisions of § 26-26-718 and this section shall be removed from office and shall only be reinstated when he or she has performed the duties enjoined but shall receive no compensation for correcting any of his or her acts of omission or commission.

Purpose.

Surveys.

Purpose.

Purpose of this section is to furnish descriptions of lands and lots assessed for taxation so that they may be identified by reference to the plat of the survey that has become a public record. Bracken v. Henson, 211 Ark. 572, 201 S.W.2d 580 (1947).

Surveys.

Acting under this section, it is the duty of a surveyor to make a survey conforming to the boundary lines as shown by the title papers. Bracken v. Henson, 211 Ark. 572, 201 S.W.2d 580 (1947). Where surveyor ignores existing boundary lines as described in title papers, lots cannot be properly assessed and sale for delinquent taxes by description according to such a survey would be void. Bracken v. Henson, 211 Ark. 572, 201 S.W.2d 580 (1947).

26-26-720. Correcting descriptions already on books.

The Attorney General is authorized to have corrected any part description of lands on the books of the Commissioner of State Lands in the manner provided. This authority shall be exercised upon the application of any applicant to purchase or upon application by the Department of Parks and Tourism, the Arkansas Forestry Commission, or the Arkansas Game & Fish Commission.

26-26-721. Checking for nonpayment of delinquent taxes.

(a) (1) It shall be the duty of the county assessor of each county of the State of Arkansas, after extending the valuation against each parcel of land, lot, and part of lot on his assessment record to check it, and for all land, lots, and parts of lots that have been certified to the State Land Office for the nonpayment of the delinquent taxes due, he shall stamp or write by the valuation, "State of Arkansas," and also the year which it was certified to the state.

(2) The county assessor shall take the list of the land, lots, and parts of lots, that have been redeemed or purchased which is certified to the county clerks by the Commissioner of State Lands January of each year and show on his assessment record the disposition of the land, lots, and parts of lots.

(b) If the county assessor of the various counties of the State of Arkansas shall need a starting point, he can write the Commissioner of State Lands for a list of the forfeited land, lots, and parts of lots in his county. Upon such request, the Commissioner of State Lands shall furnish him with a correct list of the forfeited land, lots, and parts of lots that have not been redeemed or sold in his office. The county clerks of the various counties of the State of Arkansas shall furnish the county assessor a list of the forfeited land, lots, and parts of lots that he sends to the Commissioner of State Lands yearly. In this way, the county assessor will have a complete record of the forfeited land, lots, and parts of lots for his assessment record.

Preambles. Acts 1887, No. 13 contained a preamble which read:

“WHEREAS, 1ST. Lands have been sold to the State under proceedings purporting to have been had in the courts of this State by virtue of an Act of the General Assembly thereof entitled ‘An Act to enforce the payment of Overdue Taxes,’ approved March 12, 1881, when the taxes for the alleged nonpayment of which such lands were so sold under said proceedings and decrees of said courts, had been in fact paid prior to any such sales, proceedings or decrees of said courts; and,

“WHEREAS, 2D. Also the lands of many other persons were under like proceedings and decrees aforesaid had, by virtue of said act, sold to the State, where the owners thereof had paid taxes which they supposed were on such lands of their own, but which taxes so paid, owing to an erroneous description in the numbers of the same afterwards were ascertained to be on other lands than their own, and their lands sold to the State as aforesaid; and,

“WHEREAS, 3D. Said overdue tax act was a novel proceeding in this State that was productive of hardships in other respects, and it is but just to them that the owners of land at the time of such sale to the State, should have a limited time to redeem the same therefrom, without loss to the State, provided said lands shall not have been sold by the State prior to any such application to redeem;

26-26-902. Oath of one listing.

(a) The assessors, deputy assessors, and Arkansas Public Service Commission, or any other officer charged under the law with assessing taxes, shall, when each and every person present themselves to make and prepare a property list, administer the following oath:

“You do solemnly swear that you will well and truly answer all questions that may be asked of you touching on the assessment of your property.”

(b) Provided, however, this oath shall not be required of any individual assessing his or her real or personal property by telephone under § 26-26-1114 or where the assessor lists the property for the property owner as permitted in § 26-26-903.

26-26-903. Owner to list property.

(a) Every person of full age and sound mind shall list the real property of which he is the owner, situated in the county in which he resides, and the personal property of which he is the owner.

(b) The assessor may relieve the person of this requirement by listing the current year's assessment of real property from a previous property list or from a changed list based on a reassessment of the value of the real property of the owner.

26-26-905. Persons holding property.

Property held under a lease for a term exceeding ten (10) years belonging to the state or to any religious, scientific, or benevolent society or institution, whether incorporated or unincorporated, and school, seminary, saline, or other lands shall be considered, for all purposes of taxation, as the personal property of the person holding them and shall be listed as such by the person or his agent, as in other cases.

26-26-909. Credits and stocks which need not be listed.

(a) No person shall be required to list a greater portion of any credits than he believes will be acquired or can be collected, nor any greater portion of any obligation given to secure the payment of rent than the amount of rent that shall have accrued on the lease and shall remain due and unpaid at the time of listing.

(b) No person shall be required to include in his statement, as a part of the personal property, moneys, credits, investments in bonds, stocks, joint-stock companies, or otherwise, which he is required to list, any share or portion of the capital stock or property of any company or corporation which is required to list or return its capital and property for taxation in this state.

26-26-910. Valuations in listings not conclusive.

(a) (1) The valuations as set out in any assessment list required under the provisions of this subchapter to be delivered to the assessor by the property owner shall not be held to be conclusive as to the value of the property so listed, and the assessor may make such assessment of the property as he may deem just and equitable.

(2) (A) The assessor, in each instance where he raises the valuation of any property which has been listed with him as by law required, shall deliver to the property owner or his agent a duplicate copy of the adjusted assessment list, or he shall notify the property owner or his agent by first class mail, which notice shall state separately the total valuation of real and personal property as listed by the property owner and as fixed by the assessor, and shall advise that the owner may, by petition or letter, apply to the equalization board for the adjustment of the assessment as fixed by the assessor.

(B) All applications shall be made to the board on or before the third Monday in August.

(b) (1) For the purpose of enabling the assessor to determine just and equitable values of property, he is authorized, and it shall be his duty, to enter upon and make such personal inspection thereof as he shall deem necessary.

(2) Any person shall, when called upon by the assessor, be required to answer upon oath and furnish proof demanded as to purchases, sales, transfers, improvements, accounts, notes, stocks, bonds, bank notes, bank deposits, invoices, insurance carried, or any and all other information requested and pertaining to the location, amount, kind, and value of his own property or that of another person.

Notice Requirements.

Adjustment of Assessments.

Where taxpayer did not voluntarily assess his property as permitted by § 26-26-501 and where there were major increases in the assessment valuation of the property, the taxpayer, under due process requirements, had the right to appear and be heard through the processes provided by this section before the increased assessments became irrevocably fixed. McMahen v. Hargett, 252 Ark. 239, 478 S.W.2d 43 (1972).

An equalization board had no authority on December 10th to reduce or raise anybody's assessment for § 26-27-311 very definitely provides that the board cannot exercise such a function after the third Monday in November. Jones v. Crouch, 231 Ark. 720, 332 S.W.2d 238 (1960).

Every landowner is given the opportunity under this section to protest when his land is assessed for general taxation; a second opportunity need not be given for them to protest valuations for suburban improvement districts pursuant to § 14-92-238. Harrill v. Board of Comm'rs, 282 Ark. 348, 668 S.W.2d 538 (1984).

Notice Requirements.

Under this section and the due process of law requirement of the Arkansas Constitution, a taxpayer must be given notice, both of the raised assessment and of his right to a review thereof by the equalization board. Prather v. Martin, 257 Ark. 576, 519 S.W.2d 72 (1975).

Where notice was prepared by county clerk but was not mailed or otherwise communicated to taxpayer, the reassessment was invalid, since the requirement of notice was not obviated by the provision of § 26-27-318, which permits a property owner to appeal to the county court without first having exhausted his remedy before the equalization board in cases where he shall have had no opportunity to appear before the board. Prather v. Martin, 257 Ark. 576, 519 S.W.2d 72 (1975).

Although the requirements of due process and this section require that a property owner be notified of a raised assessment and of his right to a review thereof by the equalization board, where evidence reflected that notice was mailed, the reassessment was valid although there was no proof that the notice actually was received. Prather v. Martin, 257 Ark. 576, 519 S.W.2d 72 (1975).

26-26-911. Inquiries to makers of lists.

(a) The Arkansas Public Service Commission, the tax assessor, or any one of them who may be required under the law to make assessment rolls shall, in addition to their duties as required by law, specifically inquire of the maker of each list the following:

- (1) The number, kind, and value of each automobile they own;
- (2) The cash or funds on hand, and money on time deposit or otherwise in any depository, in or out of the state;
- (3) The taxable securities of every kind and their value, in or out of the state, they may own;
- (4) What stock, bonds, or mortgages owned and their value, in or out of the state;
- (5) What leases or mineral deeds are owned and the value of them that are contemplated in §§ 26-26-1109 and 26-26-1110;
- (6) What timber, deeds, or contracts contemplated by § 26-3-205 they own and the value of them;
- (7) Any other property of any kind whatsoever that has a value about which questions have not been asked.

(b) The taxpayer shall then be required to assess the properties disclosed by investigation.

26-26-912. House-to-house canvass.

(a) After April 10 of each year, the assessor shall make a house-to-house canvass of his county and visit each store, mill, factory, shop, or other place of business and each dwelling, farm, and all other places of residence located therein for the purpose of ascertaining if all property and persons have been listed for assessment in the manner required by law.

(b) If the assessor shall find that any person or property owner has failed to file the assessment list by law required or, if filed, has failed to truly value any item of property included therein or has omitted any item of property therefrom, the assessor shall assess all such persons a per capita or poll tax and shall appraise and assess, at such sum as in his judgment is just and equitable, all property listed by the owner but not truly valued and all property which has not been listed as by law required.

26-26-913. Special list of omitted property.

Whenever the assessor shall discover that any property has been omitted for any cause from the assessment roll, if it is before the collector closes his books for the collection of taxes for the year in which the property was due to have been assessed, it shall be his duty, immediately upon making that discovery, to make a special list or assessment thereof and file it with the county clerk, who shall place it upon the tax books and extend the taxes and penalty thereon for the year. The collector shall proceed to collect these taxes and penalty as is required by law.

Valuation of Property.

Purpose.

The purpose of this section was held to be to permit an individual taxpayer to report unassessed property and collect an award, and the section assumes that there will be no disagreement as to the legality of the assessment, since there is no provision to resolve such disagreement. Rottinghaus v. Holder, 261 Ark. 634, 550 S.W.2d 462 (1977) (decision prior to 1977 amendment).

Assessment of Property.

Where an assessor, before the collector closes his books, discovers land purchased from the state has not been assessed, it is his duty to make and file an assessment regardless of whether the land was certified to the county clerk. Tedford v. Vaulx, 183 Ark. 240, 35 S.W.2d 346 (1931). Assessment for year in which former owner has redeemed the land from the state was authorized after time for regular assessment had passed. Vandergriff v. Lowery, 195 Ark. 257, 111 S.W.2d 510 (1937).

Though equalization board had finally adjourned when assessment of taxpayer's mineral rights were made, taxpayer was not without right of redress, since he had the right, by certiorari from the circuit court directed to the county clerk, to have the record brought up for review and correction. Stout Lumber Co. v. Parker, 197 Ark. 65, 122 S.W.2d 180 (1938).

This section does not authorize additional assessments of the taxpayer's personalty after the collector's books for the tax years involved have been closed. Jensen v. Dierks Lumber & Coal Co., 209 Ark. 262, 190 S.W.2d 5 (1945).

Tax Representatives.

Cooperative employment by school districts of tax representative, whose duties include discovery of new construction and other property not listed for taxation, appraisal of such property, and submission of that information to appropriate district held not duplication of duties of county assessor. Burnett v. Nix, 244 Ark. 235, 424 S.W.2d 537 (1968).

Valuation of Property.

This section gives no guideline or formula by which the taxability or value of reported property can be judged, and the setting of such value requires independent judgment, which cannot be determined in advance by the circuit court on a petition for mandamus. Bunting v. Tedford, 261 Ark. 638, 550 S.W.2d 459 (1977).

26-26-914. Unavoidable failure to list property.

(a) If any person required to list property for taxation shall have been prevented by sickness or absence from giving to the assessor the list of property as prescribed by this subchapter, the person, or his agent having charge of the property, may, at any time before the making out of the tax books by the clerk of the county court, make out and deliver to the assessor of the county a statement of the same as required by this subchapter. The assessor shall in such case make an entry in the returns of the proper city, town, ward, or school district and correct the items in the return made by him, as the case may require.

(b) No such statement shall be received by the assessor from any person who shall have refused or neglected to make oath to his statement when required by the assessor under the provisions of this subchapter, nor from any person unless he shall have first made and filed with the clerk of the county court an affidavit that the person required to list the same was absent from his county without design to avoid listing his property or was prevented by sickness from giving to the assessor the required statement when called upon for that purpose.

Improvement Districts.

Improvement Districts.

Value of exempt property as determined by county assessor should be used in determining valuation of property in improvement district on petition for formation of district. Improvement Dist. v. St. Louis S. R. Co., 99 Ark. 508, 139 S.W. 308 (1911); Fry v. Poe, 175 Ark. 375, 1 S.W.2d 29 (1927).

Value of public buildings as shown by last county assessment should be included in determining total assessed value of improvement district for purpose of determining whether cost of improvement exceeds specified value. Brown v. Board of Comm'rs, 165 Ark. 585, 265 S.W. 81 (1924).

26-26-1002. Separate list of omitted exempt realty.

(a) Whenever the assessor of any county has, during any year at the time of making the assessment of real property subject to taxation, failed to enter in a separate list pertinent descriptions of all burying grounds, public school houses, houses used exclusively for public worship, institutions of purely public charity, public buildings, and property used exclusively for any public purpose, libraries, and grounds used exclusively for school purposes, and property which by the Arkansas Constitution is exempted from taxation, the lots or tracts of land on which the institution or public building is situated, and which by law are exempted from taxation, and the value thereof, the assessor of the county, or his successor in office, is authorized and empowered, at any time and during any year thereafter, upon discovery of the omission to make out separate lists, giving their description and the value of all the described property which has been omitted from the list.

(b) (1) The list of the property, together with the valuation thereof, shall be filed with the county clerk of the county and by him entered upon the proper assessment book of the county.

(2) When the list of the omitted property has been filed by the assessor, or his successor in office, with the county clerk in the county where the property is situated, it shall have the same force and validity as if entered, made, and filed at the proper time as prescribed by law.

Acts 1943, No. 278, § 5: effective on passage.

Acts 1957, No. 385, § 3: approved Mar. 27, 1957. Emergency clause provided: "It has been found and it is hereby declared by the General Assembly that the failure to assess all real property annually in each county of the State has resulted and will continue to result in a great loss of revenues to the several taxing units in the State of Arkansas, that on account of such loss of revenues the cities, counties and school districts in the State of Arkansas are deprived of funds and are thereby to such extent handicapped in supplying their respective services to the citizens of this State; and that only by the passage of this Act and giving immediate effect to its provisions can the Assessors prepare for proper annual assessments and thereby an immediate reduction be made in such loss of revenues. An emergency, therefore, is hereby declared to exist, and this Act being necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health and safety shall take effect and be in full force from and after its passage."

Acts 1959, No. 246, § 5: Mar. 25, 1959. Emergency clause provided: "It has been found and it is hereby declared by the General Assembly that the laws of this State regarding the time for assessment of real and personal property and the equalization thereof have resulted and will continue to result in a great loss of revenues to the several taxing units in the State of Arkansas, that on account of such loss of revenues the cities, counties and school districts in the State of Arkansas are deprived of funds and are thereby to such extent handicapped in supplying their respective services to the citizens of this State, and that only by the immediate passage of this Act may such situation be corrected. Therefore, an emergency is hereby declared to exist and this Act being necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health and safety shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage and approval."

Acts 1963, No. 545, § 4: approved Mar. 3, 1963. Emergency clause provided: "It has been found and is hereby declared by the General Assembly of the State of Arkansas that a substantial amount of agricultural lands are and will be annexed into various cities and towns in the State. That same will be taxed in many instances as subdivision or other real estate development land, imposing an inequitable and an undue tax burden upon farmers farming agricultural lands within such annexed areas, and this Act being necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety, an emergency is hereby declared to exist, and this Act shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage.”

Acts 1969, No. 269, § 4: Mar. 18, 1969. Emergency clause provided: “It is hereby determined by the General Assembly that prospective manufacturing and processing industries and commercial warehouses are confused as to ad valorem taxation of personal property in transit through Arkansas, and that because of this confusion the decision to locate industries therein may be adversely influenced to the extent that the State may lose valuable new industries. Therefore, an emergency is hereby declared to exist, and this Act, being immediately necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health, and safety shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage and approval.”

Acts 1975, No. 461, § 2: Mar. 18, 1975. Emergency clause provided: “It is hereby found and determined by the General Assembly that in recent years there has been an enormous increase in the sale of mobile homes in this State; that such increase in mobile home sales has created an undue burden on the tax assessors of this State; and that immediate passage of this Act is necessary to encourage, promote and assist in the efficient enforcement of the property assessment procedures as now provided by law. Therefore, an emergency is hereby declared to exist and this Act being necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage and approval.”

Acts 1977, No. 203, § 3: Feb. 21, 1977. Emergency clause provided: “It is hereby found and determined by the General Assembly that it is obviously impossible for the county assessor in each county to discover all taxable intangible personal property in the county for inclusion on the assessment rolls; that to impose this impossible burden on the assessor without exempting him from personal or official liability for failure to discover all of such property is totally unfair and places a severe hardship on the assessors; that this Act is designed to exempt the assessors from any liability, personal or official, for failure to find any and all intangible property in the county unless the failure to discover such property and include it on the tax rolls was a result of collusion between the assessor and the property owner for the purpose of evading taxes, and should be given effect immediately. Therefore, an emergency is hereby declared to exist and this Act being necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage and approval.”

Acts 1985, No. 961, § 3: Apr. 15, 1985. Emergency clause provided: “It is hereby found and determined by the General Assembly that the Supreme Court has ruled that maintaining separate tax assessment records for severed mineral interests and surface interests contravenes present law; that many county assessors do maintain separate records for severed mineral interests; that it is an unreasonable burden to require the records of severed mineral interests to be subjoined to the tax records of the surface estates; and that this Act is immediately necessary to allow the maintenance of such separate records. Therefore, an emergency is hereby declared to exist and this Act being immediately necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health and safety shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage and approval.”

Acts 1987, No. 1040, § 7: Apr. 14, 1987. Emergency clause provided: “It is hereby found and determined by the General Assembly that many churches have engaged in the practice of investing in real and personal property, or have received donations of commercial or rental property which is not now assessed for ad valorem tax purposes and are not paying tax thereon as required by law, thereby depriving the local taxing units of thousands of dollars of much needed revenues; that under the Arkansas Constitution of 1874, Article 16, Sections 5 and 6, such property is not exempt from the provisions of the ad valorem property tax; that in many instances such churches do not report for Arkansas Income Tax purposes income derived from investments or profits derived from rental income or other commercial or business activities and do not pay taxes thereon; that this reduces the amount of revenues available for funding of State services; and that only by the immediate passage of this Act can this situation be remedied. Therefore, an emergency is hereby declared to exist, and this Act being necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, and safety, shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage and approval.”

Acts 1993, No. 1261, § 4: January 1, 1994.

Acts 1999, No. 974, § 5: Mar. 31, 1999. Emergency clause provided: “It is found and determined by the General Assembly that devastating tornadoes recently occurred in several counties of the state; several of the affected counties have been declared disaster areas; and that this act provides assistance to persons whose property was damaged in the tornadoes. Therefore, an emergency is declared to exist and this act being immediately necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health and safety shall become effective on the date of its approval by the Governor. If the bill is neither approved nor vetoed by the Governor, it shall become effective on the expiration of the period of time during which the Governor may veto the bill. If the bill is vetoed by the Governor and the veto is overridden, it shall become effective on the date the last house overrides the veto.”

Identical Acts 2000 (2d Ex. Sess.), Nos. 1 and 2, § 11. December 15, 2000. Emergency clause provided: “It is found and determined by the General Assembly of the State of Arkansas that Amendment 79 to the Arkansas Constitution requires the General Assembly to provide for a property tax credit of not less than $300 for each homestead; that providing such a property tax credit results in a significant reduction in revenues for funding county services and public schools; that without an alternative source of funding counties and public schools cannot operate effectively; that an increase in the state sales and use tax provides a source of funding for counties and public schools; that this act will accomplish the purposes of Amendment 79 in providing a property tax credit and source of funding. It is necessary that this act become effective immediately in order to facilitate the administration of the property tax credit and to generate sufficient revenues to fully fund the credit. Therefore, an emergency is declared to exist and Sections 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 8 and 9 of this act being immediately necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health and safety shall become effective on the date of its approval by the Governor. If the bill is neither approved nor vetoed by the Governor, it shall become effective on the expiration of the period of time during which the Governor may veto the bill. If the bill is vetoed by the Governor and the veto is overridden, it shall become effective on the date the last house overrides the veto.”

Acts 2001, No. 1544, § 6: Apr. 12, 2001. Emergency clause provided: “It is found and determined by the General Assembly that in order to efficiently reimburse the counties for the homestead property tax credit, county assessors are required to recertify to the Chief Fiscal Officer the amount of real property reduction on or before June 30 of the year 2001 and every year thereafter. Therefore, an emergency is declared to exist and this act being immediately necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health and safety shall become effective on the date of its approval by the Governor. If the bill is neither approved nor vetoed by the Governor, it shall become effective on the expiration of the period of time during which the Governor may veto the bill. If the bill is vetoed by the Governor and the veto is overridden, it shall become effective on the date the last house overrides the veto.”

Acts 2001, No. 1598, § 2: Apr. 13, 2001. Emergency clause provided: “It is found and determined by the General Assembly that Amendment 79 to the Constitution of Arkansas went into effect on January 1, 2001 and confusion has arisen as to claiming the property tax credit. Therefore, an emergency is declared to exist and this act being immediately necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health and safety shall become effective on the date of its approval by the Governor. If the bill is neither approved nor vetoed by the Governor, it shall become effective on the expiration of the period of time during which the Governor may veto the bill. If the bill is vetoed by the Governor and the veto is overridden, it shall become effective on the date the last house overrides the veto.”

Acts 2005, No. 1268, § 3: Mar. 29, 2005. Emergency clause provided: “It is found and determined by the General Assembly of the State of Arkansas that there are many terms used in Amendment 79 of the Arkansas Constitution that are not defined; that Amendment 79 gives the General Assembly the authority to implement the provisions of that amendment; that for uniformity and clarity certain terms should be defined; and that this act accomplishes this purpose. Therefore, an emergency is declared to exist and this act being immediately necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health, and safety shall become effective on: (1) The date of its approval by the Governor; (2) If the bill is neither approved nor vetoed by the Governor, the expiration of the period of time during which the Governor may veto the bill; or (3) If the bill is vetoed by the Governor and the veto is overridden, the date the last house overrides the veto.”

Acts 2005, No. 2284, § 2: effective on and after January 1, 2006.

Acts 2009, No. 151, § 3: Jan. 1, 2008. Emergency clause provided: “It is found and determined by the General Assembly of the State of Arkansas that not all counties are following the dictates of Arkansas Constitution, Amendment 79; that some counties are not allowing persons that meet the property tax relief requirements under Arkansas Constitution, Amendment 79, to be assessed a later assessed value if that assessment is lower; that this results in taxpayers not being treated equally across the state; that all counties should allow its taxpayers that qualify for the property tax relief to be assessed a later assessed value if that assessment is lower; and that all counties should follow the provisions of Arkansas Constitution, Amendment 79. Therefore, an emergency is declared to exist and this act being necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health, and safety shall become effective on January 1, 2008." Method of Assessment.

Assessment of real estate is accomplished by assessor without intervention of property owner. Evans v. F.L. Dumas Store, Inc., 192 Ark. 571, 93 S.W.2d 307 (1936) (decision under prior law). An assessor has full authority to assess property at whatever figure, based on his information or investigation, he deems to be right and proper; it is the duty of the assessor to make the assessment and notify the property owner, after which the owner can file his petition with the county equalization board. *Jones v. 26-26-1102. Place of assessment.

(a) All real estate and tangible personal property shall be assessed for taxation in the taxing district in which the property is located and kept for use.

(b) (1) (A) Tangible personal property in transit for a destination within this state shall be assessed only in the taxing district of its destination.

(B) Tangible personal property in transit through this state including raw materials from within or outside this state used in the manufacturing process and tangible personal property manufactured, processed, or refined in this state and stored for shipment outside the state shall, for purposes of ad valorem taxation, acquire no situs in this state and shall not be assessed for taxation in this state.

(C) The owner of tangible personal property in transit through this state and of tangible personal property in transit for a destination within this state may be required, by the appropriate assessor, to submit documentary proof of the in-transit character and the destination of the property.

(2) "Tangible personal property in transit through this state" means, for the purposes of this section, tangible personal property:

(A) Which is moving in interstate commerce through or over the territory of this state; or

(B) Which is consigned to or stored in or on a warehouse, dock, or wharf, public or private, within this state for storage in transit to a destination outside this state, whether the destination is specified when transportation begins or afterward, except where the consignment or storage is for purposes other than those incidental to transportation of the property; or

(C) Which is manufactured, processed, or refined within this state and which is in transit and consigned to, or stored in or on, a warehouse, dock, or wharf, public or private, within this state for shipment to a destination outside this state.

Recovery of Taxes.

Legislative Intent.

This section is ambiguous and effect must be given to the legislative intent. The General Assembly did not intend to tax the raw materials used to produce products to be shipped outside this state. Omega Tube & Conduit Corp. v. Maples, 312 Ark. 489, 850 S.W.2d 317 (1993).

Raw Materials.

According to this section, raw materials used to produce products to be shipped out of state do not attain a tax situs in Arkansas. Omega Tube & Conduit Corp. v. Maples, 312 Ark. 489, 850 S.W.2d 317 (1993).

Recovery of Taxes.

A taxpayer may not recover taxes it has paid voluntarily. Omega Tube & Conduit Corp. v. Maples, 312 Ark. 489, 850 S.W.2d 317 (1993).

26-26-1103. Reports of total assessments.

(a) The county assessor shall, on or before August 1 of each year, deliver to the clerk of the board of equalization his completed assessment tax record, showing the total assessment of the county as made by the assessor. He shall also furnish such other information as the board may request of the assessor.

(b) The county assessor shall, on or before the third Monday in August of each year, report to the Arkansas Public Service Commission, by total of items and value, the total assessment of the county as made by the assessor and the commission and in the manner as directed by the commission, as to kind, character, number, and value of all tangible property assessed for taxation in the county and such other information as the commission may demand of the assessor.

26-26-1104. Failure to list intangible personalty.

A county assessor in this state shall not be held liable, either personally or in his official capacity as assessor, for failure to discover and include on the assessment rolls any taxable intangible personal property in the county unless the failure to discover or to include the intangible property on the assessment rolls was a result of, or pursuant to, collusion between the assessor and the property owner for the purpose of evading taxes due on the property.

26-26-1105. Report of manufactured home and mobile home purchases.

(a) A purchaser of a manufactured home or mobile home shall report the purchase of each new or used manufactured home or mobile home to the county assessor of the appropriate county where the manufactured home or mobile home will be located.

(b) The report shall include:

- (1) The name of the purchaser;
- (2) The purchaser's address;
- (3) The date on which the purchase was made; and
- (4) Other information as may be deemed necessary by the county assessor.

History. Acts 1975, No. 461, § 1; A.S.A. 1947, § 84-426.4; Acts 2005, No. 2228, § 2.

Amendments. The 2005 amendment inserted the subsection (a) and (b) designations; rewrote (a); and added present (b)(4).

26-26-1106. [Repealed.]

A.C.R.C. Notes. This section was specifically repealed by Acts 2005, No. 2228, § 3. Acts 2005, No. 1994, § 167 would have amended § 26-26-1106(c) to change "misdemeanor" to "violation".

Publisher's Notes. This section, concerning mobile home decals, was repealed by Acts 2005, No. 2228, § 3. The section was derived from Acts 1973, No. 16, §§ 1-3; A.S.A. 1947, §§ 84-426.1 — 84-426.3.

26-26-1107. Change in or damage to property.

(a) All lands that shall have been purchased from owners, the property of whom or which was by law exempt, all new improvements over the actual value of one hundred dollars ($100), and all town or city lots as may have been platted, as the case may be, subsequent to January 1 of any year shall be subject to assessment and taxation for the year immediately following the purchase, improvement, or platting.

(b) (1) (A) In each year, all real estate or improvements on real estate which have been damaged by fire, flood, tornado, or other act of God, if the property is then on the assessment record at a value determined prior to the damage and if the damage occurred prior to the date the county assessor is required by law to deliver his or her report of assessment to the county clerk, then that property shall be revalued and assessed by the county assessor.

(B) Nothing in this subsection shall be construed as requiring a county assessor to seek to identify property which may have been damaged.

(2) An appeal shall lie from the action of the county assessor as in the case of other property in that year assessed.

History. Acts 1883, No. 114, § 67, p. 199; C. & M. Dig., § 9918; Acts 1929, No. 172, § 4; Pope's Dig., § 13685; Acts 1943, No. 278, § 4; A.S.A. 1947, § 84-436; Acts 1999, No. 974, § 1.

Amendments. The 1999 amendment, in (b)(1), deleted "if the actual loss not covered by insurance shall be more than one hundred dollars ($100)" following "act of God"; added (b)(1)(B); and made stylistic changes.

Redemption of Land.

Constitutionality.

This section, requiring assessment and taxation at the beginning of the year following the purchase, is an administrative directive that need not be construed as an exemption of property from taxation in violation of Ark. Const., Art. 16, § 6. Taylor v. Finch, 288 Ark. 50, 701 S.W.2d 377 (1986).

Improvements.

Former law on assessment of improvements. State v. F. W. Burford Co., 203 Ark. 399, 156 S.W.2d 806 (1941).

Purchases from State.

Lands purchased from state become subject to taxation when deed is executed and do not remain free of tax until land commissioner certifies land to county clerk. Tedford v. Vaulx, 183 Ark. 240, 35 S.W.2d 346 (1931).

Redemption of Land.

Evidence insufficient to show that assessor had not performed his duty to assess land after redemption. Slaton v. Pride, 195 Ark. 1055, 115 S.W.2d 547 (1938) (decision prior to 1943 amendment).

26-26-1108. Agricultural lands annexed by city or town.

(a) All lands which may be annexed by any city or incorporated town which are being used for agricultural purposes shall be assessed as agricultural lands upon an acreage basis, regardless of the fact that any or all of the lands are embraced in a plat of a subdivision or other real estate development, and regardless of the fact that the lands may be zoned as commercial, industrial, or residential, and regardless of the fact that the lands may be adaptable to commercial, industrial, or residential uses.

(b) Agricultural purposes shall include lands which are presently used and have been used for a period of five (5) continuous years in a bona fide farming, pasture, or grove operation by the owner, lessee, or some person in his employ.

(c) Lands which have not been used for agricultural purposes prior to March 29, 1963, shall be prima facie subject to assessment on the same basis as assessed for the previous years, and any demand for a reassessment of such lands for agricultural purposes shall be subject to the scrutiny of the assessor to the end that the lands shall be classified properly.

(d) When lands subject to this section cease to be used for agricultural purposes, the lands shall be assessed as other lands of the same character.

(e) For the purposes of this section, agricultural lands shall include dairy, livestock, poultry, and all forms of farm products and farm production.

26-26-1109. Timber rights.

(a) (1) When the timber rights in any land shall, by conveyance or otherwise, be held by one (1) or more persons, firms, or corporations, and the fee simple in the land by one (1) or more other persons, firms, or corporations, it shall be the duty of the assessor, when advised of the fact, either by personal notice or by recording of the deeds in the office of the recorder of the county, to assess the timber rights in the lands separate from the soil.

(2) In such case, a sale of the timber rights for nonpayment of taxes shall not affect the title to the soil itself, nor shall a sale of the latter for nonpayment of taxes affect the title to the timber rights.

(b) (1) It shall be the duty of the assessor to assess timber rights with a description of the land on the real estate tax books, and the assessment shall be marked "timber."

(2) Upon the nonpayment of taxes so assessed against the timber, it shall be advertised with a description of the land as "timber" giving the character or kind of the timber, in some newspaper as provided by law for nonpayment of taxes on land, and the timber shall be sold as provided by law for the sale of delinquent lands.

(c) When any timber rights assessed as set out in this section become forfeited on account of nonpayment of taxes, they shall, in all things, be certified to and redeemed in the same manner as is provided for the certification and redemption of real estate upon which taxes duly assessed have not been paid.

Case Notes

Constitutionality.

Applicability.

Abandonment.

Separate Assessment.

Constitutionality.

This section is not unconstitutional as discriminating against corporations in favor of individuals. State ex rel. Attorney Gen. v. Arkansas Fuel Oil Co., 179 Ark. 848, 18 S.W.2d 906 (1929); Arkansas Fuel Oil Co. v. State, 180 Ark. 765, 22 S.W.2d 556 (1929).

Applicability.

Standing timber, although the ownership thereof is severed from the ownership of the soil, is part of the land and as such, subject to assessment in a levee district. Lewis v. Delinquent Lands, 182 Ark. 838, 33 S.W.2d 379 (1930).

This section is intended to apply to the assessment of property for general taxes rather than to an assessment of benefits by an improvement district. Long Prairie Levee Dist. v. Wall, 227 Ark. 305, 298 S.W.2d 52 (1957).

Abandonment.

Failure of purported owner of timber to assess or pay taxes on timber for a period of approximately 40 years was evidence of abandonment of timber rights. United States v. Wheeler, 161 F. Supp. 193 (W.D. Ark. 1958).

Separate Assessment.

This section does not authorize separate assessment of standing timber and collection of taxes thereon except in cases where "the timber rights in any land shall, by conveyance or otherwise, be held by one or more persons, firm or corporation and the fee simple in the land by one or more persons, firms or corporations." Connell v. Pioneer Cooperage Co., 172 Ark. 1056, 291 S.W. 1005 (1927).

Where land and timber rights had been owned by one person, a purchaser of the land, apart from the timber, who voluntarily paid the taxes on both land and timber could not recover the proportionate amount of the taxes on the timber from the purchaser of the timber. Connell v. Pioneer Cooperage Co., 172 Ark. 1056, 291 S.W. 1005 (1927).

When there has been a severance of timber rights by a deed duly recorded, such rights must be assessed separately and apart from the surface rights. Huffman v. Henderson Co., 184 Ark. 278, 42 S.W.2d 221 (1931).

When timber rights have not been assessed separately from the surface rights, the assessment will be held to apply only to the surface rights, and a sale under this assessment will operate to convey title only to the surface rights. Huffman v. Henderson Co., 184 Ark. 278, 42 S.W.2d 221 (1931).

In sum, this section provides that timber rights held by one person are to be assessed separately from the fee simple rights of another in the land, because the timber rights are separate from another's rights in the soil. Bonds v. Carter, 348 Ark. 591, 75 S.W.3d 192 (2002).

26-26-1110. Mineral rights.

(a) (1) When the mineral rights in any land shall, by conveyance or otherwise, be held by one (1) or more persons, and the fee simple in the land by one (1) or more other persons, it shall be the duty of the county assessor when advised of the fact, either by personal notice or by recording of the deeds in the office of the county recorder, to assess the mineral rights in the lands separate from the general property therein.

(2) In such case a sale of the mineral rights for nonpayment of taxes shall not affect the title to the land itself, nor shall a sale of the land for nonpayment of taxes affect the title to the mineral rights.

(b) When any mineral rights assessed as set out in subsection (a) of this section become forfeited on account of nonpayment of taxes, they shall, in all things, be certified to and redeemed in the same manner as is provided for the certification and redemption of real estate upon which taxes duly assessed have not been paid.

(c) (1) Because of the difficulty of ascertaining the value of a nonproducing mineral right and in order to ensure equal and uniform taxation throughout the state, a nonproducing mineral right has zero (0) value for the purpose of property tax assessment and is included in the value of the fee simple interest assessed.

(2) If the fee simple in the land and the nonproducing mineral right that has zero (0) value as determined under subdivision (c)(1) of this section are owned by different persons, there is no property tax due on the mineral right.

(3) For a nonproducing mineral right that has zero (0) value as determined under subdivision (c)(1) of this section, the mineral right owner may agree to a voluntary property tax assessment of the mineral right and pay a property tax according to rules established by the Assessment Coordination Department with the assistance of the Arkansas Assessors Association.

(4) When a nonproducing mineral right begins producing minerals, the mineral right shall be assessed for tax purposes in accordance with rules established by the department.

History. Acts 1897, No. 30, § 1, p. 38; C. & M. Dig., § 9856; Acts 1929, No. 221, § 1; Pope's Dig., § 13600; A.S.A. 1947, § 84-203; Acts 2009, No. 421, § 1.

Amendments. The 2009 amendment added (c).

Effective Dates. Acts 2009, No. 421, § 2, provided: "Section 1 of this act is effective for the assessment year 2009 and thereafter."

Separate Assessment.

Constitutionality.

This section is not unconstitutional as discriminating against corporations in favor of individuals. State ex rel. Attorney Gen. v. Arkansas Fuel Oil Co., 179 Ark. 848, 18 S.W.2d 906 (1929); Arkansas Fuel Oil Co. v. State, 180 Ark. 765, 22 S.W.2d 556 (1929).

Construction.

This section permitting separate assessment has been interpreted broadly, and there is no requirement that there be a conveyance of the minerals in place in order to effect a sufficient severance to invoke the separate assessment statute. Edwards v. Hall, 267 Ark. 1003, 593 S.W.2d 465 (1980).

Applicability.

This section is intended to apply to the assessment of property for general taxes rather than to an assessment of benefits by an improvement district. Long Prairie Levee Dist. v. Wall, 227 Ark. 305, 298 S.W.2d 52 (1957).

Deeds; Recording.

Exclusion of "coal and mineral deposits" from executed deed did not reserve oil and gas. Missouri P.R.R. v. Strohacker, 202 Ark. 645, 152 S.W.2d 557 (1941).

The effect of mineral deeds placed of record is to constitute a constructive severance of the minerals from the surface and to make two titles, one the surface and the other the mineral title. Skelly Oil Co. v. Johnson, 209 Ark. 1107, 194 S.W.2d 425 (1946).

Where railroad executed deed to certain land, but reserved coal and mineral deposits, and state thereafter made an assessment against minerals in the land, and later issued a tax deed for such minerals to another, original grantee of land from railroad was entitled to oil and gas rights, as oil and gas was not included in mineral reservation, and taxes on the surface covered taxes against oil and gas. Brizzolara v. Powell, 214 Ark. 870, 218 S.W.2d 728 (1949).

Deeds for sale of real estate for nonpayment of taxes on mineral interests could be set aside because of faulty methods of recording assessments of mineral interests. Sorkin v. Myers, 216 Ark. 908, 227 S.W.2d 958 (1950) (decision under prior law).

Mineral interests severed from the soil are to be arranged according to the land assessments and not alphabetically by names of owners. Sorkin v. Myers, 216 Ark. 908, 227 S.W.2d 958 (1950).

Tax title obtained on mineral interests was void where names of owners were listed alphabetically under each school district instead of by section, township, and range. Stienbarger v. Keever, 219 Ark. 411, 242 S.W.2d 713 (1951).

Leases.

A lessee under an oil and gas lease acquires an interest in the land subject to assessment separate and apart from the assessment of the fee. State ex rel. Attorney Gen. v. Arkansas Fuel Oil Co., 179 Ark. 848, 18 S.W.2d 906 (1929); Arkansas Fuel Oil Co. v. State, 180 Ark. 765, 22 S.W.2d 556 (1929).

While minerals may be assessed separately from lands containing them, the mere fact of leasing lands for exploration purposes does not, ipso facto, create such severance. Quality Coal Co. v. Guthrie, 203 Ark. 433, 157 S.W.2d 756 (1941).

An oil and gas lease does not of itself constitute constructive severance of the estate, but conveys only an interest and easement in the land, passing no title until the oil and gas are reduced to possession, and a short-term nonproducing mineral lease is not such a severance as to fall within this section. Garvan v. Kimsey, 239 Ark. 295, 389 S.W.2d 870 (Ark. 1965).

Separate Assessment.

When there has been a severance of mineral rights by a deed duly recorded, such rights must be assessed separately and apart from the surface rights. Huffman v. Henderson Co., 184 Ark. 278, 42 S.W.2d 221 (1931).

When mineral rights have not been assessed separately from the surface rights, the assessment will be held to apply only to the surface rights, and a sale under this assessment will operate to convey title only to the surface rights. Huffman v. Henderson Co., 184 Ark. 278, 42 S.W.2d 221 (1931).

Where the mineral interest was assessed and taxed separately from the surface land and the owner of a one-half interest in the minerals failed to pay the taxes, his property rights in the one-half mineral interest, which were to terminate in 25 years, were immediately forfeited when his mineral interest was sold at a tax sale, and the tax deed vested complete title in a one-half mineral interest in the purchaser. Edwards v. Hall, 267 Ark. 1003, 593 S.W.2d 465 (1980).

Cited: United States v. Wheeler, 161 F. Supp. 193 (W.D. Ark. 1958).

26-26-1111. Mineral and surface estates owned by same person.

When the mineral estate and the surface estate in land shall become vested in the same person, after a prior severance by deed or otherwise, the two (2) estates shall merge and be considered as a single interest or estate and shall be assessed and carried on the assessment books in the same manner as provided by law for interests or estates in land where the mineral interest has never been severed from the surface estate.

History. Acts 1957, No. 366, § 1; A.S.A. 1947, § 84-203.1.

26-26-1112. Separate records for severed mineral interests.

County assessors may maintain separate records for severed mineral interests if the records are maintained by legal description of the surface estate in the same manner as records of the estates are maintained.

History. Acts 1985, No. 961, § 1; A.S.A. 1947, § 84-203.2.

26-26-1113. Property used for other than church purposes.

(a) All real or personal property owned by any church and held for, or used for, commercial, business, rental, or investment purposes or purposes other than church purposes shall be listed for assessment annually for ad valorem tax purposes between the first Monday in January and April 10 of each year.

(b) The church or its governing official or board shall annually list for assessment for ad valorem tax purposes all property which is not exempted from the tax under the provisions of this chapter.

(c) (1) The Assessment Coordination Division of the Public Service Commission shall promulgate reasonable rules and regulations to effectuate the provisions of this chapter.

(2) The division shall certify to the various county assessors and to each church in this state, upon request therefor, guidelines to be used in listing nonexempt property for assessment under the provisions of this chapter.

26-26-1114. Assessment of personal property taxes by mail or by telephone.

(a) For any assessment of personal property taxes after December 31, 1993, a taxpayer may assess the personal property taxes by mail, by telephone, or in person.

(b) (1) The assessor shall permit assessment of real and personal property of individuals by telephone without a signature verification under oath.

(2) The assessment by telephone shall not apply to business, commercial, and industrial real and personal property assessments.

(3) (A) The assessor shall mail to individuals assessing personal property by telephone, within five (5) working days from the date of assessment by telephone, an assessment containing a certification, which shall be provided by the tax collector, indicating whether all required personal property taxes have been paid.

(B) The assessor shall provide, if requested, proof of assessment for each motor vehicle assessed and proof of said payment information appropriate for motor vehicle registration renewal by mail.

(c) The Director of the Assessment Coordination Division of the Public Service Commission shall promulgate regulations for the administration of this section. The forms and regulations promulgated by the director shall apply to all counties in the state.

26-26-1115. Apportionment of realty taxes.

(a) (1) When a person acquires ownership of a portion of a parcel of realty during the time of year when the county assessor is not making changes in the assessment book, that person may request the county assessor to apportion the current assessment between the remaining portion of the parcel and that acquired by the person making the request; provided, however, that:

(A) All necessary deeds and papers proving ownership of the portion have been filed with the county recorder;

(B) No provision has been made for payment of taxes on the realty at the time the person acquired the portion; and

(C) The request is made at least thirty (30) days before the last day to pay taxes on the assessment year in question.

(2) The request shall be in writing, signed by the owner, and shall include a complete legal description of the entire parcel and a complete legal description of the parcel being conveyed.

(b) The provisions of this section shall not apply to any parcel of realty on which there is an actual tax delinquency at the time the request for allocation is made.

(c) The county assessor shall allocate the assessment within thirty (30) days after the request and shall provide the information included in the allocation to the county collector.

(d) (1) The county collector, after receiving notification of the allocation, shall accept payment in full toward any prior year's taxes currently due according to the values provided in the notification.

(2) Payment may be applied to the current tax bill as a partial payment, or a separate parcel number may be assigned to the portion and receipted to the new number.

(e) Payment shall be considered as satisfying the tax lien for that portion of the prior year's taxes as legally defined in the notification.

26-26-1117. [Repealed.]

Publisher's Notes. This section, concerning a contingent limitation on increase of property's assessed value, was repealed by identical Acts 2000 (2d Ex. Sess.), Nos. 1 and 2, § 5. The section was derived from Acts 1999, No. 1492, § 1. For present law, see Ark. Const. Amend. 79 and § 26-26-1118.

26-26-1118. Limitation on increase of property's assessed value.

(a) (1) (A) There is established a homestead property tax credit for each assessment year that reduces the amount of real property taxes assessed on the homestead of each property owner by three hundred fifty dollars ($350).

(B) However, an assessment shall not be reduced to less than zero dollars ($0.00).

(2) Each property owner shall pay the reduced tax amount to the county.

(3) The homestead property tax credit adopted by this section shall be reflected on the tax bill sent to the property owner by the county collector.

(4) The county and taxing units within the county are entitled to reimbursement of the tax reduction resulting from the homestead property tax credit in accordance with § 26-26-310.

(b) (1) Each county assessor shall be responsible for identifying those parcels of real property that are used as homestead residences prior to issuing tax bills.

(2) (A) Each property owner shall register with the county assessor proof of eligibility for the property tax credit if the property owner intends to claim a property tax credit.

(B) (i) The registration may be attached to the deed or other instrument conveying an interest in real property and filed with the circuit clerk, who shall remit the registration to the county assessor.

(ii) The registration form shall not be filed by the circuit clerk.

(C) The property owner may submit a registration for the property tax credit directly to the county assessor.

(3) In no event shall the property tax credit authorized by subdivision (a)(1) of this section be allowed after October 10 of the year after the assessment.

(4) (A) A parcel of real property shall qualify as a homestead prior to January 1 of the year after assessment to be eligible for the property tax credit.

(B) Once a parcel of real property is determined to be eligible for the property tax credit, the parcel of real property shall remain eligible for that year regardless of a change in the use of the parcel of real property during the year.

(5) (A) The parties to a transfer of real property may prorate, as between themselves, the property tax credit and the benefits of the property tax credit by agreement of the parties.

(B) If a parcel of real property qualifies for the property tax credit, the property tax credit shall apply regardless of who or what entity pays the property tax.

(6) (A) When real property is transferred, the purchaser of the real property shall notify the county assessor of the new use of the real property.

(B) The notification may be by affidavit provided by the purchaser of the real property or on a form provided by the county assessor.

(7) (A) The Division of Vital Records of the Department of Health shall send to the county assessor a monthly report listing the residents of that county who have died.

(B) The report shall be sent to each county assessor by:

(i) Electronic mail;

(ii) Fax; or

(iii) United States Postal Service.

History. Acts 2000 (2d Ex. Sess.), Nos. 1 and 2, § 6; 2001, No. 1544, § 3; 2001, No. 1598, § 1; 2003, No. 864, § 1; 2005, No. 1268, § 1; 2005, No. 1892, § 1; 2007, No. 142, § 1; 2007, No. 827, § 202; 2009, No. 655, § 4.

Amendments. The 2001 amendment, by No. 1544, substituted “property owner” for “taxpayer” in (a)(1); redesignated former (c) as present (c)(1) and made related changes; added (c)(2)-(3); added (d); and made minor stylistic changes throughout.

The 2001 amendment, by No. 1598, redesignated former (c) as present (c)(1) and made related changes; added (c)(2)-(6); and made minor stylistic changes throughout.

The 2003 amendment redesignated former (d) as present (d)(1), and former (d)(1)-(d)(3) as present (d)(1)(A)-(d)(1)(C); in present (d)(1), substituted “Property owner” for “The term property owner” and made a minor stylistic change; and added (d)(2).

The 2005 amendment by No. 1268 deleted former (b); redesignated former (c) as present (b); substituted “October 10” for “October 31” in present (b)(3); and deleted former (d).

The 2005 amendment by No. 1892 added present (b)(7).

The 2007 amendment by No. 142 inserted (a)(1)(B) and redesignated the following subdivision accordingly.

The 2007 amendment by No. 827, in (a), substituted “There is established a homestead property tax credit for each assessment year that reduces” for “Effective with the assessment year 2000 and thereafter” and deleted “shall be reduced” following “owner” in (1)(A), inserted present (1)(B) and redesignated former (1)(B) as present (1)(C), substituted “homestead property tax credit” for “tax reduction” in (3), inserted “resulting from the homestead property tax credit” in (4), and made related and stylistic changes.

The 2009 amendment substituted “three hundred fifty dollars ($350)” for “three hundred dollars ($300)” in (a)(1)(A); deleted (a)(1)(B), which read: “Effective with the assessment year 2007 and thereafter, the amount of real property taxes assessed on the homestead of each property owner shall be reduced by three hundred fifty dollars ($350)”; redesignated the subsequent subdivision; and made a minor stylistic change.

26-26-1119. Prohibited conduct — Penalties — Time limitation.

(a) (1) No property owner shall claim more than one (1) homestead property tax credit for each year.

(2) (A) If the county assessor determines that a property owner has claimed more than one (1) homestead property tax credit in a year, in addition to repayment of the homestead property tax credit, the designated preparer of the tax books shall extend a penalty of one hundred percent (100%) of the amount of the unlawfully claimed homestead property tax credit.

(B) (i) If the property owner has unlawfully claimed a homestead property tax credit in a county other than the county where his or her lawfully claimed homestead property tax credit was claimed, then the property owner shall pay the entire amount of the unlawfully claimed homestead property tax credit and the penalty at the time of payment of the property owner's taxes.

(ii) If the property owner has unlawfully claimed a homestead property tax credit in the same county that he or she lawfully claimed a homestead property tax credit, then the property owner shall elect to either:

(a) Pay the entire amount of the unlawfully claimed homestead property tax credit and the penalty at the time of payment of the property owner's taxes; or

(b) Not claim a homestead property tax credit on any property in the county or on any other property in the state for two (2) years for each year that the credit was claimed unlawfully.

(C) In order to qualify for the homestead property tax credit after repayment of an unlawfully claimed homestead property tax credit and payment of a penalty, the property owner shall register with the county assessor according to § 26-26-1118(b)(2)(A).

(b) (1) Every property owner shall report to the county assessor a change in eligibility to claim a property tax credit or a change in use of the property prior to January 1 of the year following the change.

(2) If the county assessor determines that a property owner has failed to report a change in the eligibility to claim a property tax credit or has failed to register a required change in the use of the property, the designated preparer of the tax books shall extend, in addition to repayment of the unlawfully claimed homestead property tax credit, the correct property tax due along with a penalty of one hundred percent (100%) of the amount of the unlawfully claimed homestead property tax credit.

(3) (A) If the property owner has unlawfully claimed a homestead property tax credit in a county other than the county where his or her lawfully claimed homestead property tax credit was claimed, then the property owner shall pay the entire amount of the unlawfully claimed homestead property tax credit and the penalty at the time of payment of the property owner's taxes.

(B) If the property owner has unlawfully claimed a homestead property tax credit in the same county that he or she lawfully claimed a homestead property tax credit, then the property owner shall elect to either:

(i) Pay the entire amount of the unlawfully claimed homestead property tax credit and the penalty at the time of payment of the property owner's taxes; or

(ii) Not claim a homestead property tax credit on any property in the county or on any other property in the state for two (2) years for each year that the credit was claimed unlawfully.

(c) (1) Penalties assessed under this section shall bind the real property and shall be entitled to preference over all judgments, executions, encumbrances, or liens, whenever created, until the penalties are repaid.

(2) Penalties collected under this section shall be remitted to the county treasurer to be credited to the county general fund.

(d) (1) The debt owed for the repayment of an unlawfully claimed homestead property tax credit assessed under this section shall bind the real property and shall be entitled to preference over all judgments, executions, encumbrances, or liens, whenever created, until it is repaid.

(2) A homestead property tax credit repaid under this section from a person who was not entitled to claim a credit shall be remitted to the Treasurer of State for deposit in the Property Tax Relief Trust Fund.

(e) (1) The property owner may appeal to the county court the determination by a county assessor that:

(A) The property owner shall repay an unlawfully claimed homestead property tax credit;

(B) The property owner shall pay penalties; or

(C) Any other determination that the property owner has violated this section.

(2) To appeal the determination by a county assessor, the property owner must file a petition with the county court within thirty (30) days from the date of the determination by the county assessor.

(3) After the petition is filed, the county court shall set a hearing within thirty (30) days after the filing of the petition.

(4) At the hearing, the property owner and county assessor shall present evidence to support their positions.

(5) The county court shall provide the property owner, county assessor, and county clerk with the county court's decision in writing within ten (10) business days after the hearing.

(6) The property owner or county assessor may appeal the county court's decision to circuit court within thirty (30) days after the date of the decision.

(f) (1) No penalties under this section shall be imposed against a property owner for an unlawfully claimed property tax credit after the expiration of three (3) years from the date the property tax credit was claimed.

(2) No repayment requirement under this section shall be imposed against a property owner for an unlawfully claimed property tax credit after the expiration of three (3) years from the date the property tax credit was claimed.

(3) This section does not alter the property owner's deadline to claim the homestead property tax credit as provided in § 26-26-1118(b)(3).

History. Acts 2001, No. 1544, § 4; 2003, No. 1354, § 1.

Amendments. The 2003 amendment added "for each year" to the end of (a)(1); rewrote (a)(2)(A); added (a)(2)(B) and (C); rewrote (b)(2); added (b)(3)(A), (c)(1) and (d)(1); in (d)(2), substituted "Homestead property tax credits repaid under this section" for "Property tax collected" and "in" for "to"; and added (e) and (f).

26-26-1120. Disabled persons.

(a) As used in Arkansas Constitution, Amendment 79, the term “disabled person” means a person who:

(1) Is disabled for purposes of Subchapter XIX of the Social Security Act as in effect on January 1, 2003, for any period during the calendar year;

(2) Is a permanently and totally disabled veteran as defined by 38 C.F.R., Part IV, as in effect on January 1, 2003; or

(3) Has received permanent and total disability insurance benefits for any period of time during the calendar year.

(b) (1) When a disabled person or a person sixty-five (65) years of age or older sells his or her real property, the purchaser shall not be entitled to claim any reduction to the real property's assessed value.

(2) On or after January 1 of the year following the date of the sale, the county assessor shall assess the real property at its full market value, unadjusted for assessment limitations required by Arkansas Constitution, Amendment 79.

History. Acts 2001, No. 1544, § 5; 2003, No. 646, § 1.

Amendments. The 2003 amendment inserted the subdivision (a)(1) and (a)(2) designations; added “a person who” in the introductory language in (a); in (a)(1) and (a)(2), deleted “a person who” at the beginning and substituted “January 1, 2003” for “January 1, 2001”; in (a)(1), substituted “Subchapter” for “Title” and deleted “federal” preceding “Social Security”; added (a)(3); added the subdivision designations in (b); in present (b)(2), inserted “On or after January 1 of the year following the date of the sale”; and made minor stylistic changes.

U.S. Code. Subchapter XIX of the Social Security Act, referred to in this section, is codified as 42 U.S.C. § 1396 et seq.

26-26-1122. Definitions.

(a) As used in this subchapter and in the Arkansas Constitution, Amendment 79:

(1) (A) “Homestead” means the dwelling of a person that is used as his or her principal place of residence with the contiguous land, excluding all land valued as agricultural land, pasture land, or timber land.

(B) “Homestead” shall also include a dwelling owned by a revocable trust and used as the principal place of residence of a person who formed the trust;

(2) “New construction” means changes to real property that have occurred to real property already on the assessment roll;

(3) “Newly discovered real property” means real property that has never been on the assessment roll or that has changed use; and

(4) (A) “Property owner” means a person who is:

(i) The owner of record of real property or the mortgagee of the real property;

(ii) A buyer under a recorded contract to purchase real property; or

(iii) A person holding a recorded life estate in real property.

(B) “Property owner” shall include the previous record owner of tax-delinquent real property that has vested in the State of Arkansas in care of the Commissioner of State Lands under § 26-37-101(c) if the previous record owner continues to occupy the residence subject to his or her right of redemption.

(b) The Assessment Coordination Department may by rule define the term “substantial improvements” and any other term necessary to administer this subchapter.

History. Acts 2005, No. 1268, § 2.

26-26-1123. Sale of real property.

(a) When a person sells his or her real property, the county assessor shall assess the real property at twenty percent (20%) of the appraised value at the next assessment date after the date of the transfer of title to the real property.

(b) The owner of real property to whom title is transferred by a sale is not entitled to claim any limitation on the assessed value of the real property until the second assessment date after the date of the transfer of title to the real property.

(c) This section does not apply to any transfer of title to real property claimed as a homestead in which the owner or beneficiary of the homestead retains a life-estate interest in the homestead following the transfer of title to the real property.

History. Acts 2005, No. 2284, § 1; 2007, No. 827, § 203.

Amendments. The 2007 amendment substituted “Sale of real property” for “Transfer of property” in the section heading; added “of title to the real property” in (a) and (b); inserted “by a sale” in (b); and added (c).

Effective Dates. Acts 2005, No. 2284, § 2, provided: “EFFECTIVE DATE. Section 1 of this act shall be effective on and after January 1, 2006.”

26-26-1124. Property tax relief for persons disabled or more than sixty-five years of age.

(a) (1) A homestead used as the taxpayer's principal place of residence that is purchased or constructed on or after January 1, 2001, by a person who is disabled or by a person sixty-five (65) years of age or older shall be assessed for property tax thereafter based on the lower of:

- (A) The assessed value as of the date of purchase or construction; or
- (B) A later assessed value.

(2) When a person becomes disabled or reaches sixty-five (65) years of age on or after January 1, 2001, the person's homestead that is used as the taxpayer's principal place of residence shall thereafter be assessed based on the lower of:

- (A) The assessed value on the person's sixty-fifth birthday;
- (B) The assessed value on the date the person becomes disabled; or
- (C) A later assessed value.

(3) If a person is disabled or is at least sixty-five (65) years of age and owns a homestead used as the taxpayer's principal place of residence on January 1, 2001, the homestead shall be assessed based on the lower of:

- (A) The assessed value on January 1, 2001; or
- (B) A later assessed value.

(b) Residing in a nursing home does not disqualify a person from the benefits of subsection (a) of this section.

(c) If a homestead is jointly owned and one (1) of the owners qualifies under subsection (a) of this section, then all owners shall receive the benefits of subsection (a) of this section.

(d) Subsection (a) of this section does not apply to substantial improvements to real property.

Lands have been sold to the State under proceedings purporting to have been had in the courts of this State by virtue of an Act of the General Assembly thereof entitled 'An Act to enforce the payment of Overdue Taxes,' approved March 12, 1881, when the taxes for the alleged nonpayment of which such lands were so sold under said proceedings and decrees of said courts, had been in fact paid prior to any such sales, proceedings or decrees of said courts; and,

"Whereas, 2D. Also the lands of many other persons were under like proceedings and decrees aforesaid had, by virtue of said act, sold to the State, where the owners thereof had paid taxes which they supposed were on such lands of their own, but which taxes so paid, owing to an erroneous description in the numbers of the same afterwards were ascertained to be on other lands than their own, and their lands sold to the State as aforesaid; and,

"Whereas, 3D. Said overdue tax act was a novel proceeding in this State that was productive of hardships in other respects, and it is but just to them that the owners of land at the time of such sale to the State, should have a limited time to redeem the same therefrom, without loss to the State, provided said lands shall not have been sold by the State prior to any such application to redeem;

Case Notes

Appellate Review.
Value.

Appellate Review.

Courts can only review real property assessments and reverse them and send them back to the executive department when they are clearly erroneous, manifestly excessive, or confiscatory. Tuthill v. Arkansas County Equalization Bd., 303 Ark. 387, 797 S.W.2d 439 (1990).

Value.

The Arkansas Constitution requires the assessment of property on the basis of current market value. Arkansas Pub. Serv. Comm'n v. Pulaski County Bd. of Equalization, 266 Ark. 64, 582 S.W.2d 942 (1979), superseded by statute as stated in, Clark v. Union P. R. Co., 294 Ark. 586, 745 S.W.2d 600 (Ark. 1988), (decision prior to Const. Amend. 59).

26-26-1202. Valuation procedures.

- (a) (1) Each separate parcel of real property shall be valued at its true market value in money, excluding the value of crops growing thereon.
 - (2) The price at which the real estate would sell at auction or at a forced sale shall not be taken as the criterion of the true value.
- (b) Each tract of land belonging to the state or to any county, city, town, or charitable institution, whether incorporated or unincorporated, and saline, swamp, seminary, school, or mineral lands held under a lease exceeding five (5) years and not exceeding ten (10) years shall be valued at the price the assessor believes could be obtained at a private sale for the leasehold estate.
- (c) (1) Personal property of any description shall be valued at the usual selling price of similar property at the time of listing.
 - (2) If any personal property shall have no well-fixed or determined value in that locality at the time, then it shall be appraised at such price as in the opinion of the assessor could be obtained at that time and place.
- (d) Investments in bonds, stocks, joint-stock companies, or otherwise shall be valued at their value in money, and the quotations and selling price thereof may be considered in determining their values.
- (e) Money, whether in possession or on deposit in this state, or out of it subject to the order or control of the person listing, shall be entered in the statement at the full amount thereof.
- (f) Every credit for a sum certain, payable either in money, property of any kind, labor, or service, shall be assessed according to its true value. If for a specified number or quantity of any article of property, for a certain amount of labor, or for services of any kind, it shall be assessed according to its true value.
- (g) Annuities or moneys receivable at a stated period shall be rated at the price which they may be worth in money.
- (h) Where the fee of the soil in any tract, parcel, or lot of land is in any person, natural or artificial, and the right to any mineral therein is in another, it shall be valued and listed agreeably to the ownership, in separate entries, and taxed to the parties owning it respectively.

Case Notes

Current Use.

Depreciation.

True Value.

Current Use.

Current use is a factor to be considered in making a property assessment, but it is only one factor; “use” is not restricted to current use, but rather to “the uses to which it may be put.” Gazaway v. Greene County Equalization Bd., 314 Ark. 569, 864 S.W.2d 233 (1993).

Depreciation.

The assessor's decision to value computers by the cost-less-depreciation method over six years, rather than to use the fair market value evidenced by various trade magazines, was not clearly erroneous, arbitrary, or confiscatory. IBM Credit Corp. v. Pulaski County, 316 Ark. 580, 873 S.W.2d 161 (1994).

True Value.

The assessment to be placed upon mineral lands depends upon their market value. Ex parte Ft. Smith & Van Buren Bridge Co., 62 Ark. 461, 36 S.W. 1060 (1896); American Bauxite Co. v. Board of Equalization, 119 Ark. 362, 177 S.W. 1151 (1915).

Although this section requires all property in the state to be assessed for taxation at its full value, it was a defense to an action to require the assessor in a certain county to assess the property in the county at its full value that the property in the other counties of the state was assessed at less than its full value. State ex rel. Nelson v. Meek, 127 Ark. 349, 192 S.W. 202 (1917).

Where, in 1970, the assessor's office listed a piece of property at $74,684 valuation for tax purposes based on a front footage formula, but in 1969, the property had actually sold for $30,000, the tax valuation of $74,684 could not be supported. Lile v. Pulaski County Bd. of Equalization, 252 Ark. 508, 479 S.W.2d 856 (1972).

26-26-1203. Merchants.

(a) Any person owning or having in his possession or under his control, within this state, with authority to sell it, any personal property purchased with a view to its being sold at a profit, or which has been consigned to him from any place out of this state, to be sold within this state, shall be held to be a merchant for the purpose of this valuation.

(b) (1) The property shall be listed for taxation and in estimating the value the merchant shall take the average value of the property in his possession or under his control during the year immediately preceding January 1 of the year in which the assessment is made.

(2) If the merchant has not been engaged in the business for one (1) year, then he shall take the average valuation during such time as he shall have been so engaged.

(3) If the merchant is commencing business, he shall take the value of the property at the time of assessment.

A company owning land and engaged in sawing timber on it into lumber and shingles is a manufacturer within this section. Arkansas Cypress Shingle Co. v. Lonoke County, 74 Ark. 28, 84 S.W. 1029 (1905).

Property Included.

Timbers belonging to railroad companies on hand for treatment at creosoting plant need not be listed for assessment as the manufacturer is required only to list property which is owned by himself. North Little Rock Special School Dist. v. Koppers Co., 211 Ark. 322, 200 S.W.2d 519 (1947).

26-26-1206. Federally funded housing for elderly or handicapped.

(a) Housing owned and operated by a nonprofit corporation or association for occupancy or use by elderly or handicapped persons, the construction of which is financed by the United States of America, shall be valued, for purposes of assessment, on the basis of the equity owned in the housing by the nonprofit corporation or association.

(b) As used in this section, unless the context otherwise requires:

(1) “Elderly person” means a person sixty-two (62) years of age or older and the spouse of that person;

(2) “Handicapped person” means any adult having an impairment which is expected to be of long, continued, and indefinite duration; is a substantial impairment to his ability to live independently; and is of a nature that such ability to live independently would be improved by more suitable housing conditions and shall include an adult who is developmentally disabled;

(3) “Housing” means structures consisting of eight (8) or more residential units for occupancy and use by elderly or handicapped persons, including essential contiguous land and related facilities, as well as all personal property of the corporation or association used in connection with the facilities;

(4) “Nonprofit corporation or association” means any corporation or association incorporated under the laws of this state not otherwise exempt from general ad valorem, real, and personal property taxes, operating a housing facility or project qualified, built, and financed by the United States of America under § 202 of the National Housing Act of 1959, as amended; and

(5) “Equity” means the market value of the housing less any mortgage indebtedness to the United States of America.

26-26-1207. Motor vehicle dealer inventory.

(a) The General Assembly recognizes that motor vehicles are unique in regard to the procedure for assessment of personal property taxes, registration and titling, and payment of sales taxes and that there is a correlation between sales of motor vehicles by motor vehicle dealers and the valuation of motor vehicle inventory.

(b) The method of determining the average value of inventory of motor vehicle dealers in accordance with §§ 26-26-1201 and 26-26-1203(b) shall be as provided in this section.

(c) The assessment of motor vehicle inventories of motor vehicle dealers shall be determined by calculating the monthly average of the number of sales of new and used motor vehicles by the dealer and multiplying the average by the unit inventory value.

(d) The unit inventory value shall be based on the typical new and used car values by name of manufacturer as set forth in the Commercial Personal Property Appraisal Manual published in the year prior to the year of assessment by the Assessment Coordination Division of the Arkansas Public Service Commission.

26-26-1307. Notice of reappraisal.

(a) (1) Prior to any countywide reappraisal of property for ad valorem tax purposes, the county assessor or the county assessor's employees or agents shall notify the property owners of the county assessor's intent to reappraise at least forty-five (45) calendar days prior to the reappraisal.

(2) Prior to any reappraisal of an individual's property for ad valorem tax purposes other than a countywide reappraisal under subdivision (a)(1) of this section, the county assessor or the county assessor's employees or agents shall give the property owner reasonable notice of the county assessor's intent to reappraise the property owner's property.

(3) The notice required by this section may be accomplished by publication in newspapers, by radio, by television, by direct mail, or by any other reasonable means.

(b) (1) If a reappraisal under subsection (a) of this section results in an increase in the assessed value of the property, the county assessor shall note in writing on the assessment records the:

- (A) Justification for the increase;
- (B) Date the property was inspected; and
- (C) Details of the inspection.

(2) The records of the appraisal shall be public records subject to inspection under the Freedom of Information Act of 1967, § 25-19-101 et seq.

(c) Any property owner whose property is reappraised under this section may appeal to the county board of equalization, and the county board of equalization is required to grant an adequate hearing on the appeal.

History. Acts 1999, No. 416, § 1.

26-26-1308. Limitations on reappraisals.

(a) Property shall not be reappraised for ad valorem tax purposes more than one (1) time every five (5) years unless the reappraisal is the result of a countywide reappraisal.

(b) In the event that there is a countywide reappraisal of property for ad valorem tax purposes in any county, taxes shall not be assessed on the basis of the reappraised value of any property in the county until all taxable property in the county has been reappraised.

(c) When a countywide reappraisal of property is completed in any county and taxes are first assessed on the newly reappraised values, the provisions of Arkansas Constitution, Amendment 59 and § 26-26-401 et seq. relative to the adjustment or rollback of millage levied for ad valorem tax purposes shall be applicable.

(d) Newly discovered real property, new construction and improvements to real property, and personal property shall be listed, appraised, and assessed as otherwise provided by law until the countywide reappraisal of property is completed.

26-26-1401. Purpose.

(a) It is the purpose and intent of this subchapter to reduce the number of persons avoiding the payment of tangible personal property taxes by moving from one county to another within the state or by moving outside the state between the time of assessing property for taxes and the time of collecting taxes thereon by establishing a system that reduces the time period from the date of assessment to the date of collection.

(b) It is further the intent of this subchapter that, when personal property taxes are paid in advance as provided for in this subchapter, the normal procedures carried out by the various county officials and state officials with respect to property taxes shall continue in effect, and, if it is determined through the normal procedures presently in effect that any person who paid personal property taxes in advance overpaid such taxes, the overpayment will be refunded to the taxpayer, and that, if the advance payment of the tangible personal property taxes by a taxpayer is an underpayment of the tax, the taxpayer will be billed for the additional amount due.

(c) It is further the intent of this subchapter that the taxpayer will be required to furnish proof of payment of tangible personal property taxes as a condition for registering or renewing the registration of any motor vehicle.

A.C.R.C. Notes. Former § 26-26-1404, containing provisions deemed supplemental, is deemed to be superseded by this section. The former section was derived from Acts 1981, No. 927, § 11; A.S.A. 1947, § 84-494.10.

26-26-1405. Rights and responsibilities not limited.

(a) Nothing contained in this subchapter shall be construed to limit or restrict the right of a taxpayer to make application to the equalization board for adjustment of the tangible personal property assessment or the right of the taxpayer to obtain judicial review of the final determination of the board.

(b) Nothing contained in this subchapter shall be construed to limit or restrict or alter the authority and responsibility of any county official, the county equalization board, the county court, or any other agency or person having responsibility with respect to the assessment and collection of ad valorem taxes on tangible personal property.

History. Acts 1981, No. 927, § 8; A.S.A. 1947, § 84-494.7.

26-26-1406. Penalties.

(a) A penalty of ten percent (10%) of the taxpayer's total tangible personal property taxes shall be imposed on any taxpayer who fails or refuses to assess his tangible personal property on or before April 10 of each year.

(b) A penalty of ten percent (10%) of the taxpayer's total tangible personal property taxes shall be assessed if the taxpayer fails or refuses to pay tangible personal property taxes on or before October 10 next following the assessment of the property for taxes.

History. Acts 1981, No. 927, § 5; A.S.A. 1947, § 84-494.4.

26-26-1407. Procedure and forms.

The Assessment Coordination Division shall prescribe the forms to be used for the assessment and collection of tangible personal property pursuant to the provisions of this subchapter. The Division of Legislative Audit shall assist and guide the various county officials in establishing an appropriate procedure to be followed in assessing and collecting tangible personal property taxes and other matters necessary to effectively and efficiently carry out the purposes of this subchapter.

History. Acts 1981, No. 927, § 7; A.S.A. 1947, § 84-494.6; Acts 1987, No. 621, § 6.

A.C.R.C. Notes. The Assessment Coordination division of the Public Service Commission was transferred to the Assessment Coordination Department by a type 2 transfer under § 25-2-105 by Acts 1997, No. 436, § 2.

26-26-1408. Time for assessment and payment.

(a) (1) A taxpayer shall annually assess his or her tangible personal property for ad valorem taxes during the period from January 1 through May 31.

(2) (A) Taxable tangible personal property of a new resident and a new business established between January 1 and May 31 and taxable tangible personal property acquired by a resident during the period from January 1 through May 31, except tangible personal property acquired during the period of May 2 through May 31, shall be assessable without delinquency within thirty (30) days following the date of its acquisition.

(B) All taxable tangible personal property assessable during this period shall be assessed according to its market value as of:

(i) January 1 of the year of the assessment; or

(ii) The date of acquisition if the tangible personal property was acquired during the period of January 2 through May 31 of the year of assessment.

(3) The ten percent (10%) penalty for delinquent assessment shall not apply to tangible personal property becoming eligible for assessment through May 31 if the tangible personal property is assessed on or before May 31, except that the tangible personal property acquired during the period of May 2 through May 31 shall be assessable without penalty within thirty (30) days following the date of its acquisition.

(4) (A) Taxable tangible personal property of a person moving his or her residence from Arkansas, and taxable tangible personal property disposed of by a resident and a business, during the period between January 1 and May 31, if assessed for that year, shall be removed from the assessment rolls, and, if not assessed, shall not be deemed assessable for that year.

(B) Before removal of the tangible personal property from the assessment rolls, it shall be the responsibility of the property owner to provide the county assessor with notification, and, upon request from the county assessor, proof of the disposal.

(5) The tangible personal property referred to in subdivisions (a)(1)-(4) of this section shall not include the inventory of a commercial establishment because specific provisions for the assessment of the inventory of a commercial establishment is provided elsewhere in this Arkansas Code.

(6) (A) The county assessor may list, value, and assess tangible personal property for a period extending through July 31 of each year of assessment.

(B) Assessment of tangible personal property after July 31 shall be according to provision of existing law.

(b) Personal property taxes are payable from the third Monday in February through October 10 each year.

History. Acts 1981, No. 927, § 2; A.S.A. 1947, § 84-494.1; Acts 1987, No. 621, §§ 2, 4; 1988 (3rd Ex. Sess.), No. 35, § 1; 1991, No. 860, § 2; 1995, No. 754, § 1; 1999, No. 1292, § 1; 2007, No. 827, § 204; 2009, No. 277, § 1.

Amendments. The 1995 amendment substituted “May 12 through May 31” for “January 1 through May 31” and “twenty (20) days” for “ten (10) days” in the first sentence in (a)(2) and in (a)(3).

The 1999 amendment substituted “May 2 through May 31” for “May 12 through May 31” and “thirty (30) days” for “twenty (20) days” in (a)(2) and (a)(3); and made stylistic changes.

The 2007 amendment deleted “On and after January 1, 1991” at the beginning of (a)(1); in (b), deleted “On and after the third Monday in February, 1988” at the beginning, and deleted “with the provision in § 27-13-101 [repealed] taking precedent” at the end; and made related changes.

The 2009 amendment inserted (a)(2)(B)(ii), redesignated the remainder of (a)(2)(B), and made related and minor stylistic changes.

Effective Dates. Acts 2009, No. 277, § 2, provided: “This act is effective for the assessment year 2010 and thereafter.”

“Whereas, 2d. Also the lands of many other persons were under like proceedings and decrees aforesaid had, by virtue of said act, sold to the State, where the owners thereof had paid taxes which they supposed were on such lands of their own, but which taxes so paid, owing to an erroneous description in the numbers of the same afterwards were ascertained to be on other lands than their own, and their lands sold to the State as aforesaid; and,

"Whereas, 3d. Said overdue tax act was a novel proceeding in this State that was productive of hardships in other respects, and it is but just to them that the owners of land at the time of such sale to the State, should have a limited time to redeem the same therefrom, without loss to the State, provided said lands shall not have been sold by the State prior to any such application to redeem;

"Now, therefore...."

Acts 1943, No. 89, § 5: Feb. 19, 1943. Emergency clause provided: "It is hereby ascertained and declared that by reason of the enactment of Section 5 of Act 129 of the Acts of 1941 the General Assembly inadvertently elected to tax the dividends derived from shares in national banking associations instead of an ad valorem tax upon the shares of said associations, and thereby repealed by implication Section 13743 of Pope's Digest in so far as it applied to national banking associations, and in so doing caused a disproportionate burden of taxation as to state banks and trust companies and a loss of revenues to the state and its subdivisions and also caused confusion to arise as to the method of taxing national banking associations and state banks and trust companies. Therefore, it now becomes necessary for the General Assembly to elect the method of taxing national banking associations and state banks and trust companies, and in order that the method of assessing such associations, banks and trust companies for ad valorem taxes may be made definite, and provision for the collection thereof made, and in order that said associations, banks and trust companies may be assessed for the year 1943 and national banking associations assessed for the year 1942, as herein provided, and for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety, an emergency is declared to exist and this Act reviving Section 13743 of Pope's Digest as to such associations, banks and trust companies shall be in force and effect from and after its passage and approval."

Acts 1973, No. 182, §§ 9, 10: Jan. 1, 1973. Emergency clause provided: "It is hereby found and determined by the General Assembly that the present law relative to the taxation of banks and savings and loan associations is somewhat vague and indefinite, that such institutions should pay the same taxes as other business corporations in the State, and this Act is immediately necessary to clarify the laws with respect to the taxation of financial institutions and to assure that such institutions pay the same taxes as other business corporations. Therefore, an emergency is hereby declared to exist and this Act being necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage and approval." 26-26-1505. Statement of capital stock.

(a) Bridge, savings banks, mutual loan, building, transportation, construction, and all other companies, corporations, or associations incorporated under the laws of this state, or under the laws of any other state, and doing business in this state, other than the companies, corporations, or associations whose taxation is specifically provided for in this subchapter, shall, through their president, secretary, principal accounting officer, or agent, annually, during the month of July, make out and deliver to the assessor of the county where the company or corporation is located or doing business a sworn statement of the capital stock setting forth particularly:

(1) The name and the location of the company or association;

(2) The amount of capital stock authorized, and the number of shares into which the capital stock is divided;

(3) The amount of capital stock paid up, its market value, and, if no market value, then the actual value of the shares of stock;

(4) The total amount of all the indebtedness, except the indebtedness for current expenses, excluding from the indebtedness the amount paid for the purchase or improvement of the property; and

(5) True valuation of all tangible property belonging to the company or corporation. The schedule shall be made in conformity to instructions and forms as may be prescribed by the Auditor of State and shall also show in what county the property is situated.

(b) Corporations doing business in this state engaged exclusively in the manufacture of cotton or fiber goods or yards, which is commonly called the textile manufacturing business, having mills located in this state, and other corporations to the extent of their assets invested in textile mills located in this state, shall not be required to comply with the provisions of this section for a period of seven (7) years after the location of its textile mills in this state.

(c) (1) The assessor shall, annually, at least by June 20, deliver to the president, secretary, accounting officer, or agent of any such company, corporation, or association located in or doing business in the county a notice in writing to return the schedule by July 31 next ensuing.

(2) (A) Any president, secretary, principal accounting officer, or agent of any companies or corporations, upon whom notice shall have been served, willfully neglecting or refusing to make the return by July 31 next ensuing after the delivery of the notice, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and, upon conviction, shall be fined in any sum not exceeding one hundred dollars ($100) or imprisoned not exceeding three (3) months, or both.

(B) The assessor shall, from the best information he can obtain, make out and enter upon the proper assessment roll a list, with the valuation of all tangible and intangible property belonging to a defaulting company or corporation subject to taxation by the provisions of this section, with fifty percent (50%) penalty.

Case Notes

Capital Stock.

Located or Doing Business.

Valuation of Property.

Capital Stock.

As used in this section, "capital stock" means the aggregate value of the corporation's stock in the hands of its stockholders, and not the capital of the corporation as represented by its tangible assets, although the value of the shares of capital stock does not constitute the limit of taxation; and as the shares of stock in the hands of the stockholders and the property of the corporation do not contain the same elements of value, a tax on the capital stock of the corporation, in addition to the tangible property thereof, does not constitute double taxation and is valid. State ex rel. Davis v. Bodcaw Lumber Co., 128 Ark. 505, 194 S.W. 692 (1917).

In returning capital stock for taxation, corporations cannot deduct investments of surplus in shares of stock of other corporations. State ex rel. Attorney Gen. v. Ft. Smith Lumber Co., 131 Ark. 40, 198 S.W. 702 (1917); Ft. Smith Lumber Co. v. State ex rel. Attorney Gen., 138 Ark. 581, 211 S.W. 662 (1919), aff'd, 251 U.S. 532, 40 S. Ct. 304 (1920).

In assessing the value of the capital stock of a corporation, it is proper to include lands belonging to the corporation situated in another state. Crossett Lumber Co. v. State, 139 Ark. 397, 214 S.W. 43 (1919).

Taxable value of shares of stock of a corporation is ascertained by deducting the value of its tangible property otherwise assessed from the market value of the shares of stock. State v. Eagle Lumber Co., 149 Ark. 6, 231 S.W. 180 (1921).

Located or Doing Business.

A foreign corporation is to be assessed for its personal property only in the county where it is doing business. McDaniel v. Texarkana Cooperage & Mfg. Co., 94 Ark. 235, 126 S.W. 727 (1910).

The effect of the 1907 amendment was to make the personal property of a corporation taxable in the county where the property is located. Beal-Doyle Dry Goods Co. v. Beller, 105 Ark. 370, 150 S.W. 1033 (1912).

Where corporation has part of its property within a city and part outside the city in the same county, all the tangible personal property of the corporation within the county is to be assessed at the place of the corporation's domicile. Arkadelphia Milling Co. v. Board of Equalization, 126 Ark. 611, 191 S.W. 410 (1916).

Valuation of Property.

Valuation of the property of a natural gas company could not be fixed by ascertaining the net earnings of the company and then fixing an amount as the valuation which would produce the net earnings at the rate of six percent per annum. The net income of the company could be taken into consideration as affecting its value, but the probable producing life of the gas wells, the increased cost of developing them, and the percent of the capitalization of the concern included in the net income should have also been considered. Martineau v. Clear Creek Oil & Gas Co., 141 Ark. 596, 217 S.W. 807 (1920).

Emergency clause provided: "Whereas, the large increase in the number of bus and/or truck line companies now subject to ad valorem taxation under the provisions of said Act 129 of 1927, as amended by Act 12 of 1933, make the extension, collection and distribution of taxes therefrom a most difficult, long drawn out, and expensive task, as now by law provided, and this act being necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety, an emergency is hereby declared to exist, and this act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage."

Acts 1953, No. 168, § 3: approved Mar. 2, 1953. Emergency clause provided: "It has been found and is hereby declared by the General Assembly that doubt exists as to the legality of the method heretofore used in distributing the taxes identified in this Act, and that the language contained in Section 2 hereof removes all such doubts, thereby assuring the respective taxing units that all such taxes will be available for carrying on the necessary functions of government. Therefore, an emergency is hereby declared to exist, and this Act being necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health and safety, shall take effect and be in full force from and after its passage."

Acts 1961, No. 129, § 12: approved Feb. 22, 1961. Emergency clause provided: "Since the wording of the present statutes relating to the assessment, certification, and appeals from the assessment as determined and fixed by the Tax Division is somewhat confusing, and since this confusion adversely affects the administration of the assessments fixed by the Tax Division, an emergency is hereby declared to exist, and this Act being necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage."

Acts 1963, No. 215, § 3: Mar. 8, 1963. Emergency clause provided: "The General Assembly finds that the Tax Division of the Arkansas Public Service Commission is now in the process of fixing the values and assessing the property of companies within its jurisdiction and that presently inequities are obvious in the methods available under existing statutes, and that it is necessary to avoid any delay or discrimination that an emergency be declared and it is hereby found to exist, and this act being, therefore, necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety, and the assessment of certain properties without discrimination, an emergency is declared to exist and this act shall become effective immediately upon its passage and approval."

Acts 1980 (2nd Ex. Sess.), No. 3, § 3: May 8, 1980. Emergency clause provided: "It is hereby found and determined by the General Assembly that because of rulings by the Public Service Commission and the Transportation Commission with respect to assessments made by the Tax Division of the Public Service Commission of properties assessed by said Tax Division, the Tax Division of the Public Service Commission will be unable to complete within the time now fixed by law its 1980 final recalculations of assessed value of properties owned or operated by the respective public utilities and carriers within the several counties of the State, and that an additional sixty (60) days will be necessary to enable the Tax Division to complete its work and certify such assessed value to the proper officials of the respective counties, and that the immediate passage of this Act is necessary to accomplish said purpose and to prevent undue delay in the proper administration of the tax laws of this State. Therefore, an emergency is hereby declared to exist and this Act, being necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, and welfare, shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage and approval."

Acts 1980 (2nd Ex. Sess.), No. 9, § 3: May 8, 1980. Emergency clause provided: "It is hereby found and determined by the General Assembly that the method utilized by the Tax Division of the Public Service Commission to value utility property for purposes of ad valorem taxation is not now adequately outlined by statute; that a recent Public Service Commission order indicated a change in the traditional method of valuation of the utility property resulting in a substantial decrease in the assessed value of such utility property which in turn will result in a substantial reduction in tax revenues available to schools and local governments; and that this Act is immediately necessary to delineate the method of valuing utility property by the Tax Division of the Public Service Commission. Therefore, an emergency is hereby declared to exist and this Act being immediately necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health and safety shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage and approval."

Acts 1980 (2nd Ex. Sess.), No. 10, § 3: May 8, 1980. Emergency clause provided: "It is hereby found and determined by the General Assembly that the present law pertaining to the assessment by the Tax Division of the Public Service Commission of property used and/or held for use in the operation of utilities and carriers is vague; that it is immediately necessary to clarify such law to provide for an equitable assessment of such property used and/or held for use by utilities and carriers; and that this Act is immediately necessary to make such clarification. Therefore, an emergency is hereby declared to exist and this Act being immediately necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health and safety shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage and approval."

26-26-1602. Report of property subject to assessment.

(a) For purposes of this subchapter, property is used or held for use in the operation of a company as such if it is owned or controlled by a utility or carrier and is being utilized, is capable of utilization, in the operation of a utility or carrier, or is being constructed for future utilization in the utility or carrier operation. However, leased property controlled by a utility or carrier shall not be assessed by a county assessor in this state if the property is assessed for ad valorem tax purposes by the Tax Division of the Arkansas Public Service Commission.

(b) (1) All property, both real and personal, used or held for use in the operation of the company as such, of carriers, by pipeline, railroads, street railway, express, sleeping car, intercounty bus lines, intercounty motor freight, airline, ferry, interurban, toll bridge, toll road, or water transportation, and by similar carriers, and all telegraph, telephone, electric power, gas, water, and other similar companies shall be assessed for ad valorem taxation by the Tax Division of the Arkansas Public Service Commission.

(2) Each such company doing business or authorized to do business in Arkansas and owning or having control of property, or owning or having control of property in Arkansas, shall, through its owner, president, secretary, general manager, or agent having control of the company's affairs in this state, on or before March 1 of each year, make a statement in writing to the division showing all property subject to assessment and taxation in this state. The statement shall truly show the amount, kind, and value of the property as of January 1 next preceding the filing of the annual statement. However, in the case of motor carriers, the statement and information shall be filed annually with the division on or before March 31.

Statement.

Constitutionality.

Tax authorized by this section is not violative of U.S. Const. Art. I, § 8, the commerce clause, or U.S. Const., Amend. 14, when applied to equipment engaged in hauling into and through the state in interstate commerce, since only an ad valorem tax on property found within the state is involved. Arco Auto Carriers, Inc. v. State, 232 Ark. 779, 341 S.W.2d 15 (1960), dismissed, Bolton v. Schuylkill Haven, 365 U.S. 767, 81 S. Ct. 912, 6 L. Ed. 2d 189 (1961), dismissed, Arco Auto Carriers, Inc. v. Arkansas, 365 U.S. 770, 81 S. Ct. 912 (1961).

There is nothing in the Constitution of the United States or its laws that prevents a state from taxing personal property employed in interstate or foreign commerce like other personal property within its jurisdiction. Arco Auto Carriers, Inc. v. State, 232 Ark. 779, 341 S.W.2d 15 (1960), dismissed, Bolton v. Schuylkill Haven, 365 U.S. 767, 81 S. Ct. 912, 6 L. Ed. 2d 189 (1961), dismissed, Arco Auto Carriers, Inc. v. Arkansas, 365 U.S. 770, 81 S. Ct. 912 (1961).

Tax authorized by this section is a county ad valorem tax administered by a state agency for purpose of efficiency and, as such, is not violative of Ark. Const., Art. 2, § 23 or Ark. Const. Amend. 47. Arco Auto Carriers, Inc. v. State, 232 Ark. 779, 341 S.W.2d 15 (1960), dismissed, Bolton v. Schuylkill Haven, 365 U.S. 767, 81 S. Ct. 912, 6 L. Ad Valorem Tax.

An ad valorem tax is on property that may be found in the state; it is immaterial that the property may not be moved on any regular route or schedule. Arco Auto Carriers, Inc. v. State, 232 Ark. 779, 341 S.W.2d 15 (1960), dismissed, Bolton v. Schuylkill Haven, 365 U.S. 767, 81 S. Ct. 912, 6 L. Ed. 2d 189 (1961), dismissed, Arco Auto Carriers, Inc. v. Arkansas, 365 U.S. 770, 81 S. Ct.

Assessment Date.

Pursuant to subsection (b)(2), a determination of assessed value is to be made as of January 1 of each year. Ozark Gas Pipeline Corp. v. Arkansas Pub. Serv. Comm'n, 342 Ark. 591, 29 S.W.3d 730 (2000).

Electric Companies.

An electric cooperative's plants were assessable property pursuant to this section where: (1) the plants were included in the cooperative's rate base at their net book value and, as a consequence, the cooperative was recovering in authorized rates all of the expenses associated with the plants prior to their being placed in cold standby status, as well as the ad valorem taxes associated with the plants; (2) the plants remained capable of generating electricity subject to the management decisions of the cooperative; and (3) the cooperative continued to voluntarily maintain these plants as assets. Arkansas Elec. Coop. Corp. v. Arkansas Pub. Serv. Comm'n, 307 Ark. 171, 818 S.W.2d 935 (1991).

Railroads.

A tram or log road on private property and not operated as a public carrier, though extended for 12 miles, was not a "railroad" within Acts 1911, No. 251 and was not assessable as a railroad. State v. Mississippi, A. & W. Ry., 138 Ark. 483, 212 S.W. 317 (1919) (decision under prior law).

26-26-1603. Information to be furnished.

(a) Each company, as defined in § 26-26-1601, shall annually on or before March 1, make and deliver to the Tax Division of the Arkansas Public Service Commission, in such form as the division may prescribe, a statement of the proper official, agent, or person of the company, showing in detail the following facts:

- (1) Name of company;
- (2) The status of the company, whether person, firm, company, copartnership, association, or corporation, and under the laws of what state or country organized or incorporated;
- (3) Location of its principal office within or without Arkansas;
- (4) Name and post office address of the owner, president, secretary, general manager, and agent having control of the company's affairs in this state;
- (5) The par value of all outstanding capital stock and funded debt of every kind, the market and, if no market, the actual value on January 1 next preceding;
- (6) The total gross revenues, expenses, net revenues, and net income, separately, from utility operation, nonutility operation, and nonoperating properties, for the next preceding calendar year, both for the State of Arkansas and all states if the company operates in states other than Arkansas, in which latter case Arkansas' stated proportion of the total revenues, expenses, and income must include not only revenues, expenses, and income arising from intrastate business but also the state's due proportion of the revenues, expenses, and income from interstate business;
- (7) The total value of all real and personal property owned or controlled by the company and situated outside of Arkansas on January 1 next preceding showing separately that part used in connection with the daily operations of the company and that part used otherwise, if there is any;

(8) A detailed statement of all real and personal property owned or controlled by the company and situated in Arkansas on January 1 next preceding, giving the description, location, and value thereof, and showing separately that part used in connection with the daily operations of the company and that part used otherwise, if there is any;

(9) Such other and additional information as to ownership, amount, kind, location, operation, and value of property owned or controlled as the division may require.

(b) The official, agent, or person of the company submitting the required statement shall make and sign, on the face of the required statement, the following declaration: "I declare, under the penalties of perjury, that the foregoing statements are true to the best of my knowledge and belief."

26-26-1604. Delinquency in filing statement.

(a) (1) Unless for good cause shown, should any company fail to file on or before March 1 the complete statement required of it by §§ 26-26-1602 and 26-26-1603, the time for making the return shall be extended for not more than sixty (60) days.

(2) The Tax Division of the Arkansas Public Service Commission shall advise the company in writing of the delinquency, and, thereafter, should the company fail to file the statement before May 1, the division shall immediately report the delinquency to the appropriate commission, and should delinquency exist on May 31 of the assessment year, the commission shall certify the delinquency to the Director of the Department of Finance and Administration.

(b) (1) By proper action in the name of the state, the director may recover from any delinquent company a penalty not to exceed one hundred dollars ($100) for each day's delinquency, beginning as of March 1 of the assessment year.

(2) In the alternative, the director may petition the commission for revocation of the certificate or permit of authority issued to the delinquent company to operate in the State of Arkansas.

Amendments. The 2003 amendment inserted the subdivision designations in (a); substituted "Director of the Department of Finance and Administration" for "Attorney General" in present (a)(2); added "By proper action in the name of the state" in (b)(1); substituted "director" for “Attorney General” in (b)(1) and (b)(2); and made stylistic changes.

26-26-1605. Annual assessment meeting.

(a) (1) The Tax Division of the Arkansas Public Service Commission shall meet the first Monday in March of each year for the purpose of assessing the property which it is required to assess.

(2) Before entering upon the discharge of his duties, each commissioner shall subscribe to an oath that he will well and truly value and assess the property required to be assessed by the division. The oath shall be recorded at length upon a book used by the division for recording the assessments.

(b) The division shall examine the returns filed of all persons, firms, companies, copartnerships, associations, and corporations required by law to make them and, also, such information as it may have obtained in addition thereto, and shall determine the valuation of the items of property which it is required to value, and shall assess the property at its true and full market or actual value, or such percentage thereof as the division shall have so adopted and ordered.

(c) In valuing the property of persons, firms, companies, copartnerships, associations, and corporations, the division shall take into consideration the value of all the property of the company as a unit, whether all or only a part of it is within this state.

26-26-1606. Determination of assessment.

(a) The returns of the persons, firms, companies, copartnerships, associations, and corporations whose assessment is provided for by this subchapter shall not be held to be conclusive as to the value of the property so returned, but the Tax Division of the Arkansas Public Service Commission may make such assessment of the property as it may deem just and equitable.

(b) The division shall ascertain the value of all property, tangible and intangible, including good will, easements, and franchises, except the right to be a corporation, it being the purpose of this subchapter to include in the valuation every element that adds value to the property.

Construction With Other Laws.

Construction With Other Laws.

Under the principle that a specific statute controls over a general statute, this section and § 26-26-1611, which relate to utilities and which include tangible and intangible property for fixing value, control over § 26-3-302, which provides that intangible personal property is exempt from all ad valorem tax levies. Ozark Gas Pipeline Corp. v. Arkansas Pub. Serv. Comm'n, 342 Ark. 591, 29 S.W.3d 730 (2000).

26-26-1607. Method of valuing property.

(a) The valuation of the taxable property, both real and personal, of all persons, firms, companies, copartnerships, cooperatives, associations, and corporations required by law to be assessed by the Tax Division of the Arkansas Public Service Commission shall be made upon the consideration of what a clear fee simple title thereto would sell for under conditions which usually govern the sale of property of that character.

(b) The division in determining fair market value, insofar as other evidence and information in its possession does not make it appear improper or unjust for it to do so, shall ascertain and determine as nearly as it can and consider:

(1) Original cost less depreciation, replacement cost less depreciation, or reconstruction cost less depreciation. Proper consideration may be made for functional or economic obsolescence and for operation of nonprofitable facilities which necessitate regulatory body approval to eliminate;

(2) (A) The market value of all outstanding capital stock and funded debt, excluding current and deferred liabilities, except accumulated deferred income taxes, investment tax credits, and items associated therewith. A premium or discount to capital stock may be considered above or below the current market price where evidence warrants.

(B) In cases where the outstanding capital stock is not traded or is not capable of reasonably accurate determination, book values may be substituted;

(3) (A) (i) The utility operating income after deduction of all actual income taxes paid, capitalized in the manner and at such rates as shall be just and reasonable, but in no event shall the capitalization rate be less than six percent (6%). The deduction from income of deferred income taxes, investment tax credits, and items associated therewith is specifically prohibited for purposes of this subsection.

(ii) The utility operating income after the deduction of all income tax expense capitalized in a manner which recognizes the utility's ability to defer income taxes, utilizing accumulated deferred income taxes, investment tax credits, and items associated therewith as cost-free debt in the capital structure to determine the capitalization rate.

(B) The utility operating income to be capitalized should be determined by reference to the company's historical income stream, appropriately weighted, with consideration to the future income stream.

(C) Directory sales revenue produced in this state is considered attributable to utility real and personal property located in this state and is to be appropriately considered in determining operating income;

(4) Such other information as evidence to value as may be obtained that will enable the division to determine the fair market value of the property of the companies. The fair market value of affiliated properties separately assessed and the nonoperating properties of such companies shall be ascertained and determined as nearly as possible and deducted from the total unit value of the properties of the companies if the properties are included in the unit value. Insofar as it is possible or practical to do so, the same method of evaluating the properties of the companies separately assessed, or nonoperating properties, shall be used as was used in determining the unit value of the company.

Court's Authority.

Because of the separation of powers doctrine, it is not within the province of state courts to assess property, the court can only review the assessments and reverse them and send them back to the executive department when they are clearly erroneous, manifestly excessive, or confiscatory. Arkansas Elec. Coop. Corp. v. Arkansas Pub. Serv. Comm'n, 307 Ark. 171, 818 S.W.2d 935 (1991).

Railroads.

The method of using cost value, capitalized earnings value, and stock and debt value is a proper yardstick to use to determine the system value of railroad property. Saint Louis-San Francisco Ry. v. Arkansas Pub. Serv. Comm'n, 227 Ark. 1066, 304 S.W.2d 297 (1957).

In case involving proper valuation of property of railroads for ad valorem tax assessment purposes, the formula being used, being the reconstruction cost new minus depreciation, there was an error in failing to exclude current liabilities, and unadjusted credits from the stock and funded debt method of determining value, as included in the stock and funded debt valuation, were current liabilities and unadjusted credits that were not part of the funded debt, but consisted of such items as "traffic and car service balances" between involved company and other companies, audited wages and accounts payable, and accrued taxes. Kansas C. S. R. Co. v. Arkansas Commerce Com., 230 Ark. 392, 323 S.W.2d 193 (1959), US Supreme Court cert. denied, Kansas City Southern R. Co. v. Arkansas Commerce Com., 361 U.S. 825, 80 S. Ct. 80 (1959).

Stock-and-Debt Method.

The stock-and-debt method was a viable method for determining the value of a natural gas pipeline where the company that owned the pipeline had liabilities for valuation purposes, even though it did not have publicly traded stock. Ozark Gas Pipeline Corp. v. Arkansas Pub. Serv. Comm'n, 342 Ark. 591, 29 S.W.3d 730 (2000).

26-26-1608. Assessment when no report or erroneous report filed.

If any person, firm, company, copartnership, association, or corporation whose assessment is provided for in this subchapter shall neglect or refuse to make and file with the Tax Division of the Arkansas Public Service Commission by March 1, the statements and schedules required by this subchapter, or make such report and fails to show or shows erroneously any information called for material to the determination of any fact to be ascertained by the division in connection with the amount, description, location, and value of the property required to be assessed, the division shall inform itself as best it can on the undisclosed facts in order to discharge its duties with respect to the assessment of the property of the company and proceed to assess it.

At any time after the meeting of the Tax Division of the Arkansas Public Service Commission on the first Monday in March and before the assessment of the property of any company is determined, any company or person interested shall have the right, on written application, to appear before the division and be heard in the matter of the valuation of the property of any company for taxation.

26-26-1610. Notice of assessment — Review and refunds.

(a) After the Tax Division of the Arkansas Public Service Commission shall have completed the original assessment of any property within its jurisdiction, it shall, as soon as practicable, give notice in writing by first class mail to the owner, officer, agent, or attorney making the statement, or, if no statement has been filed, then the notice is to be forwarded by first class mail to the party or company against which the assessment has been made, showing the total amount of the assessment.

(b) (1) If the owner of the property so assessed is dissatisfied with the assessment made by the division, as approved by the Arkansas Public Service Commission or the Arkansas Transportation Commission [abolished], the owner, within ten (10) days from date of notice, may file with the appropriate commission a written petition for review of the assessment.

(2) All hearings on the petition shall be had before the appropriate commission or its agent on or before November 1 after assessment notice has been given. However, hearings on petitions for review of assessments of bus lines, motor carriers, airlines, water transportation companies, and private car companies, which assessments are certified to the Director of the Department of Finance and Administration for collection of tax, shall be to the appropriate commission or its agent, on or before December 31 of the assessing year.

(c) (1) The company, on an appeal to the Pulaski County Circuit Court from an order or finding of the appropriate commission during the pendency of a final judgment after any appeal, shall pay all taxes due before the date on which penalties are attached based upon the original assessment.

(2) If on or prior to the final date for the payment of taxes without penalty the final judgment of the court shall have been entered, all taxes due shall be based upon the amount of the assessment arising under the final judgment.

(d) (1) In the event any company shall not have paid on or before the final date for payment of taxes without penalty, all taxes due based upon the assessment record on the tax rolls on the final date, then the company shall be required to pay, in addition to these taxes and by reason of the delinquency, all penalties at the time provided by law, together with the costs as shall have accrued.

(2) (A) At the time the payment is made, the company shall, in writing, advise the official to whom payment of taxes, penalties, and costs have been paid that a specified amount thereof is being paid under protest.

(B) (i) Upon receipt of the payment and written protest, the collecting official shall cause the specified amount set forth by the company to be deposited into an Ad Valorem Tax Protest Fund.

(ii) If as a result of any final judgment the company shall be entitled to a refund then the collecting official shall cause a refund, as determined by the final judgment to be made from the fund; and the remaining if any or the whole if no refund is due the company shall be distributed for the benefit of the respective taxing units entitled thereto.

A.C.R.C. Notes. This section was amended by Acts 2009, No. 218, § 3. However, Acts 2009, No. 951, §§ 1 and 4, repealed this section as amended by Acts 2009, No. 218, § 3, and reenacted this section as it existed before the amendments by Acts 2009, No. 218, § 3.

The Arkansas Transportation Commission, referred to in this section, was abolished and replaced by the Transportation Regulatory Board and the Transportation Safety Agency pursuant to Acts 1987, No. 572. However, Acts 1989 (1st Ex. Sess.), No. 67, § 23 and Acts 1989 (1st Ex. Sess.), No. 153, §§ 2, 3, abolished the board and the agency and transferred their powers, functions, and duties to the State Highway Commission and the State Highway and Transportation Department, respectively. See § 23-2-201 et seq.

Amendments. The 2009 amendment by No.218, in (b), inserted (b)(2)(B), redesignated the remaining text of (b)(2) as (b)(2) and (b)(3), and deleted “on or before November 1 after assessment notice has been given” at the end of (b)(2)(A); in (c)(1), inserted “party or”, substituted “during the pendency of a petition for review and on appeal” for “on an appeal to the Pulaski County Circuit Court”, and substituted “pending” for “during the pendency of a”; and made minor stylistic changes.

26-26-1611. Assignment or apportionment of assessed value.

The Tax Division of the Arkansas Public Service Commission shall assign or apportion the assessed value of the property of all persons, firms, companies, copartnerships, associations, and corporations which it is required to assess in the following manner:

(1) There shall be deducted from the true market or actual value of the entire property, tangible and intangible, ascertained as provided in this subchapter, the true market or actual value as ascertained from the information furnished by report or otherwise of all real and personal property of the company not used in its business as a public utility, and the remainder shall be treated as the true market or actual value of all its property, tangible or intangible, actually used or employed in its public utility business;

(2) The division shall then ascertain and fix the value of the total utility operating property, tangible and intangible, in this state by taking such proportion of the true market or actual value of the entire operating property, tangible or intangible, of the company actually used in its public utility business as its total lines within this state bear to the total lines, both within and without this state, or as its total receipts or income from operation, both within and without this state, or by using such other recognized method or combination of methods as will, in the judgment of the division, result in a just and equitable apportionment to this state of its due proportion of the value of the total utility operating property;

(3) (A) When the value of the total utility operating property, tangible and intangible, in this state has been determined, or when the property and operations of the company are wholly within this state, there shall be assigned or apportioned to the several counties, towns, school districts, and other taxing districts through or in which the company operates the value of all real estate and all tangible personal property which had a fixed situs therein on January 1 of the current tax year. The remaining part of the assessment, if any, shall be assigned or apportioned among the several taxing districts in proportion to the value of the tangible property assigned or apportioned thereto.

(B) (i) The value assigned to rolling stock of street, suburban, or interurban railroads and railroad companies shall be apportioned among the several counties, towns, and school districts through or in which the company operated in proportion to the mileage operated therein.

(ii) The value of the personal property of any express or sleeping car company shall be apportioned among the several counties, towns, and school districts through or in which the company operated in proportion to the mileage operated therein.

26-26-1612. Recording and certification of valuation.

(a) When the Tax Division of the Arkansas Public Service Commission shall have ascertained the assessed value of the property of any company which it is required to originally assess other than bus lines, motor freight, airlines, water transportation companies, and private car companies, the valuation shall be entered in detail in a record to be kept for that purpose.

(b) On or before July 15 of each year, it shall be the duty of the division to certify out, through its director or secretary, to the proper official of the respective counties in which is located or operated any property which it is required to assess so much of the value of the property as has been assigned or apportioned to each county and the districts and towns thereof.

(c) The official shall enter upon the proper record the assessments certified, and neither the assessor, the county equalization board, nor the county court has authority to change the assessment so certified, and the taxes shall be extended and collection made on the assessment so certified in like manner as extension and collection is made in case of property locally assessed.

26-26-1614. Levy and collection of taxes.

(a) (1) Having ascertained and fixed the taxable value of the tangible and intangible property used or held for use in the operation of each intercounty bus line, intercounty motor freight, airline, or water transportation company, as required by law, the Tax Division of the Arkansas Public Service Commission shall levy and extend against each valuation the average rate of ad valorem levy prevailing throughout this state for the assessment year, and then ten (10) days before the due date, the division shall certify the tax to the Director of the Department of Finance and Administration for collection.

(2) The director shall immediately forward by first-class mail a notice showing the assessed valuation, applicable rate of levy, the amount of tax charged, and the due date of the tax charged to each company against which a tax has been extended and so certified.

(b) (1) If the taxes are not paid on or before the date on which ad valorem taxes or any part of ad valorem taxes on personal property become delinquent, the director shall add a penalty of ten percent (10%) and mail a statement of the tax and penalty to each person, company, or corporation so delinquent.

(2) (A) If the tax and penalty are not paid on or before the date on which a county collector may collect taxes by distraint, in lieu of the ten percent (10%) penalty, the director shall add to the tax a penalty of twenty-five percent (25%).

(B) The statement of tax and ten percent (10%) penalty from the director shall warn that if the tax and penalty are not paid within the time stated, in lieu of the ten percent (10%) penalty, a penalty of twenty-five percent (25%) will be added.

(c) (1) For the purpose of collecting the taxes and penalties, in addition to the powers vested in the director for the collection of taxes, the director shall have all the powers vested in county collectors for the purpose of collecting delinquent personal property taxes.

(2) The director may petition the commission for revocation of the certificate or permit of authority issued to the delinquent company to operate in the State of Arkansas.

26-26-1615. Average tax rate.

The average rate of ad valorem levy throughout this state shall be determined by totaling the millage rate for all purposes for each of the several taxing districts of this state for the assessment year and dividing the total obtained by the number of taxing districts of this state.

History. Acts 1939, No. 119, § 3; A.S.A. 1947, § 84-616.

26-26-1616. Disposition of taxes and penalties.

(a) (1) Except as provided in subsection (c) of this section, all taxes and penalties collected under the provisions of § 26-26-1614 shall be deposited into the State Treasury as trust fund income to the credit of the Ad Valorem Tax Fund.

(2) (A) The Treasurer of State shall annually transmit to the respective county treasurers of the several counties of this state the proportionate part of the Ad Valorem Tax Fund coming from the source that the improved state highway mileage in each county bears to the improved state highway mileage in all counties, the highway mileage figures to be furnished by the Arkansas State Highway and Transportation Department on request of the Treasurer of State.

(B) The respective county treasurers shall prorate the amount so received among the several county funds, school districts, and municipalities of the county in the same ratio that the taxes received from the millage levy by each bore to the total taxes from the millage levy received by all county funds, school districts, and municipalities, according to the local county collector's settlement for the particular assessment year.

(b) (1) So long as any agency of this state shall have the function or be charged with the duty of making audits of the records and accounts of the officers and employees of counties, municipalities, or school districts or so long as any agency of this state shall have the function or be charged with the duty of assessing the property referred to in this subchapter or so long as any agency of this state shall have the function or be charged with the duty of furnishing guidance, instruction, and assistance to the county assessor in the performance of his or her duties, then the aggregate total amount expended by this state in the performance and carrying out of the functions and duties indicated shall be a proper charge against the taxes and penalties credited to the Ad Valorem Tax Fund under subsection (a) of this section.

(2) It shall be the duty of the Chief Fiscal Officer of the State to annually determine the amount of these costs and to certify to the Treasurer of State the amount that the aggregate of the taxes and penalties exceeds these costs in order that the excess may be transmitted to the respective county treasurers as provided in this section.

(c) (1) The first one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000) collected in taxes and penalties under § 26-26-1614 during each fiscal year shall be deposited into the State Treasury as nonrevenue receipts credited to the State Central Services Fund for use by the Revenue Division of the Department of Finance and Administration.

(2) No funds collected pursuant to § 26-26-1614 shall be withheld by the state if those funds were collected under the authority of the Arkansas Constitution, Article 14, § 3(b)(1).

History. Acts 1939, No. 119, § 2; 1953, No. 168, § 2; 1965, No. 470, § 3; A.S.A. 1947, § 84-615; Acts 2003, No. 831, §§ 4, 5.

Amendments. The 2003 amendment added "Except as provided in subsection (c) of this section" in (a)(1); and added (c).

Subchapter 17

— Private Car Companies

26-26-1701. Definition.

26-26-1702. Report required.

26-26-1703. Report by railroads of private car mileage.

26-26-1704. Failure to make statements.

26-26-1705. Valuation and assessment.

26-26-1706. Levy of tax, collection, and penalty for delinquency.

26-26-1707. Disposition of taxes and penalties.

Effective Dates. Acts 1915, No. 224, § 9: approved Mar. 23, 1915. Emergency declared. Acts 1923, No. 560, § 8: effective on passage. Acts 1953, No. 167, § 10: approved Mar. 2, 1953. Emergency clause provided: "It is the sense of this body that the provisions of this Act will provide for more efficient administration in the assessment and collection of ad valorem taxes on private car companies, and a more equitable distribution of such taxes; and that undue delay in the effective date hereof will preclude such efficiency and equity of administration and distribution for the year 1953. Therefore, an emergency is hereby declared to exist, and this Act being necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage."

26-26-1701. Definition.

As used in this subchapter, unless the context otherwise requires, "private car company" means every person, company, or corporation other than a railroad company, engaged in the business of operating cars or engaged in the business of furnishing or leasing cars for the transportation of freight, property, or persons, whether or not the cars are owned by the person, company, or corporation, over any railway lines, in whole or in part within this state, whether the cars are termed box, coal, flat, furniture, gondola, ore, refrigerator, stock, tank, express, or sleeping car, or by some other name.

History. Acts 1953, No. 167, § 1; 1965, No. 470, § 1; A.S.A. 1947, § 84-624.

26-26-1702. Report required.

The president or other chief officer of every private car company shall, on or before April 1 each year, make and file with the Tax Division of the Arkansas Public Service Commission a verified statement showing:

(1) The aggregate number of miles made by each class of its cars over the several lines of railroad in this state during the calendar year next preceding; and

(2) The average number of miles traveled per day by the cars of each particular class in the ordinary course of business during the period.

History. Acts 1915, No. 224, § 1; C. & M. Dig., § 10001; Acts 1923, No. 560, § 1; Pope's Dig., § 13751; Acts 1953, No. 167, § 2; A.S.A. 1947, § 84-617.

26-26-1703. Report by railroads of private car mileage.

The president or other chief officer of every railroad whose lines run through or in this state shall, on or before April 1 each year, make and file with the Tax Division of the Arkansas Public Service Commission a verified statement showing:

(1) Separately, by classes, the total number of miles traveled by the cars of each private car company over its lines within this state during the calendar year next preceding;

(2) The post office address of each car company; and

(3) The average number of miles traveled per day, in the ordinary course of business during the period, over its lines in Arkansas by each class of cars.

History. Acts 1915, No. 224, § 2; C. & M. Dig., § 10002; Acts 1923, No. 560, § 2; Pope's Dig., § 13752; Acts 1953, No. 167, § 3; A.S.A. 1947, § 84-618.

26-26-1704. Failure to make statements.

(a) If any private car company shall fail or refuse to make and file the statement required by § 26-26-1702 within the time therein prescribed or shall fail or refuse to authorize in writing the use of the information and data submitted by the several railroads in determining its assessment, the Tax Division of the Arkansas Public Service Commission shall proceed to determine and fix the assessment of each car company on the basis of information reported to it by the several railroad companies and other information it may obtain. Each assessed valuation so determined shall be increased by ten percent (10%) as a penalty for failure to file its report, and taxes shall be extended and certified on the increased amount.

(b) If any railroad shall fail or refuse to make and file the statement as required in § 26-26-1703, it shall forfeit to the state, as a penalty for the failure or refusal, the sum of five hundred dollars ($500). Any failure or refusal shall be certified by the division to the Attorney General, whose duty it shall be to institute such action as he may deem proper for the collection of any penalty.

History. Acts 1915, No. 224, § 6; C. & M. Dig., § 10006; Acts 1923, No. 560, § 6; Pope's Dig., § 13756; Acts 1953, No. 167, § 4; A.S.A. 1947, § 84-622.

26-26-1705. Valuation and assessment.

(a) The Tax Division of the Arkansas Public Service Commission, from the statements required by §§ 26-26-1702 and 26-26-1703 and other information it may obtain, shall ascertain and fix, as the basis for assessment, a uniform daily average travel of cars of each particular class and the valuation per car of each particular class and, accordingly, the number of cars required to make the total mileage traveled in this state within the year by the cars of each class of each private car company, and the assessed valuation of all cars of each car company.

(b) When the basis for assessment shall have been determined, written notice shall be forwarded by first-class mail to each car company having filed the report required in § 26-26-1702, and each company, if dissatisfied with the basis for assessment so fixed, may file written petition for review within ten (10) days from date of the notice.

History. Acts 1915, No. 224, § 3; C. & M. Dig., § 10003; Acts 1923, No. 560, § 3; Pope's Dig., § 13753; Acts 1953, No. 167, § 5; A.S.A. 1947, § 84-619.

26-26-1706. Levy of tax, collection, and penalty for delinquency.

(a) The Tax Division of the Arkansas Public Service Commission, having ascertained and fixed the assessed valuation of the cars of each private car company as provided in § 26-26-1705, shall levy and extend against each valuation the average rate of ad valorem levy prevailing throughout the state for the respective assessment year, this rate to be determined as provided by § 26-26-1615, whereupon, the division, ten (10) days before due date, shall certify the tax so extended to the Director of the Department of Finance and Administration for collection.

(b) The director shall immediately forward by first-class mail to each private car company against which a tax has been extended and so certified a notice showing the assessed valuation, the applicable rate of levy, the amount of tax charged, and the due date thereof.

(c) (1) If the taxes are not paid on or before the date on which taxes, ad valorem, or any part thereof, on personal property become delinquent, the director shall add a penalty of ten percent (10%) and mail to each company so delinquent a statement of the tax and penalty.

(2) (A) If the tax and penalty are not paid on or before the date on which county collectors are authorized to collect taxes by distraint, the director shall, in lieu of the ten percent (10%) penalty, add to the tax a penalty of twenty-five percent (25%) and certify the tax and penalty to the Attorney General for collection.

(B) The director's statement of tax and ten percent (10%) penalty shall warn that if the tax and penalty are not paid within the time therein stated, in lieu of the ten percent (10%) penalty, a penalty of twenty-five percent (25%) will be added, and the tax and penalty shall be certified to the Attorney General for collection.

(d) For the purpose of collecting these taxes and penalties, the director or the Attorney General, in addition to the powers in them vested for the collection of taxes, shall have all the powers vested in county collectors for the purpose of collecting delinquent personal property taxes.

History. Acts 1915, No. 224, § 4; C. & M. Dig., § 10004; Acts 1923, No. 560, § 4; Pope's Dig., § 13754; Acts 1953, No. 167, § 6; A.S.A. 1947, § 84-620.

26-26-1707. Disposition of taxes and penalties.

(a) (1) All taxes and penalties collected under the provisions of this subchapter shall be deposited in the State Treasury as trust fund income, to the credit of the Ad Valorem Tax Fund.

(2) (A) The State Treasurer shall annually transmit to the respective county treasurers of the several counties of the state the proportionate part of the fund coming from the source that the assessed value of the single or first main track railroad mileage in his respective county bears to the assessed value of the single or first main track railroad mileage in all counties, the ratios to be furnished by the Tax Division of the Arkansas Public Service Commission on request of the State Treasurer.

(B) The respective county treasurers shall allocate the amount so received among the several county funds and the school districts and municipalities of his county in which is located main track railroad mileage, in the ratio that millage taxes payable to each on the assessed value of single or first main track railroad mileage for the respective assessment year, when separately computed, bears to the total millage taxes payable to all such funds, districts, and municipalities from this source, when separately computed.

(b) (1) So long as any agency of this state shall have the function or be charged with the duty of making audits of the records and accounts of the officers and employees of counties, municipalities, or school districts, or so long as any agency of this state shall have the function or be charged with the duty of assessing the property referred to in this subchapter, or so long as any agency of this state shall have the function or be charged with the duty of furnishing guidance, instruction, and assistance to the county assessor in the performance of his duties, then the aggregate total amount expended by this state in the performance and carrying out of the functions and duties indicated shall be a proper charge against the taxes and penalties credited to the fund under subsection (a) of this section.

(2) It shall be the duty of the Chief Fiscal Officer of the State to annually determine the amount of these costs and to certify to the State Treasurer the amount that the aggregate of the taxes and penalties exceeds these costs in order that the excess may be transmitted to the respective county treasurers as provided in this section.

A.C.R.C. Notes. Acts 2007, No. 1218, § 8, provided:

“PARCELS. The Assessment Coordination Department shall reimburse counties and professional reappraisal companies monthly up to the maximum cost per parcel, multiplied by the total number of parcels in the county, divided by the number of months in a county's reappraisal cycle. The term parcel as used herein shall be defined by department rule, and department reimbursements based upon only the total number of parcels determined to qualify under department rule.

“The provisions of this section shall be in effect from July 1, 2007 through June 30, 2009.”

Acts 2007, No. 1218, § 9, provided:

“MAXIMUM ANNUAL FUNDING FOR REAPPRAISALS/REVIEWS. Whether a county's reappraisal of real property is simply a review of existing data, or a more extensive reappraisal where every improvement is measured, funding to any county, provided through the Assessment Coordination Department, will be for the actual appraisal cost, up to a maximum of seven dollars per parcel, per year. Counties must use other taxing unit sources of revenue to provide for the cost of real property reappraisals if the cost to complete the reappraisal exceeds seven dollars per parcel.”

Acts 2007, No. 1218, § 10, provided:

“CONCERNING TAX COLLECTION DATA NECESSARY TO MEET ADEQUACY. Failure by the preparer of the tax books to report the information necessary to comply with Rule 5.03 of the Rules of the Assessment Coordination Department by February 15 of each calendar year, shall result in the loss of all reappraisal funding provided under ACA26-26-1907 until the preparer of the tax books complies with Rule 5.03. Such funds shall be forfeited under the following provisions:

“(a) Failure to comply with this section shall result in the forfeiture of twenty percent (20%) of the total reappraisal funds every two (2) months of noncompliance;

“(b) After ten (10) months of noncompliance, the total amount of reappraisal funds shall be forfeited.

“(c) No county will be relieved of the requirement to reappraise property, and funding will be by local taxing unit sources until such time as the county comes into compliance with this section.”

Acts 2009, No. 599, § 8, provided: “The Assessment Coordination Department shall reimburse counties and professional reappraisal companies monthly up to the maximum cost per parcel, multiplied by the total number of parcels in the county, divided by the number of months in a county's reappraisal cycle. The term parcel as used herein shall be defined by department rule, and department reimbursements based upon only the total number of parcels determined to qualify under department rule.

“The provisions of this section shall be in effect from July 1, 2009 through June 30, 2010.”

Acts 2009, No. 599, § 9, provided: “Whether a county's reappraisal of real property is simply a review of existing data, or a more extensive reappraisal where every improvement is measured, funding to any county, provided through the Assessment Coordination Department, will be for the actual appraisal cost, up to a maximum of seven dollars per parcel, per year. Counties must use other taxing unit sources of revenue to provide for the cost of real property reappraisals if the cost to complete the reappraisal exceeds seven dollars per parcel.”

Acts 2009, No. 599, § 10, provided: “Failure by the preparer of the tax books to report the information necessary to comply with Rule 5.03 of the Rules of the Assessment Coordination Department by February 15 of each calendar year, shall result in the loss of all reappraisal funding provided under Arkansas Code § 26-26-1907 until the preparer of the tax books complies with Rule 5.03. Such funds shall be forfeited under the following provisions:

“(a) Failure to comply with this section shall result in the forfeiture of twenty percent (20%) of the total reappraisal funds every two (2) months of noncompliance;

“(b) After ten (10) months of noncompliance, the total amount of reappraisal funds shall be forfeited.

“(c) No county will be relieved of the requirement to reappraise property, and funding will be by local taxing unit sources until such time as the county comes into compliance with this section.”

Effective Dates. Acts 1999, No. 1185, § 15: Apr. 7, 1999. Emergency clause provided: “It is hereby found and determined by the General Assembly of the State of Arkansas that the ad valorem tax system in the state is of critical importance to the state and its citizens; that many property assessments in this state are erroneous and need to be revised; that in order to correct the erroneous assessments, each parcel of taxable property in each county of the state should be reviewed, and revalued, at a minimum of once every three (3) years; that the provisions of this act provide for such a review. Therefore, an emergency is declared to exist and this act being immediately necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health and safety shall become effective on the date of its approval by the Governor. If the bill is neither approved nor vetoed by the Governor, it shall become effective on the expiration of the period of time during which the Governor may veto the bill. If the bill is vetoed by the Governor and the veto is overridden, it shall become effective on the date the last house overrides the veto.”

26-26-1901. Definitions.

As used in this subchapter:

(1) “County-wide reappraisal” means a cyclical review program begun pursuant to the terms of this subchapter;

(2) “Department” means the Assessment Coordination Department; and

(3) “Reappraisal” means the estimating of the value of all taxable real property within the county as of a given date within a given time frame.

History. Acts 1999, No. 1185, § 10.

26-26-1902. Reappraisal.

(a) Except as provided in subsection (b) of this section, each county in the State of Arkansas shall be required to appraise all market value real estate normally assessed by the county assessor at its full and fair market value at a minimum of one (1) time every three (3) years.

(b) (1) Except as provided in subdivision (b)(2) of this section, any county that has completed a reappraisal under subsection (a) of this section or completed a reappraisal between the years 2002 through 2004 shall not be required to commence or complete an additional reappraisal under the three-year cycle but shall be required to appraise all real property normally assessed by the county assessor at its full and fair market value at a minimum of one (1) time every five (5) years from the previous assessment.

(2) (A) If, as a result of a three-year reappraisal cycle, the new market value real estate assessment is greater than fifteen percent (15%) from the market value real estate assessment in the county in the year preceding the beginning of the reappraisal cycle, the county shall be required to complete its next reappraisal at a minimum of one (1) time every three (3) years from the previous assessment until the new market value real estate assessment is less than fifteen percent (15%) from the market value real estate assessment in the year preceding the beginning of the reappraisal cycle, at which point the county shall be placed into a five-year reappraisal cycle.

(B) If a county in a five-year reappraisal cycle has a new market value real estate assessment that is twenty-five percent (25%) greater than the market value real estate assessment in the county in the year preceding the beginning of the reappraisal cycle, the county shall be required to complete its next reappraisal at a minimum of one (1) time every three (3) years from the previous assessment until the new market value real estate assessment is less than fifteen percent (15%) from the market value real estate assessment in the year preceding the beginning of the reappraisal cycle, at which point the county shall be placed into a five-year reappraisal cycle.

(C) The market value real estate assessments shall be calculated by comparing the total values, unadjusted for the assessment increase limitations required under Arkansas Constitution, Amendment 79.

(3) (A) At the time that a county submits its market value real estate assessments to the Assessment Coordination Department, the county may appeal its new or continued placement into a three-year reappraisal cycle if the increased market value real estate assessment is a result of a single property improvement.

(B) (i) The department shall place a county in a five-year reappraisal cycle if the department concludes that the increase in the new real estate market value assessment is a result of a single property improvement in the county.

(ii) This decision by the department shall be made within thirty (30) calendar days after receiving the appeal.

(4) Each county shall provide the department with the previous and new market value real estate assessments on or before October 1 of the year in which it is required to have completed reappraisal.

(c) (1) The county assessor or other official or officials designated by law shall compare the assessed value of each parcel under a reappraisal or reassessment that is completed in 1999 or later to the assessed value of the parcel for the previous year.

(2) In the first county-wide reappraisal performed after January 1, 2001, by counties subject to Arkansas Constitution, Amendment 79, § 2:

(A) If the assessed value of the parcel increased, then the assessed value of the parcel for the year in which the parcel is reappraised or reassessed shall be adjusted by adding one-third (1/3) of the increase to the assessed value for the year prior to the reappraisal or reassessment; and

(B) An additional one-third (1/3) of the increase shall be added in each of the next two (2) years.

History. Acts 1999, No. 1185, § 1; 2001, No. 1058, § 1; 2005, No. 2259, § 1.

Amendments. The 2001 amendment redesignated former (a) and (b) as present (a)(1) and (a)(2), respectively, and made related changes; substituted "Except as provided in subsection (b) of this section, each county" for "Each county" in (a)(1); added (b) and the present first sentence of (c)(2); and made related changes.

The 2005 amendment deleted "former (a)(2)"; redesignated former (a)(1) as present (a); in (b)(2)(A) and (B), inserted "in the year preceding the beginning of the reappraisal cycle" twice and deleted "previous" preceding "market" twice; and substituted "October 1" for "August 1" in (b)(4).

26-26-1903. Criteria for reappraisal.

The Assessment Coordination Department shall determine which counties shall be required to complete reappraisals in the years stated in § 26-26-1902(b), based on the following criteria:

- (1) The length of time since the last countywide reappraisal;
- (2) The level and quality of assessment within the county;
- (3) The parcel counts within each county; and
- (4) The cost of reappraisal.

History. Acts 1999, No. 1185, § 2; 2001, No. 1058, § 2.

Amendments. The 2001 amendment added (4) and made related changes.

26-26-1904. Objectives.

The objectives of this subchapter are as follows:

- (1) To establish and promote a uniform system of real property assessments within each county of the state and among the counties;
- (2) To provide for the certification of appraisers who perform services under this subchapter and to assure that each has the training determined by the Assessment Coordination Department to be necessary to perform accurate estimations of the valuation of market-value real property and to conduct countywide reappraisals which are of a high quality to aid the state in its realization of the objectives of this subchapter;
- (3) To establish planning and quality assurance guidelines in each county to ensure that all laws and regulations are met, standards of appraisal accuracy are maintained, work is finished on time, and staff and resources are used wisely;
- (4) To furnish materials to aid appraisers in assessing real property;
- (5) To pay the costs and expenses of reappraisals as determined by the department to be necessary, prudent, and reasonable in the implementation of this subchapter; and
- (6) To ensure that all funds expended by the state for reappraisal services are monitored by the department and only that progress and performance of those services as measured by the department to be within the guidelines established by the department are to be compensated by the state.

History. Acts 1999, No. 1185, § 3.

26-26-1905. Rules relating to reappraisal procedures.

(a) To carry out the provisions of this subchapter, the Assessment Coordination Department, as it deems necessary, appropriate, and consistent with the objectives of this subchapter, shall:

- (1) Develop and implement rules relating to reappraisal procedures to be followed by counties, specifying annual objectives with respect to the discovery, listing, and valuation of real property for assessment purposes;
- (2) (A) Develop and implement rules relating to training, experience, and testing requirements for determining whether a person is qualified to manage a reappraisal.
(B) Any department personnel responsible for approving reappraisal plans or property values resulting from those reappraisals shall be required to meet the same criteria;

(3) (A) Enter into contracts with private entities for appraisal services on behalf of counties on such terms and conditions as the department deems are consistent with the provisions of this subchapter and are necessary and appropriate in its implementation.

(B) Section 19-11-101 et seq. shall not apply to a contract made under this subchapter and to the expenditure of funds from the Arkansas Real Property Reappraisal Fund.

(b) (1) Each county shall follow the reappraisal procedures established by the department and file a reappraisal management plan with the department no later than November 1 of the year preceding the commencement of the reappraisal.

(2) The reappraisal management plan shall specify a proposed budget, personnel needs, and projected annual progress with respect to the discovery, listing, and valuation of property.

(c) The department shall follow preestablished department rules to determine whether a reappraisal management plan is approved or rejected.

(d) (1) The department shall establish training, experience, and testing requirements, and such other criteria as it deems necessary to determine whether a person is qualified to manage a reappraisal performed under this subchapter.

(2) The department shall not approve a reappraisal management plan that does not name a qualified manager.

(e) (1) Employees of the county assessor may be used to reappraise the county and the county assessor or a designated employee may manage the reappraisal if the county assessor or the designated employee meets the qualifications established in this subchapter and the rules established under this subchapter.

(2) (A) If the initial reappraisal management plan required in subsection (b) of this section as submitted by the county assessor is rejected by the department, the county assessor shall be allowed to submit an alternate reappraisal management plan within thirty (30) days of the rejection of the initial reappraisal management plan.

(B) If the alternate reappraisal management plan is rejected by the department, the county shall employ and enter into a contract for professional services with a professional reappraisal company on behalf of all taxing units in the county as set forth in subsection (f) of this section.

(f) (1) The county assessor may enter into a contract for professional services with a professional reappraisal company when both the proposed contract and the reappraisal management plan submitted by the contractor have been approved by the department.

(2) (A) If the initial reappraisal management plan submitted by the contractor is rejected by the department, the contractor shall be allowed to submit an alternate reappraisal management plan.

(B) If the second reappraisal management plan is rejected by the department, the department shall write a reappraisal management plan that the county shall employ and enter into a contract for professional services with a professional reappraisal company on behalf of all taxing units in the county.

(3) The reappraisal contract must be accompanied by an approved reappraisal management plan.

History. Acts 1999, No. 1185, § 4; 2005, No. 1445, § 1.

Amendments. The 2005 amendment substituted "November 1" for "July 1" in (b)(1).

26-26-1906. Computer-assisted mass appraisal systems.

(a) County assessors or those otherwise responsible for the valuation of real property for assessment purposes shall employ computer-assisted mass appraisal systems approved by the Assessment Coordination Department.

(b) Information stored in the electronic database used in the computer-assisted mass appraisal system shall include, but not be limited to, pertinent physical characteristics and historical sales prices of each property in the county.

(c) The department shall have access to view and obtain the data stored in each county's computer-assisted mass appraisal system via common-use technologies as determined by the department, including without limitation:

- (1) The Internet;
- (2) Network technologies;
- (3) Phone line and modem technologies;
- (4) Compact disk technologies;
- (5) Magnetic tape technologies; or
- (6) Other similar common-use technologies.

History. Acts 1999, No. 1185, § 5; 2007, No. 685, § 1.

Amendments. The 2007 amendment, in (c), substituted “to view and obtain the data” for “and the capability to retrieve data” and “via common-use technologies as determined by the department including without limitation” for “via phone lines and a modem”; added (c)(1) through (c)(6); and made related changes.

26-26-1907. Arkansas Real Property Reappraisal Fund.

(a) (1) There is created a fund to be known as the “Arkansas Real Property Reappraisal Fund”.

(2) The proceeds of the fund shall be used to pay counties and professional reappraisal companies for the reappraisal of real property required by this subchapter and shall be in lieu of real property reappraisal funding by the local taxing units in each county of this state.

(b) For cause and after an opportunity for a hearing, the Director of the Assessment Coordination Department may suspend or terminate the contract of any appraisal firm or county.

(c) (1) The fund proceeds shall be distributed monthly, except when there is a determination by the Assessment Coordination Department that proper reappraisal procedures established by the department are not being followed.

(2) (A) (i) Upon a finding by the department that proper reappraisal procedures are not being followed, the county assessor or contractor shall be notified that the reappraisal is out of compliance with accepted guidelines as established in this subchapter and rules enacted pursuant to this subchapter.

(ii) The department shall notify the county assessor or contractor in writing that the county assessor or contractor has thirty (30) days in which to bring the reappraisal into compliance.

(B) If there is a further finding that proper reappraisal procedures are not being followed, the contract shall be promptly terminated and the department shall negotiate another contract and reappraisal management plan for the completion of the reappraisal project.

(d) Based on its expertise and the criteria and requirements set forth in this subchapter, the department shall establish by rule the findings that indicate proper reappraisal procedures are not being followed.

(e) At the end of each countywide reappraisal, the department shall issue a report of the status of the county.

History. Acts 1999, No. 1185, § 6; 2001, No. 1553, § 57.

A.C.R.C. Notes. Acts 1999, No. 1185, § 6, is also codified, in part, as § 19-5-1096.

Acts 2009, No. 599, § 10, provided: "Failure by the preparer of the tax books to report the information necessary to comply with Rule 5.03 of the Rules of the Assessment Coordination Department by February 15 of each calendar year, shall result in the loss of all reappraisal funding provided under Arkansas Code § 26-26-1907 until the preparer of the tax books complies with Rule 5.03. Such funds shall be forfeited under the following provisions:

"(a) Failure to comply with this section shall result in the forfeiture of twenty percent (20%) of the total reappraisal funds every two (2) months of noncompliance;

"(b) After ten (10) months of noncompliance, the total amount of reappraisal funds shall be forfeited.

"(c) No county will be relieved of the requirement to reappraise property, and funding will be by local taxing unit sources until such time as the county comes into compliance with this section."

Amendments. The 2001 amendment added (a)(1) and redesignated former (a) as (a)(2); added (c)(2); and made stylistic changes.

26-26-1908. Applicability of relation to ad valorem tax.

The provisions of §§ 26-26-401 — 26-26-409 and 26-26-410 [repealed] relative to the adjustment or rollback of millage levied for ad valorem tax purposes shall be applicable when a countywide reappraisal of property is completed as provided in this subchapter.

History. Acts 1999, No. 1185, § 7.

A.C.R.C. Notes. Former § 26-26-410 referred to in this section, concerning revised millage rate forms produced by the former Assessment Coordination Division, was repealed by Acts 2003 (2nd Ex. Sess.), No. 28, § 5 and No. 105, § 7.

26-26-1909. Relation to previous requirements.

Implementation of this subchapter does not relieve a county of any previous requirement for a reappraisal.

History. Acts 1999, No. 1185, § 8.

26-26-1910. Scope.

The provisions of this subchapter shall not affect either the duties of the county equalization board or the county assessor's duties in relation to the assessment of personal property or any other responsibilities of the county assessors not directly addressed in this subchapter.

History. Acts 1999, No. 1185, § 9.

26-26-1911. Department authority.

The Assessment Coordination Department shall promulgate regulations for the implementation of this subchapter.

History. Acts 1999, No. 1185, § 11.

Subchapter 20

— Coordination of Uniform Reporting of County Property Tax Information

26-26-2001. Uniform annual reporting requirement.

26-26-2002. Adoption and implementation of rules for reporting.

26-26-2003. Preliminary report — Annual report.

Effective Dates. Acts 2006 (1st Ex. Sess.), Nos. 26 and 27, § 4: Apr. 11, 2006. Emergency clause provided: "It is found and determined by the General Assembly of the State of Arkansas that the Arkansas Supreme Court declared the public school funding system to be inadequate and that the public schools are operating under a constitutional infirmity which must be corrected immediately; that to correct the constitutional infirmity and to ensure adequate funding for public education, the General Assembly must have more accurate and timely information regarding the assessment, settlement, and collection of property taxes by the counties; and that this act is necessary to allow the Assessment Coordination Department, the Department of Education, and the counties sufficient time to make all necessary rules, adjustments, calculations, and reports that will be necessary prior to the convening of the 86th General Assembly. Therefore, an emergency is declared to exist and this act being necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health, and safety shall become effective on: (1) The date of its approval by the Governor; (2) If the bill is neither approved nor vetoed by the Governor, the expiration of the period of time during which the Governor may veto the bill; or (3) If the bill is vetoed by the Governor and the veto is overridden, the date the last house overrides the veto."

26-26-2001. Uniform annual reporting requirement.

A county official who is the preparer of the tax books shall annually report to the Assessment Coordination Department and the State Board of Education his or her county's property tax assessment, settlement, and collection information as provided under this subchapter.

History. Acts 2006 (1st Ex. Sess.), No. 26, § 2; 2006 (1st Ex. Sess.), No. 27, § 2.

26-26-2002. Adoption and implementation of rules for reporting.

(a) By June 15, 2006, the Assessment Coordination Department shall adopt and implement by rules a statewide set of instructions for reporting county property tax assessment, settlement, and collection information.

(b) In developing the statewide set of instructions, the Assessment Coordination Department shall:

(1) Collaborate with the Division of Legislative Audit, the State Board of Education, the Department of Education, the Commissioner of State Lands, and the appropriate county officials;

(2) Consider the comments and suggestions from school districts and other interested parties; and

(3) Comply with the Arkansas Administrative Procedure Act, § 25-15-201 et seq., which may include the adoption of emergency rules as necessary to comply with the June 15, 2006, deadline under subsection (a) of this section.

(c) (1) The statewide set of instructions shall address issues relating to the property tax assessment, settlement, and collection processes to assure uniformity in reporting.

(2) In addition to any other instructions relevant to the processes, the statewide set of instructions shall include how to report items related to the county collector's original charge or assessed value used to determine state foundation funding aid under the Public School Funding Act of 2003, § 6-20-2301 et seq.

History. Acts 2006 (1st Ex. Sess.), No. 26, § 2; 2006 (1st Ex. Sess.), No. 27, § 2.

26-26-2003. Preliminary report — Annual report.

(a) (1) By November 15, 2006, the Assessment Coordination Department shall present its preliminary report to the House Interim Committee on Revenue and Taxation, the Senate Interim Committee on Revenue and Taxation, the House Interim Committee on Education, and the Senate Interim Committee on Education regarding the implementation of this subchapter.

(2) The preliminary report shall include:

(A) The proposed or promulgated rules;

(B) The status of implementing the rules; and

(C) If the rules have been implemented, a list of the counties that have complied with the rules.

(b) By December 15 of each following year, the department shall present an update to the preliminary report that shall include:

(1) Any changes to the rules;

(2) The status of implementing the rules;

(3) A list of the counties that have complied with the rules; and

(4) Any additional information requested by a chair of a committee to be included in the update.

History. Acts 2006 (1st Ex. Sess.), No. 26, § 2; 2006 (1st Ex. Sess.), No. 27, § 2.

26-27-201. Authority.

- (a) The Arkansas Public Service Commission shall constitute the State Equalization Board and shall equalize the assessment of property throughout the state.
- (b) For this purpose, in addition to the powers and duties conferred on the commission, it shall have power to equalize the assessment of all property in this state between districts, cities, and townships of the same county, between the different counties of this state, and of the property assessed by the commission in the first instance.

History. Acts 1927, No. 129, § 31; Pope's Dig., § 2057; A.S.A. 1947, § 84-714.

26-27-202. Meeting.

(a) The Arkansas Public Service Commission shall meet as the State Equalization Board on the first Monday in October of each year for the purpose of equalizing the taxable valuation of all real or personal property.

(b) The board shall:

- (1) Examine and compare the returns of the assessment of property in the counties of this state;
- (2) Summon and hear witnesses and make or cause to be made investigation relative thereto; and
- (3) Proceed to equalize the property, so that all the taxable property throughout this state shall be assessed uniformly at its true and full market or actual value, or at such percentage as has been duly certified by the commission.

History. Acts 1927, No. 129, § 31; Pope's Dig., § 2057; A.S.A. 1947, § 84-714.

26-27-203. Rules for valuation.

In the performance of its duties, the members of the State Equalization Board shall be governed by the following rules:

- (1) They shall add to the aggregate valuation of the real property of every county which they believe to be valued below its true and full market or actual value, or authorized percentage thereof, such percentage in each case as will bring it to its true and full market or actual value or authorized percentage thereof;
- (2) They shall deduct from the aggregate valuation of the real property of every county which they believe to be valued above its true and full market or actual value, or authorized percentage thereof, such percentage in each case as will reduce it to its true and full market or actual value or authorized percentage thereof;

(3) They shall add to the aggregate valuation of any class of personal property of any county which they believe to be valued below the true and full market or actual value, or authorized percentage thereof, such percentage, in each case, as will raise it to its true and full market or actual value, or authorized percentage thereof;

(4) They shall take from the aggregate valuation of any class of personal property in any county which they believe to be valued above the true and full market or actual value, or authorized percentage thereof, such percentage as will reduce it to its true and full market or actual value or authorized percentage thereof;

(5) If they believe that the valuation of the real or personal property or any class of personal property of any district, city, town, or township of any county should be raised or reduced without raising or reducing the other real or personal property of the county or without raising or reducing it in the same ratio, they may, in every such case, add to or take from the valuation of the real or personal property or any class of personal property of any one (1) or more of the districts, cities, towns, or townships such percentage as they believe will raise or reduce it to its true and full market or actual value, or authorized percentage thereof;

(6) Before any percentage shall be added to or deducted from the total assessed valuation of any county, township, district, city, or town in this state by the board, it shall cause a notice to be served upon the county judge of the county, who shall cause notice to be published in some newspaper having a general circulation in the county, at least ten (10) days before the date of the proposed change. The notice shall give the date and place at which the board will sit and shall warn the county judge and all citizens of the county to appear at the time and place and show cause, if any they can, why the proposed change should not be made or the assessments increased or reduced.

History. Acts 1927, No. 129, § 32; Pope's Dig., § 2058; A.S.A. 1947, § 84-715.

26-27-204. Order of adjustment.

(a) A record of the proceedings of the State Equalization Board shall be kept by the secretary thereof.

(b) (1) A certified copy of the record or such part thereof as affects his county shall, on or before the third Monday in November, be furnished the county clerk of each county in which property, the assessed valuation of which has been ordered by the board increased or reduced, is situated.

(2) In carrying out the order of the board, the county clerk shall add to or deduct from the valuation of any property, as adjusted by the local assessment and equalization officials, such percentage or amount as the board might so order and shall enter the adjusted or equalized valuation in the proper record and extend taxes thereon.

History. Acts 1927, No. 129, § 33; Pope's Dig., § 2059; A.S.A. 1947, § 84-716.

Effective Dates. Acts 1919, No. 147, § 18: approved Mar. 1, 1919. Emergency clause provided: "That Act 234 of the Acts of 1917 and Act 124 of the Acts of 1913, and all other laws in conflict herewith, are hereby repealed, and this Act, being necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety, an emergency is hereby declared to exist, and this Act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage."

Acts 1929, No. 172, § 4: approved Mar. 22, 1929. Emergency clause provided: "It is ascertained and hereby declared that the present system of assessing property for taxation is defective, unfair, unjust and inequitable; that the changes herein contemplated are necessary in order to bring about a more equitable distribution of the costs of government, so that the immediate operation of the Act is essential for the preservation of the public peace, health and safety, and an emergency is therefore declared, and this Act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage."

Acts 1953, No. 10, §§ 5, 6: maximum salaries effective Jan. 1, 1953. Emergency clause provided: "It is hereby ascertained and declared that without immediate legislation the county officers affected by this act shall be without adequate deputies and assistants to properly carry out the duties of their offices, and that this act is necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety, and an emergency is hereby declared to exist and this act shall take effect and be in full force from and after its passage."

Acts 1953, No. 388, § 5: approved Mar. 28, 1953. Emergency clause provided: "It has been found and is hereby declared by the General Assembly of the State of Arkansas that the provisions of this Act will result in more efficient and equitable administration of the tax laws of the State; and that undue delay in the effective date thereof will preclude such efficiency and equity in making the 1953 assessments. Therefore, an emergency is hereby declared to exist, and this Act being necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety, shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage."

Acts 1955, No. 230, § 8: Mar. 15, 1955. Emergency clause provided: "It has been found and is hereby declared by the General Assembly of the State of Arkansas that great inequalities and discriminations in property assessments now exist throughout the State, that there is urgent need to equalize property assessments and to make them uniform, that such equalization and uniformity of assessments cannot be obtained except with the aid of County Equalization Boards so established as to make possible such equalization and uniformity of property assessments, and that only by the enactment of this Bill can County Equalization Boards be so established. Therefore, an emergency is hereby declared to exist, and this Act being necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health, and safety, shall take effect and be in force from and after the date of its passage and approval."

Acts 1955, No. 371, § 3: Mar. 24, 1955. Emergency clause provided: "It has been found, and is hereby declared by the General Assembly of the State of Arkansas, that great inequalities and discrimination in property assessments now exist throughout the State; that there is urgent need for an impartial and equitable appraisal of certain types of classes of property in many taxing districts throughout the State to serve as an aid to the County Boards of Equalization in determining just and equitable assessments of such property for tax purposes; and that the enactment of this legislation will result in more efficient and equitable administration of the tax laws. Therefore, an emergency is hereby declared to exist, and this Act being necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety, shall take effect and be in full force from and after its passage and approval."

Acts 1959, No. 246, § 5: Mar. 25, 1959. Emergency clause provided: "It has been found and it is hereby declared by the General Assembly that the laws of this State regarding the time for assessment of real and personal property and the equalization thereof have resulted and will continue to result in a great loss of revenues to the several taxing units in the State of Arkansas, that on account of such loss of revenues the cities, counties and school districts in the State of Arkansas are deprived of funds and are thereby to such extent handicapped in supplying their respective services to the citizens of this State, and that only by the immediate passage of this Act may such situation be corrected. Therefore, an emergency is hereby declared to exist and this Act being necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health and safety shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage and approval."

Acts 1975, No. 164, § 3: Feb. 12, 1975. Emergency clause provided: "Whereas, in many counties it is difficult to secure a quorum of all the elected councilmen of the towns and cities in the county; and, therefore, the municipalities are often unable to duly appoint their representative on the County Equalization Board; and whereas, these appointments are to be made in May of odd numbered years, therefore, an emergency is hereby declared to exist and this Act being necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety shall take effect immediately on its passage and approval."

Acts 1985, No. 294, § 3: Mar. 8, 1985. Emergency clause provided: "It is hereby found and determined by the General Assembly of the State of Arkansas that members of County Equalization Boards are appointed for staggered three (3) year terms; and that present law requires that members of County Equalization Boards be appointed in May of each odd numbered year, which results in confusion as to the dates of the beginning and expiration of their terms. Therefore, an emergency is hereby declared to exist, and this Act being immediately necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health, and safety, shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage and approval."

Acts 1995, No. 891, § 5: Apr. 4, 1995. Emergency clause provided: "It is hereby found and determined by the Eightieth General Assembly that the equalization board of each county should reflect the current population of the county in order to provide adequate service to the county; that current Arkansas law is outdated in this respect; and that if this problem is not immediately corrected it will exist until the next biennium. Therefore, an emergency is hereby declared to exist and this act being necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage and approval.”

Acts 1999, No. 1326, § 12: Apr. 12, 1999. Emergency clause provided: “It is hereby found and determined by the Eighty-second General Assembly that this law will change the working relations of the county equalization boards and will give citizens of the various counties in Arkansas better representation on those boards, and in order for the changes made by this law to have the least disruptive effect, it is necessary for this Act to take effect immediately. Therefore, an emergency is declared to exist and this act being immediately necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health and safety shall become effective on the date of its approval by the Governor. If the bill is neither approved nor vetoed by the Governor, it shall become effective on the expiration of the period of time during which the Governor may veto the bill. If the bill is vetoed by the Governor and the veto is overridden, it shall become effective on the date the last house overrides the veto.”

Acts 2009, No. 1189, § 2: July 31, 2009. Emergency clause provided: “It is found and determined by the General Assembly of the State of Arkansas that several counties in the state are considering changing real estate values during a year the counties are not scheduled to complete reappraisal; that county equalization boards are empowered to make such changes; that county equalization boards have no guidance in the law on when to take action or the type of action that is appropriate under these circumstances. Without proper guidance, county equalization boards face the risk of unintentionally putting the county in noncompliance. Therefore, an emergency is declared to exist and this act being immediately necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health, and safety shall become effective on: (1) The date of its approval by the Governor; (2) If the bill is neither approved nor vetoed by the Governor, the expiration of the period of time during which the Governor may veto the bill; or (3) If the bill is vetoed by the Governor and the veto is overridden, the date the last house overrides the veto.”

26-27-301. Creation.

(a) There is created a county equalization board in each county of this state to be selected in the manner provided by §§ 26-27-302 — 26-27-305.

(b) The boards shall have all the powers and authority, and perform all of the duties which are conferred by law on the boards in this state.

History. Acts 1955, No. 230, § 2; A.S.A. 1947, § 84-701.

26-27-302. Qualifications.

The county equalization board of each county shall be composed of qualified electors of the county who have been real property owners for at least one (1) year.

History. Acts 1955, No. 230, § 3; 1957, No. 235, § 1; 1977, No. 287, § 1; A.S.A. 1947, § 84-702; Acts 1999, No. 1326, § 1.

Amendments. The 1999 amendment substituted “have been real property owners for at least one (1) year” for “are real estate owners and are familiar with property values in the county.”

26-27-303. Composition.

(a) The county equalization board of each county shall consist of five (5) members.

(b) However, in counties having a population in excess of seventy-nine thousand (79,000) persons, according to the most recent federal decennial census, the board may consist of nine (9) members.

History. Acts 1955, No. 230, § 3; 1957, No. 235, § 1; 1977, No. 287, § 1; A.S.A. 1947, § 84-702; Acts 1995, No. 891, § 1; 1999, No. 1326, § 2.

Amendments. The 1995 amendment substituted “the most recent federal decennial census, the board may” for “the 1970 Federal Decennial Census, the board shall”; and made a minor punctuation change.

The 1999 amendment substituted “five (5) members” for “three (3) members,” and deleted “in counties having two (2) judicial districts, the board shall consist of five (5) members, and” preceding “in counties having a population”; and made stylistic changes.

Case Notes

Improper Size Boards.

Improper Size Boards.

Although county board of equalization should have been composed of only three members instead of five by virtue of county's two districts being consolidated, lack of action to select new members of the board meant the five members of the board were serving as holdover members until their successors were duly selected or appointed and qualified. Gilmore v. Lawrence County, 246 Ark. 614, 439 S.W.2d 643 (1969).

Even though county may have had population large enough to authorize a nine member board of equalization, where record showed the county judge had difficulty in determining the population of the county from the census report, actions of three member board were not void. Baldwin v. Rushing, 254 Ark. 1042, 497 S.W.2d 668 (1973).

26-27-304. Selection of members.

(a) (1) When the county equalization board consists of five (5) members:

(A) One (1) member shall be selected by the representatives of the several school districts in the county;

(B) One (1) member shall be selected by the representatives of all cities and incorporated towns in the county;

(C) One (1) member shall be appointed by the county judge; and

(D) Two (2) members shall be appointed by a majority vote of the county quorum court in the following manner:

(i) The quorum court shall appoint a licensed real estate appraiser to at least one (1) of these two (2) positions, but if a licensed real estate appraiser is not available or willing to serve, the quorum court may appoint a licensed real estate broker;

(ii) If a licensed real estate broker is not available or willing to serve, the quorum court may appoint a licensed real estate salesperson; and

(iii) If a licensed real estate salesperson is not available or willing to serve, the quorum court may appoint any qualified elector of the county.

(E) The five (5) members shall be selected from different sections of the county.

(2) When the county equalization board consists of nine (9) members:

(A) Two (2) members shall be selected by the representatives of the several school districts in the county;

(B) Two (2) members shall be selected by the representatives of all cities and incorporated towns in the county;

(C) Two (2) members shall be appointed by the county judge; and

(D) Three (3) members shall be appointed by a majority vote of the county quorum court in the following manner:

(i) The quorum court shall appoint a licensed real estate appraiser to at least one (1) of these three (3) positions, but if a licensed real estate appraiser is not available or willing to serve, the quorum court may appoint a licensed real estate broker;

(ii) If a licensed real estate broker is not available or willing to serve, the quorum court may appoint a licensed real estate salesperson; and

(iii) If a licensed real estate salesperson is not available or willing to serve, the quorum court may appoint any qualified elector of the county.

(E) The selecting or appointing agency in each instance shall select or appoint the members from different sections of the county.

(b) (1) (A) (i) For the purpose of making the selection of its members of the county equalization board as provided in this section, the school district's superintendent or designee of each school district in each county shall serve as the representative of his or her respective school district.

(ii) The representatives of the several school districts of each county shall hold a meeting during the month of May of each year in which the term of any of their members of the county equalization board shall expire.

(B) The county judge shall serve as chair of the meeting and shall issue the call for the meeting, which shall specify the time, date, and place of the meeting.

(C) (i) The selection of members of the county equalization board shall be by majority vote of the school board representatives present, and no action shall be taken unless there is a quorum present.

(ii) A majority of all of the school board representatives in the county shall constitute a quorum.

(2) (A) (i) For the purpose of making the selection of their members of the county equalization board, the representatives of the cities and incorporated towns in the county shall hold a meeting during the month of May of each year in which the term of any of their members of the county equalization board shall expire.

(ii) The mayor of the city or town or his or her designee shall serve as the representative of his or her city or town.

(B) The mayor or his or her designee of the county seat city or town or, if there are two (2) county seats, the mayor or his or her designee of the larger county seat city or town shall serve as chair of the meeting and shall issue the call, which shall specify the time, date, and place of the meeting.

(C) (i) The selection of members of the county equalization board shall be by majority vote of the representatives of the cities and towns present, and no action shall be taken unless there is a quorum present.

(ii) A majority of all of the representatives of all cities and incorporated towns in the county shall constitute a quorum.

(iii) Each of the cities and incorporated towns within the county shall be entitled to one (1) vote.

(3) The county judge and the quorum court of each county shall make the appointment of their members of the county equalization board during the month of May of each year in which the term of any of their members of the county equalization board shall expire.

History. Acts 1955, No. 230, §§ 3, 4; 1957, No. 235, § 1; 1975, No. 164, § 1; 1977, No. 287, §§ 1, 2; 1985, No. 294, § 1; A.S.A. 1947, §§ 84-702, 84-702.1; Acts 1999, No. 1326, § 3; 2001, No. 505, § 1; 2007, No. 12, § 1.

Amendments. The 1999 amendment rewrote (a); and in (b)(3), inserted "and the quorum court," substituted "make the appointment" for "make his appointment," inserted "their" preceding "members," and substituted "of their members" for "of his members"; and made stylistic changes. The 2001 amendment substituted "representatives" for "members of the city and town councils" in (a)(1)(B) and (a)(2)(B); in (b)(1)(A)(i), deleted "county equalization" preceding "board," substituted "selection of its" for "selection of their," substituted "district's superintendent or designee" for "board members," and substituted "serve as the representative of his or her respective school district" for "select one (1) representative and one (1) alternate representative for each school district"; in (b)(2)(A), deleted "city and town councils of the" preceding "cities and incorporated" and added the last sentence; substituted "cities and towns" for "city and town councils" in (b)(2)(C)(i); deleted "of the city and town councils" in (b)(2)(C)(ii); and deleted (b)(2)(C)(iv)(a) and (b)(2)(C)(iv)(b).

The 2007 amendment inserted "or his or her designee" in (b)(2)(A)(ii) and twice in (b)(2)(B).

Case Notes

Improper Appointments.

Improper Appointments.

When improperly appointed members of a county board of equalization assume office under color of the appointments and act in good faith, their acts as such members are valid. Pennington v. Oliver, 245 Ark. 251, 431 S.W.2d 843 (1968).

26-27-305. Terms of office — Vacancies.

(a) The terms of office of the members of the county equalization boards shall be staggered as follows:

(1) (A) In those counties having a county equalization board composed of five (5) members, the members shall serve three-year staggered terms of office, with each expiring term to expire on the first Monday of June of each year, or until his or her successor is selected or appointed and qualified.

(B) However, on the first Monday in July, 1999, the terms of the present members of each county equalization board with three (3) or five (5) members shall expire and new members shall be appointed as is provided by law, and within thirty (30) days thereafter, the five (5) new members shall meet and determine by lot their respective staggered terms in such a manner that one (1) member's term should expire one (1) year thereafter, two (2) members' terms should expire two (2) years thereafter, and two (2) members' terms should expire three (3) years thereafter; and

(2) (A) In those counties having a county equalization board composed of nine (9) members, the members shall serve three-year staggered terms of office, with each expiring term to expire on the first Monday of June of each year, or until his or her successor is selected or appointed and qualified.

(B) However, on the first Monday in July, 1999, the terms of the present members of each county equalization board with nine (9) members shall expire and new members shall be appointed as is provided by law, and within thirty (30) days thereafter, the new members shall meet and determine by lot their respective staggered terms in such a manner that the terms of three (3) members each should expire one (1), two (2), and three (3) years, respectively, thereafter.

(b) (1) Upon the expiration of a member's term under the provisions of this section, the successor member shall be appointed or selected for a three-year term or until his or her successor is selected or appointed and qualified.

(2) Upon the expiration of the term of any member of any county equalization board or upon the vacancy of a membership of any county equalization board, the member to fill the vacancy shall be selected by the same group, either the directors of the several districts of the county, the members of the city and town councils of the cities and incorporated towns in the county, the county judge, or the county quorum court that made the selection of the member whose term has expired or has been vacated.

History. Acts 1955, No. 230, §§ 3, 5; 1957, No. 235, §§ 1, 2; 1977, No. 287, § 1; A.S.A. 1947, §§ 84-702, 84-702.2; Acts 1999, No. 1326, § 4.

Publisher's Notes. The proviso to subsection (a)(1) of this section provided that, within thirty (30) days after July 6, 1977, the present members of each county equalization board should determine by lot their respective staggered terms.

The proviso to subsection (a)(2) of this section provided that, within thirty (30) days after July 6, 1977, the present members of each county equalization board should determine by lot their respective staggered terms in such a manner that one (1) member's term should expire one (1) year thereafter, two (2) members' terms should expire two (2) years thereafter, and two (2) members' terms should expire three (3) years thereafter.

The proviso to subsection (a)(3) of this section provided that, within thirty (30) days after July 6, 1977, the present members of each county equalization board should determine by lot their respective staggered terms in such a manner that one (1) member each appointed by the representatives of the school districts of the county, by the city and town councils, and by the county judge should expire one (1), two (2), and three (3) years, respectively, thereafter.

Amendments. The 1999 amendment rewrote this section.

26-27-306. Oath of members.

(a) Each member of a county equalization board, before entering upon the discharge of his duties, shall take the oath of office prescribed in Arkansas Constitution, Article 19, Section 20, and further, that he will fearlessly, impartially, and faithfully equalize the assessed value of all property assessed and subject to taxation.

(b) The oath shall be subscribed and sworn to by each member of the board before the clerk of the county court, and the clerk shall make it a matter of record in his office.

History. Acts 1929, No. 172, § 25; Pope's Dig., § 13643; A.S.A. 1947, § 84-705.

26-27-307. Secretary of board.

(a) The clerk of the county court or his or her designee shall serve as secretary of the county equalization board of his or her county and shall keep a complete and accurate journal of its proceedings and perform such other duties as may be by law required by the county equalization board.

(b) In addition, within ten (10) days after the appointment of the county equalization board for the clerk of the county court's county, the clerk of the county court or his or her designee shall file from time to time with the Assessment Coordination Department a statement showing the name and address of each member of the county equalization board.

(c) When any change in the personnel of the county equalization board is made, the clerk of the county court shall immediately so advise the Arkansas Public Service Commission.

History. Acts 1929, No. 172, § 23; Pope's Dig., § 13641; A.S.A. 1947, § 84-703; Acts 2003, No. 202, § 1.

A.C.R.C. Notes. The Assessment Coordination division of the Public Service Commission was transferred to the Assessment Coordination Department by a type 2 transfer under § 25-2-105 by Acts 1997, No. 436, § 2.

Amendments. The 2003 amendment added the subdivision designations; in (a) and (b), inserted "or the clerk's designee" and substituted "the clerk's" for "his" preceding "county"; in (b), substituted "Department" for "Division of the Arkansas Public Service Commission"; and in (c), substituted "the clerk" for "he" and "Arkansas Public Service Commission" for "commission."

Case Notes

Journal.
Meetings.

Journal.

Acts 1883, No. 114, § 83, providing that the clerk of the county court should keep an accurate journal or record of proceedings was mandatory, and when such record was not kept, proceedings of county equalization board were without effect. American Trust Co. v. Nash, 111 Ark. 97, 163 S.W. 178 (1914) (decision under prior law).

Meetings.

This section does not require a county clerk to attend all special planning sessions of the county equalization board, even though, by virtue of this section, the county clerk must serve as the board's secretary. Gilmore v. Lawrence County, 246 Ark. 614, 439 S.W.2d 643 (1969).

26-27-308. Compensation.

(a) The members of the county equalization board and the secretary thereof of the counties of this state shall receive for their services an amount to be fixed by the quorum court of the county.

(b) All compensation, together with expenses necessarily incurred by reason of official action of the board, shall be audited and paid by the county as other claims against the county are audited and paid.

History. Acts 1929, No. 172, § 24; Pope's Dig., § 13642; Acts 1953, No. 10, § 4; 1961, No. 485, § 1; 1969, No. 245, § 1; 1977, No. 481, § 1; A.S.A. 1947, § 84-704.

26-27-309. Meetings.

(a) (1) The county equalization board shall meet on August 1 of each year at the office of either the clerk of the county court or the office of the county assessor.

(2) However, if August 1 falls on a Saturday, a Sunday, or a legal holiday, the meeting shall be held on the next business day which is not a Saturday, a Sunday, or a legal holiday.

(b) At the first meeting of the county equalization board, it shall organize by electing one (1) of its members as chair who, in addition to all other powers and duties conferred in this subchapter, shall have the power to administer oaths to witnesses appearing before the county equalization board.

(c) (1) In addition, the county equalization board shall exercise its functions as a board of equalization to equalize the assessed value of all acreage lands, city and town lots, other real property, and personal property subject to local assessment, regardless of the year in which the property was last assessed by the local county assessor.

(2) (A) Beginning August 1 of each year and continuing through October 1, the county equalization board shall meet as often as is necessary to consider the equalization of all property assessments and all requests for adjustments of assessments by taxpayers.

(B) (i) However, in a county where the assessed value of real and personal property has been found by the Assessment Coordination Department to be below the percentage of the true or fair market value as required by law, the meetings of the county equalization board shall continue until all property assessments are equalized and all requests for adjustments of assessments by taxpayers are considered.

(ii) However, the meetings shall not run later than the third Monday in November of each year.

(d) A majority of the members of the county equalization board shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business.

History. Acts 1929, No. 172, §§ 25, 26; Pope's Dig., §§ 13643, 13644; Acts 1953, No. 388, § 4; 1959, No. 246, § 1; A.S.A. 1947, §§ 84-705, 84-706; Acts 1999, No. 1326, § 5.

A.C.R.C. Notes. The Assessment Coordination division of the Public Service Commission was transferred to the Assessment Coordination Department by a type 2 transfer under § 25-2-105 by Acts 1997, No. 436, § 2.

Amendments. The 1999 amendment, in (a), deleted "annually" following "shall meet," inserted "of each year" following "August 1," added the last sentence, and made a minor punctuation change; rewrote (c); and made stylistic changes.

Appraisers.
Assessments.

Appraisers.

Where the General Assembly has mandated payment from county funds for appraisal of property, neither the quorum court nor the county judge would have any discretion in whether the expenses should be paid; the expense of the appraisers must be paid by the county, regardless of the results of a referendum. Quattlebaum v. Davis, 265 Ark. 588, 579 S.W.2d 599 (1979).

Assessments.

A county equalization board has no authority to reduce or raise anybody's assessment after the third Monday in November. Jones v. Crouch, 231 Ark. 720, 332 S.W.2d 238 (1960).

26-27-310. Working groups.

County equalization boards consisting of nine (9) members may organize into working groups of three (3) members each for the purpose of making investigations and recommendations to be presented to and passed by the entire board sitting en banc. For this purpose, each group may select a group chairman who shall be vested with all the powers and duties pertaining to the work of his particular group as is vested in the chairman of the board.

26-27-311. Special sessions generally.

(a) (1) (A) On petition of the county judge or the county quorum court or on the county equalization board's own motion at any time after adjournment of its regular monthly meeting or after its equalization meetings from August 1 each year through October 1 and before the third Monday in November of each year, the county equalization board of any county shall convene in special session for the purposes of:

(i) Completing its work of the equalization of property assessments; or

(ii) Reviewing or extending its work of the equalization of property assessments.

(B) (i) For these purposes, the county equalization board shall be vested and charged with all the powers and duties with which the county equalization board is vested and charged when meeting in regular session.

(ii) In addition, the county equalization board may employ qualified appraisers, abstractors, or other persons needed to appraise properties which the county equalization board may need in the discharge of its duties.

(2) The petition to the county equalization board shall specify the date on which the county equalization board shall convene, and the county equalization board may thereafter exercise its functions but not later than the third Monday in November next following.

(b) (1) An appeal from the action of the county equalization board when in special session shall be to the county court in the manner as provided by law.

(2) Any appeal shall be filed within ten (10) days from date of notice of action by the county equalization board and shall be heard and order made by the county court not later than forty-five (45) days prior to the date on which the tax books for the year are required to be delivered to the county collector.

(c) (1) The expense of any special session of the county equalization board including the expense for employment of appraisers, abstractors, and other persons needed shall be allowed and paid from the general fund of the county.

(2) (A) The general fund of the county shall be reimbursed by transfer to it from the funds of the respective taxing units of the county.

(B) The amount to be contributed by each taxing unit shall be in the proportion that the total of the ad valorem taxes collected for the benefit of each taxing unit bears to the total of the ad valorem taxes collected for the benefit of all taxing units during collection period next following the special session.

26-27-312. Special session for purpose of planning work.

(a) (1) The equalization board of any county, on petition of the county judge or on its own motion, shall, at any time, convene in special session for the purpose of planning its work of equalization of property assessments.

(2) For this purpose only, the board shall be vested and charged with all the powers and duties with which the board is vested and charged when meeting in regular session. In addition, the board shall be empowered to employ qualified appraisers, abstractors, or other persons needed to appraise properties, which appraisal the board may need in the discharge of its duties.

26-27-313. Attendance by assessor.

It is the imperative duty of the county assessor or his deputy to attend each session of the county equalization board and to furnish the board with all data and information in his possession pertaining to the location, amount, kind, and value of any property, the valuation of which is under consideration by the board.

26-27-314. Authority to classify and zone property.

The county equalization board of any county may classify the personal property and zone and classify the real property in the county and determine the average value of the property so classified or zoned, or units of them, and use the average value so determined as a guide in the equalization of assessments in the county. However, all property shall be assessed according to its value as provided by law.

History. Acts 1953, No. 197, § 1; A.S.A. 1947, § 84-720.

26-27-315. Equalization of assessments.

(a) Immediately after the county assessor files his or her report of the assessment of real and personal property in the office of the clerk of the county court as required by law, the clerk of the county court shall present the report of the assessment to the county equalization board, and the county equalization board shall proceed to equalize the assessed valuation of the properties.

(b) For this purpose, the county equalization board shall observe the following rules:

(1) (A) It shall raise or lower the valuation of any property to bring about a complete equalization.

(B) It shall not raise or lower the valuation of any property without documenting the reason for raising or lowering the valuation of the property, and the documentation shall be attached to the appropriate property record card or cards.

(C) The reasons for lowering or raising the valuation of property shall be limited to:

(i) The assessment is unfair compared with other properties of the same kind similarly situated, evidenced by the fact that the property is assessed higher than neighborhood properties of the same use, size, materials, and condition;

(ii) The assessment is clearly erroneous, evidenced by the fact that the appraisal relies on substantially inaccurate or insufficient information concerning the property; or

(iii) The assessment is manifestly excessive or greatly exceeds what willing and knowledgeable buyers will pay similarly motivated sellers for the property, evidenced by selling prices of similarly situated properties.

(D) (i) It shall not raise or lower the value of any property without reviewing values of similarly situated properties.

(ii) If the same reason for raising or lowering the value of the property exists for those similarly situated properties, the values for those properties shall also be raised or lowered, and the changes shall be documented.

(E) It shall not materially change the records of the county assessor's office, but may only direct that the assessed value of property be raised or lowered in keeping with its documented findings;

(2) (A) In each instance in which the county equalization board shall raise the valuation of any property, it shall immediately notify the owner or his or her agent by first class mail of the increase.

(C) The notice shall state the valuation returned by the county assessor and the valuation fixed by the county equalization board and shall advise the owner or his or her agent that he or she may in person, by agent, petition, or letter apply for and receive consideration or hearing by or before the county equalization board if the application shall be made on or before the first Saturday next preceding the third Monday in September if in regular session for equalization or before the first Saturday next preceding the third Monday of November if meeting in special sessions; and

(3) In each instance in which an assessment is raised and the owner or his or her agent has applied for consideration or hearing for an adjustment of his or her assessment, if the county equalization board has failed to take action on his or her application before adjourning its regular session or if it fails to convene in special session to consider the application, then the county equalization board shall reduce all such increases to the assessed levels of the previous year.

Amendments. The 1999 amendment added "if in regular session for equalization ... meeting in special sessions" in (b)(3); added (b)(4); and made stylistic changes. The 2001 amendment redesignated former (b)(1) as present (b)(1)(A) and made related changes; deleted "such figure as in the opinion of the board will" following "any property to" in (b)(1)(A); added (b)(1)(B)-(E); and made gender neutral changes and minor stylistic changes throughout.

Case Notes

Notice.
Raise in Valuations.
Remedies.

Notice.

Alleged error in notices to taxpayers that showed the valuations fixed by the county equalization board, but omitted the valuations stated by the assessor, were rendered harmless as to taxpayers who appeared in ample time before the board. Gilmore v. Lawrence County, 246 Ark. 614, 439 S.W.2d 643 (1969).

Raise in Valuations.

A decision of a county board of equalization to increase generally the valuation of rural properties made prior to the assessor's report of assessments was not in violation of this section where no specific valuations were increased until notices were mailed out on the date the assessor's report was delivered to the board. Gilmore v. Lawrence County, 246 Ark. 614, 439 S.W.2d 643 (1969). The decision of a county equalization board to raise rural valuations generally was not an illegal assessment but a proper action of tax equalization where the assessed valuation of all rural lands of the county were shown to have been about 13 percent of market value and other classes of properties had been assessed at approximately 20 percent of market value. Gilmore v. Lawrence County, 246 Ark. 614, 439 S.W.2d 643 (1969).

Remedies.

Where agent of taxpayer mistakenly made excessive assessment of property, taxpayer had remedy before county board of equalization and could not enjoin collection of the excessive taxes under § 16-113-306. Beard v. Wilcockson, 184 Ark. 349, 42 S.W.2d 557 (1931).

Where taxpayers complained about the failure of the assessor and the county board of equalization to assess and equalize all property in the county, an injunction to prevent the extension and collection of taxes was not the proper remedy where there were penalties provided by § 26-26-201. Baldwin v. Rushing, 254 Ark. 1042, 497 S.W.2d 668 (1973).

Mandamus under § 26-26-301 to insure proper assessment and equalization would have been the proper remedy, rather than injunction of tax collection, to taxpayers' claim of denial of equal protection under U.S. Const. Amend. 14. Baldwin v. Rushing, 254 Ark. 1042, 497 S.W.2d 668 (1973).

26-27-316. Rights of examination.

(a) The county equalization board, or any member thereof, shall have free access to the records of the office of the county clerk and of the office of the circuit clerk and ex officio recorder of the county.

(b) (1) The board or any member may enter upon and view property, and may require witnesses to appear before the board and testify regarding the location, amount, kind, and value of any or all items of any class or character of property in the county.

(2) The secretary of the board, in vacation or in session, at the direction of the board or any member thereof, shall summon witnesses for examination by the board.

History. Acts 1929, No. 172, § 28; Pope's Dig., § 13646; A.S.A. 1947, § 84-709.

26-27-317. Applications for adjustment.

(a) (1) Any property owner or an agent of a property owner may apply in person, by petition, or by letter to the secretary of the county equalization board on or before the third Monday in August of every year for the adjustment of the county assessor's assessment on the property owner's property or the property of another person.

(2) The county equalization board may not adjust any assessment other than the assessment made during the year it meets to consider an application made under subdivision (a)(1) of this section.

(b) (1) A property owner or an agent of the property owner may personally appear before the county equalization board or pursue the appeal by supplying written documentation as to the adjustment desired.

(2) The property owner or an agent of the property owner shall notify the secretary of the county equalization board, who shall schedule a hearing, and, if practicable, the hearing shall be held at the convenience of the property owner.

(c) (1) The county equalization board shall begin hearing appeals no later than the second Monday in August.

(2) On at least one (1) day each week, appeals shall be heard after normal business hours to accommodate working property owners.

(d) (1) The county equalization board shall decide the merits of an adjustment of assessment application and notify the property owner of its decision in writing at least ten (10) business days after the hearing.

(2) The county equalization board's notification shall include:

(A) The county equalization board's decision;

(B) The right of the property owner to appeal the county equalization board's decision to the county court; and

(C) The deadline for petitioning the county court for a hearing.

History. Acts 1919, No. 147, § 11; C. & M. Dig., § 9911; Acts 1929, No. 172, § 30; Pope's Dig., § 13671; Acts 1951, No. 367, § 1; A.S.A. 1947, § 84-708; Acts 1999, No. 572, § 4; 1999, No. 1326, § 8; 2001, No. 1567, § 2; 2009, No. 276, § 1.

Amendments. The 1999 amendment by No. 572 rewrote this section.

The 1999 amendment by No. 1326 substituted "September" for "August" in (a); added "if in regular session for equalization; or" to the end of (b)(2)(A); added (b)(2)(B); added (c); and made stylistic changes.

The 2001 amendment rewrote the section.

The 2009 amendment inserted (a)(2) and redesignated the remaining subdivision as (a)(1).

In General.

Assessments of Other Persons.

Burden of Proof.

Lowering of Assessments.

In General.

The opportunity to appeal to the county board of equalization is an essential part of the tract-by-tract procedure, for under the United States Constitution, a property owner is entitled, at some point, to notice and an opportunity to be heard on the fairness of his assessment, as compared with the assessment of other property. Dierks Forests, Inc. v. Shell, 240 Ark. 966, 403 S.W.2d 83 (1966).

Assessments of Other Persons.

This section evinces a legislative intention to permit a taxpayer to protest to the county equalization board against a conceived insufficiency in the amount of an assessment of another taxpayer. Pulaski County v. Commercial Nat'l Bank, 210 Ark. 124, 194 S.W.2d 883 (1946).

Burden of Proof.

In a proceeding to review an assessment of lands as discriminatory, the burden is on the petitioner to show that such assessment was unfair as compared with the assessment of other lands of the same kind and similarly situated. Doniphan Lumber Co. v. Cleburne County, 138 Ark. 449, 212 S.W. 308 (1919) (decision under prior law).

Lowering of Assessments.

Under Acts 1887, No. 92, § 52, where county court lowered assessment of a taxpayer, neither the state nor the tax commission was entitled to relief in equity against such assessment. State v. Little, 94 Ark. 217, 126 S.W. 713 (1910) (decision under prior law).

26-27-318. Appeals to courts.

(a) (1) The county assessor or any property owner who may feel aggrieved at the action of the county equalization board may appeal from the action of the county equalization board to the county court by filing a petition of appeal with the clerk of the county court.

(2) The clerk of the county court shall summon the members of the county equalization board and issue such process as the county assessor, the county equalization board, or the county judge may request for witnesses and evidence of the amount and value of the property.

(b) No appeal to the county court shall be taken unless the petitioner:

(1) Has exhausted his or her remedy before the county equalization board; or

(2) Was not sent the notice of value change as required by § 26-23-203.

(c) (1) An appeal must be filed on or before the second Monday in October of each year and shall have preference over all matters before the county court and shall be heard and an order made on or before the fifteenth day of November.

(2) (A) The county court shall notify in writing the property owner or county assessor of its decision no later than twenty (20) working days after the property owner's appeal hearing.

(B) The notification shall state the county court's decision and that the property owner may appeal the decision to the circuit court.

(d) No reduction shall be allowed except on evidence corroborative of that of the property owner.

(e) Upon an appeal, any property owner in the county may appear and be heard in support of or in opposition to the appeal.

(f) (1) (A) The county court shall acquire no jurisdiction to hear the appeal unless the county clerk shall have first given notice of the appeal by publication by one (1) insertion published not less than one (1) week before the date fixed for the hearing of the appeal in a daily or weekly newspaper published and having a bona fide general circulation in the county or in any county in which no daily or weekly newspaper is published, by posting a notice at the courthouse and in four (4) other conspicuous places in the county seat of the county for a period of not less than one (1) week before the date fixed for the hearing of the appeal.

(B) The notice shall state:

(i) The name of the parties taking the appeal;

(ii) The assessment complained of, together with a definite description of the property so assessed;

(iii) The name of the supposed property owner;

(iv) The time and place fixed for the hearing of the appeal; and

(v) That any property owner in the county may appear at the hearing of the appeal and be heard in support of or in opposition to the appeal.

(2) The notice of appeal may be in the following form:

“NOTICE OF APPEAL FROM TAX ASSESSMENT

“Notice is hereby given that hereby appeals to the County Court of ----- County from an assessment on property described as follows:

Name of Supposed Owner

Description of Property

“Such appeal will be heard by the county court at o'clock m. at the courthouse at, Arkansas, on the day of,, and any owner of property in said county may appear at said hearing in support thereof or in opposition thereto.”

County Clerk

(g) It shall be the duty of the prosecuting attorney or his or her deputy, when called upon by the county assessor, a member of the county equalization board, or the county court, to represent the county and the state in the prosecution of all appeals before the county courts and the circuit courts.

History. Acts 1919, No. 147, § 11; C. & M. Dig., § 9911; Acts 1929, No. 172, § 30; Pope's Dig., § 13671; Acts 1951, No. 367, § 1; A.S.A. 1947, § 84-708; Acts 1989, No. 34, § 1; 1999, No. 572, § 5; 2005, No. 1947, § 1; 2009, No. 276, § 2.

Amendments. The 1999 amendment substituted “The clerk shall” for “Except on appeals by the assessor, ten dollars ($10.00) shall be paid as cost to the clerk, who shall” in (a)(2); added the second and third sentences in (c); and in (f)(1), substituted “in a daily or weekly newspaper” for “in some newspaper” and “there is no daily or weekly newspaper published” for “no newspaper is published”; and made stylistic changes.

The 2005 amendment substituted “fifteenth day of” for “first Monday in” in (c)(1); and deleted “or the second Monday in November, whichever is earlier” following “appeal hearing” in (c)(2)(A).

The 2009 amendment rewrote (b).

In General.

A taxpayer must pursue the remedy providing for his relief or abide by the finding of the county board of equalization. Clay County v. Brown Lumber Co., 90 Ark. 413, 119 S.W. 251 (1909) (decision under prior law).

This section evinces a legislative intention to permit a taxpayer protesting against a conceived insufficiency in the amount of an assessment of another taxpayer to appeal to the county court from an unfavorable disposition of his protest by the county equalization board. Pulaski County v. Commercial Nat'l Bank, 210 Ark. 124, 194 S.W.2d 883 (1946).

Where petition to reduce assessment had been denied by county equalization board, then this remedy had been exhausted before the board, but the right of appeal to the county court still remained, and the board's action or inaction did not preclude pursuing the statutory remedy for a hearing. Jones v. Crouch, 231 Ark. 720, 332 S.W.2d 238 (1960).

The opportunity to appeal to the courts is an essential part of the tract-by-tract procedure, for under the United States Constitution, a property owner is entitled, at some point, to notice and an opportunity to be heard on the fairness of his assessment, as compared with the assessment of other property. Dierks Forests, Inc. v. Shell, 240 Ark. 966, 403 S.W.2d 83 (1966).

Where statutory provisions for tract-by-tract assessment of property were so imperfectly executed that the assessment was not finalized until the landowner's time for appeal was past, it could not amount to substantial compliance with the law, as the landowner's essential constitutional rights to review are disregarded. Dierks Forests, Inc. v. Shell, 240 Ark. 966, 403 S.W.2d 83 (1966).

Subsection (a) of this section specifically provides for appeals on tax questions by either the property owner or the assessor; no further authorization for appeal is needed, for under § 16-67-201, all appeals from county court judgments are granted as a matter of right. Pulaski County v. Jacuzzi Bros., 317 Ark. 10, 875 S.W.2d 496 (1994).

Jurisdiction.

Courts, whether of law or equity, held powerless to give relief against erroneous judgments of assessing bodies unless they are especially empowered by law to do so. Clay County v. Bank of Knobell, 105 Ark. 450, 151 S.W. 1013 (1912) (decision under prior law).

When only issue was alleged error of county assessor in fixing valuation of property, there was a statutory remedy by appearance before the county board of equalization, and the property owner having neglected to pursue this remedy, a court of equity had no jurisdiction to review the action of the assessor. Arlington Hotel Co. v. Buchanan, 110 Ark. 34, 160 S.W. 895 (1913) (decision under prior law).

Where county court adjourned before county equalization board assessed property so that the property owners were unable to appeal to the county court and at the next term, the court gave the owners the relief to which they would have been entitled at the preceding term, the judgment of the court would not be quashed on certiorari. Arkadelphia Milling Co. v. Clark County Bd. of Equalization, 136 Ark. 180, 206 S.W. 70 (1918) (decision under prior law).

Equity will grant relief against void tax assessments, but not against those assessments that are merely erroneous for overvaluation where a statutory remedy by appeal is afforded. W.P. Brown & Sons Lumber Co. v. Sims, 146 Ark. 253, 225 S.W. 322 (1920); Little Red River Levee Dist. No. 2 v. State, 185 Ark. 1170, 52 S.W.2d 46 (1932).

County court had no jurisdiction of appeal from assessment valuations where there was no publication of the statutory notice required by this section, and this defect was not cured by the fact that the county assessor appeared and contested the case in the county court. Warren v. Wheatley, 225 Ark. 901, 286 S.W.2d 334 (1956).

Taxpayer cannot enjoin an assessment where he has failed to exhaust his remedy of appeal from action or inaction by a county board of equalization. New St. Mary's Gin, Inc. v. Moore, 232 Ark. 24, 334 S.W.2d 683 (1960).

Necessary Parties.

A school district is not a necessary party to every proceeding for the determination of the assessed value of taxable property. Pulaski County Bd. of Equalization v. American Republic Life Ins. Co., 233 Ark. 124, 342 S.W.2d 660 (1961).

Where taxpayer is granted an exemption from taxation filed in a county court pursuant to Ark. Const., Art. 7, § 28, the county may appeal to the circuit court from the order of the county court pursuant to Ark. Const., Art. 7, § 33, § 16-67-201 and this section, but the assessor should join in the appeal. Pulaski County v. Jacuzzi Bros., 317 Ark. 10, 875 S.W.2d 496 (1994).

Notice.

Under § 26-26-910 and the constitutional requirement of due process of law, a taxpayer must be given notice both of a raised assessment and of his right to a review thereof by the county equalization board, and the provision of this section permitting a taxpayer to appeal to the county court without first having exhausted his remedy before the equalization board in cases where he shall have had no opportunity to appear before the board does not obviate the necessity for such notice. Prather v. Martin, 257 Ark. 576, 519 S.W.2d 72 (1975).

Publication.

Where statutory requirement of publication of appeal of assessment valuations was not complied with, order of county court reducing the assessed valuations was void and court could expunge such order even though the term had expired. Warren v. Wheatley, 225 Ark. 901, 286 S.W.2d 334 (1956).

Cited: Tedford v. Vaulx, 183 Ark. 240, 35 S.W.2d 346 (1931); Arkansas Tax Comm'n v. Ashby, 217 Ark. 759, 233 S.W.2d 361 (1950); *Burgess v. Four States Mem. 26-27-319. Resolution of valuation adopted.

(a) Each county equalization board, immediately on the completion of its work of equalization and before final adjournment, shall adopt a resolution wherein it shall be stated the percentage of true market or actual value at which it has equalized the assessed values of the property of the county under its jurisdiction for the year.

(b) The resolution shall be signed by a majority of the members of the board. A copy of the resolution, together with an abstract of the adjusted assessment by total of items and value, shall be forwarded to the Arkansas Public Service Commission on or before the first Monday in October of each year.

History. Acts 1929, No. 172, § 31; Pope's Dig., § 13672; A.S.A. 1947, § 84-711.

26-27-320. Assessed values entered on record.

(a) It is the duty of the county clerk of each county to enter upon the assessment record of his county the adjusted or equalized assessed value of any and all property as found and fixed by the county equalization board.

(b) In making the tax books of the county, unless further adjustments are ordered by the county court or the State Equalization Board, the clerk shall extend the taxes on the adjusted or equalized values.

History. Acts 1929, No. 172, § 32; Pope's Dig., § 13673; A.S.A. 1947, § 84-712.

26-27-321. Abstract of tax books to be filed.

(a) The county clerk of each county shall, on or before the second Monday in November of each year, unless otherwise ordered and directed by the State Equalization Board, file with the board, on such forms as it may prescribe, a "Final Abstract of the Tax Books."

(b) The abstract shall show, by total of items and value, the total assessment of his county after all adjustments as may be ordered by the county equalization board and the county court have been made.

26-27-322. Change in market value — Board procedure.

(a) The purpose of this section is to:

(1) Set out the procedure for a county equalization board to follow when changing real property values in a year when a county is not completing reappraisal; and

(2) Require the county equalization board to consult with the Assessment Coordination Department to utilize data compiled under the department's sales ratio study.

(b) If in the judgment of the county equalization board or the county judge based upon current economic conditions a number of real estate parcels in a county may have decreased in market value since the last countywide reappraisal, then the county equalization board may by its motion or the county judge may petition for the county equalization board to enter into a special session to determine what action is needed under this section to address the decrease in market value.

(c) The county equalization board shall not take action as proposed in the special session under subsection (b) of this section until the county equalization board has:

(1) Consulted the county assessor on the proposed action in the special session;

(2) Consulted the department on the proposed action in the special session; and

(3) Analyzed the current real estate market in the county.

(d) The board may employ a professional appraisal manager to analyze the current real estate market in the county to fulfill its obligation under subdivision (c)(3) of this section.

(e) If the board determines in the special session that action is needed under this section, the board shall adjust market values of real estate in the county under the methodology established by the rules of the department.

(f) The department shall promulgate rules to:

(1) Set out the procedure for a county equalization board to make a determination whether action is needed under this section; and

(2) Establish the methodology to be used when adjusting the market values of real property.

(g) If the county equalization board fails to follow the methodology to adjust real estate values as set out in the department's rules, the county equalization board shall be subject to withholding of funds from the Arkansas Real Property Reappraisal Fund under § 26-26-1907.

(h) A special session convened under this section is subject to the procedures for a special session of the county equalization board under § 26-27-312.

Lands have been sold to the State under proceedings purporting to have been had in the courts of this State by virtue of an Act of the General Assembly thereof entitled ‘An Act to enforce the payment of Overdue Taxes,’ approved March 12, 1881, when the taxes for the alleged nonpayment of which such lands were so sold under said proceedings and decrees of said courts, had been in fact paid prior to any such sales, proceedings or decrees of said courts; and,

“Whereas, 2d. Also the lands of many other persons were under like proceedings and decrees aforesaid had, by virtue of said act, sold to the State, where the owners thereof had paid taxes which they supposed were on such lands of their own, but which taxes so paid, owing to an erroneous description in the numbers of the same afterwards were ascertained to be on other lands than their own, and their lands sold to the State as aforesaid; and,

“Whereas, 3d. Said overdue tax act was a novel proceeding in this State that was productive of hardships in other respects, and it is but just to them that the owners of land at the time of such sale to the State, should have a limited time to redeem the same therefrom, without loss to the State, provided said lands shall not have been sold by the State prior to any such application to Emergency clause provided: "It is hereby found and determined by the General Assembly that a number of counties are finding it more convenient and economical, and to be of better service to the public, to use electronic data processing equipment to keep assessment records, and extend the taxes, and prepare the tax books, and prepare Collector's tax records and receipts by use of electronic data processing equipment, and that the immediate passage of this Act is necessary to establish an orderly procedure for the designation of the appropriate county office to be responsible for the maintenance and operation of such computer in preparing the tax books, and thereby removing duplication of handling taxing jurisdictions of the several counties with respect to preparation of tax books, and that the immediate passage of this Act is necessary to clarify this situation. Therefore, an emergency is hereby declared to exist, and this Act being immediately necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health, and safety, shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage and approval."

Acts 1979, No. 122, § 2: Feb. 13, 1979. Emergency clause provided: "It is hereby found and determined by the General Assembly that some counties in the State have acquired the use of electronic data processing equipment for use in assessing and collecting ad valorem taxes as authorized in Act 522 of 1975 and that such equipment could be used by those counties for several other appropriate county purposes; that Act 522 of 1975 is quite restrictive with respect to the purposes for which the computer equipment may be used by such counties; that this Act is designed to authorize counties which have acquired computer equipment for the purposes prescribed in Act 522 to use such equipment for other appropriate county purposes when the same is approved by the quorum court, and should be given effect immediately to enable those counties to make full use of their equipment. Therefore, an emergency is hereby declared to exist and this Act being necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage and approval."

26-28-101. Form of tax books.

The preparer of the tax books shall make out in books prepared for that purpose a complete list or schedule of all the taxable property in his or her county and the value of the taxable property as equalized and arranged in the following form:

(1) Each separate tract of real property in the county shall be contained in lines opposite the names of the owners arranged in numerical order, and the tracts may be arranged further by school district and city; and

(2) The aggregate value of personal property of each person, company, or corporation within each county shall be placed in a column opposite the name of the owner, person, company, or corporation in whose name it is listed in alphabetical order, and the personal property may be arranged further by school district and city.

Amendments. The 2003 amendment rewrote the section.

Case Notes

Combining of Tracts.

Sufficiency of Record.

Combining of Tracts.

Tax sales were not invalidated by fact that two contiguous forty-acre tracts were listed separately in the assessment book while the county clerk, in making up the tax book, combined the two forty-acre tracts into one call of 80 acres. Coulter v. Anthony, 228 Ark. 192, 308 S.W.2d 445 (Ark. 1957).

Sufficiency of Record.

Tax record is not defective for not properly listing lands or extending taxes against them and for not correctly showing a valid extension of the taxes where any person of average information and understanding could not be mistaken as to tract assessed, its valuation, and amounts of tax assessed for the several purposes allowed by law. Evans v. F.L. Dumas Store, Inc., 192 Ark. 571, 93 S.W.2d 307 (1936).

Cited: Aldridge v. Tyrrell, 301 Ark. 116, 782 S.W.2d 562 (1990).

26-28-102. Electronic data processing equipment.

(a) (1) If a county by appropriate action elects to acquire, lease, rent, or otherwise provide for the use of electronic data processing equipment, commonly referred to as a computer, to keep the assessment records, to prepare the tax books, to prepare the tax settlements, and to prepare the county collector's records and receipts for property taxes, the quorum court by ordinance may designate one (1) or more appropriate county officers to be responsible for the maintenance and operation of the computer, the keeping of the assessment records, the preparation of the tax books, the preparation of the county collector's records and receipts for property taxes, and the preparation of the tax settlements.

(2) (A) If any county officer other than the county clerk is designated to prepare the tax books or tax settlements, that county officer shall be reimbursed in the manner provided by law.

(B) If the county assessor is designated as the county officer to keep the assessment records, prepare the tax books, and prepare the county collector's receipts by use of electronic data processing equipment, the cost shall be prorated among the respective taxing units in the same manner as is provided by law for defraying the cost of operating the county assessor's office.

(b) When any county acquires, leases, rents, or otherwise provides for the use of electronic data processing equipment for the purposes prescribed in subsection (a) of this section, the quorum court may, by ordinance, authorize the use of the equipment for any other appropriate county purposes and may provide for prorating the costs thereof among the various county offices.

History. Acts 1975, No. 522, § 1; 1979, No. 122, § 1; A.S.A. 1947, § 84-801.1; Acts 2009, No. 721, § 1.

Amendments. The 2009 amendment, in (a)(1), inserted "to prepare the tax settlements," "the keeping of the assessment records," and "the preparation of the county collector's records and receipts for property taxes, and the preparation of the tax settlements"; in (a)(2)(A), substituted "county officer" for "county office" or similar language twice, and inserted "or tax settlements"; substituted "county officer" for "agency" in (a)(2)(B); and made related and minor stylistic changes.

26-28-103. Extension of taxes.

After receiving statements of the rates and sums of money to be levied for the current year from the Auditor of State and from such other officers and authorities as shall be legally empowered to determine the rates or amount of taxes to be levied for the various purposes authorized by law, the preparer of tax books shall immediately determine the sums to be levied upon each tract or lot of real property in his or her county, adding the taxes of any previous year that may have been omitted and the sums to be levied upon the amount of personal property listed in his or her county in the name of each person, company, or corporation, which shall be assessed equally on all real and personal property subject to those taxes.

History. Acts 1883, No. 114, § 88, p. 199; C. & M. Dig., § 10010; Pope's Dig., § 13758; A.S.A. 1947, § 84-802; Acts 2003, No. 295, § 2.

Amendments. The 2003 amendment substituted "After" for "The clerk of the county court, after," inserted "the preparer of tax books," deleted "moneys, and credits" following "amount of personal property" and made minor stylistic and gender neutral changes.

Case Notes

In General.

Insufficient Extension.

Sufficient Extension.

In General.

Acts 1919, No. 147, § 3, as amended by Acts 1929, No. 172, § 8, codified as § 26-26-701, conferring authority to change the form of tax books so as to omit blank spaces for the extension of dollars and cents of the amounts due the state and its various subdivisions, amends, to that extent, this section by necessary implication. Lambert v. Reeves, 194 Ark. 1109, 110 S.W.2d 503 (1937), modified, 194 Ark. 1123, 112 S.W.2d 33 (Ark. 1938).

It is imperative upon the county clerk to determine the sums to be levied upon each tract or lot of real property in his county, adding the taxes of any previous years that may have been omitted. Lambert v. Reeves, 194 Ark. 1109, 110 S.W.2d 503 (1937), modified, 194 Ark. 1123, 112 S.W.2d 33 (Ark. 1938).

Insufficient Extension.

Where there is no proper extension of taxes against lands on the tax record, the state is without power to sell the lands for failure to pay taxes thereon, and a confirmation decree cannot perfect title in the state. Lambert v. Reeves, 194 Ark. 1109, 110 S.W.2d 503 (1937), modified, 194 Ark. 1123, 112 S.W.2d 33 (Ark. 1938).

County clerk's failure to extend in dollars and cents the total amount of taxes due rendered sale based thereon void, since the assessment was not complete. Lambert v. Reeves, 194 Ark. 1109, 110 S.W.2d 503 (1937), modified, 194 Ark. 1123, 112 S.W.2d 33 (Ark. 1938).

Where clerk extended taxes at a rate less than what the proper rate would have been, which resulted in a net loss of tax revenue, the clerk was negligent. America Casualty Co. v. Quitman School Dist., 293 Ark. 457, 739 S.W.2d 144 (1987).

Sufficient Extension.

The section does not require the county clerk to extend upon the tax book the amount of taxes to be collected for the various purposes for which state and county levies were imposed; rather, it is proper to group all of the state taxes under one heading and all of the county taxes under one heading, and it is a sufficient extending of taxes if the amount is thus determined in dollars and cents based upon the assessed valuation. Lambert v. Reeves, 194 Ark. 1109, 110 S.W.2d 503 (1937), modified, 194 Ark. 1123, 112 S.W.2d 33 (Ark. 1938).

Various taxes such as county, school, city, and state taxes do not need to be broken up into their component parts and inserted in the particular subdivision of the tax book, if total taxes as required by the prescribed records be so extended. Kansas City Life Ins. Co. v. Moss, 196 Ark. 553, 118 S.W.2d 873 (1938); Benham v. Davis, 196 Ark. 740, 119 S.W.2d 743 (1938).

Cited: Porter v. Ivy, 130 Ark. 329, 197 S.W. 697 (1917); Faulkner v. Binns, 202 Ark. 457, 151 S.W.2d 101 (1941).

26-28-104. Recapitulation of taxes.

(a) It shall be the duty of the preparer of tax books to add each tax book delivered to the county collector, making the separate columns of values when added together amount to the sum of the column of total values when added up and, at the end of the tax book, recapitulate the additions of each page, so as to make it prove itself to be correct.

(b) A copy of the recapitulation under this section shall be a part of the tax books.

History. Acts 1883, No. 114, § 89, p. 199; C. & M. Dig., § 10011; Pope's Dig., § 13759; A.S.A. 1947, § 84-803; Acts 2003, No. 295, § 3.

Amendments. The 2003 amendment added the subdivision (a) designation, substituted "preparer of tax books" for "county clerk" and deleted "according to the form to be furnished by the Auditor of State" from the end; and added (b).

26-28-105. Entry for omitted years.

(a) In all cases in which any preparer of the tax books shall omit, by inadvertence or mistake, in any year to enter on the books of his or her county any lands or lots or parts of lots situated in his or her county subject to taxation, it shall be his or her duty to enter them on the tax books of the next succeeding year and to add to the taxes of the current year the simple taxes of each and every preceding year in which the lands or lots so escaped taxation.

(b) There shall be separate recapitulation of those lands and lots.

History. Acts 1883, No. 114, § 90, p. 199; C. & M. Dig., § 10012; Pope's Dig., § 13760; A.S.A. 1947, § 84-804; Acts 2003, No. 295, § 4.

Amendments. The 2003 amendment added the subsection (a) designation and substituted "in which any preparer of the tax books shall omit" for "where any clerk of the county court shall"; added (b) and made gender neutral changes.

Case Notes

Assessment.

Tax Sales.

Assessment.

Where lands have never been placed upon the assessment books until the current year, the county clerk is not authorized to extend against them taxes for the years in which the lands were omitted from the tax books based upon the assessment for the current year. Saint Louis, I.M. & S. Ry. v. Miller County, 67 Ark. 498, 55 S.W. 926 (1900).

Tax Sales.

Sale of land for taxes of 1910 was not invalid because taxes due on such land for previous years were not entered on tax books. Cotton v. White, 131 Ark. 273, 199 S.W. 116 (1917).

26-28-106. Charging uncollected taxes.

When, for any cause, the taxes in any county, for any year, shall not be collected, they shall be charged on the tax books for the next year and collected by the same officers and in the same manner as the taxes of that year.

History. Acts 1883, No. 114, § 91, p. 199; C. & M. Dig., § 10013; Pope's Dig., § 13761; A.S.A. 1947, § 84-805.

26-28-107. Marking of forfeited lands.

(a) (1) The preparer of the tax books shall mark opposite every tract, town lot, or city lot that may have been forfeited to the state for the nonpayment of taxes the word “forfeited”.

(2) (A) On that tract, town lot, or city lot there shall not be charged any taxes unless the Commissioner of State Lands shall officially advise the preparer that it has become subject to taxation.

(B) In that event, the same taxes shall be charged and collected on the tract, town lot, or city lot as may be allowed by law.

(b) The county assessor shall assess all the lands or lots, or parts of lands or lots, that may appear on the plats or lists furnished to the county assessor.

(c) If any clerk of the county court shall have lost or if the records of his or her office shall not contain a list of the lands forfeited to the state within his or her county, the clerk of the county court shall certify that fact to the Commissioner of State Lands, and the Commissioner of State Lands shall immediately furnish the clerk of the county court with that list.

History. Acts 1883, No. 114, § 93, p. 199; C. & M. Dig., § 10015; Pope's Dig., § 13762; A.S.A. 1947, § 84-806; Acts 2003, No. 295, § 5.

Amendments. The 2003 amendment inserted the subdivision designations; in (a)(1), substituted “preparer of the tax books” for “clerk of the county court”; substituted “preparer” for “clerk” in (a)(2); inserted “of State Lands” twice following “the Commissioner” in (c); and made stylistic and gender neutral changes.

26-28-108. Delivery of tax books to collector.

(a) On or before February 1 of each year, the preparer of tax books of each county shall make out and deliver the tax books of his or her county to the county collector with the preparer of tax books' warrant attached, under his or her hand and the seal of his or her office, authorizing the county collector to collect the taxes.

(b) The county collector shall give a receipt for the tax books, in which the amount of the different taxes shall be separately stated, and the county clerk shall file the receipt in the records of the county.

Amendments. The 2003 amendment, in (a), substituted “on or before February 1 of each year the preparer of tax books” for “the clerk of the county court” and deleted “on or before the third Monday in February of each year” following “each county shall”; in (b), substituted “a receipt” for “duplicate receipt” and “file the receipt in the records of the county” for “forward one (1) of the receipts to the Auditor of State”; and made gender neutral changes.

Case Notes

Delivery.
Liability for Taxes.
Warrant.

Delivery.

A tax sale is invalid where the clerk does not deliver the tax books with his warrant within time prescribed, this section being mandatory. Stade v. Berg, 182 Ark. 118, 30 S.W.2d 211 (1930). Failure of county clerk to deliver to collector the tax books with his warrant amounts to nothing more than an irregularity, which can be cured by confirmation, although fatal prior thereto. Kirk v. Ellis, 192 Ark. 587, 93 S.W.2d 139 (1936).

Liability for Taxes.

Where the buyer was to receive no legal or equitable right under the contract until the purchase price had been paid in full, at which time the seller obligated himself to execute a special warranty deed conveying the lands free of all liens and encumbrances, and the contract was entered into some six weeks after the tax books had been delivered to the collector, the seller was liable for the payment of taxes under the warranty. Broadhead v. McEntire, 19 Ark. App. 259, 720 S.W.2d 313 (1986).

Warrant.

Collector is protected against improper entries in tax books by the warrant thereto attached.

Sanders v. Simmons, 30 Ark. 274 (1875) (decision under prior law).

Warrant directed to the sheriff instead of collector is not invalid when sheriff is also collector. Keith v. Freeman, 43 Ark. 296 (1884).

Failure of county clerk to attach to the tax book a warrant authorizing the collector to collect taxes assessed invalidates a tax sale. Wildman v. Enfield, 174 Ark. 1005, 298 S.W. 196 (1927); Hirsch v. Dabbs, 197 Ark. 756, 126 S.W.2d 116 (1939).

County clerk's warrant reading "You are commanded to collect on each and every lot and tract of land named in this book ... as follows:" and posted in front of real estate book complied with this section and was not open to objection that it directed collection of taxes on real estate alone where it was not shown that a similar warrant was not entered in the personal tax book. Alphin v. Banks, 193 Ark. 563, 102 S.W.2d 558 (1937).

Failure to attach warrant to tax books was an irregularity that was cured by Acts 1935, No. 142 (repealed Acts 1937, No. 264). Gilley v. Southern Corp., 194 Ark. 1134, 110 S.W.2d 509 (1937); Kansas City Life Ins. Co. v. Moss, 196 Ark. 553, 118 S.W.2d 873 (1938).

Failure of county clerk to make warrant or to attach it to the tax books within the time required by law makes a tax sale invalid, although defect can be cured by confirmation decree. Angels v. Redmon, 198 Ark. 980, 132 S.W.2d 170 (1939).

Evidence showed clerk had not attached warrant to tax books in delivering books to collector. Ensminger v. Sheffield, 220 Ark. 598, 248 S.W.2d 877 (1952).

26-28-109. [Repealed.]

Publisher's Notes. This section, concerning a list of delinquent lands, was repealed by Acts 2003, No. 295, § 11. The section was derived from Acts 1899, No. 174, § 1, p. 312; C. & M. Dig., § 10017; Acts 1921, No. 481, § 3; Pope's Dig., § 13764; A.S.A. 1947, §§ 84-808, 84-808n.

26-28-110. Public records — Preservation.

The tax books delivered to the collector shall be a public record. At the expiration of the collector's term of office, they shall be delivered to and deposited in the office of the county clerk, there to be preserved as other records of the county.

(b) The real property tax correction forms and the personal property tax correction forms required by this section to be kept in the records of the assessor, collector, and clerk may be destroyed upon the expiration of one (1) year after the date on which the Legislative Joint Auditing Committee accepts and files the audit of the particular office performed by the Division of Legislative Audit.

(c) The provisions of this section shall be applicable only to the correction of actual and obvious errors on the tax books and related records, with such errors being restricted to extension errors, erroneous property descriptions, classifications, or listings, and shall not be utilized to make any change in the valuation of any real or personal property as shown on the tax books and related records other than a change in valuation necessitated by the correction of actual and obvious errors as provided in this section. In no case shall any reduction in the valuation of any real or personal property be made, except such as shall have been ordered by the county board of equalization, the county court, the circuit court, or the Supreme Court, or be caused by the correction of actual and obvious errors as provided in this section.

26-28-114. Listing of the real estate parcels or personal assessments.

(a) This section applies to a tax or fee on the county tax books that is levied by any entity that:

(1) Is not on the county tax books for the prior year;

(2) Applies to more than one-half of one percent (0.5%) of either the personal or real estate assessments in the county; and

(3) Requires the county collector to collect the tax or fee.

(b) (1) The entity that levies the tax or fee shall deliver to the preparer of the tax books of the county a complete listing of the real estate parcels or personal assessments on which the tax or fee is applied.

(2) The list shall include the following information:

(A) The name of the owner of the property;

(B) The county parcel and identifying number;

(C) If real property, the legal description; and

(D) The amount of taxes or fees due for each real estate parcel or personal assessment.

(3) The list shall be delivered to the preparer of the tax books no later than January 1 of the year the tax or fee is to be collected.

(4) If the county uses a computer and other electronic equipment to collect taxes, the list shall be given to the preparer of the tax books in an electronic format compatible with and useable by the county's computer or electronic equipment.

(c) All due dates, transfers of funds, and recordkeeping on the tax or fee shall be the same as those currently in use for real estate or personal property taxes.

(a) If an entity determines that an emergency exists, it may petition the quorum court of the county to allow the entity to place a tax or fee on the tax books of the county after January 1 and before July 31 of the year in which collection is to be made.

(b) If the quorum court agrees that an emergency exists:

(1) (A) The tax or fee will be added to the tax books if the entity complies with § 26-28-114.

(B) The January 1 deadline under § 26-28-114 shall become August 15 of the year to be collected; and

(2) (A) The entity shall pay the expense of adding the tax or fee to the tax books and any additional expense incurred by the county in collecting the tax or fee.

(B) The additional expense shall be determined by a committee consisting of the county judge, the preparer of the tax books or the county clerk, and the county collector not later than October 1 of the collection year.

(C) The expense shall be withheld from the proceeds for the tax or fee by the county treasurer and be credited to the county collector's commission account.

Subchapter 2 — Unit Tax Ledger System

26-28-201. Installation.

26-28-202. Prerequisites.

26-28-203. Effect of adoption.

26-28-204. Recorded real estate transfers certified to collector.

26-28-205. Assessments on forms furnished by collector.

Effective Dates. Acts 1945, No. 207, § 8: Mar. 20, 1945. Emergency clause provided: “It is hereby found and declared by the Fifty-fifth General Assembly of the State of Arkansas that the installation of the so-called ‘Unit Tax Ledger System’ will result in great savings of money, labor and material to the several counties of the State of Arkansas which might see fit, through their respective Quorum Courts, to adopt and authorize such system, and because several counties within the State of Arkansas now desire the installation of such a system because of savings in money, labor, materials and employment hours which will be affected thereby, an emergency is hereby declared to exist, and this act, being necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety, shall take effect and be in full force from and after the date of its passage and approval.”

26-28-201. Installation.

When any quorum court in any county in the State of Arkansas in regular or special session, by a majority vote, shall approve the installation of a unit tax ledger system, the county judge of the county shall, by court order, authorize the installation of the system if there are sufficient funds available, or which can be made available from the county general fund, to cover the cost of the installation.

History. Acts 1945, No. 207, § 1; A.S.A. 1947, § 84-814.

Case Notes

Computations.

Computations.

A tax sale for an overcharge of two cents caused by the inability of a machine used as authorized by this section to compute instalments in fractions of a cent is void. Walsh v. Veazy, 224 Ark. 773, 276 S.W.2d 71 (1955).

26-28-202. Prerequisites.

The “unit tax ledger system” shall be a system of tax accounting that covers the following prerequisites:

(1) A ledger account for each unit of real property in the county reflecting a complete tax record for a ten-year period, beginning with the year the system is installed;

(2) The ledger accounts shall be housed in a steel locker that shall be closed and securely locked at the end of each day's business;

(3) The ledger account shall have sufficient space to enable the name of the record owner at the time of the installation of the system to be shown, and ten (10) lines for the names of subsequent owners, a correct legal description of the unit of property assessed, the year for which the tax is charged, the assessed valuation for state and county purposes, the tax charged and the total thereof, the assessed benefits against the property in special improvement districts, a symbol referring to designated special improvement districts in which the property is located, the date of payment of all taxes, the number of the receipt to be issued, and a two-year delinquent tax record;

(4) The system shall also provide an index which will enable a machine operator, the tax collector, clerk, or assessor, or any other individual to instantly refer to any unit of property by legal description or by the name of the record owner;

(5) The tax statement, installment receipt, total receipts, office copy of tax receipts, posting of tax ledgers, including the valuation and the tax charged, and the proof of work shall all be done by an accounting machine at one (1) time which shall enable the operator to mail a complete tax statement to the taxpayer and file a duplicate copy alphabetically in a steel locker for safekeeping;

(6) Collection statements shall be posted from office copies compiled from the unit tax ledger accounts; and

(7) Upon installation of such a system, a predetermined total of all valuation of the property in the county as assessed by the assessor for taxation and exemption shall be ascertained and constantly maintained through control accounts for each fund, and the purpose for which each tax has been levied, shall be charged.

History. Acts 1945, No. 207, § 2; A.S.A. 1947, § 84-815.

26-28-203. Effect of adoption.

(a) Under the unit tax ledger system, all counties in the State of Arkansas which shall adopt it shall cause the tax collector's office to be the exclusive tax collecting and accounting office of the county, and the collector shall collect current and delinquent taxes on real and personal property.

(b) All laws and parts of laws relating to real and personal tax collecting, recording, charging, billing, and accounting wherein reference is made to the county clerk, county treasurer, and delinquent tax collector shall mean "tax collector." However, the tax collector shall settle with the county treasurer of the counties which may adopt the system as is provided by law.

History. Acts 1945, No. 207, § 3; A.S.A. 1947, § 84-816.

Case Notes

Substitution of Collector.

Substitution of Collector.

In counties operating under the unit tax ledger system, the collector is substituted for the county clerk for purposes of redemption from delinquent tax sales. Vanderbilt v. Washington, 249 Ark. 1070, 463 S.W.2d 670 (1971).

26-28-204. Recorded real estate transfers certified to collector.

In all counties in the State of Arkansas wherein the unit tax ledger system is installed, the recorder of deeds, immediately upon recording any instrument of any kind that transfers or conveys title to real property from one (1) person, firm, corporation, organization, state, county, or municipality to another or whenever title to real property, by whatever means, passes on to another, shall certify to the tax collector the names and addresses of the grantors or devisors when known or when they can be ascertained and the name and address of the grantee or devisee when known or when he can be ascertained, the book number of the record and the page on which the instrument is recorded, the kind and character of the instrument, and the date thereof. Accordingly, all necessary forms and records required to perfect the installation of the tax system contemplated by this subchapter are authorized, and all laws and parts of laws relating to the manner of handling real and personal property taxes are amended, to conform to this system insofar as the collection thereof is concerned in the counties which, through their quorum courts, shall adopt the terms and provisions of this subchapter.

History. Acts 1945, No. 207, § 4; A.S.A. 1947, § 84-817.

26-28-205. Assessments on forms furnished by collector.

(a) All assessors in counties where the system contemplated by this subchapter is installed shall deliver to the tax collector real and personal property assessments on forms furnished by the tax collector. The tax collector shall then make proper posting of each assessment. As postings are made, the collector shall compile a proof journal list of the assessments showing the total valuation. The total valuation shall balance with the total of all real and personal property assessments as made by the assessor.

(b) Thereafter, the assessor shall verify the total and, when found to be correct, shall make a certificate of assessment of the real and personal property in the county showing a total valuation of all real and personal property assessed in the county, which shall conform with the total valuation assessed by the Arkansas Public Service Commission as certified down to the assessor, the assessor adding to the certificate required by law the following additional paragraph:

“The total valuation of all taxable real property as assessed by me for the year is $; and the total valuation of all exempted property as exempted by me for the year is $; and the total valuation of all taxable personal property as assessed by me for the year is $”

(c) (1) The assessor shall make the certificate in triplicate and file one (1) copy with the commission, which shall be the assessor's abstract and which shall give the valuation of all assessments in the county by total and not by items, as provided by § 26-26-1103, and one (1) copy of the certificate shall be filed in the county clerk's office, and the assessor shall keep one (1) copy in the file in his office.

(2) All three (3) of the certificates shall be subscribed and sworn to as provided by law.

Subchapter 3
— Computerized Tax Assessment and Collection

- 26-28-301. Use of alternative method.
- 26-28-302. Use of computer.
- 26-28-303. Duty of county assessor.
- 26-28-304. Duty of preparer of tax books.
- 26-28-305. Duty of tax collector.
- 26-28-306. Final tax settlements.
- 26-28-307. Permanent record — Commissions.
- 26-28-308. Distribution of taxes.

26-28-301. Use of alternative method.

It is the intent of this subchapter to provide an alternative method of assessment and collection of taxes in counties utilizing the unit tax ledger system where the use of a computerized system for assessment and collection is utilized. The quorum court may authorize, by ordinance, the use of this alternative method when it is determined to be in the best interest of the county. The provisions of this subchapter are supplemental to other applicable law.

History. Acts 1993, No. 849, § 1.

26-28-302. Use of computer.

(a) (1) The quorum court of any county in this state by ordinance may provide for the use of electronic data processing equipment, commonly referred to as a computer, to keep the assessment records, to prepare the tax books, and to prepare the county collector's records and receipts for property taxes.

(2) The quorum court by ordinance may designate the appropriate county officer to be responsible for the maintenance and operation of the computer.

(3) The quorum court by ordinance may designate the county clerk, the county assessor, or the county collector as preparer of the tax books.

(b) When a county acquires, leases, rents, or otherwise provides for the use of electronic data processing equipment for the purposes prescribed in subsection (a) of this section, the quorum court by ordinance may authorize the use of the electronic data processing equipment for any other appropriate county purposes and may provide for prorating the costs of the electronic data processing equipment among the various county offices.

History. Acts 1993, No. 849, § 2; 2009, No. 347, § 1.

Amendments. The 2009 amendment inserted "county clerk" in (a)(3); and made minor stylistic changes.

26-28-303. Duty of county assessor.

Under the system provided for in this subchapter:

(1) It is the duty of the county assessor of each county to enter upon the assessment record of the county the adjusted or equalized assessed value of any and all property as found and fixed by the county equalization board;

(2) In making the tax books of the county, unless further adjustments are ordered by the county court or the State Equalization Board, the preparer of the tax books shall extend the taxes on the adjusted or equalized values;

(3) The assessor shall deliver the assessment abstract to the State Equalization

Board by August 1 of each year;

(4) (A) The assessor shall make any changes to the abstract after the State Equalization Board finalizes its action.

(B) All changes in assessments, after the assessor prepares the final abstract of the tax books, shall be made as specified in § 26-28-305(1) and documented by means of a prenumbered two-part change form with the reason for the change noted; and

(5) (A) The county assessor of each county shall, on or before the third Monday in January of each year, unless otherwise ordered and directed by the State Equalization Board, file with the board, on such forms as it may prescribe, a final abstract of the tax books.

(B) The final abstract of the tax books shall show, by total of items and value, the total assessment of the county after all adjustments.

History. Acts 1993, No. 849, §§ 3-6.

26-28-304. Duty of preparer of tax books.

Under the system provided for in this subchapter:

(1) After receiving statements of the rates and sums of money to be levied for the current year from the Auditor of State and from such other officers and authorities, including special improvement districts, as shall be legally empowered to determine the rates or amounts of taxes to be levied for the various purposes authorized by law, and after levied by the quorum court, the preparer of the tax books shall immediately determine the sums to be levied upon personal property and each tract or lot of real property in the county;

(2) On or before February 1 of each year, the preparer of the tax books of each county shall make out and deliver the tax books of the county to the county collector, with the preparer of tax books' warrant attached, under his or her hand and the seal of his or her office, authorizing the county collector to collect the taxes; and

(3) The county collector shall give a receipt for the tax books, in which the amount of the different taxes shall be separately stated, and the preparer of the tax books shall file the receipt in the records of the county.

History. Acts 1993, No. 849, §§ 7, 8; 2003, No. 295, § 7.

Amendments. The 2003 amendment substituted "the preparer's" for "his or her" in (2); in (3), substituted "a receipt" for "duplicate receipt" and "file the receipt in the records of the county" for "forward one (1) of the receipts to the Auditor of State"; and made gender neutral changes.

26-28-305. Duty of tax collector.

Under the system provided for in this subchapter, the tax collector shall:

(1) Make changes to the tax books after the assessor files the final abstract of the tax books as authorized by the assessor by a two-part change form;

(2) Prepare the tax statements and tax receipts and collect the taxes; and

(3) Prepare and certify the monthly and final distributions of all current and delinquent taxes collected by the tax collector.

History. Acts 1993, No. 849, § 9.

26-28-306. Final tax settlements.

Under the system provided for in this subchapter:

(1) All county collectors' final tax settlements shall be made and filed with the county court on or before the fourth Monday of December each year;

(2) (A) It is the duty of the county court to pass upon the final tax settlement of the county collector and to approve, reject, or restate it on or before December 31 of each year.

(B) Failure of the county judge to so approve, reject, or restate the final tax settlement of the county collector within this period of time shall constitute a misfeasance in office and shall be a violation punishable by a fine of one hundred dollars ($100) or removal from office;

(3) (A) If the final tax settlement shall be found to be correct, the county court shall order the final tax settlement spread in full upon the records of the county court.

(B) (i) The county clerk shall certify to the Auditor of State, without delay, the action of the county court on the final tax settlement, whether approved or rejected.

(ii) If rejected, the county collector shall at once proceed to restate the final tax settlement and again submit it to the county court; and

(4) On or before December 31 of each year, after the final tax settlement made by the county collector has been examined and acted upon by the county court as provided in this subchapter, the county collector shall make settlement with the county and its various subdivisions and with the Auditor of State for all state taxes collected.

History. Acts 1993, No. 849, §§ 10-12; 2005, No. 1994, § 168.

Amendments. The 2005 amendment substituted "violation" for "misdemeanor" in (2)(B).

26-28-307. Permanent record — Commissions.

Under the system provided for in this subchapter:

(1) The tax collector shall maintain a permanent record of all taxes collected and the tax book reflecting all valuation changes and the receipt number, date, and amount of collection under the authority of this subchapter; and

(2) The preparer of the tax books shall receive a commission of two percent (2%) for extending the improvement taxes, and the collector shall receive a commission of two percent (2%) for collecting them.

History. Acts 1993, No. 849, § 13.

26-28-308. Distribution of taxes.

Under the system provided for in this subchapter, the county treasurer shall distribute the taxes by December 31 of each year as authorized by the final tax settlement approved by the county judge.

26-34-101. Preference of tax liens.

(a) Taxes assessed upon real and personal property shall bind them and be entitled to preference over all judgments, executions, encumbrances, or liens whensoever created.
(b) All taxes assessed shall be a lien upon and bind the property assessed from the first Monday of January of the year in which the assessment shall be made and shall continue until the taxes, with any penalty which may accrue thereon, shall be paid. However, as between grantor and grantee, the lien shall not attach until the last date fixed by law for the county clerk to deliver the tax books to the collector in each year after the tax lien attaches.

Liability for Taxes.

Where the buyer was to receive no legal or equitable right under the contract until the purchase price had been paid in full, at which time the seller obligated himself to execute a special warranty deed conveying the lands free of all liens and encumbrances, and the contract was entered into some six weeks after the tax books had been delivered to the collector, the seller was liable for the payment of taxes under the warranty. *Broadhead v. Liens.

Taxes and improvement assessments held "obligations secured by lien" within the meaning of Acts 1927, No. 195 (superseded by § 28-49-113). Rose v. W.B. Worthen Co., 186 Ark. 205, 53 S.W.2d 15, 85 A.L.R. 212 (1932).

Personal Property.

Taxes are a lien on personal property and follow it into whosoever hands it goes. Bridewell v. Morton, 46 Ark. 73 (1885) (decision under prior law).

Where, prior to an application for a receiver in insolvency, an attachment was levied by the seller upon specific goods sold to the insolvent, upon which the seller owed taxes, the state's lien for taxes was payable from the amount allowed the attaching seller upon his preferred claim. First Nat'l Bank v. Tribble, 155 Ark. 264, 244 S.W. 33 (1922).

Real Property.

Taxes on land, due at the time of a sale, are a lien upon it and covered by the vendor's covenant against incumbrances suffered by him. Crowell v. Packard, 35 Ark. 348 (1880) (decision under prior law).

Where a lien for taxes attaches before date of sale and the sale contract contains no agreement for payment of taxes for the preceding year, the vendor is liable for the amount of the taxes under his warranty. *Hatch v. Tax Sales.

The state's lien on land for taxes cannot be defeated by the owner's permitting it to be sold to the state for taxes at a void tax sale and then purchasing it from the state as land forfeited for taxes. *Texarkana Water Co. v. Where taxes against mineral interests were not properly extended on tax books by the county clerk, but the mineral interests were duly ordered by the assessor and taxes lawfully levied by quorum court, a valid tax lien arose under this section, and allegation of willingness to pay tax had to be made before equitable relief would be granted in enjoining tax sale. *Schuman v. 26-34-102. Ownership error in assessment.

It shall not be necessary to the validity of an assessment or of a sale of land for taxes that it be assessed to its true owner. Rather, the taxes shall be a charge upon the real and personal property taxed and, when sold, shall vest the title in the purchaser without regard to who owned the land or other property when assessed or when sold.

Assessment.

This section does not bar collection of tax where tax was never assessed, demanded, or paid. Southwestern Distilled Products Co. v. State, 199 Ark. 761, 136 S.W.2d 166 (1940); Terminal Oil Co. v. McCarroll, 201 Ark. 830, 147 S.W.2d 352 (1941), overruled in part, Foote's Dixie Dandy, Inc. v. McHenry, 270 Ark. 816, 607 S.W.2d 323, 21 A.L.R.4th 565 (1980).

If from time to time audits of corporation's business were made by state agents and in consequence of such audits corporation made an assessment of items claimed to be interstate transactions, but did not pay tax because of ruling by state that it was not to be included in the declaration, then the tax for disclosed and reported periods would not be assessable. Hollis & Co. v. McCarroll, 200 Ark. 523, 140 S.W.2d 420 (1940).

Where taxpayer, in reliance upon advice of state, failed to collect sales tax on interstate sales and filed monthly reports showing sales taxes were not being collected or paid on these sales, state was precluded from reassessment and collection of the taxes. McCarroll v. Hollis & Co., 201 Ark. 931, 148 S.W.2d 167 (1941).

Fraud.

A gross underassessment of a taxpayer's property is not evidence of fraud within the meaning of this section. State ex rel. Attorney Gen. v. Anderson-Tully Co., 186 Ark. 170, 53 S.W.2d 17, 85 A.L.R. 100 (1932).

A complaint by the state seeking to recover back taxes from a corporation, alleging that the corporation's personal property was grossly underassessed, without alleging that actual fraud was practiced by the corporation in making the underassessment, was subject to dismissal. State ex rel. Attorney Gen. v. Chicago Mill & Lumber Corp., 187 Ark. 65, 58 S.W.2d 951 (1933).

State was not entitled to recover in suit against life insurance company for back taxes on annuity insurance premiums where insurance company made report of the premiums collected and paid the taxes due thereon, there being no element of fraud in its failure to report its annuity premiums, as the administrative officers of the state were of the opinion that such premiums were not taxable. State ex rel. Holt v. New York Life Ins. Co., 198 Ark. 820, 131 S.W.2d 639 (1939).

Where taxpayer filed regularly and in due time returns which reflected a complete disclosure of all sales in controversy, under which disclosure the ascertainment of total liability was only a matter of calculation, and he paid promptly the amount to be due under its asserted theory of liability by the return and no concealment, fraud, or collusion in the matter was alleged or proved, suit for recovery of sales tax was barred by this section. Arkansas-Louisiana Gas Co. v. Hardin, 206 Ark. 593, 176 S.W.2d 903 (1944).

26-34-108. Suits against local taxing authorities.

(a) Whenever an action may be brought against any person holding the office of county collector, county assessor, or county clerk for performing or attempting to perform any duty or thing authorized by any of the provisions of this act or the laws of this state, for the collection of the public revenues, the collector, assessor, or clerk shall be allowed and paid out of the county treasury reasonable fees of counsel and other expenses for defending the action or suit and the amount of any damages or costs adjudged against him.

(b) The fees, expenses, damages, and costs shall be apportioned ratably by the county clerk among all the parties entitled to share the taxes so collected and shall be deducted by the clerk from the shares or portions of revenue at any time payable to each, including, as one of the parties, the state itself, as well as the counties, townships, towns, or cities, and other corporations or other organizations entitled thereto as indicated.

Applicability.
Injunctions.

Applicability.

This section has no applicability to the right of an attorney employed by a county to represent the county in a suit to test the validity of an act of the General Assembly detaching certain land from one county and attaching it to another. Spence & Dudley v. Clay County, 122 Ark. 157, 182 S.W. 573 (1916).

Injunctions.

The collection of taxes partly illegal will not be enjoined without an offer to pay the legal part. Bridewell v. Morton, 46 Ark. 73 (1885).

Illegal taxes may be enjoined when the injunction will prevent a multiplicity of suits. City of Little Rock v. Prather, 46 Ark. 471 (1885).

A state court cannot enjoin a tax levied pursuant to a mandamus from a federal court. Gaines v. Springer, 46 Ark. 502 (1885).

26-34-109. Common carriers not to carry goods on which tax not paid.

(a) (1) It shall be unlawful for any railroad company, bus line company, truck line company, motor vehicle carrier, or any other common carrier, whether person, firm, or corporation, or the agent or receiver thereof, to knowingly transport, or permit to be transported, within the State of Arkansas any goods, wares, merchandise, or articles whatsoever upon the sale or possession for sale of which a tax is imposed by law when the tax has not been paid upon the goods, wares, merchandise, or articles. And it shall be unlawful for any carrier to sell, offer for sale, or deliver to any person, or permit the sale or delivery of any goods, wares, merchandise, or articles upon which the tax has not been paid as required by law.

(2) Each sale, offer for sale, or delivery shall constitute a separate offense.

(b) For each violation of this section, a fine of twenty-five dollars ($25.00) shall be imposed, and the person, firm, corporation, or the agent or receiver thereof, violating any of the provisions of this section shall also be liable for the amount of tax due.

(c) All fines collected for the violation of any of the provisions of this section shall be paid into the State Treasury.

(d) All taxes due under this section may be recovered by a civil action brought at the instance of the Attorney General in the name of the Director of the Department of Finance and Administration of the State of Arkansas.

(e) This section is not to be construed to repeal any law, but it shall be cumulative to all present laws affecting the subject matter contained in this section.

Subchapter 1 — General Provisions

26-35-101. Escrow funds for payment of real property taxes.

Effective Dates. Acts 1987, No. 739, § 3: Apr. 7, 1987. Emergency clause provided: "It is hereby found and determined by the General Assembly that thousands of dollars of funds are being accumulated in escrow accounts being held by banks, savings and loan associations, and other financial institutions, or by persons, firms, or corporations who maintain such escrow accounts for the payment of real property taxes on lands belonging to others, and that it is in the public interest that whenever a full year's taxes have accumulated in the escrow account for payment of real property taxes during said year, the payment be remitted to the county collector within a reasonable time after said amount has been accumulated thereby enabling the cities, counties and school districts of this State to have the prompt benefit of the payment of taxes for which said escrow accounts are maintained; that many cities, counties and school districts are suffering a severe cash flow problem due to the lack of receiving said funds promptly upon the same being accumulated within the said escrow accounts; and that the immediate passage of this Act is necessary to assure that taxpayer funds accumulating in such escrow accounts be promptly remitted to the county collectors for distribution to the various taxing units of which said funds were intended. Therefore, an emergency is hereby declared to exist, and this Act being necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, and safety, shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage and approval."

26-35-101. Escrow funds for payment of real property taxes.

(a) (1) All banks, savings and loan associations, and other financial institutions and all persons, firms, or corporations which are holders of escrow funds for payment of real property taxes, within thirty (30) days after sufficient funds have accumulated in each account for the payment of property taxes, shall notify the county collector.

(2) If sufficient funds for the payment of one (1) year's taxes on real estate have accumulated within an escrow account prior to the commencement of the period in which the collector may collect real property taxes for the year in which due, this notification shall be made within thirty (30) days after the collector is authorized by law to commence collecting real property taxes during the year.

(3) Further, those holders of escrow funds must remit payment for property taxes within sixty (60) days of receipt of the tax bills from the collector.

(4) (A) Any bank, savings and loan association, or other financial institution or any person, firm, or corporation holding escrow funds for the payment of real property taxes due on properties belonging to persons for whom the escrow accounts are being held, which fails to pay to the county collector the real property taxes on the property within the time limitation imposed by this subsection, shall be subject to a penalty of ten percent (10%) of the amount of the total taxes due.

(B) The penalties shall be paid from funds belonging to the holder of the escrow account.

(b) In no event shall moneys paid as penalties for late payment of real property taxes under the provisions of subsection (a) of this section be charged against the escrow account.

(c) All penalties collected by the county collector under subsection (a) of this section shall be credited to the various taxing units of the county in the respective proportions that each taxing unit shares in real property taxes collected by the county.

A.C.R.C. Notes. Acts 1987, No. 739, § 1, provided, in part, that in 1988 holders of escrow funds should remit payment of property taxes within 90 days of receipt of the tax bills but that the 60-day limitation in subdivision (a)(3) would apply in 1989 and thereafter.

Publisher's Notes. Acts 1987, No. 739, § 2, provided that the act was applicable to taxes payable in 1988 and thereafter.

Case Notes

Dower Rights.

Life Tenants.

Parents.

Dower Rights.

Surviving husband occupying land under dower right was under duty to pay taxes, and where he permitted land to be forfeited to state for taxes, a purchase from the state by his son-in-law, who permitted his father-in-law to continue to occupy the land with him, there being other evidence of close relationship, amounted to a mere redemption, and interests in land remained as they were before the tax forfeiture. Smith v. Davis, 200 Ark. 547, 140 S.W.2d 126 (1940).

Life Tenants.

Where statute imposed upon the life tenant the duty to pay taxes and daughter occupied property with her mother, who was life tenant, with free rent, after death of mother, daughter was not entitled to be reimbursed for taxes paid by her upon partition of real estate. Kelley v. Acker, 216 Ark. 867, 228 S.W.2d 49 (1950).

Since it is the duty of grantees of life tenant to keep taxes paid on lands so held, a purchase of a tax title resulting from failure to pay the taxes amounted to merely a redemption and did not give them title in fee. Hutchison v. Sheppard, 225 Ark. 14, 279 S.W.2d 33 (1955).

The duty to pay taxes under the statute applies to life tenants, who are charged with the responsibility of paying taxes on land, and persons who live with a life tenant, rent free. Acord v. Acord, 70 Ark. App. 409, 19 S.W.3d 644 (2000).

Parents.

Father is required to pay taxes on land of his minor children, and where he allows the land to become delinquent and sold for taxes, a conveyance to the father from one purchasing from state amounts to a redemption and title remains in the children. Dedmon v. Hawkins, 211 Ark. 840, 203 S.W.2d 183 (1947).

26-35-302. Life tenants and remaindermen.

If any person who shall be seized of lands for life shall neglect to pay the taxes thereon so long that the lands shall be sold for the payment of the taxes and shall not within one (1) year after the sale redeem them according to law, the person shall forfeit to the persons next entitled to the land in remainder or reversion all the estate which he, so neglecting as indicated, may have in the lands. The remainderman or reversioner may redeem the lands in the same manner that other lands may be redeemed after being sold for taxes. The person, so neglecting as indicated, shall be liable in an action to the next entitled to the estate for all damages that person may have sustained by the neglect.

History. Acts 1883, No. 114, § 165, p. 199; C. & M. Dig., § 10054; Pope's Dig., § 13813; A.S.A. 1947, § 84-925.

Case Notes

Applicability.

Forfeiture.

Life Tenants.
Redemption.
Remaindermen.

Applicability.

Where one brother purchased another brother's undivided one-third interest in lands from a stranger who had purchased the interest at a tax sale, this section does not apply in that the brothers were tenants in common. Luster v. Arnold, 249 Ark. 152, 458 S.W.2d 414 (1970).

Forfeiture.

A life tenant does not forfeit his estate where he procures another to purchase the land at the tax sale for his benefit. Swan v. Rainey, 59 Ark. 364, 27 S.W. 240 (1894); Mercantile Trust Co. v. Adams, 95 Ark. 333, 129 S.W. 1101 (1910).

A void tax sale does not work a forfeiture of the estate of a life tenant. Magness v. Harris, 80 Ark. 583, 98 S.W. 362 (1906); Champion v. Williams, 165 Ark. 328, 264 S.W. 972 (1924); Kory v. Less, 180 Ark. 342, 22 S.W.2d 25 (1929); Miller v. Whyte, 194 Ark. 203, 106 S.W.2d 207 (1937). A widow does not forfeit her life estate in husband's homestead through failure to pay taxes where she redeems the land before the question is raised. Hill v. Schultz, 181 Ark. 719, 27 S.W.2d 512 (1930).

Where proof on issue as to validity of tax sale was insufficient on appeal to pass on the question, chancellor's finding that life estate should not be forfeited raised a presumption that he regarded the tax sales under which remainderman claimed forfeiture as void or voidable. Beloate v. Less, 193 Ark. 907, 103 S.W.2d 633 (1937).

Equity had jurisdiction to declare forfeiture of life estate in realty at suit of remainderman who purchased realty from drainage district to which it was sold under foreclosure decree enforcing the district's lien for taxes; this decree protected remainderman's rights and did no harm to life tenant who had already lost title by failing to redeem. Higginbotham v. Harper, 206 Ark. 210, 174 S.W.2d 668 (1943).

Life Tenants.

This section has reference to a life tenant whose duty it is to pay the taxes; it has no applicability where occupancy and use of property during a wife's natural life is given to her by a decree in divorce action, where she is not under obligation to pay taxes. Miller v. Whyte, 194 Ark. 203, 106 S.W.2d 207 (1937).

Duty rests upon life tenant to pay all general taxes and all special assessments to protect his own interest and that of the remaindermen. Higginbotham v. Harper, 206 Ark. 210, 174 S.W.2d 668 (1943).

Redemption.

Where a life tenant permits lands to forfeit to the state for the nonpayment of taxes but later purchases the land from the state, the remainderman, not having redeemed, loses his right to work a forfeiture of the life estate by himself redeeming the land. Galloway v. Battaglia, 133 Ark. 441, 202 S.W. 836 (1918).

Life tenant cannot acquire the interest of the remainderman in realty by failure to discharge duty to pay taxes, thus permitting realty to be forfeited to the state, and then taking a conveyance from one who, at his request, purchases it from the state, as such purchases will be regarded as redemptions. Higginbotham v. Harper, 206 Ark. 210, 174 S.W.2d 668 (1943).

Where life tenant fails to redeem land from taxes, redemption from taxes by remainderman is for the benefit of all remaindermen. Smith v. Kappler, 220 Ark. 10, 245 S.W.2d 809 (1952).

Where life tenant purchased an outstanding drainage district tax title to the land, this purchase amounted only to a redemption, as it was her duty to pay taxes and special assessments. Wheeler v. Harris, 232 Ark. 469, 339 S.W.2d 99 (1960).

Remaindermen.

One who enters lands under a void sale is a trespasser, and the statute of limitations does not run against the remaindermen until the expiration of the life estate. Jones v. Fowler, 171 Ark. 594, 285 S.W. 363 (1926).

One whose color of title is derived from a deed from a life tenant, purporting to convey a fee simple, and who pays taxes during the life of the life tenant, does not affect the title of the remainderman because a failure to pay taxes would result in a forfeiture of the life estate. Bradley

Lumber Co. v. Burbridge, 213 Ark. 165, 210 S.W.2d 284 (1948).

26-35-303. Joint tenant ownership of property.

(a) In all cases where any tract of land may be owned by two (2) or more persons as joint tenants, coparceners, or tenants in common, and one (1) or more proprietors shall have paid the tax or tax and penalty charged on his proportion of the tract, or one (1) or more of the remaining proprietors shall have failed to pay his proportion of his tax or tax and penalty charged on the land and partition of the land has or shall be made between them, then the tax or tax and penalty, paid as indicated, shall be deemed to have been paid on the proportion of the tract set off to the proprietor who paid his proportion of the tax or tax and penalty, and the proprietor so paying the tax or tax and penalty, as indicated, shall hold the proportion of the tract set off to him, as indicated, free from the residue of the tax or tax and penalty charged on the tract before partition, and the proportion of the tract set off to the proprietor who shall not have paid his proportion of the tax or tax and penalty, remaining unpaid, shall be charged with the tax or tax and penalty in the same manner as if the partition had been made before the tax or tax and penalty, had been assessed.

(b) Whenever any land so held by tenants in common shall be sold upon proceedings in partition or shall be taken by the election of any of the parties to such proceedings, or when any real estate shall be sold at judicial sale, or any administrator's, executor's, guardian's, or trustee's sale, the court shall order the taxes and penalties and the interest thereon, against the lands to be discharged out of the proceeds of the sale or election.

Case Notes

Construction.

Judicial Sales.

Taxes.

Construction.

This section was copied from an Ohio statute, and it is presumed that the General Assembly adopted the interpretation of it theretofore made by the Ohio court of last resort. Miners' Bank v. Churchill, 156 Ark. 191, 245 S.W. 829 (1922).

This section, being in derogation of the common law, must be strictly construed. McIlroy v. Fugitt, 182 Ark. 1017, 33 S.W.2d 719, 73 A.L.R. 1223 (1930).

Judicial Sales.

Subsection (b) of this section relates to all judicial sales and not merely to sales in partition proceedings. Miners' Bank v. Churchill, 156 Ark. 191, 245 S.W. 829 (1922).

On a judicial sale the taxes are required to be satisfied from the proceeds, and if mortgagee, between date of decree of foreclosure and date of sale, paid taxes on land to preserve its interest, it should have secured reimbursement by amending its complaint in the case and could not recover for the taxes so paid from the purchaser at the foreclosure sale after confirmation of the sale. Quarry Sav. Bank & Trust Co. v. First Nat'l Bank, 185 Ark. 433, 47 S.W.2d 802 (1932).

Taxes.

This section, providing for payment of taxes out of proceeds, has reference to the date of the sale, meaning the day on which the land is bid in by the purchaser and not to the confirmation. It is not essential that original decree directing foreclosure should contain direction for such payment; rather, the court may direct payment at any time before the fund is disbursed. Miners' Bank v. Churchill, 156 Ark. 191, 245 S.W. 829 (1922).

The word "taxes" as used in this section refers to the general revenues of the state and not to local assessments. McIlroy v. Fugitt, 182 Ark. 1017, 33 S.W.2d 719, 73 A.L.R. 1223 (1930).

Subchapter 4 — Liability of Fiduciaries

26-35-401. Liability generally.

26-35-402. Preference of reimbursement claims.

Effective Dates. Acts 1883, No. 114, § 226: effective on passage.

26-35-401. Liability generally.

(a) Every person holding lands as guardian, executor, or administrator and neglecting or refusing to list or pay the taxes upon them, in the manner indicated, shall be liable to an action by his ward or devisee for any damage sustained by his neglect.

(b) Every person having the care of lands as agent or attorney as indicated having funds of the principal in his hands, for such purpose, and neglecting or refusing to list or pay the taxes on the lands shall be liable in an action to his principal for any damage the principal may have sustained by his neglect or refusal.

26-35-402. Preference of reimbursement claims.

Every attorney, agent, guardian, executor, or administrator seized or having the care of lands, as indicated, who shall be put to any trouble or expense in listing or paying the taxes on the lands, shall be allowed a reasonable compensation for the time spent, the expenses incurred, and money advanced as indicated, which shall be deemed in all courts a just charge against the person for whose benefit the services shall have been advanced. The claim shall be preferred to all other debts or claims and be a lien on the real estate as well as the personal estate of the person for whose benefit the services shall have been advanced.

Case Notes

Creation of Liens.

Priority of Liens.

Creation of Liens.

One who executed a note to his agent for money advanced in paying taxes on his land, in which he declared that he recognized the existence of a statutory lien, did not thereby create a lien where none existed by statute. Peay v. Feild, 30 Ark. 600 (1875) (decision under prior law).

To entitle an agent or attorney to a lien for taxes paid, he must show that he was seized of, or had care of, the land. Peay v. Feild, 30 Ark. 600 (1875); Belleclair Planting Co. v. Hall, 125 Ark. 203, 188 S.W. 574 (1916) (decision under prior law).

Voluntary payment of taxes on another's land by a stranger without any interest therein, in absence of the relationship of agent or attorney, creates no lien. New York Life Ins. Co. v. Nichol, 170 Ark. 791, 281 S.W. 21 (1926); Person v. Cogbill, 180 Ark. 664, 22 S.W.2d 161 (1929). A bank lending money to executors to pay taxes could have the estate's real property sold to foreclose a lien therefor, though the executors did not execute a mortgage to secure the loan. Christian v. People's Trust Co., 185 Ark. 55, 45 S.W.2d 857 (1932).

Priority of Liens.

Lien of a mortgagee, executed by owners of land after taxes had been paid by agent at owner's request, is superior to agent's lien. First Nat'l Bank v. Polk, 171 Ark. 543, 284 S.W. 769 (1926). This section does not subrogate an agent paying taxes on lands to lien of state, but only gives lien to agent against owner. First Nat'l Bank v. Polk, 171 Ark. 543, 284 S.W. 769 (1926).

26-35-501. Time to pay — Installments.

(a) (1) All ad valorem taxes levied on real and personal property by the several county courts of the state when assembled for the purpose of levying taxes, except taxes on the property of utilities and carriers and all ad valorem taxes on real property held in escrow, shall be due and payable on and from the first business day in March to and including October 10 in the year succeeding the year in which the levy is made.

(2) (A) Every taxpayer other than a utility or carrier shall have the option to pay the taxes on real property of the taxpayer in installments as follows:

(i) The first installment of one-fourth ($\frac{1}{4}$) of the amount of the taxes shall be payable on and from the third Monday in February to and including the third Monday in April;

(ii) A second installment of one-fourth ($\frac{1}{4}$) or a first installment of one-half ($\frac{1}{2}$) if no payment was made before the third Monday in April shall be payable on and from the third Monday in April to and including the third Monday in July; and

(iii) The third installment of one-half ($\frac{1}{2}$) shall be payable on and from the third Monday in July to and including October 10.

(B) A taxpayer who does not submit installment payments in compliance with this schedule shall be deemed to have waived the option to pay in installments.

(b) All ad valorem taxes levied on the real and personal property of utilities and carriers shall be due and payable as follows:

(1) One-fourth ($\frac{1}{4}$) shall be due and payable on and from the third Monday in February to and including the third Monday in April;

(2) One-fourth ($\frac{1}{4}$) shall be due and payable on and from the third Monday in April to and including the second Monday in June; and

(3) One-half ($\frac{1}{2}$) shall be due and payable on and from the third Monday in April to and including October 10 in the year succeeding the year in which the levy is made.

(c) (1) It shall be the duty of the county collectors of the respective counties to assess a penalty of ten percent (10%) against all unpaid tax balances remaining after October 10 for every taxpayer other than a utility or carrier or after the prescribed dates listed in subsection (b) of this section for utilities and carriers.

(2) (A) No taxpayer paying in installments under subdivision (a)(2) of this section shall be assessed a penalty until such taxes become due and remain unpaid after October 10.

(B) However, if the last day for the payment of taxes on any installment is a Saturday, Sunday, or postal holiday, the last day to pay taxes without a penalty is the following business day.

(3) (A) A property tax balance payment is timely received under this subsection if mailed through the United States Postal Service and postmarked by October 10.

(B) If October 10 is a Saturday, Sunday, or postal holiday, a property tax balance payment is timely received if mailed and postmarked through the United States Postal Service the following business day.

Publisher's Notes. Acts 1977 (Ex. Sess.), No. 20, § 2, provided that the General Assembly finds that a general state of confusion exists regarding the assessment of a delinquency penalty on the payment of real and personal property taxes, that it is the intent and purpose of this act that no taxpayer, regardless of choice of installment or single payment method, shall be assessed a ten percent (10%) delinquency penalty on any unpaid real or personal property tax balance except those balances remaining after the tenth day of October in the year in which the tax is due and payable, and that it is the intent of this act that any delinquency penalty will be assessed only against the unpaid tax balance remaining after the tenth day of October.

Amendments. The 2003 amendment replaced "third Monday in February" with "first business day in March" in (a)(1); inserted the subdivision designations in (c)(2); in present (c)(2)(B), inserted "postal holiday" and substituted "last day to pay taxes without a penalty is the following business day" for "taxes shall become due and payable without penalty the following Monday"; and made minor stylistic and related changes.

The 2007 amendment added (c)(3).

Construction.

Dates for Payment.

Construction.

This section, considered as a whole, is not ambiguous. Tolleson v. McMillan, 192 Ark. 111, 90 S.W.2d 990 (1936).

Dates for Payment.

If a taxpayer wishes to pay in instalments without penalty, he must do so within the times limited in this section, and if he wishes to pay the entire amount at one time without penalty, he must do so on or before the third Monday in April. Tolleson v. McMillan, 192 Ark. 111, 90 S.W.2d 990 (1936).

Property agreement providing that the family home would be sold and that net proceeds were to be paid to the wife was construed so that husband had to pay mortgage payment, taxes, and special assessments which were due and payable upon the day of the sale. Jones v. Jones, 236 Ark. 296, 365 S.W.2d 716 (1963).

Summary judgment was properly awarded to property owners in an action by a municipal water improvement district to collect delinquent municipal improvement district taxes where the foreclosure action was barred by the three-year statute of limitations; because subsection (a) of this section specified that the first installment of the general taxes was to be payable on and from the third Monday in February to and including the third Monday in April, the three-year statute of limitations began to run 90 days after the third Monday in April 2001, well before the district filed its foreclosure action on October 1, 2004. Vimy Ridge Mun. Water Improvement Dist. No. 139 v. Ryles, 373 Ark. 366, 284 S.W.3d 70 (2008).

26-35-502. Means of payment.

The county taxes of any county of this state levied in pursuance of law shall only be payable in the lawful currency of the United States or scrip or warrants of the county by whose authority they were issued, drawn in pursuance of law and not inconsistent with this act.

History. Acts 1879, No. 77, § 11, p. 109; C. & M. Dig., § 1988; Pope's Dig., § 2533; A.S.A. 1947, § 84-927.

Publisher's Notes. Acts 1879, No. 77, § 14, provided that nothing in the act shall be so construed as to enlarge the functions or powers of the County Court of Sebastian County as under existing laws.

Meaning of "this act". Acts 1879, No. 77, codified as §§ 14-20-103, 14-20-104, 14-20-114, and 26-35-502.

26-35-503. Interest on public debt.

The tax levied to pay the interest on the public debt shall be collected in the United States currency and paid into the State Treasury in the currency collected.

History. Acts 1883, No. 114, § 112, p. 199; C. & M. Dig., § 10044; Pope's Dig., § 13803; A.S.A. 1947, § 84-928.

26-35-504. Payment by warrants.

(a) The collector of each county in the State of Arkansas shall receive county warrants in payment of county taxes, and the orders or warrants that may be payable on presentation of any town or city for their respective taxes.

(b) This section shall not be so construed as to compel the collector to accept any order or warrant that is by the laws of this state required to be refunded.

Warrants Receivable.

Constitutionality.

This section was held impliedly repealed by Ark. Const. Amend. 11 (now incorporated in Ark. Const., Art. 14, § 3). Arkansas Power & Light Co. v. Curlin, 187 Ark. 562, 61 S.W.2d 73 (1933). The reenactment of this section in 1935 did not free it of the constitutional objection that it offends against Ark. Const. Amend. 11 (now incorporated in Ark. Const., Art. 14, § 3), insofar as it relates to the payment of school taxes with school warrants. McCall v. Armstrong, 199 Ark. 1131, 137 S.W.2d 241 (1940).

Reenactment of this section in 1935 evidenced the legislative intent to reenact so much of this section, as it stood prior thereto, as was constitutional, and those provisions permitting the use of county, city, and town warrants to pay taxes due counties, cities, or towns, respectively, does not offend against Ark. Const. Amend. 11 (now incorporated in Ark. Const., Art. 14, § 3), which relates only to school taxes. McCall v. Armstrong, 199 Ark. 1131, 137 S.W.2d 241 (1940).

Fines, Penalties, Etc.

Under statute requiring fines, penalties, and forfeitures to be paid into the county treasury, fines, penalties, and forfeitures were to be treated as debts accruing to the county and were payable in county warrants. McKibben v. State, 31 Ark. 46 (1876); Lusk v. Perkins, 48 Ark. 238, 2 S.W. 847 (1887) (preceding decisions under prior law).

Manner of Payment.

Provision in § 89 of the Revenue Act of 1873, authorizing the payment of taxes with warrants issued by the state or any county, township, town, or city for their respective taxes, did not prohibit the receipt of other certificates for taxes, if otherwise authorized by law. English v. Oliver, 28 Ark. 317 (1873) (decision under prior law).

County collector could not refuse to take county scrip for taxes because barred by the statute of limitations, nor plead the statute as bar to a petition for mandamus to compel him to take it. Daniel v. Askew, 36 Ark. 487 (1880); Whitthorne v. Jett, 39 Ark. 139 (1882) (preceding decisions under prior law).

Notwithstanding a county levying court, in levying a special tax to build a new courthouse, ordered it to be "receivable only in currency or proper warrants drawn by proper order on the courthouse fund," a tax levied for such purpose could be paid in county warrants drawn upon funds appropriated for ordinary county purposes. Stillwell v. Jackson, 77 Ark. 250, 93 S.W. 71 (1905).

Municipal ordinance providing for payment of a tax "in cash" will be construed to mean either in money or in municipal orders, warrants, or scrip. Arkansas Pub. Util. Co. v. Incorporated Town of Heber Springs, 151 Ark. 249, 235 S.W. 999 (1921).

One receiving judgment for face value of county warrant against a county cannot, by mandamus, require county authorities to collect a portion of the county taxes in cash instead of in county warrants, since the taxpayer can pay taxes in either cash or warrants. United States ex rel. Jensen v. Criner, 283 F. 774 (8th Cir. 1922).

Neither the federal nor the state courts can require a county to levy a tax payable in currency to satisfy a judgment rendered against it on county warrants. Slayton v. Crittenden County, 284 F. 858 (E.D. Ark. 1922).

Redemption.

On redemption of land sold to state for taxes, county treasurer is required to accept county warrants for portion of taxes owing the county. Bradford v. Burrow, 188 Ark. 380, 65 S.W.2d 554 (1933).

Special Law.

Acts 1917, No. 94, providing for the registration of warrants of Johnson County by treasurer and for their redemption by him in order of their presentation did not, expressly or impliedly, prohibit their acceptance by collector in payment of taxes. Bartlett v. Willis, 147 Ark. 374, 227 S.W. 596 (1921).

Warrants Receivable.

Where county warrants tendered in payment of taxes levied to pay county indebtedness existing at the adoption of the Arkansas Constitution of 1874 afforded no evidence that the allowance upon which they were issued was for county indebtedness prior to the adoption of the constitution, and were subsequent thereto, and drawn upon fund appropriated for county expenditures, collector was to refuse them. Loftin v. Watson, 32 Ark. 414 (1877); Hughes v. Ross, 38 Ark. 275 (1881) (preceding decisions under prior law).

A warrant issued in payment of a claim before it is due is not receivable for taxes until the claim is due. Vale v. Buchanan, 98 Ark. 299, 135 S.W. 848 (1911).

26-35-505. Collector to receive warrants at par.

(a) No county collector or deputy county collector shall, either directly or indirectly, contract for or purchase any orders or warrants issued by the county of which he is collector, or any state warrants, town orders, or the orders or warrants of any city, town, or other body politic for which he is the collector of taxes, at any discount whatever upon the sum due on those orders or warrants.

(b) If any collector or deputy collector, directly or indirectly, contracts for, purchases, or procures any orders or warrants at any discount whatever upon the sum for which they are respectively issued, he shall not be allowed, on settlement, the amount of the warrants or orders, or any part thereof, and shall also forfeit the whole amount due on the warrants or orders and the sum of one hundred dollars ($100) for each and every breach of the provisions of this section, to be recovered in a civil action at the suit of the state for the use of the county.

(c) (1) The Treasurer of State or the person to whom the county collector of any county is required to return the state, county, city, town, village, school, or road tax is, respectively, prohibited from receiving from any county collector any warrants, orders, or bonds in payment of taxes collected by him or his deputies unless with the warrants, orders, or bonds, the county collector shall file his affidavit with the Treasurer of State or the person entitled to receive the tax, stating therein that all warrants, orders, and bonds were received at their par value and that he has faithfully performed his duties as prescribed in this section.

(2) Whoever swears falsely in this affidavit is guilty of perjury and, upon conviction, shall be punished by confinement in the state penitentiary for not less than one (1) nor more than three (3) years.

History. Acts 1869, No. 40, § 2, p. 92; C. & M. Dig., § 10048; Pope's Dig., § 13807; A.S.A. 1947, § 84-930.

26-35-506. Credit cards.

(a) All county collectors may accept payment of county property taxes, penalties, and associated costs by an approved credit card or debit card.

(b) (1) As authorized by subsection (a) of this section, all county collectors may enter into contracts with credit card companies and may pay the fees normally charged by those companies for allowing the county collector to accept their cards as payment.

(2) (A) When a taxpayer pays his or her property taxes by an approved credit card, the county collector shall assess a service fee equal to the amount charged to the county collector by the credit card issuer.

(B) This charge may be added to and become part of any underlying obligation.

26-35-601. Personal property taxes to be collected with real estate taxes.

(a) Each county collector in this state shall be charged with the responsibility of collecting personal property taxes shown to be due by the taxpayer as reflected by the records in the county collector's office at the time the taxpayer pays the general taxes due on real estate.

(b) Any county collector willfully accepting payment of general real estate taxes without requiring the payment of personal property taxes due as reflected by the records in the county collector's office shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be fined in a sum not less than twenty-five dollars ($25.00) nor more than one hundred dollars ($100).

(c) (1) Except as provided in subdivisions (c)(2)-(4) of this section, it is the intention of this section to require the collection of personal property taxes as reflected by the records in the office of the county collector and to prevent a taxpayer from paying and the county collector from receiving payment of general real estate taxes without payment of personal property taxes if any personal property taxes are shown to be due.

(2) The provisions of this section shall not prevent any person, firm, partnership, or corporation from paying general real estate taxes on property securing the payment of indebtedness due the person, firm, partnership, or corporation seeking to pay the taxes.

(3) Notwithstanding the other provisions of this section, a county collector shall accept payment of general real estate taxes on a parcel of property at the time the ownership of the property is being transferred if the taxpayer transferring title to the property has paid all delinquent personal property taxes.

(4) Furthermore, a purchaser in a foreclosure sale shall not be responsible for the payment of the personal property taxes required to be paid by this section.

26-35-602. Tax money to be kept in separate account.

(a) (1) The Director of the Division of Local Affairs and Audits of the Division of Legislative Audit shall require every county collector of taxes to keep any and all tax money collected in a separate account from all other money which the county collector may have in his or her possession.

(2) A county collector shall have no authority to check on this account except in favor of a treasurer or depository to whom he or she is required to pay the money or to himself or herself for commission or salary already earned.

(b) (1) (A) Failure to comply with this section on the part of a county collector shall be a violation and shall render him or her liable to a penalty of not less than twenty-five dollars ($25.00).

(B) Each day's failure shall be considered a separate offense.

(2) Upon finding that public funds and private funds are being jointly deposited or improperly disbursed under this section, the director shall notify immediately the bondsmen of the offending officer and the public of the violation.

Amendments. The 2005 amendment substituted "violation" for "misdemeanor" in (b)(1); and made gender neutral changes throughout.

26-35-603. Moneys paid over upon resignation.

(a) (1) Any collector who shall resign, be removed, or be disqualified shall pay over all moneys, which may be in his hands, due the state, county, city, town, or school district, to his successor in office and take duplicate receipts therefor.

(2) One of the receipts shall be filed with the clerk of the county court and the other retained by the collector.

(b) The county clerk shall certify to the Auditor of the State the amount of the receipt, and it shall be the duty of the collector charged therewith to pay it into the treasury in the same manner and at the same time as regular revenues are to be paid.

(c) In the receipts, it shall be specified particularly on what account the moneys mentioned were received, whether from taxes or from other sources.

26-35-604. Death of collector — Duties of successor.

(a) Whenever any collector dies after he has received the tax books for any year and before he has collected the taxes charged therein, his legal representative shall hand at once to his successor, as soon as he is appointed and qualified, the tax books and pay at once all moneys, less his commission, which have been collected by the deceased collector from all sources then in his hands.

(b) (1) The new collector shall execute receipts in triplicate, to be attested by the clerk of the county court, for the tax books so delivered and showing the amount already collected upon them and the amount uncollected.

(2) (A) The new collector shall also execute receipts in triplicate for the amount of taxes collected by the deceased collector from all sources and paid over to him by the executor or administrator, one (1) of which shall be certified by the clerk to the Auditor of State, who shall charge the new collector with the balance of the state taxes due on the tax book and the amount paid over to him by the executor or administrator of the deceased collector.

(B) Another receipt shall be filed with the county clerk, who shall charge the new collector with the balance of taxes due on the tax books and with the amount paid over by the executor or administrator.

(c) The third receipt shall be given to the executor or administrator of the deceased collector.

26-35-605. Extension of time.

(a) The Governor may, by proclamation, extend the time when the penalty shall attach for making distraint, returning delinquent list, advertising and selling delinquent lands, making settlement and paying over the revenue, and for the performance of any other duty by the collectors so that the taxpayer may have the same time to pay the taxes and the collector have the same time to perform the duties of his office as allowed by law in case the failure or vacancy had not occurred.

(b) The Governor shall, in his proclamation, fix the time for the performance of the acts mentioned in this section. A copy shall be filed in the office of the county clerk and recorded in the records of the court by the clerk.

(c) The proclamation shall be published in some newspaper in the county for two (2) weeks if a newspaper is published therein.

(d) All acts and duties performed in the time fixed in the proclamation shall be as valid and binding as if performed in the time fixed by the general law.

26-35-606. Collection of real and personal property taxes.

(a) Any county tax collector may contract with one (1) or more financial institutions to act as his agents to receive real and personal property tax payments on his behalf.

(b) Tax payments received under a contract as provided for in this section shall be collected at the same time and in the same manner as all other property tax payments, and no payments shall be collected after the last payment day established by law.

(c) A financial institution receiving tax payments under a contract as provided for in this section, shall, on the first working day of each week, transmit to the county collector all property taxes received during the preceding week.

(d) As used in this section, "financial institution" means any organization or enterprise which receives deposits and forwards checks, drafts, or orders for collection and which is subject to state or federal regulation.

(e) Nothing in this section shall permit a tax collector to make any payment to a financial institution for receiving real and personal property taxes as provided in this section.

Effective Dates. Acts 1929, No. 40, § 5: approved Feb. 21, 1929. Emergency clause provided: "It is ascertained and hereby declared that on account of the extreme bad weather on some of the days during the time of collection of taxes it is a hardship on the collector, and inconvenient for him to be in each township at specified times, and on account of this condition very few persons appear in the townships to pay their taxes, but if the collector remains at the county site, or sites, the taxpayers may select their time between the 1st of January and April 10th, to pay their taxes; therefore, an immediate operation of this Act is essential for a protection of the public safety and convenience, and an emergency is therefore declared, and this Act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage."

Acts 1931, No. 324, § 6: became law without Governor's signature, Apr. 2, 1931. Emergency clause provided: "It is ascertained and hereby declared that on account of the extreme bad weather on some of the days during the time of collection of taxes it is a hardship on the collector, and inconvenient for him to be in each township at specified times, and on account of this condition very few persons appear in the townships to pay their taxes, but if the collector remains at the county site, or sites, the taxpayers may select their time between the 1st of January and April 10th, to pay their taxes; therefore, an immediate operation of this Act is essential for a protection of the public safety and convenience, and an emergency is therefore declared, and this Act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage."

Acts 1969, No. 234, § 3: became law without Governor's signature, Mar. 11, 1969. Emergency clause provided: "It is hereby found and determined by the General Assembly that the requirement that the collector visit the various townships or precincts in his county for the purpose of collecting taxes is burdensome and costly; that with the present modes of rapid transportation this procedure is no longer necessary and causes undue inconvenience to the collector and to the taxpayers of the county; and that in order to remedy this situation, it is necessary that this Act become effective immediately. Therefore, an emergency is hereby declared to exist and this Act, being necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety, shall become effective from and after its passage and approval." Approved: March 11, 1969.

Acts 1987, No. 324, § 3: Mar. 19, 1987. Emergency clause provided: "It is hereby found and determined by the General Assembly that many county tax collectors mail tax statements as a courtesy to taxpayers; that they should be allowed to recover the expense of processing and mailing the statements; that this Act allows for the recovery of those expenses and should be given effect immediately so that it may be implemented as soon as possible. Therefore, an emergency is hereby declared to exist and this Act being immediately necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health and safety shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage and approval."

Acts 1989, No. 372, § 4: Mar. 7, 1989. Emergency clause provided: "It is hereby found and determined by the General Assembly that sheriffs and collectors should mail tax statements no later than July 1 of each year; and that unless this emergency clause is adopted this Act may not go into effect before July 1 of this year, but it should go into effect as soon as possible in order to give notice to the sheriffs and collectors at the earliest date of requirements of this law. Therefore, an emergency is hereby declared to exist and this Act being immediately necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health and safety shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage and approval."

Acts 1993, No. 791, § 10: Mar. 30, 1993. Emergency clause provided: "It is hereby found and determined by the General Assembly that the laws relating to the collection, redemption and sale of tax delinquent real property are in need of clarification; that Arkansas Courts have repeatedly voided tax deeds in instances where the county has not strictly complied with statutes; that such holdings have placed a cloud on tax deeds issued by the Commissioner of State Lands; that the present method whereby the Commissioner of State Lands disposes of tax delinquent land meets due process requirements; consequently, when the Commissioner of State Lands complies with the statutes set forth for his office to follow, tax deeds issued should not be void or voidable due to defects in the county procedure, except in cases where taxes have actually been paid. Further, the present situation has a chilling effect on the collection of taxes and encourages the nonpayment of taxes. Therefore, an emergency is hereby declared to exist and this act being necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage and approval.”

26-35-703. Discontinuance of township visits.

(a) In all counties, including those having two (2) or more levying courts or two (2) or more judicial districts, in which the collector is required by law to visit each precinct or township in the county for the purpose of collecting taxes due, the collector shall not be required to make these visits but shall publish notice and collect the taxes as provided by § 26-35-702.

(b) In any county where the collector is required to go to the various townships, he shall publish a notice in a newspaper stating that his visits to the several townships will be discontinued. The notice shall state where the taxes may be paid, and, where there are two (2) or more county sites, the notice shall advise the dates upon which taxes may be paid at the respective sites.

Notice.

Tax forfeiture sale of the real property of a nonresident landowner was approved because the landowner moved its corporate office from Illinois to California and did not notify the Commissioner of State Lands of the change of address as required; thus, when the Commissioner mailed the landowner notice of the delinquency and notice of the tax forfeiture sale to the landowner's old address, and published notice in newspapers, the Commissioner performed all the acts that it was required to perform. Tsann Kuen Enters. Co. v. Campbell, 355 Ark. 110, 129 S.W.3d 822 (2003).

The Commissioner of State Lands provided adequate notice to a prior owner of a tax deficiency and tax sale as required by § 26-37-301 where there was some confusion at the county level as to the last known address, the commissioner mailed the notice to the address certified by the county, and the former owner had not furnished its correct address as required by this section. Mays v. St. Pat Props., LLC, 357 Ark. 482, 182 S.W.3d 84 (2004), cert. denied, 543 U.S. 943, 125 S. Ct. 353 (2004).

Although this section provided strong support for the argument by the Commissioner of State Lands that mailing a certified letter to a property owner at the property's address was reasonable, it did not alter the reasonableness of the Commissioner's position that he was not required to do more when the notice was promptly returned "unclaimed." *Jones v. (a) Every county tax collector who mails tax statements may charge the taxpayers a postage fee not to exceed the cost of first-class postage to defray the expense of processing and mailing tax statements.

(b) The postage fee shall be noted on each tax statement and shall be paid at the same time or before the tax is paid.

(c) The taxpayer's receipt shall include the amount of postage fee paid.

(d) (1) Postage fees received shall be accounted for on the collector's final settlement.

(2) The collector may use the fees to purchase postage, and any amount of fees collected in any month which are not used for the purchase of postage that month shall be deposited into the county general fund.

Refunds Not Allowed.

County Court.

Circuit court was without jurisdiction and the claim against the county, tax assessor, city, and school district should have been filed in county court, pursuant to Ark. Const., Art. 7, § 28, because the taxpayers alleged that an erroneous assessment occurred for which they sought a refund of property taxes. Muldoon v. Martin, 103 Ark. App. 64, 286 S.W.3d 201 (2008).

Errors of Taxpayer.

To refund taxes “erroneously” paid refers to assessments that deviate from law and are invalid for jurisdictional defects, and not to a case where a taxpayer neglects to deduct credits to which he is entitled. Ritchie Grocer Co. v. Texarkana, 182 Ark. 137, 30 S.W.2d 213 (1930).

Refunds Allowed.

Taxes illegally collected may be recovered. Magnolia v. Sharman & Co., 46 Ark. 358 (1885). A taxpayer who pays taxes in excess of what is due under a void order of county court has a remedy under this section to recover the excess payment. First Nat'l Bank v. Norris, 113 Ark. 138, 167 S.W. 481 (1914).

Proceeding of taxpayers for a refund is proper when a double assessment is unauthorized and erroneous. Paschal v. Munsey, 168 Ark. 58, 268 S.W. 849 (1925).

Refunds Not Allowed.

This section does not apply to an excessive valuation placed on property by a board of equalization. Clay County v. Brown Lumber Co., 90 Ark. 413, 119 S.W. 251 (1909); First Nat'l Bank v. Norris, 113 Ark. 138, 167 S.W. 481 (1914).

Where a corporation's personal property was assessed in two different counties because of its failure to assess it, the corporation cannot complain of double taxation. Beal-Doyle Dry Goods Co. v. Beller, 105 Ark. 370, 150 S.W. 1033 (1912).

Section held not to apply to special road tax on lands belonging to nonresidents. Walton v. Arkansas County, 153 Ark. 285, 239 S.W. 1054 (1922).

If tax is voluntarily paid, excess amount cannot be recovered. Williams v. Miller Levee Dist., 179 Ark. 299, 15 S.W.2d 986 (1929).

26-35-902. Award of attorneys' fees — Disposition of residual funds.

(a) It is the public policy of this state that circuit and chancery courts may, in meritorious litigation brought under Arkansas Constitution, Article 16, § 13, in which the court orders any county, city, or town to refund or return to taxpayers moneys illegally exacted by the county, city, or town, apportion a reasonable part of the recovery of the class members to attorneys of record and order the return or refund of the balance to the members of the class represented.

(b) If, after expiration of a reasonable period of time for the filing of claims for the illegally exacted moneys as ordered by the court, residual funds exist, said residual funds shall be deemed abandoned and escheat to the county, city, or town which exacted same.

History. Acts 1977, No. 822, § 1; A.S.A. 1947, § 84-4601; Acts 1993, No. 279, § 1.

Amendments. The 1993 amendment added (b); and inserted “of the class members” in (a).

Applicability.

This section clearly applies only to suits brought against counties, cities, or towns. Bahil v. Scribner, 265 Ark. 834, 581 S.W.2d 334 (1979).
Section held inapplicable to original decree entered before March 28, 1977. Powell v. Henry, 267 Ark. 484, 592 S.W.2d 107 (1980).
Attorney fees could not be awarded, in taxpayer's suit seeking an accounting and restitution of expense funds paid to a prosecuting attorney, since this section applies only to suits brought against any county, city, or town. Munson v. Abbott, 269 Ark. 441, 602 S.W.2d 649 (1980).
Where no refund of county or city money to taxpayers was ordered, this section did not apply. City of Hot Springs v. Creviston, 288 Ark. 286, 705 S.W.2d 415 (1986).
Attorney's fees are not to be allowed in an illegal exaction case in which no refund is sought. Hamilton v. Villines, 323 Ark. 492, 915 S.W.2d 271 (1996).
Where attorneys represented taxpayers in a class action lawsuit, the circuit court abused its discretion by applying the percentage of the attorneys' settlement fee against the settlement pool instead of the total amount claimed by the taxpayers. Butt v. Evans Law Firm, P.A., 351 Ark. 566, 98 S.W.3d 1 (2003).

Final Judgment.

Section 16-22-309 specifically requires that judgment for attorney's fees be included in the final judgment entered in the action, but no such requirement appears in this section. Stewart Title Guar. Co. v. Cassill, 41 Ark. App. 22, 847 S.W.2d 465 (1993).

Reconsideration.

Within 90 days after entry of order for attorneys' fees made by special judge, regular judge could vacate special judge's order and set matter down for reconsideration. Henry v. Powell, 262 Ark. 763, 561 S.W.2d 296 (1978).

Subchapter 11 — Disaster Relief Income Tax Check-Off Program

26-35-1101. Creation — Administration.

26-35-1102. Funding.

26-35-1103. Disaster Relief Program Trust Fund.

26-35-1104. Rules.

26-35-1101. Creation — Administration.

(a) (1) There is created the Arkansas Disaster Relief Program.

(2) The Revenue Division of the Department of Finance and Administration shall include on the Arkansas individual income tax forms, including those forms on which a husband and wife file separately on the same form and on all corporate income tax forms, a designation as follows:

(A) If you are entitled to a refund, check if you wish to designate $1, $5, $10, $20, $_____ (write in amount), or all refund due, of your tax refund for the Arkansas Disaster Relief Program. Your refund will be reduced by this amount.

(B) If you owe an additional amount, check if you wish to contribute an additional $1, $5, $10, $20, $_____ (write in amount) for the Arkansas Disaster Relief Program. If you wish to make a contribution to the program you must enclose a separate check for the amount of your contribution, payable to the Arkansas Disaster Relief Program.

(b) The Department of Finance and Administration shall quarterly certify to the Treasurer of State the amount contributed to the program through this state income tax checkoff during the quarter as authorized by this subchapter, and the Treasurer of State shall deduct from the Individual Income Tax Withholding Fund the amount so certified.

(c) The Director of the Department of Finance and Administration shall have the authority to promulgate all rules and regulations and all income tax forms, returns, and schedules necessary to carry out this program.

History. Acts 1997, No. 1181, § 1; 2007, No. 827, § 205.

Amendments. The 2007 amendment, in (a), inserted present (1), redesignated the former introductory language as (2), and redesignated the following subdivisions accordingly; and made minor punctuation changes.

26-35-1102. Funding.

The Director of the Department of Finance and Administration is authorized to accept any gifts, grants, bequests, devises, and donations made to the State of Arkansas for the purposes of funding the Arkansas Disaster Relief Program. The director shall deposit any of these gifts, grants, bequests, devises, and donations so received into the Arkansas Disaster Relief Program Trust Fund. These gifts, grants, bequests, devises, and donations shall be used together with any other funds appropriated for funding the program provided for in this subchapter. All gifts, grants, bequests, devises, and donations shall be deposited, disbursed, budgeted, and regulated under the procedures prescribed by the Chief Fiscal Officer of the State under § 19-4-807.

History. Acts 1997, No. 1181, § 2.

26-35-1103. Disaster Relief Program Trust Fund.

(a) (1) There is created on the books of the Treasurer of State, the Auditor of State, and the Chief Fiscal Officer of the State an Arkansas Disaster Relief Program Trust Fund to be used by the Arkansas Department of Emergency Management for disaster relief.

(2) The Treasurer of State shall credit to the fund the amount certified each quarter in accordance with § 26-35-1101.

(b) (1) The moneys credited to this fund shall be held as trust funds in interest-bearing accounts only.

(2) All interest earned shall be credited to the fund and shall be used only for the purposes of that fund.

(c) All funds deposited into the fund and all interest earned on deposits and the fund balance in the fund may be disbursed as appropriated in each fiscal year of the biennium for the program created by this subchapter.

History. Acts 1997, No. 1181, § 3; 1999, No. 646, § 66.

A.C.R.C. Notes. This section, codified in 1997, would normally have been assigned a second Code section number in another chapter or title as affecting also that chapter or title. The section has been codified as a single Code section pursuant to § 1-2-303.

26-35-1104. Rules.

(a) The Revenue Division of the Department of Finance and Administration may establish any rule to effectively carry out the revenue producing provisions of this subchapter.

(b) The Director of the Department of Finance and Administration may promulgate rules to carry out the provisions of this subchapter that allow the director to accept gifts, grants, bequests, devises, and donations.

History. Acts 1997, No. 1181, § 4; 2007, No. 827, § 206.

Amendments. The 2007 amendment substituted “Rules” for “Effective dates” in the section heading; and rewrote the section.

Preambles. Acts 1887, No. 13 contained a preamble which read:

“Whereas, 1ST. Lands have been sold to the State under proceedings purporting to have been had in the courts of this State by virtue of an Act of the General Assembly thereof entitled ‘An Act to enforce the payment of Overdue Taxes,’ approved March 12, 1881, when the taxes for the alleged nonpayment of which such lands were so sold under said proceedings and decrees of said courts, had been in fact paid prior to any such sales, proceedings or decrees of said courts; and,

“Whereas, 2D. Also the lands of many other persons were under like proceedings and decrees aforesaid had, by virtue of said act, sold to the State, where the owners thereof had paid taxes which they supposed were on such lands of their own, but which taxes so paid, owing to an erroneous description in the numbers of the same afterwards were ascertained to be on other lands than their own, and their lands sold to the State as aforesaid; and,

“Whereas, 3D. Said overdue tax act was a novel proceeding in this State that was productive of hardships in other respects, and it is but just to them that the owners of land at the time of such sale to the State, should have a limited time to redeem the same therefrom, without loss to the State, provided said lands shall not have been sold by the State prior to any such application to redeem;

“Now, therefore....”

Case Notes

Not Adopted by Ordinance.

Not Adopted by Ordinance.

Specific statute dealing with when special improvement taxes became delinquent, § 14-86-1204, was applicable to a municipal water improvement district's foreclosure action against a taxpayer because the District never adopted the general taxes provision of this section by an ordinance; thus, a portion of the District's foreclosure action was time barred. Wilkins & Assocs. v. Vimy Ridge Mun. Water Improvement Dist. No. 139, 373 Ark. 580, 285 S.W.3d 193 (2008).

26-36-202. Payment of delinquent taxes.

(a) No taxes returned delinquent shall be paid into the State Treasury except by the collector.

(b) It shall be the duty of the county clerk to add a penalty of ten percent (10%) upon all taxes returned delinquent, which shall be collected in the manner provided for the collection of delinquent taxes.

26-36-206. Distraint of goods to pay delinquent personal property taxes.

(a) At any time after October 10 in each year, after taxes may be due, the county collector shall distraint sufficient goods and chattels belonging to the person charged with taxes levied upon the personal property, to pay the taxes due upon the personal property of the person and a penalty of twenty-five percent (25%) thereon, which shall be collected by the county collector and paid into the county school fund, and the costs that may accrue, and shall immediately proceed to advertise it in three (3) public places in the county, stating the time when and the place where the property shall be sold.

(b) (1) If the taxes for which property is distrained, and costs which shall accrue thereon are not paid before the day appointed for sale, which shall not be less than ten (10) days after taking the property, the county collector shall proceed to sell the same at public vendue, or so much thereof as will be sufficient to pay the taxes and the costs of the distress and sale.

(2) The county collector shall not distraint any goods and chattels for taxes levied on real property, except as provided in § 26-3-204.

(c) (1) The county collector is authorized and empowered to levy on and sell the goods and chattels of the person liable for taxes provided, in the same manner and under the same restrictions as goods and chattels are required to be levied and sold under execution on judgment at law, when not inconsistent with the provisions of this subchapter.

(2) No goods and chattels of any person shall be exempt from levy and sale.

(d) The county collector is allowed the same fees for making distress and sale of goods and chattels for the payment of taxes which are allowed by law to the county sheriff for making levy and sale of property on execution under § 21-6-307 for each delinquent taxpayer.

(e) (1) If a taxpayer operating a business in a county is delinquent in the payment of personal property taxes for personal property owned by or used in the business, then following the certification and publication of delinquency under § 26-36-203, the county collector may distraint goods or chattels of the taxpayer owned by or used in the business under subsection (a) of this section by publication of a Notice of Distraint and Tax Sale in three (3) public places in the county or in a newspaper of general circulation in the county.

(2) The Notice of Distraint and Tax Sale shall contain:

(A) The location, date, and time of the sale;

(B) The name of the taxpayer and business under which the goods or chattels to be sold is assessed;

(C) The principal sum of personal property taxes owed with a certification of the principal sum by the county collector;

(D) The following specific information:

“The goods or chattels of the taxpayer listed above located within _____ County, Arkansas, is under distraint and shall be sold to satisfy the delinquency in the payment of personal property taxes under Arkansas Code § 26-36-206. Under Arkansas Code § 26-34-101, the taxes assessed on real and personal property shall constitute a lien entitled to preference over all other judgments, executions, or encumbrances, or liens whensoever created. Under Arkansas Code § 4-1-201, a buyer in ordinary course of business does not include a person that acquires goods in a transfer in bulk or as security for or in total or partial satisfaction of a money debt.”; and

(E) A statement that it is a Class B misdemeanor to remove, destroy, or deface the Notice of Distraint and Tax Sale or to interfere or obstruct the sale of or the access to the goods or chattels on the date of the sale by the county collector, the county sheriff, or their deputies.

(3) The county collector shall provide a copy of the Notice of Distraint and Tax Sale to the taxpayer by regular mail or by posting a copy at the physical location where the goods or chattels are held.

(4) The Notice of Distraint and Tax Sale shall be posted conspicuously at the location of the sale.

(5) In lieu of physically securing the goods or chattels or storing or transporting the goods or chattels to another location for sale, the sale may be held at any place of business, warehouse, storeroom, or facility owned or under the possession of the taxpayer, including without limitation the current location of the goods or chattels to be sold.

(6) It is a Class B misdemeanor to knowingly remove, destroy, or deface a Notice of Distraint and Tax Sale posted under this section or to knowingly interfere or obstruct the sale or access of the county collector, the county sheriff, or their deputies to the goods or chattels on the date of the sale.

26-36-207. Garnishment proceedings authorized.

(a) If the tax upon personal property, moneys, credits, investments in bonds, stocks, joint-stock companies, or otherwise of any person, association, or corporation shall remain unpaid after October 10 in any year and the collector is unable to find any personal property of the person, association, or corporation whereon to levy to make the taxes then due, then the collector shall present the account for taxes to any person who may be indebted to the person, association, or corporation, and demand the payment thereof. The person to whom it shall be presented shall pay over to the collector the amount of the taxes that he owes and take the collector's receipt therefor. The receipt shall be deemed and taken in all courts of this state as payment on his indebtedness to the full amount expressed on the collector's receipt.

(b) If the person should fail or refuse, on demand, to pay over the amount of the tax that he owes to the collector, the collector shall file a statement of the amount of the tax with the person so refusing, which shall operate as a garnishment upon the person so served. The collector shall proceed to collect the taxes in the manner fixed by law in cases of garnishment.

(c) No person shall be compelled to pay any debt before it may be due nor a greater amount than he may be owing the person, corporation, or association.

(d) The cost of garnishment shall be paid by the party refusing to pay the taxes when so requested.

26-36-208. Delinquent taxpayer relocating to another county.

(a) Each collector in making returns of the delinquent lists of personal property to the county clerk shall note on the margin of the returns the county in this state to which any delinquent taxpayer may have removed or resides in, with the date of his removal, if the collector is able to ascertain that fact.

(b) The county clerk shall immediately forward to the clerk of any county of this state, which any delinquent taxpayer has removed to or resides within, a certified statement or account of the taxes so assessed and not paid. The certified statement shall specify the value of the property on which the taxes were levied and the amount of the taxes levied thereon, with the penalty and cost. The collector shall proceed to collect the delinquent taxes in the same manner, and with like authority, as prescribed in this subchapter for collecting delinquent taxes upon personal property and shall make return thereof to the collector of the proper county.

26-36-209. Time and manner — Returns.

(a) The county collector may collect, at any time, all delinquent personal property tax in his or her county, or any that may be sent from another county, by the sale of property or otherwise, and the county collector shall make returns of the amount so collected to the proper counties and officers.

(b) (1) The county collector shall pay over to the county treasurer on the first day of each month or within five (5) working days after the first day of each month all amounts collected for his or her county under this section.

(2) However, upon a certificate of distribution of the amounts collected under this section being prepared by the county clerk, county collector, or other county officer designated pursuant to § 26-28-102(a), which certificate shall be issued on or before the thirtieth day of each month, the county treasurer shall transfer to the various funds the amount due each fund.

(c) (1) All costs associated with such delinquent personal property taxes shall be prorated to the original taxing entities.

(2) All penalties shall be divided fifty percent (50%) to the county general fund and fifty percent (50%) to the county common school fund if that county's common school fund was getting fifty percent (50%) at the time of the enactment of this subsection.

(d) For purposes of this section, the costs and penalties associated with delinquent personal property taxes shall not be considered a portion of the county collector's revenue in calculating excess commissions.

A.C.R.C. Notes. Commas following the words “fund” in subsection (c) and “section” in subsection (d) could not be inserted pursuant to § 1-2-303.

Regarding the phrase “at the time of the enactment of this subsection” in subdivision (c)(2) of this section, Acts 1997, No. 213, was signed by the Governor on February 19, 1997.

Amendments. The 2009 amendment inserted “or other county officer designated pursuant to § 26-28-102(a)” in (b)(2), and made minor stylistic and punctuation changes.

26-36-210. Counties under unit tax ledger system.

The tax collector in any county of this state utilizing the unit tax ledger system for the collection of taxes, pursuant to § 26-28-201 et seq., may appoint a delinquent tax collector for the purpose of collecting the delinquent taxes in his county.

History. Acts 1965, No. 114, § 1; A.S.A. 1947, § 84-1020.

Cross References. Unit tax ledger system, § 26-28-201 et seq.

26-36-211. Liability of collector for property improperly sold.

Any collector of any county, city, or town in this state who returns to any person, personal property, or real estate delinquent, by whom or upon which taxes have been paid or advertises for sale, offers to sell, or sells any real or personal property upon which the taxes have been paid for the year for which they shall be returned delinquent, advertised, offered for sale, or sold shall forfeit and pay to the owner of the property, or any other person interested therein or who may be injured thereby, a sum equal to double the taxes, penalty, and costs charged on the personal property or land together with the actual damages as may have been sustained. For any sum so recovered, the officer and his sureties shall be liable on his official bond.

26-36-212. Delinquent ad valorem taxes on interests in oil or gas.

(a) (1) When the ad valorem taxes on working interests, royalty interests, or overriding royalty interests in oil or gas of any taxpayer is delinquent for a period of one hundred eighty (180) days or more, any one (1) or more taxing units which are entitled to a portion of the delinquent taxes when collected shall have a cause of action against the delinquent taxpayer for that portion of the delinquent taxes and costs of collection, including the penalty and interest thereon, to which the taxing units are entitled, plus a reasonable attorney's fee.

(2) (A) Any such action shall be brought in the chancery court of the county in which the delinquent taxpayer resides or in which property of the delinquent taxpayer is situated.

(B) Any judgment awarded a taxing unit in such cause of action shall be enforceable to the same extent and in the same manner as other civil judgments.

(b) (1) Any taxpayer offering to redeem tax-delinquent property after an action has been filed as authorized in this section shall be required to pay costs, including attorney fees, incurred by any taxing unit in pursuing its remedies under this section.

(2) When any judgment rendered against a delinquent taxpayer pursuant to this section is satisfied, the tax liability on the property and the amount required to be paid to redeem the property shall be reduced by the amount of the taxes, penalty, and interest included in the judgment.

Acts 1983 (1st Ex. Sess.), No. 82, § 2: Nov. 8, 1983. Emergency clause provided: "It is hereby found and determined by the General Assembly that there is an urgent need to enable the Arkansas Student Loan Authority and the Student Loan Guarantee Foundation of Arkansas to expand their capability to collect outstanding loans owed to them by citizens of the State of Arkansas; that the collection of defaulted loans is essential to the viability of the Arkansas Student Loan Authority and the Student Loan Guarantee Foundation of Arkansas and to the continuation and extension of the programs of those agencies; and that the amendment of certain of the provisions of Act 372 of 1983 will serve to further and accomplish this purpose. Therefore, an emergency is hereby declared to exist and this Act being necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety, shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage and approval.”

Acts 1991, No. 1154, § 5: July 1, 1991. Emergency clause provided: “It is hereby found and determined by the Seventy-Eighth General Assembly that the effectiveness of this act on July 1, 1991 is essential to the operation of the all agencies within state and that in the event of an extension of the Regular Session, the delay in the effective date of this act beyond July 1, 1991 could work irreparable harm upon the proper administration and provision of essential government programs. Therefore, an emergency is hereby declared to exist and this act being necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety shall be in full force and effect from and after July 1, 1991.”

Acts 2003, No. 1800, § 5: August 1, 2003.

26-36-301. Purposes.

(a) The purpose of this subchapter is to establish as policy that all claimant agencies and the Revenue Division of the Department of Finance and Administration shall cooperate in identifying debtors who:

(1) Qualify for refunds from the division; and

(2) Owe money to the state, to an Arkansas county, city, or town, or to a housing authority created under § 14-169-101 et seq., through its various claimant agencies.

(b) It is also the intent of this subchapter that procedures be established for setting off against any such refund the sum of any debt owed to the state, to an Arkansas county, city, or town, or to a housing authority created under § 14-169-101 et seq.

History. Acts 1983, No. 372, § 1; A.S.A. 1947, § 84-4901; Acts 2003, No. 1023, § 1; 2003, No. 1800, § 1.

Amendments. The 2003 amendment by No. 1023 inserted “or to a housing authority created under § 14-169-101 et seq.” in (a) and (b).

The 2003 amendment by No. 1800 inserted the subdivision designations in (a) and added (a)(2); inserted “to an Arkansas county, city, or town, or to a housing authority created under § 14-169-101 et seq.” in (a)(2) and (b); and deleted “and who qualify for refunds from the division” following “claimant agencies” in (a)(2).

Survey of Legislation, 2003 Arkansas General Assembly, Taxation, Set Off Against Tax Refunds for Debt Collections, 26 U. Ark. Little Rock L. Rev. 497.

26-36-304. Remedy cumulative.

The collection remedy under this subchapter is in addition to and not in substitution for any other remedy available by law.

History. Acts 1983, No. 372, § 3; A.S.A. 1947, § 84-4903.

26-36-305. Setoffs for claimant agencies.

Subject to the limitations contained in this subchapter, the division shall, upon request, render assistance in the collection of any delinquent account or debt owing to any claimant agency. This assistance shall be provided by setting off any refunds due the debtor from the division by the sum certified by the claimant agency as due and owing.

History. Acts 1983, No. 372, § 5; A.S.A. 1947, § 84-4905.

26-36-306. Minimum sum collectible.

A claimant agency shall not be allowed to effect final setoff and collect debts through use of the remedy established under this subchapter unless the debt is at least twenty dollars ($20.00). However, the division may set off any lesser sum, regardless of this provision, which the Director of the Department of Finance and Administration shall establish as economically justifiable.

History. Acts 1983, No. 372, § 4; 1985, No. 987, § 2; A.S.A. 1947, § 84-4904.

26-36-307. Submission of claims — Information.

(a) All claimant agencies shall submit, for collection under the procedure established by this subchapter, all debts which they are owed, except in cases where the agencies are advised by the Attorney General not to submit a claim because the validity of the debt is legitimately in dispute, because an alternative means of collection is pending and believed to be adequate, or because such a collection attempt would result in a loss of federal funds.

(b) As a condition precedent to setoff, all claimant agencies shall obtain the full name and social security number and submit this information to the division and, whenever possible, also obtain and submit the address and any other identifying information required by rules promulgated by the division pursuant to the authority of § 26-36-320 for any person for which the agencies provide any service or transact any business and who the claimant agencies can foresee may become a debtor under the terms of this subchapter.

History. Acts 1983, No. 372, § 3; A.S.A. 1947, § 84-4903.

26-36-308. Procedure for setoff generally.

(a) (1) A claimant agency seeking to attempt collection of a debt through setoff shall notify, in writing, the division and supply the debtor's name, social security number, and any other information necessary to identify the debtor whose refund is sought to be set off.

(2) Notification to the division and the furnishing of identifying information must occur on or before December 1 in the year preceding the calendar year during which the refund would be paid. Additionally, subject to the notification deadline specified, the notification shall be effective only to initiate setoff for claims against refunds that would be made in the calendar year subsequent to the year in which notification is made to the division.

(b) (1) The division shall determine whether the debtor to the claimant agency is entitled to a refund.

(2) Upon determination by the division that a debtor specified by a claimant agency qualifies for such a refund and that a refund is pending, the division shall specify its sum and indicate the debtor's address as listed on the tax return.

(3) Each claimant agency must submit all claims for any year for collection under this subchapter to the division at one (1) time.

(4) Claims to be set off shall be submitted in a form compatible with the data processing equipment of the division, or the submitting agency shall pay the actual cost of converting their list of claims to a form which can be used by the division for effecting setoff.

(c) Unless stayed by court order, the division shall, upon certification as provided in this subchapter, set off the certified debt against the refund to which the debtor would otherwise be entitled.

History. Acts 1983, No. 372, § 6; A.S.A. 1947, § 84-4906; Acts 1993, No. 403, § 22.

Amendments. The 1993 amendment inserted “and that a refund” in (b)(2).

26-36-309. Notification of debtor.

(a) The claimant agency shall provide written notice to the debtor whose debt has been certified to the division of its intention to intercept the debtor's tax refund.

(b) (1) The contents of the written notification to the debtor and the division's copy of the setoff claim shall clearly set forth:

(A) The basis for the claim to the refund;

(B) The intention to apply the refund against the debt to the claimant agency;

(C) The debtor's opportunity to give written notice of intent to contest the validity of the claim before the claimant agency within thirty (30) days of the date of the mailing of the notice;

(D) The mailing address to which the application for a hearing must be sent; and

(E) The fact that failure to apply for a hearing in writing within the thirty-day period will be deemed a waiver of the opportunity to contest the claim causing final setoff by default.

(2) The notification form shall be approved by the Director of the Department of Finance and Administration.

(c) The written application by the debtor for a hearing shall be effective upon mailing the application postage prepaid and properly addressed to the claimant agency.

History. Acts 1983, No. 372, § 7; 1985, No. 987, § 3; A.S.A. 1947, § 84-4907.

26-36-310. Hearing procedure.

(a) If a claimant agency receives written application of the debtor's intention to contest at hearing the claim upon which the intended setoff is based, it shall grant a hearing according to procedures established under the Arkansas Administrative Procedure Act, § 25-15-201 et seq. Additionally, it shall be determined at the hearing whether the claimed sum asserted as due and owing is correct, and if not, an adjustment to the claim shall be made.

(b) Pending final determination at hearing of the validity of the debt asserted by the claimant agency, no action shall be taken in furtherance of collection through the setoff procedure allowed under this subchapter.

(c) No issues may be considered at the hearing which have been previously litigated.

History. Acts 1983, No. 372, § 8; A.S.A. 1947, § 84-4908.

26-36-311. Appeals.

Appeals from action taken at hearing allowed under this subchapter shall be in accordance with the provisions of the Arkansas Administrative Procedure Act, § 25-15-201 et seq.

History. Acts 1983, No. 372, § 9; A.S.A. 1947, § 84-4909.

26-36-312. Certification of debt.

(a) Upon final determination, through hearing provided for by this subchapter, of the debt due and owing the claimant agency or upon the debtor's default for failure to contest the claimant agency's right to setoff as provided for in this subchapter, mandating timely request for review of the asserted basis for setoff, the division shall hold for setoff any refund as defined in this subchapter determined to be available to the individual debtor.

(b) Any changes to the original debt certified will be accepted only if the new amount is less than the debt originally certified. Such changes will be forwarded to the division in writing and in a format acceptable to the division. Debtors' names may be deleted from the debt certification listing upon written notice to the division by the claimant agency.

(c) Upon determination that a refund is available to a debtor who has previously been certified as owing a debt to the claimant agency, the division shall finalize the setoff by transferring the refund amount, up to the amount of the debt certified, to the claimant agency and by refunding any remaining balance to the debtor.

History. Acts 1983, No. 372, § 10; 1985, No. 987, § 4; A.S.A. 1947, § 84-4910.

26-36-313. Notice of final setoff.

Upon the finalization of setoff under the provisions of this subchapter, the division shall notify the debtor in writing of the action taken along with an accounting of the action taken on any refund. If there is an outstanding balance after setoff, the notice under this section shall accompany the balance when disbursed.

History. Acts 1983, No. 372, § 11; A.S.A. 1947, § 84-4911.

26-36-314. Priorities of claims.

Priority in multiple claims to refunds allowed to be set off under the provisions of this subchapter shall be corresponding to the order in time which a claimant agency has filed a written notice with the division of its intention to effect collection through setoff under this subchapter.

History. Acts 1983, No. 372, § 12; A.S.A. 1947, § 84-4912.

26-36-315. Joint refunds.

(a) When a taxpayer who is a debtor as defined in this subchapter has filed a joint return for which he or she is due a refund or has filed a separate return on the same form resulting in a joint refund, the entire amount of the refund shall be subject to setoff.

(b) (1) The Director of the Department of Finance and Administration shall notify each taxpayer due a joint refund of the amount and the date of a proposed setoff for a debt certified by a claimant agency to the Revenue Division of the Department of Finance and Administration.

(2) The notice under subdivision (b)(1) of this section shall be in writing and sent to the address listed on the taxpayer's most recently filed income tax return.

(c) (1) (A) A taxpayer who claims that he or she is not a debtor of a claimant agency may seek administrative relief by filing a written protest under oath within thirty (30) days after the notice under subdivision (b)(1) of this section is received.

(B) The written protest shall be signed by the nondebtor taxpayer or the nondebtor taxpayer's authorized agent and include the nondebtor taxpayer's reasons for opposing the proposed setoff.

(2) The nondebtor taxpayer may request the director to consider his or her request for relief upon written documents furnished by the nondebtor taxpayer or upon the written document and the evidence produced by the nondebtor taxpayer at a hearing conducted under the Arkansas Tax Procedure Act, § 26-18-101 et seq.

(3) The nondebtor taxpayer's protest shall include documentation supporting the proportionate share of the nondebtor taxpayer's payment of tax and the resulting amount of the joint refund that the nondebtor taxpayer claims is not subject to setoff.

(d) A nondebtor taxpayer who requests the director to render his or her decision based on written documents is not entitled by law to any other administrative hearing before the director's rendering of his or her decision.

(e) Administrative relief shall not be available to a nondebtor taxpayer who fails to protest a proposed setoff within the thirty (30) days after the notice under subdivision (b)(1) of this section is received.

(f) (1) If a taxpayer requests a hearing in person rather than on written documents, a hearing officer shall set the time and place for hearing on the written protest and shall give the nondebtor taxpayer reasonable notice of the hearing.

(2) At the hearing, the nondebtor taxpayer may be represented by an authorized representative and may present evidence in support of his or her position.

(3) After the hearing, the hearing officer shall render his or her decision in writing and shall serve copies upon both the nondebtor taxpayer and the claimant agency.

(g) The hearings on written protests and determinations made by the hearing officer are not subject to the Arkansas Administrative Procedure Act, § 25-15-201 et seq.

(h) (1) After the issuance and service on the taxpayer of a decision of the hearing officer to sustain the setoff of the joint refund, a nondebtor taxpayer may seek judicial relief from the decision by filing suit within thirty (30) days after the date of the final determination of the hearing officer.

(2) Jurisdiction for a suit to contest a determination of the hearing officer under this section shall be in the Pulaski County Circuit Court or the circuit court of the county where the nondebtor taxpayer resides, and the matter shall be tried de novo.

(i) This section is the sole means by which a nondebtor taxpayer may challenge a proposed setoff for the benefit of a claimant agency.

History. Acts 1983, No. 372, § 17; A.S.A. 1947, § 84-4917; Acts 2009, No. 713, § 1.

Amendments. The 2009 amendment inserted (b) through (i) and redesignated the remaining text accordingly; and in (a), inserted "or she" and deleted the last sentence.

Effective Dates. Acts 2009, No. 713, § 3, provided: "This act is effective for tax years beginning on or after January 1, 2009."

26-36-316. Disposition of proceeds collected.

(a) Upon effecting final setoff, the Revenue Division of the Department of Finance and Administration shall periodically write checks to the respective claimant agencies for the net proceeds collected on their behalf.

(b) (1) (A) For purposes of this subchapter, except as provided under subdivision (b)(1)(B) of this section, five percent (5%) of the proceeds collected by the division through setoff shall represent the division's cost of effecting setoff, and these costs shall be charged to the respective claimant agency as a collection assistance fee.

(B) If the claimant agency is a circuit, county, district, or city court, or a housing authority created under § 14-169-101 et seq., ten percent (10%) of the proceeds collected by the division through setoff shall represent the division's cost of effecting setoff and shall be charged to the respective circuit, county, district, or city court, or housing authority as a collection assistance fee.

(2) The collection assistance fees paid to the division shall be deposited into the State Treasury for credit to the Constitutional and Fiscal Agencies Fund.

History. Acts 1983, No. 372, § 13; 1985, No. 987, § 5; A.S.A. 1947, § 84-4913; Acts 1991, No. 1154, § 1; 2003, No. 1023, § 2[4]; 2003, No. 1800, § 4.

A.C.R.C. Notes. Acts 2003, No. 1023 contained another Section 2 which amended § 26-36-303(1).

Publisher's Notes. The Constitutional and Fiscal Agencies Fund referred to in subdivision (b)(2) of this section has been superseded by the Constitutional Officer's Fund and the State Central Services Fund. See § 19-5-205(c) and (e).

Amendments. The 2003 amendment by Nos. 1023 and 1800 were identical and inserted "except as provided under subdivision (b)(1)(B) of this section" in (b)(1)(A); and added (b)(1)(B).

26-36-317. Accounting of payments.

(a) (1) Simultaneously with the transmittal of a check for net proceeds collected to a claimant agency, the division shall provide the agency with an accounting of the setoffs finalized for which payment is being made.

(2) The accounting shall, whenever possible, include:

- (A) The full names of the debtors;
- (B) The debtors' social security numbers;
- (C) The gross proceeds collected per individual setoff;
- (D) The net proceeds collected per setoff; and
- (E) The collection assistance fee charged per setoff.

(b) Upon receipt by a claimant agency of a check representing net proceeds collected on a claimant agency's behalf by the division and an accounting of the proceeds as specified under this section, the claimant agency shall credit the debtor's obligation with the gross proceeds collected.

26-36-318. Interest.

Regardless of any other provision of law, no interest shall be paid any debtor on account of any amount set off under the provisions of this subchapter. Where a debtor receives a partial refund after setoff under this subchapter, he shall be entitled to interest only on that portion of the refund which he actually receives and only where such interest is otherwise provided by law.

History. Acts 1983, No. 372, § 18; A.S.A. 1947, § 84-4918.

26-36-319. Disclosure of information.

(a) Notwithstanding § 26-18-303 or any other provisions of law prohibiting disclosure by the division of the contents of taxpayer records or information and notwithstanding any confidentiality statute of any claimant agency, all information exchanged among the division, claimant agency, and the debtor which is necessary to accomplish and effectuate the intent of this subchapter is lawful.

(b) The information obtained by a claimant agency from the division in accordance with the exemption allowed by subsection (a) of this section shall only be used by a claimant agency in the pursuit of its debt collection duties and practices, and any person employed by or formerly employed by a claimant agency who discloses any such information for any other purpose, except as otherwise allowed by § 26-18-303, shall be penalized in accordance with the terms of that statute.

26-36-321. Setoff for debt to Internal Revenue Service.

(a) As used in this subchapter, “claimant agency” also means the Internal Revenue Service.

(b) The Director of the Department of Finance and Administration may enter into an agreement with the Internal Revenue Service to setoff state income tax refunds to satisfy a past-due and legally enforceable debt to the Internal Revenue Service.

(c) This subchapter shall apply to the setoff authorized by this section, except to the extent that any provision conflicts with this section.

(d) In addition to the applicable requirements and procedures under this subchapter, a setoff is not allowed for debts to the Internal Revenue Service unless the Internal Revenue Service complies with all notice and procedural requirements under federal law concerning the levy of a state tax refund.

(d) The setoff and payment to the Internal Revenue Service of an income tax refund due to a taxpayer in this section shall be made from a refund amount due to the taxpayer after the setoff of the taxpayer's refund to claimant agencies other than the Internal Revenue Service.

Chapter 37

Sale Or Forfeiture Of Real Property

Subchapter 1 — General Provisions

Subchapter 2 — Sale of Tax-Delinquent Lands

Subchapter 3 — Redemption of Realty to Be Sold for Taxes

Subchapter 1 — General Provisions

- 26-37-101. Transfer of tax-delinquent lands.
- 26-37-102. Publication of notice — Fee.
- 26-37-103. Verification by county assessor.
- 26-37-104. Costs of notices.
- 26-37-105. Collection fee.
- 26-37-106. Recording of delinquent list.
- 26-37-107. Publication of delinquent list.
- 26-37-108. [Repealed.]
- 26-37-109. Redemption of lands not transferred.

Publisher's Notes. Acts 1999, No. 42, § 1, provided:

"Disposition of Unclaimed Redemption Money. All funds derived in prior years for the redemption of land pursuant to § 139 of Act 114 of 1883 as amended, formerly compiled as Arkansas Statute 84-1205, shall be transferred, by county court order, to the county general fund."

Effective Dates. Acts 1883, No. 114, § 226: effective on passage.

Acts 1887, No. 92, § 58: effective on passage.

Acts 1967, No. 467, § 9: July 1, 1967. Emergency clause provided: "It is hereby found and determined that the General Assembly has, by a vote of two-thirds of the members elected to both houses, voted to extend the regular session of the 66th General Assembly, as authorized in the Constitution; that under the provisions of Amendment 7 to the Constitution, enactments of the General Assembly that do not have an emergency clause do not become effective until 90 days after the date of final adjournment of the General Assembly; that the extended session of the General Assembly may not adjourn in time for this Act to take effect prior to July 1, 1967, thereby depriving the agency for which funds are appropriated herein of necessary operating funds to commence the next fiscal biennium; and, in order that the appropriation made herein may be available on July 1, 1967, the General Assembly determines that the immediate passage of this Act is necessary. Therefore, an emergency is hereby declared to exist and this Act being necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health and safety shall be in full force and effect from and after the date of its passage and approval, provided that the appropriation authorized herein shall not be available until July 1, 1967."

Acts 1993, No. 791, § 10: Mar. 30, 1993. Emergency clause provided: "It is hereby found and determined by the General Assembly that the laws relating to the collection, redemption and sale of tax delinquent real property are in need of clarification; that Arkansas Courts have repeatedly voided tax deeds in instances where the county has not strictly complied with statutes; that such holdings have placed a cloud on tax deeds issued by the Commissioner of State Lands; that the present method whereby the Commissioner of State Lands disposes of tax delinquent land meets due process requirements; consequently, when the Commissioner of State Lands complies with the statutes set forth for his office to follow, tax deeds issued should not be void or voidable due to defects in the county procedure, except in cases where taxes have actually been paid. Further, the present situation has a chilling effect on the collection of taxes and encourages the nonpayment of taxes. Therefore, an emergency is hereby declared to exist and this act being necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage and approval."

Acts 1995, No. 714, § 7: Mar. 21, 1995. Emergency clause provided: "It is hereby found and determined by the General Assembly of the State of Arkansas that the laws relating to the forfeiture, sale and redemption of tax delinquent lands are in need of clarification and that this act would clarify certain problems that have arisen. Therefore, an emergency is hereby declared to exist and this act being necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety shall be in full force from and after its passage and approval.”

26-37-101. Transfer of tax-delinquent lands.

(a) (1) All lands upon which the taxes have not been paid for one (1) year following the date the taxes were due, October 10, shall be forfeited to the State of Arkansas and transmitted by certification to the Commissioner of State Lands for collection or sale.

(2) No tax-delinquent lands shall be sold at the county level.

(b) The county collector shall hold all tax-delinquent lands in the county for one (1) year after the date of delinquency, and, if the lands are not redeemed by the certification date, which shall be no later than July 1 of the following year, the collector shall transmit it to the state by certification, after notice as provided in this chapter, indicating all taxes, penalties, interest, and costs due and the name and last known address of the owner of record of the tax-delinquent lands.

(c) Upon receipt of the certification, title to the tax-delinquent lands shall vest in the State of Arkansas in care of the Commissioner of State Lands.

History. Acts 1983, No. 626, § 1; A.S.A. 1947, § 84-1126; Acts 1987, No. 814, § 5; 1993, No. 791, § 2; 1995, No. 660, § 1.

A.C.R.C. Notes. Acts 1983, No. 626, § 2, as amended by Acts 1987, No. 814, § 5, provided that on December 31, 1985, the delinquent real property tax records of the county clerks should be transferred to the collectors, unless the clerks and collectors, by agreement, transferred such duties and responsibilities prior to that date, and that it would be the responsibility of the clerks to maintain said tax records until their duties and responsibilities are transferred to their respective collectors.

Acts 1989, No. 869, § 2, provided:

“All mobile homes and manufactured homes on the books of the Commissioner of State Lands on March 22, 1989 shall be certified back to the county which certified them to the Commissioner and shall not be sold by him.”

Acts 1983, No. 626, § 7, as amended by Acts 1985, No. 179, § 5, Acts 1987, No. 814, § 6, Acts 1991, No. 1080, § 1, and Acts 1993, No. 791, § 3, provided:

“(a) except as provided in subsection (b) of this section [Acts 1987, No. 814, § 6(b)], all tax delinquent land then held by the Commissioner of State Lands should be disposed of according to the provisions of Act 626 of 1983, as amended. For the purposes of Act 626 of 1983, as amended, the word ‘taxes’ should mean ad valorem taxes on real estate and the annual installments of the assessments of benefits levied by municipal improvement districts formed in second class cities under Act 84 of 1881, as amended, § 14-88-101 et seq., or Act 64 of 1929, as amended, § 14-88-203 et seq., for the sole purpose of acquiring, constructing, operating, or maintaining a recreational facility. The term ‘tax delinquent land’ when used in Act 626 of 1983, as amended, should mean all land upon which the ad valorem property taxes have not been paid and the term should also include land subject to a lien for nonpayment of annual installments of the assessments of benefits levied by municipal recreation improvement districts created pursuant to § 14-88-101 et seq., or § 14-88-203 et seq.

“(b) All tax delinquent land which has been or will be forfeited to the State and conveyed to the Commissioner of State Lands by certification but which remains neither sold nor redeemed two (2) years from the date of the applicable public auction conducted in accordance with the provisions of Act 626 of 1983, as amended, may not be subject to the provisions of Act 626 of 1983, as amended, or any other Act relating to the sale of land by the Commissioner, but may be sold by the Commissioner at public sales or by negotiation for whatever price the Commissioner determines to be in the best interest of the State and its local taxing units.

“(c) The Commissioner of State Lands shall have the authority to promulgate such rules and regulations as may be necessary to effectively carry out the provisions of Act 626 of 1983, as amended, [and,] upon adoption, such rules and regulations shall have the full force and effect of law.”

Amendments. The 1993 amendment substituted “forfeited to the State of Arkansas and transmitted by certification” for “certified” in (a)(1); in (b), inserted “the lands are,” substituted “transmit it to the state by certification” for “certify it to the state”; and added (c).

The 1995 amendment substituted “one (1) year” for “two (2) years” in (a)(1) and (b).

Case Notes

In General.

Notice of Sale.

Promulgation of Rules and Regulations.

In General.

Summary judgment was properly awarded to a corporation in an action by guardians to redeem property that had been sold for delinquent taxes; at the time of the brother's death he no longer held title as it had vested to the State pursuant to subsection (c) of this section, however, his incapacitated sisters did inherit his right of redemption. Givens v. Haybar, Inc., 95 Ark. App. 164, 234 S.W.3d 896 (2006).

Notice of Sale.

Title to property sold at a tax sale was properly quieted in the purchaser where the evidence showed that the state land commissioner sent notice of the deficiency and sale to the former owner at the address certified by the county. Mays v. St. Pat Props., LLC, 357 Ark. 482, 182 S.W.3d 84 (2004), cert. denied, 543 U.S. 943, 125 S. Ct. 353 (2004).

Buyer's tax deed was properly voided because the Commissioner of State Lands failed to notify the bank as an interested party since it held a recorded interest in the property at the time of certification, and the right to challenge the tax sale based on the failure to give notice to the bank passed to the mortgagor when it acquired an interest in the property through the foreclosure sale. RWR Props. v. Mid-State Trust VIII, 102 Ark. App. 115, 282 S.W.3d 297 (2008), review denied, RWR Props. v. Mid-State Trust VIII, — Ark. —, — S.W.3d —, 2008 Ark. LEXIS 582 (Sept. 4, 2008).

Promulgation of Rules and Regulations.

The Commissioner of State Lands has authority to promulgate rules and regulations concerning tax-forfeiture sales, notwithstanding that the provision granting such authority, which is referenced in subsection (c) of the notes to the statute, is not codified. Carter v. Green, 67 Ark. App. 367, 1 S.W.3d 449 (1999).

26-37-102. Publication of notice — Fee.

(a) The county collector in each county shall, not less than thirty (30) days nor more than forty (40) days prior to the certification of the land, cause to be published in a newspaper of general circulation in the county:

- (1) A list of real property not previously redeemed;
- (2) The names of the owners of record;
- (3) The amount of the taxes, penalties, interest, and cost necessary to be paid to redeem the property;
- (4) The date upon which such period of redemption expires; and
- (5) Notice that unless the property is redeemed prior to the expiration of the period of redemption, the lands will be forfeited to the state.

(b) Fees for the publication shall be the same as set forth in § 26-37-108 [repealed].

History. Acts 1983, No. 626, § 1; A.S.A. 1947, § 84-1126; Acts 1987, No. 814, § 5.

Publisher's Notes. Section 26-37-108, referred to in subsection (b), was repealed by Acts 1993, No. 985, § 2. For present law, see § 26-37-107.

26-37-103. Verification by county assessor.

- (a) Prior to certification to the Commissioner of State Lands, the county assessor shall:
- (1) Verify the assessment to establish value on all parcels to be certified;
 - (2) Verify the name and last known address of the owner of record of the tax-delinquent land; and
 - (3) Determine whether the tax-delinquent land exists.
- (b) If the land is found to be nonexistent, the county assessor shall remove the delinquent entry from the assessment rolls.
- (c) No tax-delinquent lands shall be certified to the Commissioner of State Lands without the assessor's verification.

Amendments. The 1995 amendment rewrote this section.

26-37-106. Recording of delinquent list.

- (a) (1) The county collectors of this state shall cause a list of the delinquent lands in their respective counties, as corrected by the county collectors, to be entered in a permanent record appropriately labeled.

(2) The list shall be a permanent public record and open to the inspection of the public at all times.

(b) The county clerk shall certify that the total amount of delinquent lands in this permanent record is equal to the credit allowed the county collector for delinquent lands on the current tax settlement.

(c) The record, so certified, shall be evidence of the facts contained in the list and certificate.

Constitutionality.

The 1933 amendment (No. 250) to this section was not in violation of Ark. Const., Art. 5, § 21. Matthews v. Byrd, 187 Ark. 458, 60 S.W.2d 909 (1933).

The 1933 amendment (No. 250) to this section was not unconstitutional as taking property without due process of law. Benham v. Davis, 196 Ark. 740, 119 S.W.2d 743 (1938).

Powell*, 152 Ark. 484, 238 S.W. 597, 21 A.L.R. 1214 (1922); Tedford v. Emison, 182 Ark. 1054, 34 S.W.2d 214 (1931); Hampton v. Dodd, 184 Ark. 287, 42 S.W.2d 224 (1931); Alphin v. Banks, 193 Ark. 563, 102 S.W.2d 558 (1937); Burbridge v. Crawford, 195 Ark. 191, 112 S.W.2d 423 (1937); McMillen v. East Ark. Inv. Co., 196 Ark. 367, 117 S.W.2d 724 (1938); Hirsch v. Dabbs, 197 Ark. 756, 126 S.W.2d 116 (1939). Since the 1933 amendment, which eliminated a sentence which provided that the county clerk should keep posted up in or about his office the delinquent list for one year, noncompliance with that requirement does not operate to invalidate tax sale on that account. Hirsch v. Dabbs, 197 Ark. 756, 126 S.W.2d 116 (1939).

Delinquent list must be recorded prior to the sale, but this section does not require that published notice of sale also be recorded; rather, after publication has been made, there shall be appended, at the foot of the record of lands returned delinquent by the collector, a certificate showing in what newspaper the notice was published and the dates of publication. Anthony v. Western & S. Life Ins. Co., 198 Ark. 445, 128 S.W.2d 1014 (1939).

Where lands were so sold during time that Acts 1935, No. 142 was in force, these sales would be made valid by the curative effects of this law. Coulter v. Anthony, 228 Ark. 192, 308 S.W.2d 445 (Ark. 1957).

Book of Delinquent Lands.

The 1933 amendments showed no intention to dispense with the requirement that a permanent record be made and kept of lands returned delinquent, nor as to the time of making such record, that is, prior to sale. Hirsch v. Dabbs, 197 Ark. 756, 126 S.W.2d 116 (1939).

The filing of lists of delinquent lands on sheets of paper pinned at one corner, which lists were never corrected or recorded in a book, did not meet the requirements necessary to constitute notice to property owners. Smith v. Treadwell, 211 Ark. 247, 200 S.W.2d 514 (1947).

Certification of Collector.

Clerk's (now collector's) certificate held in compliance with this section. Benham v. Davis, 196 Ark. 740, 119 S.W.2d 743 (1938).

County clerk's (now collector's) certificate of publication does not have to recite that the newspaper is qualified by law. Anthony v. Western & S. Life Ins. Co., 198 Ark. 445, 128 S.W.2d 1014 (1939).

Acts 1935, No. 282, in amending Acts 1933 (Ex. Sess.), No. 16 and omitting such provisions, did not repeal the requirement that the county clerk (now collector) attach a certificate to the delinquent list of lands as recorded by him, showing in what newspaper the delinquent list was published, and the dates of publication. Cecil v. Tisher, 206 Ark. 962, 178 S.W.2d 655 (1944).

Tax sales void when certificate not executed prior to date of sale. Standard Sec. Co. v. Republic Mining & Mfg. Co., 207 Ark. 335, 180 S.W.2d 575 (1944); Hensley v. Phillips, 215 Ark. 543, 221 S.W.2d 412 (1949); Coulter v. Anthony, 228 Ark. 192, 308 S.W.2d 445 (Ark. 1957). But see Union Bank & Trust Co. v. Horne, 195 Ark. 481, 113 S.W.2d 1091 (1938).

Tax sales of forfeited lands void when certificate not filed. Cecil v. Tisher, 206 Ark. 962, 178 S.W.2d 655 (1944); Standard Sec. Co. v. Republic Mining & Mfg. Co., 207 Ark. 335, 180 S.W.2d 575 (1944); Harrison v. Mobley, 211 Ark. 772, 202 S.W.2d 756 (1947); Browning v. King, 214 Ark. 480, 216 S.W.2d 803 (1949); Boyd v. Meador, 10 Ark. App. 5, 660 S.W.2d 943 (1983).

Failure of clerk (now collector) to certify was irregularity that could be cured by confirmation proceedings under former § 26-38-108 (repealed). Bowles v. Dierks Lumber & Coal Co., 217 Ark. 892, 233 S.W.2d 632 (1950); Jenkins v. Incorporated Town of Caraway, 219 Ark. 236, 242 S.W.2d 348 (1951) (decisions under prior law).

This section requires the certificate of the clerk (now collector) to be made prior to the sale, and where it is made on the date of the sale, the sale is void. Broadhead v. McEntire, 19 Ark. App. 259, 720 S.W.2d 313 (1986).

Cited: Smith v. Cole, 187 Ark. 471, 61 S.W.2d 55 (1933).

26-37-107. Publication of delinquent list.

(a) (1) (A) The county collectors of this state shall cause the list of the delinquent lands in their respective counties to be prepared and a copy of the list to be delivered to a legal newspaper of the county by no later than December 1 of each year.

(B) (i) Within seven (7) days thereafter, the newspaper shall publish the list.

(ii) The newspaper shall publish the list in at least seven-point type.

(C) If the newspaper regularly publishes a total market coverage edition or supplement publication that has wider circulation within the county or district, the newspaper may publish the list in that edition or publication.

(2) If there is no newspaper in the county or district, the publication shall be in the nearest newspaper having a general circulation in the county or district for which the list is being published.

(3) The list of delinquent lands shall contain at least the name of the owner and the legal description of the property as was recorded on the tax book.

(b) The publication shall be in substance as follows:

“DELINQUENT REAL ESTATE TAX LIST

The Real Estate Tax Books of _____ County reflect the following list of real property to be delinquent for nonpayment of taxes for the year (The amount included in the “Tax, Penalty and Cost” column may not include all penalties and costs and will not include interest and special improvement assessments that may be due at the time of payment.)

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN THAT said several tracts, lots or parts of lots, will be held as delinquent for a one-year period from this date and then certified to the State of Arkansas, Commissioner of State Lands, for collection or to be sold, unless the delinquent taxes, penalties, and costs are paid before the end of the one-year period.

(Date of Notice) Collector County.”

(c) (1) The legal fee for each required publication of delinquent real property tax lists shall be one dollar and fifty cents ($1.50) per tract per insertion.

(2) The fee shall be added as costs of forfeiture and shall be paid by the county collector from any moneys in the county collector's possession derived from the payment of real property taxes.

(3) The receipts for the payment, verified by the certificate of the county clerk as to its correctness, shall entitle the county collector to a credit for the amount so paid.

Act of March 14, 1879, which provided for taking of land for taxes without notice by publication and a competitive sale either of the smallest quantity for the taxes or the best price for a whole tract, with provisions to save the excess to the purchaser, was unconstitutional. In General.

Acts 1933, No. 250 and 1933 (Ex. Sess.), No. 16 dispensed with the necessity of filing a list of lands; however, the omission from 1935, No. 282 of provision contained in Acts 1933 (Ex. Sess.), No. 16, limiting newspaper space for publication of delinquent tax list to six inches, double column, was evidence of legislative intention not to reenact the old law notwithstanding the word "notice" was used in Acts 1935, No. 282, since reference to publication of "the list as herein described" in former statute could only mean the delinquent list; therefore, it was proper to publish the delinquent list. Thomas v. Branch, 202 Ark. 338, 150 S.W.2d 738 (1941) (decision under prior law).

Where land involved was sold under description of lots 2-3, it fairly placed landowner of lot 3 on notice that his property had been sold for taxes even though lot 2 did not belong to landowner. Brown v. Masterson, 240 Ark. 880, 402 S.W.2d 666 (1966).

26-37-108. [Repealed.]

Publisher's Notes. This section, concerning list publication fees, was repealed by Acts 1993, No. 985, § 2. The section was derived from Acts 1955, No. 80, § 3; 1969, No. 116, § 2; 1981, No. 467, § 2; A.S.A. 1947, § 84-1104; Acts 1987, No. 814, § 3. For present law, see § 26-37-107.

26-37-109. Redemption of lands not transferred.

(a) (1) The county collectors of the various counties of the State of Arkansas are authorized to charge a fee of two dollars and fifty cents ($2.50) for the issuance of each certificate of land redemption for each parcel of tax-delinquent land redeemed in their office.

(2) This fee shall be deposited in the county general fund.

(b) Each county quorum court may authorize the county collector or the county treasurer to accept payment for the redemption of tax-delinquent land which has not been transferred to the Commissioner of State Lands.

(c) The county collector shall pay over to the county treasurer on the first of each month or within five (5) days thereafter all amounts collected under this section. However, upon a certificate of distribution of the amounts collected under this section being prepared by the county clerk or collector, which certificate shall be issued on or before the thirtieth day of each month, the county treasurer will transfer to the various funds the amount due each fund, such as the county, school, or municipality fund, from the amounts collected under this section.

Publisher's Notes. Acts 1999, No. 42, § 1, provided:

“Disposition of Unclaimed Redemption Money. All funds derived in prior years for the redemption of land pursuant to § 139 of Act 114 of 1883 as amended, formerly compiled as Arkansas Statute 84-1205, shall be transferred, by county court order, to the county general fund.”

Preambles. Acts 1941, No. 437 contained a preamble which read:

“Whereas, in some larger municipalities, the more desirable portions of tracts of land have been platted and utilized, frequently leaving deep ravines and steep hillsides that cannot be utilized with the result that the owners often abandon such property as worthless and cease to pay taxes on it; and for the same reason no one else is willing to buy it from the State, resulting in the property being built up with unsightly shacks and hovels as a squatter section, to the great detriment of the surrounding property and the city as a whole; and in many instances the property would be desirable as a public park and a way should be provided for the acquisition of such tracts of land as public parks; and

"Whereas, in many instances before the depression, acreage tracts in larger municipalities were assessed for taxes on a highly speculative value, far in excess of the true value of the land, resulting in the forfeiture of the same to the State for taxes and which remains unredeemed, said property usually being undesirable tracts of land assessed on a very high basis, and under existing laws such city property cannot be sold at the acreage price as it is the case with rural property, with the result that this type of property remains unredeemed, thereby causing loss of taxes to the State, county, city and school districts;

Acts 1941, No. 437, § 4: became law without Governor's signature, Apr. 3, 1941. Emergency clause provided: "It is ascertained and hereby declared that the provisions of this Act are necessary to aid municipalities in preventing sections of towns and cities from building up in an unsanitary squatter areas, and that the funds derived from additional taxes that will be paid by getting property back on the tax books, which additional taxes are urgently needed by the counties and cities for the maintenance of public thoroughfares so as to keep same in a safe condition for the traveling public, and for other purposes that will protect the health of the community, therefore, the immediate operation of this Act is essential for the protection of the public health and safety. An emergency, therefore, is declared and this Act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage."

Acts 1985, No. 1021, § 3: Apr. 17, 1985. Emergency clause provided: "It is hereby found and determined by the General Assembly that the law relating to the distribution of proceeds received by the State Land Commissioner from the redemption of tax delinquent lands is confusing; that it is urgent that such confusion be corrected at the earliest date possible; and that this Act will provide clarification of such law and should be given effect immediately. Therefore, an emergency is hereby declared to exist and this Act being immediately necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health and safety shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage and approval."

Acts 1991, No. 1080, § 7: July 1, 1991. Emergency clause provided: "It is hereby found and determined by the General Assembly that the laws relating to the redemption and sale of tax-delinquent real property are in need of clarification. Therefore, an emergency is hereby declared to exist and this act being necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety shall be in full force and effect from and after July 1, 1991 or as otherwise specified in a particular section thereof."

Acts 1993, No. 791, § 10: Mar. 30, 1993. Emergency clause provided: "It is hereby found and determined by the General Assembly that the laws relating to the collection, redemption and sale of tax delinquent real property are in need of clarification; that Arkansas Courts have repeatedly voided tax deeds in instances where the county has not strictly complied with statutes; that such holdings have placed a cloud on tax deeds issued by the Commissioner of State Lands; that the present method whereby the Commissioner of State Lands disposes of tax delinquent land meets due process requirements; consequently, when the Commissioner of State Lands complies with the statutes set forth for his office to follow, tax deeds issued should not be void or voidable due to defects in the county procedure, except in cases where taxes have actually been paid. Further, the present situation has a chilling effect on the collection of taxes and encourages the nonpayment of taxes. Therefore, an emergency is hereby declared to exist and this act being necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage and approval."

Acts 1995, No. 714, § 7: Mar. 21, 1995. Emergency clause provided: "It is hereby found and determined by the General Assembly of the State of Arkansas that the laws relating to the forfeiture, sale and redemption of tax delinquent lands are in need of clarification and that this act would clarify certain problems that have arisen. Therefore, an emergency is hereby declared to exist and this act being necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety shall be in full force from and after its passage and approval.”

Acts 2003, No. 1215, § 5: effective for negotiated sales of tax-forfeited property that occur on or after October 1, 2003.

Acts 2005, No. 1880, § 2: July 1, 2005. Emergency clause provided: “It is found and determined by the General Assembly of the State of Arkansas that there is currently confusion in the law concerning the disbursement of funds on sales of tax delinquent property by the Commissioner of State Lands; and that this act is immediately necessary because it will provide direction and clarification to determine the validity of claims concerning tax delinquent lands. Therefore, an emergency is declared to exist and this act being immediately necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health, and safety shall become effective on July 1, 2005.”

26-37-201. Publication of notice — Fee.

(a) (1) The Commissioner of State Lands shall publish a notice of sale of land upon which the ad valorem property taxes have not been paid in a newspaper having general circulation in the county where the land is located.

(2) The publication fee for the notice shall be the same as set forth in § 26-37-107.

(b) The notice shall:

(1) Contain the assessed value of the land;

(2) Contain the amount of taxes, interest, penalties, and other costs due on the land;

(3) (A) Contain the name of the owner, the legal description, and parcel number of the land.

(B) A part or abbreviated legal description shall be sufficient in the notice if the name of the owner and parcel number are listed;

(4) Contain a list of all interested parties; and

(5) Indicate that the land will be sold to the highest bidder if the bid is equal to at least the assessed value of the land as certified to the Commissioner of State Lands.

(c) The highest bidder shall pay all taxes, interest, penalties, and other costs.

(d) Failure of the notice to contain the information required in subsection (b) of this section invalidates an auction sale of the land.

(e) As used in this section, “interested party” has the same meaning as in § 26-37-301.

History. Acts 1983, No. 626, § 3; A.S.A. 1947, § 84-1128; Acts 1987, No. 814, § 5; 1995, No. 714, § 2; 2005, No. 1231, § 3; 2007, No. 706, § 1.

Amendments. The 1995 amendment added the subsection designations in (1); substituted “§ 26-37-107” for “§ 26-37-108” in (a)(2); and deleted the former second sentence in (c).

The 2005 amendment rewrote (b)(3).

The 2007 amendment rewrote (b)(4), and added (d) and (e).

Case Notes

Interested Parties.

Interested Parties.

While this section does not define the term "interested parties" used in subsection (c), it defies logic to proceed on the assumption that potential heirs to lands that are part of an estate would not be parties who are interested in preserving the lands. Sanders v. Ryles, 318 Ark. 418, 885 S.W.2d 888 (1994).

There is no logical reason to include heirs in the definition of "interested persons" in § 28-1-102(a)(11), and then treat them differently for the purposes of the notice requirement in subsection (c) of this section. Sanders v. Ryles, 318 Ark. 418, 885 S.W.2d 888 (1994).

26-37-202. Procedure to sell.

(a) Bidders may bid at the sale or mail their bid to the office of the Commissioner of State Lands. Bids shall be delivered at the appropriate place before the deadline established in the notice of sale.

(b) If no one bids at least the assessed value, the Commissioner of State Lands may negotiate a sale. All negotiated sales shall have approval of the Attorney General.

(c) The Commissioner of State Lands shall conduct tax-delinquent sales in the county wherein the land is located, unless the Commissioner of State Lands determines that there are not enough parcels of land to justify a sale in one (1) county only. In that case, the Commissioner of State Lands may hold a tax-delinquent land sale in one (1) location and thereat sell land located in more than one (1) county if the counties wherein the lands are located are adjoining counties.

(d) The sales shall be conducted on the dates specified in the notices required by this subchapter.

(e) (1) After a sale of the land by the Commissioner of State Lands, including a negotiated sale, the Commissioner of State Lands shall notify the owner and all interested parties of the right to redeem the land within thirty (30) days after the date of the sale paying all taxes, penalties, interest, and costs due, including the cost of the notice.

(2) The notice under subdivision (e)(1) of this section shall be sent by regular mail to the last known address of the owner and all interested parties.

(3) If the land is not redeemed, a limited warranty deed will be issued by the Commissioner of State Lands to the purchaser.

(f) As used in this section, "interested party" has the same meaning as in § 26-37-301.

History. Acts 1983, No. 626, § 3; A.S.A. 1947, § 84-1128; Acts 1987, No. 814, § 5; 2007, No. 706, § 2.

Amendments. The 2007 amendment inserted "of State Lands" following "Commissioner" throughout the section; rewrote (e); and added (f).

Where tax notices sent to landowner contained the sale dates and the tracts offered for sale at public auctions on those dates, but no legally-sufficient bid was received on the public sale date and a negotiated sale necessarily took place on a later date, the conveyance of each tract was in conformity with Arkansas law. 26-37-203. Conveyance to purchaser — Contest.

(a) If the tax-delinquent land is not redeemed within the thirty-day period, the Commissioner of State Lands shall issue a limited warranty deed to the land.

(b) (1) Except as provided in subdivisions (b)(2) and (3) of this section, all actions to contest the validity of the conveyance shall be brought within one (1) year after the date of the conveyance or thereafter be barred.

(2) A cause of action by a person suffering a mental incapacity, a minor, or a person serving in the United States armed forces during time of war during the two-year period shall be brought within two (2) years after the disability is removed, the minor reaches majority, or the person is released from active duty with the armed forces.

(3) An action to challenge the conveyance to a purchaser of land that was sold at a negotiated sale under § 26-37-101 shall be brought within ninety (90) days after the date of the conveyance or thereafter be barred.

(c) No deed issued after January 1, 1987, by the Commissioner of State Lands shall be void or voidable on the ground that the county did not strictly comply with the laws governing tax-delinquent land if prior to the issuance of the deed the Commissioner of State Lands complied with the laws governing the disposition of tax-delinquent land.

(d) Nothing in this section shall prevent any taxpayer from attacking a deed issued by the Commissioner of State Lands on the ground that taxes have actually been paid.

Amendments. The 1993 amendment substituted "minors, or those serving" for "minority, or serving" in (b)(1); and added (c) and (d).

The 2003 amendment redesignated former (b)(1) as present (b)(1) and (b)(2); in (b)(1), added "except as provided in subdivisions (b)(2) and (3) of this section"; in (b)(2), substituted "causes" for "except as to causes" and inserted "shall be brought ... the armed forces"; deleted former (b)(2); and added (b)(3).

The 2005 amendment, in (b)(3), substituted "land" for "a subdivided lot" and "§ 26-37-101" for "§ 26-37-202(b).”

The 2007 amendment substituted “one (1) year” for “two (2) years” in (b)(1).

Effective Dates. Acts 2003, No. 1215, § 5, provided: “This act shall apply to negotiated sales of tax forfeited property that occur on or after October 1, 2003.”

Statute of Limitations.

Statute of Limitations.

Since 50 U.S.C.S. § 525 (now codified at 50 U.S.C.S. app. § 526) tolled the statute of limitations for the time within which a husband and wife had to bring an action to set aside a default judgment that quieted title in favor of a purchaser who bought the husband and wife's property at a tax sale, the trial court erred in denying a motion to set aside the default judgment where the action was filed within two years of husband's retirement from the military, as required by this section. Small v. Kulesa, 90 Ark. App. 108, 204 S.W.3d 99 (2005), cert. denied, 126 S. Ct. 427, 163 L. Ed. 2d 325 (U.S. 2005).

Incapacitated sisters could not tack their disability onto their brother's disability for the purpose of extending the redemption period after the brother's land was certified to the Arkansas State Land Commissioner for failure to pay taxes; rather, the sisters had the right to redeem the land within two years after the brother's disability was removed by death. Givens v. Haybar, Inc., 95 Ark. App. 164, 234 S.W.3d 896 (2006).

Debtor who claimed an equitable interest in the property based on an alleged oral rent-to-purchase agreement with the owner could challenge the tax sale and transfer of property to the subsequent purchaser because the state did not file an action in Chancery Court under § 26-38-206, to bar any subsequent claims. Further, § 26-37-203 gave the debtor two hears to contest the validity of the conveyance. In re Paro, 362 B.R. 419 (Bankr. E.D. Ark. 2007).

26-37-204. Sales set aside.

(a) In the event the sale is set aside by legal action or if the land is proven to be nonexistent or double assessed, the purchaser shall be entitled to reimbursement of moneys paid.

(b) The Commissioner of State Lands shall have the authority to set aside any sale. In the event the Commissioner of State Lands determines that a sale shall be set aside, the purchaser may be entitled to reimbursement of moneys paid to the Commissioner of State Lands.

(c) In cases where sales may be set aside by the Commissioner of State Lands or by legal action by the record owner or the heirs or assigns of the record owner, the record owner or the heirs or assigns of the record owner shall pay all back taxes, penalties, interest, and costs charged against the land.

(d) If the Commissioner of State Lands determines that the owner and all interested parties did not receive the required notice of sale and right to redeem, the Commissioner of State Lands shall:

(1) Set aside the sale; or

(2) Notify the owner and interested parties of the reasons why the Commissioner of State Lands does not believe the sale should be set aside.

(e) As used in this section, “interested party” has the same meaning as in § 26-37-301.

(f) The Commissioner of State Lands shall not be liable for any monetary damages to any owner, interested party, or purchaser of tax delinquent land for any action taken or any omission of action related to the sale of tax delinquent land.

History. Acts 1983, No. 626, § 5; A.S.A. 1947, § 84-1130; Acts 1991, No. 1080, § 2; 2007, No. 706, § 3.

Publisher's Notes. Acts 1991, No. 1080, § 2, provided:

"It is hereby determined by the General Assembly that laws relating to the disposition of tax-delinquent real property are in need of clarification. Therefore, in order to facilitate the tax redemption and sale process and encourage use of the land, this section shall be in full force and effect on July 1, 1991."

Amendments. The 2007 amendment added (d) through (f).

Case Notes

Bona Fide Purchaser.
Reformation.
Reimbursement.
Sale.

Bona Fide Purchaser.

Where a diligent inquiry would not have disclosed tax sale buyers' prior interest in certain real property, since their limited-warranty deed had been cancelled by the Commissioner of State Lands, a vendee of that property was a bona fide purchaser; therefore, the trial court erred in quieting title in the tax sale buyers, even assuming arguendo that the Commissioner had not been authorized under this section to issue the cancellation deed. Bill's Printing, Inc. v. Carder, 357 Ark. 242, 161 S.W.3d 803 (2004).

Party claiming bona fide purchaser status is not obliged to make inquiry into the circumstances surrounding the legal legitimacy of a cancellation deed or redemption deed issued by the Commissioner of State Lands. Bill's Printing, Inc. v. Carder, 357 Ark. 242, 161 S.W.3d 803 (2004).

Reformation.

Reformation does not apply where land has been forfeited to and sold by the state under an incomplete and defective description. Undernehr v. Sandlin, 35 Ark. App. 207, 816 S.W.2d 635 (1991).

Reimbursement.

Where tax sale was void, the buyer was entitled to an order for refund of the amount paid for the tax deed. Undernehr v. Sandlin, 35 Ark. App. 207, 816 S.W.2d 635 (1991).

Sale.

Finding against a purchaser was proper where the sale of the property was conducted in accordance with the requirements of Arkansas law and no error existed that would have justified the cancellation of the limited-warranty deed; there were no irregularities or errors in the mailed notice or in the public sale and the "error" complained of was the omission of certain information that the State was not even required to provide. Bill's Printing, Inc. v. Carder, 82 Ark. App. 466, 120 S.W.3d 611 (2003), superseded, 357 Ark. 242, 161 S.W.3d 803 (2004).

26-37-205. Distribution of funds.

(a) All moneys collected by the Commissioner of State Lands from the sale or redemption of tax delinquent lands shall be distributed as follows:

(1) (A) First, to the Commissioner of State Lands, the penalties, the collection fees, the sale costs, and the other costs as prescribed by law.

(B) The sale costs shall include, but not be limited to, fees for title work;

(2) Second, to each county an amount equal to the taxes due plus interest and costs to the county as certified by the county collector, which amount shall be held in an escrow fund administered by and remitted to the counties within one (1) calendar year of their receipt by the Commissioner of State Lands;

(3) (A) Third, to each county an amount equal to the delinquent personal property taxes, plus penalty, of the owner or owners of the delinquent land as certified by the county collector, which amount shall be held in an escrow fund administered by and remitted to the counties after one (1) calendar year of their receipt by the Commissioner of State Lands.

(B) The Commissioner of State Lands shall review the information provided by the county collector and any other interested party to ascertain:

(i) Whether the personal property tax and penalty qualifies to be withheld from the delinquent land sale proceeds; and

(ii) The amount of personal property tax and penalty that qualifies under this subdivision (a)(3) to be withheld.

(C) If the Commissioner of State Lands is required to make a refund of the personal property taxes withheld under subdivision (a)(3)(A) of this section to a purchaser of delinquent lands for any reason, the amount of the refund shall be recovered by the Commissioner of State Lands from the county or counties that originally received the proceeds under this subdivision (a)(3) of this section of the delinquent land sale.

(D) The Commissioner of State Lands shall promulgate rules and forms needed to administer this subdivision (a)(3).

(E) This section does not require the Commissioner of State Lands to search county records to determine whether an owner of tax delinquent land owes delinquent personal property taxes.

(F) This section does not grant a county a right to a lien against real property for the payment of delinquent personal property tax; and

(4) Fourth, to be placed in another escrow fund administered by the Commissioner of State Lands, the remainder, if any.

(b) If no actions are brought within the time limits prescribed under this subchapter, the remaining funds, if any, shall be distributed by the Commissioner of State Lands as follows:

(1) Ten percent (10%) of the remaining funds up to a maximum amount of five hundred dollars ($500) shall be paid to the Commissioner of State Lands for the administration of the distribution of the funds;

(2) (A) After payment is made to the Commissioner of State Lands pursuant to subdivision (b)(1) of this section, the amount left in the remaining funds shall be paid to the former owners of the tax delinquent land.

(B) (i) "Former owner" means a person, partnership, corporation, or other legal entity capable of owning real property in the State of Arkansas and that holds record title to the real property on the date of sale by the Commissioner of State Lands.

(ii) "Former owner" does not include heirs or relations beyond the first degree of consanguinity.

(C) (i) A former owner must file an application with the Commissioner of State Lands requesting the release of the funds.

(ii) The application shall be provided by the Commissioner of State Lands and shall require proof of ownership of the tax delinquent land as well as proof of authority to act on behalf of the owner.

(iii) The application may require other information the Commissioner of State Lands deems necessary before the release of the funds.

(D) (i) The former owner shall release and relinquish all rights, title, and interests in and to the tax delinquent land.

(ii) The Commissioner of State Lands shall provide a release deed to the former owner to execute.

(E) In the event of any dispute, claim, or multiple claims of ownership or controversy regarding the release of the funds, the Commissioner of State Lands may require the party or parties to provide a court order to resolve the issues and to establish the party or parties entitled to the remaining funds.

(F) An agreement by a former owner, the primary purpose of which is to locate, deliver, recover, or assist in the recovery of remaining funds, is enforceable only if the agreement:

(i) Is in writing;

(ii) Clearly sets forth the nature of the property and the services to be rendered;

(iii) Provides a fee of not more than ten percent (10%) of the recovery;

(iv) Is signed by the former owner; and

(v) States the value of the remaining funds before and after the fee or other compensation has been deducted.

(G) (i) An agreement covered by subdivision (b)(2)(F) of this section that provides for compensation that is unconscionable is unenforceable except by the former owner.

(ii) A former owner who has agreed to pay compensation that is unconscionable may maintain an action to reduce the compensation to a conscionable amount.

(iii) The court may award reasonable attorney's fees to a former owner that prevails in the action.

(H) Subdivision (b)(2)(G) of this section does not preclude a former owner from asserting that an agreement covered by subdivision (b)(2)(F) of this section is invalid on grounds other than unconscionable compensation.

(I) (i) The Commissioner of State Lands shall make all funds payable to the former owner.

(ii) No funds shall be made payable to any other person or entity other than the former owner without a court order directing the payment to the other person or entity.

(iii) No interest shall be paid to the former owner on the funds.

(J) (i) Anyone filing a claim or assisting with the filing of a claim that results in the erroneous payment of a claim is responsible for the repayment of all funds paid.

(ii) Any claim filed fraudulently is punishable as a Class D felony; and

(3) (A) Any funds placed in escrow prior to July 1, 2005, shall be held in escrow for five (5) years and at the end of the five-year period, if the funds have not been distributed, the escrow funds shall escheat to the county in which the property is located.

(B) Any funds placed in escrow on and after July 1, 2005, shall be held for three (3) years, and at the end of the three-year period, if the funds have not been distributed, the escrow funds shall escheat to the county in which the property is located.

(c) All funds distributed to each county by the Commissioner of State Lands from the redemption or sale of tax-delinquent lands, including any interest and costs, are to be distributed to the applicable taxing units where the delinquent land is located within the county in the manner and proportion that the taxes would have been distributed if they had been collected in the year due.

(d) All funds received by a county from the redemption of tax-delinquent land at the county level, including any penalty, interest, and costs, are to be distributed to the applicable taxing units where the delinquent land is located within the county in the manner and proportion that the taxes would have been distributed if they had been collected in the year due.

(e) This section shall be severable, and if any phrase, clause, sentence, or provision of this section is declared to be contrary to the laws of this state, the validity of the remainder of this section shall not be affected.

A.C.R.C. Notes. Act 1989, No. 424, § 1, purported to amend § 26-37-105, but actually amended this section.

Publisher's Notes. Acts 1991, No. 1080, § 3, provided:

"It is the intent of the General Assembly of the State of Arkansas that the provisions of this section be applied retroactively to sales taking place prior to the effective date of this act as well as sales taking place thereafter. Furthermore, it is hereby found and determined by the Seventy-Eighth General Assembly that current law excludes former owners from distribution of remaining funds and that such exclusion creates an unnecessary hardship on former owners at this time. Moreover, tax delinquent land sales are scheduled to commence prior to the regular effective date of acts passed by the Seventy-Eighth General Assembly, making this enacting date necessary in order to prevent additional hardships to former owners. Therefore, this section shall be in full force and effect from and after the passage and approval of this act."

Amendments. The 2003 amendment, in (b), substituted "the time limits prescribed under this subchapter" for "two (2) years after the date of conveyance as provided in § 26-37-202" and inserted "of State Lands"; redesignated former (b)(1) and (b)(1)(A) as (b)(1)(A)(i) and (b)(1)(A)(ii); in (b)(1)(A)(ii), inserted "of State Lands" twice and substituted "before" for "to obtain prior to"; and made minor stylistic changes.

The 2005 amendment added (a)(1)(B); rewrote (b); and added (e).

The 2009 amendment, in (a), inserted (a)(3), redesignated the subsequent subdivision accordingly, substituted "Fourth" for "Third" in (a)(4), and made a related change.

Effective Dates. Acts 2003, No. 1215, § 5, provided: "This act shall apply to negotiated sales of tax forfeited property that occur on or after October 1, 2003."

Reformation.

Reformation does not apply where land has been forfeited to and sold by the state under an incomplete and defective description making it void. Undernehr v. Sandlin, 35 Ark. App. 207, 816 S.W.2d 635 (1991).

Refund.

Where tax sale was void, the buyer was entitled to an order for refund of the amount paid for the tax deed. Undernehr v. Sandlin, 35 Ark. App. 207, 816 S.W.2d 635 (1991).

Transfer of Title.

Plaintiff acquired no title by tax sale which was void. Undernehr v. Sandlin, 35 Ark. App. 207, 816 S.W.2d 635 (1991).

26-37-207. Invalid donation by state.

If the title of any person holding lands by virtue of a donation deed from the state shall, for any cause, be determined to be invalid in any action brought by or against him at law or in equity, then such donor, his heirs, successors, and assigns, shall be entitled, in addition to all other available remedies, to a lien upon the lands for the amount of the taxes, penalty, and costs for which the lands were originally forfeited and sold, plus all taxes on the lands which have subsequently been paid by the purchaser, his heirs, successors, and assigns, together with all taxes and improvement district assessments which may have been paid on the lands following the donation, with interest on the amount paid for the lands and on the taxes and assessments from the respective dates of payment until repaid at the rate of six percent (6%) per annum. The court rendering judgment or decree against the validity of the donation shall declare and enforce the lien.

Publisher's Notes. Acts 1939, No. 269, § 2, provided that the provisions of this act shall be applicable both retroactively and prospectively.

Case Notes

Applicability.
Costs.
Quieting Title.

Applicability.

Where title to property was acquired by improvement district in 1938 under foreclosure proceedings for delinquent benefits assessments and while title was in the district property was sold to state for nonpayment of 1939 general taxes, deed from state in 1943 (title still being in district) was void, and this section had no applicability. Baiers v. Cammack, 207 Ark. 827, 182 S.W.2d 938 (1944).

Costs.

Where owner made valid tender of taxes due to holder of tax title, trial court did not err in assessing costs against holder of tax title where it determined tax title was void. Schuman v. Mosley, 220 Ark. 426, 248 S.W.2d 103 (1952).

Quieting Title.

Although tax sale is invalid, owners cannot obtain decree quieting title without paying taxes for intervening years. Buschow Lumber Co. v. Witt, 212 Ark. 995, 209 S.W.2d 464 (1948). Mortgagees who purchased mortgaged premises at a tax sale during the pendency of a foreclosure of the mortgage were merely paying taxes they were obligated to pay and were not entitled to reimbursement for the money expended by them in so purchasing the premises on the quieting of title in the mortgagee. Booth v. Peoples Loan & Inv. Co., 248 Ark. 1213, 455 S.W.2d 868 (1970).

26-37-208. Wrong name in tax book.

No sale of any land or lot for delinquent taxes shall be considered invalid on account of its having been charged on the tax book in any other name than that of the rightful owner if the land or lot is, in other respects, sufficiently described on the tax books and the taxes for which the land or lot is sold are due and unpaid at the time of the sale.

26-37-209. Compensation for improvements.

(a) (1) No purchaser under this chapter of any land or town lot or city lot nor any person claiming under him or her shall be entitled to any compensation for any improvement that he or she shall make on the land or town lot or city lot within the time frame established in § 26-37-203.

(2) No purchaser of land that was sold at a negotiated sale under § 26-37-101 shall be entitled to any compensation for any improvement that he or she makes to the land within the time frame established in § 26-37-203.

(b) (1) For an improvement made after the expiration of the time frame established in §

26-37-203, the purchaser under this chapter shall be allowed the full cash value of the improvement, and the allowance shall be a charge upon the land.

(2) For an improvement made after the expiration of the time frame established in § 26-37-203 to a subdivided lot that was purchased at a negotiated sale under § 26-37-202(b), the purchaser shall be allowed the full cash value of the improvement, and the allowance shall be a charge upon the land.

History. Acts 1883, No. 114, § 155, p. 199; C. & M. Dig., § 10120; Pope's Dig., § 13884; A.S.A. 1947, § 84-1121; Acts 2003, No. 1215, § 3; 2005, No. 1231, § 5; 2007, No. 1036, § 4.

Amendments. The 2003 amendment redesignated former (a) as present (a)(1); added "Except as provided in subdivision (a)(2) of this section" in (a)(1); added (a)(2); redesignated former (b) as present (b)(1); added "Except as provided in subdivision (b)(2) of this section" in (b)(1); added (b)(2); and made minor stylistic changes throughout.

The 2005 amendment, in (a)(2), substituted "land" for "a subdivided lot" and "§ 26-37-101" for "§ 26-37-202(b)."

The 2007 amendment rewrote the section.

Effective Dates. Acts 2003, No. 1215, § 5, provided: "This act shall apply to negotiated sales of tax forfeited property that occur on or after October 1, 2003."

Applicability.

Date of Sale.

Purchasers — Claimants.

Value of Improvements.

In General.

An action to redeem lands is not subject to dismissal for failure to file affidavit of tender of taxes and value of improvements, but the recovery of such taxes and improvements is required before a writ of possession will issue. Reynolds v. Plants, 196 Ark. 116, 116 S.W.2d 350 (1938); Farrell v. Sanders, 204 Ark. 1068, 166 S.W.2d 889 (1942).

Nonpossessory suit in equity to cancel alleged void tax sale could not be converted into action in ejectment so as to deprive defendant of all rights to have compensation for his improvements. Patterson v. McKay, 202 Ark. 241, 150 S.W.2d 196 (1941).

Where land was redeemed under Acts 1934 (2nd Ex. Sess.), No. 2, it was proper for court to offset value of improvements with rents and profits. Rodgers v. Massey, 204 Ark. 225, 161 S.W.2d 378 (1942).

Applicability.

Provisions in Act of January 10, 1857, authorizing allowance for improvements had no applicability to lands sold by a county clerk before forfeiture to state. Hershy v. Thompson, 50 Ark. 484, 8 S.W. 689 (1887); Alexander v. Capps, 100 Ark. 488, 140 S.W. 722 (1911) (preceding decisions under prior law).

This section has no applicability to one who has redeemed forfeited land from the state. Dedmon v. Hawkins, 211 Ark. 840, 203 S.W.2d 183 (1947).

Date of Sale.

Where improvements are made before purchase from state, purchaser will not be compensated. Anderson v. Williams, 59 Ark. 144, 26 S.W. 818 (1894).

Provision that purchaser at tax sale is not entitled to compensation for improvements made within two years of "sale" means the original sale (whether to state or individual), so that purchaser of land from state can be entitled to a lien for improvements although made less than two years after date of his deed, as this section runs from the time the state originally acquired the land. Gulley v. Blake, 214 Ark. 578, 217 S.W.2d 257 (1949).

Provision in this section prohibiting compensation to purchaser for improvements made on land acquired by tax title if made within two years from date of sale refers to date of sale to state, and not date of tax deed from state. Topham v. Hodges, 215 Ark. 407, 221 S.W.2d 27 (1949).

Where vacant lots were forfeited to state in 1933 for nonpayment of 1932 taxes, and state deeded lots to plaintiff in 1940, and state by mistake transferred same lots to defendants in 1946, who made improvements thereon, and plaintiff filed an action to cancel deeds to the defendant, defendants were entitled to recover cash value of improvements from plaintiff, as improvements were made over two years after sale to state in 1933. Topham v. Hodges, 215 Ark. 407, 221 S.W.2d 27 (1949).

Tax purchaser who makes improvements on property held under defective tax title is not entitled to recover for the improvements in absence of proof that they were made more than two years after date of tax sale. Teer v. Plant, 238 Ark. 92, 378 S.W.2d 663 (1964).

Purchasers — Claimants.

Tax purchaser has right to make and recover for improvements without exacting showing of belief in the integrity of his title as required by § 18-60-213. Bender v. Bean, 52 Ark. 132, 12 S.W. 180 (1889), modified, 52 Ark. 146, 12 S.W. 241 (1889); Beloate v. State ex rel. Att'y Gen., 187 Ark. 17, 58 S.W.2d 423 (1933); Wilkins v. Maggard, 190 Ark. 532, 79 S.W.2d 1003 (1935).

If claimant asserts right to redeem, he must pay proper amount for improvements when ascertained; however, a court should not order land sold in aid of effort to redeem. Waterman v. Irby, 76 Ark. 551, 89 S.W. 844 (1905).

Occupying tax title purchaser may recover value of all improvements made by him, irrespective of his belief in the integrity of his tax title and regardless of color of title as reflected by his deed or other muniments of title. Wilkins v. Maggard, 190 Ark. 532, 79 S.W.2d 1003 (1935).

Assignee of a donation certificate is a trespasser and has no rights under this section. Young v. Pumphrey, 191 Ark. 98, 83 S.W.2d 84 (1935).

In redeeming lands under Acts 1934 (2nd Ex. Sess.), No. 2, § 3, a donee had right to bring action for improvements while still in possession. Ragan v. Henson, 192 Ark. 679, 94 S.W.2d 117 (1936).

Person in possession of land who made improvements under donation certificate had a right, upon redemption of the property, to recover lien declared for value of improvements made, regardless of whether land was homestead of the one redeeming it. Page v. Francis, 196 Ark. 822, 120 S.W.2d 161 (1938).

Agent of original owner of land was not entitled to recover for improvements where he permitted land to be sold for taxes and secured tax deed in his name. Harris v. Gilmore, 197 Ark. 641, 124 S.W.2d 810 (1939).

Where nephew of life tenant (being one of the heirs) obtained tax deed from state, it amounted to a redemption from tax sale, and he was not entitled to be paid for improvements. Smith v. Davis, 200 Ark. 547, 140 S.W.2d 126 (1940).

Where holder of donation certificate forfeited his rights, he could not recover for improvements from subsequent purchaser from state. Ware v. Dazey, 201 Ark. 116, 144 S.W.2d 463 (1940).

Purchaser from state under deed void because title to property was at the time in improvement district was not entitled to recover from subsequent purchaser from the district for improvements made while title was in the district. Baiers v. Cammack, 207 Ark. 827, 182 S.W.2d 938 (1944).

Provisions allowing cash value for improvements made on land acquired by tax deed does not require that purchaser making improvements be an innocent purchaser; so fact that another and prior purchaser recorded his deed does not prevent second purchaser from recovering cash value of improvements. Topham v. Hodges, 215 Ark. 407, 221 S.W.2d 27 (1949).

Where husband redeemed property from taxes for benefit of his wife, the life tenant, he was not entitled to claim title as against the remaindermen on the ground of improvements, since improvements were not made by the purchaser of a tax title. Ingram v. Seaman, 223 Ark. 414, 267 S.W.2d 6 (1954).

Deed conveying only life estate is not sufficient "color of title" to bring grantee under the benefits of this section. Perry v. Rye, 223 Ark. 594, 267 S.W.2d 507 (1954).

Value of Improvements.

Provision that improvements shall be a "charge" upon the land means that they shall be a "lien" upon the land. Page v. Francis, 196 Ark. 822, 120 S.W.2d 161 (1938).

Evidence justified award for improvements made under defective tax title. Topham v. Hodges, 215 Ark. 407, 221 S.W.2d 27 (1949).

Purchaser held not entitled to recover for improvements in absence of proof of their value to property. Teer v. Plant, 238 Ark. 92, 378 S.W.2d 663 (1964).

26-37-210. Sale of timber, oil, gas, or mineral rights.

(b) Any timber right, oil right, gas right, or mineral right forfeited and certified to the Commissioner of State Lands is subject to disposition as provided in this chapter.

Preambles. Acts 1887, No. 13 contained a preamble which read:

“Whereas, 1st. Lands have been sold to the State under proceedings purporting to have been had in the courts of this State by virtue of an Act of the General Assembly thereof entitled ‘An Act to enforce the payment of Overdue Taxes,’ approved March 12, 1881, when the taxes for the alleged nonpayment of which such lands were so sold under said proceedings and decrees of said courts, had been in fact paid prior to any such sales, proceedings or decrees of said courts; and,

“Whereas, 2d. Also the lands of many other persons were under like proceedings and decrees aforesaid had, by virtue of said act, sold to the State, where the owners thereof had paid taxes which they supposed were on such lands of their own, but which taxes so paid, owing to an erroneous description in the numbers of the same afterwards were ascertained to be on other lands than their own, and their lands sold to the State as aforesaid; and,

“Whereas, 3d. Said overdue tax act was a novel proceeding in this State that was productive of hardships in other respects, and it is but just to them that the owners of land at the time of such sale to the State, should have a limited time to redeem the same therefrom, without loss to the State, provided said lands shall not have been sold by the State prior to any such application to redeem;

Acts 1943, No. 282, § 3: Mar. 23, 1943. Emergency clause provided: “It being desirable that forfeited lands be as speedily restored to taxation as is practicable and fair, in order that the revenues of the several towns, cities, counties and the State may be increased and immediate relief given those thereto entitled, an emergency is found and is hereby declared to exist, and this Act being necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health, and safety, shall take effect and be in full force from and after its passage and approval.”

Acts 1993, No. 791, § 10: Mar. 30, 1993. Emergency clause provided: “It is hereby found and determined by the General Assembly that the laws relating to the collection, redemption and sale of tax delinquent real property are in need of clarification; that Arkansas Courts have repeatedly voided tax deeds in instances where the county has not strictly complied with statutes; that such holdings have placed a cloud on tax deeds issued by the Commissioner of State Lands; that the present method whereby the Commissioner of State Lands disposes of tax delinquent land meets due process requirements; consequently, when the Commissioner of State Lands complies with the statutes set forth for his office to follow, tax deeds issued should not be void or voidable due to defects in the county procedure, except in cases where taxes have actually been paid. Further, the present situation has a chilling effect on the collection of taxes and encourages the nonpayment of taxes. Therefore, an emergency is hereby declared to exist and this act being necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage and approval.”

Unit Tax Ledger System.

In General.

There can be no such thing as an innocent purchaser at a tax sale. Bradbury v. Johnson, 104 Ark. 108, 147 S.W. 865 (1912); Schuman v. Westbrook, 207 Ark. 495, 181 S.W.2d 470 (1944). Where land included in tract forfeited for taxes had been assessed and taxes paid thereon for years thereafter, it was presumed that there was a redemption from the forfeiture. Koonce v. Woods, 211 Ark. 440, 201 S.W.2d 748 (1947).

Construction.

Redemption laws must be liberally construed. Little v. McGuire, 113 Ark. 497, 168 S.W. 1084 (1914).

Right to Redeem.

Attachment levied upon land that has been struck off to the state for nonpayment of taxes only binds such interest as the owner had at the time, which is a right of redemption within two years. Merrick & Fenno v. Hutt, 15 Ark. 331 (1854) (decision under prior law).

Burden of proof rests upon person seeking to redeem to sustain his title. Waterman v. Irby, 76 Ark. 551, 89 S.W. 844 (1905).

Right to redeem from tax sale is conferred by statute and does not exist independently of it; therefore, statutory requirements must be substantially complied with by one who seeks to redeem. Cook v. Jones, 80 Ark. 43, 96 S.W. 620 (1906); Nelson v. Pierce, 119 Ark. 291, 177 S.W. 899 (1915).

Right to redeem from a tax sale is governed by statute in force and effect at time the sale was made. Hoggs v. Nichols, 134 Ark. 280, 204 S.W. 211 (1918).

Statutory right to redeem is self-executing and requires no judicial proceeding to make it effective. George v. Hefley, 182 Ark. 678, 32 S.W.2d 445 (1930).

Redemption right is available in all cases, not only where the sale was defective, but where it was perfectly regular and valid. George v. Hefley, 182 Ark. 678, 32 S.W.2d 445 (1930).

Right of redemption is not enlarged nor diminished by the fact that state has sold and conveyed the interest acquired by it at tax sale. Harris v. Harris, 195 Ark. 184, 112 S.W.2d 40 (Ark. 1938).

Redemption provisions require a cotenant who wishes any portion of a tract to redeem the entire tract where the taxes thereon have been assessed in solido. Harris v. Harris, 195 Ark. 184, 112 S.W.2d 40 (Ark. 1938).

Right to redeem runs with the land, and any person who would otherwise acquire title takes with notice. Koonce v. Woods, 211 Ark. 440, 201 S.W.2d 748 (1947); Rinke v. Schuman, 246 Ark. 976, 440 S.W.2d 765 (1969).

Time to Redeem.

Where certificate of tax sale was assigned, tender of redemption money to assignee was good; but after expiration of the time prescribed by statute for redeeming, no waiver or anything short of an acceptance of the redemption money would make it good. Thweatt v. Black, 30 Ark. 732 (1875) (decision under prior law).

Last day given for redemption of land sold for taxes is the second anniversary of the sale, with the sale day excluded from the computation. Hare v. Carnall, 39 Ark. 196 (1882).

Action to redeem property sold to the state for nonpayment of taxes is a proceeding to enforce a legal right, and the doctrine of laches, being a defense in equity, has no applicability. Rinke v. Schuman, 246 Ark. 976, 440 S.W.2d 765 (1969).

Unit Tax Ledger System.

In counties operating under the unit tax ledger system, the collector is substituted for the county clerk for purposes of redemption from delinquent tax sales. Vanderbilt v. Washington, 249 Ark. 1070, 463 S.W.2d 670 (1971).

26-37-301. Notice to owner.

(a) (1) Subsequent to receiving tax-delinquent land, the Commissioner of State Lands shall notify the owner, at the owner's last known address as certified by the county, by certified mail, of the owner's right to redeem by paying all taxes, penalties, interest, and costs, including the cost of the notice.

(2) All interested parties shall receive notice of the sale from the Commissioner of State Lands in the same manner.

(3) If the notice by certified mail is returned unclaimed, the Commissioner of State Lands shall mail the notice to the owner or interested party by regular mail.

(4) If the notice by certified mail is returned undelivered for any other reason, the Commissioner of State Lands shall send a second notice to the owner or interested party at any additional address reasonably identifiable through the examination of the real property records properly filed and recorded in the office of the county recorder where the property is located as follows:

(A) The address shown on the deed to the owner;

(B) The address shown on the deed, mortgage, assignment, or other filed and recorded document to the interested party; or

(C) Any other corrected or forwarding address on file with the county collector or county assessor.

(b) (1) The notice to the owner or interested party shall also indicate that the tax-delinquent land will be sold if not redeemed prior to the date of sale.

(2) The notice shall also indicate the sale date, and that date shall be no earlier than one (1) year after the land is certified to the Commissioner of State Lands.

(c) As used in this section, "owner" and "interested party" means any person, firm, corporation, or partnership holding title to or an interest in the property by virtue of a bona fide recorded instrument at the time of certification to the Commissioner of State Lands.

(d) The Commissioner of State Lands shall not be required to notify, by certified mail or by any other means, any person, firm, corporation, or partnership whose title to or interest in the property is obtained subsequent to certification to the Commissioner of State Lands.

(e) (1) If the Commissioner of State Lands fails to receive proof that the notice sent by certified mail under this section was received by the owner of a homestead, then the Commissioner of State Lands or his or her designee shall provide actual notice to the owner of a homestead by personal service of process at least sixty (60) days before the date of sale.

(2) As used in this subsection:

(A) "Homestead" means the same as defined in § 26-26-1122; and

(B) “Owner of a homestead” means:

- (i) Every owner if the homestead is owned by joint tenants; and
- (ii) Either the husband or the wife if the homestead is owned by tenants by the entirety.

(3) The owner of a homestead shall pay for the additional cost of the notice by personal service of process under this subsection.

History. Acts 1983, No. 626, § 1; A.S.A. 1947, § 84-1126; Acts 1987, No. 814, § 5; 1993, No. 791, § 5; 1995, No. 714, § 3; 2003, No. 1376, § 2; 2005, No. 1231, § 6; 2007, No. 706, § 4; 2007, No. 827, § 213; 2007, No. 1036, § 5; 2009, No. 655, § 5.

Amendments. The 2003 amendment added subsection (e).

The 2005 amendment inserted “bona fide” in (c).

The 2007 amendment by No. 706 inserted “as certified by the county” in (a)(1); deleted “known to the Commissioner of State Lands” following “parties” in (a)(2); and added (a)(3) and (a)(4).

The 2007 amendment by No. 827, in (e), deleted “as defined under § 26-26-1118(b)” following homestead” in two places in (1), in (2) deleted “owner of a homestead” means” in the introductory paragraph, added (A) and (B), and subdivided the remainder of the text into (i) and (ii), and made related changes.

The 2007 amendment by No. 1036 substituted “one (1) year” for “two (2) years” in (b)(2).

The 2009 amendment substituted “county recorder where” for “circuit clerk in the county wherein” in (a)(4), and made minor stylistic changes.

Effective Dates. Acts 2003, No. 1376, § 4, provided: “This act shall become effective on January 1, 2004.”

Constitutionality.

This section fulfills constitutional due process requirements and provides sufficient notice to nonresident landowners prior to their property being sold. Tsann Kuen Enters. Co. v. Campbell, 355 Ark. 110, 129 S.W.3d 822 (2003).

Compliance.

Trial court properly found that a state land commissioner strictly complied with this section where the commissioner sent notice by certified mail to the taxpayers concerning the impending sale of their property for delinquent taxes; the statute does not require a state land commissioner to take every step possible to see that the letter arrives in the property owner's hands. Jones v. Double “D” Props., 352 Ark. 39, 98 S.W.3d 405 (2003).

The Commissioner of State Lands provided adequate notice to a prior owner of a tax deficiency and tax sale where there was some confusion at the county level as to the last known address, the commissioner mailed the notice to the address certified by the county, and the former owner had not furnished its correct address as required by § 26-35-705. Mays v. St. Pat Props., LLC, 357 Ark. 482, 182 S.W.3d 84 (2004), cert. denied, 543 U.S. 943, 125 S. Ct. 353 (2004).

Tax commissioner strictly complies with this section when, prior to a tax sale, it sends notice by certified mail to the last known address of the property owner; moreover, this section does not require the commissioner to take every step possible to ensure that the notice arrives in the property owner's hand. Jones v. Flowers, 359 Ark. 443, 198 S.W.3d 520 (2004), rev'd, 547 U.S. 220, 126 S. Ct. 1708, 164 L. Ed. 2d 415 (2006).

Where state had attempted to provide the property owners and delinquent tax payers with notice, both via certified mail and through publication in the newspaper, it had complied with the provisions of this section and the tax sale was valid. Jones v. Flowers, 359 Ark. 443, 198 S.W.3d 520 (2004), rev'd, 547 U.S. 220, 126 S. Ct. 1708, 164 L. Ed. 2d 415 (2006).

Where tax notices sent to landowner contained the sale dates and the tracts offered for sale at public auctions on those dates, the requirements of this section were satisfied. Price v. Rylwell, LLC, 95 Ark. App. 228, 235 S.W.3d 908 (2006).

Although debtor did not receive notice of a purchase of property that was sold pursuant to a tax sale because the debtor was not on record as having an interest in the property, the debtor had established that she nevertheless had an equitable interest in the property because she was in possession of it, she claimed to have an oral rent-to-purchase agreement with the owner, and she had made improvements on the property. The debtor was thus entitled to challenge the transfer through a tax sale made to the purchaser. In re Paro, 362 B.R. 419 (Bankr. E.D. Ark. 2007).

Taxpayer's action to set aside a limited warranty deed and to quiet title in the taxpayer's name was properly dismissed because the Arkansas Commissioner of State Lands strictly complied with the notice requirements in subdivisions (a)(1) and (b) of this section, and the notice of a tax sale of the taxpayer's real property provided by the Commissioner met federal due process constraints. Morris v. Landnpulaski, LLC, 2009 Ark. App. 356, — S.W.3d — (2009).

Lack of Compliance.

Buyer's tax deed was properly voided because the Commissioner of State Lands failed to notify the bank as an interested party since it held a recorded interest in the property at the time of certification, and the right to challenge the tax sale based on the failure to give notice to the bank passed to the mortgagor when it acquired an interest in the property through the foreclosure sale. RWR Props. v. Mid-State Trust VIII, 102 Ark. App. 115, 282 S.W.3d 297 (2008), review denied, RWR Props. v. Mid-State Trust VIII, — Ark. —, — S.W.3d —, 2008 Ark. LEXIS 582 (Sept. 4, 2008).

Last Known Address.

Where the Land Commissioner first sent certified notice to the wrong address, but then sent another certified notice to the correct address, the second notice satisfied the statutory notice requirement. Wilson v. Daniels, 64 Ark. App. 181, 980 S.W.2d 274 (1998).

Notice.

Negotiated tax sale to the purchasers was not void for lack of notice to the mortgage holder where it had received actual notice of the negotiated sale, but had taken no action, and the lack of notice of a public tax sale did not deprive it of due process because a public sale had not taken place and as a result, no property interest was lost and no objections to such a sale were necessary. Citifinancial Mortg. Co. v. Matthews, 372 Ark. 167, 271 S.W.3d 501 (2008).

Plain language of the statute only requires notice to a property owner "by certified mail." The statute does not require actual notice to the property owner. Morris v. Landnpulaski, LLC, 2009 Ark. App. 356, — S.W.3d — (2009).

Summary judgment was appropriate because there was no dispute that notice to the landowner of the pending tax sale was a single unclaimed letter sent by certified mail; some additional step reasonably calculated to give the landowner notice was required, and a mailing to the other landowners did not satisfy the requirements of due process. RWR Props. v. Young, 2009 Ark. App. 332, — S.W.3d — (2009).

Trial court erred in awarding summary judgment to a lender in its foreclosure action against a buyer of property at a tax sale because there was no requirement under subdivision (a)(1) of this section that the lender receive actual notice of the tax sale; there was a question as to whether the Arkansas Commissioner of State Lands was required to take any additional steps to provide the lender with notice. Jarsew, LLC v. Green Tree Servicing, LLC, 2009 Ark. App. 324, — S.W.3d — (2009).

26-37-302. Payment required.

(a) In order to redeem, whether with the county collector or the Commissioner of State Lands, and in order to purchase at the Commissioner's sale, the redeemer or purchaser of tax-delinquent land shall pay all delinquent taxes, plus:

- (1) Ten percent (10%) simple interest for each year of delinquency;
- (2) A ten percent (10%) penalty for each year of the delinquency; and
- (3) The costs incurred by the county and the Commissioner of State Lands.

(b) The penalties and interest shall accrue beginning on October 11 in the year of delinquency.

26-37-304. [Repealed.]

Publisher's Notes. This section, concerning timber rights, was repealed by Acts 1993, No. 791, § 6. The section was derived from Acts 1905, No. 303, § 3, p. 738; C. & M. Dig., § 10097; Pope's Dig., § 13861; A.S.A. 1947, § 84-1202.

26-37-305. Rights of persons under disability.

(a) All land or a city lot or town lot belonging to an insane person, minor person, or person in confinement that is sold for taxes may be redeemed within two (2) years after the expiration of the person's disability.

(b) (1) In redemption of any land described in subsection (a) of this section by any person after the expiration of a disability described in subsection (a) of this section, the purchaser shall be required to account for all timber, gas, oil, or mineral substance taken from the land while holding under the tax title and protect the rights of any person under disability as provided in this section.

(2) (A) A person desiring to take any timber, gas, oil, or mineral substance from any land held under tax title within ten (10) years after the sale for taxes shall first execute a bond in sufficient amount to cover the substance to be removed, with good and sufficient sureties, conditioned that the holder of the land will pay for all substances removed from the land if the land is redeemed under the provisions of this section.

(B) The bond shall be filed with and approved by the clerk of the county court in the county where the land is located.

(c) (1) Any person removing timber, gas, oil, or a mineral substance from any land contrary to the provisions of this section and without first executing the bond provided for in this section shall be guilty of a violation and shall be fined in any sum not less than twenty-five dollars ($25.00) and not more than double the amount of the substance removed.

(2) A person may remove timber from land cleared in good faith for cultivation without becoming liable to the penalty provided in this section.

(d) (1) The county clerk shall keep a record of all certificates of redemption of lands or city lots or town lots, or parts of lands or city lots or town lots, which were sold for delinquent taxes and redeemed and shall retain the record of them for ten (10) years from the date on which the redemption certificates were issued.

(2) Thereafter, unless a court order shall have been issued with respect to any such redemption certificate, the county clerk may destroy the record.

In General.

Under the Overdue Tax Act of March 12, 1881 (Acts 1881, No. 39), allowing two years for redemption, no exception was made in favor of infants or other persons under disability. Junction v. Burke, 53 Ark. 430, 14 S.W. 622 (1890) (decision under prior law).

Under §§ 18-60-212 and 18-61-106, which provide that to recover land from a tax purchaser under a donation deed it must appear that the plaintiff was seized within two years next before the commencement of the suit, no exception can be made by a court in favor of infants or other persons under disability. Sims v. Camby, 53 Ark. 418, 14 S.W. 623 (1890).

Married women were limited to two years in which to redeem. Sibly v. Cason, 86 Ark. 32, 109 S.W. 1007 (1908) (decision prior to enactment of § 9-11-502).

Right of persons under disability to redeem is not a mere personal privilege to be enjoyed solely by those laboring under the disabilities mentioned in this section, which ceases with the death of such persons, but is a right which inheres in the land itself. Pulaski County v. Hill, 97 Ark. 450, 134 S.W. 973 (1911).

Persons under disabilities may redeem land from a tax sale, and in doing so, these persons not only redeem the land for themselves, but for all interested cotenants, although the individual redeeming would not acquire full title to the land. Mitchell v. Chester, 208 Ark. 781, 187 S.W.2d 899, 159 A.L.R. 1462 (1945); Williams v. Jones, 239 Ark. 1032, 396 S.W.2d 286 (1965).

As to effect of this section on requirement in security instruments that debtor pay all taxes when due, see Mahan v. Poling, 2 Ark. App. 1, 616 S.W.2d 20 (1981).

Construction.

This section must be read in connection with other statutes prescribing conditions under which the right to redeem may be exercised. Harris v. Harris, 195 Ark. 184, 112 S.W.2d 40 (Ark. 1938).

Insane Persons.

Insane person whose interest in land is that of a cestui que trust has no legal title to land, and any redemption right is lost when the redemption right of the trustee expires. Little v. McGuire, 113 Ark. 497, 168 S.W. 1084 (1914).

Rights of insane person to redeem land held saved by § 16-56-116. Schuman v. Westbrook, 207 Ark. 495, 181 S.W.2d 470 (1944).

Insane person has two years after the removal of his disability to exercise his right of redemption and his heirs had the right to redeem within two years after his disability was removed by death, but they could not attach the disability of minority to that of their father and thereby extend the statute. Tarrence v. Berg, 202 Ark. 452, 150 S.W.2d 753 (1941).

In suit for redemption by insane person, court has authority to determine mental status irrespective of any previous adjudication of another court. Schuman v. Westbrook, 207 Ark. 495, 181 S.W.2d 470 (1944).

Right of insane person to redeem his property from a tax sale is not lost by lapse of statutory time for redemption. Schuman v. Westbrook, 207 Ark. 495, 181 S.W.2d 470 (1944).

Right of redemption in persons removed from disability of insanity is an absolute right and a statutory privilege, and it is not barred by limitations or adverse possession, nor is laches applicable. Rinke v. Schuman, 246 Ark. 976, 440 S.W.2d 765 (1969).

Statutory period within which a person removed from mental disability may redeem land sold to the state for nonpayment of taxes does not begin to run when a guardian is appointed for that person, as the right is a personal one in favor of the former incompetent. Rinke v. Schuman, 246 Ark. 976, 440 S.W.2d 765 (1969).

Right of redemption given to persons removed from disability of insanity is not an interest or estate in land, but is a statutory privilege to defeat a tax title within the time limited and is not enlarged or diminished by the fact that the state may have sold and conveyed the interest acquired by it at a tax sale. Rinke v. Schuman, 246 Ark. 976, 440 S.W.2d 765 (1969).

Right of persons removed from disability of insanity to redeem lands sold for taxes is available in all cases, not only where tax sale from which redemption is sought is defective, but from sales which are perfectly regular and valid. Rinke v. Schuman, 246 Ark. 976, 440 S.W.2d 765 (1969). Heirs of incompetent have right to redeem land within statutory period, which begins to run after death of incompetent has removed disability of insanity. Rinke v. Schuman, 246 Ark. 976, 440 S.W.2d 765 (1969).

Acquisition of land by payment of taxes under color of title for more than seven years under § 18-11-102 does not bar redemption of land from void tax sale by heirs of incompetent. Rinke v. Schuman, 246 Ark. 976, 440 S.W.2d 765 (1969).

Minors.

A minor can redeem from a tax sale at any time during his minority or for two years afterward, whether the purchase is by the state or by an individual, and alienation by the purchaser does not defeat the right. Carroll v. Johnson, 41 Ark. 59 (1883); George v. Hefley, 182 Ark. 678, 32 S.W.2d 445 (1930).

Where land of infant was forfeited to state and had been sold by state before time for redemption had expired, he could redeem from purchaser, and redemption money belonged to purchaser and not to state. Keith v. Freeman, 43 Ark. 296 (1884).

Minor's right to redeem is not an estate, but only a statutory privilege to defeat a tax title in a limited time. Bender v. Bean, 52 Ark. 132, 12 S.W. 180 (1889), modified, 52 Ark. 146, 12 S.W.

241 (1889); Harris v. Harris, 195 Ark. 184, 112 S.W.2d 40 (Ark. 1938).

Suit by infant to redeem land from tax sale is not an action for the recovery of land or for the possession thereof within §§ 18-60-212 and 18-61-106 requiring affidavit of tender of taxes.

Burgett v. McCray, 61 Ark. 456, 33 S.W. 639 (1896).

Where law in force at date of tax forfeiture gives infant owner right to redeem until two years after he should come of age, this right cannot be divested by subsequent legislation. Moore v. Irby, 69 Ark. 102, 61 S.W. 371 (1901).

This section is notice to all the world of a minor's right to redeem. Hisey v. Sloan, 180 Ark. 797, 22 S.W.2d 1005 (1930).

It is the duty of those representing minors to raise their right to redeem, and where they fail to do so, it is the court's duty to protect their rights. Hisey v. Sloan, 180 Ark. 797, 22 S.W.2d 1005 (1930).

Where parent conveys land to minor children before tax sale, children have right to redeem, the lien for taxes having attached before the conveyance to the children being immaterial, since the right of redemption is from the time of sale. Chambers v. Burke, 194 Ark. 665, 109 S.W.2d 117 (1937).

Minor is entitled to redeem not only his interest, but the interest of all others by paying taxes, penalty, and costs, plus taxes subsequently paid by purchaser, interest on the whole amount, and value of improvements, if any. Reynolds v. Plants, 196 Ark. 116, 116 S.W.2d 350 (1938).

Two years after a person reaches majority, his right to redeem is waived. Bass v. John, 217 Ark. 487, 230 S.W.2d 946 (1950).

Sale of land to pay debts could not be set aside by minor entitled to redeem from tax sale under this section where sale was made subject to taxes and redemption under § 26-37-310 by purchaser did not purport to convey title. Norwood v. Heaslett, 218 Ark. 286, 235 S.W.2d 955 (1951).

Former § 26-38-118 (repealed), which allowed a period of one year to attack determination by chancery court vesting title in state for nonpayment of taxes, did not cut off rights of minor to redeem property from tax sale within period of two years following sale of property to state. Harvey v. Ledbetter, 219 Ark. 27, 240 S.W.2d 18 (1951) (decision under prior law).

Minor's suit to redeem is not barred by decree in favor of holder of tax title in ejectment suit against heirs, since only right to possession is involved. Hunt v. Ellis, 219 Ark. 353, 242 S.W.2d 146 (1951).

Minor's suit to redeem is not barred by decree in foreclosure suit by bank where bank refuses to accept deed, since debt has been paid. Hunt v. Ellis, 219 Ark. 353, 242 S.W.2d 146 (1951).

26-37-306. Procedure for redemption by persons under disability.

(a) All lands and town or city lots, or parts thereof, which have been or may hereafter be forfeited to the state for nonpayment of taxes, which belong to minors, persons of unsound mind, and persons in confinement at the date of forfeiture, may be redeemed by such persons by application to the Commissioner of State Lands within the limitation prescribed by law and upon the terms and in the manner provided by law.

(b) (1) Persons of the class mentioned in subsection (a) of this section may, by themselves or by their guardians or next friend, present their petition to the Commissioner, setting forth the evidence of their title at the date of forfeiture and their right to redeem under this section and the facts set forth shall be sworn to by the petitioner.

(2) The oath shall be attested by the clerk of the circuit court of the county, or some notary public of the county and state in which the petitioner resides or before the Commissioner.

(c) The Commissioner may require other evidence than the petition to establish the facts therein set forth, and the petitioner may take proof by affidavit or otherwise as the Commissioner may prescribe.

(d) (1) If the Commissioner finds the facts set forth in the petition to be true, he shall cancel the forfeiture on his books and issue his certificate to the party redeeming the land or lot, setting forth the fact that the land or lot has been duly and legally redeemed by the payment of all taxes, penalties, and costs due thereon.

(2) Upon the presentation of the certificate to the clerk of the county in which the lands lie, the clerk shall mark on his record of lands forfeited to the state opposite to the tract described in the certificate the words "redeemed before the Commissioner of State Lands" and the time when so redeemed.

(e) The assignees of the persons mentioned in subsection (a) of this section shall have two (2) years after they shall have acquired title to redeem the lands or town or city lots, and under the same provisions and restrictions that their assignors had. In no case shall they have a longer time in which to redeem than the assignor had at the time of sale.

(f) The provisions of this section shall not apply to any land or town or city lots that have been in anywise disposed of by the state prior to the filing in the office of the Commissioner a petition for redemption.

Assignees.

In General.

No action of the state or its officers can destroy the statutory right of minors, or others under disability, to redeem. Koonce v. Woods, 211 Ark. 440, 201 S.W.2d 748 (1947).

Construction.

Right of minor to redeem his land from tax sale is absolute, and this section is to be liberally construed to effectuate its purpose in preventing a permanent forfeiture of the estate of a minor. Bradbury v. Johnson, 104 Ark. 108, 147 S.W. 865 (1912).

Assignees.

Quitclaim grantee of owner of lands sold for delinquent taxes has the same right to redeem the lands so sold and to attack the tax title of the purchaser as has the original owner. Vanderbilt v. Washington, 249 Ark. 1070, 463 S.W.2d 670 (1971).

26-37-307. Joint tenant, tenant in common, or coparcener.

When any joint tenants, tenants in common, or coparceners shall be entitled to redeem any land or lot, or part thereof, sold for taxes and any person so entitled shall refuse or neglect to join in the application for the certificate of redemption, or from any cause cannot be joined in the application, the clerk of the county court may entertain the application of any one (1) of these persons, or as many as shall join therein, and may make a certificate for the redemption of such portion of the land or lot, or part thereof, as the person making the application shall be entitled to redeem.

Minors.

Minors.

Minor cotenant of land sold for taxes may redeem entire interest in land, including interest owned by adult tenants in common, even though land does not constitute a homestead; this section merely relieves a tenant in common of the necessity of redeeming for all. Smith v. Pettus, 205 Ark. 442, 169 S.W.2d 586 (1943).

26-37-308. Portion of tract of land.

(a) (1) When a portion of a tract of land sold for general taxes or for any improvement district taxes extended by the county clerk on the county tax books is claimed by any person who desires to redeem the land, the person may apply to the county assessor setting forth in writing his or her claim to the land and demanding that the county assessor make a separate assessment upon the tract of land described by the claimant, showing what portion of the general taxes or of the local improvement taxes for which the land is forfeited is properly applicable to the portion of the land sought to be redeemed.

(2) (A) (i) Within two (2) weeks after the application is filed with the county assessor, the county assessor shall file with the county clerk a certificate in which he or she shall justly apportion the delinquent general or local improvement taxes between the portion of the land described in the demand of the complainant and the remaining portion of the land.

(ii) For the county assessor's services the claimant shall pay the county assessor the sum of one dollar ($1.00).

(B) If the county assessor fails to file his or her certificate within the time prescribed he or she shall be subject to a penalty of twenty-five dollars ($25.00).

(b) (1) The certificates shall be recorded by the county clerk in a book to be kept by him or her called the tax apportionment book, and the clerk shall write opposite the description of the lands in the assessment books or local improvement assessment books the words, "See Tax Apportionment Book".

(2) For each case in which the county clerk fails to do so, the county clerk shall be subject to a penalty of twenty-five dollars ($25.00).

(c) (1) (A) At any time before the expiration of the period for redemption of the land and upon paying to the proper officer the sum necessary to redeem the portion of land claimed by the person, any person interested in the land, either as the purchaser at the sale for general or local improvement taxes or claiming the remaining portion of the land, or any part of the land, may file suit in the circuit court to review the justness of the apportionment made by the county assessor.

(B) If the plaintiff prevails in his suit, the circuit court shall make a decree charging the land of the defendant with the excess of taxes paid by the plaintiff, which charge shall be the first lien on the land.

(2) (A) If the first redemption is made less than three (3) months before the expiration of the period of redemption, a remaining party interested in the land shall have a period of three (3) months from the time of the redemption in which to bring the suit provided for in this section.

(B) However, the three-month period shall not extend their time for redeeming.

(d) (1) The assessing officers of any improvement district may make a reassessment of the benefits annually.

(2) In any such reassessment the assessing officers may correct defective descriptions.

(3) (A) When a tract of land has been assessed as a whole, the tract may be divided according to its ownership at the time of the reassessment.

(B) This reassessment shall be made, advertised, and equalized in the same manner, and only subject to attack within the same period of time, as the original assessment of benefits.

Case Notes

Constitutionality.

Mineral Interests.

Constitutionality.

This section, directing an assessor, upon request, to segregate any part of a tract claimed by petitioner and to certify to the county clerk what part of the entire tax the designated portion shall bear, does not deny due process. Foggs v. Crutcher, 216 Ark. 438, 226 S.W.2d 48 (1950).

Mineral Interests.

Title to mineral interest in land vested in levee district through purchase of land in foreclosure suits brought for the collection of delinquent levee assessments under Acts 1905, No. 106, where former owners, instead of applying for relief under this section, stood by for more than 10 years and permitted the land to be sold to the district and the period of redemption to expire. Long Prairie Levee Dist. v. Wall, 227 Ark. 305, 298 S.W.2d 52 (1957).

26-37-309. Uncertified sales to state.

(a) Any land sold to the state for the nonpayment of taxes since the year 1908 or thereafter, which sale has never been certified to the Commissioner of State Lands, may be redeemed by the person, firm, or corporation holding the lands under color of title by filing with the Commissioner a certificate from the clerk of the county in which the lands are situated, showing the sale of the land, the amount of taxes, penalty, and cost due thereon, if any, and the payment thereof and making a sworn statement in writing that he is the holder of the lands as aforesaid and entitled to redeem them.

(b) Upon compliance with subsection (a) of this section, the Commissioner shall issue to the person, firm, or corporation a quitclaim deed to the land, conveying to the person, firm, or corporation, as the case may be, all claim, right, and title the state acquired by the sale. The Commissioner shall make a record of the sale and of the issuance of the deed in a book kept by him for that purpose, showing the sale to the state, the date of the deed, to whom issued, and the description of the lands. The Commissioner shall file and preserve all of the original papers in connection with the redemption in his office. The papers and record shall be open at all times to public inspection.

26-37-310. Procedure for redeeming land certified to state.

(a) All lands or town and city lots sold to the state under any decree or other proceedings had under the provisions of an act entitled “An act to enforce the payment of overdue taxes,” Acts 1881, No. 39, approved March 12, 1881 [repealed], and now owned by the state and all lands or town and city lots forfeited and sold to the state for nonpayment of taxes and certified to the Commissioner of State Lands which have not been sold or otherwise disposed of by the state, or which may hereafter be sold and forfeited to the state, and certified as aforesaid, may, until disposed of by the state, be redeemed by the person owning the land or lot at the time of forfeiture, or by his heirs or assigns, in the manner provided by subsections (b), (c), and (d) of this section.

(b) Any person, or his agent or attorney, desiring to redeem any land or town or city lots under the provisions of this section shall first pay to the Treasurer of State an amount or sum of money equal to the taxes for which the land or town or city lots desired to be redeemed were sold, together with penalties and costs and all expenses paid by the state in acquiring title to the land or town or city lots under such forfeiture for taxes and all state and county taxes that would have subsequently accrued thereon had they remained on the tax books subject to taxation.

(c) The Commissioner, upon application by any person desiring to redeem any lands or town or city lots under this section, shall furnish the person a statement, showing the amount of money that will be required to be paid to the State Treasurer under subsection (b) of this section for the redemption of the lands or town or city lots sought to be redeemed.

(d) Before any person shall be permitted to redeem any lands or town or city lots mentioned in subsection (a) of this section, the person, or his agent or attorney, shall present and file with the Commissioner a verified petition stating that they, or the parties under whom they hold, owned the lands or town or city lots desired to be redeemed at the time they were forfeited for taxes. They shall also file with the petition a receipt, in duplicate, from the State Treasurer showing the payment of the amount of money necessary to redeem the lands or town or city lots sought to be redeemed as required by subsection (b) of this section.

(e) The Commissioner may require other evidence than the petition to establish the facts therein set forth, and the petitioner may take proof by affidavit or otherwise as the Commissioner may direct.

(f) If the Commissioner finds the facts set forth in the petition to be true and that the amount of money necessary to redeem the lands sought to be redeemed has been paid to the State Treasurer as required by subsection (b) of this section, he shall, by deed of release and quitclaim under his hand and official seal, convey to the person redeeming the lands or town or city lots all of the right, title, and interest of the state in and to the lands or town or city lots acquired under any forfeiture, sale, or condemnation for taxes. For this deed, the Commissioner shall receive one dollar ($1.00), to be paid by the party applying to redeem the lands or lots.

(g) The Commissioner shall file with the Auditor of State one (1) of the receipts executed by the State Treasurer and presented with the petition required by subsection (d) of this section and shall keep the other receipt on file in his office. The Commissioner shall forward a copy of the deed executed by him under subsection (f) of this section to the clerk of the county court of the county in which the land or lot conveyed by the deed is situated.

(h) After the reception of the deed of the Commissioner, the clerk shall extend on the tax book against the land or lot the taxes other than state and county for the years that the taxes have not been paid since the sale of the land or lot to the state, and these taxes shall be charged and collected as other taxes.

(i) The proceeds of all redemptions of forfeited lands which may hereafter be made under subsections (a)-(e) of this section shall be divided equally between the county where the lands are situated and the state, and paid over in the manner as required and provided in this section.

Case Notes

Disposition by State.

Overdue Tax Act of 1881.

Redemption of Lands.

Disposition by State.

Execution of donation certificate of tax forfeited lands to donee is a disposition of the land within the meaning of this section giving the owner right to redeem lands that have not been sold or otherwise disposed of by the state. Waldon v. Holland, 206 Ark. 401, 175 S.W.2d 570 (1943).

Where, at the time donation certificate was issued by state to donee, there was no law in existence that gave landowner any further right to redeem, subsequently enacted statute, providing that no pending donation shall bar redemption and remitting donee to courts for enforcement of any rights as to property because of betterments, impaired donee's right under the contract. Waldon v. Holland, 206 Ark. 401, 175 S.W.2d 570 (1943).

Law in force at the time concerning redemption also becomes a part of the contract as to a donation deed by state, as that law measures the respective rights. Waldon v. Holland, 206 Ark. 401, 175 S.W.2d 570 (1943).

Commissioner of State Lands had authority to cancel redemption deed issued to grantee because of worthless checks given by grantee in payment for deed, and subsequent sale of the lands to another person conveyed all title and interest of the state to that person. Field v. Brown, 206 Ark. 545, 176 S.W.2d 155 (1943).

Where state conveyed property to husband and wife and property was previously owned by husband and forfeited to state for nonpayment of taxes, it was a sale that vested the property in the husband and wife as tenants by the entirety and was not a redemption of tax forfeited lands; so that, upon husband's death, ownership vested in wife and, upon her death, intestate title passed to her heirs at law. Herford v. Scales, 240 Ark. 436, 399 S.W.2d 653 (1966).

Overdue Tax Act of 1881.

Where, after proper redemption of land that had been sold under Overdue Tax Act of 1881 (Acts 1881, No. 39), sale was confirmed, deed was executed, and writ of possession ordered in favor of purchaser, confirmation could be set aside and writ of possession quashed. Adair v. Scott, 53 Ark. 480, 14 S.W. 671 (1890) (decision under prior law).

Where land was forfeited to state under Overdue Tax Act of 1881 (Acts 1881, No. 39) after lands were returned delinquent, conveyance by state could not be attacked after confirmation of sale, although collector's books showed tax had been paid. Jefferson Land Co. v. Grace, 57 Ark. 423, 21 S.W. 877 (1893) (decision under prior law).

Questions relating to regularity of assessment of lands for taxation, amount of taxes assessed against them, and payment thereof were concluded by decree of confirmation of lands in Overdue Tax Act of 1881 (Acts 1881, No. 39) suit. Streett v. Reynolds, 63 Ark. 1, 38 S.W. 150 (1896) (decision under prior law).

During pendency of Overdue Tax Act of 1881 (Acts 1881, No. 39) suit to set aside forfeiture of certain land for taxes, Commissioner of State Lands had no authority to issue donation certificate and deed based upon the forfeiture. St. Louis Refrigerator & Wooden Gutter Co. v. Langley, 66 Ark. 48, 51 S.W. 68 (1898) (decision under prior law).

Where lands were sold to state and conveyed under Overdue Tax Act of 1881 (Acts 1881, No. 39), but for years thereafter the state, through its county officers, assessed, levied, and collected taxes on these lands in the names of the original owners and their successors, it would be presumed that these lands had been redeemed from the Commissioner of State Lands by the original owners. Wallace v. Hill, 135 Ark. 353, 205 S.W. 699 (1918) (decision under prior law).

Where land was sold to state under Overdue Tax Act of 1881 (Acts 1881, No. 39), and was not redeemed within time allowed, person who was remote grantee of tax purchaser acquired a valid title. Chicago Land & Timber Co. v. Dorris, 139 Ark. 333, 213 S.W. 759 (1919) (decision under prior law).

Redemption of Lands.

Fact that Commissioner of State Lands permitted one to redeem land claimed by him from a tax sale cannot be held to be an adjudication of his ownership of the land in litigation with another person. Meyer v. Snell, 89 Ark. 298, 116 S.W. 208 (1909).

Redemption of land by owner from tax forfeiture, made after forfeited land has been sold by state, held merely a payment of taxes and not color of title. Pyburn v. Campbell, 158 Ark. 321, 250 S.W. 15 (1923).

Provisions that permitted state to retain all moneys paid for redemption held not subject to constitutional prohibition that no money arising from a tax levied for one purpose shall be used for any other purpose. Page v. McCuin, 201 Ark. 890, 148 S.W.2d 308 (1941).

26-37-311. Proceedings to redeem prior to sale by state.

(a) At any time before the lands referred to in this section have been sold by the state, the owners thereof may present their petition to the Commissioner of State Lands, setting forth the evidence of their title, or of those under whom they claim, to the lands, at the time of the sale of the lands to the state as stated in this section. The petition shall set forth the evidence of the taxes having been paid on the lands before such sale to the state, for the years for the alleged nonpayment of which taxes the lands were sold to the state under any proceedings or decrees rendered under laws to enforce the payment of overdue taxes, and the facts set forth shall be sworn to by the petitioner and such oath shall be attested by the clerk of the circuit court of the county, or some notary public of the county and state in which such petitioner resides, or before the Commissioner.

(b) The Commissioner may require other evidence than the petition to establish the facts therein set forth, and the petitioner may take proof by affidavit or otherwise as the Commissioner may prescribe.

(c) If the Commissioner finds the facts set forth in the petition to be true and that the taxes on the lands had been paid by the present owners of the lands, or by those under whom they claim the lands, for the years they were sold to the state, and before they were sold to the state, he shall, by deed of release and quitclaim under his hand and official seal, convey to the owner of the lands all of the rights, title, and interest of the state in and to the lands acquired under any sale or other proceedings under provisions of an act to enforce the payment of overdue taxes, Acts 1881, No. 39, approved March 12, 1881. A copy of the deed shall also be sent by the Commissioner to the clerk of the county court of the county.

(d) After the reception of the deed from the Commissioner to the clerk, the clerk shall extend on the tax books against the lands the taxes for the years that the taxes have not been paid since the erroneous sale of the lands to the state under the overdue tax law. The taxes that have not been paid on the lands since the sale to the state shall be charged and collected as in other cases of lands of the state where the Commissioner has officially advised the clerk they have become subject to taxation.

26-37-312. Reassessment of unimproved land in municipality.

(a) When an acreage tract of unimproved land, that is, land with no residence or other building on it, located in any incorporated municipality is in default to this state for nonpayment of taxes and when the owner of the acreage tract of unimproved land applies to the county assessor of the county where the acreage tract of unimproved land is located for reassessment, it shall be the duty of the county assessor to determine what would have been a fair assessment for the year for which the acreage tract of unimproved land forfeited.

(b) (1) In determining the amount at which the acreage tract of unimproved land should have been assessed, the county assessor should take into consideration how the acreage tract of unimproved land lies.

(2) If the value of the acreage tract of unimproved land is being considered as to its probability or possibility of being platted and sold off in lots or blocks, then due allowance should be made for the land that will be required for streets and alleys.

(3) In arriving at the valuation for reassessment purposes on the acreage tract of unimproved land, the county assessor shall take into consideration the assessed value of platted vacant lots in adjoining or nearby platted subdivisions.

(4) If the property that is platted into lots is served with water, lights, gas, and telephone lines, when there is no improvement district tax on the platted lots for those utility services, then that also should be taken into consideration.

(5) When compared with platted lots, if the streets serving the lots are paved and the paving tax is paid out, or nearly paid out, that, likewise, should be taken into consideration in determining the amount at which the acreage tract of unimproved land should have been assessed.

(c) (1) (A) If the county assessor finds that the acreage tract of unimproved land was valued on county assessor's records too high at the time it forfeited to the state, the county assessor shall make a written report to that effect to the Commissioner of State Lands and state what a fair and equitable assessed value should have been.

(B) It shall then be the duty of the Commissioner of State Lands to make reduction in the amount of taxes in accordance with the report of the county assessor.

(2) Any interested landowner may appeal to the circuit court for review of the findings of the county assessor.

(d) (1) If reduction in the amount of taxes against the acreage tract of unimproved land is made by the Commissioner of State Lands on the report of the county assessor or upon finding of the circuit court upon appeal from the county assessor's findings, then the Commissioner of State Lands shall allow the landowner to redeem the acreage tract of unimproved land or sell the acreage tract of unimproved land as provided by law, based on the corrected amount of taxes due.

(2) When the acreage tract of unimproved land, at the time it forfeited to the state for taxes, was assessed as one (1) tract but when it is now owned by two (2) or more owners, on petition to the Commissioner of State Lands of one (1) or more of the landowners, as shown by certificate of abstractor, the Commissioner of State Lands shall prorate the proportionate part of the reassessment against the respective parts of the acreage tract of unimproved land and the Commissioner of State Lands shall determine the amount of delinquent taxes to be charged against each part of the acreage tract of unimproved land and mark his or her records accordingly.

(3) Each part of the acreage tract of unimproved land may then be redeemed by the owner, the amount necessary to redeem being based on the corrected assessment and apportionment.

(4) If any portion of the acreage tract of unimproved land remains unredeemed for a period of ninety (90) days after the apportionment is made, the Commissioner of State Lands may then sell any portion of the acreage tract of unimproved land as remains unredeemed, or may sell the portion prior to the expiration of the ninety-day period with the consent of the owner.

26-37-313. Reassessment of parcels of land upon depreciation since forfeiture.

(a) (1) Town and city lots and blocks and acreage tracts, lots, blocks, divisions, and subdivisions that have been platted and sold as being outside of the corporate limits of towns and cities, and rural lots and parcels of land now, or which may hereafter be, forfeited to the state for nonpayment of taxes due thereon that have depreciated in value since forfeiture may be reassessed at their present value by the tax assessor of the county in which the lands are located, upon application being made in writing by the application to redeem or purchase them, setting forth the reasons for the reassessment. No application shall contain more than five (5) descriptive calls. Before any such reassessment shall be valid, it shall be presented to the county judge and the chief county school officer of the county in which the lands are located and approved by them in writing and made a matter of record in the county by the clerk of the county court.

(2) The fee of the assessor shall be one dollar ($1.00) for each application. The fee shall be paid to the county treasurer and credited by him to the county general revenue fund. The fee of the county clerk shall be the regular fee allowed by law and shall be paid by the applicant seeking reassessment.

(b) (1) If the tax assessor deems the assessment for which parcels of land were forfeited to be too high, he shall prepare a certificate stating that a reassessment has been made under this section and shall state, under oath, the cause for the depreciation in the value of the lots or parcels of land.

(2) The assessor, the county judge, and the chief county school officer are prohibited from making any such reassessment as set out in this section except for the following causes:

- (A) Burned buildings not replaced and on which the applicant did not collect insurance;
- (B) Buildings removed and from which the applicant received no benefit;
- (C) Erosion;
- (D) Damage by flood;
- (E) Damage by tornado;
- (F) Removal of timber from which the applicant received no benefit; or
- (G) Any act of God.

(3) When the reassessment has been made, a complete record thereof, including a certified copy of the application, the reassessment, and the court order, shall be forwarded to the Commissioner of State Lands, who shall, upon its receipt, enter it upon a record to be kept by him in his office for that purpose, and he shall issue redemption deeds or sale deeds for forfeited lands in the manner and form provided by law, based upon the reassessment value.

Publisher's Notes. Acts 1939, No. 282, § 3 and 1943, No. 282, § 4, providing for a penalty for charging excessive fees or accepting money for reassessment were repealed by Acts 1975, No. 928, § 4, effective January 1, 1976; however, Acts 1975, No. 928, § 2, provided that, notwithstanding that all or part of a statute defining a criminal offense is amended or repealed by this act, the statute or part thereof so amended or repealed shall remain in force for the purpose of authorizing the prosecution, correction, and punishment of a person committing an offense under the statute or part thereof prior to the effective date of this act.

26-37-314. Sale of tax delinquent severed mineral interests prohibited.

(a) (1) When severed mineral interests are forfeited to the state and conveyed by certification to the Commissioner of State Lands for nonpayment of property taxes, title to the severed mineral interests shall vest in the State of Arkansas in the care of the Commissioner of State Lands.

(2) The Commissioner of State Lands shall so notify the owner of record by certified mail at his or her last known address.

(3) (A) Except as provided in subsection (b) of this section, the Commissioner of State Lands shall not sell the severed mineral interests but shall retain the severed mineral interests indefinitely for redemption.

(B) However, the severed mineral interests may be leased by the Commissioner of State Lands if he or she determines that a lease is in the best interest of the state.

(C) All benefits, including royalty and leasehold payments, accruing after title vests in the state and before redemption shall be payable to the Commissioner of State Lands.

(D) Upon receipt of any such benefits, the Commissioner of State Lands shall deposit the funds into financial institutions in this state.

(4) (A) The tax-delinquent severed mineral interests may be redeemed at any time in the manner prescribed for the redemption of tax-delinquent real property.

(B) However, upon redemption the owner shall not be entitled to any payments received by the Commissioner of State Lands before redemption.

(5) All funds derived from redemption shall be held in escrow by the Commissioner of State Lands for one (1) year, at which time they shall be distributed the same as funds derived from the redemption of real property.

(b) (1) After the expiration of the redemption period prescribed by this chapter, the Commissioner of State Lands shall sell the severed mineral interests to the surface owners if the surface owners opt to purchase the tax-delinquent severed mineral interests.

(2) The surface owner purchasing severed mineral interests under subdivision (b)(1) of this section shall be allowed to purchase the severed mineral interests for an amount equal to the delinquent taxes and shall not be required to pay any interest or penalties if the surface owner was not the owner of the severed mineral interests at the time the taxes became delinquent.

(c) All benefits, including royalty and leasehold payments, payable to the Commissioner of State Lands pursuant to this section are not subject to the provisions of § 18-28-201 et seq. and § 18-28-401 et seq.

(d) The provisions of this section shall be applicable to all tax-delinquent severed mineral interests currently forfeited to the state and certified to the Commissioner of State Lands as well as to all tax-delinquent severed mineral interests forfeited to the state in the future.

(e) (1) No deed issued under this section shall be void or voidable on the ground that the assessment of the property taxes on the severed mineral interests was not subjoined to the assessment of the property taxes on the surface realty.

(2) This subsection shall be retroactive to all certifications of delinquent severed mineral interests in the records of the office of the Commissioner of State Lands.

History. Acts 1993, No. 864, §§ 1-4; 2003, No. 1279, § 1.

Publisher's Notes. This section is being set out to change the reference of "subchapter" to "chapter" in (b)(1).

Amendments. The 2003 amendment inserted "of State Lands" throughout this section; in (a)(3)(A), substituted "retain the interests" for "retain the same"; inserted the subdivision designations in (a)(4); redesignated former (b) as present (b)(1) and rewrote the subdivision; added (b)(2); in (c), substituted "§ 18-28-201 et seq. and § 18-28-401 et seq." for "§§ 18-28-201 — 18-28-232 and §§ 18-28-401 — 18-28-403," respectively; added (e); and made stylistic and gender neutral changes.

Preambles. Acts 1883, No. 16 contained a preamble which read:

“Whereas, In many cases, county clerks of different counties in this State have heretofore executed deeds for lands sold at delinquent tax sales, which said deeds are void by reason of showing upon their face that two or more tracts of land were sold together, as recently decided by the Supreme Court of this State, when, in fact, said tracts were sold separately, as required by law at the time of the sale, and “Whereas, It is unjust that the purchasers of said lands should suffer because of the misprision of said county clerks.

“Therefore....”

Acts 1941, No. 408 contained a preamble which read:

“Whereas, Certain lands situate in the State of Arkansas were sold to the State of Arkansas under the provisions of an act of the General Assembly of said State, entitled, ‘An act to enforce the payment of overdue taxes,’ approved March 12, 1881, and an act amendatory thereto, approved March 22, 1881; and,

“Whereas, the title to a large per cent, if not all, of said lands has been released by said State under various Acts of the General Assembly thereof, and;

“Whereas, practically all, if not all, of said lands have been placed back upon the tax books of the Counties wherein said lands lie for a great number of years and taxes paid thereon by the respective owners and claimants thereof;

“Now, Therefore....”

Effective Dates. Acts 1883, No. 114, § 226: effective on passage.

26-38-101. Uncertified sales to state prior to 1970 canceled.

All sales of lands to the state for nonpayment of taxes for the year 1970 and all years prior thereto, which have not been certified to the Commissioner of State Lands and respecting which sales there is no record in the office of the Commissioner of State Lands, are canceled. The state releases all of its right, title, or interest in and to:

(1) All lands sold to the state for nonpayment of taxes for the year 1970 and all years prior thereto, to which lands the Commissioner of State Lands has executed deeds in favor of the grantees in such deeds, their heirs, successors, and assigns; and

(2) All such lands as have not been disposed of by the Commissioner of State Lands as aforesaid, but which lands have been placed back on the tax books of the counties wherein the lands lie, and the taxes have been paid thereon for more than seven (7) years since they were sold to the state.

The provisions of this section apply whether or not the lands were ever certified to the county clerk and whether or not the lands were certified by the county clerk to the Commissioner of State Lands.

Amendments. The 1997 amendment rewrote the section.

26-38-102. Uncertified sales to state prior to 1908 canceled.

All sales of land to the State of Arkansas for the nonpayment of taxes for the year 1908 or prior thereto, which have not been certified to the Commissioner of State Lands and of which there is no record in the office of the Commissioner, are canceled and set aside, and the state shall not have or assert any claim, right, or title to the lands, or any part thereof.

26-38-103. Release of overdue tax lands sold to state under Act of 1881.

(a) As to all lands in the State of Arkansas which were sold to the state under the provisions of an act to enforce the payment of overdue taxes, Acts 1881, No. 39, approved March 12, 1881 [repealed], and an act amendatory thereto, approved March 22, 1881, to which the Commissioner of State Lands has executed deeds of donation, deeds of sale, or deeds of relinquishment, the state does release its title in favor of the grantees in these deeds, their heirs, successors, and assigns forever. As to all these lands that have not been disposed of by the Commissioner as indicated but which have been placed back upon the tax books of the counties wherein the lands lie, and the taxes have been paid thereon for more than seven (7) years since they were sold to the state under the provisions of these acts, the state does release all of its title. These provisions apply whether the lands were certified by the commissioner of the court to the county clerk of the county, as required by these acts, or not, and also to apply whether the lands were certified by the county clerk to the Office of the Commissioner of State Lands, or not.

(b) Any person, firm, or corporation owning or claiming any of these lands may obtain evidence of his title thereto having been quieted under the provisions of this section by presenting to the Commissioner a certificate under the hand and seal of the clerk of the county wherein the lands lie, showing that he or his grantors, direct or by mesne conveyances, have paid the taxes on the lands for the number of years stated since sold to the State of Arkansas under the provisions of these acts of the General Assembly, accompanied by the affidavit of the claimant or his agent, showing that he is the present owner or claimant and has not sold or conveyed the lands to any other person, firm, or corporation. The certificate and affidavit being filed in the office of the Commissioner, the Commissioner shall execute a deed of relinquishment of all of the right, title, and interest of the state acquired under these acts to the claimant, or his successors and assigns, forever, upon the payment of a deed fee of one dollar ($1.00).

26-38-104. Execution of duplicate tax deeds.

(a) (1) The clerks of the county courts are authorized and empowered to execute duplicate tax deeds to land sold for delinquent taxes, to or in the name of the original grantee in any tax deed which has been lost, mislaid, or destroyed, upon the fact being shown to the county clerk.

(2) (A) If fully satisfied from the evidence of the existence and loss of the original deed, the clerk shall, on written application for that purpose, proceed to make, execute, and deliver, to or in the name of the original grantee, a good and sufficient deed of conveyance for any such tract of land or lot.

(B) The deed shall be good and valid in law to all intents and purposes as if the original had not been mislaid, lost, or destroyed.

(b) The clerks shall receive the sum of one dollar ($1.00) as their fee for the execution of each duplicate deed, as provided in this section, from the person applying therefor.

26-38-105. Reissuance of deed to show tracts sold separately.

(a) Upon the presentation of any void tax deed, showing upon its face that two (2) or more tracts of land were sold together when in fact the tracts were sold separately, to the clerk of the county court of the county in which the lands were sold for taxes and the clerk being satisfied from the records of his office that the several tracts of land contained in the deed were sold separately, the clerk shall file the void deed in his office and cancel it. The clerk shall thereupon execute in lieu thereof a deed for the tracts of land, reciting the execution of the former deed, and the date thereof, the error therein, that each tract was sold separately, and the amount for which the land was sold, and, in all other respects, conform to the requirement of law.

(b) The deed when executed, as provided in subsection (a) of this section, shall relate back to the void deed and have the same force and effect, both in law and equity, as if executed on the same day.

26-38-106. Record of deeds made by county clerk.

The clerk of the county court shall enter in a book to be kept in his office a minute of all deeds made by him for lands and lots, and parts thereof, sold for taxes, naming therein:

- (1) The person who stood charged with the taxes at the time of the sale;
- (2) The name of the purchaser;
- (3) A brief description of the land or lot, or part thereof, sold;
- (4) The quantity sold;
- (5) The name of the grantee in the deed; and
- (6) The date of the execution.

26-38-107. Title claims adverse to tax title deeds.

(a) Under and by virtue of a deed executed substantially by the clerk of the county court, the party claiming title adverse to that conveyed by the deed shall be required to prove, in order to defeat the title, either that the real property was not subject to taxation for the years named in the deed, or that the taxes had been paid before the sale, that the property had been redeemed from the sale, according to the provisions of this act, and that such redemption was had or made for the use and benefit of persons having the right of redemption under the laws of this state; or that there had been an entire omission to list or assess the property, to levy taxes, to give notice of the sale, or to sell the property.

(b) No person shall be permitted to question the title acquired by a deed of the county clerk without first showing that he, or the person under whom he claims title to the property, had title thereto, at the time of the sale, or that title was obtained from the United States, or this state, after the sale, and that all taxes due upon the property have been paid by such person, or the person under whom he claims title as aforesaid.

(c) In any case where a person had paid his taxes, and through mistake, or otherwise, by the collector, the land upon which the taxes were paid was afterward sold, the deed of the county clerk shall not convey the title.

(d) In all cases where the owner of lands sold for taxes shall resist the validity of a tax title, the owner may prove fraud committed by the officer selling the land or in the purchaser to defeat the sale, and if fraud is so established, the sale and title shall be void.

This section has no applicability to a tax title void upon its face. Rhodes v. Covington, 69 Ark. 357, 63 S.W. 799 (1901).

This section does not apply to a case of conflicting tax titles. Rhea v. McWilliams, 73 Ark. 557, 84 S.W. 726 (1905); McDaniel v. Berger, 89 Ark. 139, 116 S.W. 194 (1909); Dill v. Snodgrass, 213 Ark. 526, 211 S.W.2d 440 (1948).

Evidence to Defeat Tax Titles.

Where lands were erroneously sold for delinquent taxes, it is proper to permit collector to testify that taxes had been paid. Davis v. Hare, 32 Ark. 386 (1877) (decision under prior law).

Receipt for tax payment was of no validity where it was given after forfeiture of the land. Thornton v. Smith, 36 Ark. 508 (1880) (decision under prior law).

The levy and notice of sale referred to in this section refers to a levy or notice of sale made under authority of statute and not if made in any manner. Allen v. Ozark Land Co., 55 Ark. 549, 18 S.W. 1042 (1892).

This section does not prevent a meritorious defense. Cooper v. Freeman Lumber Co., 61 Ark. 36, 31 S.W. 981 (1895).

Burden of proof is upon person seeking to cancel tax title. Newman v. Lybrand, 130 Ark. 424, 197 S.W. 855 (1917).

Landowner who failed to pay taxes on land continuously since its forfeiture and sale for delinquent taxes was not precluded from asserting invalidity of tax sale for failure of county clerk to append to the recorded list of delinquent land the certificate of publication of the notice of sale. Standard Sec. Co. v. Republic Mining & Mfg. Co., 207 Ark. 335, 180 S.W.2d 575 (1944).

Failure of the county clerk to execute and attach a certificate as to publication of delinquent list of lands prior to the date of sale is a meritorious defense to a tax deed issued by the clerk. Hensley v. Phillips, 215 Ark. 543, 221 S.W.2d 412 (1949).

Court erred in dismissing complaint where evidence showed that clerk had not attached warrant to tax books in delivering books to collector. Ensminger v. Sheffield, 220 Ark. 598, 248 S.W.2d 877 (1952).

Proof of Title.

To question a tax title one must show that he, or those under whom he holds, had title at the time of the sale. Osceola Land Co. v. Chicago Mill & Lumber Co., 84 Ark. 1, 103 S.W. 609 (1907); Knauff v. National Cooperage & Woodenware Co., 99 Ark. 137, 137 S.W. 823 (1911).

Landowner must show title or that title was obtained from United States or from this state after sale. Massengale v. Brown, 159 Ark. 566, 252 S.W. 588 (1923).

Deraignment of perfect title is not necessary to sufficiently support a title for the purpose of setting aside void tax deeds. Fine v. Bucha, 247 Ark. 1074, 449 S.W.2d 406 (1970).

Standing.

Parties did not lack standing to challenge tax sale where they proved that their predecessors in title had legal title to the property at the time of the tax sale. Thorne v. Magness, 34 Ark. App. 39, 805 S.W.2d 95 (1991).

A.C.R.C. Notes. This section as enacted by Acts 1989, No. 234, § 1, became effective Feb. 24, 1989, pursuant to an emergency clause. The section provided:

"No deed issued after January 1, 1987, by the Commissioner of State Lands is void or voidable on the ground that the assessment of the property taxes on the severed mineral interests was not subjoined to the assessment of property taxes on the surface realty." However, Acts 1989, No. 234 was subsequently repealed by Acts 1989, No. 904, § 2, effective July 3, 1989.

26-38-206. Effect of the decree of confirmation.

26-38-207. Court costs and publication fees.

26-38-208. Severed mineral rights.

26-38-209. Application.

A.C.R.C. Notes. References to "this chapter" in subchapter 1 may not apply to this subchapter which was enacted subsequently.

Cross References. Forfeiture of property for criminal acts, § 5-5-301 et seq.

Effective Dates. Acts 1993, No. 646, § 14: Mar. 23, 1993. Emergency clause provided: "It is hereby found and determined by the General Assembly that a method of strengthening and validating the title of the state and its grantees to real property forfeited for nonpayment of taxes must be established; that, in order to accomplish this purpose, the state shall be authorized to file confirmation proceedings against real property that is forfeited and conveyed to the state for the nonpayment of taxes; that, the purpose of this act is to cure all irregularities, informalities, and defects connected with the procedures of forfeiture and sale. Further, a decree of confirmation shall act as a complete bar against any and all persons, firms, corporations, quasi-corporations, associations, trustees, and holders of beneficial interests who may claim the real property, subject only to the exceptions set forth in this act. Therefore, an emergency is hereby declared to exist and this act being necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage and approval.”

26-38-201. Suit to confirm title to land in state.

(a) Whenever any real property, sectional or town or city lots, has been forfeited to the State of Arkansas and conveyed by certification to the Commissioner of State Lands for the nonpayment of taxes, the state may file a suit for confirmation of title in the chancery court wherein the real property lies, requesting that the title to the real property be confirmed and quieted in the State of Arkansas, in care of the Commissioner of State Lands, in fee simple.

(b) Suit to confirm title by the state may be filed at any time subsequent to the conveyance by certification. Further, the state may elect to file for confirmation subsequent to conveyance from the state to any purchaser, donee, or redemtor. In the event confirmation is filed following a conveyance from the state, the decree of confirmation shall inure to the benefit of the purchaser, donee, or redemtor of the lands.

History. Acts 1993, No. 646, § 1.

26-38-202. Petition.

(a) The Commissioner of State Lands, on behalf of the State of Arkansas, shall file in the office of the clerk of the circuit court of the county in which the forfeited real property is situated a petition requesting that title be confirmed in the real property described in the petition.

(b) The petition shall have a certified list attached to it, describing the real property and containing the years and the amounts for which each parcel was forfeited.

(c) The petition may include as many parcels of land as the Commissioner of State Lands deems proper, so long as all parcels lie within the county.

(d) The certified list shall be all the proof that shall be required to show prima facie title in the state.

History. Acts 1993, No. 646, § 2.

26-38-203. Publication of notice.

(a) Upon the filing of the petition, there shall be published for four (4) consecutive weeks, once per week, in a newspaper having general circulation in the county wherein the real property is located, a notice calling on all persons, firms, corporations, or improvement districts who can set up any right to the real property so conveyed and forfeited to show cause why the title to the real property should not be confirmed, quieted, and vested in the State of Arkansas in fee simple.

(b) The notice shall set forth the description of the real property and the name of the person, firm, or corporation last paying taxes thereon.

History. Acts 1993, No. 646, § 4.

26-38-204. Parties to suit.

(a) Any person, firm, corporation, or improvement district claiming any interest in any parcel of real property adverse to the state shall have the right to be made a party to a suit, and, if made a party, the claims of any such person, firm, corporation, or improvement district shall be adjudicated.

(b) If any person, firm, corporation, or improvement district sets up the defense that the conveyance to the state was void for any cause, the person, firm, corporation, or improvement district shall tender to the clerk of the court the amount of taxes, penalties, interest, and costs due and owing on the parcel.

(c) (1) In case any person, firm, corporation, or improvement district so made a party defendant to the proceeding, as provided in this section, shall establish a valid defense, a decree of the court shall be rendered in favor of the defendant, with respect to the parcel so affected, and the decree shall order the defendant to pay all taxes, penalties, interest, and costs due on the parcel. Thereafter, the Commissioner of State Lands shall issue a deed of redemption.

(2) In the event the defendant fails to establish a valid defense, an order so stating will be entered, and the defendant will be allowed to recover the funds tendered to the clerk pursuant to subsection (b) of this section.

History. Acts 1993, No. 646, § 3.

26-38-205. Decree.

The decree of a circuit court confirming the forfeiture and conveyance to the state of real property shall inure to the benefit of the purchaser, donee, or redemtor of the real property.

History. Acts 1993, No. 646, § 6.

26-38-206. Effect of the decree of confirmation.

(a) The decree of the chancery court confirming the forfeiture and conveyance to the state of real property shall operate, except only as expressly provided in this section, as a complete bar, both at law and in equity, against any and all persons, firms, corporations, quasi-corporations, associations, trustees, and holders of beneficial interests who may hereafter assert or defend claims to the real property and as a vesting of the complete and indefensible title to the real property in the state and its grantees in fee simple, free and clear of all such claims.

(b) It shall so operate, regardless of whether such forfeiture and conveyance may have been void or voidable because of defects or irregularities occurring in the proceedings therefor.

(c) (1) All parties shall have the right to appeal any decree of confirmation pursuant to the Arkansas Rules of Civil Procedure.

(2) (A) Any person, firm, corporation, quasi-corporation, association, trustee, or holder of a beneficial interest whose interest in the property is properly recorded but who is not properly served notice of the confirmation proceedings shall have one (1) year from and after rendition to attack the decree insofar as it relates to his real property.

(B) All attacks upon the decree made after the one (1) year period shall be taken to be collateral attacks and shall be wholly ineffectual.

History. Acts 1993, No. 646, § 5.

Case Notes

Applicability.

Applicability.

Debtor who claimed an equitable interest in the property based on an alleged oral rent-to purchase agreement with the owner could challenge the tax sale and transfer of property to the subsequent purchaser because the state did not file an action in Chancery Court under § 26-38-206, to bar any subsequent claims. Further, § 26-37-203 gave the debtor two hears to contest the validity of the conveyance. In re Paro, 362 B.R. 419 (Bankr. E.D. Ark. 2007).

26-38-207. Court costs and publication fees.

(a) Fees and costs associated with the filing of confirmation suits may be charged to any purchaser, donee, or redemtor to whose benefit the decree of confirmation inures.

(b) The state shall be exempt from payment of court costs.

(c) Fees for publication of notices required under this subchapter shall be governed by § 26-37-108 [repealed].

History. Acts 1993, No. 646, §§ 6, 7.

26-38-208. Severed mineral rights.

The provisions of this subchapter shall be applicable to severed mineral interests that are forfeited and conveyed to the state for the nonpayment of taxes. Wherever the terms “real property”, “parcel(s)”, or “parcel of real property” appear, the same shall also mean severed mineral interests.

History. Acts 1993, No. 646, § 8.

26-38-209. Application.

The provisions of this subchapter are applicable to all forfeitures and conveyances to the state or from the state whether such forfeiture or conveyance occurred before or after March 23, 1993.

26-39-201. Time for payment.

(a) (1) The county clerk and probate clerk, circuit clerk, constables, county sheriff, county collector, and any other county official in the State of Arkansas are required to pay over to the county treasurer of each county on the first of each month, or within five (5) working days thereafter, all funds in each of their hands belonging to the county or its subdivisions that are by law required to be paid into the county treasury, whether taxes, fines, or any moneys that are collected for any purpose by law and belonging to the county.

(2) The county collector shall pay to the Treasurer of State all moneys belonging to the State of Arkansas on the day mentioned in subdivision (a)(1) of this section.

(b) (1) This section does not mean that the county collector shall make a distribution of taxes to all funds but that he or she shall settle with the county treasurer in a lump sum, and the county treasurer shall credit it to the county collector's unapportioned account.

(2) Upon the issuance of a certificate of the county clerk or other county officer designated pursuant to § 26-28-102(a) that is issued on or before the thirtieth day of each month, the county treasurer shall transfer to the various funds ninety percent (90%) of the advance payments made by the county collector during the collecting period and, upon final settlement, the proper adjustments shall be made with the various accounts, and the balance remaining in the unapportioned account shall be distributed upon order of the county court approving the final settlement of the county collector.

Audits.

County court could employ expert accountant to audit books of county officers. E.F. Leathem & Co. v. Jackson County, 122 Ark. 114, 182 S.W. 570 (1916) (decision under prior law).

Penalties.

The illegal receipt of specific payments by county sheriff being within the scope of this section, a charge of the five percent penalty provided for in § 26-39-501 by the trial court is proper. Thomas v. Williford, 259 Ark. 354, 534 S.W.2d 2 (1976).

There are no criminal penalties for a collector's failure to comply with the deposit requirements of this section. Mhoun v. State, 277 Ark. 341, 642 S.W.2d 292 (1982).

Failure of tax collector to deposit his collections monthly with treasurer as required by this section does not constitute a misdemeanor subject to the penalty provisions of § 26-39-204, since the statutes concern two separate and distinct duties of the collector. Mhoun v. State, 277 Ark. 341, 642 S.W.2d 292 (1982).

A tax collector's failure to deposit his collections promptly is not in itself a criminal offense. Mhoun v. State, 277 Ark. 341, 642 S.W.2d 292 (1982).

Sureties.

A cause of action cannot accrue against surety until final judgment fixing county collector's liability has been entered. Fireman's Fund Ins. Co. v. Polk County, 260 Ark. 799, 543 S.W.2d 947 (1976). Statute of limitations on an action against surety on county collector's bond does not begin to run until collector actually files his settlement with county court or until county court adjusts collector's account following notice to the delinquent officer. Fireman's Fund Ins. Co. v. Polk County, 260 Ark. 799, 543 S.W.2d 947 (1976).

26-39-202, 26-39-203. [Repealed.]

Publisher's Notes. These sections, concerning report of tax installments and collector charged for late filings, were repealed by Acts 2003, No. 295, § 13. The sections were derived from: 26-39-202. Acts 1933 (1st Ex. Sess.), No. 16, § 2; Pope's Dig., § 13904; A.S.A. 1947, § 84-1403. 26-39-203. Acts 1911, No. 415, § 2; C. & M. Dig., § 10067; Pope's Dig., § 13828; A.S.A. 1947, § 84-1404.

26-39-204. Collector to pay in kind.

(a) The county collector shall pay into the State Treasury and the county treasury, in kind, all money collected by him or her, whether specie, United States paper currency, national bank notes, silver or gold certificates, or warrants or scrip, or check drawn on the county collector's account, as authorized by law to be received.

(b) Every county collector or other officer who shall fail to comply with the provisions of this section shall:

(1) Be fined one hundred dollars ($100) for each violation;

(2) Be held liable on his or her official bond for the difference in value between the funds received and those paid; and

(3) Not be eligible to hold any office of trust in this state.

History. Acts 1883, No. 114, § 113, p. 199; C. & M. Dig., § 10046; Pope's Dig., § 13805; A.S.A. 1947, § 84-1402; Acts 2003, No. 295, § 9.

Amendments. The 2003 amendment inserted "or check drawn on the collector's account" in (a); and made gender neutral changes.

Case Notes

Other Officers.
Payment in Kind.
Penalty.

Other Officers.

A county clerk comes within the designation "or other officer" under this section. Newton County v. Phillips, 181 Ark. 177, 25 S.W.2d 419 (1930).

Payment in Kind.

Where collector collected tax in currency and paid it to treasurer in county warrants, his official liability ceased since county warrants were legal tender. Askew v. Columbia County, 32 Ark. 270 (1877) (decision under prior law).

Where county clerk received money in payment of taxes, he was required to make his settlement "in kind" and could not make settlement in depreciated county warrants, although he would have been required to accept them if they had been offered in payment of taxes. Newton County v. Phillips, 181 Ark. 177, 25 S.W.2d 419 (1930).

Penalty.

Failure of tax collector to deposit his collections monthly with treasurer as required by § 26-39-201 does not constitute a misdemeanor subject to the penalty provisions of this section, since the statutes concern two separate and distinct duties of the collector. Mhoon v. State, 277 Ark. 341, 642 S.W.2d 292 (1982).

26-39-205. [Repealed.]

Publisher's Notes. This section, concerning settlement of accounts for blank licenses, was repealed by Acts 2003, No. 295, § 14. The section was derived from Acts 1883, No. 114, § 184, p. 199; C. & M. Dig., § 10146; Pope's Dig., § 13928; A.S.A. 1947, § 84-1425.

26-39-206. Settlement for other moneys received.

(a) In like manner and time as provided in § 26-39-205, the sheriff or collector shall be required to settle his accounts of all moneys received by him on account of taxes, fines, penalties, and judgments. They shall be entered of record, so as to show:

(1) What is due the state and county, respectively;

- (2) From what officer received;
- (3) From what branch of revenue; and
- (4) The particular fund, if any, to which it belongs.

(b) If any collector shall fail to make settlement with the county court at the time required, he shall be attached until he makes a settlement. Immediately after settlement with the county court, the county clerk shall certify to the Auditor of State the amount due the state. The collector shall, within fifteen (15) days, pay the sums into the State Treasury and, in ten (10) days, pay over to the county treasurer all sums due the county.

History. Acts 1883, No. 114, § 185, p. 199; C. & M. Dig., § 10147; Pope's Dig., § 13929; A.S.A. 1947, § 84-1426.

26-39-207. Taxes on convictions, etc.

The sheriff shall collect and account for all taxes due upon convictions and all fines, forfeitures, and other sums of money, by whatever name designated, owing to the state or any county by virtue of any order, judgment, or decree of a court of record.

History. Acts 1883, No. 114, § 186, p. 199; C. & M. Dig., § 10148; Pope's Dig., § 13930; A.S.A. 1947, § 84-1427.

26-39-208. Duplicate receipts given for funds received.

(a) Whenever the sheriff or collector shall receive the amount due from any officer by voluntary payment or by the sale of goods and chattels, he shall give the officer duplicate receipts for it, stating therein:

- (1) The whole amount received;
- (2) How much for the state;
- (3) How much for the county; and
- (4) The particular fund to which it belongs.

(b) The officer taking the receipts shall, without delay, deposit one (1) of the receipts with the county clerk.

History. Acts 1883, No. 114, § 187, p. 199; C. & M. Dig., § 10149; Pope's Dig., § 13931; A.S.A. 1947, § 84-1428.

26-39-209. Charging of funds.

(a) The county clerk shall charge the sheriff or collector and county treasurer with all moneys that may come into their hands by virtue of any of the provisions of this subtitle.

(b) (1) The money received for penalty and costs of advertising shall be first applied by the sheriff or collector to the cost of advertising delinquent lands, and the surplus, if any, paid into the county treasury at the time of his annual settlement.

(2) Should there not be sufficient penalty and costs of advertising to pay the cost of advertising delinquent lands, the balance shall be paid out of the county treasury.

History. Acts 1883, No. 114, § 188, p. 199; C. & M. Dig., § 10150; Pope's Dig., § 13932; A.S.A. 1947, § 84-1429.

26-39-210. Record of settlement.

(a) Whenever the court shall make a settlement with any officer, the substance thereof shall be entered of record so as to show separately:

- (1) The whole amount received by the officer;
 - (2) The amount of commission allowed him;
 - (3) How much remains due to the state and how much to the county; and
 - (4) On what account each sum of money was received and to what particular fund, if any, it belongs.
- (b) All officers who shall have made settlements with the courts as provided in this chapter shall immediately pay to the treasurer the full amount with which they shall stand charged on their settlement. In default thereof, the sheriff or collector shall enforce the payment in the manner and by the means prescribed in this subtitle for enforcing the collection of taxes.

26-39-211. Deficit in settlement.

If the settlement of the county collectors or sheriffs with the county clerks shows any other deficit than that authorized by the provisions of this chapter, it shall be the duty of the county court to immediately notify the prosecuting attorney for the county in which the collector or sheriff resides of that fact. Upon notice, it shall be the duty of the prosecuting attorney to immediately bring suit against the county collector or sheriff and his securities for the amount of the deficiency, and also to prosecute the collector or sheriff by indictment for malfeasance in office.

26-39-213. Failure to pay amount due.

Every officer who shall fail to pay the amount due from him on settlement and who shall be returned by the collector or treasurer to the county court as a delinquent, so that the collector or treasurer shall be credited in their accounts with the amount of the delinquency, shall forfeit five percent (5%) per month on the amount due from the time it ought to have been paid, until collected, which may be collected by suit on his official bond.

26-39-214. Adjustment on failure to settle.

- (a) If any person chargeable shall neglect to render true accounts or settle as provided in this chapter, the county court shall adjust the accounts of the delinquent officer according to the best information that can be obtained and ascertain the balance due the county.

(b) In these cases, the court may refuse to allow any commission to the delinquent officer, and he shall moreover, without delay, pay into the county treasury the balance found due as indicated.

26-39-215. Failure of delinquent officer to pay.

If a delinquent officer shall not pay the amount found due the county and produce the treasurer's receipt therefor within ten (10) days after the balance is ascertained, the clerk shall charge the delinquent, as a penalty for such failure, twenty-five percent (25%) on the amount then due.

History. Acts 1883, No. 114, § 198, p. 199; C. & M. Dig., § 10160; Pope's Dig., § 13942; A.S.A. 1947, § 84-1438.

26-39-216. Judgment for amount due.

Unless a delinquent officer shall appear upon the first day of the next succeeding session of the court and show good cause for setting aside the settlement, the court shall enter judgment for the amount due with the penalty added thereon, and fifty percent (50%) per annum, until it shall be paid and may issue execution thereon.

History. Acts 1883, No. 114, § 199, p. 199; C. & M. Dig., § 10161; Pope's Dig., § 13943; A.S.A. 1947, § 84-1439.

Case Notes

Interest.

Jurisdiction.

Notice.

Sureties.

Interest.

It is proper to adjudge interest at rate of 50 percent on both the amount found due and the penalty. Carnall v. Crawford County, 11 Ark. 604 (1851) (decision under prior law).

Jurisdiction.

County court was forum where liability of collector of the county revenue was to be ascertained and evidenced by its records, and an adjudication in that forum was conclusive evidence against sureties as well as collector. Jones v. State, 14 Ark. 170 (1853) (decision under prior law). It was the province of the county court to adjust and settle the accounts of the collector, and they could not be settled in the circuit court in an action on the collector's bond. Goree v. State, 22 Ark. 236 (1860) (decision under prior law).

County court could render judgment against delinquent collector or his securities for county revenue that he has collected and failed to pay over, together with penalties. Christian v. Ashley County, 24 Ark. 142 (1863) (decision under prior law).

Notice.

Unless delinquent officer appeared at next term and showed cause for setting aside settlement, a court could render judgment against him, provided he had notice to appear; however, he could waive notice by appearing and moving to set aside the settlement. Trice v. Crittenden County, 7 Ark. 159 (1846) (decision under prior law).

If a collector was dead, notice could be given his administrator. Goree v. State, 22 Ark. 236 (1860) (decision under prior law).

Sureties.

In action upon collector's bond for collecting and failing to pay over county revenues, it had to be averred either that the collector had settled with the county court and had failed to pay the amount due or that he had failed to settle and the county court had proceeded to adjust his accounts and render judgment against him. Jones v. State, 14 Ark. 170 (1853); State v. Croft, 24 Ark. 550 (1867) (decisions under prior law).

A cause of action cannot accrue against surety until final judgment fixing county collector's liability has been entered. Fireman's Fund Ins. Co. v. Polk County, 260 Ark. 799, 543 S.W.2d 947 (1976).

26-39-217. Reexamination of settlement.

If good cause be shown for setting aside the settlement, the court may reexamine, settle, and adjust it according to law and may remit any penalty that may have been imposed.

History. Acts 1883, No. 114, § 200, p. 199; C. & M. Dig., § 10162; Pope's Dig., § 13944; A.S.A. 1947, § 84-1440.

26-39-218. Lien for balance due.

The amount or balance of every account settled and due to the county shall be a lien from the date of the settlement of the account on the real estate and personal property of the delinquent officer situated in the county wherein each delinquent lives.

History. Acts 1883, No. 114, § 201, p. 199; C. & M. Dig., § 10163; Pope's Dig., § 13945; A.S.A. 1947, § 84-1441.

Applicability.

Appeals.

Priorities.

Applicability.

This section applies both to the original account of an officer and to his readjusted account.

Taylor v. Georgia State Sav. Ass'n, 141 Ark. 425, 218 S.W. 180 (1920).

Lien is coextensive with limits of whole county, notwithstanding county is divided into two districts.

Taylor v. Georgia State Sav. Ass'n, 141 Ark. 425, 218 S.W. 180 (1920).

Statute of limitations fixing period of three years on judgment liens (§ 16-65-117) is not applicable to this section. Taylor v. Georgia State Sav. Ass'n, 141 Ark. 425, 218 S.W. 180 (1920).

Appeals.

Lien in favor of county on land of tax collector is not extinguished by supersedeas bond executed by collector on appeal to the Supreme Court from an adjustment of his account, the bond merely suspending enforcement during pendency of the appeal. Taylor v. Georgia State Sav. Ass'n, 141 Ark. 425, 218 S.W. 180 (1920).

Where a county obtained a lien under this section and the collector appealed to the Supreme Court and executed a supersedeas bond, the county could properly enforce the county's lien against the land without first exhausting its remedy against the sureties on the supersedeas bond. Taylor v. Georgia State Sav. Ass'n, 141 Ark. 425, 218 S.W. 180 (1920).

Priorities.

Where collector's land was sold under execution and purchased by surety on collector's bond, a junior mortgage lienholder could not subsequently ask that the surety be compelled to secure reimbursement for losses out of property other than that mortgaged. Taylor v. Georgia State Sav. Ass'n, 141 Ark. 425, 218 S.W. 180 (1920).

26-39-219. Judgment against delinquent officers and securities.

When any balance shall be found against any clerk, sheriff, collector, coroner, constable, or other officer for moneys accruing to the county treasury and it shall not be paid within the time prescribed by law, it shall be lawful for the county court, fifteen (15) days' notice being given to the delinquent officers and their securities, to render judgment against the delinquents and their securities for the amount of all moneys ascertained to be due the county and issue execution therefor.

History. Acts 1883, No. 114, § 202, p. 199; C. & M. Dig., § 10164; Pope's Dig., § 13946; A.S.A. 1947, § 84-1442.

Case Notes

Settlements.

Settlements.

Prosecuting attorney who had no notice of suit against county circuit clerk and his sureties for alleged indebtedness to county had authority to make a settlement and dismiss the case, and county judge or taxpayer could not intervene to prevent such action. Rothrock v. Walker, 197 Ark. 846, 125 S.W.2d 459 (1939).

Cited: Fireman's Fund Ins. Co. v. Polk County, 260 Ark. 799, 543 S.W.2d 947 (1976).

26-39-220. Adjustment of errors.

(a) (1) The county court has the duty to reconsider and adjust the settlement of any county officer made with the court, including, but not limited to, the final tax settlement and distribution for any error discovered within three (3) years from the date of the settlement.

(2) Adjustment of an error shall be made within the year of discovery.

(b) Upon discovery of any error in the settlement after three (3) years, but within five (5) years from the date of the settlement, the county judge has the duty to petition the chancery court to obtain an order to correct the errors.

History. Acts 1883, No. 114, § 203, p. 199; C. & M. Dig., § 10165; Acts 1927, No. 339, § 1; Pope's Dig., § 13947; Acts 1985, No. 239, § 1; A.S.A. 1947, § 84-1443.

Case Notes

Applicability.

Liens.
Time Limitations.

Applicability.

This section includes errors of law as well as errors of fact. Haley v. Thompson, 116 Ark. 354, 172 S.W. 880 (1915).

Making corrections will not invalidate proceedings already instituted against bondsmen. Graham v. State, 100 Ark. 571, 140 S.W. 735 (1911).

Authority.

County court has power to open and reexamine settlement of collector upon notice and without a petition. White County v. Key, 30 Ark. 603 (1875) (decision under prior law).

Court has power to reexamine, restate, and correct errors, and in doing so has power to look into the validity of credits and claims that have already been allowed. White County v. Key, 30 Ark. 603 (1875) (decision under prior law).

Equitable Relief.

Chancery court may, after expiration of period prescribed in this section, grant relief upon an allegation of fraud. State ex rel. Marion County v. Perkins, 101 Ark. 358, 142 S.W. 515 (1912); Fuller v. State, 112 Ark. 91, 164 S.W. 770 (1914); Yates v. State, 186 Ark. 749, 54 S.W.2d 981 (1932).

This section applies only to settlements of officers handling revenue and will not preclude equity from granting relief against illegal exactions from the county by the circuit court. Johnson County v. Bost, 139 Ark. 35, 213 S.W. 388 (1919).

The original jurisdiction of equity to correct mistakes was not divested by this section. Big Gum Drainage Dist. v. Crews, 158 Ark. 566, 250 S.W. 865 (1923).

Where county court approved settlement allowing credit to treasurer for funds lost in closed bank, it was a legal fraud against which equity would relieve. State Use Crawfordville Special School Dist. v. Huxtable, 178 Ark. 361, 12 S.W.2d 1 (1928).

Liens.

Balances found due under this section become a lien under provisions of § 26-39-218. Taylor v. Georgia State Sav. Ass'n, 141 Ark. 425, 218 S.W. 180 (1920).

Time Limitations.

Where proceedings were not commenced until after expiration of statutory period, it was too late, although, prior to expiration of such period, ex parte proceedings were taken with regard to such settlement, but not under the provisions of this section. Bledsoe v. State, 167 Ark. 160, 267 S.W. 571 (1925).

This section did not bar county's suit against treasurer for excessive fees after one year from date of treasurer's settlement with county court. McCoy v. State, 190 Ark. 297, 79 S.W.2d 94 (1935) (decision prior to 1985 amendment).

Exclusive remedy of county treasurer claiming credit against county for amount of unpaid check given to him by collector in settlement in October, 1932, was under this section, but having treated the check as a cash item and apportioned it to the several funds entitled thereto, treasurer could not correct it in his settlement of 1935. Montgomery County v. Elder, 192 Ark. 845, 96 S.W.2d 453 (1936) (decision prior to 1985 amendment).

Cited: Gargill v. Matthews, 137 Ark. 75, 207 S.W. 225 (1918); Fireman's Fund Ins. Co. v. Polk County, 260 Ark. 799, 543 S.W.2d 947 (1976).

26-39-221. Notice of reexamination.

Before any settlement shall be reexamined, it shall be the duty of the court to give the officer ten (10) days' notice of the time and place where the settlement will be adjusted.

History. Acts 1883, No. 114, § 204, p. 199; C. & M. Dig., § 10166; Pope's Dig., § 13948; A.S.A. 1947, § 84-1444.

Amendments. The 2005 amendment substituted “violation” for “misdemeanor.”

The 2009 amendment inserted “or other county officer designated pursuant to § 26-28-102(a)” and substituted “upon conviction is” for “shall be.”

26-39-402. Review by county court.

(a) All county collectors' settlements shall be made and filed with the county courts on or before the fourth Monday of December each year.

(b) (1) It is the duty of the county courts to pass upon the settlements of the county collectors and to approve, reject, or restate them on or before December 31 of each year.

(2) Failure of the county judge to so approve, reject, or restate the settlements of the county collector within this period of time shall constitute a misfeasance in office and shall be a violation punishable by a fine of one hundred dollars ($100) or removal from office.

26-39-501. Penalty for failing to pay county funds.

(a) Every collector of the county revenue, having made settlement according to law of the county revenue received and collected by him, shall pay the amount found due from him into the county treasury, and the treasurer shall give duplicate receipts therefor, one (1) of which shall be filed by the collector in the office of the county clerk.

(b) Every collector or sheriff who shall fail to make payment of the amount due from him on settlement, in the time and manner prescribed in this section, shall forfeit and pay to the county the sum of five percent (5%) per month on the sum wrongfully withheld, to be computed from the time the payment ought to have been made until actual payment, which may be recovered by suit on his official bond.

26-39-502. Penalty for failing to pay state funds.

If any collector and others bound by law to pay money directly into the State Treasury shall fail to pay the amount so found due into the State Treasury and produce the State Treasurer's receipt to the Auditor of State therefor within fifteen (15) days after the settlement required in § 26-39-404, the delinquent collector shall forfeit:

(1) The commissions allowed him by law;

(2) The sum of twenty-five percent (25%) on the amount; and

(3) A penalty of five percent (5%) per month on the amount wrongfully withheld, to be computed from the time it ought to have been paid until actual payment. The Auditor of State shall charge the delinquent accordingly, and the amount of principal and forfeitures may be recovered as provided for in this subchapter.

Emergency clause provided: "It has been ascertained that the present enforcement of the collection of Gross Receipts taxes due this State has been hampered and delayed by reason of refusal of wholesalers to furnish requested information, and that the public institutions to which Gross Receipts and Use Taxes are allotted, are in dire need of such funds, therefore an emergency is hereby declared to exist, and that this Act is necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health and safety, and this Act shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage and approval."

Acts 1973, No. 182, §§ 9, 10: Jan. 1, 1973. Emergency clause provided: "It is hereby found and determined by the General Assembly that the present law relative to the taxation of banks and savings and loan associations is somewhat vague and indefinite, that such institutions should pay the same taxes as other business corporations in the State, and this Act is immediately necessary to clarify the laws with respect to the taxation of financial institutions and to assure that such institutions pay the same taxes as other business corporations. Therefore, an emergency is hereby declared to exist and this Act being necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage and approval." 26-50-102. Wholesaler to furnish list of retailers.

(a) (1) It shall be the duty of all persons, firms, and corporations, and all business establishments of every kind engaged in the wholesale business of selling merchandise in this state to furnish, upon the request in writing of the Director of the Department of Finance and Administration of this state, the names of any retailers or other persons to whom sales have been made, together with the amount of the sales for any given period, to be used by the director or his agents for the purposes of collecting the gross receipts, use, or other tax as may be due this state, but for no other purpose.

(2) The information provided for shall be furnished to the director within thirty

(30) days.

(3) The authority given in this subsection is in addition to any and all authority existing by reason of any statute of this state.

(b) Any wholesale concern selling merchandise in this state failing and refusing to give the information in writing, as requested by the director, is declared to be liable for any and all tax and penalty found to be due by the retailer for such period of time as is determined by the director in event the tax is not collectible from the retailer.

(c) The provisions of this section shall apply to out-of-state wholesalers, their agents, solicitors, salesmen, or collectors. Any person, firm, corporation, solicitor, salesman, agent, or collector who fails, neglects, or refuses to give the information so requested, in addition to being liable for tax and penalty found due, shall be guilty of aiding in evasion of the payment of such tax and, upon conviction in any court of this state, shall be fined in any sum not less than fifty dollars ($50.00) nor more than one thousand dollars ($1,000) for each offense.

Effective Dates. Acts 1997, No. 328, § 11, provided: "This Act shall be effective on and after November 15, 1998 unless a constitutional amendment or initiated act shall be approved or an act of the General Assembly shall become law before that date which exempts food, either wholly or partially, from the Arkansas gross receipts tax. If a constitutional amendment, initiated act, or act of the General Assembly exempting food is not approved, then the provisions of Section 1, 2, 3, 4, 6, 7, and 8 of this Act shall be effective for tax years beginning on and after January 1, 1998; the provisions of Section 5 of this Act shall be effective as provided in that section; and the provisions of Section 9 of this Act shall be effective as provided in Section 10."

Acts 1997, No. 328, § 12, provided: "The withholding tables prescribed by the Director of the Department of Finance and Administration pursuant to Ark. Code Ann. § 26-51-907 shall not be amended for tax year 1998 to reflect the changes adopted by this Act. If this Act becomes effective on November 15, 1998, the effect of the various provisions of this Act for tax year 1998 shall be reflected on the income tax return filed for that year. For all subsequent years, the Director shall adjust the withholding tables as otherwise required by law."

Preambles. Acts 1929, No. 118, contained a preamble which read:

"Whereas, this State has been neglectful of its Wards in the Charitable Institutions, which is a disgrace to the people of a Great Commonwealth, and it is imperative that additional Revenue should be provided to correct the fearful conditions which now exist; and

"Whereas, an equalization Fund should be provided to give equal Educational opportunities to the Boys and Girls of our Rural Communities; and

"Whereas, Agricultural and Industrial development is now being retarded because of a policy to secure practically all of the Revenue from an Ad Valorem Tax, thus penalizing and discouraging ownership of property, while many who enjoy the benefits of Government and have large incomes, pay almost nothing to support the Government; Therefore...."

Effective Dates. Acts 1929, No. 118, § 44: approved Mar. 9, 1929. Emergency clause provided:

"It is hereby ascertained and declared that the Hospital for Nervous Diseases is inadequate to properly care for all who should be confined therein, to the end there are many persons of unsound mind at large, who are a menace to the public safety, and that said Hospital as now equipped is inadequate to restrain those insane persons who are confined therein, so that there is danger of their escaping at any time and imperiling the safety of the public; that there are hundreds and hundreds of persons desiring to enter the Tuberculosis Sanitarium who cannot now be accommodated there, because that institution has neither room, beds nor facilities for additional people, as a result said consumptives at large are spreading the disease amongst their families and friends; that the funds to be raised by this Act will be used for the better care of the charitable wards of this State and to provide better for the rural schools of this State; and it is therefore ascertained and declared that it is necessary for the public peace, health and safety that this Act go into immediate operation, and accordingly it is provided that this act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage.”

Acts 1947, No. 135, § 9: approved Mar. 3, 1947. Emergency clause provided: “It has been found and is hereby declared by the General Assembly of the State of Arkansas that existing laws providing for the distribution of state revenues are such that a moderate diminution of certain of the revenues would have the effect of curtailing the activities of certain necessary agencies of the State Government, and that only the provisions of this Act will correct a situation which otherwise may deprive the citizens of this State from receiving the benefits which the operation of the State Government contemplates. Therefore, an emergency is hereby declared to exist, and this act being necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health and safety shall take effect and be in full force from and after its passage.”

Acts 1993, No. 785, § 24: Mar. 30, 1993. Emergency clause provided: “It is hereby found and determined that certain changes are necessary to the Arkansas income tax laws; that these changes are necessary immediately in order to maintain the efficient administration of the Arkansas income tax laws; and that this act is necessary to effectuate that purpose. Therefore, an emergency is hereby declared to exist and this act being necessary for the preservation of public peace, health and safety shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage and approval.”

Acts 1993, No. 785, § 20: amendments to subchapters 1, 4, 5, 9, and 10 effective for taxable years beginning on and after January 1, 1993.

Acts 1995, No. 1160, § 46: Apr. 11, 1995. Emergency clause provided: “It is hereby found and determined by the General Assembly that certain changes are necessary to the Arkansas tax laws; that these changes are necessary immediately in order to maintain the efficient administration of the Arkansas income tax laws; and that this act is necessary to effectuate that purpose. Therefore, an emergency is hereby declared to exist and this act being necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage and approval.”

Case Notes

Constitutionality.

Constitutionality.

The income tax imposed by this chapter is not a property tax, and this chapter is not violative of the equality and uniformity clause of the Arkansas Constitution. Stanley v. Gates, 179 Ark. 886, 19 S.W.2d 1000 (1929).

Tax on net income of domestic corporations is not discriminatory in imposing tax on income derived from stocks owned in other corporations engaged in business in another state. Wiseman v. Interstate Pub. Serv. Co., 191 Ark. 255, 85 S.W.2d 700 (1935).

This chapter held unconstitutional and void insofar as it attempts to tax a domestic corporation's income from its plants located outside the state. McCarroll v. Gregory-Robinson-Speas, Inc., 198 Ark. 235, 129 S.W.2d 254, 122 A.L.R. 977 (1939).

This chapter is not invalid on ground that a Senate amendment thereto was not concurred in by the House, since Senate Journal showing the adoption of the amendment was silent as to its withdrawal or any action receding therefrom and minutes and record of the Secretary of the Senate recited that amendment had been withdrawn. Hardin v. Ft. Smith Couch & Bedding Co., 202 Ark. 814, 152 S.W.2d 1015 (1941).

Act 1931, No. 220, relieving domestic corporations doing business entirely outside the state of Arkansas from the payment of any income tax to the state, when read in connection with the General Income Tax Act of 1929, which imposes an income tax upon a domestic corporation doing business both within and outside the state on income derived from sources outside Arkansas, denied to such domestic corporation the equal protection of the laws and amounted to the taking of its property without due process. Cheney v. Stephens, Inc., 231 Ark. 541, 330 S.W.2d 949 (1960).

26-51-102. Definitions.

- (3) "Individual" means a natural person;
- (4) "Person" includes individuals, fiduciaries, partnerships, limited liability companies, and corporations;
- (5) "Corporation" includes joint-stock companies or associations and insurance companies;
- (6) "Domestic," when applied to any corporation or association, including a partnership, means created or organized in the State of Arkansas;
- (7) "Foreign," when applied to any corporation or association, including a partnership, means created or organized outside of the State of Arkansas;
- (8) "Fiduciary" means a guardian, trustee, executor, administrator, receiver, conservator, or any person, whether individual or corporate, acting in any fiduciary capacity for any person, trust, or estate;
- (9) "Resident" means natural persons and includes, for the purpose of determining liability for the tax imposed by this act upon or with reference to the income of any taxable year, any person domiciled in the State of Arkansas and any other person who maintains a permanent place of abode within this state and spends in the aggregate more than six (6) months of the taxable year within this state;
- (10) "Nonresident," when used in connection with this act, shall apply to any natural person whose domicile is without the State of Arkansas and who maintains a place of abode without this state and spends in the aggregate more than six (6) months of the taxable year without this state;
- (11) "Tax year" means "taxable year" as herein defined;

(12) "Income year" means "taxable year" as herein defined;

(13) The term "fiscal year" means an accounting period of twelve (12) months ending on the last day of any month other than December;

(14) "Paid," for the purposes of the deductions under this act, means "paid or accrued" or "paid or incurred," and the words "paid or accrued" or "paid or incurred" shall be construed according to the methods of accounting upon the basis of which the net income is computed under this act. The word "received" for the purpose of computation of the net income under this act means "received or accrued," and the words "received or accrued" shall be construed according to the method of accounting upon the basis of which the net income is computed under this act;

(15) "Foreign country" means any jurisdiction other than one embraced within the United States;

(16) "United States," when used in a geographical sense, includes the states, the District of Columbia, and the possessions of the United States;

(17) (A) The term "taxable year" means the calendar year, or the fiscal year ending during such calendar year, upon the basis of which taxable income is computed;

(B) "Taxable year" means, in the case of a return made for a fractional part of a year, the period for which such return is made; and

(18) The term "year" means "taxable year".

History. Acts 1929, No. 118, Art. 1, § 2; Pope's Dig., § 14025; A.S.A. 1947, § 84-2002; Acts 1993, No. 785, §§ 2-5; 1995, No. 1160, § 17.

Publisher's Notes. Acts 1993, No. 785, § 20, provides that the 1993 amendment is effective for taxable years beginning on and after January 1, 1993.

Amendments. The 1993 amendment rewrote (11) and (12); substituted "an accounting period of twelve (12) months" for "an income year" in (13); and added (17) and (18).

The 1995 amendment inserted "limited liability companies" in (4).

Meaning of "this act". See note to § 26-51-101.

Case Notes

Fiscal Year.

Paid.

Resident.

Fiscal Year.

Under the income tax law, a fiscal year must begin in one year and end in the next succeeding year, so there can be no fiscal year wholly within a calendar year. Cook v. Arkansas State Rice Milling Co., 213 Ark. 396, 210 S.W.2d 511 (1948).

Paid.

The word "received," for the purpose of computing net income, means either "received" or "accrued," depending on whether the taxpayer is on a cash basis or an accrual basis. F & M Bank v. Skelton, 266 Ark. 680, 587 S.W.2d 561 (1979).

Resident.

A congressman is presumed to have been an inhabitant of the state when elected to congress from Arkansas; his legal domicile is in Arkansas, although he sojourns in Washington during the year, and he is liable for income taxes to the State of Arkansas. Cravens v. Cook, 212 Ark. 71, 204 S.W.2d 909 (1947).

Although taxpayers were physically located outside Arkansas, they were residents of Arkansas, since numerous documents, such as federal income tax returns prepared by them, listed Arkansas as their address, they had Arkansas driver's licenses, they owned a house in Arkansas that they did not rent but later sold, and they had registered to vote in Arkansas in 1970, declaring that Arkansas had been their residence for the eight previous years and that they had lived at no place outside of Arkansas with the intent of staying there. Shinn v. Heath, 259 Ark. 577, 535 S.W.2d 57 (1976).

26-51-105. Income tax director, officers, agents, and employees.

(a) The Director of the Department of Finance and Administration, with the approval of the Governor, may appoint and remove a person to be known as the Income Tax Director who, under the director's supervision, shall have the direction and control of the assessment and collection of the taxes imposed by this act.

(b) The Income Tax Director, with the approval of the Governor, may appoint such other officers, agents, deputies, clerks, and employees as he may deem necessary, such appointees to have the duties and powers which the director may from time to time prescribe.

(c) The salaries of all such officers, agents, and employees shall be fixed by the director not to exceed the amounts appropriated by the General Assembly; and the director and such officers, agents, and employees shall be allowed reasonable and necessary traveling and other expenses incurred in the performance of their duties not to exceed the amounts appropriated by the General Assembly.

(d) The director may require such of the officers, agents, and employees as he may designate to give bond for the faithful performance of their duties and in such sum and with such sureties as he may determine, and all premiums on these bonds shall be paid by the director out of moneys appropriated for the purposes of this act.

Preambles. Acts 1929, No. 118, contained a preamble which read:

"Whereas, this State has been neglectful of its Wards in the Charitable Institutions, which is a disgrace to the people of a Great Commonwealth, and it is imperative that additional Revenue should be provided to correct the fearful conditions which now exist; and

"Whereas, an equalization Fund should be provided to give equal Educational opportunities to the Boys and Girls of our Rural Communities; and

"Whereas, Agricultural and Industrial development is now being retarded because of a policy to secure practically all of the Revenue from an Ad Valorem Tax, thus penalizing and discouraging ownership of property, while many who enjoy the benefits of Government and have large incomes, pay almost nothing to support the Government;

“Therefore....”

Effective Dates. Acts 1929, No. 118, § 44: Mar. 9, 1929. Emergency clause provided: “It is hereby ascertained and declared that the Hospital for Nervous Diseases is inadequate to properly care for all who should be confined therein, to the end there are many persons of unsound mind at large, who are a menace to the public safety, and that said Hospital as now equipped is inadequate to restrain those insane persons who are confined therein, so that there is danger of their escaping at any time and imperil the safety of the public; that there are hundreds and hundreds of persons desiring to enter the Tuberculosis Sanitarium who cannot now be accommodated there, because that institution has neither room, beds nor facilities for additional people, as a result said consumptives at large are spreading the disease amongst their families and friends; that the funds to be raised by this Act will be used for the better care of the charitable wards of this State and to provide better for the rural schools of this State; and it is therefore ascertained and declared that it is necessary for the public peace, health and safety that this Act go into immediate operation, and accordingly it is provided that this act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage.”

Acts 1941, No. 129, § 8: approved Mar. 11, 1941. Emergency clause provided: “Because of the various social problems caused by the failure of the State to provide adequate relief for its aged citizens, and it appearing that there is a dire need for additional funds to meet the requirements of the Social Security Act and give additional revenue to this State and because the old folks in this State are suffering by reason of the failure of the State to secure funds with which to pay Old Age Pensions, an emergency is hereby found to exist and is so declared by the Legislature of Arkansas; that this Act being necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety, shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage.”

Acts 1947, No. 135, § 9: approved Mar. 3, 1947. Emergency clause provided: “It has been found and is hereby declared by the General Assembly of the State of Arkansas that existing laws providing for the distribution of state revenues are such that a moderate diminution of certain of the revenues would have the effect of curtailing the activities of certain necessary agencies of the State Government, and that only the provisions of this Act will correct a situation which otherwise may deprive the citizens of this State from receiving the benefits which the operation of the State Government contemplates. Therefore, an emergency is hereby declared to exist, and this act being necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health and safety shall take effect and be in full force from and after its passage.”

Acts 1967, No. 46, § 5: Feb. 7, 1967. Emergency clause provided: “The General Assembly hereby finds and determines that there are many banks and financial institutions in this state that transact substantial trust business involving out-of-state settlors and out-of-state beneficiaries, that such are an integral part of the business of said institutions, that to require the out-of-state beneficiaries to pay Arkansas income tax on income of such in-state trust earned from out-of-state sources would seriously handicap Arkansas financial institutions transacting a substantial trust business and would make it highly unprofitable for out-of-state settlors or testators to appoint an Arkansas trustee of such trusts, and that under present Arkansas law such out-of-state beneficiaries would be required to pay income taxes on any income derived from such a trust twice. Therefore, an emergency is hereby declared to exist and this Act being immediately necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety, shall be in effect from the date of its passage and approval.”

Acts 1969, No. 392, § 6: Apr. 11, 1969. Emergency clause provided: “The General Assembly finds that the State of Arkansas is in immediate need of additional funds for general revenue purposes. Accordingly, an emergency is declared to exist, and this act, being necessary for the preservation of the public health, peace, and safety, shall be effective from and after its passage and approval.”

Acts 1971, No. 221, § 2: effective for all income tax years beginning on or after Jan. 1, 1971.

Acts 1973, No. 215, § 5: Mar. 2, 1973. Emergency clause provided: “The General Assembly hereby finds and determines that there are many banks and financial institutions in this State that transact substantial trust business involving out-of-state settlors and out-of-state beneficiaries, that such are an integral part of the business of said institutions, that to require the out-of-state beneficiaries to pay Arkansas income tax on income of such in-state trust earned from out-of-state sources would seriously handicap Arkansas financial institutions transacting a substantial trust business and would make it highly unprofitable for out-of-state settlors or testators to appoint an Arkansas trustee of such trusts, and that under present Arkansas law such out-of-state beneficiaries would be required to pay income taxes on any income derived from such a trust twice. Therefore, an emergency is hereby declared to exist and this Act being immediately necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety, shall be in effect from the date of its passage and approval.”

Acts 1987, No. 1040, § 7: Apr. 14, 1987. Emergency clause provided: “It is hereby found and determined by the General Assembly that many churches have engaged in the practice of investing in real and personal property, or have received donations of commercial or rental property which is not now assessed for ad valorem tax purposes and are not paying tax thereon as required by law, thereby depriving the local taxing units of thousands of dollars of much needed revenues; that under the Arkansas Constitution of 1874, Article 16, Sections 5 and 6, such property is not exempt from the provisions of the ad valorem property tax; that in many instances such churches do not report for Arkansas Income Tax purposes income derived from investments or profits derived from rental income or other commercial or business activities and do not pay taxes thereon; that this reduces the amount of revenues available for funding of State services; and that only by the immediate passage of this Act can this situation be remedied. Therefore, an emergency is hereby declared to exist, and this Act being necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, and safety, shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage and approval.”

Acts 1991, No. 1052, § 9: Apr. 9, 1991. Emergency clause provided: “It is hereby found and determined by the General Assembly that additional funds are necessary to provide higher quality educational program which are accessible by all segments of the population in this state; that recent studies have shown that in the year 2000, workers must have a minimum of fourteen (14) years of education to function in the work force; that the state is in desperate need of training, retraining and upgrading the work force; that this act will provide the funding necessary to provide every citizen with an opportunity to participate in vocational-technical training or college transfer programs; and that it is necessary for this act to become effective immediately to provide the funding needed for these programs as soon as possible. Therefore, an emergency is hereby declared to exist and this act being necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, and safety shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage and approval.”

Acts 1997, No. 171, § 6: Feb. 14, 1997. Emergency clause provided: “It is found and determined by the General Assembly of the State of Arkansas, that the provisions of this Act are of critical importance to the stability of the educational programs funded from the Educational Excellence Trust Fund and the workforce development and training programs funded from the Workforce 2000 Development Fund, the same being an appropriate use of the state's resources. Therefore an emergency is declared to exist and this Act being immediately necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health and safety shall become effective on the date of its approval by the Governor. If the bill is neither approved nor vetoed by the Governor, it shall become effective on the expiration of the period of time during which the Governor may veto the bill. If the bill is vetoed by the Governor and the veto is overridden, it shall become effective on the date the last house overrides the veto.”

Acts 1997, No. 328, § 11, effective on and after November 15, 1998 unless a constitutional amendment or initiated act shall be approved or an act of the General Assembly shall become law before that date which exempts food, either wholly or partially, from the Arkansas gross receipts tax. If a constitutional amendment, initiated act, or act of the General Assembly exempting food is not approved, then the provisions of Section 1, 2, 3, 4, 6, 7, and 8 of this Act shall be effective for tax years beginning on and after January 1, 1998; the provisions of Section 5 of this Act shall be effective as provided in that section; and the provisions of Section 9 of this Act shall be effective as provided in Section 10.

Acts 1999, No. 1315, § 8: July 1, 1999. Emergency clause provided: “It is hereby found and determined by the Eighty-second General Assembly that the changes required by this act must take effect at the beginning of the state fiscal year and not to do so will disrupt the flow of funds for vocational education. Therefore, an emergency is declared to exist and this act being immediately necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health and safety shall become effective on July 1, 1999.”

Acts 2003 (1st Ex. Sess.), No. 38, § 4: May 8, 2003. Emergency clause provided: "It is found and determined by the General Assembly of the State of Arkansas that revenue available for the support of necessary state services has declined significantly as a result of the nationwide economic slowdown; that without additional revenue some state services will be reduced or eliminated; that some Arkansas residents will suffer as a result of service reductions or cuts; and that this bill will provide the necessary revenue to avoid state service reductions or cuts. Therefore, an emergency is declared to exist and this act being immediately necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health, and safety shall become effective on: (1) The date of its approval by the Governor; (2) If the bill is neither approved nor vetoed by the Governor, the expiration of the period of time during which the Governor may veto the bill; or (3) If the bill is vetoed by the Governor and the veto is overridden, the date the last house overrides the veto."

Acts 1929, No. 118, § 4, relating to income received in 1928, held constitutional. Stanley v. Gates, 179 Ark. 886, 19 S.W.2d 1000 (1929); Collins v. Humphrey, 181 Ark. 609, 27 S.W.2d 102 (1930).

26-51-201. Individuals, trusts, and estates.

(a) A tax is imposed upon, and with respect to, the entire income of every resident, individual, trust, or estate. The tax shall be levied, collected, and paid annually upon the entire net income as defined and computed in this chapter at the following rates, giving effect to the tax credits provided hereafter, in the manner set forth:

(1) On the first two thousand nine hundred ninety-nine dollars ($2,999) of net income or any part thereof, one percent (1%);

(2) On the next three thousand dollars ($3,000) of net income or any part thereof, two and one-half percent (2½%);

(3) On the next three thousand dollars ($3,000) of net income or any part thereof, three and one-half percent (3½%);

(4) On the next six thousand dollars ($6,000) of net income or any part thereof, four and one-half percent (4½%);

(5) On the next ten thousand dollars ($10,000) of net income or any part thereof, six percent (6%);

(6) On net income of twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000) and above, seven percent (7%).

(b) However, no state income tax shall be due this state from a trust or estate created by a nonresident donor, trustor, or settlor, or by a nonresident testator even though administered by a resident trustee or personal representative except on income derived from:

(1) Lands situated in this state, including gains from any sale thereof;

(2) Any interest in lands situated in this state, including, without limitation, chattels real, including gains from any sale thereof;

(3) Tangible personal property located in Arkansas, including gains from any sale thereof; and

- (4) Unincorporated businesses domiciled in Arkansas.
- (c) No income tax shall be due the State of Arkansas from a nonresident beneficiary on income received from a trust being administered by a resident trustee except on income derived by the trust from:
- (1) Lands situated in this state, including gains from any sale thereof;
 - (2) Any interest in lands situated in this state, including, without limitation, chattels real, including gains from any sale thereof;
 - (3) Tangible personal property located in Arkansas, including gains from any sale thereof; and
 - (4) Unincorporated businesses domiciled in Arkansas.

(d) (1) Not later than December 15 of 1998, and each subsequent calendar year, the director shall prescribe a table which shall apply in lieu of the table contained in § 26-51-201(a) with respect to taxable years beginning in the succeeding calendar year. The director shall increase the minimum and maximum dollar amounts for each rate bracket (rounding to the nearest $100) for which a tax is imposed under such table by the cost-of-living adjustment (COLA) for such calendar year and by not changing the rate applicable to any rate bracket as adjusted. The yearly COLA increase in each rate bracket as provided in subdivision (d)(2) of this section shall apply to the brackets as contained in § 26-51-201(a) as in effect on January 1, 1998.

(2) For purposes of subdivision (d)(1) of this section, the cost-of-living adjustment for any calendar year is the percentage (if any) by which the CPI for the calendar year preceding the taxable year exceeds the CPI for the calendar year 1997, not to exceed three percent (3%). The CPI for any calendar year is the average of the Consumer Price Index as of the close of the 12-month period ending on August 31 of such calendar year. "Consumer Price Index" means the last Consumer Price Index for all urban consumers published by the Department of Labor.

(3) The new tables, as adjusted, shall apply for tax returns filed for taxable year 1999 and thereafter, and shall be used by the director in preparing the income tax withholding tables pursuant to § 26-51-907.

A.C.R.C. Notes. Acts 1997, No. 328, § 11, provided:

"This act shall be effective on and after November 15, 1998 unless a constitutional amendment or initiated act shall be approved or an act of the General Assembly shall become law before that date which exempts food, either wholly or partially, from the Arkansas gross receipts tax. If a constitutional amendment, initiated act, or act of the General Assembly exempting food is not approved, then the provisions of Section 1, 2, 3, 4, 6, 7, and 8 of this Act shall be effective for tax years beginning on and after January 1, 1998; the provisions of Section 5 of this Act shall be effective as provided in that section; and the provisions of Section 9 of this Act shall be effective as provided in Section 10."

Acts 1997, No. 328, § 12, provided:

"The withholding tables prescribed by the Director of the Department of Finance and Administration pursuant to Ark. Code Ann. § 26-51-907 shall not be amended for tax year 1998 to reflect the changes adopted by this Act. If this Act becomes effective on November 15, 1998, the effect of the various provisions of this Act for tax year 1998 shall be reflected on the income tax return filed for that year. For all subsequent years, the Director shall adjust the withholding tables as otherwise required by law."

Amendments. The 1997 amendment added (d).

Case Notes

Applicability.
Federal Reservations.
Partnerships.

Applicability.

This section is applicable to the entire income of every resident of Arkansas, regardless of the source of his income, whether derived from inside or outside the state. Morgan v. Cook, 211 Ark. 755, 202 S.W.2d 355 (1947).

This section does not exempt income earned outside the state. Morgan v. Cook, 211 Ark. 755, 202 S.W.2d 355 (1947).

Federal Reservations.

Tax on incomes levied uniformly against all citizens could extend to lessee of personalty on federal reservation, since state income tax, although classified as an excise, is treated by the courts as having many of the characteristics of a property tax. Superior Bath House Co. v. McCarroll, 200 Ark. 233, 139 S.W.2d 378 (1940), aff'd, 312 U.S. 176, 61 S. Ct. 503, 85 L. Ed. 721 (1941) Criticized by Foote's Dixie Dandy, Inc. v. McHenry, 270 Ark. 816, 607 S.W.2d 323, 21 A.L.R.4th 565 (1980).

Hot Springs Reservation of the federal government is within the state for purpose of taxation. Superior Bath House Co. v. McCarroll, 200 Ark. 233, 139 S.W.2d 378 (1940), aff'd, 312 U.S. 176, 61 S. Ct. 503, 85 L. Ed. 721 (1941) Criticized by Foote's Dixie Dandy, Inc. v. McHenry, 270 Ark. 816, 607 S.W.2d 323, 21 A.L.R.4th 565 (1980).

Partnerships.

An Arkansas resident partner of an out-of-state partnership owes income tax on all income received from any source while residing in Arkansas, subject to the double taxation relief provided by § 26-51-504. Collins v. Skelton, 256 Ark. 955, 512 S.W.2d 542 (1974).

26-51-202. Nonresidents.

(a) A tax is imposed and shall be assessed, levied, collected, and paid annually at the rates specified in § 26-51-201 upon and with respect to the entire net income as defined in this chapter, except as provided in this section, from all property owned and from every business, trade, or occupation carried on in this state by individuals, corporations, partnerships, trusts, or estates not residents of the State of Arkansas.

(b) (1) Each nonresident as defined in § 26-51-102 shall file income tax returns with the State of Arkansas and pay the tax without distinction, or incident to the laws of the nonresident's resident state.

(2) It is the specific intention of the General Assembly that the tax shall be collected from property owned and from the conduct of every business, trade, or occupation, whether or not the individuals, corporations, partnerships, trusts, or estates are qualified to do business in the State of Arkansas and whether or not such business, trade, or occupation shall be conducted in interstate commerce.

(c) However, the payment of the tax shall be based upon net income properly allocated as net income arising from the ownership of property and the conduct of a business, trade, or occupation in the State of Arkansas.

(d) Additionally, no income tax shall be due the State of Arkansas from a nonresident beneficiary on income received from a trust or estate being administered by a resident trustee or personal representative except on income derived by the trust or estate from:

(1) Lands situated in this state, including gains from any sale of the lands situated in this state;

(2) Any interest in land situated in this state, including, without limitation, chattels real, including gains from any sale of an interest in land situated in this state;

(3) Tangible personal property located in Arkansas, including gains from any sale of the tangible personal property located in Arkansas; and

(4) Unincorporated businesses domiciled in Arkansas.

(e) (1) No income tax shall be due the State of Arkansas from a nonresident partner with respect to that partner's distributive share of dividends, interest, or gains and losses from qualifying investment securities owned by an investment partnership, whether or not the partnership has a usual place of business located in this state.

(2) As used in this subsection:

(A) "Investment partnership" means a partnership that meets both of the following requirements:

(i) No less than ninety percent (90%) of the value of the partnership's total assets consists of qualifying investment securities and office space and equipment reasonably necessary to carry on its activities as an investment partnership; and

(ii) No less than ninety percent (90%) of its gross income consists of interest, dividends, and gains from the sale or exchange of qualifying investment securities; and

(B) (i) "Qualifying investment securities" includes all of the following:

(a) Common stock, including preferred or debt securities convertible into common stock, and preferred stock;

(b) Bonds, debentures, and other debt securities;

(c) Deposits and any other obligations of banks and other financial institutions;

(d) Stock and bond index securities, futures contracts, options on securities, and other similar financial securities and instruments; and

(e) Other similar or related financial or investment contracts, instruments, or securities.

(ii) Qualifying investment securities shall not include an interest in a partnership unless that partnership is itself an investment partnership.

(3) (A) The provisions of subdivision (e)(1) of this section shall not apply to income derived from investment activity that is interrelated with any trade or business activity of the nonresident or an entity in which the nonresident owns an interest in this state, whose primary activities are separate and distinct from the acts of acquiring, managing, or disposing of qualified investment securities, or if those securities were acquired with working capital of a trade or business activity conducted in this state in which the nonresident owns an interest.

(B) Likewise, the provisions of subdivision (e)(1) of this section shall not apply to corporate partners of an investment partnership except as provided by regulations adopted by the Director of the Department of Finance and Administration.

History. Acts 1929, No. 118, Art. 2, § 3; Pope's Dig., § 14026; Acts 1947, No. 135, § 1; 1967, No. 46, § 2; A.S.A. 1947, § 84-2003; Acts 1999, No. 1283, § 1.

Interstate Commerce.
Salaries.

Interstate Commerce.

This section had no relation to profits gained from interstate transactions by a corporation conducting a business in another state. Temple v. Gates, 186 Ark. 820, 56 S.W.2d 417 (1933) (decision prior to 1947 amendment).

Income of foreign corporation derived solely from contracts made in other states for the hire or lease of refrigerated cars and used by the contractees in interstate transportation of perishable products was subject to tax under this section. Commissioner of Revenues v. Pacific Fruit Express Co., 227 Ark. 8, 296 S.W.2d 676 (1956).

Salaries.

Salaries of nonresident secretary-treasurer and president of domestic corporation were not subject to income tax of Arkansas where secretary-treasurer spent all of her time for the company in Tennessee, and president spent only six days a month in Arkansas on business for the company, as the statute makes no provision or method for allocating that portion of the income earned by nonresidents in Arkansas. Cook v. Ayres, 214 Ark. 308, 215 S.W.2d 705 (1948).

Cited: Shinn v. Heath, 259 Ark. 577, 535 S.W.2d 57 (1976).

26-51-203. Fiduciaries.

(a) The tax imposed by this act shall be imposed upon resident fiduciaries, which tax shall be levied, collected, and paid annually with respect to:

(1) That part of the net income of estates or trusts which has not been distributed or become distributable to beneficiaries during the income year. In the case of two (2) or more joint fiduciaries, part of whom are nonresidents of this state, such part of the net income shall be treated as if each fiduciary had received an equal share;

(2) The net income received during the income year by deceased individuals who at the time of death were residents and who have died during the tax year without having made a return;

(3) The entire net income of resident insolvent or incompetent individuals, whether or not any portion thereof is held for the future use of the beneficiaries, where the fiduciary has complete charge of the net income.

(b) The tax imposed upon a fiduciary by this act shall be a charge against the estate or trust.

This section, fixing the method of determining taxable income of interstate utilities, was not shown to be discriminatory against railroads or the taking of its property without due process. Cook v. Kansas City S. Ry., 212 Ark. 253, 205 S.W.2d 441 (1947), cert. denied, Kansas City Southern R. Co. v. Cook, 333 U.S. 873, 68 S. Ct. 902 (1948).

As to unconstitutional delegation of power to federal agency expressly reserved to state legislature by Arkansas Constitution, see Cheney v. St. Louis S. R. Co., 239 Ark. 870, 394 S.W.2d 731 (1965).

Carriers.

Income assessments made against interstate passenger bus companies based on the statutory formula prescribed by this section were neither oppressive nor discriminatory and did not deprive them of any constitutional right. Commissioner of Revenues v. Transcontinental Bus Sys., 227 Ark. 811, 301 S.W.2d 569 (1957).

A Texas corporation engaged in interstate and intrastate transportation of property as a common carrier, in figuring its net income for a year, could not claim as a deduction the amount of retail sales taxes it had paid in the taxable year to the state of Texas on motor vehicle purchases.

Cheney v. East Tex. Motor Freight, Inc., 233 Ark. 675, 346 S.W.2d 513 (1961).

Corporation engaged in interstate and intrastate transportation of property as a common carrier held not free to calculate and claim depreciation as it desired under § 26-51-428. Cheney v. East Tex. Motor Freight, Inc., 233 Ark. 675, 346 S.W.2d 513 (1961).

Effect of Subsequent Legislation.

Section 84-2003(e) [unconstitutional] has not been superseded by or amended by § 26-51-428, which was added to the Income Tax Law by Acts 1957, No. 156, § 1. Cheney v. East Tex. Motor Freight, Inc., 233 Ark. 675, 346 S.W.2d 513 (1961).

Railroads.

Right of state to value property of a unitary enterprise, including railroads, as a unit, has been recognized, and the apportionment to state of its fair ratable portion of such value by using revenue ratio in apportioning income and operating expenses has been held not improper. Cook v. Kansas City S. Ry., 212 Ark. 253, 205 S.W.2d 441 (1947), cert. denied, Kansas City Southern R. Co. v. Cook, 333 U.S. 873, 68 S. Ct. 902 (1948).

26-51-205. Corporations — Work Force 2000 Development Fund.

(a) Every corporation organized under the laws of this state shall pay annually an income tax with respect to carrying on or doing business on the entire net income of the corporation, as now defined by the laws of the State of Arkansas, received by such corporation during the income year, on the following basis:

- (1) On the first $3,000 of net income or any part thereof 1 %
- On the second $3,000 net income or any part thereof 2 %
- On the next $5,000 of net income or any part thereof 3 %
- On the next $14,000 of net income or any part thereof 5 %
- On the next $75,000 of net income or any part thereof, but not exceeding $100,000

(2) On net income exceeding $100,000, a flat rate of six and one-half (6 ½ %) percent shall be applied to the entire net income.

(b) Every foreign corporation doing business within the jurisdiction of this state shall pay annually an income tax on the proportion of its entire net income as now determined by the income tax laws of Arkansas, on the following basis:

- (1) On the first $3,000 of net income or any part thereof 1 %
- On the second $3,000 of net income or any part thereof 2 %
- On the next $5,000 of net income or any part thereof 3 %
- On the next $14,000 of net income or any part thereof 5 %
- On the next $75,000 of net income or any part thereof, but not exceeding $100,000 6 %

(2) On net income exceeding $100,000, a flat rate of six and one-half percent (6½%) shall be applied to the entire net income.

(c) (1) (A) There is created on the books of the Treasurer of State, the Auditor of State, and the Chief Fiscal Officer of the State a fund to be known as the “Work Force 2000 Development Fund.”

(B) The Work Force 2000 Development Fund shall consist of those special revenues as specified in § 26-51-205(c)(2) and all other revenues as may be authorized by law.

(2) (A) The Revenue Division of the Department of Finance and Administration shall deposit the funds collected under the provisions of this section for corporate income tax into the State Treasury, there to be credited to the Revenue Holding Fund Account of the State Apportionment Fund.

(B) (i) (a) For each of the state's fiscal years, the Chief Fiscal Officer of the State shall determine as an annual allocation available under the provisions of this section an amount based on the total net revenues, as enumerated in § 26-51-205(a) and (b), which were collected in the immediate past year, multiplied by a factor of six hundred seventy-eight ten thousandths (.0678).

(b) On the last day of each month of the respective fiscal year, the Chief Fiscal Officer of the State shall certify to the Treasurer of State an amount based on one-twelfth ($1/12$) of the annual allocation provided in this section for transfer as specified in § 26-51-205(c)(2)(B)(ii).

(ii) The Treasurer of State shall then transfer the amount so certified to the Special Revenue Fund Account as part of the gross special revenues.

(iii) After the deductions as set out in § 19-5-203 have been made, the remaining amount shall be credited to the Work Force 2000 Development Fund.

(iv) The remaining corporate income tax collections remaining in the Revenue Holding Fund Account shall be credited to the General Revenue Fund Account of the State Apportionment Fund, there to be distributed with the other gross general revenue collections for that month in accordance with the provisions of § 19-5-201 et seq.

(d) (1) All proceeds derived from the additional tax levied by this section shall be used exclusively for the authorized educational activities of:

(A) Any postsecondary vocational-technical school, technical institute, comprehensive lifelong learning center, technical college, community college; or

(B) Any postsecondary vocational-technical school, technical institute, comprehensive lifelong learning center, or technical college that merges with a two-year branch of a four-year institution, a four-year institution, a technical college, or a community college.

(2) (A) The distribution of the proceeds shall be supervised by the State Board of Career Education for the postsecondary vocational-technical schools, technical institutes, and comprehensive lifelong learning centers.

(B) The distribution of the proceeds for technical colleges, community colleges, or any postsecondary vocational-technical school, technical institute, comprehensive lifelong learning center, or technical college that merges with a two-year branch of a four-year institution, a four-year institution, a technical college, or a community college shall continue at the same proportion as those distributions made in fiscal year 1996-97, excluding one-time capital disbursements and professional development disbursements made in fiscal year 1996-97 equal to the amount of funds distributed in fiscal year 1998-99.

(C) Any increase in the amount of funds in the Work Force 2000 Development Fund above the amount distributed in fiscal year 1998-99 shall be supervised by the Arkansas Higher Education Coordinating Board and shall be distributed after a review of needs including, but not limited to, equity considerations and workforce development and after consultation with the presidents and chancellors of the technical and former technical colleges.

History. Acts 1941, No. 129, § 2; 1969, No. 392, §§ 1, 2; A.S.A. 1947, § 84-2004; Acts 1991, No. 1052, §§ 1-4; 1997, No. 171, § 2; 1999, No. 1315, §§ 2, 3.

A.C.R.C. Notes. The State Board of Vocational Education was abolished and transferred to the State Board of Workforce Education and Career Opportunities by a type 3 transfer under § 25-16-106 by Acts 1997, No. 803, § 2.

The State Board of Higher Education was abolished and transferred to the Arkansas Higher Education Coordinating Board by Acts 1997, No. 1114, § 1.

Acts 2009, No. 1499, § 91, provided: "After the amounts to be made available to the various technical institutes or comprehensive lifelong learning centers have been determined as set out in Arkansas Code 26-51-205(d)(2), such documents as may be necessary shall be processed so that funds may be transferred from the Work Force 2000 Development Fund to the State Treasury fund or fund account from which the technical institute or comprehensive lifelong learning center draws its general revenue support. Such funds as may be transferred shall not exceed 6.309% of the total funds available from the Work Force 2000 Development Fund during each fiscal year." "In the event that a technical college, community college or educational institution which receives support from the Work Force 2000 Development Fund as determined by law transfers from the Arkansas Technical College and Community College System for which Work Force 2000 Development Fund monies are determined by law, then the actual amount of support from the Work Force 2000 Development Fund in the preceding fiscal year for such educational institution shall be made available irrespective of any other provision of law which sets out maximum levels of support from such fund." "The provisions of this section shall be in effect only from July 1, 2009 through June 30, 2010."

Publisher's Notes. Acts 1991, No. 1052, § 5, provided:

"This act shall be effective for income years beginning on and after January 1, 1991."

Acts 1991, No. 1052, § 2, is also codified as § 19-6-467.

Constitutionality.

Construction.

The phrase "to the entire net income" in subdivision (a)(2), as amended in 1991, rendered this section internally inconsistent and ambiguous; to give effect to the legislative intent and to be consistent with judicial decisions relating to the interpretation of tax measures, this section was held to impose a graduated tax applying to all corporations for the first $100,000 of net income, and a flat tax of 6½% on the entire net income above $100,000. ACW, Inc. v. Weiss, 329 Ark. 302, 947 S.W.2d 770 (1997).

Doing Business.

Corporation's sale of its assets for purpose of distributing proceeds of sale to shareholders pursuant to a program of liquidation is not "doing business" within the meaning of this section, and any profit realized from such sale is taxable to the shareholders, and not to the corporation. Larey v. Mountain Valley Spring Co., 245 Ark. 689, 434 S.W.2d 820 (1968).

26-51-206. Commercial ventures by churches — Exceptions.

(a) All income derived from the operation of any business or commercial enterprise or the sale, rental, or other disposition of any property used by a church in its operation of a business or commercial enterprise in this state shall be subject to the Arkansas income tax, except where the income is reinvested in similar property, and shall be reported and the Arkansas income tax paid thereon.

(b) (1) Income from the interest on the savings and investments from dedicated funds, from the sale of dedicated church property, and from the rental of dedicated church property shall be excluded from the provisions of this section.

(2) It is not the intent of this section to impose the Arkansas income tax on rentals or gains on sales of dedicated property held only as a passive investment by a church.

(c) The Director of the Department of Finance and Administration is authorized to promulgate reasonable rules and regulations to carry out the provisions of this section.

26-51-207. Income tax surcharge.

(a) In addition to the taxes levied by §§ 26-51-201 et seq., 26-51-301, and 26-51-302, there is levied an income tax surcharge of three percent (3%) of the tax liability of every person required to file an Arkansas income tax return.

(b) (1) If an individual is a resident of an Arkansas border city described in § 26-52-601 et seq., the individual shall be liable for the income tax surcharge levied in subsection (a) of this section.

(2) The surcharge shall be computed on the tax liability that would have been due had the income tax exemption of § 26-52-601 et seq. not been available.

(3) The income tax exemption of § 26-52-601 et seq. shall not apply to the income tax surcharge levied in subsection (a) of this section.

(c) The revenues derived from the additional tax imposed by this section shall be credited to the General Revenue Fund Account of the State Apportionment Fund, there to be distributed with the other gross general revenue collections.

(d) As used in this section, "tax liability" means the taxes imposed pursuant to §§ 26-51-201 et seq., 26-51-301, and 26-52-302 before the application of any tax credits.

(e) This section shall apply only to tax years beginning in calendar years 2003 and 2004.

Preambles. Acts 1929, No. 118, contained a preamble which read:

"Whereas, this State has been neglectful of its Wards in the Charitable Institutions, which is a disgrace to the people of a Great Commonwealth, and it is imperative that additional Revenue should be provided to correct the fearful conditions which now exist; and

"Whereas, an equalization Fund should be provided to give equal Educational opportunities to the Boys and Girls of our Rural Communities; and

"Whereas, Agricultural and Industrial development is now being retarded because of a policy to secure practically all of the Revenue from an Ad Valorem Tax, thus penalizing and discouraging ownership of property, while many who enjoy the benefits of Government and have large incomes, pay almost nothing to support the Government;

"Therefore...."

Effective Dates. Acts 1929, No. 118, § 44: approved Mar. 9, 1929. Emergency clause provided: "It is hereby ascertained and declared that the Hospital for Nervous Diseases is inadequate to properly care for all who should be confined therein, to the end there are many persons of unsound mind at large, who are a menace to the public safety, and that said Hospital as now equipped is inadequate to restrain those insane persons who are confined therein, so that there is danger of their escaping at any time and imperil the safety of the public; that there are hundreds and hundreds of persons desiring to enter the Tuberculosis Sanitarium who cannot now be accommodated there, because that institution has neither room, beds nor facilities for additional people, as a result said consumptives at large are spreading the disease amongst their families and friends; that the funds to be raised by this Act will be used for the better care of the charitable wards of this State and to provide better for the rural schools of this State; and it is therefore ascertained and declared that it is necessary for the public peace, health and safety that this Act go into immediate operation, and accordingly it is provided that this act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage."

Acts 1941, No. 129, § 8: approved Mar. 11, 1941. Emergency clause provided: "Because of the various social problems caused by the failure of the State to provide adequate relief for its aged citizens, and it appearing that there is a dire need for additional funds to meet the requirements of the Social Security Act and give additional revenue to this State and because the old folks in this State are suffering by reason of the failure of the State to secure funds with which to pay Old Age Pensions, and [an] emergency is hereby found to exist and is so declared by the Legislature of Arkansas; that this Act being necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety, shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage."

Acts 1943, No. 61, § 5: approved Feb. 17, 1943. Emergency clause provided: "The object of this bill being to relieve members of the armed services of the United States of the payment of State income taxes on compensation or allowances received for services rendered in the armed forces, in order to preserve the public peace, health and safety of the State of Arkansas, an emergency is declared to exist and this bill shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage."

Acts 1959, No. 202, § 7: Jan. 1, 1959.

Acts 1965, No. 149, §§ 2, 3: Jan. 1, 1965. Emergency clause provided: "It is hereby found and determined by the General Assembly that the current status of the Income Tax Law relating to non-profit organizations is such as to raise a technical question as to the exemption of investment income of foreign and domestic nonprofit organizations where such income is for the purpose of pension and annuity benefits for their members; and in order to attract foreign investment capital and to encourage pension and annuity plans for the benefit of residents of this State, and these things being found necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health and safety, an emergency is hereby declared to exist, and this Act shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage and approval." Approved March 9, 1965.

Acts 1973, No. 4, § 4: effective for all tax years beginning on or after Jan. 1, 1973.

Acts 1973, No. 182, §§ 9, 10: Jan. 1, 1973. Emergency clause provided: "It is hereby found and determined by the General Assembly that the present law relative to the taxation of banks and savings and loan associations is somewhat vague and indefinite, that such institutions should pay the same taxes as other business corporations in the State, and this Act is immediately necessary to clarify the laws with respect to the taxation of financial institutions and to assure that such institutions pay the same taxes as other business corporations. Therefore, an emergency is hereby declared to exist and this Act being necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage and approval." Approved February 22, 1973.

Acts 1983, No. 379, § 27: Dec. 31, 1982. Emergency clause provided: "It is hereby found and determined by the General Assembly that certain provisions of the State's income and estate tax laws that have counterparts in the Federal tax laws do not coincide with recent amendments and changes to the Federal tax laws; and that this Act is immediately necessary to make the Arkansas tax laws conform with the Federal tax laws to clarify any possible question of confusion caused by such differences. Therefore, an emergency is hereby declared to exist and this Act being immediately necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health and safety shall be in full force and effect for all income years after, or estate tax return filing dates coming after, December 31, 1982.”

Acts 1989 (3rd Ex. Sess.), No. 27, § 7: Nov. 6, 1989. Emergency clause provided: “It is hereby found and determined by the General Assembly that certain inequities have evolved through the years concerning the taxation of retirement and disability income in this state; that such inequities have no just or sound basis and are creating an undue burden on some taxpayers within this state; that this act should be given effect immediately to stop these inequities and to limit continued potential legal costs to taxpayers under the current tax structure. Therefore, an emergency is hereby declared to exist and this Act being necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health and safety shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage and approval.”

Acts 1991, No. 95, § 9: Feb. 11, 1991. Emergency clause provided: “It is hereby found and determined by the General Assembly that certain low income working taxpayers and senior citizens bear a disproportionate share of the state tax burden; that unless this act becomes effective immediately upon passage irreparable harm will occur to low income taxpayers of this state; and that this act should become effective immediately upon passage. Therefore, an emergency is hereby declared to exist and this Act being necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health and safety shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage and approval.”

Acts 1991, No. 1123, § 25: Apr. 9, 1991. Emergency clause provided: “It is hereby found and determined by the General Assembly that the laws of this State concerning the insurance matters covered in the subject of this Act are inadequate for the protection of the public. Therefore, an emergency is hereby declared to exist and this Act being necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health and safety all provisions of this Act other than Section 22 shall be in full force and effect from and after July 1, 1991 and Section 22 shall be in full force and effect from and after the passage and approval of this Act.”

Acts 1993, No. 785, § 24: Mar. 30, 1993. Emergency clause provided: “It is hereby found and determined that certain changes are necessary to the Arkansas income tax laws; that these changes are necessary immediately in order to maintain the efficient administration of the Arkansas income tax laws; and that this act is necessary to effectuate that purpose. Therefore, an emergency is hereby declared to exist and this act being necessary for the preservation of public peace, health and safety shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage and approval.”

Acts 1993, No. 1147, § 1705: January 1, 1994.

Acts 1995, No. 1160, § 46: Apr. 11, 1995. Emergency clause provided: “It is hereby found and determined by the General Assembly that certain changes are necessary to the Arkansas tax laws; that these changes are necessary immediately in order to maintain the efficient administration of the Arkansas income tax laws; and that this act is necessary to effectuate that purpose. Therefore, an emergency is hereby declared to exist and this act being necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage and approval.”

Acts 1997, No. 328, § 11: effective on and after November 15, 1998 unless a constitutional amendment or initiated act shall be approved or an act of the General Assembly shall become law before that date which exempts food, either wholly or partially, from the Arkansas gross receipts tax. If a constitutional amendment, initiated act, or act of the General Assembly exempting food is not approved, then the provisions of Section 1, 2, 3, 4, 6, 7, and 8 of this Act shall be effective for tax years beginning on and after January 1, 1998; the provisions of Section 5 of this Act shall be effective as provided in that section; and the provisions of Section 9 of this Act shall be effective as provided in Section 10.”

Acts 1997, No. 951, § 34, provided: “Sections 1 through 24, 32 and 33 shall be effective for tax years beginning on and after January 1, 1997. However, it is the intent of this Act that those portions of the Internal Revenue Code adopted by this Act which for federal tax purposes do not become effective until some time after January 1, 1997, shall also not become effective for state tax purposes until the same time.”

Acts 1997, No. 951, § 38: March 31, 1997. Emergency clause provided: “It is hereby found and determined by the General Assembly that current state tax laws are unclear or confusing, creating difficulty for taxpayers seeking to comply with these tax laws; that the changes made by Sections 25 through 31 of this bill are necessary to provide adequate direction to those taxpayers and to maintain the efficient administration of the Arkansas tax laws; and that the provisions of Sections 25 through 31 of this Act are necessary to effectuate that purpose. Therefore, an emergency is hereby declared to exist and the provisions of Sections 25 through 31 of this Act being necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health, and safety shall become effective on the date of its approval by the Governor. If the bill is neither approved nor vetoed by the Governor, Sections 25 through 31 shall become effective on the expiration of the period of time during which the Governor may veto the bill. If the bill is vetoed by the Governor and the veto is overridden, Sections 25 through 31 shall become effective on the date the last house overrides the veto.”

(e) (1) For tax years beginning on or after January 1, 2008, for purposes of determining the exemptions from income tax in subsection (b) of this section and determining eligibility for the low income tax credit in this section, the gross income amounts in subsections (b) and (c) of this section shall be adjusted annually by the cost-of-living adjustment for the current calendar year, rounded to the nearest whole dollar.

(2) For purposes of this subsection, the cost-of-living adjustment for any calendar year is the percentage, if any, not to exceed three percent (3%) by which the Consumer Price Index for the current calendar year exceeds the Consumer Price Index for the preceding calendar year.

(3) The Consumer Price Index for any calendar year is the average of the Consumer Price Index as of the close of the twelve-month period ending on August 31 of that calendar year.

(4) As used in this subsection, "Consumer Price Index" means the last Consumer Price Index for All Urban Consumers published by the United States Department of Labor.

(f) For tax years beginning on or after January 1, 2008, following the cost-of-living adjustment for the Consumer Price Index as provided in subsection (e) of this section, the low income tax credit in this section and the gross income limitations outlined in the tables in subsection (d) of this section shall be adjusted annually using the following method:

(1) For a single individual, the amount of the low income tax credit allowable shall be eighty percent (80%) of the income tax due upon the amount of gross income in subdivision (c)(1) of this section, indexed as provided in subsection (e) of this section, and reduced, but not below zero dollars ($0.00), by four dollars ($4.00) for each one hundred dollars ($100), or fraction thereof, that the taxpayer's gross income exceeds the indexed amount;

(2) For a married couple filing jointly with one (1) or fewer dependents, the amount of the low income tax credit allowable shall be eighty percent (80%) of the income tax due upon the amount of gross income in subdivision (c)(2) of this section, indexed as provided in subsection (e) of this section, and reduced, but not below zero dollars ($0.00), by seven dollars ($7.00) for each one hundred dollars ($100), or fraction thereof, that the taxpayer's gross income exceeds the indexed amount;

(3) For a married couple filing jointly with two (2) or more dependents, the amount of the low income tax credit allowable shall be eighty percent (80%) of the income tax due upon the amount of gross income in subdivision (c)(3) of this section, indexed as provided in subsection (e) of this section, and reduced, but not below zero dollars ($0.00), by seven dollars ($7.00) for each one hundred dollars ($100), or fraction thereof, that the taxpayer's gross income exceeds the indexed amount; or

(4) For a head of household or qualifying widow or widower with one (1) or more dependents, the amount of the low income tax credit allowable shall be eighty percent (80%) of the income tax due upon the amount of gross income in subdivision (c)(4) of this section, indexed as provided in subsection (e) of this section, reduced, but not below zero dollars ($0.00), by six dollars ($6.00) for each one hundred dollars ($100), or fraction thereof, that the taxpayer's gross income exceeds the indexed amount.

(g) For the purpose of determining eligibility for the low income tax credit in this section, income from all sources shall be used in determining the gross income of the taxpayer regardless of whether the income is taxable in Arkansas.

(h) A taxpayer is not eligible for the low income tax credit in this section if the taxpayer claims an exemption in § 26-51-306 or § 26-51-307, or if the taxpayer itemizes deductions.

History. Acts 1973, No. 4, §§ 1, 3; A.S.A. 1947, §§ 84-2090, 84-2092; Acts 1991, No. 95, § 2; 1993, No. 785, § 6; 1995, No. 1160, § 15; Acts 1997, No. 328, § 2; 2005, No. 675, § 1; 2005, No. 2187, § 1; 2007, No. 195, § 1.

A.C.R.C. Notes. Acts 1997, No. 328, § 11, provided:

"This Act shall be effective on and after November 15, 1998 unless a constitutional amendment or initiated act shall be approved or an act of the General Assembly shall become law before that date which exempts food, either wholly or partially, from the Arkansas gross receipts tax. If a constitutional amendment, initiated act, or act of the General Assembly exempting food is not approved, then the provisions of Section 1, 2, 3, 4, 6, 7, and 8 of this Act shall be effective for tax years beginning on and after January 1, 1998; the provisions of Section 5 of this Act shall be effective as provided in that section; and the provisions of Section 9 of this Act shall be effective as provided in Section 10."

Acts 1997, No. 328, § 12, provided:

"The withholding tables prescribed by the Director of the Department of Finance and Administration pursuant to Ark. Code Ann. § 26-51-907 shall not be amended for tax year 1998 to reflect the changes adopted by this Act. If this Act becomes effective on November 15, 1998, the effect of the various provisions of this Act for tax year 1998 shall be reflected on the income tax return filed for that year. For all subsequent years, the Director shall adjust the withholding tables as otherwise required by law."

Publisher's Notes. Acts 1973, No. 4, § 4 provided that this act shall be effective for all tax years beginning on or after January 1, 1973.

Acts 1991, No. 95, § 5, provided that "the provisions contained in this act shall be effective for tax years beginning on and after January 1, 1991."

Amendments. The 1997 amendment rewrote this section.

The 2005 amendment by No. 675 substituted "January 1, 2005" for "January 1, 1991" in (c).

The 2005 amendment by No. 2187 inserted "exemption provided for in § 26-51-306 or the" and deleted "either §§ 26-51-306 or" preceding "§ 26-51-307."

The 2007 amendment rewrote the section.

Effective Dates. Acts 2005, No. 675, § 17: effective for tax years on and after January 1, 2005.

Acts 2005, No. 2187, § 3: applicable to tax years beginning on and after January 1, 2005.

Acts 2007, No. 195, § 3: applicable to tax years beginning on and after January 1, 2007.

U.S. Code. Section 2(b) of the federal Internal Revenue Code of 1986, referred to in this section, is codified as 26 U.S.C. § 2(b).

Case Notes

In General.

In General.

Supreme Court of Arkansas declined to address state finance director's argument that the trial court erred when it concluded that subsection (d) of this section was unconstitutional because Acts 1995, No. 1160, repealed the subsection; a constitutional challenge to a repealed statute raises a moot issue that will not be considered on appeal. Weiss v. Chavers, 357 Ark. 607, 184 S.W.3d 437 (2004).

26-51-306. Compensation and benefits from military service.

(a) (1) (A) For tax years beginning before January 1, 2007, no member of the armed services of the United States shall be liable for or required to pay any income tax on the first six thousand dollars ($6,000) of service pay or allowances.

(B) (i) For tax years 2005 and 2006, enlisted personnel of the armed services of the State of Arkansas or of the United States shall not be liable for or required to pay any income tax on the first nine thousand dollars ($9,000) of service pay or allowances.

(ii) For tax years 2005 and 2006, an officer or a warrant officer of the armed services of the State of Arkansas or of the United States is only entitled to the exemption in subdivision (a)(1)(A) of this section and is not entitled to the exemption in subdivision (a)(1)(B)(i) of this section.

(C) For tax years beginning on and after January 1, 2007, any member of the armed services of the State of Arkansas or the United States is not liable for or required to pay any income tax on the first nine thousand dollars ($9,000) of service pay or allowance.

(2) The compensation and benefits are declared exempt, to the extent of the amounts provided in subdivision (a)(1) of this section, from the state income tax.

(3) All service pay or allowances of members of the armed services of the State of Arkansas or the United States in excess of the amounts provided in subdivision (a)(1) of this section shall be subject to the state income tax, unless otherwise provided for in this section.

(4) (A) Sections 112 and 692 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as in effect on January 1, 2007, regarding combat zone compensation of members of the armed forces and income taxes of members of the armed forces on death are adopted.

(B) The provisions contained in § 112 of the Internal Revenue Code are in addition to all other provisions contained in this section.

(b) Nothing in this section shall exempt from taxation the income of members of the armed services derived from other sources than their service pay and allowances.

(c) As used in this section, “armed services” means any and all members of the National Guard, reserve components of the armed forces, United States Army, Navy, Marine Corps, Coast Guard, Air Force, and any and all other branches of the military and naval forces or auxiliaries.

Publisher's Notes. Acts 1989 (3rd Ex. Sess.), No. 27, § 6, provided that the act shall be applicable to income years beginning on or after January 1, 1989.

Acts 1997, No. 951, § 34: Sections 1 through 24, 32 and 33 shall be effective for tax years beginning on and after January 1, 1997. However, it is the intent of this Act that those portions of the Internal Revenue Code adopted by this Act which for federal tax purposes do not become effective until some time after January 1, 1997, shall also not become effective for state tax purposes until the same time.

Amendments. The 1997 amendment substituted "January 1, 1997" for "January 1, 1991" in (a)(4).

The 2005 amendment by No. 29, in (4), substituted "2005" for "1997" and "zone compensation" for "pay."

The 2005 amendment by No. 2187 added (a)(1)(B) and (C); substituted "amounts provided in subdivision (a)(1) of this section" for "first six thousand dollars ($6,000) thereof" in (a)(2); substituted "the amounts provided in subdivision (a)(1) of this section" for "six thousand dollars ($6,000) per year" in (a)(3); substituted "2005" for "1997" in (a)(4); and inserted "National Guard, Reserves" in (c).

The 2007 amendment by No. 160 added "For tax years beginning before January 1, 2007" in (a)(1)(A) and made a related change; added (a)(1)(C) and redesignated the preceding subsections; substituted "tax years 2005 and 2006" for "tax years beginning on and after January 1, 2005" in present (a)(1)(B)(i); substituted "For tax years 2005 and 2006, an officer or a warrant officer" for "Officers" in present (a)(1)(B)(ii); and substituted "January 1, 2007" for "January 1, 2005" in (a)(4)(A).

The 2007 amendment by No. 218 substituted "January 1, 2007" for "January 1, 2005" in (a)(4)(A).

U.S. Code. Sections 112 and 692 of the Internal Revenue Code, referred to in this section, are codified as 26 U.S.C. § 112 and 26 U.S.C. § 692, respectively.

26-51-307. Retirement or disability benefits.

(a) (1) The first six thousand dollars ($6,000) of benefits received by any resident of this state from an individual retirement account or the first six thousand dollars ($6,000) of retirement benefits received by any resident of this state from public or private employment-related retirement systems, plans, or programs, regardless of the method of funding for these systems, plans, or programs, shall be exempt from the state income tax.

(2) (A) Only individual retirement account benefits received by an individual retirement account participant after reaching fifty-nine and one-half (59½) years of age qualify for the exemption.

(B) The only other distributions or withdrawals from an individual retirement account that qualify for the exemption before the individual retirement account participant reaches fifty-nine and one-half (59½) years of age are those made on account of the participant's death or disability.

(C) All other premature distributions or early withdrawals including, but not limited to, those taken for medical-related expenses, higher education expenses, or a first-time home purchase do not qualify for the exemption.

(b) (1) (A) Except as provided in subdivision (b)(2) of this section, the exemption provided for in subsection (a) of this section for benefits received from an individual retirement account or from a public or private employment-related retirement system, plan, or program shall be the only exemption from the state income tax allowed for benefits received from an individual retirement account or from any publicly or privately supported employment-related retirement system, plan, or program, excepting only benefits received under systems, plans, or programs which are by federal law exempt from the state income tax.

(B) No taxpayer shall receive an exemption greater than six thousand dollars ($6,000) during any tax year under the provisions of this section.

(2) The provisions of this section shall not apply to retirement or disability benefits received under a plan, system, or fund described in § 26-51-404(b)(6).

(c) (1) Section 72 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as in effect on January 1, 2009, is the sole method by which a recipient of benefits from an individual retirement account or from public or private employment-related retirement systems, plans, or programs may deduct or recover his or her cost of contribution to the plan when computing his or her income for state income tax purposes.

(2) A taxpayer shall not be allowed to deduct or recover any portion of the taxpayer's cost of contribution to the plan that the taxpayer:

(A) Has once deducted or recovered; or

(B) Would have been allowed to deduct or recover under any provision of law or court decision.

(d) (1) An individual who is sixty-five (65) years of age or older and who does not claim an exemption under subsection (a) of this section shall be entitled to an additional state income tax credit of twenty dollars ($20.00).

(2) This credit is in addition to all other credits allowed by law.

Case Notes

Constitutionality.

Construction.

Constitutionality.

The state income tax discriminated against retirees of the governments of other states and military retirees based upon the source of the payment; therefore the tax violated 4 U.S.C. § 111 and the doctrine of intergovernmental tax immunity. Pledger v. Bosnick, 306 Ark. 45, 811 S.W.2d 286 (1991), cert. denied, 509 U.S. 921, 113 S. Ct. 3034 (1993), overruled, State, Dep't of Fin. & Admin. v. Staton, 325 Ark. 341, 942 S.W.2d 804 (1996) (decision under prior law).

Finding that the state income tax was unconstitutional, as applied to the retirees of the governments of other states and military retirees, was applied retroactively. Pledger v. Bosnick, 306 Ark. 45, 811 S.W.2d 286 (1991), cert. denied, 509 U.S. 921, 113 S. Ct. 3034 (1993), overruled, State, Dep't of Fin. & Admin. v. Staton, 325 Ark. 341, 942 S.W.2d 804 (1996).

Because the returns of after-tax contributions to a retirement plan were property, pursuant to Ark. Const. art. XVI, § 5, not income, the Department of Finance and Administration attempted tax of the returns under this section was unconstitutional given the prohibition in Ark. Const. amend. 47 that prohibited an ad valorem tax being levied on property; thus, the trial court properly granted partial summary judgment in favor of the taxpayers. Weiss v. McFadden, 353 Ark. 868, 120 S.W.3d 545 (2003).

Emergency Income Tax Rule, which was enacted by the Department of Finance and Administration in response to the declaration that § 26-51-307(c) was unconstitutional, was also unconstitutional because it was clear that the General Assembly never intended I.R.C. § 72 be applied to recover of after-tax contribution in employment-related retirement plans. Weiss v. Maples, 369 Ark. 282, 253 S.W.3d 907 (2007).

Construction.

Subsection (c) of this section clearly provides that cost of contributions to a retirement plan may not be deducted in computing income for State tax purposes, and § 26-51-404(b)(24)(B) provides that annuity income from retirement plans is subject to this section rather than § 26-51-404(b); a retirement plan could contain pre-tax contributions upon which no income tax has ever been paid, employer contributions upon which no income tax has ever been paid, after-tax contributions upon which income tax has been paid, and the gain from pre-tax contributions and after-tax contributions upon which no income tax has ever been paid, and the above quoted statutes speak to income. Weiss v. McFadden, 353 Ark. 868, 120 S.W.3d 545 (2003).

26-51-311. Qualified windmill blade manufacturing exemption.

(a) A qualified windmill blade manufacturer that meets the criteria found in subsection

(b) of this section is exempt from income taxes levied under the Income Tax Act of 1929, § 26-51-101 et seq., until December 31, 2033.

(b) A windmill blade manufacturer shall meet the following criteria in order to claim the income tax exemption provided in subsection (a) of this section:

(1) Shall be classified in the North American Industry Classification System (NAICS) Code 333611, as in effect January 1, 2007;

(2) Shall locate in the state before December 31, 2007;

(3) Shall expend a minimum of one hundred fifty million dollars ($150,000,000) in the state within six (6) years of signing a financial incentive agreement with the Arkansas Economic Development Commission; and

(4) Shall hire a minimum of one thousand (1,000) employees in the state within six (6) years of signing a financial incentive agreement with the commission.

(c) If any of the criteria under subsection (b) of this section are not met, the income tax exemption in subsection (a) of this section shall expire in the year that the failure to meet any of the criteria for qualification occurs.

History. Acts 2007, No. 990, §§ 1, 2; 2009, No. 736, § 1.

Amendments. The 2009 amendment, in (b), deleted (b)(4), redesignated the subsequent subdivision accordingly, substituted “six (6)” for “four (4)” in (b)(3), substituted “Commission” for “Council” in (b)(3) and present (b)(4), substituted “six (6)” for “five (5)” in present (b)(4), and made a minor stylistic change.

Effective Dates. Acts 2007, No. 990, § 2: effective for tax years beginning on or after 2007. Acts 2009, No. 736, § 3 provided: “This act is effective for tax years beginning on or after 2008.”

26-51-312. Qualified windmill blade and windmill component manufacturing exemption.

(a) A qualified windmill blade or windmill component manufacturer that meets the criteria under this section is eligible for a limited exemption from the income taxes levied under the Income Tax Act of 1929, § 26-51-101 et seq.

(b) To qualify for a limited exemption under this section from income taxes, a windmill blade or windmill component manufacturer shall:

(1) Be classified in the North American Industrial Classification System (NAICS) Code 333611 as in effect January 1, 2009;

(2) Locate in the state after January 1, 2008; and

(3) Sign a financial incentive agreement with the Arkansas Economic Development Commission after January 1, 2008.

(c) The limited income tax exemption allowed under this section is calculated based on the formula in subsection (d) of this section that comprises the following variables:

(1) Investment;

(2) Job creation;

(3) Tier status; and

(4) Wages.

(d) The number of years that a limited income tax exemption is granted to a qualified windmill blade or windmill component manufacturer is calculated as follows:

(1) Divide the proposed number of jobs to be created by one thousand (1,000);

(2) (A) Multiply the number calculated under subdivision (d)(1) of this section by thirty-five hundredths (0.35).

(B) The number calculated under subdivision (d)(2)(A) of this section is the weighting factor for job creation under subdivision (c)(2) of this section;

(3) Divide the proposed hourly wage by the lesser of the state or county average wage;

(4) (A) Multiply the number calculated under subdivision (d)(3) of this section by thirty-five hundredths (0.35).

(B) The number calculated under subdivision (d)(4)(A) of this section is the weighting factor for wages under subdivision (c)(4) of this section;

(5) Divide the proposed investment amount by one hundred fifty million dollars ($150,000,000);

(6) (A) Multiply the number calculated under subdivision (d)(5) of this section by twenty hundredths (0.20).

(B) The number calculated under subdivision (d)(6)(A) of this section is the weighting factor for investment under subdivision (c)(1) of this section;

(7) Divide the tier number of the county in which the business locates by four (4);

(8) (A) Multiply the number calculated under subdivision (d)(7) of this section by ten hundredths (0.10).

(B) The number calculated under subdivision (d)(8)(A) of this section is the weighting factor for tier status that is associated with location under subdivision (c)(3) of this section;

(9) Take the sum of the numbers in subdivisions (d)(2)(A), (d)(4)(A), (d)(6)(A), and (d)(8)(A) of this section and multiply the sum by twenty-five (25); and

(10) The number calculated in subdivision (d)(9) of this section is the number of years of income tax exemption granted to the qualified windmill blade or windmill component manufacturer.

(e) If a qualified windmill blade or windmill component manufacturer that signs a financial incentive agreement with the commission after January 1, 2008, has employed a minimum of one thousand (1,000) persons during the last year of the income tax exemption provided for in the initial signed financial incentive agreement with the commission, then additional years of income tax exemption may be authorized by the commission.

(f) An income tax exemption allowed by this section shall not exceed twenty-five (25) years from the year that the exemption is first granted.

History. Acts 2009, No. 736, § 2.

Effective Dates. Acts 2009, No. 736, § 3, provided: "This act is effective for tax years beginning on and after January 1, 2008."

Emergency clause provided: “Because of the various social problems caused by the failure of the State to provide adequate relief for its aged citizens, and it appearing that there is a dire need for additional funds to meet the requirements of the Social Security Act and give additional revenue to this State and because the old folks in this State are suffering by reason of the failure of the State to secure funds with which to pay Old Age Pensions, and [an] emergency is hereby found to exist and is so declared by the Legislature of Arkansas; that this Act being necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety, shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage.”

Acts 1947, No. 135, § 9: approved Mar. 3, 1947. Emergency clause provided: “It has been found and is hereby declared by the General Assembly of the State of Arkansas that existing laws providing for the distribution of state revenues are such that a moderate diminution of certain of the revenues would have the effect of curtailing the activities of certain necessary agencies of the State Government, and that only the provisions of this Act will correct a situation which otherwise may deprive the citizens of this State from receiving the benefits which the operation of the State Government contemplates. Therefore, an emergency is hereby declared to exist, and this act being necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health and safety shall take effect and be in full force from and after its passage.”

Acts 1947, No. 335, § 8: Mar. 28, 1947. Emergency clause provided: “It has been ascertained by the Legislature that adjustments and revisions of the present income tax laws are necessary to correct the method of computing and reporting income to the State for purposes of taxation thereof and to facilitate the enforcement of present laws relating thereto, and this law being necessary to remedy this situation and to provide for the public peace, health and safety and well being, an emergency is hereby declared to exist and this Act shall be in full force and effect after its passage and approval.”

Acts 1949, No. 234, § 4: Mar. 3, 1949. Emergency clause provided: “Whereas, it has been ascertained that the increased cost of living has placed heavier demands upon the funds of the State of Arkansas than are presently available, and that unless these available funds are increased and supplemented, the necessary functions of our state government are in serious danger of not providing for the necessary protection and benefit for which it is so designed and intended; and “Whereas, it has been ascertained that the provisions of this Act will correct this situation, “Now therefore, in order to maintain the present facilities of our government, and in order to provide for necessary funds therefor, and this Act being necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health and safety, an emergency is hereby declared to exist, and this Act shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage and approval.”

Acts 1951, No. 124, § 3: Feb. 20, 1951. Emergency clause provided: “Whereas, it has been ascertained that considerable confusion exists among the citizens of this State regarding the computation of their Federal and State income taxes, and there is much duplication of time and effort in computing their taxes for these respective branches of the government, and

“Whereas, the desirability of making uniform the preparation of Federal and State income tax returns is evidenced by the fact that it would result in a more expeditious and efficient method of filing and handling tax returns,

“Now, Therefore, in order to increase the efficiency of our government and render aid to the citizens of this State, this Act being necessary for the preservation of public peace, health, and safety, an emergency is hereby declared to exist, and this Act shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage and approval.”

Acts 1959, No. 202, § 7: Jan. 1, 1959.

Acts 1965, No. 499, §§ 2, 3: Jan. 1, 1965. Emergency clause provided: “Whereas, it has been found that great inequities will exist in situations where the owner of property containing mineral deposits upon which there is a depletion allowance provided by the Arkansas Income Tax Law where such owner incorporates and transfers the property to a corporate entity, and which might cause the loss of the depletion allowance, and this Act being necessary to remedy such, an emergency is declared to exist, and this Act being necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health and safety, shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage." Approved March 20, 1965.

Acts 1965, No. 570, §§ 2, 3: Jan. 1, 1965. Emergency clause provided: "Whereas it is necessary to remedy inequitable situations existing in the Income Tax Law as to dividends received by a parent corporation from a subsidiary corporation in which it owns at least ninety-five percent (95%) of the stock, and this Act being necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health and safety, an emergency is found to exist, and this Act shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage and approval." Approved March 24, 1965.

Acts 1967, No. 25, § 6: Feb. 1, 1967. Emergency clause provided: "The General Assembly of the State of Arkansas hereby finds and determines that considerable confusion exists among the citizens of this State regarding the computation of their Federal and State Income Taxes; that there is much duplication of time and effort in computing their income taxes for these respective branches of the government; that the desirability of making uniform the preparation of Federal and State income tax returns is evidenced by the fact that it would result in a more expeditious and efficient method of filing and handling tax returns and that in order to increase the efficiency of our government and render aid to the citizens of this State, this Act being necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health and safety, an emergency is hereby declared to exist, and this Act shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage and approval."

Acts 1967, No. 95, § 5: Feb. 14, 1967. Emergency clause provided: "The General Assembly of the State of Arkansas hereby finds and determines that considerable confusion exists among the citizens of this State regarding the computation of their Federal and State income taxes; that there is much duplication of time and effort in computing their income taxes for these respective branches of the government; that the desirability of making uniform the preparation of Federal and State income tax returns is evidenced by the fact that it would result in a more expeditious and efficient method of filing and handling tax returns and that in order to increase the efficiency of our government and render aid to the citizens of this State, this Act being necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health and safety, an emergency is hereby declared to exist, and this Act shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage and approval."

Acts 1968 (1st. Ex. Sess), No. 22, § 5: Jan. 1, 1967. Emergency clause provided: "It is hereby found and determined by the General Assembly that Act 95 of 1967 was enacted and became effective on February 14, 1967, and provided for the application of Section 213 of the Federal Internal Revenue Code of 1954, amended and in effect on December 1, 1966, in computing the Arkansas Income Tax; that since December 1, 1966, there have been substantial changes in the application of Section 213 of the Federal Internal Revenue Code of 1954, as amended; and that only by the immediate passage of this Act can the relevant Arkansas Income Tax provisions be brought into conformity with the federal income tax provisions. Therefore, an emergency is hereby declared to exist and this Act being necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety shall be in effect from and after January 1, 1967."

Acts 1969, No. 462, § 4: Jan. 1, 1969. Emergency clause provided: "It is hereby found and determined by the General Assembly that the imposition of an income tax on the above funds would create a hardship on the injured and unemployed. Therefore, an emergency is hereby declared to exist and this Act, being necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety, shall be in full force and effect from and after January 1, 1969."

Acts 1971, No. 226, § 5: Mar. 4, 1971. Emergency clause provided: "It is hereby found and determined by the General Assembly that present laws exempt service pay of members of the Armed Forces from the State Income Tax and that in order to properly recognize and regard members of the Armed Forces for their loyal services it is essential that such exemption also be extended to include retirement pay and disability benefits of retired service members, and that the immediate passage of this Act is necessary to accomplish such purpose. Therefore, an emergency is hereby declared to exist and this Act being immediately necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health and safety shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage and approval."

Acts 1971, No. 457, § 4: Mar. 30, 1971. Emergency clause provided: "It is hereby found and determined by the General Assembly that at present contributions made to a self-employed person's retirement system are not deductible under Arkansas Income Tax; that under a qualified pension and profit sharing plan the contributions made by an employer to such a plan would be deductible in the year in which such contribution is made; that many self-employed persons have established Keogh or H.R. 10 plans but at present receive no deduction for the contributions made to such plans; and that only by the passage of this Act can these contributions be made deductible. Therefore, an emergency is hereby declared to exist and this Act being necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety shall become effective from and after its passage and approval."

Acts 1973, No. 182, §§ 9, 10: Jan. 1, 1973. Emergency clause provided: "It is hereby found and determined by the General Assembly that the present law relative to the taxation of banks and savings and loan associations is somewhat vague and indefinite, that such institutions should pay the same taxes as other business corporations in the State, and this Act is immediately necessary to clarify the laws with respect to the taxation of financial institutions and to assure that such institutions pay the same taxes as other business corporations. Therefore, an emergency is hereby declared to exist and this Act being necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage and approval." Approved February 22, 1973.

Acts 1975, No. 271, § 5: Feb. 28, 1975. Emergency clause provided: "It is hereby found and determined by the General Assembly that at present contributions made to a self-employed person's retirement system are not deductible under Arkansas Income Tax; that under a qualified pension and profit sharing plan the contributions made by an employer to such a plan would be deductible in the year in which such contribution is made; that many self-employed persons have established Keogh or H.R. 10 plans but at present receive no deduction for the contributions made to such plans; and that only by the passage of this Act can these contributions be made deductible. Therefore, an emergency is hereby declared to exist and this Act being necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety shall become effective from and after its passage and approval."

Acts 1975, No. 676, § 4: Mar. 31, 1975. Emergency clause provided: "It is hereby found and determined by the General Assembly that the present corporate income tax law does not permit one domestic corporation which acquires the assets of another domestic corporation to succeed to the net operating loss carryover of the acquired corporation under any circumstances; that the absence of any such authority creates a serious hardship on some acquiring corporators and that provision should be made as soon as possible for permitting such acquiring corporations to succeed to the net operating loss carryover of the acquired corporations under specified conditions, and that this Act is designed to accomplish this purpose. Therefore, an emergency is hereby declared to exist and this Act being necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage and approval."

Acts 1975, No. 683, § 4: Apr. 1, 1975. Emergency clause provided: "It is hereby found and determined by the General Assembly that the present law exempts annuities received by residents of this State from any federal retirement system or any state, county, municipal or school district retirement system in the State of Arkansas to the extent of the first Six Thousand Dollars ($6,000.00) thereof, from the Arkansas Income Tax but does not provide a similar exemption for annuities received by residents of this State from state, county, municipal and school district retirement systems in other states; that there are many citizens in this State who have retired from publicly-supported retirement systems in other states and have moved to the State of Arkansas who are now required to pay Arkansas income tax on the annuity income received by such citizens from the publicly-supported retirement systems in other states, and that this is a serious inequity and creates an undue hardship on our retired citizens who move to Arkansas from other states; that this Act is designed to give equal treatment to annuity income derived from publicly supported retirement systems of other states as is given to annuity income derived from publicly supported retirement systems in the State of Arkansas, and that this Act should be given effect immediately. Therefore, an emergency is hereby declared to exist, and this Act being necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, and safety shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage and approval."

Acts 1979, No. 414, § 5: Mar. 20, 1979. Emergency clause provided: "It is hereby found and determined by the General Assembly that under Act 55 of 1972, unlike under the Federal Internal Revenue Code of 1954, as amended, small business corporations having more than ten (10) but fifteen (15) or fewer shareholders are required to file a corporate income tax return under Arkansas Income Tax Law and pay a corporate income tax on income earned by the corporation during the taxable year; that the shareholders of such corporations also are required to pay a personal income tax on the dividends received by such shareholders from such corporations; that such taxation unduly hampers and discourages the formation of such small business corporations for the purpose of doing business and endangers existing elections of small business corporations whose shareholders may increase to more than ten (10) because of death or other uncontrollable events; and that in order properly to encourage businessmen to incorporate and assure them that they will be fairly and equitably taxed, it is necessary that this Act be enacted immediately. Therefore, an emergency is hereby declared to exist and this Act being necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, and safety shall become effective from and after its passage and approval."

Acts 1979, No. 740, § 4: Apr. 6, 1979. Emergency clause provided: "It is hereby found and determined by the General Assembly that there is an uncertainty as to the tax treatment of contributions made to a self-employed person's retirement plan or annuity and that only by the passage of this Act can this uncertainty be resolved and this Act being necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety shall become effective from and after its passage and approval."

Acts 1979, No. 912, § 4: Apr. 16, 1979. Emergency clause provided: "It is hereby found and determined by the General Assembly that the present corporate income tax law discriminates against foreign corporations and the constitutionality of the law is questionable. Therefore, an emergency is hereby declared to exist and this Act being necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage and approval."

Acts 1981, No. 914, § 9: Dec. 31, 1980. Emergency clause provided: "It is hereby found and determined by the General Assembly that certain provisions of the State's income tax laws that have counterparts in the Federal income tax laws do not coincide with recent amendments to the Federal income tax laws; that clarification needs to be made to provisions of the Arkansas Tax Procedure Act (Act 401 of 1979) with regard to the statute of limitations on assessments, the judicial review of contested assessments and the automatic assertion of the 10% negligence penalty (as apparently approved by the Supreme Court in its decision in Great Lakes Chemical Co. v. Wooten, 266 Ark. 511, 514 (1979) which decision was rendered after the adoption by the General Assembly of Act 401 of 1979, but before the effective date of that Act); and that this Act is immediately necessary to make the Arkansas income tax law conform with the Federal income tax law, to clarify any possible question as to the applicability of the Statute of Limitations on assessment and judicial review of contested assessments, and to stop the automatic assessment of the 10% negligence penalty on any deficiency in tax determined by the Commissioner.

Therefore, an emergency is hereby declared to exist and this Act being immediately necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health and safety shall be in full force and effect for all periods beginning after December 31, 1980."

Acts 1983, No. 51, § 5: Feb. 3, 1983. Emergency clause provided: "It is hereby found and determined by the General Assembly that under Act 414 of 1979, unlike under the Federal Internal Revenue Code of 1954, as amended, small business corporations meeting the requirements of said Code, but having more than fifteen (15) shareholders, are required to file a corporate income tax return under Arkansas Income Tax Law and pay a corporate income tax on income earned by the corporation during the taxable year; that the shareholders of such corporations also are required to pay a personal income tax on the dividends received by such shareholders from such corporations; that such taxation unduly hampers and discourages the formation of such small business corporations for the purpose of doing business and endangers existing elections of small business corporations whose shareholders may increase to more than fifteen (15) because of death or other uncontrollable events; and that in order properly to encourage individuals to incorporate their businesses and assure them that they will be fairly and equitably taxed, it is necessary that this Act be enacted immediately. Therefore, an emergency is hereby declared to exist and this Act being necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, and safety shall become effective from and after its passage and approval.” Acts 1983, No. 379, § 27: Dec. 31, 1982. Emergency clause provided: “It is hereby found and determined by the General Assembly that certain provisions of the State's income and estate tax laws that have counterparts in the Federal tax laws do not coincide with recent amendments and changes to the Federal tax laws; and that this Act is immediately necessary to make the Arkansas tax laws conform with the Federal tax laws to clarify any possible question of confusion caused by such differences. Therefore, an emergency is hereby declared to exist and this Act being immediately necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health and safety shall be in full force and effect for all income years after, or estate tax return filing dates coming after, December 31, 1982.”

Acts 1983, No. 854, § 6: Mar. 28, 1983. Emergency clause provided: “It is found and determined by the General Assembly that certain provisions of the State's income tax laws, regarding depreciation and the recovery of a taxpayer's capital expenditures for an investment in depreciable property, are in conflict with a single simplified method of capital cost recovery for depreciable property, as provided by Federal income tax laws; and such conflict has caused unnecessary conflict between the taxpayers and citizens of this State and the State employees administering the State taxing statutes, therefore, an emergency is hereby declared to exist and this Act being immediately necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health and safety shall be in full force and effect upon its passage and approval.”

Acts 1985 (1st Ex. Sess.), No. 20, § 4: June 26, 1985. Emergency clause provided: “It is hereby found and determined by the General Assembly that Act 848 of 1985 as it was finally enacted phases in over a three year period the federal capital gains treatment for Arkansas income tax purposes beginning in 1987; that it was intended that the federal capital loss provisions likewise not be implemented until 1987 but that intent was not articulated in Act 848; that Act 848 adopts the federal capital loss provisions immediately instead of 1987; that Act 848 becomes effective on June 28, 1985; and therefore this Act should be given immediate effect in order to make the technical correction in a timely manner and thereby avoid unintended consequences. Therefore an emergency is hereby declared to exist and this Act, being necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health and safety, shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage and approval.”

Acts 1985 (1st Ex. Sess.), No. 32, § 4: June 26, 1985. Emergency clause provided: “It is hereby found and determined by the General Assembly that Act 848 of 1985 as it was finally enacted phases in over a three year period the federal capital gains treatment for Arkansas income tax purposes beginning in 1987; that it was intended that the federal capital loss provisions likewise not be implemented until 1987 but that intent was not articulated in Act 848; that Act 848 adopts the federal capital loss provisions immediately instead of 1987; that Act 848 becomes effective on June 28, 1985; and therefore this Act should be given immediate effect in order to make the technical correction in a timely manner and thereby avoid unintended consequences. Therefore an emergency is hereby declared to exist and this Act, being necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health and safety, shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage and approval.”

Acts 1987, No. 382, § 34: Mar. 24, 1987. Emergency clause provided: “It is hereby found and determined by the General Assembly of the State of Arkansas that the federal government has recently made major changes in the federal income tax law; that for simplicity of administration and equity various provisions of the federal law should be adopted for Arkansas Income Tax purposes; and that for the effective administration of this Act, the Act should become effective immediately. Therefore an emergency is hereby declared to exist and this Act being immediately necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health and safety shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage and approval.”

Acts 1987 (1st Ex. Sess.), No. 48, § 4: June 26, 1987. Emergency clause provided: “It is hereby found and determined by the General Assembly of the State of Arkansas that the federal government has recently made major changes in the federal income tax law; that for simplicity of administration and equity various provisions of the federal law should be adopted for the Arkansas Income Tax purposes; and that for the effective administration of this Act, the Act should become effective immediately. Therefore an emergency is hereby declared to exist and this Act being immediately necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health and safety shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage and approval.”

Acts 1989, No. 583, § 8: Mar. 15, 1989. Emergency clause provided: “It is hereby found and determined by the General Assembly that present law has no provisions for registered investment companies; that such laws are needed to properly govern investment companies and to clarify the status of investment companies; and that adoption of Subchapter M of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 is necessary to provide uniform tax laws on both the State and Federal levels for investment companies. Therefore, an emergency is hereby declared to exist and this act being necessary for the preservation of public peace, health, and safety shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage and approval.”

Acts 1989, No. 615, § 4: Mar. 16, 1989. Emergency clause provided: “It is hereby found and determined by the General Assembly that net operating losses which occurred during any income year beginning before January 1, 1987 may be carried forward for only three years; that net operating losses which occur in income years beginning on and after January 1, 1987 may be carried forward for five (5) years; that due to the weather, commodity prices and other circumstances the farm economy in this State has suffered devastating losses since 1980, and the farmers should be allowed to carry over for five (5) years the losses they have incurred since 1980; that this Act is intended to change from three (3) years to five (5) years the period of time in which losses which occurred since December 31, 1980 may be carried forward even to the extend of retroactive application; that this Act will grant some relief to the farm sector of this State and should therefore be given immediate effect. Therefore, an emergency is hereby declared to exist and this Act being immediately necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health and safety shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage and approval.”

Acts 1991, No. 95, § 9: Feb. 11, 1991. Emergency clause provided: “It is hereby found and determined by the General Assembly that certain low income working taxpayers and senior citizens bear a disproportionate share of the state tax burden; that unless this act becomes effective immediately upon passage irreparable harm will occur to low income taxpayers of this state; and that this act should become effective immediately upon passage. Therefore, an emergency is hereby declared to exist and this Act being necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health and safety shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage and approval.”

Acts 1991, No. 685, § 11: Jan. 1, 1991.

Acts 1991, No. 686, § 2: applicable for income years beginning on or after January 1, 1991.

Acts 1991, No. 687, § 2: effective for all income years beginning on and after January 1, 1991.

Acts 1993, No. 453, § 5: Mar. 11, 1993. Emergency clause provided: “It is hereby found and determined by the General Assembly that it is unclear whether Education Service Cooperatives are instrumentalities of this state and therefore whether donations to them are tax deductible; that private donations to these entities should be encouraged; that some donations have been made during the calendar year 1992 on the assumption that the donations are in fact deductible; that this act specifically so provides and should be given immediate effect so that donations made during the 1992 calendar year will be deductible for state income tax purposes. Therefore, an emergency is hereby declared to exist and this act being necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage and approval.”

Acts 1993, No. 785, § 20: amendments to subchapters 1, 4, 5, 9, and 10 effective for taxable years beginning on and after January 1, 1993.

Acts 1993, No. 785, § 24: Mar. 30, 1993. Emergency clause provided: “It is hereby found and determined that certain changes are necessary to the Arkansas income tax laws; that these changes are necessary immediately in order to maintain the efficient administration of the Arkansas income tax laws; and that this act is necessary to effectuate that purpose. Therefore, an emergency is hereby declared to exist and this act being necessary for the preservation of public peace, health and safety shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage and approval.”

Acts 1995, No. 495, § 4: applicable for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1996.

Acts 1995, No. 535, § 4: applicable for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1996.

Acts 1995, No. 560, § 3: effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1995.

Acts 1995, No. 560, § 7: Mar. 8, 1995. Emergency clause provided: “It is hereby found and determined that in order to preserve and protect Arkansas' water and wetland resources, including conserving, enhancing, and restoring the acreage, quality, biological diversity and ecosystem sustainability of the Arkansas Wetlands, certain changes to the Arkansas income tax laws regarding agricultural cost share programs and the method of expensing soil and water conservation practices are necessary; that these changes are necessary immediately in order to protect and preserve Arkansas' water resources and the restoration and creation of wetlands; and that this act is necessary to effectuate that purpose. Therefore, an emergency is hereby declared to exist and this act being necessary for the preservation of public peace, health and safety shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage and approval."

Acts 1995, No. 586, § 8: Mar. 13, 1995. Emergency clause provided: "It is hereby found and determined by the General Assembly that establishment of qualified medical companies in this State will result in numerous benefits including industrial diversification, broadening of the economic base, the creation of jobs and benefits to the residents of this State through new products and processes; that this Act would provide assistance to qualified medical companies and at the same time create benefits to the State and its residents; that this Act would make state law concerning qualified medical companies' net operating loss carry forward provisions compatible with the Internal Revenue Code of the United States; and that the need for the assistance set forth in this Act is necessary in order to provide for assistance to qualified medical companies. Therefore, an emergency is hereby declared to exist and this act being necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage and approval."

Acts 1995, No. 1160, § 42: §§ 1, 2(a), and 3 through 13: applicable for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1995.

Acts 1995, No. 1160, § 46: Apr. 11, 1995. Emergency clause provided: "It is hereby found and determined by the General Assembly that certain changes are necessary to the Arkansas tax laws; that these changes are necessary immediately in order to maintain the efficient administration of the Arkansas income tax laws; and that this act is necessary to effectuate that purpose. Therefore, an emergency is hereby declared to exist and this act being necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage and approval."

Acts 1997, No. 328, § 11: effective on and after November 15, 1998 unless a constitutional amendment or initiated act shall be approved or an act of the General Assembly shall become law before that date which exempts food, either wholly or partially, from the Arkansas gross receipts tax. If a constitutional amendment, initiated act, or act of the General Assembly exempting food is not approved, then the provisions of Section 1, 2, 3, 4, 6, 7, and 8 of this Act shall be effective for tax years beginning on and after January 1, 1998; the provisions of Section 5 of this Act shall be effective as provided in that section; and the provisions of Section 9 of this Act shall be effective as provided in Section 10.

Acts 1997, No. 951, § 34, provided: "Sections 1 through 24, 32 and 33 shall be effective for tax years beginning on and after January 1, 1997. However, it is the intent of this Act that those portions of the Internal Revenue Code adopted by this Act which for federal tax purposes do not become effective until some time after January 1, 1997, shall also not become effective for state tax purposes until the same time."

Acts 1997, No. 951, § 38: March 31, 1997. Emergency clause provided: "It is hereby found and determined by the General Assembly that current state tax laws are unclear or confusing, creating difficulty for taxpayers seeking to comply with these tax laws; that the changes made by Sections 25 through 31 of this bill are necessary to provide adequate direction to those taxpayers and to maintain the efficient administration of the Arkansas tax laws; and that the provisions of Sections 25 through 31 of this Act are necessary to effectuate that purpose. Therefore, an emergency is hereby declared to exist and the provisions of Sections 25 through 31 of this Act being necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health, and safety shall become effective on the date of its approval by the Governor. If the bill is neither approved nor vetoed by the Governor, Sections 25 through 31 shall become effective on the expiration of the period of time during which the Governor may veto the bill. If the bill is vetoed by the Governor and the veto is overridden, Sections 25 through 31 shall become effective on the date the last house overrides the veto."

Acts 1997, No. 1000, § 30: July 2, 1997. Emergency clause provided: "It is hereby found and determined by the General Assembly that the laws of this State concerning the insurance matters covered in this Omnibus Act are inadequate for the protection of the public. Further, the laws of this State as to Small Employer Health Insurance are not consistent with federal laws, particularly the Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act of 1996 of the U.S. Congress; and the immediate passage of this Act is necessary in order to provide for the protection of the public. Therefore, an emergency is hereby declared to exist and this Act being immediately necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health and safety shall be in effect from and after July 2, 1997. If the bill is neither approved nor vetoed by the Governor, it shall become effective on the expiration of the period of time during which the Governor may veto the bill. If the bill is vetoed by the Governor and the veto is overridden, it shall become effective on the date the last house overrides the veto."

Acts 1997, No. 1075, § 2: effective for tax years beginning on or after January 1, 1998.

Acts 1997, No. 1189, § 2: effective for all tax years beginning on or after January 1, 1997.

Acts 1999, No. 1217, § 20: Apr. 7, 1999. Emergency clause provided: "It is hereby found and determined by the Eighty-second General Assembly that the first individuals to be affected by the two (2) year lifetime limit on Transitional Employment Assistance will soon reach that limit. This act will help those individuals to make the transition from welfare to long-term economic self-sufficiency. Therefore, an emergency is declared to exist and this act being immediately necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health and safety shall become effective on the date of its approval by the Governor. If the bill is neither approved nor vetoed by the Governor, it shall become effective on the expiration of the period of time during which the Governor may veto the bill. If the bill is vetoed by the Governor and the veto is overridden, it shall become effective on the date the last house overrides the veto."

Acts 2003, No. 218, § 4: Feb. 26, 2003. Emergency clause provided: "It is found and determined by the General Assembly of the State of Arkansas that recent changes to the federal Internal Revenue Code have resulted in a significant disparity between state and federal retirement plan laws; this disparity has increased the state's administrative burden and has led to confusion and anxiety among Arkansas taxpayers. Therefore, an emergency is declared to exist and this act being immediately necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health, and safety shall become effective on: (1) The date of its approval by the Governor; (2) If the bill is neither approved nor vetoed by the Governor, the expiration of the period of time during which the Governor may veto the bill; or (3) If the bill is vetoed by the Governor and the veto is overridden, the date the last house overrides the veto."

Acts 2003, No. 1286, § 2: effective for tax years beginning on or after January 1, 2004.

Acts 2005, No. 53, § 2: Feb. 1, 2005. Emergency clause provided: "It is found and determined by the General Assembly of the State of Arkansas that the Indian Ocean tsunami of December 26, 2004, has created an urgent need for financial relief efforts; that citizens of the State of Arkansas have made contributions toward the relief efforts in response to this great need; that such contributions made in January 2005 to the relief efforts should be treated for income tax purposes as made on December 31, 2004, if a taxpayer chooses; and that this act is immediately necessary so that taxpayers may claim the deduction on their 2004 income tax returns.

Therefore, an emergency is declared to exist and this act being immediately necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health, and safety shall become effective on: (1) The date of its approval by the Governor; (2) If the bill is neither approved nor vetoed by the Governor, the expiration of the period of time during which the Governor may veto the bill; or (3) If the bill is vetoed by the Governor and the veto is overridden, the date the last house overrides the veto."

Acts 2005, No. 94, § 6: effective for tax years beginning on or after January 1, 2004.

Acts 2005, No. 94, § 7: Feb. 10, 2005. Emergency clause provided: "It is found and determined by the General Assembly of the State of Arkansas that that health savings accounts allow taxpayers to better control their healthcare expenses; that Congress has provided for income tax benefits to taxpayers utilizing health savings accounts; and that Arkansas taxpayers cannot receive similar state income tax benefits until this act becomes effective. Therefore, an emergency is declared to exist and this act being immediately necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health, and safety shall become effective on: (1) The date of its approval by the Governor; (2) If the bill is neither approved nor vetoed by the Governor, the expiration of the period of time during which the Governor may veto the bill; or (3) If the bill is vetoed by the Governor and the veto is overridden, the date the last house overrides the veto.”

Acts 2005, No. 675, § 17: effective for tax years beginning on or after January 1, 2005.

Acts 2007, No. 196, § 2: March 5, 2007. Emergency clause provided: “It is found and determined by the General Assembly of the State of Arkansas that the federal Pension Protection Act of 2006 provides that for taxable years 2006 and 2007, taxpayers seventy and one-half (70 1/2) years of age and older may make a charitable distribution in an amount up to one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000) from an Individual Retirement Account, which charitable distribution shall not be included in the gross income for the taxpayer for the taxable year. The federal Pension Protection Act of 2006, only applicable for taxable years 2006 and 2007, encourages benefactors to increase charitable giving by providing tax-free rollovers. Since the federal Pension Protection Act of 2006 is temporary it is necessary to immediately adopt the language of Internal Revenue Code Section 408(d)(8) to allow for parity in preparing federal and state income tax returns.

Therefore, an emergency is declared to exist and this act being immediately necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health, and safety shall become effective on: (1) The date of its approval by the Governor; (2) If the bill is neither approved nor vetoed by the Governor, the expiration of the period of time during which the Governor may veto the bill; or (3) If the bill is vetoed by the Governor and the veto is overridden, the date the last house overrides the veto.”

Acts 2007, No. 613, § 2, provided: “The provisions of this act shall not be effective until the Chief Fiscal Officer of the State certifies that additional funding has been provided to state general revenues from other funding sources and is available for use during fiscal year 2008 and fiscal year 2009 in an amount sufficient to replace the general revenue reduction for each of the fiscal years 2008 and 2009 that would result from the adoption of the provisions of section 179 of the Internal Revenue Code, as in effect on January 1, 2007, as provided by this act.”

26-51-403. Income generally.

(a) The term “net income” means the adjusted gross income of a taxpayer less the deductions allowed by the Income Tax Act of 1929, § 26-51-101 et seq.

(b) “Adjusted gross income” means, in the case of an individual, gross income minus the following deductions:

(1) Trade and business deductions otherwise allowable as deductions under this chapter that are attributable to a trade or business carried on by the taxpayer if the trade or business does not consist of the performance of services by the taxpayer as an employee;

(2) Trade and business deductions of employees otherwise allowable as deductions under this chapter;

(3) Deductions that consist of expenses paid or incurred by the taxpayer in connection with the performance by him or her of services as an employee under a reimbursement or other expense allowance arrangement with his or her employer;

(4) Losses from the sale or exchange of property;

(5) Deductions attributable to property held for the production of rents and royalties;

(6) (A) Certain deductions of life tenants and income beneficiaries of property.

(B) In the case of a life tenant of property, an income beneficiary of property held in trust, or an heir, legatee, or devisee of an estate, the deduction for depreciation allowed by § 167 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as provided in § 26-51-428, and the deduction allowed by § 611 of the Internal Revenue Code, as provided in § 26-51-429;

(7) Deductions for certain portions of lump-sum distributions from pension plans taxed under § 402(e) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as set forth in § 26-51-414;

(8) Deductions for moving expenses, as set forth in § 26-51-423(a)(4);

(9) Deductions for alimony payments;

(10) Deductions for separate maintenance payments;

(11) Deductions for interest forfeited to a bank, savings association, etc., on premature withdrawals from time savings accounts or deposits;

(12) Deductions allowed for cash payments to individual retirement accounts and deductions allowed for cash payments to retirement savings plans of certain married individuals to cover a nonworking spouse;

(13) Deductions for contributions by self-employed persons to pension, profit-sharing, and annuity plans;

(14) The border city exemption as provided by § 26-52-601 et seq.;

(15) Deductions for the health insurance costs of self-employed persons as computed in accordance with § 26-51-423(c);

(16) Deductions for contributions to a long-term intergenerational trust created pursuant to the Long-Term Intergenerational Security Act of 1995, § 28-72-501 et seq.; and

(17) Deductions for contributions to the Arkansas Tax-Deferred Tuition Savings Program not to exceed five thousand dollars ($5,000) per taxpayer under § 6-84-111(b).

(c) (1) The net income shall be computed upon the basis of the taxpayer's annual accounting period, either fiscal or calendar year, in accordance with the method of accounting regularly employed in keeping the books of the taxpayer.

(2) If no such method of accounting has been employed or if the method employed does not clearly reflect the income, the computation shall be made upon such basis and in such manner as in the opinion of the Director of the Department of Finance and Administration does clearly reflect the income.

(3) If the taxpayer's annual accounting period is other than a fiscal year as defined by this act or he has no annual accounting period, or does not keep books, the net income shall be computed upon the basis of the calendar year.

History. Acts 1929, No. 118, Art. 3, § 7; Pope's Dig., § 14030; Acts 1969, No. 236, § 2; 1973, No. 182, § 4; A.S.A. 1947, § 84-2007; Acts 1987, No. 382, §§ 5, 6; 1989, No. 826, § 17; 1991, No. 685, § 1; 1993, No. 785, § 19; 1995, No. 1160, § 7; 1997, No. 1345, § 1; 2005, No. 1973, § 2.

Publisher's Notes. Acts 1969, No. 236, § 6, provided that the Act applied to the annual corporate income tax liability of domestic life insurance companies for taxable years following December 31, 1968. The act became law without governor's signature on March 12, 1969. Acts 1973, No. 182, § 9 provided that this act shall be in effect on and after January 1, 1973, and shall apply to tax years after said date.

As to title, intent, and applicability of Acts 1987, No. 382, see Publisher's Notes, § 26-51-401.

Acts 1989, No. 826, § 1, provided that this act shall be known and may be cited as the "Arkansas Income Tax Technical Revenue Act of 1989.”

Acts 1989, No. 826, § 36, provided that the provisions of that act shall be in full force and effect for all income years beginning on or after January 1, 1989.

Acts 1991, No. 685, § 11, provided:

“The provisions of this act shall be in full force and effect for all income years beginning on and after January 1, 1991.”

Acts 1993, No. 785, § 20, provides that the 1993 amendment is effective for taxable years beginning on and after January 1, 1993.

Acts 1995, No. 1160, § 42, provided that the 1995 amendments are applicable for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1995.

Acts 1997, No. 1345 became law without the Governor's signature.

The 1997 amendment of this section contains grammatical or stylistic errors. Pursuant to § 1-2-303, the Arkansas Code Revision Commission is unable to correct the language.

The punctuation in the 1997 amendment of this section is incorrect or does not conform to Code style. Pursuant to § 1-2-303, the Arkansas Code Revision Commission is unable to correct the punctuation.

Amendments. The 1993 amendment substituted “§ 26-51-423(c)” for “§ 162(l) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as in effect on January 1, 1991, the same being 26 U.S.C. § 162(l) regarding the deduction of twenty-five percent (25%) of the health insurance costs of self-employed persons” in (b)(7).

The 1995 amendment inserted present (b)(1) through (7) and redesignated the remaining subdivisions accordingly; and inserted “in the case of an individual” in the introductory language of (b).

The 1997 amendment added (b)(15).

The 2005 amendment added (b)(17); and made related changes.

Meaning of “this act”. Acts 1929, No. 118, codified as §§ 26-51-101 — 26-51-107, 26-51-201 — 26-51-204, 26-51-303, 26-51-401 — 26-51-406, 26-51-410 — 26-51-412, 26-51-415 — 26-51-417, 26-51-423 — 26-51-431, 26-51-436, 26-51-501, 26-51-801 — 26-51-804, 26-51-806 — 26-51-809, and 26-51-811 — 26-51-815.

U.S. Code. Sections 167, 611 and 402(e) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, referred to in this section, are codified as 26 U.S.C. §§ 167, 611 and 402(e), respectively.

Received.

Accounting Methods.

Where agreement between state and taxpayer as to formula for determining what portion of gross income should be attributable to sources within the state in the case of income derived partly from sources within and partly from sources outside the state is held unenforceable, and the taxpayer's method of accounting does not clearly reflect the income, the computation may be made upon such basis and in such manner as in the opinion of the state does clearly reflect the income.

General Box Co. v. Scurlock, 224 Ark. 266, 272 S.W.2d 678 (1954).

Received.

For the purpose of computing net income, “received” means either received or accrued, depending on whether the taxpayer is on a cash basis or an accrual basis. F & M Bank v. Skelton, 266 Ark. 680, 587 S.W.2d 561 (1979).

Since in 1973 when Arkansas began to tax the income of banks, bank's books need to show the interest now being taxed as having been “received” in those years. F & M Bank v. Skelton, 266 Ark. 680, 587 S.W.2d 561 (1979).

26-51-404. Gross income generally.

(a) (1) “Gross income” includes:

(A) Gains, profits, and income derived from salaries, wages, or compensation for personal service of whatever kind and in whatever form paid;

(B) Gains, profits, and income derived from professions, vocations, trades, business, commerce, or sales;

(C) Gains, profits, and income derived from dealings in property, whether real or personal, growing out of the ownership of, use of, or interest in the property;

(D) Gains, profits, and income derived from interest, rent, royalties, dividends, annuities, securities, or the transaction of any business carried on for gain or profit;

(E) Gains or profits and income derived from any source whatever; and

(F) Any payments of alimony and separate maintenance received pursuant to a court order.

(2) The amount of all such items shall be included in the gross income of the taxable year in which received by the taxpayer.

(3) Any recovery of an amount which was deducted from gross income in a prior year must be treated as taxable income in the year recovered to the extent that the deduction resulted in a reduction in income tax liability.

(4) Section 117 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as in effect on January 1, 2003, regarding the taxability of scholarships, fellowships, grants, and stipends, is adopted for the purpose of clarifying and calculating Arkansas income tax liability.

(b) “Gross income” does not include the following items, which shall be exempt from taxation under the Income Tax Act of 1929, § 26-51-101 et seq.:

(1) Section 1033 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as in effect on January 1, 2009, relating to the exclusion from gross income of gain resulting from the involuntary conversion of a taxpayer's property, is adopted for the purpose of computing Arkansas income tax liability;

(2) Section 121 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as in effect on January 1, 2009, relating to the exclusion from gross income of gain from the sale or exchange of property owned and used as the taxpayer's principal residence, is adopted for the purpose of computing Arkansas income tax liability;

(3) Section 101 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as in effect on January 1, 2007, relating to the exclusion from gross income of proceeds or benefits paid upon the illness or death of the insured, is hereby adopted for the purpose of computing Arkansas income tax liability;

(4) The value of property acquired by gift, bequest, devise, or descent, but the income from such property shall be included in gross income;

(5) Interest upon obligations of the United States or its possessions or upon obligations of the State of Arkansas or any political subdivision of the State of Arkansas;

(6) Any:

(A) Amounts received through accident or health insurance or under workers' compensation acts as compensation for personal injuries or sickness, plus the amount of any damages received, whether by suit or agreement, on account of such injuries or sickness; or

(B) Social security payments, railroad retirement benefits, unemployment compensation benefits paid from federal unemployment trust funds, unemployment insurance benefits received from the railroad retirement boards, and unemployment compensation paid under Title IV of the Social Security Act;

(7) (A) Income from domestic corporations when earned from sources without the state, and these sources shall be defined to mean places of manufacture or production and places of merchandising.

(B) When books of account do not clearly and accurately reflect the income earned from sources without the state, the Arkansas income shall be determined by processes or formulas of general apportionment prescribed by the Director of the Department of Finance and Administration and approved by the Governor;

(8) Dividends received by a corporation doing business within this state from a subsidiary if at least eighty percent (80%) of the subsidiary's capital stock is owned by a corporation doing business within this state;

(9) In the case of an ordained, commissioned, or licensed minister of a recognized church:

(A) The rental value of a home furnished to him or her; or

(B) The rental allowance paid to him or her, to the extent that the allowance is used by the minister to rent or to provide a home;

(10) Sections 108 and 1017 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as in effect on January 1, 2009, regarding income from the discharge of indebtedness, are adopted for the purpose of computing Arkansas income tax liability;

(11) Section 125 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, in effect on January 1, 2009, is adopted in computing amounts excludible from gross income under the Income Tax Act of 1929, § 26-51-101 et seq., for payments received under a cafeteria plan;

(12) (A) Section 129 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as in effect on January 1, 2005, regarding the exclusion from income for dependent care assistance, is adopted for the purpose of computing Arkansas income tax liability.

(B) However, no amounts excluded from gross income pursuant to subdivision (b)(12)(A) of this section shall be taken into account in computing the dependent care credit contained in § 26-51-502;

(13) Section 79 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as in effect on January 1, 1989, regarding the exclusion from income for group term life insurance is hereby adopted for the purpose of computing Arkansas income tax liability;

(14) Sections 104-106 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as in effect on January 1, 1999, regarding the exclusion from income of disability and health plan payments, are adopted for the purpose of computing Arkansas income tax liability;

(15) Section 82 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as in effect on January 1, 1995, regarding the inclusion in gross income of moving expense reimbursements, is adopted for the purpose of computing Arkansas income tax liability;

(16) Section 119 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as in effect on January 1, 1999, regarding the exclusion from gross income of meals or lodging furnished for the convenience of the employer, is adopted for the purpose of computing Arkansas income tax liability;

(17) Section 126 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as in effect on January 1, 1995, regarding the exclusion from gross income of certain cost-sharing payments, is adopted for the purpose of computing Arkansas income tax liability;

(18) Section 131 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as in effect on January 1, 2003, regarding the exclusion from gross income of amounts received by a foster care provider as qualified foster care payments, is adopted for the purpose of computing Arkansas income tax liability;

(19) Section 132 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as in effect on January 1, 2009, regarding the exclusion from income of certain fringe benefits, is adopted for the purpose of computing Arkansas income tax liability;

(20) Section 127 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as in effect on January 1, 2003, regarding the exclusion from gross income for employees whose education expenses were paid by an employer, is adopted for the purpose of computing Arkansas income tax liability;

(21) Interest or dividends earned or capital gains recognized on a long-term intergenerational security trust created pursuant to this subchapter, except as provided in this subchapter;

(22) Interest or dividends earned on an individual development account and matching funds deposited in an individual development account pursuant to the Family Savings Initiative Act, § 20-86-101 et seq.;

(23) Section 138 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as in effect on January 1, 1999, regarding a pilot program permitting eligible senior citizens to establish Medicare Plus Choice medical savings accounts, is adopted for the purpose of computing Arkansas income tax liability;

(24) (A) Section 72 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as in effect on January 1, 2007, relating to the exclusion from gross income of certain proceeds received under life insurance, endowment, and annuity contracts, is adopted for the purpose of computing Arkansas income tax liability.

(B) (i) Annuity income received through an employment-related retirement plan shall not be subject to the provisions of this subsection.

(ii) The income shall instead be subject to the retirement income provisions of § 26-51-307;

(25) Section 137 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as in effect on January 1, 2003, regarding the exclusion from gross income of benefits received under an employer's adoption assistance program, is adopted for the purpose of computing Arkansas income tax liability;

(26) Contributions by an employer to an employee's health savings account within the limitations established in § 26-51-453 shall not be included in the employee's gross income;

(27) Section 134 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as in effect on January 1, 2009, regarding the exclusion from income of qualified military benefits provided to members of the United States military, is adopted for the purpose of computing Arkansas income tax liability; and

(28) Section 408(d)(8) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as in effect on January 1, 2007, relating to tax-free distributions from individual retirement plans for charitable purposes for taxable years 2006 and 2007, is adopted for the purpose of computing Arkansas income tax liability.

A.C.R.C. Notes. Acts 1981, No. 914, § 2, provided:

"The purpose of this act is to make technical amendments to the Arkansas Tax Procedure Act, Acts 1979, No. 401, and to certain Arkansas income tax statutes to eliminate the procedural problems that have arisen since the enactment of Acts 1979, No. 401, and to make the Arkansas income tax statutes conform to several recent amendments to their counterparts in the federal income tax statutes." The act became effective for all periods after December 31, 1980.

Acts 1983, No. 379, § 2, provided:

"The purpose of this act is to make technical amendments to the Income Tax Act of 1929, Acts 1929, No. 118, as amended, to the Estate Tax Law of Arkansas, Acts 1941, No. 136, as amended, and to the Arkansas Tax Procedure Act, Acts 1979, No. 401, as amended, to eliminate the procedural problems that have arisen since the enactment of these acts and to make the Arkansas income and estate tax statutes conform to several recent amendments to their counterparts in the federal income and estate tax statutes, and for other purposes." The act was effective for all income years after, or estate tax return filing dates coming after, December 31, 1982.

As amended by Acts 1995, No. 560, § 1, subdivision (b)(21) began:

"Effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1995."

As amended by Acts 1995, No. 1303, § 4, subdivision (b)(22) began:

"'Gross income,' as defined in § 26-51-401, shall not include."

Acts 1997, No. 1189, § 2, provided:

"The provisions of this act shall be effective for all tax years beginning on or after January 1, 1997.

Acts 1997, No. 1189, § 3, provided:

"It is determined by the General Assembly that Arkansas income tax laws concerning the taxability of dividends received from a subsidiary are at variance with corresponding federal income tax laws, although the existence or non-existence of any such variance with respect to corporations filing an Arkansas consolidated tax return is subject to existing disputes. It is further determined that state income tax laws should have been the same as federal income tax laws and this Act is adopted to clarify that these dividends are to be treated for state income tax purposes in the same manner they would be treated for federal income tax purposes for all corporations to which the Act is applicable. It is further found that there are pending cases and controversies involving the taxability of dividends from subsidiaries for state income tax purposes and that this Act is not intended to affect any existing cases or controversies this issue or to have any effect upon the interpretation of prior law."

Acts 1997, No. 328, § 11, provided:

"This Act shall be effective on and after November 15, 1998 unless a constitutional amendment or initiated act shall be approved or an act of the General Assembly shall become law before that date which exempts food, either wholly or partially, from the Arkansas gross receipts tax. If a constitutional amendment, initiated act, or act of the General Assembly exempting food is not approved, then the provisions of Section 1, 2, 3, 4, 6, 7, and 8 of this Act shall be effective for tax years beginning on and after January 1, 1998; the provisions of Section 5 of this Act shall be effective as provided in that section; and the provisions of Section 9 of this Act shall be effective as provided in Section 10."

Acts 1997, No. 328, § 12, provided:

"The withholding tables prescribed by the Director of the Department of Finance and Administration pursuant to Ark. Code Ann. § 26-51-907 shall not be amended for tax year 1998 to reflect the changes adopted by this Act. If this Act becomes effective on November 15, 1998, the effect of the various provisions of this Act for tax year 1998 shall be reflected on the income tax return filed for that year. For all subsequent years, the Director shall adjust the withholding tables as otherwise required by law."

Acts 2005, No. 189, § 1, provided:

"The purpose of this act is to clarify current law regarding cost recovery for annuitants under the Income Tax Act of 1929, Arkansas Code § 26-51-101 et seq."

Pursuant to its own terms, subdivision (b)(28) of this section is only effective for tax years 2006 and 2007.

Publisher's Notes. Acts 1953, No. 230, § 2, provided that the provisions of the act shall be applicable to tax years on and after January 1, 1953, as the term "tax year" is defined in § 26-51-102.

Acts 1957, No. 144, § 4, provided that the provisions of this act shall be applicable to tax years on and after January 1, 1957, as the term "tax year" is defined in § 26-51-102.

Acts 1975, No. 683, § 2, provided that the amendment therein to subdivision (b)(6) of this section shall be applicable with respect to income received during the income year beginning January 1, 1975, and each income year thereafter.

As to title, intent, and applicability of Acts 1987, No. 382, see Publisher's Notes, § 26-51-401.

As to the short title of Acts 1989, No. 826, see Publisher's Notes, § 26-51-403.

As to the effective date of Acts 1989, No. 826, see Publisher's Notes, § 26-51-403.

Acts 1995, No. 560, § 3 provided that the amendments by Acts 1995, No. 560, are effective for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1995.

Acts 1995, No. 1160, § 42 provided that the amendments by Acts 1995, No. 1160, are applicable for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1995.

Acts 1997, No. 951, § 34, provided: Sections 1 through 24, 32 and 33 shall be effective for tax years beginning on and after January 1, 1997. However, it is the intent of this Act that those portions of the Internal Revenue Code adopted by this Act which for federal tax purposes do not become effective until some time after January 1, 1997, shall also not become effective for state tax purposes until the same time.

Amendments. The 2003 amendment inserted (a)(4); substituted "2003" for "1995" in (b)(18); substituted "2003" for "1999" in (b)(19) and (b)(20); and added (b)(25).

The 2005 amendment by No. 94 substituted "January 1, 2005" for "January 1, 1997" in (b)(12)(A); and added (b)(26).

The 2005 amendment by No. 189, in (b)(24)(A), substituted "Section 72" for "Sections 72(a), (b), and (c)" and "2005" for "2001," and deleted "nonemployment-related" preceding "life insurance."

The 2005 amendment by No. 675 substituted "2005" for "1999" in (b)(1) and (b)(2); substituted "2005" for "1997" in (b)(12); added (b)(27); and made related changes.

The 2007 amendment by No. 196 added (b)(28).

The 2007 amendment by No. 218 substituted "January 1, 2007" for "January 1, 2005" in (b)(1), (b)(2), (b)(3), and (b)(24)(A).

The 2009 amendment, in (b), substituted "2009" for "2007" in (b)(1) and (b)(2), for "1999" in (b)(10), for "1997" in (b)(11), for "2003" in (b)(19), and for "2005" in (b)(27), and substituted "qualified military benefits" for "child care benefits" in (b)(27).

Meaning of "this act". See note to § 26-51-403.

U.S. Code. Title IV of the Social Security Act referred to in this section is codified as 42 U.S.C. § 601 et seq. Sections 72, 79, 82, 104-106, 108, 119, 125, 126, 129, 131, 132, and 1017 of the Internal Revenue Code referred to in this section are codified as 26 U.S.C. §§ 72, 79, 82, 104-106, 108, 119, 125, 126, 129, 131, 132, and 1017 respectively.

Acts 1931, No. 220, relieving domestic corporations doing business entirely outside the state of Arkansas from the payment of any income tax to the state, when read in connection with the General Income Tax Act of 1929, which imposes an income tax upon a domestic corporation doing business both within and without the state on income derived from sources outside Arkansas, denied to such domestic corporation the equal protection of the laws and amounted to the taking of its property without due process. Cheney v. Stephens, Inc., 231 Ark. 541, 330 S.W.2d 949 (1960).

Since court could reasonably conceive of lawful purposes for state's classification scheme in providing tax exemptions for retirement income of government employees, such scheme could not be held to have been arbitrarily enacted; therefore, since state's classification confers a benefit upon public employees that is available to all workers of this calling and class throughout Arkansas, Ark. Const., Art. 2, § 18, and U.S. Const. Amend. 14 are not violated. Streight v. Ragland, 280 Ark. 206, 655 S.W.2d 459 (1983).

Tax legislation exempting retirement income of government employees is not special legislation, for it is not arbitrary; tax exemption acts are not special acts as that term has been defined, since it is not enough that the state has separated some class from the operation of a law, rather, the separation must be arbitrary. Streight v. Ragland, 280 Ark. 206, 655 S.W.2d 459 (1983).

Emergency Income Tax Rule, which was enacted by the Arkansas Department of Finance and Administration in response to the declaration that § 26-51-307(c) was unconstitutional, was also unconstitutional because it was clear that the General Assembly never intended I.R.C. § 72 be applied to recover of after-tax contribution in employment-related retirement plans. Weiss v. Maples, 369 Ark. 282, 253 S.W.3d 907 (2007).

Construction.

Section § 26-51-307(c) clearly provides that cost of contributions to a retirement plan may not be deducted in computing income for State tax purposes, and subdivision (b)(24)(B) of this section provides that annuity income from retirement plans is subject to § 26-51-307 rather than subsection (b) of this section; a retirement plan could contain pre-tax contributions upon which no income tax has ever been paid, employer contributions upon which no income tax has ever been paid, after-tax contributions upon which income tax has been paid, and the gain from pre-tax contributions and after-tax contributions upon which no income tax has ever been paid, and the above quoted statutes speak to income. Weiss v. McFadden, 353 Ark. 868, 120 S.W.3d 545 (2003).

Dividends.

Stock dividends received by domestic corporation from foreign corporation not doing business in state held properly charged in the domestic corporation's income tax. Temple v. Gates, 186 Ark. 820, 56 S.W.2d 417 (1933).

Parent company was required to add back to its gross income nontaxable dividend income from its subsidiary for the restricted purpose of computing the net operating loss to be carried forward. Kansas City S. Ry. v. Pledger, 301 Ark. 564, 785 S.W.2d 462 (1990).

Gifts.

Where husband sold land and wife relinquished her dower, with the wife receiving one-third the purchase price, the one-third amount was taxable income on the part of the husband, since the wife's interest in the land was inchoate and not one that she could convey, and the payment to the wife amounted to no more than a gift of part of the purchase price by the husband. Le Croy v. Cook, 211 Ark. 966, 204 S.W.2d 173, 1 A.L.R.2d 1032 (1947).

26-51-405. Partnership income.

(a) An individual carrying on business as a partner in a partnership shall be liable for income tax only in his individual capacity and shall include in his gross income the distributive share of the net income or net loss of the partnership received by him or distributable to him during the income year.

(b) The partner shall report all deductions or credits distributable to him personally as a partner in the partnership.

(c) A partner's distributive share of partnership loss shall be allowed only to the extent of the adjusted basis of the partner's interest in the partnership at the end of the partnership year in which the loss occurred.

(d) Any excess of the loss over the basis shall be allowed as a deduction at the end of the partnership year in which the excess is repaid to the partnership.

26-51-406. Income to beneficiaries of trusts and estates.

(a) Every individual, taxable under this act, who is a beneficiary of an estate or trust shall include in his gross income the distributive share of the income or loss of the estate or trust received by him or distributable to him during the income year.

(b) Unless otherwise provided in the law or the will, the deed, or other instrument creating the estate, trust, or fiduciary relationship, the net income shall be deemed to be distributed or distributable to the beneficiaries, including the fiduciary as a beneficiary, in the case of income accumulated for future distribution, ratably in proportion to their respective interests.

(c) Any excess losses accumulated by the estate or trust at the time of the termination of the estate or trust shall be distributable to the beneficiaries ratably and claimed by the beneficiaries on the individual Arkansas income tax returns as otherwise provided by this act.

26-51-407. Financial institutions.

(a) A financial institution having its principal office in this state shall be taxed as a business corporation organized and existing under the laws of this state.

(b) (1) A financial institution having its principal office outside this state but doing business in this state shall be taxed as a foreign business corporation doing business in this state.

(2) However, this subsection is not intended to recognize the right of a foreign financial institution to conduct any business activities in this state except to the extent and under the conditions permitted by Acts 1959, No. 559, §§ 1-8 [unconstitutional] and any other applicable laws of this state.

26-51-409. Federal Subchapter S adopted.

(a) Subchapter S of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as in effect on January 1, 2009, regarding small business corporations, is adopted for the purpose of computing Arkansas income tax liability.

(b) (1) The corporate election and shareholder consents required to be filed under Subchapter S of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 for Arkansas income tax purposes shall be filed with the Director of the Department of Finance and Administration in the same manner and at the same time as required under Subchapter S of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, on forms to be prescribed by the director.

(2) A corporation may elect Subchapter S treatment for Arkansas income tax purposes only if it has elected Subchapter S treatment for federal income tax purposes for the same tax year.

(3) When filing an Arkansas Subchapter S income tax return, a corporation shall attach to its Arkansas Subchapter S income tax return a complete copy of the corporation's federal Subchapter S income tax return filed with the federal Internal Revenue Service for that taxable year.

(c) (1) However, all nonresident shareholders of S corporations receiving a prorated share of income, loss, deduction, or credit pursuant to the provisions of this section must file a properly executed state income tax return with the director and remit the applicable state income tax due.

(2) Failure to so report and remit on the part of any nonresident shareholder shall be grounds upon which the director may revoke the corporation's Subchapter S election and collect the tax from the corporation by any manner authorized by the Income Tax Act of 1929, § 26-51-101 et seq.

26-51-411. Gain or loss — Sales of property.

(a) For the purpose of ascertaining the gain or loss from the sale or other disposition of real, personal, or mixed property, the basis shall be, in the case of property acquired before January 1, 1928, the assessed valuation of such property on the county tax books as of that date if such assessed valuation exceeds the original cost and, in all other cases, the cost of such property, except that:

(1) In the case of such property which should be included in the inventory, the basis shall be the last inventory value;

(2) (A) In the case of property acquired by gift after March 9, 1929, the basis shall be the same as that which it would have been in the hands of the donor or the last preceding owner by whom it was not acquired by gift.

(B) If the facts necessary to determine such basis are unknown to the donee, the Director of the Department of Finance and Administration shall use the assessed valuation of the property;

(3) In the case of such property acquired by gift on or before March 9, 1929, the basis for ascertaining gain or loss from sale or other disposition of such property shall be the assessed valuation; and

(4) In the case of such property acquired by bequest, devise, or inheritance, the basis shall be the appraised value of such property upon which state inheritance tax or estate tax was paid.

(b) The basis for ascertaining the gain derived or loss sustained from the sale or other disposition of real, personal, or mixed property acquired before January 1, 1928, shall be the assessed value of such property including improvements as of January 1, 1928, or the actual cost of such property, but:

(1) If its assessed valuation as of January 1, 1928, is in excess of its sale price at the time of disposition, then the deductible loss shall be the difference between the assessed valuation on January 1, 1928, and the amount realized from the sale less depreciation or depletion subsequently sustained;

(2) If the assessed valuation as of January 1, 1928, is less than the sale price, then the taxable gain shall be the excess realized over the assessed valuation plus depreciation or depletion subsequently sustained; and

(3) If the amount realized is more than the cost price but not more than its assessed valuation as of January 1, 1928, or less than the cost but not less than its assessed valuation on January 1, 1928, then no gain shall be included in and no loss deducted from the gross income.

(c) For the purpose of this act, on any exchange of real, personal, or mixed property for any other like property of similar value no gain or loss shall be recognized.

(d) (1) In computing gain or loss from the sale of property, the difference between the amount realized and the adjusted basis is the amount of the gain or loss.

(2) The adjusted basis of the property is its cost, increased for capital charges and decreased for depreciation and for depletion.

(3) The amount realized from a sale or other disposition of property is the sum of any money received plus the fair market value of property or services received, less expenses.

(e) Sections 453, 453A, and 453B of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as in effect on January 1, 2005, are adopted concerning the installment method of accounting.

(f) Section 1045 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as in effect on January 1, 1999, regarding gain on the sale or exchange of qualified small business stock, is adopted for the purpose of computing Arkansas income tax liability.

(g) Sections 1258 and 1259 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as in effect on January 1, 1999, regarding appreciated financial positions, are adopted for the purpose of computing Arkansas income tax liability.

(h) Section 267 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as in effect on January 1, 2001, regarding losses, expenses, and interest arising from transactions between related taxpayers, is adopted for the purpose of computing Arkansas income tax liability.

26-51-412. Gain or loss — Exchange of property.

(a) (1) For the purpose of determining gain or loss, when property is exchanged for other property the property received in exchange shall be treated as the equivalent of cash to the amount of its fair market value if a market exists in which all the property so received can be disposed of at the time of exchange for a reasonable, certain, and definite price in cash.

(2) Otherwise, such exchange shall be considered as a conversion of assets from one (1) form to another, from which no gain or loss shall be deemed to arise.

(b) In the case of the organization of a corporation, the stock received shall be considered to take the place of property transferred for the stock, and no gain or loss shall be deemed to arise from the stock received.

(c) When, in connection with the reorganization, merger, or consolidation of a corporation, a taxpayer receives, in place of stock or securities owned by him or her, new stock or securities, then the basis of computing the gain or loss, if there is any, in a case where the stock or securities owned were acquired before January 1, 1928, shall be the fair market price or value thereof as of that date if such price or value exceeds the original cost, and in all other cases the cost thereof, under regulations to be promulgated by the Director of the Department of Finance and Administration.

(d) Sections 351, 354 — 358, 361, 362, 367, and 368 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as in effect on January 1, 2009, regarding corporate organization, reorganization, and recognition of gain, are adopted for the purpose of computing Arkansas income tax liability.

26-51-414. Deferred compensation plans.

(a) (1) Sections 72, 219, 401-404, 406-416, and 457 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as in effect on January 1, 2009, relating to annuities, retirement savings, and employee benefit plans, respectively, are adopted for the purpose of computing Arkansas income tax liability, except Arkansas capital gains treatment and the Arkansas tax rates shall apply.

(2) The requirements for filing a joint return under § 219(c)(1)(A) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 shall not apply.

(b) Section 408A of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as in effect on January 1, 1999, relating to Roth individual retirement accounts, is adopted for the purpose of computing Arkansas income tax liability with the following exceptions:

(1) (A) Sections 408A(d)(3)(A)(iii) and 408A(d)(3)(E) are not adopted.

(B) All income from and tax attributable to distributions from a non-Roth individual retirement account to a Roth individual retirement account prior to January 1, 1999, shall be reported for tax year 1998, and the tax may be paid over a four-year period as permitted by the Director of the Department of Finance and Administration; and

(2) Adjusted gross income under § 408A(c)(3) shall be determined in the same manner as under § 26-51-403(b).

(c) Any additional tax or penalty imposed by this section shall be ten percent (10%) of the amount of any additional tax or penalty provided in the federal income tax law adopted by this section.

(d) Section 1042 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as in effect on January 1, 2003, regarding the deferral of gain realized on the sale of a corporation's shares of stock to the corporation's employee stock ownership plan (ESOP), is adopted for the purpose of computing Arkansas income tax liability.

26-51-416. Deductions — Taxes.

In computing net income, there shall be allowed as deductions taxes paid or accrued within the income year, imposed by the authority of the United States or any of its possessions or of any state, territory, or any political subdivision of any state or territory, or the District of Columbia, or of any foreign country, except estate, succession, or inheritance taxes or except income taxes imposed by this act, and taxes assessed for local benefits of a kind tending to increase the value of the property assessed for those benefits.

However, the deductions allowed in this section for taxes shall not include any allowances or deductions for federal income taxes paid or accrued by the taxpayer within the income year which are imposed by the authority of the United States or any of its possessions; nor shall individuals be allowed an itemized deduction for general sales or use taxes imposed by the authority of any state or subdivision thereof, or for the cost of license plates or drivers' licenses, or for motor fuel or special motor fuel taxes.

Case Notes

Constitutionality.

In General.

Applicability.

Federal Taxes.

Constitutionality.

Amendment of 1949 providing for elimination of amount paid in federal taxes as a deduction under state gross income tax was not a violation of constitutional amendment prohibiting increase of tax rate, as elimination of deduction did not increase the rate, though amount of tax was increased for those paying federal income taxes. Morley v. Rimmel, 215 Ark. 434, 221 S.W.2d 51 (1949).

In General.

Provision limiting deduction for federal taxes to 50% was not invalid, since the class of deductions are a matter for legislative determination. Cook v. Walters Dry Goods Co., 212 Ark. 485, 206 S.W.2d 742 (1947) (decision prior to 1949 amendment).

Applicability.

The 1947 amendment to this section did not apply to a fiscal year ending June 30, 1946. Cook v. Arkansas State Rice Milling Co., 213 Ark. 396, 210 S.W.2d 511 (1948).

Federal Taxes.

Post-war refund paid by taxpayer to federal government under § 780 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1939 (repealed) was not allowable as a deductible item of taxes in computing gross income for state income tax purposes. Henry H. Cross Co. v. Cook, 208 Ark. 958, 188 S.W.2d 497 (1945).

Cited: Wiseman v. Interstate Pub. Serv. Co., 191 Ark. 255, 85 S.W.2d 700 (1935).

26-51-417. Deductions — Alimony or separate maintenance.

(a) Section 71 of the federal Internal Revenue Code of 1986, in effect on January 1, 1987, is adopted for purposes of determining the amount of alimony or separate maintenance to include in the gross income of the recipient.

(b) Section 215 of the federal Internal Revenue Code of 1986, in effect on January 1, 1987, is adopted for purposes of determining the amount of alimony or separate maintenance that can be deducted from a taxpayer's income for any income year.

History. Acts 1929, No. 118, Art. 3, § 13; Pope's Dig., § 14036; Acts 1957, No. 147, § 1; 1983, No. 379, § 4; A.S.A. 1947, § 84-2016; Acts 1987, No. 382, § 20.

Publisher's Notes. The 1983 amendment to this section took effect for all income years after, or estate tax return filing dates coming after, December 31, 1982.

26-51-418. Deductions — Disabled children.

(a) In addition to any other state income tax deduction permitted by law, a taxpayer in this state who is maintaining, supporting, and caring for a totally and permanently disabled child in his or her home shall be permitted a deduction on his or her Arkansas income taxes of five hundred dollars ($500) for each income year that the taxpayer maintains, supports, and cares for such totally and permanently disabled child.

(b) As used in this section:

(1) “Child” means a natural or adopted child of the taxpayer; and

(2) (A) “Totally and permanently disabled” means any child who is unable to engage in any substantial gainful activity by reason of any medically determinable physical or mental impairment which can be expected to result in death or which has lasted or can be expected to last for a continuous period of not less than twelve (12) months.

(B) A physical or mental impairment is an impairment that results from anatomical, physiological, or psychological abnormalities which are demonstrable by medically acceptable clinical or laboratory diagnostic techniques.

(c) The Director of the Department of Finance and Administration may adopt appropriate rules and regulations to carry out the purpose and intent of this section and to prevent abuse of the deduction provided for in this section.

History. Acts 1991, No. 708, §§ 1, 2, 4; 1999, No. 417, § 2.

Publisher's Notes. Former § 26-51-418, concerning deductions for political contributions, was repealed by Acts 1987, No. 382, § 32. The former section was derived from Acts 1967, No. 62, § 1; A.S.A. 1947, § 84-2016.5.

26-51-419. Deductions — Charitable contributions.

(a) (1) (A) Section 170 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as in effect on January 1, 2009, regarding deductions for charitable contributions, is adopted for the purpose of computing Arkansas income tax liability.

(B) This adoption is for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2009, and will have no effect on years before its adoption.

(2) However, with respect to contributions of qualified appreciated stock within the meaning of Internal Revenue Code § 170(e)(5) made after May 31, 1997, the provisions of this section shall apply after taking into account the extension of the provisions of Internal Revenue Code § 170(e)(5) by § 602 of the Taxpayer Relief Act of 1997, Pub. L. No. 105-34, and § 1004(a) of the Tax and Trade Relief Extension Act of 1998, Pub. L. No. 105-277.

(b) The provisions of subsection (a) of this section shall apply to a corporation that files an Arkansas consolidated corporation income tax return pursuant to § 26-51-805, provided that each member of the affiliated group shall follow the provisions of § 26-51-805(f) and calculate its contribution limits separately.

(c) For purposes of subsection (a) of this section, a cash contribution made in January 2005 for the relief of victims in areas affected by the December 26, 2004, Indian Ocean tsunami, for which a charitable contribution deduction is allowed under § 170 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, may be treated as if the contribution were made on December 31, 2004, and not in January 2005.

History. Acts 1967, No. 25, § 2; 1983, No. 379, § 12; A.S.A. 1947, § 84-2016.3; Acts 1987, No. 382, § 22; 1989, No. 826, § 3; 1995, No. 1160, § 5; 1997, No. 951, § 13; 1999, No. 1126, § 29; 2001, No. 773, § 6; 2001, No. 1227, § 1; 2005, No. 53, § 1; 2005, No. 675, § 8; 2007, No. 218, § 23; 2009, No. 372, § 14.

A.C.R.C. Notes. Acts 2001, No. 1227, § 2, provides:

“This act is intended to reverse the Supreme Court of Arkansas decision in Central & Southern Companies v. Weiss, 339 Ark. 76 (1999), which provided that the excess charitable contributions of one member of a consolidated group could be used to offset the taxable income of other members of the consolidated group.”

Publisher's Notes. The 1983 amendment to this section took effect for all income years after, or estate tax return filing dates coming after, December 31, 1982.

Acts 1995, No. 1160, § 42, provided that the 1995 amendments are applicable for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1995.

Acts 1997, No. 951, § 34, provided that Sections 1 through 24, 32 and 33 shall be effective for tax years beginning on and after January 1, 1997. However, it is the intent of this Act that those portions of the Internal Revenue Code adopted by this Act which for federal tax purposes do not become effective until some time after January 1, 1997, shall also not become effective for state tax purposes until the same time.

Amendments. The 2005 amendment by No. 53 amendment added (c).

The 2005 amendment by No. 675 substituted “January 1, 2005” for “January 1, 2001” twice in (a).

The 2007 amendment substituted “January 1, 2007” for “January 1, 2005” in two places in (a)(1).

The 2009 amendment substituted “2009” for “2007” in (a)(1)(A) and (a)(1)(B), and made a minor stylistic change.

26-51-423. Deductions — Expenses.

(a) In computing net income, there shall be allowed as deductions the following expenses:

(1) Business expenses. All of § 162, except subsection (n), of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as in effect on January 1, 2009, regarding trade or business expenses, is adopted for the purpose of computing Arkansas income tax liability;

(2) Medical and dental expenses. Section 213 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as in effect on January 1, 1997, is adopted in computing the medical and dental expense deduction under the state income tax law;

(3) Travel expenses. In determining travel expenses deductible as a business expense in computing net income as provided under subdivision (a)(1) of this section, the deduction for vehicle miles shall be determined by the Director of the Department of Finance and Administration under his or her regulatory authority in § 26-18-301; and

(4) Moving expenses. Section 217 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as in effect on January 1, 1995, regarding the deduction of moving expenses, is adopted for the purpose of computing Arkansas income tax liability.

(b) Section 274 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as in effect on January 1, 2007, regarding the deductions of expenses for entertainment, amusement, recreation, business meals, travel, et cetera, is adopted for the purpose of computing Arkansas income tax liability.

(c) (1) An individual who is self-employed shall be allowed a deduction equal to the applicable percentage as set forth in § 162(l)(1)(B) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as in effect on January 1, 1999, of the amount paid during the taxable year for insurance which constitutes medical care for the taxpayer, his or her spouse, and his or her dependents.

(2) (A) No deduction shall be allowed under this subsection to the extent that the amount of the deduction exceeds the taxpayer's earned income derived by the taxpayer from the trade or business with respect to which the plan providing the medical care coverage is established.

(B) This subsection shall not apply to any taxpayer who is eligible to participate in any subsidized health plan maintained by any employer of the taxpayer or the spouse of the taxpayer.

(3) Any amount paid by the taxpayer for insurance to which this subsection applies shall not be taken into account in computing the amount allowable to the taxpayer as a deduction under subdivision (a)(2) of this section.

(d) Section 221 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as in effect on January 1, 2003, regarding the deduction of interest paid on qualified education loans, is adopted for the purpose of computing Arkansas income tax liability.

(e) Section 198 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as in effect on January 1, 2009, regarding the deduction of costs paid or incurred for the cleanup of certain hazardous substances, is adopted for the purpose of computing Arkansas income tax liability.

(f) Section 190 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as in effect on January 1, 2001, regarding the deduction of costs paid or incurred to improve access to vehicles and facilities for handicapped and elderly persons, is adopted for the purpose of computing Arkansas income tax liability.

(g) (1) A deduction pursuant to subdivision (a)(1) of this section for interest or intangible-related expenses paid by the taxpayer to a related party shall be allowed only if:

(A) The interest or intangible-related income received by the related party is subject to income tax imposed by the State of Arkansas, another state, or a foreign government that has entered into a comprehensive income tax treaty with the United States;

(B) The interest or intangible-related income received by the related party was received pursuant to:

(i) An “arm's length” contract or at an “arm's length” rate of interest; and

(ii) A transaction not intended to avoid the payment of Arkansas income tax otherwise due;

(C) The taxpayer and the director enter into a written agreement prior to the due date of the taxpayer's Arkansas income tax return:

(i) Authorizing the taxpayer to take the deduction for the tax year at issue; or

(ii) Requiring the use of an alternative method of income apportionment by the taxpayer for the tax year at issue; or

(D) During the taxable year, the related party recipient of interest or intangible related income, in a location not described in subdivision (g)(1)(A) of this section, a “non-tax location”:

(i) Operates an active trade or business in the non-tax location;

(ii) Has a minimum of fifty (50) full-time-equivalent employees in the non-tax location;

(iii) Owns real or tangible personal property with a fair market value in excess of one million dollars ($1,000,000) located in the non-tax location; and

(iv) Has revenues generated from sources within the non-tax location in excess of one million dollars ($1,000,000).

(2) “Related party” means a related party as defined by § 267 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as in effect on January 1, 2003.

(h) Section 194 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as in effect on January 1, 2007, regarding the amortization of qualified reforestation expenses, is adopted for the purpose of computing Arkansas income tax liability.

26-51-427. Deductions — Net operating loss carryover.

In addition to other deductions allowed by this chapter, there shall be allowed as a deduction from gross income a net operating loss carryover under the following rules:

(1) (A) The net operating loss as hereinbelow defined for any year ending on or after the passage of this act and for any succeeding taxable year may be carried over to the next-succeeding taxable year and annually thereafter for a total period of three (3) years next succeeding the year of the net operating loss or until the net operating loss has been exhausted or absorbed by the taxable income of any succeeding year, whichever is earlier, if the loss occurred in an income year beginning before January 1, 1987. The net operating loss deduction must be carried forward in the order named above;

(B) The net operating loss as hereinbelow defined for any year ending on or after the passage of this act and for any succeeding taxable year may be carried over to the next-succeeding taxable year and annually thereafter for a total period of five (5) years next succeeding the year of the net operating loss or until the net operating loss has been exhausted or absorbed by the taxable income of any succeeding year, whichever is earlier, if the loss occurred in an income year beginning on or after January 1, 1987. The net operating loss deduction must be carried forward in the order named above;

(C) The net operating loss as hereinbelow defined which resulted from farming operations, for income years beginning on or after January 1, 1981, and expired in accordance with subdivision (1)(A) before being fully used, may be carried forward for an additional two (2) years and any unused portions can be combined and either applied to tax years 1987 and 1988, respectively, or to tax years 1989 and 1990. In order to claim the additional two-year carry forward, taxpayers must attach copies of both their federal tax returns and their state tax returns, showing the net operating losses for income years beginning on or after January 1, 1981, to their state tax returns. As used in this subdivision, "farming operations" means that at least sixty-six and two-thirds percent (66 $\frac{2}{3}$ %) of the total gross income, from all sources for the taxable year, must come from farming as defined by Internal Revenue Code Section 464(e)(1) in effect on January 1, 1989;

(D) As used in this section, the term "taxable income or net income" shall be deemed to be the net income computed without benefit of the deduction for income taxes, personal exemptions, and credit for dependents. The net income of the taxable period to which the net operating loss deduction, as adjusted, is carried, shall be the net income before the deduction of federal income taxes, personal exemption, and credit for dependents. Such income taxes, exemptions, and credits shall not be used to increase the net operating loss which may be carried to any other taxable period;

(E) (i) As used in this section, the term “qualified medical company” means a corporation engaged in:

(a) Research and development in the medical field; and

(b) Manufacture and distribution of medical products, including therapeutic and diagnostic products.

(ii) In the case of qualified medical companies, as defined herein, a net operating loss for any taxable year shall be a net operating loss carryover to each of the fifteen (15) taxable years following the taxable year of the loss.

(iii) If the qualified medical company is an “S” corporation, the pass-through provisions of § 26-51-409, as in effect for the taxable year of the loss, shall be applicable.

(iv) The net operating loss provisions set forth above, which resulted from the operation of a qualified medical company, shall be effective for taxable years beginning on and after January 1, 1987.

(2) As used in this section, the term “net operating loss” is defined as the excess of allowable deductions over gross income for the taxable year, subject to the following adjustments:

(A) There shall be added to gross income all nontaxable income, not required to be reported as gross income, as provided by law, less any expenses properly and reasonably incurred in earning nontaxable income, which expenses would otherwise be nondeductible;

(B) In the case of a taxpayer other than a corporation, deductions, not including federal income taxes, not attributable to the operation of the trade or business shall be eliminated from the deductions otherwise allowable for the taxable year to the extent that they exceed gross income not derived from trade or business. Personal exemptions and credit for dependents shall not be a deduction for the purpose of computing a net operating loss;

(C) No net operating loss deduction shall be allowed;

(D) In the case of a taxpayer other than a “C corporation,” as defined in 26 U.S.C. § 1361, as in effect on January 1, 1985:

(i) For income years beginning after December 31, 1986, the amount deductible on account of losses from sales or exchanges of capital assets shall not exceed the amount includable on account of gains from sales or exchanges of capital assets; and

(ii) For income years beginning after December 31, 1986, the deduction for long-term capital gains provided by 26 U.S.C. § 1202 [repealed], as in effect on January 1, 1985, shall not be allowed;

(3) In the case of the acquisition of assets of one (1) corporation by another corporation, the acquiring corporation shall succeed to and take into account any net operating loss carryover apportionable to Arkansas, under subchapter 7 of this chapter, that the acquired corporation could have claimed had it not been acquired, subject to the following conditions:

(A) The net operating loss may not be carried forward to a taxable year which ends more than three (3) years after the taxable year in which the loss occurred if the loss occurred in an income year beginning before January 1, 1987;

(B) The net operating loss may not be carried forward to a taxable year which ends more than five (5) years after the taxable year in which the loss occurred if the loss occurred in an income year beginning on or after January 1, 1987;

(C) The net operating loss may be claimed only when the ownership of both the acquired and acquiring corporations is substantially the same, that is, where not less than eighty percent (80%) of the voting stock of each corporation is owned by the same person or where prior to the acquisition the acquiring corporation owned at least eighty percent (80%) of the voting stock of the acquired corporation. The carryover losses will be allowed only in those cases where the assets of the corporation going out of existence earn sufficient profits apportionable to Arkansas under § 26-51-701 et seq. in the post-merger period to absorb the carryover losses claimed by the surviving corporation.

Publisher's Notes. In reference to the term "passage of this act," in (1)(A), Acts 1929, No. 118, § 44, contained an emergency clause which provided that the act would take effect and be in force from and after its passage. The act was approved and signed by the Governor on March 9, 1929. Acts 1975, No. 676, § 2, provided that the provisions of this act shall apply to all corporate income returns for income years beginning on and after January 1, 1975, and to all corporate income tax returns filed for years prior to January 1, 1975, that are pending on the effective date of this act and on which taxes have not been paid.

Acts 1979, No. 740, § 2, provided that the provisions of this act shall apply to all corporate income tax returns for income years beginning on or after January 1, 1979, and to all corporate income tax returns filed for years prior to January 1, 1979, that are pending on the effective date of this act and on which the taxes have been paid, under protest, or on which the taxes have not been paid.

In reference to the term "passage of this act", in (1)(B), Acts 1987, No. 382 was signed by the Governor on March 24, 1987, and became effective on March 24, 1987.

As to title, intent, and applicability of Acts 1987, No. 382, see Publisher's Notes, § 26-51-401.

Amendments. The 1995 amendment added (1)(E).

Meaning of "this act". See note to § 26-51-403.

U.S. Code. Section 464 of the Internal Revenue Code, referred to in this section, is codified as 26 U.S.C. § 464. 26 U.S.C. § 1202, as in effect on January 1, 1985, referred to in this section was repealed by P.L. 99-514. A new 26 U.S.C. § 1202 was enacted by P.L. 103-66.

Nonbusiness Income.

Corporate Acquisitions.

Following a statutory merger of two corporations that had common stock ownership, where the business of the surviving corporation was not altered, enlarged, or materially affected by the merger, but constituted a continuation of the business enterprise on a sounder financial basis, a net operating loss carryover of the merged corporation was available to the surviving corporation as a deduction for state income tax purposes. Bracy Dev. Co. v. Milam, 252 Ark. 268, 478 S.W.2d 765 (1972).

Where a certificate of indebtedness had been filed and an execution issued upon acquiring corporation's income tax return, the return was pending on the effective date of Acts 1975, No. 676, which provided that an acquiring corporation would succeed to any net operating loss carryover that the acquired corporation could have claimed, and therefore the certificate of indebtedness was void. Skelton v. B.C. Land Co., 260 Ark. 122, 539 S.W.2d 411 (1976). Evidence was sufficient to support the chancellor's decision that the surviving corporation had presented a prima facie case to prove that the equipment acquired by the surviving corporation in the merger had generated income in an amount sufficient to absorb the carryover net operating loss claimed by the surviving corporation. Jones v. Carter Constr. Co., 266 Ark. 358, 583 S.W.2d 63 (1979).

Dividends.

For the restricted purpose of computing the net operating loss to be carried forward, parent company was required to add back to its gross income nontaxable dividend income from its subsidiary. Kansas City S. Ry. v. Pledger, 301 Ark. 564, 785 S.W.2d 462 (1990).

Nonbusiness Income.

Nonbusiness income items such as rents, interest, and dividends (which although clearly defined as "gross income" under statute, were not required to be "reported as gross income" for purposes of taxation by state, but merely for purposes of allocation under the Uniform Division of Income for Tax Purposes Act, 26-51-701 et seq.) were properly added to gross income in calculating net operating loss under this section. *St. Louis S.W. 26-51-428. Depreciation — Deductions — Expensing of property. [Effective until contingency in Acts 2007, No. 613, § 2 is met.]

(a) Sections 167, 168 (a)–(j), and 179A of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as in effect on January 1, 2009, and section 179 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as in effect on January 1, 2009, regarding depreciation and expensing of property, are adopted for the purpose of computing Arkansas income tax liability for property purchased in tax years beginning on or after January 1, 2009.

(b) The basis on which exhaustion, wear and tear, and obsolescence are to be allowed in respect to any property shall be the adjusted basis provided in § 26-51-411 for the purpose of determining the gain on the sale or other disposition of the property.

(c) Section 197 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as in effect on January 1, 2007, regarding the amortization of goodwill and certain other intangibles, is adopted for the purpose of computing Arkansas income tax liability.

History. Acts 1929, No. 118, Art. 3, § 13; Pope's Dig., § 14036; Acts 1957, No. 147, § 1; 1957, No. 156, § 1; 1983, No. 379, §§ 8-11; 1983, No. 854; §§ 1, 5; A.S.A. 1947, §§ 84-2016, 84-2016.16; Acts 1987, No. 382, §§ 17, 32; 1989, No. 826, §§ 29, 30; 1991, No. 685, § 7; 1995, No. 1160, § 4; 1997, No. 951, § 12; 1999, No. 1126, § 33; 2007, No. 218, § 26; 2009, No. 372, § 18.

A.C.R.C. Notes. Acts 2007, No. 613, § 2, provided:

"The provisions of this act shall not be effective until the Chief Fiscal Officer of the State certifies that additional funding has been provided to state general revenues from other funding sources and is available for use during fiscal year 2008 and fiscal year 2009 in an amount sufficient to replace the general revenue reduction for each of the fiscal years 2008 and 2009 that would result from the adoption of the provisions of section 179 of the Internal Revenue Code, as in effect on January 1, 2007, as provided by this act."

Publisher's Notes. Acts 1983, No. 854, § 3, read:

"The provisions of Section 1 [§ 84-2016.16] of this Act shall be effective as follows: (1) for all property qualifying as '3-year property' and '5-year property,' as defined in Title 26 USC Subsection 168(c)(2)(A) and (B), respectively, for all income years ending after December 31, 1982; (2) for all property qualifying as '10-year property,' as defined in Title 26 USC Subsection 168(c)(2)(C) for all income years ending after December 31, 1984; and (3) for all property qualifying as '15-year real property' and '15-year public utility property,' as defined in Title 26 USC Subsection 168(c)(2)(D) and (E) respectively, for all income years ending after December 31, 1986. However, subsections (2) and (3) of this Section shall expire and be abolished as of March 31, 1985, unless they are reenacted by the 1985 Regular Session of the General Assembly. It is the intent of the General Assembly that the three classes of property comprising '10-year property', '15-year real property' and '15-year public utility property' shall not be eligible for the benefits of the Accelerated Cost Recovery System after March 31, 1985, unless they are specifically reenacted or extended during the 1985 Regular Session of the General Assembly."

The 1983 amendment to this section (No. 379) took effect for all income years after, or estate tax return filing dates coming after, December 31, 1982.

Acts 1991, No. 685, § 11, provided:

"The provisions of this act shall be in full force and effect for all income years beginning on and after January 1, 1991."

Acts 1995, No. 1160, § 42, provided that the 1995 amendments are applicable for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1995.

Acts 1997, No. 951, § 34, provided that: Sections 1 through 24, 32 and 33 shall be effective for tax years beginning on and after January 1, 1997. However, it is the intent of this Act that those portions of the Internal Revenue Code adopted by this Act which for federal tax purposes do not become effective until some time after January 1, 1997, shall also not become effective for state tax purposes until the same time.

For text effective if contingency in Acts 2007, No. 613, § 2 is met, see the following version.

Amendments. The 2007 amendment substituted "January 1, 2007" for "January 1, 1995" in (c). The 2009 amendment, in (a), substituted the first instance of "January 1, 2009" for "January 1, 1999" and the second instance for "January 1, 2007," and inserted "for property purchased in tax years beginning on or after January 1, 2009."

Effective Dates. Acts 1999, No. 1126, § 43: effective for tax years beginning on or after January 1, 1999.

Acts 2009, No. 372, § 25, provided: "This act is effective for tax years beginning on and after January 1, 2009."

U.S. Code. Sections 167, 168, 179, and 197 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 referred to in this section are codified as 26 U.S.C. §§ 167, 168, 179, and 197, respectively.

26-51-430. Deductions — Standard deduction.

(a) (1) In lieu of itemizing deductions, each taxpayer may elect to use the standard deduction.

(2) In the case of a married couple, both spouses must elect to use the standard deduction or both spouses must claim itemized deductions, without regard to whether the spouses file separate returns or file separately on the same return.

(b) (1) The standard deduction shall be two thousand dollars ($2,000) per taxpayer.

(2) In the case of a married couple, each spouse shall be entitled to claim a standard deduction of two thousand dollars ($2,000).

A.C.R.C. Notes. Acts 1997, No. 328, § 11, provided:

“This Act shall be effective on and after November 15, 1998 unless a constitutional amendment or initiated act shall be approved or an act of the General Assembly shall become law before that date which exempts food, either wholly or partially, from the Arkansas gross receipts tax. If a constitutional amendment, initiated act, or act of the General Assembly exempting food is not approved, then the provisions of Section 1, 2, 3, 4, 6, 7, and 8 of this Act shall be effective for tax years beginning on and after January 1, 1998; the provisions of Section 5 of this Act shall be effective as provided in that section; and the provisions of Section 9 of this Act shall be effective as provided in Section 10.”

Acts 1997, No. 328, § 12, provided:

“The withholding tables prescribed by the Director of the Department of Finance and Administration pursuant to Ark. Code Ann. § 26-51-907 shall not be amended for tax year 1998 to reflect the changes adopted by this Act. If this Act becomes effective on November 15, 1998, the effect of the various provisions of this Act for tax year 1998 shall be reflected on the income tax return filed for that year. For all subsequent years, the Director shall adjust the withholding tables as otherwise required by law.”

Publisher's Notes. Acts 1951, No. 124, § 2, provided that the provisions of this act shall be applicable to tax years on and after January 1, 1951, as the term “tax year” is defined in § 26-51-102.

Amendments. The 1997 amendment substituted “each taxpayer” for “the taxpayer” in (a); and rewrote (b).

The 2003 amendment redesignated former (a) as present (a)(1); and inserted (a)(2).

26-51-431. Items not deductible in net income computation.

(a) In computing net income, no deduction shall in any case be allowed in respect of:

- (1) Personal, living, or family expenses, except that any payments of alimony made by an individual pursuant to a court order shall be deductible;
- (2) Any amount paid for new buildings or for permanent improvements or betterments made to increase the value of any property or estate;
- (3) Any amount expended in restoring property for which an allowance is to be made;
- (4) Premiums paid on life insurance policies;
- (5) Shrinkage in value of property.

(b) Section 265(a) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as in effect on January 1, 1993, regarding expenses and interest relating to tax-exempt income, is hereby adopted for the purpose of computing Arkansas individual income tax liability.

(c) For the purpose of computing Arkansas corporation income tax liability, no deduction shall be allowed for:

- (1) Expenses otherwise allowable as deductions which are allocable to income other than interest (whether or not any amount of income is received or accrued) wholly exempt from the taxes authorized by Arkansas law;
- (2) Interest on indebtedness incurred or continued to purchase or carry obligations the interest on which is wholly exempt from the taxes imposed by Arkansas law;
- (3) Expenses otherwise allowable as deductions which are allocable to nonbusiness income.

26-51-435. Nonresidents or part-year residents.

(a) Nonresidents or part-year residents of Arkansas shall compute their taxable income as if all income were earned in Arkansas.

(b) Using Arkansas income tax rates, nonresident or part-year residents of Arkansas shall compute their tax liability on the amount computed in subsection (a) of this section.

(c) From the tax liability computed in subsection (b) of this section there shall be deducted all allowable credits to determine the amount of tax due.

(d) (1) Nonresidents shall divide adjusted gross income from Arkansas sources by the adjusted gross income from all sources to arrive at the applicable percentage that Arkansas adjusted gross income represents of all adjusted gross income received by the taxpayer in the income year.

(2) Part-year residents shall divide adjusted gross income received while an Arkansas resident by the adjusted gross income from all sources to arrive at the applicable percentage that the adjusted gross income received while an Arkansas resident represents of all adjusted gross income received by the taxpayer in the income year.

(e) Nonresidents and part-year residents shall multiply the amount computed in subsection (c) of this section by the applicable percentage from subsection (d) of this section in order to determine the amount of income tax which must be paid to the State of Arkansas.

(f) For the purpose of ascertaining the income tax due by a nonresident or part-year resident of Arkansas with income derived from two (2) or more states, the credit available under § 26-51-504 for income tax paid to other states shall be calculated in the following manner:

(1) The credit shall not exceed what the tax would be on the outside income, if added to the Arkansas income, and calculated at Arkansas income tax rates; and

(2) The credit is limited to the total income tax owed to other states on income that has been:

- (A) Reported as taxable income to both Arkansas and the other states;
- (B) Reported as income from all sources; and
- (C) Included as Arkansas income.

26-51-440. Federal Subchapter M adopted.

(a) (1) Subchapter M of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as in effect on January 1, 2009, relating to regulated investment companies, real estate investment trusts, and financial asset securitization investment trusts, is adopted for the purpose of computing Arkansas income tax liability and shall govern all corporations that are registered as investment companies under the Investment Company Act of 1940, 15 U.S.C. § 80a-1 et seq., as in effect on January 1, 2009.

(2) (A) However, those provisions of Subchapter M addressing the tax rates applied to financial asset securitization investment trust income are not adopted.

(B) Any financial asset securitization investment trust income subject to Arkansas income tax shall be taxed at the rates set forth in § 26-51-205.

(b) As used in this section:

(1) (A) “Captive real estate investment trust” means a real estate investment trust the shares or beneficial interests of which are not regularly traded on an established securities market and more than fifty percent (50%) of the voting power or value of the beneficial interests or shares of which are owned or controlled, directly, indirectly, or constructively by a single entity that is:

(i) Treated as an association taxable as a corporation under the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as in effect on January 1, 2009; and

(ii) Not exempt from federal income tax under 26 U.S.C. § 501(a), as in effect on January 1, 2009.

(B) “Captive real estate investment trust” does not include a real estate investment trust that is intended to be regularly traded on an established securities market and that satisfies the requirements of 26 U.S.C. § 856(a)(5) and (6), as in effect on January 1, 2009, by reason of 26 U.S.C. § 856(h)(2), as in effect on January 1, 2009; and

(2) “Real estate investment trust” means the same as defined in 26 U.S.C. § 856, as in effect on January 1, 2009.

(c) For purposes of applying subdivision (b)(1)(A)(i) of this section, the following entities are not considered an association taxable as a corporation under the Internal Revenue Code of 1986:

(1) A real estate investment trust other than a captive real estate investment trust;

(2) A qualified real estate investment trust subsidiary under 26 U.S.C. § 856(i), as in effect on January 1, 2009, other than a qualified real estate investment trust subsidiary of a captive real estate investment trust;

(3) A listed Australian Property Trust, meaning an Australian unit trust registered as a Managed Investment Scheme under the Australian Corporations Act in which the principal class of units is listed on a recognized stock exchange in Australia and is regularly traded on an established securities market, or an entity organized as a trust, provided that a Listed Australian Property Trust owns or controls, directly or indirectly, seventy-five percent (75%) or more of the voting power or value of the beneficial interests or shares of such trust; or

(4) A qualified Foreign Entity, meaning a corporation, trust, association, or partnership organized outside the laws of the United States and which satisfies the following criteria:

(A) At least seventy-five percent (75%) of the entity's total asset value at the close of its taxable year is represented by real estate assets, as defined in 26 U.S.C. § 856(c)(5)(B), as in effect on January 1, 2009, including shares or certificates of beneficial interest in any real estate investment trust, cash and cash equivalents, and United States Government securities;

(B) The entity is not subject to tax on amounts distributed to its beneficial owners or is exempt from entity-level taxation;

(C) The entity distributes at least eighty-five percent (85%) of its taxable income, as computed in the jurisdiction in which it is organized, to the holders of its shares or certificates of beneficial interest on an annual basis;

(D) More than ten percent (10%) of the voting power or value in the entity is not held directly, indirectly, or constructively by a single entity or individual, or the shares or beneficial interests of the entity are regularly traded on an established securities market; and

(E) The entity is organized in a country that has a tax treaty with the United States.

(d) The dividends-paid deduction otherwise allowed by federal law in computing net income of a real estate investment trust that is subject to federal income tax shall be added back in computing the tax imposed by the Income Tax Act of 1929, § 26-51-101 et seq., if the real estate investment trust is a captive real estate investment trust.

(e) (1) A real estate investment trust that does not become regularly traded on an established securities market within one (1) year of the date on which it first became a real estate investment trust shall not be considered to have been regularly traded on an established securities market, retroactive to the date it first became a real estate investment trust, and the owner of the real estate investment trust shall file an amended return reflecting the retroactive designation for any tax year or part year occurring during its initial year of status as a real estate investment trust.

(2) Under this section, a real estate investment trust becomes a real estate investment trust on the first day that it has:

(A) Met the requirements of 26 U.S.C § 856 as in effect on January 1, 2009; and

(B) Elected to be treated as a real estate investment trust under 26 U.S.C. § 856(c)(1), as in effect on January 1, 2009, by the owner of the real estate investment trust.

(f) Under this section, the constructive ownership rules of 26 U.S.C. § 318(a), as in effect on January 1, 2009, as modified by 26 U.S.C. § 856(d)(5), as in effect on January 1, 2009, shall apply in determining the ownership of stock, assets, or net profits of a person.

(g) An election made for federal income tax purposes under Subchapter M of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as in effect on January 1, 2009, shall be deemed made for state income tax purposes.

(h) This section shall take effect and be enforced for tax years beginning on or after January 1, 2009.

History. Acts 1989, No. 583, § 5; 1995, No. 1160, § 13; 1997, No. 951, § 24; 1999, No.

A.C.R.C. Notes. A comma following the word “trusts” in subsection (a) could not be inserted pursuant to § 1-2-303.

This section was amended by Acts 2007, No. 827, § 217. However, pursuant to Acts 2007, No. 827, § 240, this section is set out as amended by Acts 2007, No. 218, § 31.

Publisher's Notes. Acts 1995, No. 1160, § 42, provided that the 1995 amendments are applicable for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1995.

Acts 1997, No. 951, § 34, provided that: Sections 1 through 24, 32 and 33 shall be effective for tax years beginning on and after January 1, 1997. However, it is the intent of this Act that those portions of the Internal Revenue Code adopted by this Act which for federal tax purposes do not become effective until some time after January 1, 1997, shall also not become effective for state tax purposes until the same time.

Amendments. The 2007 amendment by No. 218 substituted “January 1, 2007” for “January 1, 2001” throughout the section; and substituted “is adopted” for “is adopted as state income tax law” in (a)(1).

The 2007 amendment by No. 827 deleted (c).

The 2009 amendment substituted “2009” for “2007” twice in (a)(1) and in (g) and (h); inserted (b) through (f) and redesignated the remaining subsections accordingly; and made a minor stylistic change.

Effective Dates. Acts 1999, No. 1126, § 43: effective for tax years beginning on or after January 1, 1999.

26-51-441. Contribution to Olympic Committee Program.

(a) (1) The Revenue Division of the Department of Finance and Administration shall include on the Arkansas individual income tax forms, including those forms on which a husband and wife file separately on the same form, and on all corporate income tax forms, a designation as follows:

(A) If you are entitled to a refund, check if you wish to designate $1, $5, $10, $ (write in amount), or all refund due, of your tax refund for the United States Olympic Committee Program. Your refund will be reduced by this amount.

(B) If you owe an additional amount, check if you wish to contribute an additional $1, $5, $10, $ (write in amount) for the United States Olympic Committee Program. If you wish to make a contribution to the program, you must enclose a separate check for the amount of your contribution, payable to the United States Olympic Committee Program.

(2) The United States Olympic Committee checkoff program on state income tax returns shall be effective beginning with the returns for the 1993 income year and each income year thereafter.

(3) The Director of the Department of Finance and Administration shall have the authority to promulgate all rules and regulations and all income tax forms, returns, and schedules necessary to carry out this program.

(b) The Department of Finance and Administration shall quarterly certify to the Treasurer of State the amount contributed to the program through this state income tax checkoff during the quarter as authorized by this section, and the Treasurer of State shall deduct from the Individual Income Tax Withholding Fund the amount so certified.

(c) (1) There is hereby created on the books of the Treasurer of State, the Auditor of State, and the Chief Fiscal Officer of the State a United States Olympic Committee Program Trust Fund. The Treasurer of State shall credit to the fund the amount certified each quarter in accordance with subsection (b) of this section.

(2) The moneys credited to this fund shall be held as trust funds in interest-bearing accounts only. All interest earned shall be credited to the program fund and shall be used only for the purposes of that fund. At the end of each fiscal year, the Treasurer of State shall transfer all designated moneys in the fund to the United States Olympic Committee.

(3) All funds deposited into the fund and all interest earned on deposits and fund balances in the fund may be disbursed as appropriated in each fiscal year of the biennium for the program created by this section.

(d) (1) The Director of the Department of Finance and Administration is authorized to accept any gifts, grants, bequests, devises, and donations made to the State of Arkansas for the purpose of funding the United States Olympic Committee Program.

(2) The director shall deposit any of these gifts, grants, bequests, devises, and donations so received into the United States Olympic Committee Program Trust Fund. These gifts, grants, bequests, devises, and donations shall be used together with any other funds appropriated for funding the program provided for in this section.

(3) All gifts, grants, bequests, devises, and donations shall be deposited, disbursed, budgeted, and regulated under the procedures prescribed by the Chief Fiscal Officer of the State under § 19-4-806.

(4) (A) The provisions of this section allowing the Director of the Department of Finance and Administration to accept gifts, grants, bequests, devises, and donations shall be effective on August 13, 1993.

(B) The director is authorized to promulgate rules and regulations to carry out those provisions of this section.

(e) The Revenue Division of the Department of Finance and Administration shall be authorized to establish any regulation to effectively carry out the revenue-producing provisions of this section.

“(B) A person or entity that invests a minimum of one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000) in any county for the purpose of constructing, expanding, or remodeling a geotourism-supporting business, a tourism attraction, or tourism-supporting business project within the state.

“(2) A holder is not required to have any ownership or other interest in the investment for which a geotourism tax credit is claimed.

“(c) (1) If there is no executed agreement for an alternative distribution of a geotourism tax credit, a geotourism tax credit granted to a partnership, a limited liability company taxed as a partnership, an S-corporation, or multiple owners of property is passed through to the partners, members, or owners on a pro rata basis.

“(d) A holder that transfers, sells, or assigns all or part of a geotourism tax credit shall perfect the transfer, sale, or assignment by notifying the Department of Finance and Administration in writing within thirty (30) calendar days following the effective date of the transfer, sale, or assignment.

“(e) (1) Any consideration received for the transfer, sale, or assignment of the geotourism tax credit shall not be included as income taxable by the State of Arkansas.

“(2) Any consideration paid for the transfer, sale, or assignment of the geotourism tax credit shall not be deducted from income taxable by the State of Arkansas.”

Acts 2007, No. 518, § 7, as amended by Acts 2009, No. 349, § 1, provided:

“Expiration and effective date.

“(a) This act expires at the end of the 2016 tax year and is effective for income tax years beginning January 1, 2009.”

Acts 2009, No. 349, § 1, omitted the phrase “under this act” from the introductory language of Acts 2007, No. 518, § 3(a). The Section 3 that the phrase was omitted from is now Section 4.

Publisher's Notes. Acts 1997, No. 951, § 34: Sections 1 through 24, 32 and 33 shall be effective for tax years beginning on and after January 1, 1997. However, it is the intent of this Act that those portions of the Internal Revenue Code adopted by this Act which for federal tax purposes do not become effective until some time after January 1, 1997, shall also not become effective for state tax purposes until the same time.

Preambles. Acts 1929, No. 118, contained a preamble which read:

"Whereas, this State has been neglectful of its Wards in the Charitable Institutions, which is a disgrace to the people of a Great Commonwealth, and it is imperative that additional Revenue should be provided to correct the fearful conditions which now exist; and

"Whereas, an equalization Fund should be provided to give equal Educational opportunities to the Boys and Girls of our Rural Communities; and

"Whereas, Agricultural and Industrial development is now being retarded because of a policy to secure practically all of the Revenue from an Ad Valorem Tax, thus penalizing and discouraging ownership of property, while many who enjoy the benefits of Government and have large incomes, pay almost nothing to support the Government; Therefore...."

Acts 1961, No. 411 contained a preamble which read:

"Whereas, corporations organized and existing under the laws of the State of Arkansas are required to pay income taxes to other states because of activities or presence of property therein; and

"Whereas, Arkansas corporations which have qualified to transact business in other states are, under present law, relieved from paying Arkansas income tax on income attributable to such other states, but corporations which have not qualified to transact business in other states, although subject to tax by such other states as to income attributable thereto, are required to pay Arkansas income tax on all their income, including income on which income tax is paid to such other states; and

"Whereas, it is the intention of the General Assembly to allow a credit to all persons, whether individuals, fiduciaries, partnerships or corporations, as to income derived from property located outside the State of Arkansas or from business transacted outside the State of Arkansas, where such person incurs liability for income tax to another state or territory...."

Acts 1967, No. 495, contained a preamble, which read:

"Whereas, there are some mentally retarded children in this State who are cared for by a state institution without cost to such child's parents, and

"Whereas, some parents of mentally retarded children care for such children at home, thus relieving the State of the financial burden of caring for such children, and

"Whereas, the care of such mentally retarded children by the parents is costly and represents a substantial saving to the State of Arkansas in tax dollars...."

Effective Dates. Acts 1929, No. 118, § 44: approved Mar. 9, 1929. Emergency clause provided:

"It is hereby ascertained and declared that the Hospital for Nervous Diseases is inadequate to properly care for all who should be confined therein, to the end there are many persons of unsound mind at large, who are a menace to the public safety, and that said Hospital as now equipped is inadequate to restrain those insane persons who are confined therein, so that there is danger of their escaping at any time and imperil the safety of the public; that there are hundreds and hundreds of persons desiring to enter the Tuberculosis Sanitarium who cannot now be accommodated there, because that institution has neither room, beds nor facilities for additional people, as a result said consumptives at large are spreading the disease amongst their families and friends; that the funds to be raised by this Act will be used for the better care of the charitable wards of this State and to provide better for the rural schools of this State; and it is therefore ascertained and declared that it is necessary for the public peace, health and safety that this Act go into immediate operation, and accordingly it is provided that this act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage."

Acts 1941, No. 129, § 8: approved Mar. 11, 1941. Emergency clause provided: "Because of the various social problems caused by the failure of the State to provide adequate relief for its aged citizens, and it appearing that there is a dire need for additional funds to meet the requirements of the Social Security Act and give additional revenue to this State and because the old folks in this State are suffering by reason of the failure of the State to secure funds with which to pay Old Age Pensions, and [an] emergency is hereby found to exist and is so declared by the Legislature of Arkansas; that this Act being necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety, shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage.”

Acts 1943, No. 162, § 3: approved Mar. 4, 1943. Emergency clause provided: “It is ascertained and hereby declared that Arkansas residents are being prevented from engaging in business and owning property in other states because of double income taxation on the same income, and that for the same reason persons now residents of other states are prevented from becoming citizens and residents of Arkansas, and that constitutes an emergency, and this Act, being necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety, an emergency is declared, and this Act shall take effect and be in full force from and after its passage.”

Acts 1947, No. 135, § 9: approved Mar. 3, 1947. Emergency clause provided: “It has been found and is hereby declared by the General Assembly of the State of Arkansas that existing laws providing for the distribution of state revenues are such that a moderate diminution of certain of the revenues would have the effect of curtailing the activities of certain necessary agencies of the State Government, and that only the provisions of this Act will correct a situation which otherwise may deprive the citizens of this State from receiving the benefits which the operation of the State Government contemplates. Therefore, an emergency is hereby declared to exist, and this act being necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health and safety shall take effect and be in full force from after its passage.”

Acts 1953, No. 320, § 4: approved Mar. 26, 1953. Emergency clause provided: “It is found by the General Assembly of this State that under the existing income tax law that persons owning and operating real estate located outside the State of Arkansas are not required to account for the income on said real estate in their Arkansas Income Tax Returns, but that they are permitted under the present law to take deductions by reason of expenditures and losses on said real estate and that by such method the State of Arkansas is being defeated of its just portion of taxes due this State. Therefore, an emergency is hereby declared to exist, and this Act being necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health and safety, shall take effect and be in full force from and after its passage.”

Acts 1961, No. 411, § 2: effective for all taxable years ending Sept. 30, 1961 and thereafter.

Acts 1968 (2nd Ex. Sess.), No. 7, § 4: Jan. 1, 1968. Emergency clause provided: “It is hereby found and determined by the General Assembly that the present definition in the Arkansas Income Tax Law as to what constitutes a “dependent” for the purposes of allowing a tax credit is unclear and unduly hampers the efficient administration of the Income Tax Laws of this State; that by such ambiguity creates an inequity in the administration of such laws; and that in order to clarify the definition of who constitutes a “dependent” for income tax credit purposes and to remedy this situation, it is necessary that this Act become effective immediately. Therefore, an emergency is hereby declared to exist and this Act being necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety shall become effective and be in full force and effect from and after January 1, 1968.”

Acts 1969, No. 75, § 3: Feb. 20, 1969. Emergency clause provided: “It is hereby found and determined by the General Assembly that Act 413 of 1961, as amended, The Uniform Division of Income for Tax Purposes Act, provides for the apportionment of net income of multi-state transactions for income tax purposes; that in order to more efficiently administer the income tax laws of this State and to insure that Arkansas receives its fair share of income taxes from such transactions, it is necessary that this Act become effective immediately. Therefore, an emergency is hereby declared to exist and this Act being necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety shall be in effect from and after its passage and approval.”

Acts 1969, No. 219, § 4: provisions of act applicable to 1969 income upon which the tax is paid in 1970.

Acts 1977, No. 629, § 3: Dec. 31, 1976.

Acts 1977, No. 734, § 4: Mar. 24, 1977. Emergency clause provided: “It is hereby found and determined by the General Assembly that many taxpayers are unable to take a legitimate dependent care deduction if they file separately, and that this is an arbitrary and unreasonable distinction which will be repealed by this Act. Therefore, an emergency is hereby declared to exist, and this Act being immediately necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health and safety shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage and approval.”

Acts 1979, No. 420, § 3: Mar. 20, 1979. Emergency clause provided: “It is hereby found and determined by the General Assembly that the present definition of deaf persons is erroneous and this Act is immediately necessary to correct such error. Therefore, an emergency is hereby declared to exist and this Act being immediately necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health and safety, shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage and approval.” Acts 1983, No. 379, § 27: Dec. 31, 1982. Emergency clause provided: “It is hereby found and determined by the General Assembly that certain provisions of the State's income and estate tax laws that have counterparts in the Federal tax laws do not coincide with recent amendments and changes to the Federal tax laws; and that this Act is immediately necessary to make the Arkansas tax laws conform with the Federal tax laws to clarify any possible question of confusion caused by such differences. Therefore, an emergency is hereby declared to exist and this Act being immediately necessary for the preservation of the public, peace, health and safety shall be in full force and effect for all income years after, or estate tax return filing dates coming after, December 31, 1982.”

Acts 1983, No. 785, § 8: Mar. 24, 1983. Emergency clause provided: “It is hereby found and determined by the General Assembly that the current level of employment is unacceptable; and that it is incumbent upon the General Assembly to provide an economic climate conducive to the creation of jobs for the citizens of this State; and that the tax credit provided by this Act could serve as a stimulus for businesses to create needed job opportunities. Therefore, an emergency is declared to exist and this Act, being necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health and safety shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage and approval.”

Acts 1987, No. 382, § 34: Mar. 24, 1987. Emergency clause provided: “It is hereby found and determined by the General Assembly of the State of Arkansas that the federal government has recently made major changes in the federal income tax law; that for simplicity of administration and equity various provisions of the federal law should be adopted for Arkansas Income Tax purposes; and that for the effective administration of this Act, the Act should become effective immediately. Therefore an emergency is hereby declared to exist and this Act being immediately necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health and safety shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage and approval.”

Acts 1991, No. 172, § 5; effective beginning with returns for the 1991 income year.

Acts 1993, No. 654, § 5: Mar. 24, 1993. Emergency clause provided: “It is hereby found and determined by the General Assembly of the State of Arkansas that clarification of the law for the tax credit for waste reduction, reuse, or recycling equipment is necessary; that the use of Arkansas post-consumer waste should be encouraged by means of this credit; that the credit should be refunded or disallowed under certain circumstances; and that for the effective administration of this act, the act should become effective immediately. Therefore, an emergency is hereby declared to exist and this act being necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage and approval.”

Acts 1993, No. 785, § 24: Mar. 30, 1993. Emergency clause provided: “It is hereby found and determined that certain changes are necessary to the Arkansas income tax laws; that these changes are necessary immediately in order to maintain the efficient administration of the Arkansas income tax laws; and that this act is necessary to effectuate that purpose. Therefore, an emergency is hereby declared to exist and this act being necessary for the preservation of public peace, health and safety shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage and approval.”

Acts 1993, No. 785, § 20: amendments to subchapters 1, 4, 5, 9, and 10 effective for taxable years beginning on and after January 1, 1993.

Acts 1993, Nos. 820 and 987, § 9: Apr. 1, 1993, and April 9, 1993, respectively. Emergency clause provided: “It is hereby found and determined by the General Assembly of this state that unemployment and economic underdevelopment has reached intolerable levels in certain portions of this state and the state as a whole has been unable to compete with other state's incentive programs for economic development, and, that the incentives afforded by this Act are critical to the development and expansion of job opportunities in the state. Therefore, an emergency is declared to exist and this act, being necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health and safety, shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage and approval.”

Acts 1995, No. 850, § 8: effective for taxable years beginning January 1, 1995.

Acts 1995, No. 850, § 12: Mar. 31, 1995. Emergency clause provided: “It is hereby found and determined by the General Assembly that the State of Arkansas is in serious need to provide for the health, welfare and education of the State's children by encouraging child care facilities to offer an "appropriate early childhood program" and this Act is designed to meet that need by providing tax incentives to encourage construction of these facilities. Therefore, an emergency is hereby declared to exist and this act being necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health and safety shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage and approval."

Acts 1997, No. 951, § 34, provided "Sections 1 through 24, 32 and 33 shall be effective for tax years beginning on and after January 1, 1997. However, it is the intent of this Act that those portions of the Internal Revenue Code adopted by this Act which for federal tax purposes do not become effective until some time after January 1, 1997, shall also not become effective for state tax purposes until the same time."

Acts 1997, No. 951, § 38: March 31, 1997. Emergency clause provided: "It is hereby found and determined by the General Assembly that current state tax laws are unclear or confusing, creating difficulty for taxpayers seeking to comply with these tax laws; that the changes made by Sections 25 through 31 of this bill are necessary to provide adequate direction to those taxpayers and to maintain the efficient administration of the Arkansas tax laws; and that the provisions of Sections 25 through 31 of this Act are necessary to effectuate that purpose. Therefore, an emergency is hereby declared to exist and the provisions of Sections 25 through 31 of this Act being necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health, and safety shall become effective on the date of its approval by the Governor. If the bill is neither approved nor vetoed by the Governor, Sections 25 through 31 shall become effective on the expiration of the period of time during which the Governor may veto the bill. If the bill is vetoed by the Governor and the veto is overridden, Sections 25 through 31 shall become effective on the date the last house overrides the veto."

Acts 2001, No. 773, § 12: effective for tax years beginning on and after January 1, 2001.

Acts 2003, No. 663, § 14: effective for tax years beginning on and after January 1, 2003.

Acts 2003, No. 993, § 2: effective for tax years beginning on or after January 1, 2003.

Acts 2003, No. 1724, § 2: effective for tax years beginning on or after January 1, 2003.

Acts 2005, No. 675, § 17: effective for tax years beginning on or after January 1, 2005.

Acts 2005, No. 2247, § 2: effective for tax years beginning on or after January 1, 2006.

26-51-501. Personal tax credits.

(a) There shall be deducted from the tax after the tax shall have been computed as set forth in this act a personal tax credit as follows:

(1) (A) For a single individual, the adjusted individual credit.

(B) However, a taxpayer who was blind or deaf at any time during the income year shall be entitled to an additional tax credit of twenty dollars ($20.00).

(C) A single individual who is deaf-blind shall be entitled to an additional tax credit of forty dollars ($40.00).

(D) A single individual of sixty-five (65) years of age or older shall be entitled to an additional tax credit of twenty dollars ($20.00);

(2) (A) (i) (a) For the head of household, surviving spouse, or a married individual living with husband or wife, the adjusted joint credit.

(b) A husband and wife living together and filing either jointly or separately on the same income tax form shall receive only one (1) adjusted joint credit against their aggregate tax.

(ii) Subdivision (a)(2)(A)(i) of this section shall apply if the Director of the Department of Finance and Administration continues to provide a tax return on which a husband and wife can elect to file jointly or separately on the same return.

(B) However, in the event that the husband or wife shall be sixty-five (65) years of age or older, each of them who is sixty-five (65) years of age or older shall be entitled to an additional tax credit of twenty dollars ($20.00).

(C) However, any husband or wife filing a separate return on a separate tax form shall receive the adjusted individual credit on each return so filed, but if the husband or wife is sixty-five (65) years of age or older, each of them who is sixty-five (65) years of age or older shall be entitled to an additional tax credit of twenty dollars ($20.00).

(D) "Head of household" shall have the same meaning as defined in § 2(b) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as in effect on January 1, 2001.

(E) "Surviving spouse" shall have the same meaning as defined in § 2(a) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as in effect on January 1, 2001;

(3) (A) For each individual, other than husband or wife, who has a gross income for the tax year of less than three thousand dollars ($3,000), who has not filed a joint return with his or her spouse for the taxable year, and who is dependent upon and receives his or her chief support from the taxpayer, the adjusted individual credit.

(B) (i) As used in subdivision (a)(3)(A) of this section, "dependent" means the same as defined in § 152 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as in effect on January 1, 2005.

(ii) "Dependent" does not include any individual who is a citizen or subject of a foreign country unless that individual is a resident of the United States or a country contiguous to the United States.

(C) (i) As used in subdivision (a)(3)(B) of this section, "brother" and "sister" include a brother or sister by half blood.

(ii) For the purpose of determining whether any of the foregoing relationships exist, a legally adopted child of a person shall be considered a child of that person by blood;

(4) In the case of a fiduciary:

(A) If taxable under § 26-51-203(a)(1), the adjusted individual credit;

(B) If taxable under § 26-51-203(a)(2), the same tax credit as would be allowed the deceased if living;

(C) If taxable under § 26-51-203(a)(3), the tax credit to which the beneficiary would be entitled; and

(5) In the case of a nonresident taxpayer, the taxpayer shall be entitled to that proportion of the tax credit granted by this act that the gross income within the state bears to the entire gross income wherever earned.

(b) (1) The status of the last day of the income year shall determine the right to the tax credits provided in this section.

(2) However, a taxpayer shall be entitled to tax credits for a husband or wife or a dependent who has died during the income year.

(c) (1) As used in this section, "blind person" means any person:

- (A) Who is totally blind, cannot tell light from darkness;
 - (B) A person whose central visual acuity does not exceed $20/200$ in the better eye with correcting lenses; or
 - (C) Whose fields of vision are so limited that the widest diameter of the visual field subtends an angle no greater than twenty degrees (20°).
- (2) For the purposes of subdivision (a)(1) of this section:
 - (A) An individual is deaf only if his or her average loss in the speech frequencies which are 500 to 2,000 Hertz in the better ear is 86 decibels, I.S.O. or worse; and
 - (B) An individual is deaf-blind only if he or she is both deaf and blind.
- (d) For the purposes of this section:
 - (1) "Adjusted individual credit" shall be twenty dollars ($20.00); and
 - (2) "Adjusted joint credit" shall be forty dollars ($40.00).
- (e) (1) (A) Not later than July 15 of each calendar year, the Director of the Department of Finance and Administration shall increase the adjusted individual credit and adjusted joint credit by the cost-of-living adjustment for that current calendar year, rounding each amount to the nearest dollar.
 - (B) The annual cost-of-living adjustment shall apply to the adjusted credits as contained in subdivisions (d)(1) and (2) of this section.
- (2) (A) For purposes of subdivision (e)(1) of this section, the cost-of-living adjustment for any calendar year is the percentage, if any, by which the Consumer Price Index for the calendar year preceding the taxable year exceeds the Consumer Price Index for the calendar year 2001.
 - (B) The Consumer Price Index for any calendar year is the average of the Consumer Price Index as of the close of the twelve-month period ending on August 31 of that calendar year.
 - (C) As used in this subsection, "Consumer Price Index" means the last Consumer Price Index for all urban consumers published by the United States Department of Labor.
- (3) The adjusted credit amounts shall apply for tax years beginning on and after January 1, 2003.
- (4) The director shall not increase the adjusted credit for any calendar year unless the conditions of subsection (f) of this section are met.
- (f) The adjusted credit applicable for any calendar year shall not be increased unless:
 - (1) The net available general revenue forecast provided to the Joint Committee on Economic and Tax Policy pursuant to § 10-3-1404 in May of the calendar year for which a credit increase is contemplated indicates that net available general revenue growth for the fiscal year beginning in the calendar year for which a credit increase is contemplated will be four and two-tenths percent (4.2%) or greater; and
 - (2) Either:
 - (A) The net available general revenues for the fiscal year ending in the calendar year for which a credit increase is contemplated exceed the official forecast by at least one-half of one percent (0.5%); or
 - (B) The net available general revenues for the fiscal year ending in the calendar year for which a credit increase is contemplated exceed the total distributions for that fiscal year under the provisions of the Revenue Stabilization Law, § 19-5-101 et seq.

(g) Section 151(c)(6) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as in effect on January 1, 2003, regarding the tax treatment of kidnapped children, is adopted for the purpose of computing Arkansas income tax liability.

Administrative rule held void as an attempt to amend this section. State ex rel. Att'y Gen. v. Burnett, 200 Ark. 655, 140 S.W.2d 673 (1940).

Applicability.

This section applies to both residents and nonresidents without discrimination between them, but deals only with incomes derived from property or business conducted in Arkansas and has no relation whatever to incomes derived by nonresidents from sources outside the state. State ex rel. Att'y Gen. v. Burnett, 200 Ark. 655, 140 S.W.2d 673 (1940).

Aggregate Net Income.

Aggregate net income as used in this section has relation to the aggregate net income of husband and wife living together derived from property in the state or from business carried on in the state. State ex rel. Att'y Gen. v. Burnett, 200 Ark. 655, 140 S.W.2d 673 (1940).

Nonresidents.

Net income of nonresident taxpayer's spouse derived from sources outside the state should not be taken into account in allowing exemptions. State ex rel. Att'y Gen. v. Burnett, 200 Ark. 655, 140 S.W.2d 673 (1940).

26-51-502. Household and dependent care services.

(a) A credit shall be allowed to individuals against the income tax imposed by the Income Tax Act of 1929, § 26-51-101 et seq., for expenses for household and dependent care services necessary for gainful employment in the manner prescribed by subsection (b) of this section.

(b) (1) Section 21 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as in effect on January 1, 2007, is adopted for purposes of determining the allowable credit under the Income Tax Act of 1929, § 26-51-101 et seq., for household and dependent care services necessary for gainful employment.

(2) The amount of credit shall be twenty percent (20%) of the federal credit allowable.

(c) (1) (A) (i) A credit, which is equal to twenty percent (20%) of the federal child care credit as allowed under § 21 of the Internal Revenue Code, as in effect on January 1, 1993, shall be allowed to qualified individuals against the income tax imposed by the Income Tax Act of 1929, § 26-51-101 et seq.

(ii) The twenty percent (20%) child care credit is refundable.

(iii) The excess of the credit over tax liability will be returned to the taxpayer as an overpayment of tax.

(B) "Qualified individual" means a taxpayer who has a dependent child with respect to whom the taxpayer is entitled to a credit under § 26-51-501(a)(3), and who incurs child care expenses necessary for gainful employment at an approved child care facility, as defined in subdivision (c)(1)(C) of this section.

(C) "Approved child care facility" means a child care facility which provided an appropriate early childhood program, as defined in § 6-45-103, and which is approved in accordance with § 6-45-109.

(2) A taxpayer cannot claim both the credit allowed in subsections (a) and (b) of this section and the credit allowed in subsection (c) of this section.

(3) The credit allowed in this subsection shall be effective for taxable years beginning January 1, 1993.

History. Acts 1973, No. 490, §§ 1, 2; 1977, No. 734, §§ 1, 2; 1983, No. 379, § 15; A.S.A. 1947, §§ 84-2088, 84-2089; Acts 1993, No. 1268, § 1; 1997, No. 328, § 6; 1997, No. 951, § 1; 2003, No. 663, § 13; 2005, No. 675, § 15; 2007, No. 218, § 34.

A.C.R.C. Notes. Acts 1997, No. 328, § 11, provided:

“This Act shall be effective on and after November 15, 1998 unless a constitutional amendment or initiated act shall be approved or an act of the General Assembly shall become law before that date which exempts food, either wholly or partially, from the Arkansas gross receipts tax. If a constitutional amendment, initiated act, or act of the General Assembly exempting food is not approved, then the provisions of Section 1, 2, 3, 4, 6, 7, and 8 of this Act shall be effective for tax years beginning on and after January 1, 1998; the provisions of Section 5 of this Act shall be effective as provided in that section; and the provisions of Section 9 of this Act shall be effective as provided in Section 10.”

Acts 1997, No. 328, § 12, provided:

“The withholding tables prescribed by the Director of the Department of Finance and Administration pursuant to Ark. Code Ann. § 26-51-907 shall not be amended for tax year 1998 to reflect the changes adopted by this Act. If this Act becomes effective on November 15, 1998, the effect of the various provisions of this Act for tax year 1998 shall be reflected on the income tax return filed for that year. For all subsequent years, the Director shall adjust the withholding tables as otherwise required by law.”

Publisher's Notes. Acts 1997, No. 951, § 34, provided that Sections 1 through 24, 32 and 33 shall be effective for tax years beginning on and after January 1, 1997. However, it is the intent of this Act that those portions of the Internal Revenue Code adopted by this Act which for federal tax purposes do not become effective until some time after January 1, 1997, shall also not become effective for state tax purposes until the same time.

Amendments. The 1993 amendment added (c).

The 1997 amendment by No. 951, in (b)(1) substituted “Section 21 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986” for “Section 44A of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954” and substituted “January 1, 1997” for “January 1, 1983.”

The 1997 amendment by No. 328, in (b)(1) substituted “Section 21 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986” for “Section 44A of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954” and substituted “January 1, 1997” for “January 1, 1983”; and substituted “twenty percent (20%)” for “ten percent (10%)” in (b)(2).

The 2003 amendment substituted “2003” for “1997” in (b).

The 2005 amendment substituted “January 1, 2005” for “January 1, 2003” in (b)(1).

The 2007 amendment substituted “January 1, 2007” for “January 1, 2005” in (b)(1).

U.S. Code. Section 44A of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, as amended, and § 21 of the Internal Revenue Code, referred to in this section, are codified as 26 U.S.C. § 21.

Effective Dates. Acts 2003, No. 663, § 14: applicable to tax years beginning on and after January 1, 2003.

Acts 2005, No. 675, § 17: effective for tax years beginning on and after January 1, 2005.

26-51-503. Support of a child with a developmental disability.

(a) In addition to the state income tax credit permitted by § 26-51-501(a) and (b), any taxpayer in this state who is maintaining, supporting, and caring for an individual with a diagnosis of developmental disability in the taxpayer's home shall be permitted, in addition to all other income tax credits, a credit of five hundred dollars ($500) for each income year for that individual.

(b) (1) Any person wishing to take advantage of this tax credit must have certification by a licensed physician, licensed psychologist, or licensed psychological examiner that the individual has a diagnosis of developmental disability.

(2) The certification shall be valid for five (5) years for income tax purposes.

(3) If any person wishes to take advantage of this tax credit after using the certification for five (5) income years, the person must have the individual reevaluated by a licensed physician, licensed psychologist, or licensed psychological examiner for recertification.

(4) The recertification process shall be valid for another five (5) years for income tax purposes.

(c) As used in this section:

(1) "Diagnosis of developmental disability" means a disability of a person that:

(A) Is attributable to:

(i) An intellectual disability, cerebral palsy, epilepsy, or autism;

(ii) Another condition of the person found to be closely related to an intellectual disability because the condition results in an impairment of general intellectual functioning or adaptive behavior similar to that of a person with an intellectual disability or requires treatment and services similar to that required for a person with an intellectual disability; or

(iii) Dyslexia resulting from a disability or condition described in subdivision (c)(1)(A)(i) or (c)(1)(A)(ii) of this section;

(B) Originates before the person reaches twenty-two (22) years of age;

(C) Has continued or can be expected to continue indefinitely; and

(D) Constitutes a substantial handicap to the person's ability to function without appropriate support services, including without limitation:

(i) Planned recreational activities;

(ii) Medical services such as physical therapy and speech therapy;

and

(iii) Possibilities for sheltered employment or job training; and

(2) "Individual" means a child of the taxpayer's blood, an adopted child, or a dependent within the meaning of § 26-51-501(a)(3)(B).

History. Acts 1967, No. 495, §§ 1, 2; 1977, No. 833, § 1; 1983, No. 523, § 1; A.S.A. 1947, §§ 84-2021.1, 84-2021.2; Acts 1999, No. 417, § 1; 2009, No. 237, § 1.

Amendments. The 1999 amendment rewrote this section.

The 2009 amendment rewrote subdivision (c)(1).

Effective Dates. Acts 2009, No. 237, § 2 provided: "This act is effective for tax years beginning on or after January 1, 2009."

26-51-504. Income from sources outside Arkansas.

(a) (1) For the purpose of ascertaining the income tax due by an individual resident of Arkansas whose gross income includes income derived from property located outside the State of Arkansas, or from business transacted outside the State of Arkansas, the tax shall first be computed as if all of the income of the resident were derived from sources within the State of Arkansas, but a credit shall then be given on the tax as so computed, for the amount of income tax actually owed by the resident for the year to any other state or territory on account of income from property owned or business transacted in the other state or territory. However, credit shall not exceed what the tax would be on the outside income, if added to the Arkansas income, and calculated at Arkansas income tax rates.

(2) (A) For purposes of subdivision (a)(1) of this section, the amount of income tax owed to any other state or territory by a resident shareholder of an S corporation shall be considered to include an amount equal to the shareholder's pro rata share of any net income tax owed by the S corporation to a state which does not recognize S corporations.

(B) For purposes of subdivision (a)(2)(A) of this section, the term "net income tax" means any tax imposed on or measured by a corporation's net income.

(b) Before a resident of Arkansas may claim the credit allowed under this section, he shall file with his income tax return any such additional information as the Director of the State Income Tax Division or the Director of the Department of Finance and Administration may by regulation require showing in detail the amount of gross and net income derived from property owned or business transacted without this state, together with the amount of tax actually owed on the income to another state or territory.

(c) The credit against Arkansas income tax afforded individual residents of Arkansas under this section shall also be available to fiduciaries and partnerships residing or domiciled in Arkansas which are subject to Arkansas income tax or which have to report income for purposes of Arkansas income tax.

History. Acts 1943, No. 162, §§ 1, 2; 1953, No. 320, § 1; 1961, No. 411, § 1; 1969, No. 75, § 1; A.S.A. 1947, §§ 84-2017, 84-2018, 84-2018.1; Acts 1989, No. 826, § 6; 1993, No. 721, § 1; 1993, No. 785, § 13.

Publisher's Notes. Acts 1953, No. 320, § 3, provided that the provisions of this act shall be applicable to the tax years on and after January 1, 1953, as the term "tax year" is defined in § 26-51-102.

Acts 1961, No. 411, § 2 provided that this act shall be effective for all taxable years ending September 30, 1961 and thereafter.

Acts 1989, No. 826, § 1, provided that this act shall be known and may be cited as the "Arkansas Income Tax Technical Revenue Act of 1989".

Acts 1989, No. 826, § 36, provided that the provisions of that act shall be in full force and effect for all income years beginning on or after January 1, 1989.

Acts 1993, No. 721, § 2 and No. 785, § 20, provide that the 1993 amendments are effective for taxable years beginning on and after January 1, 1993.

Amendments. The 1993 amendment by No. 721 added (a)(2).

The 1993 amendment by No. 785 deleted "and corporations" following "partnerships" in (c).

Case Notes

Constitutionality.

Deductions.

Constitutionality.

Even if this section would be unconstitutional because of subsection (b), the power to tax the income of an Arkansas resident derived from without the state under Acts 1929, No. 118 would not be destroyed. Morgan v. Cook, 211 Ark. 755, 202 S.W.2d 355 (1947).

Deductions.

This section was concerned with income and not deductions, and therefore, person drilling for oil in another state was entitled to claim as deductions the amount expended in drilling a "dry hole." Morley v. Pitts, 217 Ark. 755, 233 S.W.2d 539 (1950) (decision prior to 1953 amendment). Losses paid under contract to nonresidents for oil operations in another state were deductible from taxable income in conformance with holdings prior to statutory amendment where the taxpayer was not the owner of the real estate involved. Scurlock v. Sherman, 224 Ark. 750, 276 S.W.2d 52 (1955).

26-51-505. Establishment or expansion of manufacturing enterprise.

(a) There shall be allowed a credit against the tax imposed by the Arkansas Income Tax Act, as amended, § 26-51-101 et seq., § 26-51-205, and § 26-51-303, an amount as determined in subsection (c) of this section, for any taxpayer who establishes or expands a manufacturing enterprise in the State of Arkansas which results in the creation of new additional full-time or part-time jobs within this state.

(b) (1) For the purposes of this section, the term "manufacturing" refers to and includes those operations commonly understood within their ordinary meaning and shall also include mining, quarrying, refining, extracting oil and gas, cotton ginning, the drying of rice, soybeans, and other grains, the manufacturing of feed, processing of poultry or eggs and livestock, and the hatching of poultry.

(2) (A) A "new employee" shall be a person residing and domiciled in this state, hired by the taxpayer to fill a new additional job in this state which previously did not exist in the manufacturing enterprise during the taxable year for which the credit allowed by this section is claimed.

(B) To qualify for the credit provided in this section, the employment of a new employee by the manufacturer must increase the total number of employees who are employed by the manufacturer. In no case shall the new employees allowed for the purpose of the credit exceed the total increase in employment.

(C) A person shall be deemed to be so engaged if that person performs duties in connection with the operation of the business enterprise on:

(i) A regular full-time basis;

(ii) A part-time basis if the person is customarily performing such duties at least twenty (20) hours per week for at least six (6) months during the taxable year.

(c) (1) The credit shall be a portion of the state individual or corporate income tax paid by the taxpayer but not in excess of fifty percent (50%) of the tax. The portion shall be an amount determined by multiplying the number of new employees, as defined in subdivision (b)(2) of this section, by one hundred dollars ($100) per eligible new employee per taxable year.

(2) The amount of the credit allowed under subdivision (c)(1) of this section for the taxable year shall be an amount equal to the sum of:

(A) A carryover of prior unused credits arising from the taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1983, carried to the taxable year; plus

(B) The amount of the credit allowed by subdivision (c)(1) of this section for the taxable year.

(3) If the sum of the amount of the credits under subdivisions (c)(2)(A) and (B) of this section for the taxable year exceeds the limitation imposed by subdivision (c)(1) of this section, the excess shall be treated as a carryover credit and may be carried over for a maximum of three (3) consecutive years following the taxable year in which the credit originated.

(d) (1) In the case of a proprietorship or partnership, the amount of the credit determined under this section for any taxable year shall be apportioned to each proprietor or partner in proportion to the amount of income from the manufacturing entity which the proprietor or partner is required to include in his gross income.

(2) In the case of a Subchapter S corporation, as allowed by § 26-51-409, the amount of the credit determined under this section for any taxable year shall be apportioned pro rata among the persons who are shareholders of the corporation on the last day of the taxable year.

(3) No credit shall be allowed under this section to any organization which is exempt from state income tax.

(4) In the case of an estate or trust:

(A) The amount of the credit determined under this section for any taxable year shall be apportioned between the estate or trust and the beneficiaries on the basis of the income of the estate or trust allocable to each; and

(B) Any beneficiary to whom any amount has been apportioned under subdivision (d)(4)(A) of this section shall be allowed, subject to the limitations contained in this section, a credit under this section for the amount.

(e) (1) The Revenue Division of the Department of Finance and Administration shall promulgate such rules and regulations as may be deemed necessary to carry out the purposes of this section.

(2) The Revenue Division shall consult with the Arkansas Employment Security Department and the Arkansas Economic Development Commission during the promulgation of the rules and regulations.

(f) The tax credit provided by this section shall expire on June 30, 1988. Any unused credits may be carried over beyond this date in accordance with subdivision (b)(3) of this section.

History. Acts 1983, No. 785, §§ 1-6; A.S.A. 1947, §§ 84-2021.18 — 84-2021.23; Acts 1997, No. 540, § 54.

Publisher's Notes. Pursuant to Acts 1991, No. 100, the name of the Employment Security Division was changed to the Arkansas Employment Security Department.

Amendments. The 1997 amendment substituted "Arkansas Economic Development Commission" for "Arkansas Industrial Development Commission" in (e)(2).

26-51-506. Tax credit for waste reduction, reuse, or recycling equipment — Eligibility.

(a) The intent and purpose of this section is to increase capacity in the State of Arkansas for the use of recovered materials.

(b) As used in this section:

(1) "Cost", in the case of a transfer of title or a finance lease, means the amount of the purchase price, and, in the case of a lease which is not a finance lease but which otherwise qualifies as a purchase under this section, means the amount of the lease payments due to be paid during the term of the lease after deducting any portion of the lease payments attributable to interest, insurance, and taxes;

(2) "Equipment to service waste reduction, reuse, or recycling equipment" means expenditures, machinery, or equipment that keeps existing machinery or equipment in running order by providing repair, maintenance, adjustment, inspection, or supplies;

(3) "Finance lease" means a lease agreement which is treated as a purchase by a lessee for Arkansas income tax purposes;

(4) "Home scrap" means materials or by-products generated from and commonly reused within an original manufacturing process;

(5) "Maintenance" means expenditures, machinery, or equipment used to keep existing machinery or equipment in a condition that approaches or equates to its original condition;

(6) "Motor vehicle" means a vehicle or trailer that is licensed, or that normally would be licensed, for use on highways in Arkansas;

(7) "Postconsumer waste" means products or other materials generated by a business, governmental entity, or consumer which have served their intended end use and have been recovered from or otherwise diverted from the solid waste stream for the purpose of recycling;

(8) "Preconsumer material" means material generated during any step in the production of a product and recovered or otherwise diverted from the solid waste stream for the purpose of recycling but does not include home scrap;

(9) "Purchase" means a transaction under which title to an item is transferred for consideration or a lease contract for a period of at least three (3) years regardless of whether title to the item is transferred at the end of such period;

(10) "Recovered materials" means those materials which have been separated, diverted, or removed from the waste stream for the purpose of recycling and includes preconsumer material and postconsumer waste but not home scrap;

(11) "Recycling" means the systematic collecting, sorting, decontaminating, and returning of waste materials to commerce as commodities for use or exchange;

(12) "Repair" means expenditures, machinery, or equipment used to restore existing machinery or equipment to its original or similar condition and capacity after damage or after deterioration from use;

(13) "Solid waste" means all putrescible and nonputrescible wastes in solid or semisolid form, including, but not limited to, yard or food waste, waste glass, waste metals, waste plastics, wastepapers, waste paperboard, and all other solid or semisolid wastes resulting from industrial, commercial, agricultural, community, and residential activities; and

(14) (A) (i) "Waste reduction, reuse, or recycling equipment" means new or used machinery or equipment located in Arkansas on the last day of the taxable year which is operated or used exclusively in Arkansas to collect, separate, process, modify, convert, or treat solid waste so that the resulting product may be used as a raw material or for productive use or to manufacture products containing recovered materials.

(ii) "Waste reduction, reuse, or recycling equipment" also includes devices which are directly connected with or are an integral and necessary part of such machinery or equipment and are necessary for such collection, separation, processing, modification, conversion, treatment, or manufacturing.

(B) “Waste reduction, reuse, or recycling equipment” does not include motor vehicles.

(c) There shall be allowed a credit against the tax imposed by the Income Tax Act of 1929, § 26-51-101 et seq., in an amount as determined in subsection (e) of this section for any taxpayer engaged in the business of reducing, reusing, or recycling solid waste for commercial purposes who purchases waste reduction, reuse, or recycling equipment used exclusively for the purpose of reducing, reusing, or recycling solid waste.

(d) To claim the benefits of this section, a taxpayer must obtain a certification from the Director of the Arkansas Department of Environmental Quality certifying to the Revenue Division of the Department of Finance and Administration that:

(1) The taxpayer is engaged in the business of reducing, reusing, or recycling solid waste material for commercial purposes, whether or not for profit;

(2) The machinery or equipment purchased is waste reduction, reuse, or recycling equipment;

(3) The machinery or equipment is being used in the collection, separation, processing, modification, conversion, treatment, or manufacturing of products containing at least fifty percent (50%) recovered materials, provided that at least ten percent (10%) of the recovered materials shall be post-consumer waste; and

(4) The taxpayer has filed a statement with the director acknowledging that the taxpayer will make a good faith effort to utilize post-consumer waste generated in Arkansas as at least ten percent (10%) of the post-consumer waste being used in the equipment, to the extent available at a competitive price.

(e) (1) The amount of the credit allowed under subsection (c) of this section shall be equal to thirty percent (30%) of the cost of waste reduction, reuse, or recycling equipment, including the cost of installation.

(2) The cost of installation shall not include the cost of:

(A) Feasibility studies;

(B) Engineering costs of a building to house the equipment and related machinery; or

(C) Equipment used to service the waste reduction, reuse, or recycling equipment.

(3) (A) The cost of replacement parts which serve only to keep existing waste reduction, reuse, or recycling equipment in its ordinary efficient operating condition shall not be included in determining the amount of the credit.

(B) The cost of replacement of existing waste reduction, reuse, or recycling equipment shall not be included in determining the amount of the credit unless the replacement provides greater capacity for recycling or provides the capability to collect, separate, process, modify, convert, treat, or manufacture additional or a different type of solid waste.

(4) The cost of service contracts, sales tax, maintenance, and repairs shall not be included in determining the amount of the credit.

(f) (1) The taxpayer shall refund the amount of the tax credit determined by subdivision (f)(2) of this section if, within three (3) years of the taxable year for which a credit is allowed:

(A) The waste reduction, reuse, or recycling equipment is removed from

Arkansas, is disposed of, is transferred to another person, or the taxpayer otherwise ceases to use the required materials or operate in the manner required by this section; or

(B) The director finds that the taxpayer has demonstrated a pattern of intentional failure to comply with final administrative or judicial orders which clearly indicates a disregard for environmental regulation or a pattern of prohibited conduct which could reasonably be expected to result in adverse environmental impact.

(2) If the provisions of subdivision (f)(1) of this section apply, the taxpayer shall refund the amount of the tax credit which was deducted from income tax liability which exceeds the following amounts:

(A) Within the first year, zero dollars ($0);

(B) Within the second year, an amount equal to thirty-three percent (33%) of the amount of credit allowed; and

(C) Within the third year, an amount equal to sixty-seven percent (67%) of the credit allowed.

(3) Any refund required by subdivision (f)(1)(A) of this section shall apply only to the credit given for the particular waste reduction, reuse, or recycling equipment to which that subdivision applies.

(4) Any taxpayer who is required to refund part of a credit pursuant to this subsection shall no longer be eligible to carry forward any amount of that credit which had not been used as of the date such refund is required.

(5) (A) This subsection shall apply to all credits which are certified as a result of applications for certification filed with the Arkansas Department of Environmental Quality on or after July 1, 1993.

(B) This subsection shall not apply to credits which are certified as a result of applications for certification filed with the Arkansas Department of Environmental Quality prior to July 1, 1993.

(C) Taxpayers who file written notice and a project plan with the Arkansas Department of Environmental Quality prior to July 1, 1993, shall be deemed to have filed an application for certification for purposes of subdivision (f)(5) of this section, provided that all the information necessary to complete the application for certification is provided to the Arkansas Department of Environmental Quality on or before December 31, 1993.

(g) (1) Waste reduction, reuse, or recycling equipment shall only be eligible for one (1) tax credit.

(2) The sale or transfer of waste reduction, reuse, or recycling equipment shall not recreate the eligibility for a tax credit.

(h) (1) In the case of a proprietorship or partnership engaged in the business of waste reduction, reuse, or recycling of solid waste, the amount of the credit determined under this section for any taxable year shall be apportioned to each proprietor or partner in proportion to the amount of income from the entity which the proprietor or partner is required to include as gross income.

(2) In the case of a Subchapter S corporation, as allowed by § 26-51-409, the amount of the credit determined under this section for any taxable year shall be apportioned among the persons who are shareholders of the corporation on the last day of the taxable year based on each person's percentage of ownership.

(3) In the case of an estate or trust:

(A) The amount of the credit determined under this section for any taxable year shall be apportioned between the estate or trust and the beneficiaries on the basis of the income of the estate or trust allocable to each; and

(B) Any beneficiary to whom any amount has been apportioned under this subsection shall be allowed, subject to limitations contained in this section, a credit under this section for the amount.

(i) (1) The amount of the credit that may be used by a taxpayer for a taxable year may not exceed the amount of state, individual, or corporate income tax otherwise due.

(2) Any unused credit may be carried over for a maximum of three (3) consecutive years following the taxable year in which the credit originated.

(j) A taxpayer who receives a credit under this section shall not be entitled to claim any other state or local tax credit or deduction based on the purchase of the machinery or equipment, except for the deduction for normal depreciation.

(k) (1) (A) The Arkansas Department of Environmental Quality and the division shall promulgate rules or regulations as are necessary to administer this section.

(B) These rules or regulations may include, but are not limited to, the establishment of technical specifications and of requirements for information and documentation for taxpayers seeking a credit under this section and shall encourage, but not require, the use of Arkansas contractors and post-consumer waste generated in Arkansas in recycling projects which qualify for credits provided by this section.

(2) In order to determine eligibility for the credit or to ensure that the machinery or equipment is being utilized in the required manner, each agency shall have the right to inspect facilities and records of a taxpayer requesting or receiving a credit under this section.

(l) Any person or legal entity aggrieved by a decision of the director under subsection (d) of this section or subdivision (f)(1)(B) of this section may appeal to the Arkansas Pollution Control and Ecology Commission through administrative procedures adopted by the commission and to the courts in the manner provided in §§ 8-4-222 — 8-4-229.

A.C.R.C. Notes. Acts 1997, No. 1219, § 2, provided:

“‘Arkansas Department of Pollution Control & Ecology’ renamed to ‘Arkansas Department of Environmental Quality’.

(a) Effective March 31, 1999, the ‘Arkansas Department of Pollution Control & Ecology’ or ‘Department,’ as it is referred to or empowered throughout the Arkansas Code Annotated, is hereby renamed. In its place, the ‘Arkansas Department of Environmental Quality’ is hereby established, succeeding to the general powers and responsibilities previously assigned to the Arkansas Department of Pollution Control & Ecology. The Director of the Arkansas Department of Pollution Control & Ecology is directed to identify and revise all inter-agency agreements, financial instruments, funds, and other necessary legal documents in order to effect this change by March 31, 1999.

“(b) Nothing in this Act shall be construed as impairing the powers and authorities of the Arkansas Department of Pollution Control and Ecology prior to the effective date of the name change.”

Publisher's Notes. Acts 1991, No. 748, § 1, provided:

“This section shall apply to purchases of waste reduction, reuse, or recycling equipment made after January 1, 1991”.

Amendments. The 2007 amendment added “or” at the end of (f)(1)(A).

26-51-507. Employer-provided child care — As qualified under § 26-52-401.

(a) A business which qualifies for the exemption from the gross receipts tax under § 26-52-401(29) shall be allowed an income tax credit of three and nine-tenths percent (3.9%) of the annual salary of employees employed exclusively in providing child care services.

(b) If two (2) or more businesses participate in a child care program for their employees as provided by § 26-52-401(29), then each business will be allowed an income tax credit of three and nine-tenths percent (3.9%) of the annual salary of only those employees who are on the respective business' payroll and are employed exclusively for providing child care services.

(c) (1) To qualify for the income tax credit, the revenue to the business or businesses from the child care facility cannot exceed the direct operating costs of the facility. If, on an annual basis, the child care facility receives revenue which exceeds the direct operating costs of the facility, the business or businesses will not be entitled to the income tax credit.

(2) For the purposes of this subsection, direct operating costs means:

(A) The cost of food and beverages provided to the children;

(B) The cost of labor for personnel whose services are performed exclusively on the premises of the child care facility for the care of the children and all related employment taxes paid by the employer; and

(C) All materials and supplies necessary to operate the child care facility.

(d) The income tax credit created by subsection (a) of this section shall first be available in the taxable year following the year the business makes payment of wages to child care workers. To the extent that the credit is not fully utilized in this first year, it may be carried forward for an additional two (2) years. Any credit remaining thereafter shall expire.

(e) The income tax provisions of this section shall be in full force and effect for all income tax years beginning on and after January 1, 1993.

(f) [Repealed.]

Amendments. The 1995 amendment rewrote (e); and repealed former (f).

26-51-508. Employer-provided child care — As qualified under § 26-52-516 or § 26-53-132.

(a) A business which qualifies for the refund of the gross receipts tax or compensating use tax under § 26-52-516 or § 26-53-132 shall be allowed an income tax credit of three and nine-tenths percent (3.9%) of the annual salary of its employees employed exclusively in providing child care service, or a five thousand dollar ($5,000) income tax credit for the first tax year the business provides its employees with a child care facility.

(b) If two (2) or more businesses participate in a child care program for their employees as provided by § 26-52-516 or § 26-53-132, then each business will be allowed an income tax credit of three and nine-tenths percent (3.9%) of the annual salary of only those employees who are on the respective business' payroll and are employed exclusively for providing child care services. The first year's five thousand dollar ($5,000) credit will be prorated among the businesses based upon the percentage of the cost paid by each business for the initial construction and equipping of the child care facility.

(c) (1) (A) To qualify for the income tax credit, the revenue to the business or businesses from the child care facility cannot exceed the direct operating costs of the facility.

(B) If, on an annual basis, the business receives revenues from the operation of the child care facility which exceed the direct operating costs of the facility, the businesses will not be entitled to the income tax credit.

(2) For the purposes of this subsection, "direct operating costs" means:

(A) The cost of food and beverages provided to the children;

(B) The cost of labor for personnel whose services are performed exclusively on the premises of the child care facility for the care of the children and all related employment taxes paid by the employer; and

(C) All materials and supplies necessary to operate the child care facility.

(d) The income tax credit created by subsection (a) of this section shall first be available in the taxable year following the year the business makes payment of wages to child care workers. To the extent that the credit is not fully utilized in this first year, it may be carried forward for an additional two (2) years. Any credit remaining thereafter shall expire.

History. Acts 1995, No. 850, § 5.

26-51-509. Youth apprenticeship program.

(a) For the purposes of this section:

(1) "Bureau" means the Bureau of Apprenticeship and Training of the United States Department of Labor;

(2) "Department" means the Department of Finance and Administration; and

(3) "Youth apprentice" means an individual between the ages of sixteen (16) and twenty-one (21) years who is enrolled in a public or private secondary or postsecondary school.

(b) (1) A taxpayer who employs a youth apprentice in a registered apprenticeship program as provided in Title 29, Subtitle (a), Part 29 of the Code of Federal Regulations, as in effect on January 1, 1995, shall be allowed a credit in the amount of two thousand dollars ($2,000) or ten percent (10%) of the wages earned by the youth apprentice, whichever is less, against the tax imposed by the Arkansas Income Tax Act of 1929, as amended, § 26-51-101 et seq., for each such apprentice.

(2) (A) A partner's or member's distributive share of the credit shall be determined by the partnership or limited liability company agreement, unless the agreement does not have substantial economic effect or does not provide for the allocation of credits.

(B) If the agreement does not have substantial economic effect or does not provide for the allocation of the credit, the credit shall be allocated according to the partner's or member's interest in the partnership, pursuant to federal Internal Revenue

Code section 704(b), as in effect on January 1, 1995.

(c) (1) To claim the benefits of this section, a taxpayer must obtain a certification from the bureau certifying to the Revenue Division of the Department of Finance and Administration that the taxpayer has met all the requirements and qualifications set forth in this section.

(2) The certification to the department shall include the total amount of wages paid to each youth apprentice employed by the taxpayer or 501(c)(3) corporation in the taxable year for which the taxpayer claims the credit provided in this section.

(d) (1) The amount of the credit that may be used by a taxpayer for a taxable year may not exceed the amount of individual or corporate income tax otherwise due.

(2) Any unused credit may be carried over for a maximum of two (2) consecutive taxable years.

(e) If the business is an "S" corporation, the pass-through provisions of § 26-51-409, as in effect for the taxable year the credit is earned, shall be applicable.

(f) A taxpayer who trains a youth apprentice in a registered youth apprenticeship program as provided in subsection (b) of this section shall be entitled to the tax credit provided in this section for such youth apprentice, even though the apprentice receives his or her wages for such training from a 501(c)(3) corporation.

(g) (1) The Revenue Division of the Department of Finance and Administration shall promulgate such rules and regulations as may be deemed necessary to carry out the purposes of this section.

(2) The Revenue Division shall consult with the Bureau of Apprenticeship and Training of the United States Department of Labor during the promulgation of the rules and regulations.

26-51-510. [Repealed.]

Publisher's Notes. This section, concerning federal Social Security (OASDI) tax credit, was repealed by Acts 2003, No. 1724, § 1. The section was derived from Acts 1997, No. 328, § 4; 2001, No. 773, § 11.

26-51-511. Coal mining, producing, and extracting.

(a) As used in this section:

(1) "Coal mining enterprise" means:

(A) An Arkansas taxpayer primarily engaged in surface or highwall mining, producing, or extracting coal in Arkansas; and

(B) A holder of a valid mining permit issued by the Arkansas Department of Environmental Quality to allow surface or highwall mining;

(2) "Eligible transferee" means any Arkansas taxpayer subject to the Income Tax Act of 1929, § 26-51-101 et seq., the premium tax imposed by § 23-75-119, or the premium tax imposed by § 23-63-1614; and

(3) "Taxpayer" means a coal mining enterprise or an eligible transferee.

(b) (1) There shall be allowed a credit against the income tax imposed by the Income Tax Act of 1929, § 26-51-101 et seq., the premium tax imposed by § 23-75-119, or the premium tax imposed by § 23-63-1614 in an amount as determined in subsection (c) of this section for a taxpayer.

(2) A credit allowed under this section shall expire after five (5) tax years following the tax year in which the tax credit was earned.

(c) (1) (A) A credit of two dollars ($2.00) per ton of coal mined, produced, or extracted shall be allowed on each ton of coal mined in Arkansas by a coal mining enterprise in a tax year.

(B) An additional credit of three dollars ($3.00) per ton of coal mined, produced, or extracted shall be allowed on each ton of coal mined in Arkansas in excess of fifty thousand (50,000) tons by a coal mining enterprise in a tax year.

(2) A credit under this section is earned only if the coal is sold to an electric generation plant for less than forty dollars ($40.00) per ton excluding freight charges.

(3) At the election of the taxpayer, the credit may be treated as:

(A) Payment of a tax;

(B) Prepayment of a tax; or

(C) Prepayment of an estimated tax.

(d) (1) The credits allowed under this section shall be freely transferable by written agreement to subsequent transferees at any time during the five (5) years following the year the credit was earned.

(2) A coal mining enterprise that has earned a credit under this section may transfer the credit in writing to an eligible transferee.

(3) (A) The coal mining enterprise and the eligible transferee shall jointly file a copy of the written credit transfer agreement with the Director of the Department of Finance and Administration within thirty (30) days of the credit transfer.

(B) The written credit transfer agreement shall contain:

(i) The name of the parties to the transfer;

(ii) The amount of the credit transferred;

(iii) The tax year that the credit was originally earned by the coal mining enterprise; and

(iv) The tax year or years in which the credit may be claimed.

(C) (i) The Department of Finance and Administration shall promulgate rules and regulations to permit the verification of the validity and timeliness of a claimed tax credit that has been transferred under this subsection.

(ii) The rules and regulations shall not unduly restrict or hinder the transfers of credits under this section.

26-51-512. Rice straw tax credit.

(a) As used in this section:

(1) “End user” means a person who purchases and uses rice straw for processing, manufacturing, generating energy, or producing ethanol; and

(2) “Rice straw” means the dry stems of rice left after the seed heads have been removed.

(b) (1) There is allowed a credit against the income tax imposed by the Income Tax Act of 1929, § 26-51-101 et seq., in the amount of fifteen dollars ($15.00) for each ton of rice straw over five hundred (500) tons that is purchased by an Arkansas taxpayer who is the end user.

(2) The amount of credit that may be used by the taxpayer for a taxable year may not exceed fifty percent (50%) of the amount of income tax due for that tax year.

(3) Any unused credit may be carried forward for ten (10) consecutive tax years following the tax year the credit was earned.

(c) A taxpayer who claims a credit under this section shall not claim any other state tax credit or deduction for the purchase of rice straw.

History. Acts 2005, No. 2247, § 1.

26-51-513. Arkansas historic rehabilitation income tax credit.

(a) In addition to any income tax credit not related to the same eligible property for which a taxpayer qualifies, the taxpayer is allowed an income tax credit for the amount of the Arkansas historic rehabilitation income tax credit allowed by the certification of completion issued by the Department of Arkansas Heritage under the Arkansas Historic Rehabilitation Income Tax Credit Act, § 26-51-2201 et seq.

(b) The amount of the income tax credit under this section that may be claimed by the taxpayer in a tax year shall not exceed the amount of state income tax due by the taxpayer.

(c) Any unused income tax credit under this section may be carried forward for a maximum of five (5) consecutive tax years for credit against the state income tax.

(d) The Director of the Department of Finance and Administration shall promulgate rules to implement this section.

History. Acts 2009, No. 498, § 2.

Effective Dates. Acts 2009, No. 498, § 4, provided: “This act is effective for tax years beginning on and after January 1, 2009, and ending on or before December 31, 2015.”

26-51-514. Cigarette receptacle tax credit. [Effective if contingency in Acts 2009, No. 1500, § 2 is met.]

(a) As used in this section, “cigarette receptacle” means a receptacle or urn specifically designed for the disposal of cigarette litter such as cigarette butts and ash.

(b) (1) A business or commercial enterprise with fifty (50) or fewer employees is allowed an income tax credit against the income tax imposed by the Income Tax Act of 1929, § 26-51-101 et seq., for the purchase of a cigarette receptacle that is placed in service during the taxable year.

(2) The amount of the income tax credit under this section is twenty percent (20%) of the purchase price of the cigarette receptacle.

(3) A taxpayer may claim the income tax credit under this section only one (1) time and only for one (1) cigarette receptacle.

(c) Any unused income tax credit under this section may be carried forward for three (3) consecutive tax years following the tax year the income tax credit was earned.

(d) The amount of the income tax credit under this section that may be claimed by the taxpayer in a tax year shall not exceed the amount of income tax due by the taxpayer.

(e) The Department of Finance and Administration shall promulgate rules to implement this section.

History. Acts 2009, No. 1500, § 1.

A.C.R.C. Notes. Acts 2009, No. 1500, § 2, provided: "Contingent Effectiveness. This act is effective if the Chief Fiscal Officer of the State certifies that additional funding has been provided to state general revenues from other funding sources and is available for use during fiscal year 2010 in an amount sufficient to replace the general revenue reduction for the fiscal year 2010 that would result from the allowance of the income tax credit provided in this act. The Chief Fiscal Office of the State will make the same determination for fiscal year 2011 and each fiscal year thereafter. At any time that the Chief Fiscal officer of the State determines that additional funding from sources other than state general revenues does not exist in an amount sufficient to replace the general revenue reduction for that fiscal year from the allowance of the income tax credit provided in this act, the income tax credit provided by this act will expire. The Chief Fiscal Officer of the State shall provide notice to the Director of the Bureau of Legislative Research when the contingencies in this section have been met."

Subchapter 6 — Property Tax Credit for Senior Citizens

26-51-601 — 26-51-609. [Repealed.]

Publisher's Notes. Acts 1973, No. 63, § 16, provided:

"The provisions of this Act shall be applicable with respect to real property ad valorem taxes paid in the year 1973 and thereafter."

Identical Acts 2000 (2d Ex. Sess.), Nos. 1 and 2, § 10 provided:

"The provisions of Section 7 shall become effective January 1, 2002. Claims for refund may be filed in 2001 pursuant to Arkansas Code 26-51-601 through 26-51-608 for property taxes paid during calendar year 2000 for property assessed in calendar year 1999."

Effective Dates. Acts 1974 (Ex. Sess.), No. 30, § 7: July 3, 1974. Emergency clause provided: "It is hereby found and determined by the Sixty-Ninth General Assembly, meeting in Extraordinary Session, that the Individual Income Tax Withholding Fund does not have sufficient appropriation to meet the anticipated refunds of income taxes to be disbursed as authorized by law or make rebates of the Ad Valorem Property Tax paid by certain home owners 65 years of age and older who may claim rebate from the State as authorized by law. It would be in the best interest of the citizens of this State that payment of any overpayment, interest or penalty or rebate, be promptly paid. Therefore, an emergency is hereby declared to exist and this Act, being necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, and safety, shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage and approval."

Acts 1979, No. 401, § 50: Jan. 1, 1980.

Acts 1979, No. 412, § 3: Mar. 19, 1979. Emergency clause provided: "It is hereby found and determined by the General Assembly that the provisions of the Homeowner's Tax Relief Act are unduly restrictive with respect to the eligibility of persons to claim benefits thereunder; that this Act is designed to revise the provisions of said Act to make same more realistic and to improve benefits thereunder and should be given effect immediately. Therefore, an emergency is hereby declared to exist and this Act being necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage and approval."

Acts 1981, No. 367, § 3: Mar. 9, 1981. Emergency clause provided: "It is hereby found and determined by the General Assembly that the present law provides that of the females between 62 and 65 years of age, only widows are eligible for benefits under the Homeowners Property Tax Relief Act; that this inequitable restriction places a serious burden on other females between 62 and 65 years of age who have not been married or who are divorced or who do not otherwise come within the meaning of the word "widow"; that this Act is designed to correct this inequity and should be given effect immediately. Therefore, an emergency is hereby declared to exist and this Act being necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage and approval."

Acts 1987, No. 454, § 9: effective for income years beginning from and after January 1, 1987, thereby being applicable to claims for ad valorem property tax rebates filed from and after January 1, 1988.

Acts 1991, No. 655, § 9: Jan. 1, 1992.

Acts 1991, No. 776, § 5: Jan. 1, 1991.

Acts 1997, No. 328, § 11, provided: "This Act shall be effective on and after November 15, 1998 unless a constitutional amendment or initiated act shall be approved or an act of the General Assembly shall become law before that date which exempts food, either wholly or partially, from the Arkansas gross receipts tax. If a constitutional amendment, initiated act, or act of the General Assembly exempting food is not approved, then the provisions of Section 1, 2, 3, 4, 6, 7, and 8 of this Act shall be effective for tax years beginning on and after January 1, 1998; the provisions of Section 5 of this Act shall be effective as provided in that section; and the provisions of Section 9 of this Act shall be effective as provided in Section 10."

Acts 1999, No. 1492, § 8: if contingency met, sections 1, 2, 3, 4 and 6 shall become effective on January 1, 2001, and Section 7 shall become effective on January 1, 2002. Effective date clause provided: "Effective Date. The provisions of Section 5 shall be effective 90 days after adjournment. The provisions of Sections 1, 2, 3, 4, 6 and 7 shall not be effective unless; a) the General Assembly refers a constitutional amendment to be approved during the 2000 general election; b) the amendment provides for a limitation on the increase in the assessed value of real property after a county-wide reappraisal; and c) the amendment is approved. If those conditions are met, Sections 1, 2, 3, 4 and 6 shall become effective on January 1, 2001, and Section 7 shall become effective on January 1, 2002. Claims for refund may be filed in 2001 pursuant to §§ 26-51-601 - 26-51-608 for property taxes paid during calendar year 2000 for property assessed in calendar year 1999."

Identical Acts 2000 (2d Ex. Sess.), Nos. 1 and 2, § 10. January 1, 2002.

A.C.R.C. Notes. Acts 1997, No. 328, § 12, provided:

"The withholding tables prescribed by the Director of the Department of Finance and Administration pursuant to Ark. Code Ann. § 26-51-907 shall not be amended for tax year 1998 to reflect the changes adopted by this Act. If this Act becomes effective on November 15, 1998, the effect of the various provisions of this Act for tax year 1998 shall be reflected on the income tax return filed for that year. For all subsequent years, the Director shall adjust the withholding tables as otherwise required by law."

Case Notes

Purpose.

Purpose.

The Uniform Division of Income for Tax Purposes Act is merely a procedural vehicle by which the states can resolve conflicts among themselves and aggrieved taxpayers. Land O'Frost, Inc. v. Pledger, 308 Ark. 208, 823 S.W.2d 887 (1992).

The Uniform Division of Income for Tax Purposes Act governs the manner in which Arkansas may impose income and franchise taxes on the earnings of multistate and multinational corporations doing business in the state, and is designed to fairly apportion among the states in which a corporation does business the fair amount of regular business income earned by the corporation's activities in each state. Pledger v. Getty Oil Exploration Co., 309 Ark. 257, 831 S.W.2d 121 (1992).

26-51-701. Definitions.

As used in this subchapter, unless the context otherwise requires:

(a) "Business income" means income arising from transactions and activity in the regular course of the taxpayer's trade or business and includes income from tangible and intangible property if the acquisition, management, and disposition of the property constitute integral parts of the taxpayer's regular trade or business operations;

(b) "Commercial domicile" means the principal place from which the trade or business of the taxpayer is directed or managed;

(c) "Compensation" means wages, salaries, commissions, and any other form of remuneration paid to employees for personal services;

(d) [Repealed.]

(e) "Nonbusiness income" means all income other than business income;

(f) "Public utility" means any business entity which owns or operates for public use any plant, equipment, property, franchise, or license for the transmission of communications, transportation of goods or persons, or the production, storage, transmission, sale, delivery, or furnishing of electricity, water, steam, oil, oil products, or gas;

(g) "Sales" means all gross receipts of the taxpayer not allocated under §§ 26-51-704 — 26-51-708;

(h) "State" means any state of the United States, the District of Columbia, the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico, any territory or possession of the United States, and any foreign country or political subdivision thereof.

Business Income.

—In General.

The focus of subsection (a) is the nature of the taxpayer's business, and business income arising from either of two sources: (1) transactions and activity in the regular course of the taxpayer's business, or (2) income from the acquisition, management, and disposition of property that constitutes integral parts of the taxpayer's regular business. Pledger v. Getty Oil Exploration Co., 309 Ark. 257, 831 S.W.2d 121 (1992).

—Unitary Business Principle.

Under the "unitary business" rationale, the general test for determining whether a diversified group of businesses had a unitary business relationship was to determine whether the income that the state was attempting to tax resulted from functional integration, centralization of management, and economies of scale utilized by the corporate group. Pledger v. Illinois Tool Works, Inc., 306 Ark. 134, 812 S.W.2d 101 (1991), cert. denied, Pledger v. Illinois Tool Works, 502 U.S. 958, 112 S. Ct. 418 (1991).

Applying the unitary business principle, the plaintiff's capital gains income from the sale of stock interest in three other companies was nonbusiness income for Arkansas's Uniform Division of Income for Tax Purposes Act (UDITPA) purposes; for at no time did the plaintiff hold the majority of the stock in these companies, and did not have a controlling interest or part. Pledger v. Illinois Tool Works, Inc., 306 Ark. 134, 812 S.W.2d 101 (1991), cert. denied, Pledger v. Illinois Tool Works, 502 U.S. 958, 112 S. Ct. 418 (1991).

Plaintiff's capital gains which were not an integral part of its regular manufacturing and leasing businesses did not fit the unitary business principle test. Pledger v. Illinois Tool Works, Inc., 306 Ark. 134, 812 S.W.2d 101 (1991), cert. denied, Pledger v. Illinois Tool Works, 502 U.S. 958, 112 S. Ct. 418 (1991).

Commercial Domicile.

Taxpayers were not entitled to a "commercial domicile" for income tax purposes, since there was no evidence that they paid any income tax in the state of Texas, their place of business, or that Texas even had an income tax law. Shinn v. Heath, 259 Ark. 577, 535 S.W.2d 57 (1976).

26-51-702. Apportionment of net income authorized.

Any taxpayer having income from business activity which is taxable both within and without this state, other than activity as a public utility or the rendering of purely personal services by an individual, shall allocate and apportion his net income as provided in this subchapter.

History. Acts 1961, No. 413, § 2; A.S.A. 1947, § 84-2056; Acts 1989, No. 494, § 1.

Case Notes

Provisions Not Applicable.

Provisions Not Applicable.

Income received by an Arkansas resident partner from a Texas partnership that did not conduct business in Arkansas was not exempted by this section from Arkansas income tax. Collins v. Skelton, 256 Ark. 955, 512 S.W.2d 542 (1974).

Taxpayers were not entitled to a “commercial domicile” for income tax purposes under this subchapter applying to income from business activity that is taxable both within and without the state, since there was no evidence that they paid any income tax in the state of Texas, their place of business, or that Texas even had an income tax law. Shinn v. Heath, 259 Ark. 577, 535 S.W.2d 57 (1976).

Under the unitary business principle, the taxpayer must show that income was earned in a course of activities, unrelated to the sale of its products in that state, for it not to be subject to apportioned tax. Pledger v. Illinois Tool Works, Inc., 306 Ark. 134, 812 S.W.2d 101 (1991), cert. denied, Pledger v. Illinois Tool Works, 502 U.S. 958, 112 S. Ct. 418 (1991).

26-51-703. Taxpayer taxable in another state.

For purposes of allocation and apportionment of income under this subchapter, a taxpayer is taxable in another state if:

(1) In that state the taxpayer is subject to a net income tax, a franchise tax measured by net income, or any other tax measured by income or other measure of business activity in the state and the taxpayer files the requisite tax return in the other state; or

(2) The state has no net income tax, franchise tax measured by net income, or any other tax measured by income or other measure of business activity in the state as provided in subdivision (1) of this section and the taxpayer has activities in the other state that exceed those protected by 15 U.S.C. §§ 381 — 385.

History. Acts 1961, No. 413, § 3; A.S.A. 1947, § 84-2057; Acts 2001, No. 1228, § 1; 2003, No. 1183, § 1.

Amendments. The 2003 amendment, in (1), substituted “or any other ... in the state” for “a franchise tax for the privilege of doing business, or a corporate stock tax”; and rewrote (2).

Effective Dates. Acts 2001, No. 1228, § 2: effective for tax years beginning on or after January 1, 2001.

26-51-704. Nonbusiness income.

Rents and royalties from real or tangible personal property, capital gains, interest, dividends, or patent or copyright royalties, to the extent that they constitute nonbusiness income, shall be allocated as provided in §§ 26-51-705 — 26-51-708.

26-51-705. Rents and royalties — Extent of utilization of tangible personal property.

- (a) Net rents and royalties from real property located in this state are allocable to this state.
- (b) Net rents and royalties from tangible personal property are allocable to this state:
 - (1) If and to the extent that the property is utilized in this state; or
 - (2) In their entirety if the taxpayer's commercial domicile is in this state and the taxpayer is not organized under the laws of or taxable in the state in which the property is utilized.
- (c) The extent of utilization of tangible personal property in a state is determined by multiplying the rents and royalties by a fraction, the numerator of which is the number of days of physical location of the property in the state during the rental or royalty period in the taxable year and the denominator of which is the number of days of physical location of the property everywhere during all rental or royalty periods in the taxable year. If the physical location of the property during the rental or royalty period is unknown or unascertainable by the taxpayer, tangible personal property is utilized in the state in which the property was located at the time the rental or royalty payer obtained possession.

26-51-706. Capital gains and losses from sales of property.

- (a) Capital gains and losses from sales of real property located in this state are allocable to this state.
- (b) Capital gains and losses from sales of tangible personal property are allocable to this state if:
 - (1) The property had a situs in the state at the time of the sale; or
 - (2) The taxpayer's commercial domicile is in this state; or
 - (3) The property has been included in depreciation which has been allocated to this state; in which event gains or losses on those sales shall be allocated on the percentage that is used in the formula for allocating income to Arkansas during the year of those sales.
- (c) Capital gains and losses from sales of intangible personal property are allocable to this state if the taxpayer's commercial domicile is in this state.

History. Acts 1961, No. 413, § 6; A.S.A. 1947, § 84-2060.

26-51-707. Interest and dividends.

Interest and dividends are allocable to this state if the taxpayer's commercial domicile is in this state.

26-51-708. Patent and copyright royalties.

(a) Patent and copyright royalties are allocable to this state:

(1) If and to the extent that the patent or copyright is utilized by the payer in this state; or

(2) If and to the extent that the patent or copyright is utilized by the payer in a state in which the taxpayer is not taxable and the taxpayer's commercial domicile is in this state.

(b) A patent is utilized in a state to the extent that it is employed in production, fabrication, manufacturing, or other processing in the state or to the extent that a patented product is produced in the state. If the basis of receipts from patent royalties does not permit allocation to states or if the accounting procedures do not reflect states of utilization, the patent is utilized in the state in which the taxpayer's commercial domicile is located.

(c) A copyright is utilized in a state to the extent that printing or other publication originates in the state. If the basis of receipts from copyright royalties does not permit allocation to states or if the accounting procedures do not reflect states of utilization, the copyright is utilized in the state in which the taxpayer's commercial domicile is located.

26-51-709. Business income.

All business income shall be apportioned to this state by multiplying the income by a fraction, the numerator of which is the property factor plus the payroll factor plus double the sales factor, and the denominator of which is four (4).

History. Acts 1961, No. 413, § 9; A.S.A. 1947, § 84-2063; Acts 1995, No. 682, § 2.

Publisher's Notes. Acts 1995, No. 682, § 3, provided that the 1995 amendments are effective for tax years beginning on or after January 1, 1995.

Amendments. The 1995 amendment substituted "plus double the sales factor, and the denominator of which is four (4)" for "plus the sales factor, and the denominator of which is three (3)."

Substantial Evidence.

Substantial Evidence.

Where the president of the surviving corporation had testified that the acquired equipment was used in the daily operations of the surviving corporation; that it would be impractical, if not impossible, to maintain records of which piece of equipment worked on which jobs; and that it would be impossible to determine the amount of income each individual piece of equipment had earned, and where the corporation's accountant testified that he had used the only acceptable method available to him to determine the pro rata share of income earned by the acquired equipment; that the use of the original cost of property rather than the book value was required by the Arkansas Statutes in the division and apportionment of income earned by multistate corporations; and that the information necessary to use one of the other methods to arrive at a pro rata share was not available to the accountant, substantial evidence supported the chancellor's decision that the surviving corporation had presented a prima facie case to prove that the equipment acquired by the surviving corporation in the merger had generated income of $151,500.54, an amount sufficient to absorb the carryover net operating loss of $95,182.80 claimed by the surviving corporation. “Whereas, this State has been neglectful of its Wards in the Charitable Institutions, which is a disgrace to the people of a Great Commonwealth, and it is imperative that additional Revenue should be provided to correct the fearful conditions which now exist; and

“Whereas, an equalization Fund should be provided to give equal Educational opportunities to the Boys and Girls of our Rural Communities; and

“Whereas, Agricultural and Industrial development is now being retarded because of a policy to secure practically all of the Revenue from an Ad Valorem Tax, thus penalizing and discouraging ownership of property, while many who enjoy the benefits of Government and have large incomes, pay almost nothing to support the Government; Therefore....”

Effective Dates. Acts 1929, No. 118, § 44: approved Mar. 9, 1929. Emergency clause provided:

“It is hereby ascertained and declared that the Hospital for Nervous Diseases is inadequate to properly care for all who should be confined therein, to the end there are many persons of unsound mind at large, who are a menace to the public safety, and that said Hospital as now equipped is inadequate to restrain those insane persons who are confined therein, so that there is danger of their escaping at any time and imperil the safety of the public; that there are hundreds and hundreds of persons desiring to enter the Tuberculosis Sanitarium who cannot now be accommodated there, because that institution has neither room, beds nor facilities for additional people, as a result said consumptives at large are spreading the disease amongst their families and friends; that the funds to be raised by this Act will be used for the better care of the charitable wards of this State and to provide better for the rural schools of this State; and it is therefore ascertained and declared that it is necessary for the public peace, health and safety that this Act go into immediate operation, and accordingly it is provided that this act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage.”

Acts 1935, No. 23, § 3: approved Feb. 7, 1935. Emergency clause provided: “It being determined that this Act is necessary to better enforce the collection of Income Tax, and said act being necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety, an emergency is hereby declared to exist, and this act shall take effect and be in full force from and after its passage.”

Acts 1937, No. 183, § 3: Mar. 3, 1937. Emergency clause provided: “It having been ascertained that much additional revenue will be collected by the State of Arkansas upon the passage of this Act, and it having been determined that this Act is necessary to better enforce the collection of Income Tax, which will result in increased financial benefits to the people of this State, an emergency is hereby declared to exist, and this Act being necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety, shall take effect and be in full force from and after its passage and approval.”

Acts 1939, No. 140, § 8: Feb. 25, 1939. Emergency clause provided: “It having been ascertained that this Act is necessary to better enforce the collection of the Income Tax Law, which will result in increased financial benefits to the people of this State, an emergency is hereby declared to exist, and this Act being necessary for the immediate preservation for the public peace, health and safety, shall take effect and be in full force from and after its passage and approval.”

Acts 1947, No. 335, § 8: Mar. 28, 1947. Emergency clause provided: “It has been ascertained by the Legislature that adjustments and revisions of the present income tax laws are necessary to correct the method of computing and reporting income to the State for purposes of taxation thereof and to facilitate the enforcement of present laws relating thereto, and this law being necessary to remedy this situation and to provide for the public peace, health and safety and well being, an emergency is hereby declared to exist and this Act shall be in full force and effect after its passage and approval.”

Acts 1957, No. 20, § 6: Feb. 7, 1957. Emergency clause provided: “It has been found and is hereby declared by the General Assembly of the State of Arkansas (1) that inflationary prices are having the effect of curtailing the activities of certain necessary agencies of the State Government, including the State Hospital and other eleemosynary institutions, the University of Arkansas and the other state supported institutions of higher learning, the Public School System, the Public Welfare Program, and others; (2) that a minimum program of operation of the said state agencies and activities requires a large amount of state funds in excess of the amounts estimated to be available under existing revenue laws; (3) that to fail to provide additional funds will have the effect of further curtailing the activities of said agencies and programs to the great detriment to all of the people of this State; and (4) that only the provisions of this act will provide funds in amounts sufficient to alleviate the aforementioned conditions. It has also been found and is hereby declared by the General Assembly that in order that the state agencies, beneficiaries of the increased revenues hereunder, may properly plan their respective programs of operation, and that the Revenue Department may prepare and print the necessary income tax forms, and prepare, print and distribute the necessary instructions relative to the use of such forms, this act take effect without delay. Therefore, an emergency is hereby declared to exist, and this act being necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health and safety shall take effect and be in full force from and after the date of its passage and approval."

Acts 1968 (1st Ex. Sess.), No. 61, § 9: Feb. 27, 1968. Emergency clause provided: "It is hereby found and determined by the General Assembly that many employers in this State are required under the provisions of Act 132 of 1965 to withhold small amounts on a weekly, bi-weekly, semi-monthly, or monthly basis from the wages paid employees and to remit the same to the Commissioner of Revenues; that this places an undue burden upon the employer of withholding and reporting such income tax; and that to remove inequities and at the same time to insure the effective enforcement of the income tax and income tax withholding laws of this State, it is necessary that this Act become effective immediately. Therefore, an emergency is hereby declared to exist and this Act being necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety, shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage and approval."

Acts 1979, No. 114, § 4: Feb. 13, 1979. Emergency clause provided: "It is hereby found that there is an inconsistency in the current State Income Tax Code such that persons who by law are not liable for tax due to the size of their incomes are nonetheless required to file tax returns; that this inconsistency results in a hardship upon those persons and a waste of public money and the time of public employees; that this situation should be corrected without delay in order that it not continue through another calendar year tax return filing period; therefore, an emergency is hereby declared to exist, and this Act being necessary to the public peace, health and safety, shall take effect and be in full force from and after the date of its passage and approval."

Acts 1979, No. 708, § 10: Apr. 2, 1979. Emergency clause provided: "It is hereby found and determined by the General Assembly that the clarification of the consolidated return statutes is needed to provide both an equitable manner for the taxation of corporations in an affiliated group and also to protect revenues, and that only by the immediate passage of this Act will these problems be corrected. Therefore, an emergency is declared to exist and this Act, being immediately necessary for the preservation of the public peace, welfare and safety, shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage and approval."

Acts 1981, No. 403, § 3: Jan. 1, 1982.

Acts 1983, No. 673, § 4: Mar. 22, 1983. Emergency clause provided: "It is hereby found and determined by the General Assembly that the Arkansas Student Loan Authority and the Student Loan Guarantee Foundation of Arkansas are charged with collecting student loan indebtedness and that in some cases those agencies are unable to locate persons who fail to make payment of their student loans; that all reasonable assistance should be given those agencies in locating persons who fail to repay student loans as agreed; that this Act is designed to aid those agencies in locating such persons by authorizing the Commissioner of Revenues to disclose to those agencies information concerning the last known address and/or last known employer of such persons. Therefore, an emergency is hereby declared to exist and this Act being necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage and approval."

Acts 1983, No. 832, § 3: Jan. 1, 1983.

Acts 1985 (1st Ex. Sess.), No. 20, § 4: June 26, 1985. Emergency clause provided: "It is hereby found and determined by the General Assembly that Act 848 of 1985 as it was finally enacted phases in over a three year period the federal capital gains treatment for Arkansas income tax purposes beginning in 1987; that it was intended that the federal capital loss provisions likewise not be implemented until 1987 but that intent was not articulated in Act 848; that Act 848 adopts the federal capital loss provisions immediately instead of 1987; that Act 848 becomes effective on June 28, 1985; and therefore this Act should be given immediate effect in order to make the technical correction in a timely manner and thereby avoid unintended consequences. Therefore an emergency is hereby declared to exist and this Act, being necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health and safety, shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage and approval.”

Acts 1985 (1st Ex. Sess.), No. 32, § 4: June 26, 1985. Emergency clause provided: “It is hereby found and determined by the General Assembly that Act 848 of 1985 as it was finally enacted phases in over a three year period the federal capital gains treatment for Arkansas income tax purposes beginning in 1987; that it was intended that the federal capital loss provisions likewise not be implemented until 1987 but that intent was not articulated in Act 848; that Act 848 adopts the federal capital loss provisions immediately instead of 1987; that Act 848 becomes effective on June 28, 1985; and therefore this Act should be given immediate effect in order to make the technical correction in a timely manner and thereby avoid unintended consequences. Therefore an emergency is hereby declared to exist and this Act, being necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health and safety, shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage and approval.”

Acts 1987, No. 35, § 4: Feb. 13, 1987. Emergency clause provided: “It is hereby found and determined by the General Assembly that the Arkansas Capital Gains Law becomes effective during calendar year 1987; that due to the present economic conditions the implementation should be postponed for two years; that this Act delays that implementation; and that this Act should go into effect immediately in order to prevent taxpayers from relying upon its becoming effective during calendar year 1987. Therefore, an emergency is hereby declared to exist and this Act being immediately necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health and safety shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage and approval.”

Acts 1987, No. 382, § 34: Mar. 24, 1987. Emergency clause provided: “It is hereby found and determined by the General Assembly of the State of Arkansas that the federal government has recently made major changes in the federal income tax law; that for simplicity of administration and equity various provisions of the federal law should be adopted for Arkansas Income Tax purposes; and that for the effective administration of this Act, the Act should become effective immediately. Therefore an emergency is hereby declared to exist and this Act being immediately necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health and safety shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage and approval.”

Acts 1989, No. 933, § 5: Mar. 24, 1989. Emergency clause provided: “It is hereby found and determined by the General Assembly that the Arkansas Capital Gains Law becomes effective during calendar year 1989; that due to the present economic conditions that implementation should be postponed for two years; that this Act delays the implementation; and that this Act should go into effect immediately in order to prevent taxpayers from relying upon its becoming effective during calendar year 1989. Therefore, an emergency is hereby declared to exist and this Act being immediately necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health and safety shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage and approval.”

Acts 1991, No. 95, § 9: Feb. 11, 1991. Emergency clause provided: “It is hereby found and determined by the General Assembly that certain low income working taxpayers and senior citizens bear a disproportionate share of the state tax burden; that unless this act becomes effective immediately upon passage irreparable harm will occur to low income taxpayers of this state; and that this act should become effective immediately upon passage. Therefore, an emergency is hereby declared to exist and this Act being necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health and safety shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage and approval.”

Acts 1991, No. 685, § 11: Jan. 1, 1991.

Acts 1991, No. 882, § 2: Jan. 1, 1991.

Acts 1993, No. 785, § 24: Mar. 30, 1993. Emergency clause provided: “It is hereby found and determined that certain changes are necessary to the Arkansas income tax laws; that these changes are necessary immediately in order to maintain the efficient administration of the Arkansas income tax laws; and that this act is necessary to effectuate that purpose. Therefore, an emergency is hereby declared to exist and this act being necessary for the preservation of public peace, health and safety shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage and approval.”

Acts 1993, No. 1018, § 6: Apr. 12, 1993. Emergency clause provided: “It is hereby found and determined by the General Assembly that the Arkansas Public Institutions of Higher Education are charged with collecting student indebtedness and that in some cases those institutions are unable to locate persons who fail to make payment of their student indebtedness; that all reasonable assistance should be given those agencies in locating persons who fail to pay or repay student tuition, fees, loans, and other student indebtedness; that this act is designed to aid those institutions in locating such persons by authorizing the Commissioner of Revenues to disclose to those agencies information concerning the last known address and/or last known employer of such persons. Therefore, an emergency is hereby declared to exist and this act being necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage and approval.”

26-51-805. Consolidated corporate returns.

(a) (1) All corporations which are eligible members of an affiliated group as that term is defined in 26 U.S.C. § 1504(a) and (b) as of January 1, 1989, which affiliated group files a federal consolidated corporate income tax return pursuant to 26 U.S.C. §§ 1501-1505 as of January 1, 1989, may elect to file a consolidated Arkansas corporate income tax return.

(2) However, only corporations in the affiliated group that have gross income from sources within the State of Arkansas that is subject to taxation under the provisions of the Arkansas Income Tax Act, as amended, § 26-51-101 et seq., shall be eligible to file consolidated corporate income tax returns in Arkansas.

(b) (1) All corporations in the affiliated group which are eligible to file an Arkansas consolidated income tax return must consent to, and join in, the filing of the consolidated return prior to the last day for filing the return, as may be extended.

(2) The making of the consolidated income tax return shall be deemed as consent of each eligible corporation in the affiliated group.

(c) When filing an Arkansas consolidated corporate income tax return, a complete copy of the federal consolidated corporate income tax return filed with the federal Internal Revenue Service for that taxable year must be attached to the Arkansas return.

(d) (1) The election to file an Arkansas consolidated corporate income tax return for any income year shall require the filing of consolidated corporate income tax returns for all subsequent income years so long as the individual corporations remain members of the affiliated group unless the Director of the Department of Finance and Administration consents to the filing of separate returns by any members of the affiliated group.

(2) However, in the event that the General Assembly amends or supplements the Arkansas Income Tax Act, § 26-51-101 et seq., in a manner which would substantially alter the method of allocating or apportioning net income or loss subject to the Arkansas Income Tax Act, § 26-51-101 et seq., or in computing the tax due from the affiliated group, then the affiliated group may revoke the election to file an Arkansas consolidated corporate income tax return effective for the income year to which any such change to the Arkansas Income Tax Act, § 26-51-101 et seq., is effective.

(e) In any case of two (2) or more corporations, whether or not affiliated, owned, or controlled directly or indirectly by the same interests, the director may distribute, apportion, or allocate gross income, deductions, credits, or allowances between or among such corporations if he determines that the distribution, apportionment, or allocation is necessary in order to prevent evasion of taxes or clearly to reflect the income to any such corporation. This subsection is based upon the concept of 26 U.S.C. § 482 as of January 1, 1989, as that section applies to corporations.

(f) In computing Arkansas consolidated taxable income or loss to which the tax rate is applied, the separate net income or loss of each corporation which is entitled to be included in the affiliated group shall be included in the consolidated net income or loss to the extent that its net income or loss is separately apportioned or allocated to the State of Arkansas in accordance with the provisions of § 26-51-701 et seq.

(g) This section is specifically designed to clarify the filing of consolidated corporate income tax returns with the Revenue Division of the Department of Finance and Administration and is to amend the Arkansas Income Tax Act, § 26-51-101 et seq. This section is based upon the concept of filing federal consolidated income tax returns.

Construction.

Charitable Contributions.

Construction.

This section does not mandate the filing of a combined return or the filing of any specific type of return. Leathers v. Jacuzzi, Inc., 326 Ark. 857, 935 S.W.2d 252 (1996).

Charitable Contributions.

The legislative intent is to follow the federal concept of allowing deductions for charitable contributions to be taken at the consolidated-entity level; this section does not require that charitable contributions be deducted at the individual level by the separate corporations before a consolidated tax return is filed. Central & S. Cos. v. Weiss, 339 Ark. 76, 3 S.W.3d 294 (1999).

26-51-806. Filing returns — Time and place — Forms.

(a) (1) Returns shall be in such form as the Director of the Department of Finance and Administration may prescribe from time to time and shall be filed with the director's office at Little Rock.

(2) Returns for all income taxes other than corporation income tax, cooperative associations, and exempt organizations shall be filed as follows:

(A) If covering the preceding calendar year, on or before April 15; or

(B) If covering a fiscal year, on or before the expiration of three and one-half (3½) months after the closing date of the period covered.

(3) Returns for corporation income tax shall be filed as follows:

(A) If covering the preceding calendar year, on or before March 15; or

(B) If covering a fiscal year, on or before the expiration of two and one-half (2½) months after the closing date of the period covered.

(4) (A) Returns for cooperative association income tax shall be filed as follows:

(i) If covering the preceding calendar year, on or before September 15; or

(ii) If covering a fiscal year, on or before the expiration of eight and one-half (8½) months after the closing date of the period covered.

(B) As used in this section, "cooperative association" means a cooperative association as described in § 26 U.S.C. § 1381(a) as in effect on January 1, 2003.

(5) (A) Returns for an exempt organization that is required to file an income tax return shall be filed as follows:

(i) If covering the preceding calendar year, on or before May 15;
or

(ii) If covering a fiscal year, on or before the expiration of four and one-half (4½) months after the closing date of the period covered.

(B) As used in this section, “exempt organization” means an organization as described in § 26-51-303.

(b) (1) The director shall cause to be prepared blank forms for the returns and shall cause them to be furnished upon application, but failure to receive or secure the forms shall not relieve any taxpayer from the obligation of making any return required by this act.

(2) As far as possible and practicable for filing returns for income tax, the director shall use the same form of blanks as is used by the United States down to the net income part of the form.

(c) (1) In filing an income tax return in the State of Arkansas, a taxpayer shall not be required to execute any affidavit or other statement under oath, but shall make the following statement, which shall be annexed to the return:

“I declare, under the penalties of perjury, that the foregoing statements are true to the best of my knowledge and belief and that all my income is reported hereon.”

(Year)

(2) The statement shall be signed by the taxpayer filing the return.

(d) (1) Every corporation filing a return under this act shall attach to the return a completed copy of its federal tax return for the same income year, including all schedules and attachments.

(2) As used in this subsection, “corporation” means a Subchapter C corporation as defined in § 1361(a) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, in effect January 1, 1989. History. Acts 1929, No. 118, Art. 4, § 22; 1929, No. 118, Art. 9, § 43; 1935, No. 23, § 1; 1937, No. 183, § 1; Pope's Dig., §§ 14045, 14066; Acts 1947, No. 158, § 1; 1979, No. 600, § 1; 1981, No. 403, § 1; A.S.A. 1947, §§ 84-2027, 84-2028, 84-2048; Acts 1989, No. 826, § 7; 2003, No. 774, § 2; 2007, No. 369, §§ 3, 4.

Publisher's Notes. As to the short title of Acts 1989, No. 826, see Publisher's Notes, § 26-51-805.

As to the effective date of Acts 1989, No. 826, see Publisher's Notes, § 26-51-805.

Amendments. The 2003 amendment redesignated former (a) as present (a)(1) and deleted “Arkansas on or before May 15, if covering the preceding calendar year and, if covering a fiscal year, on or before the expiration of four and one half (4½) months from the closing date of the period covered” from the end; and added (a)(2) through (a)(4).

The 2007 amendment, in (a)(2), substituted “tax” for “tax and” following “income”, made a minor punctuation change and inserted “and exempt organizations”; substituted “As used in this section, cooperative” for “Cooperative” in (a)(4)(B); and added (a)(5).

Effective Dates. Acts 2003, No. 774, § 6: applicable to tax years beginning on or after January 1, 2003.

Acts 2007, No. 369, § 4, provided: “This act shall be effective for tax years beginning on or after January 1, 2007.”

Meaning of “this act”. See note to § 26-51-801.

U.S. Code. Section 1361 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, referred to in this section, is codified as 26 U.S.C. § 1361.

Case Notes

Construction.

Construction.

The adoption, for convenience, of the same blank forms certainly does not mean that the state also adopts the federal income tax law in its entirety. F & M Bank v. Skelton, 266 Ark. 680, 587 S.W.2d 561 (1979).

26-51-807. Filing returns — Extensions of time.

(a) (1) Any person who requests an automatic extension of time for filing a federal income tax return and who attaches a copy of the request to the corresponding state income tax return shall be granted an extension of time until the due date of the federal income tax return to file the corresponding state income tax return.

(2) Any person who receives an extension of time for filing a federal income tax return in addition to an automatic extension, and who attaches a copy of the document granting the federal extension to the corresponding state income tax return, shall be granted an extension of time until the due date of the federal income tax return to file the corresponding state income tax return.

(b) (1) The Director of the Department of Finance and Administration shall assess the taxpayer interest at the rate of ten percent (10%) per annum on the amount of tax finally determined to be due.

(2) (A) (i) The interest on income tax other than corporation income tax may be computed from April 16 if the return covers the preceding calendar year.

(ii) If the return covers a fiscal year, interest shall be computed from the day following the expiration of three and one-half (3½) months after the closing date of the period covered.

(B) The interest on corporation income tax shall be computed as follows:

(i) If the return covers a calendar year, from March 16; or

(ii) If the return covers a fiscal year, from the day following the expiration of two and one-half (2½) months after the closing date of the period covered.

(c) The director may grant a taxpayer's written request to extend the time for filing a corporation income tax return for a period of time not to exceed sixty (60) days in addition to the extensions provided in subsection (a) of this section that correspond to the extensions for filing a federal return.

(d) The director may promulgate regulations granting automatic extensions of time to file income tax returns and information returns without the taxpayer being required to submit a written application, a copy of the federal request for extension, or a copy of the document granting the federal extension if the director determines that such requirements are unnecessary for the administration of the income tax laws.

Publisher's Notes. Acts 1991, No. 685, § 11, provided:

"The provisions of this act shall be in full force and effect for all income years beginning on and after January 1, 1991."

Amendments. The 2003 amendment redesignated former (b)(2) as present (b)(2)(A); in (b)(2)(A), inserted “on income ... tax” following “interest,” substituted “April” for “May,” substituted “three and one-half (3 ½)” for “four and one-half (4 ½)” and added (b)(2)(B).

The 2007 amendment rewrote (c).

Effective Dates. Acts 2003, No. 774, § 6: applicable to tax years beginning on or after January 1, 2003.

Acts 2007, No. 369, § 4, provided: “This act shall be effective for tax years beginning on or after January 1, 2007.”

26-51-808. Failure to file return or include income — Return or supplemental return.

(a) If the Director of the Department of Finance and Administration shall be of the opinion that any taxpayer has failed to file a return or failed to include in a return filed, either intentionally or through error, items of taxable income, the director may require from the taxpayer a return or a supplementary return, under oath, in such form as he shall prescribe, of all the items of income which the taxpayer received during the year for which the return is made, whether or not taxable under the provisions of this act.

(b) If from a supplementary return or otherwise, the Director of the Department of Finance and Administration finds that any items of income taxable under this act have been omitted from the original return, he may require the items so omitted to be disclosed to him, under oath of the taxpayer, and to be added to the original return.

(c) Such supplementary return and the correction of original shall not relieve the taxpayer from any of the penalties to which he may be liable under any provision of this act.

26-51-810. Forms provided to tax practitioners.

(a) The Director of the Department of Finance and Administration may impose a postage fee sufficient to defray the cost of postage for mailing out tax forms to tax practitioners.

(b) A tax practitioner is any person, partnership, limited liability company, or corporation who compiles a tax return for hire.

History. Acts 1968 (1st Ex. Sess.), No. 61, § 5; A.S.A. 1947, § 84-2027.1; Acts 1995, No. 1160, § 25.

Publisher's Notes. Acts 1968 (1st Ex. Sess.), No. 61, § 5, formerly was compiled as A.S.A. 1947, § 84-2079.7, before being transferred to become A.S.A. 1947, § 84-2027.1.

Amendments. The 1995 amendment inserted "limited liability company" in (b).

26-51-811. Information at source as to recipients of income.

(a) (1) Every individual, partnership, limited liability company, corporation, joint-stock company or association, or insurance company, being a resident or having a place of business in this state; members of a partnership or employees in whatever capacity acting, including lessees or mortgagees, of real or personal property; members or managers of limited liability companies or employees in whatever capacity acting; fiduciaries; employers and all officers and employees of this state, or of any political subdivision of this state, having the control, receipt, custody, disposal, or payment of interest, rent, salaries, wages, premiums, annuities, compensations, remunerations, emoluments, or other fixed or determinable annual or periodical gains, profits, and income amounting to two thousand five hundred dollars ($2,500) or over, paid or payable during any year to any taxpayer shall make complete returns under oath to the Director of the Department of Finance and Administration, under such regulations and in such form and manner and to such extent as may be prescribed by the director with the approval of the Governor.

(2) Unless the income is so reported, the director may disallow such payments as deductions or credits in computing the tax of the payer.

(b) The returns may be required, regardless of amounts:

(1) In the case of payments of interest upon bonds, mortgages, deeds of trust, or other similar obligations of corporations; and

(2) In the case of dividends paid by corporations.

(c) When necessary to make effective the provisions of this section, the name and address of the recipient of income shall be furnished upon demand of the person paying the income.

(d) The provisions of this section shall not apply to the payment of interest obligations not taxable under this act.

Amendments. The 1995 amendment, in (a)(1), inserted "limited liability company" and inserted "members or managers of limited liability companies or employees in whatever capacity acting."

Meaning of "this act". See note to § 26-51-801.

26-51-812. Withholding tax at source.

(a) The Director of the Department of Finance and Administration, whenever he deems it necessary to ensure compliance with the provisions of this act, may, under rules and regulations prescribed by him, require any individual, partnership, limited liability company, corporation, joint-stock company, or association, including lessees or mortgagors and employees of the state or of any political subdivision of the state having control, receipt, custody, disposal, or payment of interest, other than interest coupons payable to bearer, rent, salaries, wages, premiums, compensation, remunerations, emoluments, or other fixed or determinable annual or periodical gains, profits, and income paid or payable to any taxpayer, to deduct and withhold the tax due from the taxpayer and make return thereof and pay the tax to the director.

(b) (1) Upon the giving of notice by the director to the fiduciary of an estate or trust that the taxes due under this act from the grantor or beneficiary of an estate or trust on income of the estate or trust, which is taxable to the grantor or beneficiary under the provisions of § 26-51-201, have not been paid, the fiduciary shall withhold the amount of the taxes from any payments or distribution due or to become due from the estate or trust to the grantor or beneficiary and transmit the amount so withheld to the director.

(2) The notice required in this section is to be served on the fiduciary or other person named above by registered mail, the letter to be directed to the last known address of the fiduciary or other person so named above, as the address appears in the records of the director.

(3) Any person failing or refusing to deduct and withhold the tax due from any taxpayer as required by the director pursuant to this section shall be personally liable for such tax, and the director may proceed against him as provided for in § 27 [repealed] of this act.

(c) The provisions of this section shall not apply to the payment of interest obligations not taxable under this act.

History. Acts 1929, No. 118, Art. 4, § 21; Pope's Dig., § 14044; Acts 1939, No. 140, § 3; 1947, No. 335, § 2; A.S.A. 1947, § 84-2026; Acts 1995, No. 1160, § 19.

Publisher's Notes. Acts 1947, No. 335, § 7, provided that it is declared to be the intention of the General Assembly that this act shall be applicable to the income year 1946, calendar or fiscal, and for each year thereafter.

Amendments. The 1995 amendment, in (a), inserted "limited liability company" and made minor stylistic changes.

Meaning of "this act". See note to § 26-51-801.

26-51-813. Reports and returns — Confidentiality — Exceptions.

(a) It shall be unlawful for the Department of Finance and Administration or any other public official or employee to divulge or otherwise make known in any manner any particulars set forth or disclosed in any report or return required by this act or any information concerning the taxpayer's affairs acquired from the taxpayer's records, officers, or employees while examining or auditing any taxpayer's liability for taxes imposed under this act, except:

(1) In connection with a proceeding involving taxes due under this act from the taxpayer making the return; and

(2) In the manner and for the purposes prescribed in this section, the Arkansas Tax Procedure Act, § 26-18-101 et seq., and §§ 26-5-107, 26-5-108, 26-51-910, 26-52-105, 26-52-302, 26-52-303, 26-52-509, and 26-59-111.

(b) The Director of the Department of Finance and Administration may furnish a copy of any taxpayer's return to any official of the United States or of any state having duties to perform in respect to the assessment or collection of any tax imposed upon or measured by income if the taxpayer is required by the laws of the United States or of the state to make a return in the United States or that state and if the laws of the United States or of the state provide substantially for the same secrecy in respect to the information revealed by the taxpayer's return as is provided by Arkansas laws.

(c) The director and all other public officials and employees shall keep and maintain the same secrecy in respect to any information furnished by any department, commission, or official of the United States or of any other state in respect to the income of any person as is required by this act in respect to information concerning the affairs of the taxpayer under this act.

(d) Nothing in this section shall be construed to prohibit the department from publishing statistics so classified as not to disclose the identity of a particular return or report and the items of the return or report, or the inspection by the Attorney General or other legal representatives of this state of the return or report of any taxpayer who shall bring action to set aside or review the tax paid on the return or report or against whom an action or proceeding is necessary to recover any tax or any penalty imposed by this act.

(e) (1) Nothing in this section shall be construed to prohibit the Department of Finance and Administration from disclosing from any return or other record maintained by the director to the Office of Child Support Enforcement of the Revenue Division of the Department of Finance and Administration the last known address or whereabouts or the last known employer of any deserting parent from whom the office is charged with collecting child support.

(2) In providing this information, the Department of Finance and Administration shall not allow the office to examine the tax return, except that the Department of Finance and Administration shall disclose the taxpayer's tax return, personal and business, when compelled by an order of any Arkansas circuit court or the Supreme Court in any case or controversy before that court.

(f) (1) Nothing in this section shall be construed to prohibit the Department of Finance and Administration from disclosing from any return or other record maintained by the director to the Arkansas Student Loan Authority or the Student Loan Guarantee Foundation of Arkansas, the last known address or whereabouts or the last known employer of any person from whom the Arkansas Student Loan Authority and the Student Loan Guarantee Foundation of Arkansas are charged with collecting a student loan indebtedness.

(2) In providing this information the Department of Finance and Administration shall not allow the Arkansas Student Loan Authority or the Student Loan Guarantee Foundation of Arkansas to examine the tax return.

(g) (1) Nothing in this section shall be construed to prohibit the Department of Finance and Administration from disclosing from any return or other record maintained by the director to the Department of Higher Education or any Arkansas public institution of higher education the last known address or whereabouts or the last known employer of any person from whom these institutions are charged with collecting student indebtedness.

(2) In providing this information, the Department of Finance and Administration shall not allow the Department of Higher Education or the Arkansas public institutions of higher education to examine the tax return.

26-51-815. Computing capital gains and losses.

(a) (1) (A) To the extent they apply to capital gains and losses realized or incurred during income years beginning after December 31, 1996, 26 U.S.C. §§ 1211-1237 and 1239-1257 as in effect on January 1, 2007, and the regulations of the Secretary of the Treasury promulgated under 26 U.S.C. §§ 1211-1237 and 1239-1257 as in effect on January 1, 2007, are adopted for the purpose of computing tax liability under the Income Tax Act of 1929, § 26-51-101 et seq.

(B) However, the provisions of this section shall not apply to a C corporation as defined in 26 U.S.C. § 1361, as in effect on January 1, 1997.

(2) Furthermore, any other provisions of the federal income tax law and regulations necessary for interpreting and implementing 26 U.S.C. §§ 1211-1237 and 1239-1257 are adopted to that extent and as in effect on January 1, 2007.

(b) If a taxpayer has a net capital gain for tax years beginning on and after January 1, 1999, thirty percent (30%) of the gain shall be exempt from state income tax.

(c) Section 1202 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as in effect on January 1, 1995, regarding the exclusion from gain of certain small business stock, is adopted for the purpose of computing Arkansas income tax liability.

(d) (1) If a taxpayer has a net capital gain from a venture capital investment, one hundred percent (100%) of the gain shall be exempt from the Income Tax Act of 1929, § 26-51-101 et seq., if:

(A) The venture capital investment was initially made on or after January 1, 2001; and

(B) The venture capital investment was held for at least five (5) years prior to disposition.

(2) (A) “Venture capital” means equity financing, broadly defined, including early stage research, development, commercialization, seed capital for startup enterprises, and other risk capital for expansion of entrepreneurial enterprises doing business in Arkansas that are:

(i) Qualified technology-based enterprises doing business in Arkansas;

(ii) Qualified biotechnology enterprises doing business in Arkansas; or

(iii) Qualified technology incubator clients doing business in Arkansas.

(B) “Venture capital” does not include the purchase of a share of stock in a company if, on the date on which the share of stock is purchased, the company has securities outstanding that are:

(i) Registered on a national securities exchange under § 12(b) of Title I of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 as it exists on January 1, 2001;

(ii) Registered or required to be registered under § 12(g) of Title I of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 as it exists on January 1, 2001; or

(iii) Required to be registered except for the exemptions in § 12(g)(2) of Title I of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 as it exists on January 1, 2001.

(C) “Qualified biotechnology enterprise” means a corporation, partnership, limited liability company, sole proprietorship, or other entity that is certified by the Arkansas Economic Development Commission pursuant to § 2-8-108.

(D) “Qualified technology incubator” means a business incubator certified by the Board of Directors of the Arkansas Science and Technology Authority as being a facility operated in cooperation with an Arkansas college or university to foster the growth of technology-based enterprises.

(E) “Qualified technology incubator client” means a corporation, partnership, limited liability company, sole proprietorship, or other entity that, as of the date of the venture capital investment, is certified by an Arkansas college or university as currently receiving, or having received within the previous three (3) years, the services of a qualified technology incubator.

(F) “Qualified technology-based enterprise” means a corporation, partnership, limited liability company, sole proprietorship, or other legal entity whose primary business directly involves commercializing the results of research in fields having long-term economic or commercial value to the state and having been identified in the research and development plan approved by the board.

History. Acts 1929, No. 118, §§ 45, 46, as added by 1985, No. 848, § 1; 1985 (1st Ex. Sess.), No. 20, § 1; 1985 (1st Ex. Sess.), No. 32, § 1; A.S.A. 1947, §§ 84-2048.1, 84-2048.2; Acts 1987, No. 35, § 2; 1989, No. 933, § 2; 1991, No. 882, § 1; 1995, No. 1160, § 9; 1997, No. 951, § 16; 1999, No. 1005, § 1; 1999, No. 1126, § 39; 2001, No. 1584, § 1; 2003, No. 857, § 1; 2007, No. 218, § 36.

A.C.R.C. Notes. Acts 1989, No. 933, § 1, provided “It is hereby found and determined by the General Assembly that the United States Congress is anticipated to adopt special treatment for capital gains income for federal income tax purposes, and that it is in the best interest of this State for the General Assembly to enact a capital gains law to parallel the federal capital gains law as soon as the United States Congress takes such action. Therefore, in order to timely implement a capital gains law to synchronize with the federal capital gains law, the Governor is hereby requested to include a capital gains proposal in his call for the first Special Session of the Arkansas General Assembly which occurs after the United States Congress enacts a law addressing capital gains treatment under the federal Internal Revenue Code.”

Acts 1991, No. 882, § 2, provided:

“This act shall be effective for income years beginning on or after January 1, 1991.”

Acts 1995, No. 1160, § 42, provided that the 1995 amendments are applicable for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1995.

Publisher's Notes. Acts 1997, No. 951, § 34, provided that Sections 1 through 24, 32 and 33 shall be effective for tax years beginning on and after January 1, 1997. However, it is the intent of this Act that those portions of the Internal Revenue Code adopted by this Act which for federal tax purposes do not become effective until some time after January 1, 1997, shall also not become effective for state tax purposes until the same time.

Amendments. The 2003 amendment added present (d)(2)(D); redesignated former (d)(2)(D) and (d)(2)(E) as present (d)(2)(E) and (d)(2)(F); in (d)(2)(E), substituted “an Arkansas college or university” for “the University of Arkansas” and “a qualified technology incubator” for “the GENESIS Technology Incubator at the University of Arkansas”; and in (d)(2)(F), substituted “commercializing the ... board” for “information technology, nano-technology, or emerging technology for energy such as micro-turbines that is doing business in Arkansas.”

The 2007 amendment substituted “January 1, 2007” for “January 1, 1999” throughout (a).

U.S. Code. Section 1202 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, referred to in this section, is codified as 26 U.S.C. § 1202.

Sections 12(b), 12(g), and 12(g)(2) of Title I of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, referred to in this section, are codified as 15 U.S.C. § 78l.

Effective Dates. Acts 1999, No. 1005, § 2: effective for tax years beginning on and after January 1, 1999.

Acts 1999, No. 1126, § 43: effective for tax years beginning on or after January 1, 1999.

Effective Dates. Acts 1965, No. 132, §§ 24, 27: Jan. 1, 1966. Emergency clause provided: "It is hereby found and determined by the General Assembly that the establishment of the State income tax withholding system provided for in this Act necessitates a great deal of advance planning and preparation by the Commissioner and the Department of Revenues; that it is essential to the proper initiation and administration of the withholding system provided for herein that the Commissioner of Revenues promulgate rules and regulations, prescribe forms and procure the printing of the same, and take bids upon and purchase equipment and supplies necessary therefor; and that it is necessary that this Act take effect immediately in order that the Commissioner and the Department of Revenues may commence such planning and preparation and may take bids upon and negotiate the purchase of the equipment and supplies necessary to effectively initiate said withholding system on January 1, 1966. Therefore, an emergency is hereby declared to exist and this Act being necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, and safety, shall be in effect from the date of its passage and approval." Approved March 1, 1965.

Acts 1965 (1st Ex. Sess.), No. 5, § 12: June 3, 1965. Emergency clause provided: "It is hereby provided that the provisions of this Act shall take effect with the beginning of the fiscal year on July 1, 1965; provided, however, that because of the necessity of making certain provisions of this Act effective immediately, particularly with respect to the funds provided for construction, new improvements and educational purposes, and only the provisions of this Act will make these benefits possible; now, therefore, it has been found and is hereby declared by the General Assembly of the State of Arkansas that it is imperative that this Act become effective immediately. Therefore, an emergency is hereby declared to exist, and this Act being necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health and safety shall take effect and be in full force from and after its passage and approval.”

Acts 1967, No. 13, § 2: Jan. 26, 1967. Emergency clause provided: “It is hereby found and determined by the General Assembly that the State Income Tax Withholding Law included a provision authorizing farmers to file a declaration and pay the estimated tax on or before the 15th day of the second month after close of income year, but did not include a provision comparable to the Federal law authorizing farmers to file a return and pay the tax one month later than the final date for filing the declaration, in lieu of filing a declaration and paying the estimated tax, and, that the failure to include such provision in the Arkansas Income Tax Withholding Law has resulted in an undue burden on the farmers of this State which should be relieved immediately, and that this Act is designed to relieve this burden. Therefore, an emergency is hereby declared to exist and this Act being necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety shall be in effect from the date of its passage and approval.”

Acts 1967, No. 15, § 3: Jan. 26, 1967. Emergency clause provided: “It is hereby found and determined by the General Assembly that under the Arkansas Income Tax Act of 1965, and the administrative rules and regulations promulgated pursuant thereto, some agricultural employers are required to withhold from wages and compensation paid to agricultural laborers; that withholding is not required on compensation paid for agricultural labor under the Federal Income Tax Law; and that the said requirement under the Arkansas law and regulations creates an undue burden upon agricultural employers in this State, which should be removed immediately. Therefore, an emergency is hereby declared to exist and this Act being necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety shall be in effect from the date of its passage and approval.”

Acts 1967, No. 105, § 3: approved Feb. 17, 1967. Emergency clause provided: “There is a possibility that the 66th General Assembly will be extended, in which event considerable confusion could evolve concerning the effective date of legislation which does not contain an emergency clause. Therefore, an emergency is hereby declared and this act shall be in effect from and after the date of passage.”

Acts 1967, No. 636, § 7: Apr. 6, 1967. Emergency clause provided: “It is hereby found and determined by the General Assembly that a number of inequities exist in the Arkansas Income Tax Withholding Act of 1965 and that the immediate passage of this Act is necessary to correct such inequities and to expedite the enforcement of such law. Therefore, an emergency is hereby declared to exist and this Act being immediately necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health and safety shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage and approval.”

Acts 1968 (1st Ex. Sess.), No. 61, § 9: Feb. 27, 1968. Emergency clause provided: “It is hereby found and determined by the General Assembly that many employers in this State are required under the provisions of Act 132 of 1965 to withhold small amounts on a weekly, bi-weekly, semi-monthly, or monthly basis from the wages paid employees and to remit the same to the Commissioner of Revenues; that this places an undue burden upon the employer of withholding and reporting such income tax; and that to remove inequities and at the same time to insure the effective enforcement of the income tax and income tax withholding laws of this State, it is necessary that this Act become effective immediately. Therefore, an emergency is hereby declared to exist and this Act being necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety, shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage and approval.”

Acts 1969, No. 122, § 5: Jan. 1, 1969. Emergency clause provided: “It is hereby found and determined by the General Assembly that the present classification of employers as Quarterly and Annual is too low; that such classification works a hardship on small employers; that the present penalty is excessive to the point of being punitive; and that in order to remedy this situation, it is necessary that this Act become effective immediately. Therefore, an emergency is hereby declared to exist and this Act being immediately necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health and safety shall be in full force and effect from and after January 1, 1969.”

Acts 1979, No. 401, § 50: Jan. 1, 1980.

Acts 1981, No. 917, § 3: Mar. 30, 1981. Emergency clause provided: “It is hereby found and determined by the General Assembly that many active armed forces personnel are failing to estimate their income tax liability and/or repay their income tax when due; that the Tax Reform Act of 1976 has authorized the armed forces' disbursing offices to withhold state income taxes of their personnel, that necessary agreements have been made with the Department of the Treasury to effect withholding; that under Arkansas law withholding has not been authorized and a significant loss in revenue has been experienced. Therefore, an emergency is hereby declared to exist and this Act being necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety shall be in effect from the date of its passage and approval."

Acts 1987, No. 502, § 16: Apr. 1, 1987. Emergency clause provided: "It is hereby found and determined by the General Assembly that the State of Arkansas is in great need of additional general revenues and that providing a tax penalty amnesty program will result in a substantial addition to the generation of such much needed general revenues. It is further found and determined that certain criminal and civil penalties provided for in the Arkansas Tax Procedure Act must be made more severe to effectuate the collection of taxes owed under the laws of this State. Therefore, an emergency is hereby declared to exist and this Act being necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health and safety shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage and approval."

Acts 1993, No. 785, § 24: Mar. 30, 1993. Emergency clause provided: "It is hereby found and determined that certain changes are necessary to the Arkansas income tax laws; that these changes are necessary immediately in order to maintain the efficient administration of the Arkansas income tax laws; and that this act is necessary to effectuate that purpose. Therefore, an emergency is hereby declared to exist and this act being necessary for the preservation of public peace, health and safety shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage and approval."

Acts 1993, No. 785, § 20: amendments to subchapters 1, 4, 5, 9, and 10 effective for taxable years beginning on and after January 1, 1993.

Acts 1993, No. 1205, § 3; in full force and effect for all income years beginning on and after January 1, 1994.

Acts 1995, No. 1160, § 46: Apr. 11, 1995. Emergency clause provided: "It is hereby found and determined by the General Assembly that certain changes are necessary to the Arkansas tax laws; that these changes are necessary immediately in order to maintain the efficient administration of the Arkansas income tax laws; and that this act is necessary to effectuate that purpose. Therefore, an emergency is hereby declared to exist and this act being necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage and approval."

Acts 1997, No. 951, § 34, provided: "Sections 1 through 24, 32 and 33 shall be effective for tax years beginning on and after January 1, 1997. However, it is the intent of this Act that those portions of the Internal Revenue Code adopted by this Act which for federal tax purposes do not become effective until some time after January 1, 1997, shall also not become effective for state tax purposes until the same time."

Acts 1997, No. 951, § 38: March 31, 1997. Emergency clause provided: "It is hereby found and determined by the General Assembly that current state tax laws are unclear or confusing, creating difficulty for taxpayers seeking to comply with these tax laws; that the changes made by Sections 25 through 31 of this bill are necessary to provide adequate direction to those taxpayers and to maintain the efficient administration of the Arkansas tax laws; and that the provisions of Sections 25 through 31 of this Act are necessary to effectuate that purpose. Therefore, an emergency is hereby declared to exist and the provisions of Sections 25 through 31 of this Act being necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health, and safety shall become effective on the date of its approval by the Governor. If the bill is neither approved nor vetoed by the Governor, Sections 25 through 31 shall become effective on the expiration of the period of time during which the Governor may veto the bill. If the bill is vetoed by the Governor and the veto is overridden, Sections 25 through 31 shall become effective on the date the last house overrides the veto."

- (7) “Estimated tax” means the amount by which the tax liability of the taxpayer under the Income Tax Act of 1929, § 26-51-101 et seq., can reasonably be expected to exceed the amount withheld from wages of the taxpayer pursuant to this subchapter during the income year;
- (8) (A) “Income year” means the calendar or fiscal year upon the basis of which the net income of the taxpayer is computed under the Income Tax Act of 1929, § 26-51-101 et seq.
(B) If no fiscal year has been established, it means the calendar year;
- (9) “Payroll period” means a period for which a payment of wages is made to the employee by the employer;
- (10) “Person” means individuals, fiduciaries, corporations, partnerships, limited liability companies, associations, the state and its political subdivisions, and the federal government and its agencies and instrumentalities;
- (11) “Taxpayer” means any individual, fiduciary, corporation, partnership, limited liability company, or other legal entity subject to the reporting requirements of the Income Tax Act of 1929, § 26-51-101 et seq.;
- (12) (A) “Transient employer” means an employer who is not a resident of this state and who temporarily engages in any activity within this state for the production of income.
(B) Without intending to exclude others that may come within the definition of “transient employer” in subdivision (12)(A) of this section, any nonresident employer engaging in any such activity within this state which, as of any date, cannot be reasonably expected to continue for a period of eighteen (18) consecutive months shall be deemed to be temporarily engaged in such activity; and

(13) “Wages” means remuneration in cash or other form for services performed by an employee for an employer, except that it shall not include remuneration paid:

(A) For domestic service in a private home, local college club, or local chapter of a college fraternity or sorority;

(B) (i) For agricultural labor, except that an agricultural employer who pays wages as defined in 26 U.S.C. § 3121(a), as in effect on January 1, 1993, to four (4) or more employees during any reporting period shall be required to collect, account for, and pay over Arkansas income taxes for that reporting period.

(ii) An employer who pay wages for agricultural labor to three (3) or fewer employees during any reporting period shall have the option to collect, account for, and pay over Arkansas income taxes for each reporting period if the employer so chooses;

(C) For services not in the course of the employee's trade or business performed by an employee in any calendar quarter unless the remuneration paid for such services is one hundred fifty dollars ($150) or more;

(D) For services performed by an ordained, commissioned, or licensed minister of a church in the exercise of his or her ministry or by a member of a religious order performing duties required by the religious order;

(E) For active service performed in a month in which the employee is entitled to the benefits in 26 U.S.C. § 112, adopted by § 26-51-306, to the extent remuneration for the service is excludable from gross income under § 26-51-306;

(F) For services performed for an employer by a United States citizen if it is reasonable to believe when the remuneration is paid that the remuneration will be excludable from gross income under 26 U.S.C. § 911, adopted by § 26-51-310;

(G) For services performed by an individual under eighteen (18) years of age delivering or distributing newspapers or shopper's news, excluding the delivery or distribution of the newspapers or shopper's news to a destination for subsequent delivery or distribution;

(H) For services performed by an individual selling newspapers or magazines to consumers under an arrangement in which the newspapers or magazines are sold at a fixed price with the individual's compensation equal to the excess of the fixed price over the amount the individual pays for the newspaper or magazines, regardless of whether the individual is guaranteed a minimum amount of compensation or entitled to a credit for the unsold newspapers or magazines returned;

(I) For services performed by an individual that are not in the course of the employer's trade or business if the remuneration is paid in any medium other than cash;

(J) To an employee or his or her beneficiary:

(i) From a trust or to a trust exempt from tax under § 26-51-308 unless the payment is rendered to an employee of the trust as remuneration for services rendered by the employee and not as a beneficiary of the trust;

(ii) Under an annuity plan or to an annuity plan under 26 U.S.C. § 403(a), adopted by § 26-51-414;

(iii) Under 26 U.S.C. §§ 402(h)(1) and (2), adopted by § 26-51-414, if it is reasonable to believe at the time of payment that the payment will be excluded under § 26-51-414;

(iv) Under 26 U.S.C. § 408(p), adopted by § 26-51-414; or

(v) Under an eligible deferred compensation plan or paid to an eligible deferred compensation plan under 26 U.S.C. § 457(b), maintained by an eligible employer under 26 U.S.C. § 457(e)(1)(A), as those sections are adopted by § 26-51-414;

(K) In the form of group-term life insurance on the life of an employee;

(L) To or on behalf of an employee if it is reasonable to believe at the time of payment that a corresponding deduction is allowed under § 26-51-423 with the exception of 26 U.S.C. § 274(n), adopted by § 26-51-423(b);

(M) As tips in any medium other than cash;

(N) As cash tips to an employee received in the course of employment in any calendar month unless the amount of the cash tips is twenty dollars ($20.00) or more;

(O) For any benefit provided to an employee if it is reasonable to believe that the benefit is excluded from income under § 26-51-404(a)(4), § 26-51-404(b)(12), § 26-51-404(b)(19), or § 26-51-404(b)(20);

(P) For any medical reimbursement made to an employee or for the benefit of an employee under a self-insured medical reimbursement plan under 26 U.S.C. § 105(h)(6), adopted by § 26-51-404; and

(Q) For any payment made to an employee or for the benefit of an employee if it is reasonable to believe that the payment is excluded from income under 26 U.S.C. § 106(b), adopted by § 26-51-404.

History. Acts 1965, No. 132, § 2; 1967, No. 15, § 1; 1981, No. 917, § 1; A.S.A. 1947, § 84-2075; Acts 1989, No. 826, § 35; 1993, No. 1205, §§ 1, 2; 1995, No. 1160, § 20; 2005, No. 1309, § 3.

Publisher's Notes. Acts 1989, No. 826, § 1, provided that this act shall be known and may be cited as the "Arkansas Income Tax Technical Revenue Act of 1989".

Acts 1989, No. 826, § 36, provided that the provisions of that act shall be in full force and effect for all income years beginning on or after January 1, 1989.

Amendments. The 1993 amendment rewrote (1) and (13)(B).

The 1995 amendment inserted "limited liability companies" in (10); and, in (11), inserted "partnership, limited liability company" and substituted "reporting requirements of the Income Tax Act of 1929" for "the tax imposed by the Arkansas Income Tax Act."

The 2005 amendment deleted "or" at the end of (13)(C); and added (13)(E)-(P).

Case Notes

Agricultural Labor.

Wages.

Agricultural Labor.

If a nursery and a garden center did nothing more than raise the horticultural products, they would be exempt from withholding income taxes on wages because such wages would be for "agricultural labor," but exemption of wages paid for "agricultural labor" is not applicable to wages paid for landscaping. Ragland v. Pittman Garden Ctr., 293 Ark. 533, 739 S.W.2d 671 (1987). But see Ragland v. Pittman Garden Ctr., Inc., 299 Ark. 293, 772 S.W.2d 331 (1989).

Agricultural labor exemption applies only if the employee in question performs services that constitute valid agricultural labor for at least one-half (½) of any pay period (a period of not more than 31 consecutive days). Ragland v. Pittman Garden Ctr., Inc., 299 Ark. 293, 772 S.W.2d 331 (1989).

In calculating time devoted to agricultural and nonagricultural labor, nonagricultural labor commenced not when the employees arrived at the landscaping site, but when they left the nursery to engage in nonagricultural activity. Ragland v. Pittman Garden Ctr., Inc., 299 Ark. 293, 772 S.W.2d 331 (1989).

Nursery company workers were not involved in agriculture but in landscaping where 75 percent of the time they actually installed the plants they delivered into the ground, therefore, the employees were not exempt from state income tax. Ragland v. Pittman Garden Ctr., Inc., 307 Ark. 374, 820 S.W.2d 450 (1991).

Wages.

Awards of backpay and front pay (in lieu of reinstatement) to a wrongfully discharged employee did not constitute wages, and the withholding requirements in federal and state income tax law were not applicable because (1) the key factor in determining whether an award constituted wages was the nature of the employer-employee relationship at the time the compensation was being paid for; and (2) during the time period for which these awards were meant to compensate, the employee was not an employee of the employer. Thus, the employer was not required or authorized to withhold the taxes. Ark. HHS v. Storey, 372 Ark. 23, 269 S.W.3d 803 (2007).

26-51-903. Subchapter supplemental.

The provisions of this subchapter are declared to be supplemental to the provisions of the Arkansas Income Tax Act, as amended, § 26-51-101 et seq., and shall not be construed to repeal any part thereof not in direct conflict with this subchapter.

History. Acts 1965, No. 132, § 26; A.S.A. 1947, § 84-2085n.

26-51-904. Rules and regulations — Forms.

The director shall make and prescribe such rules, regulations, and forms as he shall deem necessary to carry out the purposes of this subchapter.

History. Acts 1965, No. 132, § 17; A.S.A. 1947, § 84-2080.

26-51-905. Withholding of tax.

(a) (1) Every employer making payments of wages to employees shall deduct and withhold from the employees' wages an amount determined from withholding tables promulgated by the Director of the Department of Finance and Administration and furnished to the employer.

(2) The full amount deducted and withheld from any employee's wages during the income year shall be credited against the tax liability of the employee under the Income Tax Act of 1929, § 26-51-101 et seq., for that year.

(b) (1) Notwithstanding the provisions of subsection (a) of this section, every employer who withholds less than one thousand dollars ($1,000) for a full year's withholding shall report and remit annually on a date specified by the director any amounts so withheld by the employer.

(2) An employer shall be advised by the director of the employer's classification and shall report as classified until such time as the employer advises the director in writing that the employer no longer has employees or the employer is closing the business.

(3) However, it shall be the duty of the employer to report to the director at the end of each income year all wages paid to any such employees on the same forms provided in this subchapter for making employer annual withholding statements in order that the director may determine the tax liability, if any, of those employees during that income year.

Case Notes

Failure to Withhold.

Failure to Withhold.

There was no error in failing to give employers additional credit against unpaid withholding taxes for taxes certain employees claimed they had paid where (1) the Arkansas Department of Finance and Administration's records did not show that the employees had paid their taxes and (2) the employers were not entitled to any credit under § 26-51-916 because they had not shown reasonable cause for failing to withhold and remit taxes. Morris v. Ark. Dep't of Fin. & Admin., 82 Ark. App. 124, 112 S.W.3d 378 (2003).

Awards of backpay and front pay (in lieu of reinstatement) to a wrongfully discharged employee did not constitute wages, and the withholding requirements in federal and state income tax law were not applicable because (1) the key factor in determining whether an award constituted wages was the nature of the employer-employee relationship at the time the compensation was being paid for; and (2) during the time period for which these awards were meant to compensate, the employee was not an employee of the employer. Thus, the employer was not required or authorized to withhold the taxes. Ark. HHS v. Storey, 372 Ark. 23, 269 S.W.3d 803 (2007).

26-51-906. Withholding state income taxes of federal employees by federal agencies.

The director is authorized and directed to enter into an agreement with the Secretary of the Treasury of the United States with respect to withholding of income tax as provided by this subchapter and pursuant to an Act of Congress, Public Law 82-587, and to Executive Order 10407 of November 7, 1952.

History. Acts 1965, No. 132, § 23; A.S.A. 1947, § 84-2085.

U.S. Code. Public Law 82-587 referred to in this section is codified as 5 U.S.C. § 5517. Executive Order No. 10407 of November 7, 1952, referred to in this section may be found at 17 Fed. Reg. 10132.

26-51-907. Withholding tables.

The director shall prepare and furnish to employers state income tax withholding tables based on the current income tax laws of the state, taking into consideration the various deductions and personal tax credits allowed therein. The tables shall be designed to provide for a yearly aggregate withholding that will approximate the state income tax liability of the average taxpayer with the various personal tax credits.

History. Acts 1965, No. 132, § 17; A.S.A. 1947, § 84-2080.

A.C.R.C. Notes. Acts 1997, No. 328, § 12, provided:

“The withholding tables prescribed by the Director of the Department of Finance and Administration pursuant to Ark. Code Ann. § 26-51-907 shall not be amended for tax year 1998 to reflect the changes adopted by this Act. If this Act becomes effective on November 15, 1998, the effect of the various provisions of this Act for tax year 1998 shall be reflected on the income tax return filed for that year. For all subsequent years, the Director shall adjust the withholding tables as otherwise required by law.”

26-51-908. Employer's return and payment of taxes withheld.

(a) (1) Every employer required to deduct and withhold from wages under this subchapter shall file a withholding return on an annual basis as prescribed by the Director of the Department of Finance and Administration and annually pay over to the director the full amount required to be deducted and withheld from the wages of the employees if the amount is less than one thousand dollars ($1,000) per year.

(2) Every employer required to deduct and withhold from wages under this subchapter shall file a withholding return on a monthly basis as prescribed by the director and pay over on a monthly basis to the director the full amount required to be deducted and withheld from the wages of the employees if the amount is one thousand dollars ($1,000) or more per year.

(3) However, the director may provide by regulation that every such employer shall on or before the fifteenth day of each month pay over to the director or a depository designated by the director the amount required to be deducted and withheld by the employer for the preceding month if the amount is one hundred dollars ($100) or more.

(b) (1) Notwithstanding any other provision of this section, all transient employers shall make return and pay over to the director, on a monthly basis, the full amounts required to be deducted and withheld from the wages by the transient employer for the calendar month.

(2) The returns and payments to the director by transient employers shall be made on or before the last day of the month following the month for which the amounts were deducted and withheld from the wages of the transient employer's employees.

(c) (1) Notwithstanding any other provision of this section, all employers engaged in any business which is seasonal shall make return and pay over to the director on a monthly basis the amounts required to be deducted and withheld from the wages by the employer for the calendar month.

(2) Returns and payments to the director by employers engaged in seasonal business shall be made on or before the last day of the month following the month for which those amounts were deducted and withheld from the wages of the employer's employees.

(d) When the director has justifiable reason to believe that the collection of funds required to be withheld by any employer as provided in this subchapter is in jeopardy, the director may require the employer to file a return and pay the amounts required to be withheld at any time.

(e) Every employer who fails to withhold or pay to the director any sums required by this subchapter to be withheld and paid shall be personally and individually liable for the sums except as provided in § 26-51-916.

(f) Any sum withheld in accordance with the provisions of this subchapter shall be deemed to be held in trust for the State of Arkansas and shall be recorded by the employer in a ledger account so as to clearly indicate the amount of tax withheld and that the amount is the property of the State of Arkansas.

(g) (1) When an employer has become liable to an annual return of withholding, the employer must continue to file an annual report, even though no tax has been withheld, until such time as the employer notifies the director, in writing, that the employer no longer has employees or that the employer is no longer liable for an annual return.

(2) When an employer has become liable to a monthly return of withholding, the employer must continue to file a monthly report, even though no tax has been withheld until such time as the employer notifies the director, in writing, that the employer no longer has employees or that the employer is no longer liable for monthly returns.

(h) (1) For any withholding tax reporting period, a company or any other business enterprise which provides the service of reporting and remitting withholding tax on the wages paid to Arkansas employees by other employers shall remit all such withholding taxes to the director by electronic funds transfer, as more particularly described in § 26-19-105.

(2) However, a company or business which provides tax reporting and remitting services shall not be required to remit withholding taxes by electronic funds transfer if the company or business provides those services for fewer than one hundred (100) Arkansas employers.

(3) As used in this subsection, “Arkansas employer” means any employer required by Arkansas law to withhold, report, and remit Arkansas income tax on the wages, salary, or other compensation paid to its employees within this state.

Publisher's Notes. As to the short title of Acts 1989, No. 826, see Publisher's Notes, § 26-51-902.

Acts 1989, No. 826, § 36, provided that the amendment of this section by that act shall be effective for income years beginning on or after January 1, 1990.

Amendments. The 2003 amendment, in (a)(1) and (2), substituted “the” for “said” and “one thousand dollars ($1,000)” for “two hundred dollars ($200).”

The 2007 amendment substituted “For any withholding tax reporting period” for “Starting with withholding tax reporting periods beginning on January 1, 2001, and for all subsequent reporting periods” in (h)(1).

Case Notes

Failure to Withhold.
Subrogation.

Failure to Withhold.

There was no error in failing to give employers additional credit against unpaid withholding taxes for taxes certain employees claimed they had paid where (1) the Arkansas Department of Finance and Administration's records did not show that the employees had paid their taxes and (2) the employers were not entitled to any credit under § 26-51-916 because they had not shown reasonable cause for failing to withhold and remit taxes. Morris v. Ark. Dep't of Fin. & Admin., 82 Ark. App. 124, 112 S.W.3d 378 (2003).

Subrogation.

Employers who failed to withhold and remit taxes were not entitled to subrogation against their employees, as only the employers, not the employees, were liable under the withholding tax statutes. Morris v. Ark. Dep't of Fin. & Admin., 82 Ark. App. 124, 112 S.W.3d 378 (2003).

26-51-909. Annual withholding statement.

(a) Every employer shall file an annual statement of withholding for each employee.

(b) (1) The annual statement of withholding shall be in the form prescribed by the Director of the Department of Finance and Administration.

(2) (A) The statement from the employer shall be filed with the director on or before February 28 following the close of the income year.

(B) For tax years beginning on or after January 1, 2006, an employer who has two hundred fifty (250) or more employees during the employer's income year shall file the statement either:

- (i) Electronically;
- (ii) On magnetic media; or
- (iii) In any other machine-readable form approved by the director.

(3) (A) The employer shall provide two (2) copies of the statement to the employee on or before January 31 following the close of the income year.

(B) However, if the employment of the employee is terminated during the calendar year, the employer shall furnish the statement to the employee at the time of the termination of employment.

(c) The statement shall show:

- (1) The name and withholding account number of the employer;
- (2) The name of the employee and his or her social security account number;
- (3) The total compensation paid the employee;
- (4) The total amount withheld by the employer pursuant to this subchapter for the year or part of a calendar year when the employee worked for less than a full calendar year; and

(5) Such other information as the director shall require by rule or regulation.

(d) An annual withholding statement shall not be required for wages less than six hundred dollars ($600) for services rendered as agricultural labor.

Publisher's Notes. Acts 1993, No. 785, § 20, provides that the 1993 amendment is effective for taxable years beginning on and after January 1, 1993.

Amendments. The 1993 amendment added (b)(2) and (3); and inserted "of withholding" in (b)(1). The 2005 amendment redesignated former (b)(2) as present (b)(2)(A); and added (b)(2)(B).

26-51-910. Refunds to employer for overpayment.

Any employer who makes an overpayment of the tax required to be remitted to the director by § 26-51-908 may file application with the director, on a form prescribed by the director, to have the amount of such overpayment refunded to him or to have the amount credited against the payment which he is required to make for a subsequent quarterly period. However, the refund or credit shall be allowed only to the extent that the amount of the overpayment was not withheld under § 26-51-905 by the employer.

History. Acts 1965, No. 132, § 10; 1979, No. 401, § 48; A.S.A. 1947, § 84-2078.2.

26-51-911. Declaration of estimated tax.

(a) Every taxpayer subject to the tax levied by the Income Tax Act of 1929, § 26-51-101 et seq., shall make and file with the Director of the Department of Finance and Administration a declaration of the estimated tax for the income year if the taxpayer can reasonably expect the estimated tax to be more than one thousand dollars ($1,000).

(b) The declaration of estimated tax shall be made on such forms and shall include such information as the director shall prescribe.

(c) (1) The declaration shall be filed with the director on or before the fifteenth day of the fourth month of the income year of the taxpayer.

(2) However, taxpayers whose income from farming for the income year can reasonably be expected to amount to at least two-thirds (2/3) of the total gross income from all sources for the income year may file the declaration and pay the estimated tax on or before the fifteenth day of the second month after the close of the income year, or in lieu of filing any declaration, may file an income tax return and pay the tax on or before the fifteenth day of the third month after the close of the income year.

(d) A taxpayer who, due to a change of circumstances, first meets the requirements for filing a declaration after the fifteenth day of the fourth month of the income year shall make and file the declaration on or before the next regular quarterly tax payment date.

(e) (1) A single declaration may be filed jointly by a husband and wife having the same income year.

(2) If a joint declaration is filed by a husband and wife and they do not file a joint return for the income year, the estimated tax paid under the joint declaration may be treated as the estimated tax of either the husband or wife or may be divided between them.

(f) A taxpayer may file amendments to a declaration at such times, under such rules and regulations, and in such form as the director shall prescribe.

26-51-913. Payment of estimated tax.

(a) The estimated tax as shown on the declaration filed with the Director of the Department of Finance and Administration shall be paid as follows:

(1) If the estimated tax is not more than one thousand dollars ($1,000), payment may be made at the time the declaration is filed or at the time the return for the income year is filed;

(2) If the estimated tax is in excess of one thousand dollars ($1,000), it may be paid in full at the time of filing the declaration of estimated tax, or, at the election of the taxpayer, it may be paid in four equal installments to be due as follows:

(A) The first installment is due at the time prescribed for filing the declaration;

(B) The second installment is due on or before the fifteenth day of the sixth month of the income year;

(C) The third installment is due on or before the fifteenth day of the ninth month of the income year; and

(D) For:

(i) Individual income tax, the fourth installment is due on or before the fifteenth day of the first month after the close of the income year; or

(ii) Corporation income tax, the fourth installment is due on or before the fifteenth day of the last month of the income year;

(3) In the case of a taxpayer who files an amendment to the declaration, the quarterly tax payments coming due after the amendment shall be adjusted either up or down to conform to the amended declaration of estimated tax; and

(4) (A) In the case of a taxpayer who first meets the requirements and files a declaration subsequent to the fifteenth day of the fourth month of the income year and not later than the fifteenth day of the ninth month of the income year, if the estimated tax is in excess of one thousand dollars ($1,000), the taxpayer may pay the estimated tax in equal installments with the first installment being due at the time of filing the declaration and an installment being due on each subsequent regular quarterly tax payment date for the income year as prescribed in subdivision (a)(2) of this section.

(B) If the declaration is filed subsequent to the fifteenth day of the ninth month of the income year and on or before the fifteenth day of the first month after the close of the income year, the estimated tax shall be paid in full at the time of filing the declaration.

(b) Any tax payment due under the provisions of this subchapter may be paid by the taxpayer in advance of the date prescribed in the section for the payment of the tax.

26-51-914. Furnishing exemption certificate to employer.

- (a) Every employee whose wages are subject to the withholding provisions of this subchapter shall furnish his or her employer with a certificate showing the number of dependents claimed by the employee for purposes of withholding.
- (b) If any employee fails or refuses to furnish his or her employer with the certificate, the employer shall withhold from the wages of the employee as if the employee claimed no credit or exemption either for himself or herself or for any dependents.
- (c) The furnishing of information in the form required for federal income tax purposes shall be sufficient for the purposes of this section.

26-51-915. Deposits of payments — Refunds.

- (a) All payments received by the director from employers for taxes withheld from employees and all payments received by the director from taxpayers as herein provided shall be deposited in the State Treasury as general revenues to the credit of the State Apportionment Fund.
- (b) Based upon information provided by the Director of the Department of Finance and Administration, the Chief Fiscal Officer shall determine the amount estimated to be necessary to meet any refunds of state income taxes under the provisions of this subchapter, and, upon certification of the Chief Fiscal Officer of the State, the State Treasurer shall transfer from any general revenues in the General Revenue Allotment Reserve Fund the amount so certified to the Individual Income Tax Withholding Fund, from which the director is authorized to make refunds as provided for by law and by this subchapter.
- (c) All refund warrants drawn against the Income Tax Withholding Fund which are not presented for payment within one (1) year of issuance shall be void.
- (d) Neither the director nor any member or employee of the division shall be held personally liable for making any refund by reason of a fraudulent withholding certificate being used as a basis for the refund.

26-51-916. Employer liable for amounts required to be withheld — Exceptions.

Every employer shall be liable for amounts required to be deducted and withheld by this subchapter regardless of whether or not the amounts were in fact deducted and withheld. However, if the employer fails to deduct and withhold the required amounts and if the tax against which the required amounts would have been credited is paid, the employer shall not be liable for those amounts not deducted and withheld if the failure was due to reasonable cause.

(a) (1) Section 3405 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as in effect on January 1, 2005, regarding withholding from deferred income, is adopted as modified by subdivision (a)(2) of this section.

(2) For the purposes of Arkansas withholding tax under this section:

(A) The amount of withholding required under 26 U.S.C. § 3405(b)(1) shall be three percent (3%); and

(B) The amount of withholding required under 26 U.S.C. § 3405(c)(1)(B) shall be five percent (5%).

(b) This section shall apply only when the payee is an Arkansas resident.

History. Acts 2005, No. 1309, § 1.

A.C.R.C. Notes. As enacted by Acts 2005, No. 1309, § 1, this section contained a subsection (d) that read:

"This section shall become effective for tax years beginning on and after January 1, 2006."

Effective Dates. Acts 2005, No. 1309, § 1: effective for tax years beginning on and after January 1, 2006.

26-51-919. Pass-through entities.

(a) As used in this section:

(1) "Lower-tier pass-through entity" means a member of a pass-through entity that is itself a pass-through entity;

(2) (A) "Member" means a shareholder of a Subchapter S corporation, a partner in a general partnership, a partner in a limited partnership, a partner in a limited liability partnership, a member of a limited liability company, or a beneficiary of a trust.

(B) "Member" does not mean a Subchapter C corporation as defined in § 1361(a) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, in effect January 1, 2005;

(3) "Nonresident" means:

(A) An individual who is not a resident of or domiciled in Arkansas during any part of the tax year;

(B) A business entity that does not have its commercial domicile in Arkansas during any part of the tax year; or

(C) A trust not organized in Arkansas; and

(4) "Pass-through entity" means a business entity that for the applicable tax year is:

(A) A corporation treated as a Subchapter S corporation under § 26-51-409, a general partnership, limited partnership, limited liability partnership, limited liability company, or a trust; and

(B) Not taxed as a corporation for federal or Arkansas income tax purposes.

(b) (1) (A) (i) A pass-through entity shall withhold Arkansas income tax at the highest income tax rate levied under §§ 26-51-201 and 26-51-202 on the share of income of the pass-through entity that is derived from or attributable to sources within this state and distributed to each nonresident member.

(ii) The pass-through entity is liable to the Director of the Department of Finance and Administration for the payment of the tax required to be withheld and is not liable to the member for the amount withheld and paid to the director.

(B) (i) A lower-tier pass-through entity shall withhold and pay income tax on the share of income distributed by the lower-tier pass-through entity to each of its nonresident members.

(ii) The director shall apply the tax withheld and paid by a pass-through entity on distributions to a lower-tier pass-through entity to the withholding required of that lower-tier pass-through entity.

(2) (A) On or before the due date for the pass-through entity's composite income tax return described in subsection (d) of this section, a pass-through entity shall file an annual return with the director showing the total amount of income distributed or credited to its nonresident members and the amount of tax withheld and shall remit the amount of tax withheld.

(B) The annual return shall be in an electronic format prescribed by the director.

(3) A pass-through entity shall annually furnish a nonresident member of the pass-through entity with a record of the amount of tax withheld on behalf of the nonresident member no later than the fifteenth day of the fourth month following the end of the pass-through entity's tax year.

(c) A pass-through entity is not required to withhold tax for a nonresident member if:

(1) The nonresident member has a pro rata or distributive share of income of the pass-through entity from doing business in or deriving income from sources within this state of less than one thousand dollars ($1,000) per year;

(2) The director has determined that the nonresident member's income is not subject to withholding;

(3) The nonresident member elects to have the tax due paid as part of a composite return filed by the pass-through entity under subsection (d) of this section;

(4) The pass-through entity:

(A) Is a publicly traded partnership as defined by § 7704(b) of the Internal Revenue Code, as in effect on January 1, 2005, that is treated as a partnership for the purposes of federal income taxation; and

(B) Has agreed to file an annual information return reporting the name, address, and taxpayer identification number of each member with an annual Arkansas income greater than five hundred dollars ($500) along with any other information requested by the director;

(5) (A) The pass-through entity has filed with the director on forms prescribed by the director the nonresident member's signed agreement to timely file an Arkansas nonresident individual or trust income tax return, to pay any tax due on the return, and to be subject to the jurisdiction of the Department of Finance and Administration in the courts of this state for the purpose of determining and collecting any Arkansas income tax together with interest and penalties owed by the nonresident member.

(B) (i) The department may revoke the exception from the withholding requirement in subdivision (c)(5)(A) of this section if it is determined that the nonresident member is not abiding by the terms of the agreement.

(ii) At the time of revocation, the department shall notify the pass-through entity that withholding is required for future distributions to the nonresident member whose exception is revoked; or

(6) The income received by the nonresident member is exempt from Arkansas income tax pursuant to § 26-51-202(e).

(d) (1) A pass-through entity may file a composite income tax return on behalf of electing nonresident members reporting and paying Arkansas income tax at the highest income tax rate under §§ 26-51-201 and 26-51-202 on the nonresident member's pro rata or distributive shares of income of the pass-through entity from doing business in or deriving income from sources within this state.

(2) A nonresident member whose only source of income within this state is from one (1) or more pass-through entities may elect to be included in a composite return filed pursuant to this section.

(3) A nonresident member who has been included in a composite return may file an individual income tax return and shall receive credit for income tax paid on the nonresident member's behalf by the pass-through entity.

(4) On or before the fifteenth day of the fourth month following the close of the pass-through entity's tax year, a pass-through entity shall file an annual composite return with the director showing the total amount of income distributed or credited to its nonresident members and the amount of tax withheld and shall remit the tax due on the composite income tax return.

(e) The director may promulgate rules necessary to administer this section.

History. Acts 2005, No. 1982, § 1; 2007, No. 218, § 37; 2009, No. 372, § 24.

Amendments. The 2007 amendment substituted "the due date for the pass-through entity's composite income tax return described in subsection (d) of this section" for "February 28 following the close of the pass-through entity's tax year" in (b)(2)(A).

The 2009 amendment substituted "fourth" for "third" in (b)(3).

Effective Dates. Acts 2005, No. 1982, § 2: effective for tax years on and after January 1, 2005. Acts 2009, No. 372, § 25, provided: "This act is effective for tax years beginning on and after January 1, 2009."

Effective Dates. Acts 1995, No. 341, § 1: effective for taxable years beginning January 1, 1996. Acts 1999, No. 765, § 3: effective for tax years beginning on and after January 1, 1999. Acts 1999, No. 1050, § 23: Apr. 1, 1999. Emergency clause provided: "It is hereby found and determined by the Eighty Second Arkansas General Assembly that particular counties in this State face critical water shortages due to depletion of Sparta aquifer water and that these shortages are subject to remediation only by the immediate conjunctive use of surface water and groundwater. This act would allow the most critical counties to reduce the use of ground water and substitute available surface water. Therefore, an emergency is declared to exist and this act being immediately necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health and safety shall become effective on the date of its approval by the Governor. If the bill is neither approved nor vetoed by the Governor, it shall become effective on the expiration of the period of time during which the Governor may veto the bill. If the bill is vetoed by the Governor and the veto is overridden, it shall become effective on the date the last house overrides the veto."

Acts 2001, No. 727, § 4: Mar. 12, 2001. Emergency clause provided: "It is found and determined by the General Assembly that ground water levels continue to decline throughout the state; that the ground water levels in some areas of the state are critical; that it is urgent that steps be taken immediately to encourage greater use of surface water; and that changes in the tax credit law would encourage the installation of impoundments and water control structures to reduce ground water use and make it available for future generations. Therefore, an emergency is declared to exist and this act being immediately necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health and safety shall become effective on the date of its approval by the Governor. If the bill is neither approved nor vetoed by the Governor, it shall become effective on the expiration of the period of time during which the Governor may veto the bill. If the bill is vetoed by the Governor and the veto is overridden, it shall become effective on the date the last house overrides the veto."

26-51-1001. Title.

This subchapter shall be known as the “Water Resource Conservation and Development Incentives Act”.

History. Acts 1995, No. 341, § 1.

26-51-1002. Legislative findings.

(a) The State of Arkansas is blessed with abundant rainfall and other surface and underground water resources which, when managed conjunctively, can provide a continuous high quality water supply to meet the foreseeable needs of the entire state.

(b) Existing water use patterns are depleting groundwater supplies at an unacceptable rate, and alternative surface water supplies are not available in sufficient quantities to alleviate this groundwater depletion problem.

(c) The tax incentives provided in this subchapter will encourage the water users to invest in:

(1) The construction of impoundments to utilize available surface water and reduce our dependence on groundwater;

(2) The conversion from groundwater use to surface water use when surface water is available; and

(3) The water conservation practice of land leveling to reduce agricultural irrigation water use.

(d) It is of utmost importance to Arkansas that, within critical groundwater areas, surface water be used when available.

History. Acts 1995, No. 341, § 2.

26-51-1003. Definitions.

As used in this subchapter:

(1) “Acre-foot” means the volumetric measure equal to forty-three thousand five hundred sixty cubic feet (43,560 cu. ft.) or approximately three hundred twenty-five thousand nine hundred gallons (325,900 gals.);

(2) “Application” means a written request for approval for tax credits, describing the project, including a water conservation plan outlining the operation of the project and any additional requirements as the Arkansas Natural Resources Commission may adopt by rule;

(3) “Commission” means the Arkansas Natural Resources Commission;

(4) “Critical groundwater areas” means those areas that are designated by the commission pursuant to the Arkansas Groundwater Protection and Management Act, § 15-22-901 et seq.;

(5) “Department” means the Revenue Division of the Department of Finance and Administration;

(6) “Land leveling” means modifying the surface relief of a field to a planned grade to provide a more suitable surface for efficiently applying irrigation water without excessive erosion, loss of water quality, or damage to land by waterlogging;

(7) “Project” means:

(A) The construction, installation, or restoration of water impoundment or water control structures of twenty (20) acre-feet or more designed for the purpose of storing water to be used for agricultural, commercial, or industrial purposes;

(B) The conversion from groundwater to surface water use by agricultural, commercial, industrial, or recreational water users;

(C) Agricultural land leveling resulting in water savings due to the more efficient use of irrigation water for which tax credits are claimed; and

(D) (i) The purchase and installation of water measuring or metering devices used to determine the quantity of water used.

(ii) Installation of such devices shall be considered a conversion from groundwater to surface water for tax credit purposes; and

(8) "Project cost" means the actual expenditure for a project, less any reimbursement received by the taxpayer from cost-share programs.

History. Acts 1995, No. 341, § 3; 1999, No. 1050, § 18; 2001, No. 727, § 1.

26-51-1004. Applicability — Effective date.

(a) (1) The tax credits provided by this subchapter shall apply to taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1996, and all taxable years thereafter.

(2) Any taxpayer claiming a tax credit under this subchapter may not claim a credit under the Water Resource Conservation and Development Incentives Act of 1985 [repealed] or any similar act for any costs related to the same project.

(3) Any tax credits issued to partnerships, limited liability companies, Subchapter S corporations, or fiduciaries may pass through to their members, managers, partners, shareholders, and/or beneficiaries.

(b) (1) No new tax credit approval certificates under the Water Resource Conservation and Development Incentives Act of 1985 [repealed] shall be issued after December 31, 1995.

(2) However, any taxpayer having been issued a certificate of tax credit approval on or prior to December 31, 1995, may complete the project and shall be entitled to the credits provided under that act.

History. Acts 1995, No. 341, §§ 4, 16.

26-51-1005. Credit granted — Water impoundments outside critical areas.

(a) For projects located outside critical groundwater areas, there shall be allowed as a credit against the tax imposed by the Income Tax Act of 1929, § 26-51-101 et seq., in an amount equal to fifty percent (50%) of the project cost incurred in the construction and installation or restoration of water impoundments or water control structures of twenty (20) acre-feet or more designed for the purpose of storing water to be used primarily for agricultural, commercial, or industrial purposes.

(b) (1) The amount of the credit that may be used by a taxpayer for a taxable year may not exceed the lesser of the amount of individual or corporate income tax otherwise due or nine thousand dollars ($9,000).

(2) Any unused credit may be carried over for a maximum of nine (9) consecutive taxable years following the taxable year in which the credit originated.

History. Acts 1995, No. 341, § 6; 2001, No. 727, § 2.

26-51-1006. Credit granted — Water impoundments within critical areas.

(a) For projects located within critical groundwater areas, there shall be allowed as a credit against the tax imposed by the Income Tax Act of 1929, § 26-51-101 et seq., in an amount equal to fifty percent (50%) of the project cost incurred in the construction and installation or restoration of water impoundments or water control structures of twenty (20) acre-feet or more designed for the purpose of storing water to be used primarily for agricultural, commercial, or industrial purposes.

(b) (1) The amount of the credit that may be used by a taxpayer for a taxable year may not exceed the lesser of the amount of individual or corporate income tax otherwise due or nine thousand dollars ($9,000).

(2) Any unused credit may be carried over for a maximum of nine (9) consecutive taxable years following the taxable year in which the credit originated.

History. Acts 1995, No. 341, § 7; 2001, No. 727, § 3.

26-51-1007. Credit granted — Surface water conversion outside critical areas.

(a) For projects located outside critical groundwater areas, there shall be allowed as a credit against the tax imposed by the Income Tax Act of 1929, § 26-51-101 et seq., in an amount equal to ten percent (10%) of the project cost incurred for the reduction of groundwater use by substitution of surface water for water used for industrial, commercial, agricultural, or recreational purposes.

(b) (1) The amount of the credit that may be used by a taxpayer for a taxable year may not exceed the lesser of the amount of individual or corporate income tax otherwise due or nine thousand dollars ($9,000).

(2) Any unused tax credit may be carried over for a maximum of two (2) consecutive taxable years following the taxable year in which the credit originated.

History. Acts 1995, No. 341, § 8.

26-51-1008. Credit granted — Surface water conversion within critical areas.

(a) For projects located within critical groundwater areas, there shall be allowed as a credit against the tax imposed by the Income Tax Act of 1929, § 26-51-101 et seq., in an amount equal to fifty percent (50%) of the project cost incurred for the reduction of groundwater use by substitution of surface water for water used for industrial, commercial, agricultural, or recreational purposes.

(b) (1) The amount of the credit that may be used by a taxpayer for a taxable year may not exceed the lesser of the amount of individual or corporate income tax otherwise due or nine thousand dollars ($9,000) for projects using water for agricultural or recreational purposes and two hundred thousand dollars ($200,000) for projects using water for industrial or commercial purposes.

(2) Any unused tax credit may be carried over for a maximum of two (2) consecutive taxable years for projects using water for agricultural or recreational purposes and a maximum of four (4) consecutive taxable years for projects using water for industrial or commercial purposes following the taxable year in which the credit originated.

History. Acts 1995, No. 341, § 9; 1997, No. 421, § 1; 1999, No. 765, § 1.

Effective Dates. Acts 1999, No. 765, § 3: effective for tax years beginning on and after January 1, 1999.

26-51-1009. Credit granted — Land leveling for water conservation.

(a) There shall be allowed as a credit against the tax imposed by the Income Tax Act of 1929, § 26-51-101 et seq., in an amount equal to ten percent (10%) of the project cost incurred for agricultural land leveling to conserve irrigation water.

(b) (1) The amount of the credit that may be used by a taxpayer for a taxable year may not exceed the lesser of the amount of individual or corporate income tax otherwise due or nine thousand dollars ($9,000).

(2) Any unused tax credit may be carried over for a maximum of two (2) consecutive taxable years following the taxable year in which the credit originated.

History. Acts 1995, No. 341, § 10.

26-51-1010. Application and approval procedure — Administration.

(a) (1) The commission shall promulgate such rules and regulations as may be deemed necessary in administering projects submitted with the intent of qualifying for the tax incentives provided for in this subchapter.

(2) The rules shall not be adopted without the approval of the department.

(b) (1) The commission may charge a reasonable application fee for the processing of tax credit applications.

(2) All fees collected shall be deposited in the Arkansas Water Development Fund.

(c) (1) The commission may issue a tax credit approval certificate for those applications proposing projects that meet the requirements of this subchapter and rules promulgated thereunder.

(2) Upon completion of the project, the commission shall issue a certificate of completion.

(3) To claim the benefits of this section, a taxpayer must obtain a certification from the commission certifying to the department that the taxpayer has met all the requirements and qualifications set forth in this subchapter.

(4) (A) A taxpayer must file the certificate of tax credit approval with his income tax return for the first year in which the taxpayer claims a tax credit under this subchapter.

(B) A taxpayer must file the certificate of completion with the first tax return filed after issuance of the certificate of completion.

(d) The department shall promulgate such rules and regulations as may be deemed necessary to carry out the tax credit provisions of this subchapter.

History. Acts 1995, No. 341, §§ 5, 11.

26-51-1011. Development, operation, and tax credits.

(a) Project activities shall meet or exceed those standards as established by the commission, and the project must be maintained for a minimum life of ten (10) years after issuance of a certificate of completion.

(b) Project costs incurred after issuance of a tax credit approval certificate may be claimed for tax credit, subject to other limitations contained in this subchapter.

(c) (1) All projects must be completed within three (3) years of the date of the certificate of tax credit approval.

(2) If the taxpayer does not complete the project within the period provided in subdivision (c)(1) of this section, all credits claimed must be repaid to the department, and the project will be disallowed as a project for tax credit purposes.
